Subject: Transmittal of Personal History Questionnaires

Note No.

From: G-2 To: Government Section Date: 2 MAR 1947

1. References:

a. SCAPIN 550 of 4 January 1946, "Removal and Exclusion of Undesirable Personnel from Public Office."
b. G. O. No. 13, SCAP, 2 October 1945.
c. Staff Memorandum No. 6, SCAP, 5 February 1946 (obsolete).
d. Imperial Ordinances No. 1, 2, 3, and 4 of 4 January 1947. "Removal and Exclusion from Public Service of Undesirable Personnel".
e. Staff Memorandum No. 13, SCAP, 11 January 1947.

2. Receipt is acknowledged of questionnaires and master cards accompanying the following checknotes from Government Section to Civil Intelligence Section:

Date	Questionnaires	Master Cards
14 February 1947	52	52
17 February 1947	76	76
17 February 1947	36	36
18 February 1947	77	77
18 February 1947	43	43
18 February 1947	52	52
18 February 1947	41	41
19 February 1947	2	2
20 February 1947	142	142
	16	18
Totals	537	539

3. Government Section's checknotes request that "false entries, entries lacking full and complete disclosures of relevant or material matters, and any other disqualifying information be reported to Government Section as soon as practicable."

4. It will be noted that 537 cases were presented for processing in a period of less than one week---14 February - 20 February 1947, and that practically all of the subjects of these questionnaires are appointees to prefectural and municipal Public Office Qualifications Committees,--- local officials on whom information is not readily available because of their relative unimportance in Government to date.

APPAC AGO Form No.37

50 questionnaires from attached list requested from G-2 on check 3-6-47

DECLASSIFIED: E.O. 12958 SEC. 3(E) AND 3(B) OR (C) AND ? 775 072

To: Government Section From: G-2 Subject: Transferring of Personal History Questionnaires

5. On the basis of Japanese Government figures CIS has conservatively estimated that the Central Screening Board will process about 22,000 questionnaires under Imperial Ordinances 1, 2, 3 and 4 of 4 January 1947:

Candidates for House of Representatives of the Diet	2,500
Candidates for the House of Peers of the Diet	2,500
Members of Prefectural Screening Boards	276
Members of Municipal Screening Boards	708
Candidates for Prefectural Governors	460
Candidates for Mayors of 5 principal cities	40
Candidates for Prefectural Assembly Men	14,015
Members of Prefectural Election Control Committees	1,420
Members of Election Control Committees of 5 principal cities	276
	20
Total	22,215

This estimate is necessarily a very rough one and does not include the Japanese Government's figures for candidates who will be processed by Local Screening Committees:

Headmen of Towns and Villages	72,254
Town and Village Assembly Men	376,395
City, Town and Village Election Control Committee Men	42,252
Mayors	1,913
City Assembly Men	26,055
City, Town and Village Officials	63,378
Total	582,247

Nor does the estimate include the Japanese Government's figures of 340,000 Headmen of CHONAIKI and BURAKUKAI (Ward and Village Associations) because it has been rumored that these offices are to be abolished. Nor does this estimate include figures for candidates for economic positions, the number of which it is impossible to calculate at present writing.

6. The evolution of responsibility for the processing of questionnaires has been as follows:

a. Staff Memorandum No. 6 of 5 February 1946 placed the responsibility for screening candidates for public office with CIS:

"2.....responsible for receiving, reviewing and coordinating all reports, applications, plans, questionnaires, and record cards prepared or submitted by the Imperial Japanese Government, ... and following consultation with interested staff sections, will submit recommendations with respect to removals and exclusions or temporary retention in public office."

b. Staff Memorandum No. 13 of 11 January 1947, has now placed the initial responsibility for decisions on removals with the Japanese Government, and has given to Government Section the responsibility for checking those decisions, and, if necessary, for securing the advice and recommendations of interested Staff Sections (including CIS):

"2. General Application. The directives (SCAPIN 548 and SCAPIN 550) place the initial responsibility for making decisions on subject removals on the Imperial Japanese Government....."

"3. Staff Responsibility of the Government Section. a. The Government Section is charged with Staff responsibility ..... for all matters relating to the removal and exclusion of Japanese personnel from national and local elective and appointive posts and influential political and economic positions.

