INLEIDING.

De Directie van het Bataviaasch Genootschap van Kunsten en Wetenschappen, den wensch koesterende, om de kennis van de Javaansche taal en letteren te bevorderen, door de uitgave van teksten van oorspronkelijke Javaansche handschriften, heeft, onder andere beoefenaren der Javaansche taal te Soerakarta, mij uitgenoodigd, om daartoe een geschikt Javaansch manuscript te bewerken. De keus der directie is gevallen op de Romojono, meestal genoemd Romo, een heldendicht uit het oorspronkelijke Kawi, hetwelk zij gaarne zoude wenschen, dat, tot voormeld einde, door mij in het Nederduitsch werd bearbeid.

De dichter van genoemd heldendicht zou, volgens geleerde Javanen, genaamd zijn Hempoe Poerwo, die in de achtste, of, volgens anderen, in de negende eeuw zou geleefd hebben onder de regering van Djojobojo, vorst te Kadiri. Van dit gedicht bestaan drie teksten, als een in het oorspronkelijke Kawi, en twee in het Javaansch in de Tembang gedé, en Tem-

bang motjopat (groote en kleine zangmaat), beide door wijlen den geleerden Mas Ngabehie JOSODIPOERO, en de eerste onder de regering van PAKOE BOEWONO III, die in het Javaansche jaar 1675 den troon beklom, bearbeid; doch wanneer deze bearbeiding heeft plaats gehad, is niet met zekerheid op te geven. —

Hoewel in het begin van den Javaanschen tekst, namelijk van dien, welke in de Tembang motjopat, geschreven, en waarnaar mijne vertaling gevolgd is, vermeld staat, dat het oorspronkelijke Kawi in het Javaansche jaar 1750, nu 23 jaren geleden, in het Javaansch is overgezet, moet men dit echter niet aannemen als den tijd, waarop de bearbeiding daarvan door JOSODIPOERO heeft plaats gehad; want dit werk bestond reeds vroeger, en behalve dat, zijn de Javanen gewoon, om, bij het afschrijven van manuscripten, een nieuw jaartal aan het afschrift te geven. —

ROMO, de held der geschiedenis, en eene incarnatie van den god WISNOE, was de zoon

van DHOSOROTO, koning van Ngajodhjo, verwekt bij zijne gemalin DHEWI RAGOE, ook genaamd SOEKOSALIJO. Hij (ROMO) had drie jongere broeders van andere moeders als: BAROTO, LAKSMONO en TROEGNO; de eerste geboren uit DHEWI KEKAJI, en de twee laatstgenoemden uit DHEWI SOEMETRO, beiden gemalinnen des genoemden konings.

Tot manbaarheid gekomen zijnde, werden ROMO en zijne broeders besteed bij eenen Pandito, genaamd BAGAWAN WASISTHO, die hen in alle wetenschappen, bovennatuurlijke magt, en in de krijgskunde onderwees, waarin ROMO onder zijne broeders uitmuntte.—Nadat hunne oefening in het vak dezer wetenschappen voltooid was, werden zij naar hunnen vader teruggezonden.—

Een magtig en heerschzuchtig reuzenkoning, en tevens een vijand der Pandito's, met name DHOSOMOEKO, of RAWONO, regeerde te Ngalengko. Hij was de oudste der vier kinderen van den Pandito WISROWO; zijne broeders heetten KOEMBOKARNO en WIBISONO. De eerste was een reus van eene verbazende grootte, en de laatste had de gestalte van een gewoon mensch, en was schoon en welgemaakt.—Zijne zuster, die van eene reusachtige gedaante was, heette SARPO KANOKO.

Dhosomorko's onderdanen, de reuzen, verstoorden onophoudelijk de Pandito's in hunne godsdienst, en deden hun geweld aan, zoodanig dat zij, tegen de magt der reuzen niet bestand zijnde, genoodzaakt waren, om veiligheids halve van de eene plaats naar de andere te trekken. Dit gaf dan aanleiding aan twee voorname Pandito's, met name Bagawan Jogisworo en Bagawan Mitro, om de hulp interoepen van Dhosoroto, die zijne zonen Romo en Laksmono tot bijstand aan hen medegaf. Nadat beiden al de reuzen, uitgezonderd een, genaamd Maritjo, verdelgd hadden, gaven de twee Pandito's aan Romo den raad, om zich naar Mantili te begeven, waar Djanoko als koning regeerde, die eene uitmuntend schoone dochter had, genaamd Sinto, om wier hand verscheidene koningen en vorsten te vergeefs gevraagd hadden, omdat zij aan niemand hare hand wilde schenken, dan alleen aan hem, die in staat zou zijn, om haren schietboog te spannen, hetwelk hare aanzoekers vruchteloos hadden beproefd. De Pandito's gaven aan Romo dezen raad, omdat hij geoordeeld werd in staat te zijn dien boog te spannen. — Romo volgt dezen raad op, begeeft zich met Laksmono naar Mantili, breekt den boog bij het spannen in tweeën, en wordt, in tegenwoordigheid van zijnen vader, die naar Mantili uitgenoodigd was, met Sinto in het huwelijk verbonden.—

Bij de terugreize van Dhosoroto, met zijne zonen en schoondochter naar Ngajodhjo, werd Romo onder weg tot een tweegevecht uitgedaagd door een beroemden Pandito, Djomodagni of Romo Bargowo genaamd, dien hij overwon.

