FROM EUROPE.

WAR THREATENED BETWEEN AUSTRIA AND PRUSSIA—MILITARY PREPARATIONS, &c.

CONGRESSIONAL

COMMERCIAL AND RIVER NEWS.

Gold 127 3/4—Cotton 40 1/2.

Washington, April 2.—President Johnson has issued a lengthy proclamation declaring that the insurrection which has heretofore existed in the States of Georgia, North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida is at an end and henceforth to be so regarded.

Washington, April 2.—Senator Fessenden reported to the Senate the House Loan bill without amendments.

Washington, April 2.—The House was occupied in the presentation of bills and resolutions which were appropriately referred, without action.

The Senate galleries were densely crowded expecting action on the Civil Rights bill. No action, however, is expected thereon before Wednesday.

The proceedings of both Houses were of an unimportant nature.

New York, April 2.—The steamer Tripoli, from Liverpool the 20th, has arrived.

The German journals continue to represent the relations of Austria and Prussia as very threatening, asserting that Austria had ordered 100,000 troops to the Bohemian frontier.

The London Times says Bismarck has thrown off his mask and the Duchies are to be annexed to Prussia.

Preparations of war are progressing on both sides. In both capitols military councils are held, Generals nominated and plans of campaigns discussed.

Funds have depressed in the various Europeans Capitals by the depressing rumors.

The Spanish Government has raised the state of siege in New Castile.

The Prussian Ambassador has quitted Rome.

Liverpool, March 20.—The accounts of the relations between Austria and Prussia are conflicting.

The Shenandoah was sold at auction for fifteen thousand seven hundred and fifty pounds sterling.

St. Louis, April 2.—Cotton, No. Flour and Wheat unchanged. Corn, 68c. Oats, 62c. Mess Pork declined 25c. Bacon unchanged.

New York, April 2.—The cotton market closed dull at 40c. Flour 10@15c. lower. Sugar steady. Molasses dull. Rice, $9@10c. Lard, 19c. Money easy. Gold, 127¾. Government stocks without decided change. Sterling exchange dull and nominal at 108⅞.

The South American War—Blockades at Lima and Callao—Peruvian Army Bill—Mrs. Jefferson Davis to Sail Very Soon to Washington—Later From Havana—Gold 127 3/4.

New York, April 2.—There was great rejoicing at Lima on account of the victory over the Spaniards at the late battle of the Chilca Islands.

The loss of the allies is said to be three men killed on the corvette Union, while the American was hulled four times, and the Apurmac three times.

There is no reliable account of the Spanish loss, but the Spanish papers say it must have been great as the Spanish ships were knocked to pieces and dead bodies were seen floating about afterwards. This is probably an extravagant report.

The people were enthusiastic at the alliance between Chili, Bolivia and Peru. The Spanish Commander still remains in the Chilean coal in neutral vessels as contraband.

The United States gunboat Tacoma will remain to watch the turn of affairs in Chili.

A United States monitor had arrived at Valparaiso; also, the steamer Wyandotte and Powhatan.

New York, April 2.—Geo. M. Mumford and Daniel Conner, shipping merchants, were arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Connor being absent at the time of the transaction, was discharged.

New Orleans, April 2.—Brevet General Howes left Indiana for New Orleans last Saturday.

New York, April 2.—The Johnson-Washington special says the House Military Committee has instructed Gen. Schenck to report to the House to-day, their bill for the reorganization of the army, which does not change the number from that provided in Senator Wilson's bill. It authorizes the veteran reserve to be consolidated and continued in the regular army.

All the officers heretofore appointed for that division are to be wounded volunteers. It omits the two regiments of colored cavalry, and reduces the colored infantry from ten to eight regiments. It favors officers of the line and in the field.

The Herald's Washington special says it is now admitted the resolutions pertaining the Mexican loan bill will pass the House. It is understood a number of the Copperheads will vote for it to give Napoleon to understand that this country is in earnest in the enforcement of the Mexican dogma.

It is understood after the passage in the House it will be filed in the Senate to see whether Napoleon will take the hint without further action. Both the Republican and Congress are very determined in their opposition to the Imperial Mexican scheme.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis is understood to be en route to Washington to procure an interview with her husband at Fortress Monroe.

The Finance Committee of the Senate has decided to report the loan bill as it passed the House. Washington specials say the Civil Rights bill will be postponed until Wednesday.

New York, April 2.—The steamer Virginia sailed yesterday for Havana. Specie shipments to Europe, to the amount of $1,000,000 are reported.

Gold opened at 127¾ and closed at 127¾. Sterling exchange dull and nominal at 108⅞.