"d. In carrying out the above responsibilities the Government Section will secure the 'advice' and 'recommendations' of such interested staff sections as possess 'expert knowledge' in their special fields, concerning .....the scope of screening and the timing of removal and exclusion of personnel...."

7. CIS is a collective organization comprised of the following groups with predominant missions in other fields:

Executive Group
*Operations Division	Coordinating Staff
Public Safety Branch	Research, Collation, Publication
Civil Censorship Detachment	Prisons, Police, etc.
Counter Intelligence Corps	Mail & Press Censorship
	Surveillance of Subversion, Nationalism, etc.

The screening of questionnaires under Staff Memorandum No. 6 of 5 February 1946 was handled, together with a large number of other specialized research duties, by a relatively small group in the Operations Division, (*) which was progressively called the Compliance Branch and the Conformance Branch. At the height of its activity the Conformance Branch had a total personnel of 28 people.

8. In the 11 months during which CIS was charged with the primary processing of questionnaires under Staff Memorandum No. 6 of 5 February 1947, the subdivision completed the screening of some 10,000 individuals. The processing of these 10,000 necessitated a large amount of overtime work because the subdivision was recognizably understaffed for the amount of work required.

9. The processing of the 10,000 questionnaires was facilitated by the fact that the individuals screened under SCAPIN 550 were people of national prominence on whom information was readily available.

10. A further factor which facilitated the work was the fact that CIS, charged with the duty of making the primary decision as to eligibility for office, was in a position to judge how much information was needed for such decisions in accordance with SCAPIN 550 as interpreted by CIS's mimeographed set of rules dated 26 April 1946.

11. The current general security and counter intelligence missions of CIS (and G-2) on a national scale have enormously increased with the progress of the Occupation and with certain priorities set by the War Department such as the screening of repatriates from Manchuria and Russia.

12. Specific transfer of the primary responsibility for screening candidates for public office from CIS to Government Section under Staff Memorandum No. 13 of 11 January 1947, permitted a reorganization of the Operations Division. The Conformance Branch became the General Activities Branch, set up to meet expanding responsibilities in various fields of research and surveillance. The personnel of the Branch was reduced to 25 because the priority missions of other branches of Operations Division required additional personnel. Under present CIS and G-2 Tables of Organization additional staff is not available to augment the personnel of the General Activities Branch.

13. Compliance with Government Section's requests that "false entries (in questionnaires) or entries lacking full and complete disclosure of relevant and material matters, be reported to Government Section as soon as practible" would obviously involve more labor than the primary screening duties with which CIS was charged by Staff Memorandum No. 6 of 5 February 1946, because:

a. Information on local personalities is not available in Tokyo.
b. These personalities are not prominent and their records are obscure.
c. While decisions lay with CIS, it could decide what information was required and could submit its recommendations to Government Section without detailed explanations except in dubious cases or when Government Section wished to ask specific questions. With that primary responsibility transferred to Government Section, detailed explanation of cited entries would be necessary in order to enable Government Section to judge the issues at stake.

14. Comparison of the enormous number of individuals (22/72000 to 130000) involved in the extension of the purge to local government and to economic fields with the number of questionnaires (10000) which CIS was able to process between February 1946 and January 1947 emphasizes the physical impossibility of compliance with Government Section's requests by CIS's present small staff.

15. It is submitted that the determination of the accuracy or completeness of personal history questionnaires presented to the Imperial Japanese Government by occupants of, or candidates for, public office, does not fall within the purview of the Civil Intelligence Section, as stated in references cited above. However, within the limits of present personnel, CIS will gladly assist Government Section in its screening duties. It may be possible to utilize the Military Government units in the field.

From: G-2 To: Government Section Subject: Transmittal of Personal History Questionnaires

16. In view of the scale to which the purge activities have been extended, it is suggested that primary screening be charged to the Japanese Government, that the responsibility for preliminary checking be assumed by Government Section, and that Government Section ask CIS for investigation only of individuals whose importance warrants a careful consideration on the level of General Headquarters or whose questionnaires are definitely suspicious. It is requested that in such cases Government Section give the definite essential elements of information desired.
