NEW ORLEANS:
FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 3, 1870.

The Slaughter-House Controversy.

The Times correctly states in its evening edition of yesterday the points presented to Mr. Justice Bradley, on the part of the Crescent City Slaughter-House Company, under their application to increase the bonds given by Iuban, Aycock & Co., and the Live Stock Dealers and Butchers' Association to abide the final judgment of the Supreme Court, at Washington, in the suits which have been transferred there on writ of error. These points are:

1. Whether the Judge, having granted the writ of error, and fixed the amount of the bonds, can increase the mount of said bonds or require new ones.

2. Whether the granting of the writ of error suspends the proceedings of the Attorney General and the Slaughter-House Company against the Butchers and Live Stock Dealers.

On the first point, we understand Judge Bradley to have required the bond to be increased to $100,000, and as regards the second point, that he has no power to decide what is the effect of the writ of error, or whether it operates to suspend the proceedings of our State courts in these suits. The question is one of law, to be decided at the proper time by the Supreme Court of the United States.

The counsel for the Crescent City Slaughter-House Company were yesterday engaged in making arrangements to transfer all their cases against the butchers to the Eighth District Court, for the purpose, it is supposed, of concentrating their forces and moving against the butchers at an early day.

We thank the Rev. J. E. C. Doremus for a copy of the Rev. Dr. Palmer's pamphlet discussing the question of reunion addressed by the Presbyterian Church North to the Presbyterian Church of the South. It is a very remarkable production, and we do not see how it can be answered.

We have received the second number of a semi-monthly paper published at Washington, entitled SERIO OF MYRTLE—THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS HERALD. This is a publication devoted to the interests of the order of the Knights of Pythias, and is their official organ. Subscription price $1 50 per annum. For sale by Henry M. Small, agent, Exchange Alley, street, Geo. E. Ins, bookseller, opposite the Postoffice, and Holle, newspaper depot, Exchange Alley, between Custom-house and Bienville streets.

We are indebted to Mr. A. Simon, newspaper agent, Exchange Alley, between Bienville and Conti streets, for late publications. Mr. Simon receives subscriptions for all daily, weekly and monthly publications. He will deliver them in the city, or mail them for country subscribers.

DEATH OF JAMES W. ZACHARIE.—We notice in the other papers the announcement of the death of James W. Zacharie, one of our oldest and most respected citizens, which occurred on the 1st inst., at the residence of Mrs. Howard, at Chatawa, Miss.

Mr. Zacharie, though 74 years of age, had maintained great physical and mental vigor, and was noted for his enterprising and successful business habits. He was a native of Baltimore, but had made New Orleans his home from his youth, and was one of the factors who served with Genl. Jackson in the war of 1814-15. The deceased leaves several children, all of whom are honored by the community, who sympathize with them in their bereavement.

FOR NEW YORK.—Parties about to travel North are referred to the advertisement, to this issue, of steamship Rapidan, Capt. Whitehurst. This vessel will leave on Saturday evening next at 6 P. M.

DR. WARREN STONE.—The New York Herald of Sunday, May 29, records the arrival at the New York Hotel of our distinguished fellow-citizen, Dr. Warren Stone.

NEW YORK—OFFICIAL.—The following is the official vote of the State of New York for Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals:

Church (Democrat)	234,853
Seldon (Republican)	143,183
Church's majority	91,670
The total was	360,026

This is just about one-half of the whole vote of the State.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT.—After ten years of experiment, and fifteen changes in the ingredients, Prof. Hun has the pleasure of announcing that his VITALIA OR SALVATION FOR THE HAIR, is a perfect article, capable of infallibly restoring gray hair to its primary color, and without failure. Sold by all druggists and fancy goods dealers.

The steamship Liberty, Capt. Reed, sailed last evening for Baltimore, via Havana and Key West. The following is a list of her passengers

For Baltimore—Mrs H C Lay, Miss A Campbell, J A C Mason, Miss R C Mason, Miss M C Mason and servant, Nicholas Bell Mrs E J Baker, Jas J H Gordon, Jas Pierce, Miss Elder, Miss Mayhew, Jas McKeever, Miss C W Hollywood, Miss A Scott, Miss Emma Kuse, Miss Lydia Kuse, Jas H Kuse, Miss F H Stevens, Judge Bradley, wife and 2 children, Mrs H Green, S Myers, Mr and Mrs O B Whitney. For Key West—Wm Brown and child. For Havana—Mrs and Mrs Ball, Jose Alcouta and lady, A J Sergee, W J Bahian, 2 Delgado.

