Let me assure Your Excellency that in the formulation of the position of the Philippine Government with respect to the matters that we will present in this conference, we have given due regard to these considerations.

"It is highly desirable that an understanding should be promptly reached between our two countries, but such an understanding should be predicated not only on Japans recongnition of our just claims but also on her willingness and readiness to meet them.

"Time has only partially assuaged the aggrieved feelings of the Filipino people for the damage and suffering brought upon them by the Japanese Forces of Occupation during the war. But we have come to this conference moved by the sentiment recently expressed by our President when he suggested that the Filipino People should observe the Christian principle of tolerance in our future dealings with Japan and the Japanese people.

"It is our hope that even prior to the effectivity of the treaty you will give tangible proof of the desire of your government which you expressed upon your arrival to repair the damage wrought upon this country and its people.

"We are confident that in this manner we shall be able to arrive at a happy solution of the problems that the task involves."

There follows Tsushimas reply:

"Your Excellencies and Members of the Delegations:

"On behalf of the Japanese Delegation, I wish to thank the Philippine Government for the cordial treatment accorded to us. We feel it a great privilege to work together with the Honorable Members of the Philippine Delegation, headed by His Excellency Mr Elizalde, Secretary of Foreign Affairs.

"The objective of our delegation in coming here is to enter into negotiation on the question of reparation for war damage with the representatives of the Philippine Government in accordance with the solemn pledge made by Japan in the peace treaty signed at San Francisco, and I wish to assure you that she will fulfill that treaty obligation in good faith and sincerity.

"We are anxious to listen with open mind and heart to whatever claims, proposals or suggestions you desire to make on reparations.

We hope that the present meeting will fully explore the vital problem of reparations with a view to establishing a basis for its final solution.

"If this problem is amicably settle and normal relations are restored between our two peoples, I am convinced that an ever-expanding and mutually beneficial trade as well as close political and cultural relations between them will follow.

"With this in view, we feel the gravity of our responsibility in dealing with this problem and we shall spare no effort to discharge that responsibility in a spirit of goodwill."

1. "At todays mtg Elizalde made opening speech which was responded by Tsushima. See UP texts.

2. "Thereafter Phil Del presented repatriations claims as reported in Tel Nbr 3. They apparently have no strong opposition to postponing discussion of Items 1, and 2, but want to know, before discussing method of payment, etc whether we agree in principle to interim reparations. We replied dispatch of survey team feasible, but not interim reparations payment before ratification of peace treaty. They cited as precedent interim reparations under occupation and implied our agreement in principle to Item 3 is vital to facilitating ratification in view of internal political situation. Mtg adjourned until we are ready to reply. Instructions awaited. Signed Tsushima."

There follows Elizaldes opening conversations with Japanese negotiators Jan 28:

"Your Excellency and Members of the Japanese Delegation:

It gives me pleasure to declare this meeting open.

"This occasion is indeed of historic importance because whatever we accomplish here will vitally affect our peoples of this generation and of future generations.

"We are happy to know that you have come in fulfillment of the promise made by your distinguished Prime Minister at San Francisco last year. We take your presence here today as evidence of the desire of your government to carry out the assurance given by the Japanese Delegation to the San Francisco Peace Conference that the Japanese government is prepared to enter into negotiations promptly with the Philippines with a view to finding a satisfactory formula of agreement to meet Philippine claims. As emphasized by the Philippine government on that occasion, the Filipino People were not in full accord with the provisions in the peace treaty regarding reparations. For this reason, the Philippine Delegation expressed the hope that in the course of the bilateral negotiations on reparations between the Philippines and Japan, it would be possible to make those provisions conform more closely to the wishes of the Filipino People. Your Prime Minister expressed the belief that this would be done and that the Japanese people and government would be ready to do all that is humanly possible to meet Philippine claims.

"We appreciate your desire for the early establishment of cordial relations between the Philippines and Japan. Because of geographical propinquity, Japan and the Philippines should live harmoniously in the interest of their common welfare and the peace and stability of this part of the world.

Let me assure Your Excellency that in the formulation of the position of the Philippine Government with respect to the matters that we will present in this conference, we have given due regard to these considerations.

"It is highly desirable that an understanding should be promptly reached between our two countries, but such an understanding should be predicated not only on Japans recongnition of our just claims but also on her willingness and readiness to meet them.

"Time has only partially assuaged the aggrieved feelings of the Filipino people for the damage and suffering brought upon them by the Japanese Forces of Occupation during the war. But we have come to this conference moved by the sentiment recently expressed by our President when he suggested that the Filipino People should observe the Christian principle of tolerance in our future dealings with Japan and the Japanese people.

"It is our hope that even prior to the effectivity of the treaty you will give tangible proof of the desire of your government which you expressed upon your arrival to repair the damage wrought upon this country and its people.

"We are confident that in this manner we shall be able to arrive at a happy solution of the problems that the task involves."

There follows Tsushimas reply:

"Your Excellencies and Members of the Delegation:

"On behalf of the Japanese Delegation, I wish to thank the Philippine Government for the cordial treatment accorded to us. We feel it a great privilege to work together with the Honorable Members of the Philippine Delegation, headed by His Excellency Mr Elizalde, Secretary of Foreign Affairs.

"The objective of our delegation in coming here is to enter into negotiation on the question of reparation for war damage with the representatives of the Philippine government in accordance with the solemn pledge made by Japan in the peace treaty signed at San Francisco, and I wish to assure you that she will fulfill that treaty obligation in good faith and sincerity.

"We are anxious to listen with open mind and heart to whatever claims, proposals or suggestions you desire to make on reparations.

