The U.S. Team met in Room 3E-725, Pentagon Building at 2:00 P.M. on 23 May 1949, under its terms of reference, SANA-6368, 4 May 1949.

The members discussed the Security Agreement between the United States and the United Kingdom (SANACC 206/61) and its relation to the categories proposed in Mr. Alexander's letter (SANACC 206/65). The definition of "Information of Joint U.S.-U.K. Origin" (par. 3 d (5), SANACC 206/66) was discussed and it was AGREED that an early understanding in the discussions with the British should be reached with regard to this definition. The difficult position of the British in relation to Australia with regard to training, guided missiles, and the VT fuze was recognized by the members.

It was AGREED that at the first meeting with the British the U.S. Team would listen to their proposals, making no commitments. At a later meeting of the U.S. Team, the proposals of the British would be discussed and the U.S. position formulated.

Para. 3 e, SANACC 206/66, was discussed and it was AGREED that a meeting with the British should not be held up pending receipt of these assurances. Assurances would not be directly requested from the British team although in the course of the discussions they would likely be brought into the conversations.

The members AGREED to the designation of Mr. John D. Hickerson as the spokesman and steering member of the U.S. Team.

It was AGREED that the next meeting would be with the British team in Room 3E-725 on Wednesday, June 1, 1949 at 3:00 P.M.

The U.S. and British Teams met in Room 3E-725, Pentagon Building, at 3:00 P.M. on 1 June 1949.

The Chairman informed the group that it was his understandi that this meeting between the representatives of the U.S. and British teams was a result of a letter from Mr. Alexander to the Secretary of Defense, requesting that teams be designated by the U.S. and British to discuss the exchange of military information between the U.S. and the U.K. and to examine certain proposed categories of information. The Chairman referred to the present security agreement now in existence between the U.S. and the U.K. (SANACC 206/61), and inquired as to what particular advantages would accrue by adopting the proposals contained in Mr. Alexande letter. He added, further, that the present situation raises two problems: (1) Adherence to the existing security agreement with respect to the disclosure of military information to other countries, and (2) a need for a meeting of minds on the definiti of the term "Information of Joint Origin" and "Joint Information'

The Chairman further informed the British Team that the U.S was particularly interested in the Australian problem. The

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 11652, Sec 3(E) and 5(D) or (E) NND# 740132

Chairman stated that the U.S. Team was prepared to listen with open and sympathetic minds to the British proposals outlined in Mr. Alexander's letter.

Major General Gascoigne stated that the present situation which arose in the U.K. came about through requests for information from Western Union countries. He indicated that Mr. Alexander's letter already had been subject to some change, mainly in that no subjects would be listed under Category "A", all information classified as Confidential and Restricted would come under Category "C", and all other subjects except atomic energy would then be considered under Category "B". General Gascoigne stated that the categories were not the basic point, but the important thing was to evolve machinery whereby answers to requests may be given quickly, to establish means by which various related matters may be discussed, and to make it possible for the asking country to have a hearing.

He further stated that his government would favor the setting up of some sort of a combined board to handle matters pertaining to the release of military information. At this point Admiral Inglis said that he was not clear about the proposals to eliminate Category "A". General Gascoigne stated Category "A" could be eliminated, since any matters pertaining to atomic energy would be deleted from the discussions and chemical warfare and B.W. would be placed in Category "B". The Chairman inquired what effect the British proposals would have on the existing security agreement. The British members indicated that they would supplement this agreement. The Chairman agreed to exclude Australia from the present conversations for the time being, inasmuch as General Gascoigne stated he was not authorized to discuss Australia, and the matter was being handled on a high level.

Dr. Rinehart suggested that the matter under consideration could be considered in two categories:

a. Policy and procedures for release of military information to third countries.

b. A list of approved countries to which military information may be released, which would be kept current and up-to-date.

General Gascoigne agreed that Dr. Rinehart's suggestion should be considered. General Schuyler raised the question: "Can Category 'C' be handled on the basis of country listing?" General Gascoigne replied that it could.

The Chairman requested General Gascoigne to present to the group in writing a list of his proposals. General Gascoigne agreed to do this.

The Chairman presented to General Gascoigne a copy of the U.S. definition of "information of joint origin" or "joint information". General Gascoigne stated that he desired to make a further study of this definition before commenting.

The Chairman proposed that the meeting adjourn and that Mr. Elliott make the necessary arrangements for the next meeting.