TRIBUTE TO REV. DR. PALMER.—The Louisville Courier-Journal in an article upon the Southern Presbyterian Assembly, lately in session at Louisville, mentions the Rev. Dr. Palmer of this city as one of the more distinguished members, and pays him the following tribute:

It would, perhaps, be invidious to select from a body so uniformly able those entitled to the distinction of being its great men. Beyond doubt, in an ecclesiastical court, where there was comparatively so little spread-eagleism, many of the ablest men were not heard at all in public, but gave the advantage of their abilities to the body in the perfected papers from the committees. So far as Presence of a throng of ladies and gentlemen, premium were awarded to the American Stove, manufactured by Bridgeford & Co., and the Black-land Plow made by Avery & Co., of Louisville. The premium for silk embroidery was awarded to Miss Elizabeth Davis, Allen, of Danville, Ky., a graduate of Louisville female college.

The stove trial, was quite exciting. The contest was closely between and when the judge announced that the American was the best "machine" to make "done-brown" the cheers of life, the welkin rang for Louisville.

Major Floyd, who represents the Louisville Herald, in Paris, is agreeable that evening at the Hutchins House—the Gulf of Texas—and many toasts were given by promenade Hall in honor of Louisville manufactures and in honor of friendship and feeling between the great West and South-west. It was gratifying to see Kentucky so well represented at the first fair of Texas. Among the judges on blooded stock we noticed Dr. Ferris, of Scott, Major Davis, of Boyle, and Major Lewis, of Lincoln.

These gentlemen are now Texans, but still return their old Kentucky penchant for fine animals. The noblest horse on the grounds was the Duke of Elkhorn, brought to Texas by Keene Richards, but now the property of Dr. Ferris. Among the distinguished visitors present were Gen. Hardee and staff, Gen. Magruder, Herr Koopmanschap, the Chinese Commissioner, and Judge Bradley of the United States Supreme Court.

The grand ball was a brilliant affair. Many of the young ladies were very beautiful; two attracted universal admiration: Miss Black, daughter of Judge Jeremiah Black, of Pennsylvania, and Miss Ballinger, daughter of Hon. Wm. P. Ballinger, of Galveston.

The annual oration, by the Hon. John H. Reagan, was a masterly effort, full of eloquent thought and profound investigation. He was, perhaps, the ablest officer in the Cabinet of President Davis, and would be an eminent man in any State.

The reception of the Legislative committee was the grand event of the fair. They were received with honors and welcomed of the Association, Hon. John I. Brady, Gen. Wm. Parsons, chairman of the delegation.

During the fair the Texas Historical Society was organized by Hon. Ashel Smith, Vice President of the Southern Historical Society. President Smith is a profound scholar, was Phi Beta Kappa Orator at Yale, Minister of the Republic of Texas to France and Great Britain, and distinguished himself as a soldier during the late war.

The State Fair, the organization of the Historical Society and other such noble institutions, the rapid spread of railroads, are unmistakable evidences that Texas is beginning to assume a great position among the States of America.

From the Parishes.

EAST BATON ROUGE PARISH.—The Advocate calls for a Democratic State Convention at an early day.

The Gazette and Comet says:

No definite action was taken at the meeting of the stockholders of the Baton Rouge, Gross Tête and Opelousas Railroad on the 26th ult., in the matter of disposing of that road to the New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Vicksburg company. There will be another meeting held on Friday next, the 3d inst., when in all probability the question will finally be determined. If the interests of the city of Baton Rouge and this section of country are consulted, the sale will certainly be consummated.

The engineer of the New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Vicksburg Railroad is now engaged in surveying the route between this city and Ponchatoula.

CARROLL PARISH. — The Elton Eagle says:

The cotton is still backward, and on some places the stand not complete, though the average prospects may be set down as good.