Dhosoroto, in zijn koningrijk terug gekomen zijnde, besloot zijne koninklijke waardigheid neder te leggen ten behoeve van Romo, vergeten hebbende de belofte, welke hij aan Kekaji gedaan had, namelijk, dat, wanneer zij een zoon mogt baren, deze den troon zoude beklimmen.—Toen echter Romo koning geworden was, gaf Kekaji hare ontevredenheid, onder vele verwijtingen, aan haren gemaal te kennen, eischte de vervulling zijner belofte, en verzocht tevens, dat Romo uit het koningrijk mogt verwijderd worden, ten einde alle redenen van argwaan uit den weg te ruimen.

De diep ter neder geslagen koning, zijn woord niet gaarne willende breken, voldeed aan haren eisch.—Baroto werd op den troon geplaatst, en Romo weggezonden; Laksmono volgde hem vrijwillig.—De droefheid van Dhosoroto over de verwijdering zijns geliefden zoons maakte weldra een einde aan zijn leven, hetwelk den nieuwen koning zoo diep in het hart trof, dat hij, onder vele verwijtingen aan zijne moeder, het hof verliet, om zijnen broeder optezoeken, ten einde hem op den troon te plaatsen. Hij vond hem op den berg Koethoroenggoe; doch hij weigerde de koninklijke waardigheid aantenemen, en zond Baroto terug, na hem alvorens in de regeerkunde onderrigt te hebben. Baroto keerde naar Ngajodhjo terug, en Romo verliet den berg Koethoroenggoe met zijne gade en Laksmono, om naar den berg Dandoko te gaan. Op zijnen weg derwaarts doodde hij den reus Wirodho, een der onderdanen van Dhosomoeko, wiens bedrijf was te moorden, en de Pandito's in hunne godsdienst te storen.—Vervolgens bezocht hij de hermitage van zekeren Pandito, genaamd Bagawan Jogo, die van kindsbeen af boete had gedaan. Hij trad Romo te gemoet, en nadat hij hem den raad had gegeven, om zich te begeven naar de hermitage van den Pandito Soetiksno, verbrandde hij zich.—

Romo rigtte zijne schreden naar de hermitage van Soetiksno, waar hij aankwam, en eenen tijd lang onderwijs van dien Pandito nam, waarna hij verder voortreisde. Onder weg be-zocht hij verscheidene hermitages, en nam hij onderwijs van de aldaar aanwerige Pandito's.— Eindelijk kwam hij op den berg Dandoko aan, tot groote vreugde van al de aldaar boete doende Pandito's, omdat zij zich overtuigd hielden, dat hij in staat was, hen tegen den aanval der reuzen te beveiligen.

De reuzin Sarpo Kanoko werd door haren broeder Dhosomoeko naar den berg Dandoko afgezonden, om er een onderzoek te doen. Daar zag zij Romo en zijne gade alsmede Laksmono, voor welke laatste haar hart in liefde ontvlamde. Om haar doel te bereiken, nam zij de gedaante aan van eene schoone vrouw; doch vruchteloos poogde zij zijne liefde te winnen. Laksmono zond haar naar Romo, die hare liefdeverklaring van de hand wees, waarop zij zich weder bij Laksmono vervoegde; doch, in stede van hem door hare schoonheid en vleijende taal te bekooren, deed zij hem zoodanig in gramschap ontsteken, dat hij haar bij den neus greep en denzelven afdraaide. Brullend verhief zij zich in de lucht, en deelde zij het geval mede aan hare mannen, Trimoerdho en Korodhoesono genaamd, die, aan het hoofd van tien duizend reuzenstrijders, zich naar Dandoko begaven, om wraak te nemen; doch beiden en hunne strijders werden door Romo en Laksmono verdelgd.

Na de verdelging dezer reuzen verscheen Sarpo Kanoko voor haren broeder, den koning Dhosomorko, wien zij berigt gaf, zoo wel van de verdelging der reuzen door Romo en Laksmono, als van de mishandeling, aan haar door laatstgenoemden gepleegd, hem tevens mededeelende, dat Romo eene weergaloos schoone vrouw had, die waardig was om de gemalin des konings te worden.