There is, however, considerable reluctance to making any change in directive with the exception of permitting use of minimum nec counterpart funds to help defray the cost of operation of the Ryukyuan Central Government prior to 1 July 1953.

Para 2. It has been proposed that since rqst by armed forces to provide funds to purchase Ryukyuan land needed permanently by the mil was stricken from the FY 52 budget by the BOB and since there is little likelyhood that nec funds will be appropriated in FY 53 that CINCFE should be immediately directed to initiate purchase of land with counterpart funds. Ref your TEL 61 rptd Dept 1441 Jan 11.

Pyun advised Emb Officer Jan 12 Kims visit to Pusan has not altered ROK Govts opposition to Matsumoto Mission. Pyun said if Matsumoto insists on visit he could submit application "in normal way" to Korean Mission Tokyo for reference to Pusan, but hopes Japanese will accept "informal" refusal, avoid "embarrassment" which formal refusal might cause.

Pyun repeated familiar argument that some agreement proving Japanese "sincerity" is prerequisite and that visit would divide negotations into. However opposition evidently stems primarily from President, who suspects motives for visit. In any event he is unwilling to hold official meeting with Japanese, which he fears might have unfortunate local political repercussions and create impression he is abandoning militant anti-Japanese stand.

Since little prospect for change in Presidents attitude, suggest Japanese Govt be advised to give up projected visit for time being.

In order to placate Japanese, might be well to emphasize tense domestic political situation here as reason for Korean attitude.

Fort Worth Star Telegram Editorial Jan 2 titled "Message to Japan."

"Soviet Premier Stalins New Year message of 'deep sympathy' to Japan was typically inflammatory expression designed to provoke Japanese prejudice toward United States for maintaining armed forces in Nippon.

"Communist aggressor clearly is wasting no time in fomenting discord in 1952, but hypocritical 'eyewash' from traditional foe should deceive no sensible person in Japan. Message, which was solicited by Japanese News Agency, has value of revealing Soviet designs on Japan, key to Far East. What Russia would do would be to alieniate Japan from its postwar benefactor, America, and then 'liberate' Japanese in much same manner that peoples of Red satellite states have been 'freed'.

"We commend Japan for its exercise of free press in extending to heads of 18 governments, including Russia, requests for New Year messages. But it was disappointing that Soviet Union was most alert of 18 in taking advantage of an opportunity to address Japanese people. Common courtesy justified prompt replies from all other nations." Re CX 59341 dtd 14 Dec 51. Subj is Post-Treaty Status of British Commonwealth Forces in Japan.

The policy on this subj is presently under formulation by State and Defense Depts. Appreciated fully is your needed for prompt decision in this matter as a basis for an appropriate reply to the CINC British Commonwealth Forces. Accordingly, advice on this matter will be forthcoming soonest.

Such views as you may have on the fol issues raised by your radio wld assist in the resolution of this matter:

A. The advisability of training the subj Australian Bn in Korea rather than Japan.

B. The desirability of British Commonwealth, or any other UN Forces except those of the US, obtaining facilities, services, and areas, and maintaining forces in post-treaty Japan.

C. The most appropriate arrangement, under the diplomatic instruments and rights in Japan as may be necessary for the prosecution of the Korean War. In this connection, the desirability of countries contributing UN Forces to the Korean War approaching Japan on a unilateral basis to secure facilities, services, and areas in Japan.

the coming into force of the treaty. Japan will be precluded fr questioning the Yen transactions with the SCAP funding officer. The Dept considers that an additional agreement by Japan relieving the occupation forces of any responsibility in connection with these accounts is not nec.

"b. The Dept agrees that final statement of the SCAP funding officers Yen acct should be furnd the Japanese Govt. However, in view of Japans waiver in the treaty of all claims against the occupying forces and auths it does not appear desirable to enter into an acctg settlement covering the Yen advances and the revolving funds in which Japan could raise the legality or propriety of the Yen demands made by the occupation auths. Since Japan has waived all claims it does not seem aprop that consideration should be given to making questioned transactions the basis for credits against Japans indebtedness under the BCOF surplus prop agreement."

"1. Appreciate receiving info given by telecon. However extremely difficult to attempt any valid opinions without more detailed info and examination of the items mentioned and their relationships.

"2. As usual we are meeting Japanese Govt attempts to hurry through the budget because of freely made political promises without any real consideration or measurement of the post-treaty obligations.

"3. Three basic problems related to both budgets are:

"A. If the proposed tax reductions are within the limits of appropriate offsets to auth increases in official prices or are in the nature of adjustments of obvious inequities. If the proposed tax reductions, when carried forward into the next fiscal year, will permit the creation of adequate provisions for mutual defense requirements and other treaty financial obligations. Reductions should not be offsets to general price increases or be general tax reductions under the existing circumstances.

"B. If adequate provisions are being made from surplus revenues and any necessary curtailment of expenditures in both budgets to meet mutual security requirements and other treaty obligations.

"C. If nec stabilization factors are recognized and included.

"4. It is noted that FEC 1 does not include any provisions for substantial obligations indicated in FEC 12 sub para 5.

Re FEC 5, if public commitment has been made to extend and continue school lunch program, full provision for this should be made in 1952-53 budget unless Japanese Govt also publicly commits itself to discontinue program at the end of this fiscal year. Of supplementary budget, over 12,000,000,000 yen represents salary increases, increases in year-end allowances (the latter denied last year) and separation allowances. If these granted, will be imperative ensure proposed salary and year-end bonus increases do not set off an inflationary chain reaction in local govts, govt corporations, and private industry. Only apparent offset would be by actual personnel reductions which are made and not merely talked about as an excuse for the increases.

produce future extravagent claims on the budget which later are almost certain to require tax increases.