NATCHITOCHES.—The Times, of the 26th, says:

Fine rains have fallen during the week throughout the parish. Crops are in fine condition, and very promising.

PLAQUEMINES.—The Empire Parish says the people there want to know where their Sheriff has gone with all the furniture and archives of the court-house.

WEST FELICIANA.—The Bayou Sara Ledger, of the 28th ult., says:

The crops are progressing well. The cotton looks very promising, but the corn would be decidedly the better of a good soaking rain.

EAST BATON ROUGE.—The New Orleans, Baton Rouge and Vicksburg Railroad is buying real estate in Baton Rouge for railroad purposes.

UNION PARISH.—The Farmerville Record says:

The weather has been delightfully pleasant during the last few days. Crop prospects are encouraging.

The general health throughout the parish is good.

Corn is scarce and high, though not so much so as in some other places, if that be any consolation.

MADISON PARISH.—The Delta Journal says:

The weather for more than a week has been intensely warm, the atmosphere being close and sultry. A shower of rain would be of immense advantage to our planting friends now. However the crops in this vicinity, as a general thing look well.

ST. HELENA PARISH.—The Greensburg Star and Journal says:

Crop Prospect.—We believe general satisfaction is now prevailing almost unanimously among our planters in regard to the present condition of their crop. The corn, generally is somewhat small for this season of the year, but gives fair promise of a fair yield. The cotton is unusually late, and a great many of our farmers have commenced scraping, and are making rapid progress these fine days. We have been blessed with two more showers of rain within the last few days, which has given to vegetation a green and lovely color.

The State Fair at Houston.

The Louisville Courier-Journal publishes the following letter:

Houston, Texas, May 28.—The first State Fair of Texas has been in successful operation the past week, and is highly creditable to the spirit of Houston and the State of Texas. Some of the departments, especially that of blooded stock, would not compare favorably with our Kentucky fairs, but the Mechanical Department was fully represented, and would do honor to any exhibition. The State is greatly indebted to New Orleans for the complete success of this her first grand fair. Louisville and St. Louis, too, were well represented, and I am proud to say the Falls City bore off the gold medal for the best cooking-stove and the best "Texas blacksmith" plough. After a long and well-contested trial, the premium of a throng of ladies and gentlemen, premium were awarded to the American Stove, manufactured by Bridgeford & Co., and the Black-land Plow made by Avery & Co., Louisville. The premium for silk embroidery was awarded to Miss Elizabeth Davis, Allen, of Danville, Ky., a graduate of Louisville female college.

The stove trial, was quite exciting. The contest was closely between and when the judge announced that the American was the best "machine" to make "done-brown" the cheers of life, the welkin rang for Louisville.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

Deaschsu's.—We are indebted to Mr. E. F. Deneschaud, proprietor of the Washington Hotel, at the Lake End of the Pontchartrain Railroad, for a polite invitation to the opening of the Grand Pavilion, which we have previously noticed as having been constructed between the Lake and hotel for the accommodation of evening visitors to the Lake. It will be thrown open to the public between the hours of 5 and 9 o'clock this evening, when there will be music by Charley Jaeger's fine band, and refreshments, including ice cream, frozen lemonade, fish, fruits, wines, liquors, lager beer, etc. It is Mr. Deneschaud's intention to keep the Pavilion supplied with these things all summer.

Personal.—U. S. District Attorney Lounge has, we notice with pleasure, retained in his office the valuable services of Mr. J. W. Gurley, who was heretofore engaged as an assistant to Capt. Long's predecessor. Mr. Gurley is a gentleman of great information in judicial proceedings, acquired by a long experience in the clerkship of the United States Courts, coupled with his subsequent experience at the bar, and is besides a gentleman of such uniform courtesy and genial manners as make him quite an acquisition in any office. We regret we cannot say this much of every one connected with these courts, one of whom acting in a secondary capacity is so disobliging, especially to the gentlemen of the press, seeking information as to court proceedings as to be absolutely repulsive, if not insulting, in his manners.

Rate of Taxation—State and City.—Many tax payers are ignorant of the rate per centage which they are assessed, by the city and State, and frequent inquiries on this head are made of us. We would state that the

City tax proper is	$1 50
Metropolitan 6-6	75
Park 1-6	12½
	$2 37½
State 4-4	75
Total	$3 12½

With this before him, and a little simple figuring, any person can determine the total amount of his city and State taxes.—Picayune.