Dhosomoeko werd door dit berigt in gramschap ontstoken; en, nadat hij zijne zuster gerust gesteld had, begaf hij zich naar den berg Dandoko, om wraak te nemen op Romo en Laksmono. Onder weg keerde hij aan bij een zijner reuzen, genaamd Maritjo, wien hij met zijn voornemen bekend maakte, en gelastte, hem te vergezellen. Maritjo trachtte hem dit voornemen uit het hoofd te praten, door hem voorbeelden te geven van Romo's en Laksmono's boven natuurlijke magt, tegen welke hij niet bestand zou zijn. In stede van gehoor te geven aan dezen raad, ontstak hij in eene hevige woede, en stond op het punt van Maritjo te dooden, toen deze zich spoedig voor zijne voeten nederwierp, en zich gewillig betoonde om hem te volgen, tevens aannemende, om zich in eene kidhang met gouden haren te veranderen, ten einde Romo en Laksmono van hunne plaats te lokken, en de koning ongehinderd Sinto zou kunnen weg voeren.

Dhosomoeko keurde dit voorstel goed, en vertrok met Maritjo, in de gedaante van eene gouden kidhang, naar den berg Dandoko.

Bij hunne aankomst op den berg Dandoko, hield Dhosomoeko zich verscholen. Maritjo ging in de gedaante van eene gouden kidhang naar Romo's verblijf, voor hetwelk hij gedurig heen en weder huppelde. Sinto kreeg haar in het oog, en verzocht haren gemaal haar te vangen. Romo voldeed aan haar verlangen, liet Laksmono achter om haar op te passen, en trachtte de kidhang te vangen. Deze ontweek hem gedurig, en Romo zette haar steeds na; tot dat hij ver van zijne verblijfplaats verwijderd was, en eindelijk, uit gemelijkheid over zijne mislukte pogingen, haar met zijnen pijl doorboorde. De kidhang gaf een geluid, hetwelk Sinto voor de roepstem van haren gemaal hield, als of hij Laksmono om hulp riep. Laksmono, die echter wist, dat dit het geluid van de kidhang was, weigerde op uitnoodiging van Sinto ter hulp te snellen, doch werd eindelijk daartoe genoodzaakt.

Na de verwijdering van Laksmono, kwam Dhosomoeko in de gedaante van een kluizenaar ter plaatse van Sinto, maakte zich van haar meester, en voerde haar door de lucht heen weg. Djathaijoe, een verbazend groote vogel, en een vriend van Dhosoroto, het geschrei van Sinto in de lucht hoorende, snelde ter harer hulp, vocht met Dhosomoeko, doch werd overwonnen, waarop deze met zijnen buit te Ngalengko kwam, en Sinto, die hem verachtte, in eenen tuin van zijn paleis plaatste.

Intusschen kwam Romo terug, met zich nemende de kidhang, welke hij doodgeschoten had. Hij trof Laksmono aan, kwam met hem in zijn verblijfplaats terug, waar hij Sinto te vergeefs opzocht, hetgeen hem in eene groote ongerustheid dompelde. Hij strekte zijne nasporingen verder uit, door bergen en dalen, en ontdekte op zijnen weg den grooten vogel Djathaijoe, wiens eene vlerk door Dhosomoeko was afgehouwen. In de meening, dat deze vogel de schaker van Sinto was, spande Romo zijnen boog, om hem te schieten. Djathaijoe dit ziende, hielp Romo uit zijne dwaling, en verhaalde hem het geheele geval tusschen hem en Dhosomoeko, en hoe hij vruchteloos getracht had, om Sinto uit de handen van haren schaker te redden; naauwelijks had hij dit verhaal geeindigd, of hij stierf, waarop Romo zijn ligchaam verbrandde.

Romo ging met Laksmono voort; zij troffen

op hunnen weg aan een reus met name Dhirgobahoe, wiens verbazende lange armen zij met hunne krissen afhakten, en die daarna zich in een Dhewo veranderde. Hij gaf aan Romo te kennen, dat hij Bathoro Sri heette, en door het overschrijden der schaduw van Bathoro Goeroe in eenen reus herschapen was. Verder zeide hij tot hem, dat hij in vervolg van tijd zijne gemalin, die door Dhosomoeko, koning van Ngalengko, weggevoerd was, weder zou vinden, hem tevens aanradende, om hulp te verleenen aan den koning der apen te Goewokiskendo, met name Soegriwo, die wegens de ontschaking zijner vrouw in oorlog was met zijnen ouderen broeder, genaamd Soebali. Dat Soegriwo hem voor deze hulp erkentelijk zou zijn, en tevens zijn bolwerk in den oorlog worden.