St. Mary's College.—We are indebted to the Brothers in charge of St. Mary's College, for an invitation to the annual examination of the pupils of the college, at the National Theatre, on the 7th, 8th and 9th insts., commencing at 7 o'clock each evening.

Car Experiment.—The ammoniacal car recently invented by Dr. E. Lamm will make an experiment this evening, by running from the Canal street Half-way House to Clay's statue, and thence to the Metairie Ridge and back to its starting point, at 5 o'clock P. M., when the public will have an opportunity of witnessing it in operation.

The Dutch Protestant Asylum.—We are in receipt of tickets to the fourth anniversary of the foundation and opening of this asylum, which will take place at Orange Grove, Jefferson City, on Sunday and Monday, the 5th and 6th insts., commencing at 9 A. M. Admission 50 cents; children free.

Feria Dello Statuto.—We are indebted to the Italian Society—Tiro al Bersaglio—for polite invitations to their second grand ball and festival celebrating Italian independence, which will be given Sunday, June 5th, at the Oakland Course and Riding Park.

The Coolies.—The ship Ville de St. Louis having on board 167 coolies, as previously noticed, arrived early yesterday morning, and anchored at Slaughter-house Point, where the coolies, with the exception of a few prominent ones of their number who came to the city, remained.

Two Chinese gentlemen, Messrs. Ming-keaong and Martang, who speak English readily, visited the office of Col. James T. Tucker, Agent of the Illinois Central Railroad, yesterday. They are merchants from Hong Kong direct from that city, by way of San Francisco, having come here in advance to superintend the arrival of emigrants at this port from China, and report back for the satisfactory information of others who may wish to emigrate to this place.

Their principal object is to seek employment for the emigrants suitable to them, particularly work on Southern railroads.

Suit for $19,000.—Jacob Strauss, broker of St. Charles street, has sued the Southern Bank for $19,000, amount of a check drawn by him in favor of Ex-Auditor Wickliffe. The check, it seems, passed into the hands of a third party to whom the bank refused to pay it. Hence the suit to determine Mr. Strauss' right, we presume, to check against that amount of his funds, in the bank, when the certified check therefor is still outstanding. The holder of the check will probably thus be legally debarred payment. It was stopped by order of Mr. Strauss himself as soon as Mr. Wickliffe found gone, apparently. Only an instant, then, passed in no wise purty to the fraud, if he proves such status, can recover on the check under any circumstances.

The Vanderpool Trial.—The case of John Vanderpool, charged with murder in killing his cousin, Robert A. Allen, Jr., some time ago, in front of Hawkin's saloon, was yesterday terminated by the jury returning a verdict of manslaughter. The accused was defended by E. Morel and Given Campbell, Esqs.

Eighth District Court.—J. R. Beckwith, Esq., setting by request of Judge Dibble, was engaged yesterday in hearing the case of the State on relation of Sheridan vs. F. C. Mahan, State Tax Collector. It was continued.

Fourth District Court.—Judge Theard yesterday rendered judgment for plaintiff in the case of Strauss vs. ex-Auditor Wickliffe for amount prayed for, $71,000, with interest, and attachment of $10,000, and note of C. T. Howard Jun., of Sheridan in possession of the intervenor in the case of D. J. Mashaway, whose intervention is consequently dismissed. A Robert, Esq., is allowed $500 for services as curator ad hoc to be assessed as costs. The intervenor, it will be remembered, has sued Strauss before the Sixth District Court for $25,000, alleged damages for false impeachment in connection with the Wickliffe transaction.

The Jackson Railroad Case.—Yesterday in the Sixth District Court came up the case of the New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern Railroad vs. R. M. Cook et als. This case stood, on motion by plaintiffs, for a new trial. Major New, for the defendants, moved to transfer the case to the Eighth District Court, in consequence of a recent decision of the Supreme Court. Gen. Freeman, of counsel for the Railroad Company, opposed the motion for plaintiffs, and the same was set for argument on Wednesday next, when Gen. Freeman will present the opinion of the Supreme Court and all cognate questions.