Na dit gezegd te hebben verdween Bathoro Sri, en Romo zette met Laksmono zijne nasporing voort. Hij vond eene hermitage, waar een groote vogel, genaamd Soewari Brangti, boete deed. Hij was een Dhewo, die deze gedaante had gekregen, door zich den vloek van Bathoro Goeroe op den hals te hebben gehaald, welke door Romo werd opgeheven. Hij verloor de gedaante eens vogel, was weder een Dhewo als te voren, en keerde naar de verblijfplaats der Dhewo's terug, na alvorens aan Romo hetzelfde te hebben te kennen gegeven, als Bathoro Sri aan hem gezegd had. Romo ging vervolgens met Laksmono voort, en bereikte den berg Reksomoeko, waar hij zich ophield.

Soegriwo, de koning der apen hier boven genoemd, had den strijd tegen zijnen broeder Soebali verloren, en was genoodzaakt de wijk te nemen naar een bosch, werwaarts zijne Boepatis en onderdanen hem volgden. Zijne Boepatis heetten; Hendhro Djanoe, Bali Soto, Kredhono, Gondho Madpono, Soeseno, Winoto, Wisangkotho, Poethaksi, Hanolo, Gowakso, Hari Medho, Sroewendho, Wreksobo, Sarobo, Dhanoerdhono, Dharimoeko, Sampati, Keswari, Dhroegomo en Bimo Moeko. De hoofden dezer Boepatis waren Hanilo, Kapi Djembawan en Hanoman, welke laatste zijn neef was, en ook heette Romo Dhojopati en Bajoesoeto. Hij was de zoon van Dhewo Handjani, zuster van Soegriwo, en had eene witte kleur.

Door eene openbaring der Dhewo's werd aan Soegriwo de raad gegeven, om de hulp van Romo en Laksmono in te roepen, die in staat waren zijne droefheid te verdrijven. Hij zond daarop zijnen neef Hanoman naar Romo en Laksmono, om hen naar des konings verblijfplaats uit te noodigen. Nadat Romo van hem het doel dezer uitnoodiging begrepen had, maakte hij geene zwarigheid om hem te volgen. Hij ging derhalve met Laksmono, door Hanoman vergezeld, naar de verblijfplaats van Soegriwo, wien hij beloofde te zullen bijstaan, en met wien hij vriendschap aanknoopte.

Vervolgens rukte Soegriwo naar Goewokiskendo op, vergezeld van Romo en Laksmono. Bij zijne aankomst aldaar daagde hij zijnen ouderen broeder tot een tweegevecht uit. Soebali kwam uit, en ving den strijd met Soegriwo aan, waarvan Romo slechts een bloot aanschouwer was, daar hij, uithoofde van de treffende gelijkenis der twee gebroeders, huiverig was, zijn pijl af te schieten, omdat hij, in plaats van Soebali, welligt zijn vriend mogt treffen. Na een lang hardnekkig gevecht moest Soegriwo eindelijk voor de magt zijns broeders zwichten. Hij wendde zich tot Romo, en vroeg hem, waarom hij hem niet had geholpen. Romo maakte hem de reden hiervan bekend, en gebood hem eenige bladeren tot teeken van onderscheiding te dragen, en den strijd andermaal te hervatten. Soegriwo deed, zoo als Romo hem beval, en hervatte den strijd, waarop Romo een pijl op Soebali schoot, die een einde aan zijn leven maakte, waarna Soegriwo zich weder in het bezit van zijn koninkrijk en zijne vrouw stelde.

Soebali had een zoon nagelaten, met name Hanggodho, dien Romo als den zijnen aannam.

Op aanrading van Soegriwo aan Romo werd Hanoman naar Ngalengko afgezonden, om heimelijk onderzoek te doen, of Sinto er aanwezig was. Hij werd derwaarts vergezeld door Hanggodho, Hanilo, en Kapi Djembawan, benevens een leger van vier honderd duizend apen, en kreeg van Romo mede eenen ring, om, wanneer hij Sinto te Ngalengko mogt vinden, denzelven aan haar te vertoonen, ten einde zij aan zijne zending niet zou twijfelen.

Hij ging door de lucht heen; en Soegriwo zond nog vier apen (Boepatis) af, om Sinto op te sporen.

Hanoman en de zijnen kwamen op den berg Woro Windhoe aan. Aldaar ondekten zij eene grot, die door eene schoone maagd, dochter van den reuzenkoning Wiso Karno en Dhewi Méroe, bewoond werd. Deze grot was vroeger een koninklijk paleis, genaamd Hoepo Rengo, en werd in die gedaante door Bathoro Hendro herschapen, omdat de bouworde en sieraden naar die van het paleis in den hemel geleken, hetgeen den toorn van Bathoro Hendro veroorzaakte.

Sajembroho (zoo heette de maagd), het doel van de zending der apen begrepen hebbende, besloot hen hierin te verhinderen, en bewerkte door haar bovennatuurlijk vermogen, dat zij het gebruik van hun gezigt verloren; doch zeker aldaar aanwezige groote vogel, met name Sempati, genas hen van deze blindheid, en wees hun den weg naar Ngalengko aan.

Hanoman zette vervolgens zijne reis voort, en kwam aan den oever eener zee, van waar hij zich in de lucht verhief, om naar Ngalengko te gaan; terwijl Hanggodho en de overige apen zijne terugkomst aan het zeestrand bleven afwachten. Op zijnen weg derwaarts werd hij door den reus Kotho Kini gegrepen en opgeslokt, doch Hanoman breidde zich uit, en reet zijnen buik van een. Hij ondekte vervolgens in het midden der zee, een eiland, Minoko genaamd, dat hem toeriep, en verzocht even aan te keeren, ten einde gebruik te maken van de aldaar aanwezige vruchten. Nadat Hanoman aan deze uitnoodiging voldaan had, zette hij zijne reis voort. Hij trof den reus Wikothaksini aan, die hem aangreep, en opslokte, doch wien hij den strot van een scheurde, dat hij stierf.

Hanoman was reeds de zee overgestoken, en rigtte, na zonsondergang, zijne schreden naar het paleis van Ngalengko, waar hij SINTO echter niet vond. Hij nam vervolgens de gedaante van eenen reus aan, ten einde zijn onderzoek in het gansche paleis ongehinderd te kunnen voortzetten. Hij kwam in het slaapvertrek van DHOSOMOEKO, dien hij slapende vond, en waar hij SINTO ook niet zag. Na vruchtelooze opsporing verliet hij het paleis, en kwam in den tuin genaamd Soko, waar hij SINTO vond, met DHEWI TRIDJOTHO, dochter van WIBISONO, die haar gezelschap hield, en haar, bij hare onderscheidene behoeften, de behulpzame hand bood. Hij vertoonde zich aan haar, en maakte haar, onder aanbieding van den ring, met zijne zending bekend, haar tevens eenige berigten omtrent ROMO's toestand mededeelende. SINTO, van zijne zending overtuigd, zond hem naar ROMO terug met een' brief en eene haarpen, als een bewijs van hare aanwezigheid te Ngalengko.

HANOMAN was zeer verheugd over het welslagen zijner zending; doch besloot, om, alvorens naar ROMO terug te keeren, DHOSOMOEKO ergernis te geven; dit bewerkstelligde hij door den tuin Soko te vernielen, hetwelk weldra ter ooren kwam van DHOSOMOEKO, die daarop last gaf aan honderd duizend reuzen, om zich van HANOMAN meester te maken, doch het reuzen-leger, alsmede het tweede en derde afgezondene, werd door HANOMAN verslagen, bij welk laatste Ra- dhen Sakso, zoon van Dhosomoeko, sneuvelde, waarop Dhosomoeko aan zijnen oudsten zoon Hindhradjit, ook Mego Nondho genaamd, last gaf, om Hanoman te dooden. Hij begaf zich naar den tuin, aan het hoofd van een magtig reuzen-leger, en schoot op Hanoman eenen pijl af, die een zijner dijen doorboorde, vervolgens werd hij door een nogo-pijl, welke Hindhradjit op hem afschoot, zoodanig omwonden, dat hij neder viel, gevangen, en voor Dhosomoeko gebragt werd. Deze gelastte, om Hanoman met dhoek en alang-alang te omwinden, dezelve met olie te begieten, en in brand te steken. Deze last werd ten uitvoer gebragt; doch toen het omwindsel in volle vlam stond, verhief Hanoman zich in de lucht, kwam op het dak van het paleis neder, rukte het omwindsel uit een, en stak het paleis in brand, waarbij vele reuzen het leven verloren. — Geheel onbeschadigd kwam hij bij Sinto terug, verhaalde haar, hoe hij door Dhosomoeko behandeld was, en nam vervolgens afscheid, om naar Romo terug te keeren. Hij kwam met zijne verzellers bij Romo op den berg Malihawan aan, wien hij, onder aanbieding van den brief en de haarpen, een uitvoerig verslag deed van zijne zending. Romo verheugde zich over dit berigt, en gaf last, om den pijl, die in de dij van HANOMAN was blijven zitten, uittetrekken; vervolgens brak hij, met SOEGRIWO en het apenleger, van den berg Malihawan op, om naar Ngalengko te gaan, en bereikte den berg Mahendhro, waar hij zich legerde.

DHOSOMOEKO vernam de tijding, dat ROMO tegen hem optrok, en op den berg Mahendhro gelegerd was. Zijne moeder, die reeds vooruit zag, dat hij tegen de magt van ROMO niet bestand zou zijn, en den dood vinden, droeg haren jongsten zoon WIBISONO op, om bij hem te bewerken, dat hij in der minne SINTO aan ROMO terug gaf. WIBISONO voldeed aan dit verlangen, doch zonder vrucht; ook de goede raad van BAGAWAN SOEMALI, (grootvader van DHOSOMOEKO), en die van KOEMBOKARNO, die het gevoelen van WIBISONO toegedaan waren, werkten niets op zijn verstokt hart uit. Op het aandringen van WIBISONO, om toch den goeden raad op te volgen, werd DHOSOMOEKO zoodanig in toorn ontstoken, dat hij hem een schop gaf en wegjoeg. — WIBISONO, zonder eenig teeken van misnoegen te geven, verwijderde zich van de tegenwoordigheid zijns broeders, en voegde zich met alle zijne strijders bij ROMO, door wien hij met beleefdheid werd ontvangen, en met wien hij vriendschap sloot.

Nu dacht Romo alleen aan zijnen optogt naar Ngalengko, doch kon geen middel uitvinden, op hoedanige wijze hij met zijn apenleger over de zee zou kunnen steken, om in dat land te komen, daar slechts de voornaamste apen door de lucht heen konden gaan. In zijne radeloosheid schoot hij een vuurpijl in de zee af, om dezelve droog te doen worden, ten einde zijn leger er over zou kunnen trekken.—De pijl deed het zeewater heet worden, en bragt alles wat er in was in de grootste verwarring. Baroeno, de god der zeeën, deze wanorde bemerkende, verhief zich uit de zee, kwam bij Romo en bad hem ootmoedig, om de onstuimigheid der zee te doen bedaren, onder opmerking, dat de zee toch ontoegankelijk was, schoon zij droog wierde, hem aanradende, om met behulp der apen eenen dam van bergen en steenen over de zee te leggen, langs welken zijn leger naar Ngalengko zou kunnen komen.—Romo schoot daarop een waterpijl in de zee af, die de onstuimigheid stilde; waarna hij last gaf aan zijne apen, om den bedoelden dam aan te leggen, na de voltooijing waarvan Romo, met het geheele apen leger, langs dien dam naar Ngalengko trok, waar hij zich op den berg Soewelo legerde.—

Toen Dhosomorko berigt kreeg van de landing van Romo, was hij zeer droefgeestig. Aangezien Sinto hem geene wederliefde toedroeg, zoo nam hij toevlugt tot eene list, ten einde haar eenmaal tot het besluit te doen overgaan, om aan zijne wenschen te voldoen. Hij beval, namelijk, om twee krijgsgevangen gemaakte schoone jongelingen omtebrengen, en derzelver hoofden bij Sinto te brengen, en voor die van Romo en Laksmoko te doen doorgaan. Dhosomorko kwam kort daarop ook bij haar, en liet haar de hoofden zien; doch Sinto, die bij het eerste gezigt dier hoofden zeer ontsteld was, en een luiden gil gaf, instede van tot het gewenschte besluit te komen, verzocht den koning, om haar aan Romo op te offeren, door haar van het leven te berooven.— De koning stelde al zijne welsprekendheid in het werk, om Sinto's hart te winnen, doch vruchteloos; zij bleef even standvastig, waarop hij zich van haar verwijderde, en niets onbeproefd liet, om een middel uit te vinden, ten einde Sinto's hart voor hem te openen, en tevens de magt des aannaderenden vijands te fnuiken. Intusschen was Sinto in de meening, dat Romo wezenlijk gedood was, en besloot zich te verbranden; doch Tridjotho hield haar tegen, en begaf zich naar den berg Soewelo, om zich van de waarheid van Romo's dood te overtuigen, waar zij door haren vader (Wibisono) aan Romo werd voorgesteld. Zij kwam kort daarop bij Sinto terug, en deelde haar de blijde tijding mede van Romo's en Laksmono's aanwezen op den berg Soewelo.

Dhosomoeko gaf intusschen last aan zijne bevelhebbers, om zich tot den strijd gereed te maken; terwijl hij een zijner bevelhebbers, met name Soekosvono, een bedreven en afgerigte reus, dien hij gerustelijk bij de moeijelijkste aangelegenheden kon gebruiken, naar den berg Soewelo zond, om het getal van Romo's leger en bevelhebbers in 't geheim op te nemen. Hij werd echter door Wibisono ontdekt, gevat, en bij Romo gebragt, die hem op vrije voeten liet stellen, en naar Ngalengko terug zond, na hem alvorens uitgehoord te hebben. Hij kwam bij Dhosomoeko terug, verhaalde hem het geheele geval, en ried hem aan, om Sinto aan Romo terug te geven; doch de vorst bleef doof voor dezen goeden raad.

Alvorens een aanvang met den aanval te maken, vond Romo goed, om Hanggodho, zoon van Soebali, naar Dhosomoeko te zenden, ten einde zijn uiterste wil te vernemen, namelijk, om vrede te sluiten, en Sinto aan hem terug te geven, of den oorlog te verklaren. Hanggodho bragt dezen last ten uitvoer, en vernam van Dhosomorko, dat hij liever wilde oorlogen, dan Sinto aan Romo terug te geven. Nadat Romo antwoord van Hanggodho ontvangen had, beval hij zijne bevelhebbers, om zich tot den oorlog gereed te maken. Dhosomorko deed zulks ook, kort na Hanggodho's vertrek.

De oorlog tusschen de reuzen en apen, nam vervolgens een aanvang. Nadat dezelve eenigen tijd geduurd had, bekwamen de reuzen de nederlaag; verscheidene hunner bevelhebbers sneuvelden, en de overigen namen de vlugt, en sloten hunne poorten. Hindradjit, die bij dat gevecht Hanggodho tot tegenpartij had, en voor hem moest zwichten, deinsde terug, begaf zich naar zijn bedehuis, en bad de Dhewo's dat hij de overwinning mogt behalen. Zijn gebed werd verhoord. Hij schoot vervolgens eenen pijl af, die een donderend geluid in de lucht veroorzaakte, en eene menigte groote slangen voortbragt, die Romo en zijn gansche leger, uitgezonderd Wibisono, zoodanig omslingerden, dat zij zich niet konden verroeren.

Sinto zulks vernemende was zeer wanhopig, en besloot zichzelve van kant te maken, doch Tridjoto verhinderde haar zulks, en begaf zich met toestemming van Sinto naar den berg Soewelo, om van haren vader te vernemen, hoe het lot van Romo beslist zou worden. Wibisono zond haar terug, met de verzekering, dat Romo niet zou sterven, maar in tegendeel de overwinning wegdragen, hetwelk zij aan Sinto mededeelde.

Intusschen bad Romo in zijn hart, waarop de Dhewo's van de Soeroloijo (den hemel) bij hem nederdaalden, en bloemen deden regenen. Daarna ontstond er een stormwind, die de slangen, welke zich om het lijf van Romo en dat van zijne apen kronkelden, wegrukte, waarna het gansche leger een nieuwen aanval op de stad van Ngalengko deed. Verscheidene reuzen bevelhebbers sneuvelden, waaronder Dhosomoeko's oom, genaamd Prahasto, die tevens zijn Pateh was.

Droefheid, angst en vrees prangden Dhosomoeko's hart bij het vernemen van den dood zijns ooms. Hij gaf vervolgens last, om zijnen broeder Koembokarno te ontbieden. Deze kwam, en werd, na voorafgaande vleijende toespraak, uitgenoodigd, om den vijand te verdelgen. Koembokarno bragt hem onder vele verwijtingen, zijne verkeerde handelwijze en hartvochtigheid onder het oog, zoodanig, dat Dhosomoeko, in toorn ontstoken, hem wegjoeg. Hij verwijderde zich van de tegenwoordigheid zijns broeders, en begaf zich naar het slagveld waar hij eene verwoesting onder de apen aanrigtte. Soegriwo trad hem te gemoet, doch werd, na een hevig gevecht, door Koembokarno met een berg geworpen, zoodat hij buiten kennis nederviel, en in handen van zijne tegenpartij geraakte. Hanoman dit ziende bragt, door zijnen wensch, een hevigen wind voort, die Soegriwo weder bij zich zelven deed komen, en hem in staat stelde, om zich uit de handen van zijnen vijand los te rukken, na hem behendiglijk zijne beide ooren afgescheurd, en zijn neus afgebeten te hebben. Koembokarno, zich aldus verminkt ziende, blaakte van gramschap, en rigtte eene verwoesting onder de apen aan, doch werd eindelijk door eenen pijl van Romo gedood.

Het berigt van Koembokarno 's dood dompelde Dhosomoeko in groote droefheid, daar hij te wel inzag, dat het gevaar, waarin hij verkeerde, onvermijdelijk was. Daarop traden zijne vier zonen, genaamd Trisirah, Trikojo, Norantoko en Dhewo Tantoko in het strijdperk. Ook dezen en hunne strijders sneuvelden.

Dhosomoeko werd zeer ter neder geslagen door den dood zijner vier zonen, en voorspelde reeds zijnen ondergang. In dezen neteligen toestand zijns gemoeds, verscheen zijn oudste zoon Hindhradjit voor hem, die hem opbeurde, door de verzekering, dat hij Romo en zijn gansche leger zou verdelgen. Hij begaf zich vervolgens na zonsondergang naar het strijdperk, en schoot er tegen de plaats des vijands eenen pijl af, die de kracht had, om eenen onopwekkelijken slaap te weeg te brengen. De pijl had de gewenschte uitwerking; al de apen vielen in een diepe slaap, ook Romo en Laksmono; alleen Wibisono was voor de kracht van dezen pijl onvatbaar. De kleine apen waren zoo goed als dood; doch dit was het geval niet met Romo en Laksmono en de apen Boepatis, evenwel waren hunne oogleden opgezwollen. Wibisono zond daarop Hanoman naar den berg Himogiri, om van daar te halen het blad Sandhiloto, dat tot wekmiddel diende voor de in doodelijke slaap gevallen apen. Daar hij te spoedig was weggegaan, zonder te vragen, hoe dat blad er uit zag, zoo haalde hij, in zijne verlegenheid, den berg uit den grond, en bragt denzelven bij Romo, die er eenige bladeren van plukte, en zijne oogen daarmede wreef. Terstond werd hij genezen; en Hanoman deed, op last van Romo, hetzelfde aan de apen, die onmiddelijk uit den slaap gewekt werden.

Terwijl Drosomokko over het welslagen der aangewende poging van HINDHRADJIT tegen den vijand, zich des avonds in zijn paleis met feesten vermaakte, deden de apen eenen onverwachten aanval, en staken het paleis in brand, hetwelk eene algemeene schrik en verwarring veroorzaakte.

Toen de dag aangebroken was werd de strijd tusschen de reuzen en apen hervat. Na een lang en hardnekkig gevecht werden de reuzen verslagen, bij welke gelegenheid HINDHRADJIT, en een der zonen van KOEMBOKARNO sneuvelden.

Toen nu het grootste gedeelte der helden van DHOSOMOEKO gesneuveld waren, besloot hij in persoon den strijd te beslissen. Hij begaf zich dien ten gevolge in eenen strijdwagen ten strijde.

Ontelbare apen waren het slagtoffer zijner verschrikkelijke woede geworden. Een zijner pijlen, waarmede hij op ROMO mikte, trof LAKSMONO, en bragt hem eene wond in zijne borst toe; doch WIBISONO genas hem daarvan.

De DHEWO's zweefden in de lucht, om het gevecht tusschen DHOSOMOEKO en ROMO te aanschouwen. BATHORO HENDHRO zond daarop aan ROMO een strijdwagen, en twee pijlen, met name goewo widjoijo en bromastro. Hij besteeg den wagen, en trad DHOSOMOEKO te gemoet. De strijd duurde eenen langen tijd; doch werd eindelijk ten voordeele van Romo beslist. De pijl goewo widjoijo maakte een einde aan Dhosomoekko's leven.

Na den dood van Dhosomoekko werd Wibisono door Romo op den troon van Ngalengko geplaatst, waarvan hij door Hanoman mededeeling liet doen aan Sinto, die daarover zeer verheugd was, en terug liet zeggen, dat zij, ter vervulling harer gedane gelofte, Romo openlijk op het slagveld hulde wilde bewijzen. Zij begaf zich tot dat einde, van Tridjotho vergezeld, naar de plaats, waar Romo gelegerd was, doch deze ontving haar zeer koel, en met eene blijkbare afkeerigheid. Hij twijfelde namelijk aan hare trouw, gedurende haar verblijf in het paleis van Dhosomoekko. De schaamte van aldus door haren gemaal versmaad te worden, deed haar besluiten, om, door zich te verbranden, een einde aan haar leven te maken. Men maakte daarop den brandstapel gereed; en terwijl de vlam omhoog steeg, zag men Bathoro Bromo op eenen dampar (vorstelijken stoel) in het vlammend vuur zitten, en Sinto tot zich met de hand wenken. Sinto ging in het vuur, zonder dat hetzelve haar schaadde. Vervolgens daalde Bathoro Goeroe, van eenige Dhewo's vergezeld, neder bij Romo. Bathoro Bromo gaf daarop aan Romo te kennen, dat

SINTO's trouw nog onbevlekt was, en beval haar daarna uit het vuur te gaan, en naast ROMO plaats te nemen. Hij verdween daarop met al de overige DEEWO's, nadat deze ROMO ook verzekerd hadden van SINTO's ongekreukte trouw.

Nu reed ROMO met zijne gade in een voertuig, vergezeld van LAKSMONO, WIBISONO, SOEGRIWO, en al zijne bevelhebbers, de stad van Ngalengko binnen, waar men zich aan vermakelijkheden overgaf. HANOMAN werd vervolgens door ROMO vooruit gezonden naar Ngajodhjo, om BAROTO met ROMO's terugkomst bekend te maken.

ROMO brak daarna van Ngalengko naar Ngajodhjo op, vergezeld van WIBISONO, SOEGRIWO, en TRIDJOTHO. Hij kwam er behouden aan, en stortte vreugde tranen, bij het wederzien zijner moeder en van zijnen broeder. Vermakelijkheden werden nu in het algemeen gevierd, na den afloop waarvan WIBISONO en SOEGRIWO afscheid namen van ROMO, om naar hun koningrijk terug te keeren.