Arrests.—A negro named Wm. Anderson was arrested last evening by virtue of a warrant on a charge of stabbing J. Winslow.

Carrie Archie, colored, was arrested, charged with being an accessory after the fact to the larceny of $584, stolen or alleged to have been stolen from Edward Hike. Lizzie Carter, colored, was arrested a bagnio on Dryades street, was previously arrested as principal.

Wash Black and Joseph Lee, both colored, were arrested on a charge of stealing a cask of hams from the store of M. Shelly & Co., corner of Natchez and Old Levee streets.

Large Fire.—About 8 o'clock last night, a fire broke out in the engine room of the extensive candy manufactory of C. H. Miller & Co., No. 25 and 27 Peters, formerly New Levee, street. The stock and building, all owned by them, were totally destroyed. Loss estimated at $75,000, covered by insurance only to the extent of $25,000 in the Germania office. The cause of the fire is not positively ascertained, but is supposed to have been accidental. The flames were so rapid and intense as to preclude the possibility of saving anything. The police and firemen worked hard, and succeeded in saving the surrounding buildings, which were seriously threatened. Four walls of the building fell early in the conflagration.

Fire in a Church.—About 9 o'clock yesterday morning the altar in St. Mary's Church, Charters street, between Ursulines and Bienville, caught from candles in the hands of some children who were making their first communion. The fire was soon extinguished by some citizens.

MAGAZINES AND PERIODICALS RECEIVED. Littell's Living Age, Nos. 1354 and 1355.—The Living Age, besides its usual large amount of the best scientific, literary, historical and political matter, is publishing two new and very interesting serial stories—one by Mrs. Oliphant and the other by Charles Lever. Published every Saturday by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Atlantic Monthly—May number.—This periodical still maintains the exalted position it assumed when "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table" was sovereign of its pages. Boston: Fields, Osgood & Co.

The Home Monthly—for May.—A South-ern magazine, devoted to literature and religion. It contains several excellent articles. A. B. Stark, Editor, Nashville, Tenn.

"Good Words"—May number, edited by Norman McLeod. Contains a large amount of interesting and instructive matter; illustrated. Lippincott & Co., publishers, Philadelphia.

Lippincott for June, containing, among other things, "Thomas Tyler's Temptation," by Mrs. Mary S. Walker, and Anthony Trollope's novel, "Sir Harry Hotspur." J. B. Lippincott & Co., publishers, Philadelphia.

The Westminster Review for April, 1870. Among its contents are Unpublished Letters of "Samuel Taylor Coleridge," "American Socialism," etc., etc.; published by the Leonard Scott Publishing Company, 140 Fulton street, New York.

The Catholic World for June, full of choice tales, sketches and geographical. The Catholic World contains a large amount of matter relating to the church, and interesting especially to Catholics.

We find in the medical journals a report of a recent case in which three British doctors successfully performed transfusion—that is, the passage of blood from the veins of one person into the veins of another. The patient was a young suffering from hemorrhage, and about ten ounces of blood were taken from her husband. "The twain shall be one flesh."

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., June 2.—Cadet Whittemore was received member of Congress from South Carolina. The President nominated R. M. Wallace Collector for the Third District of South Carolina in his brother, A. S. Wallace, recently seated to Congress.

Grant's nominations for West Point have been confirmed. Sons of soldiers and sailors none were from the South. The Senate confirmed Wallace as Collector of the Third District of South Carolina.

Washington, June 2.—The President presented Spotted Tail with a fine pipe, silver tipped, and a box of tobacco. Red Cloud was not present.

The President had a friendly interview with Red Cloud this morning. He will go to-morrow, with his people, from the Indian Commission and the Secretary of the Interior in counsel. Spotted Tail and his people have a conference to-day at the White House with the President and Secretary of War. Bentwell and Hoar were present, but took no part in the conference.

The Indians recited the old story of their wrongs, their wants, and their desire to be at peace with the whites. The President made a speech, assuring them of the desire of the Government to have peace, and that the Indians should be powerful and would compel it, if necessary, but hoped for thorough amicable relations between the Government, Spotted Tail and the Indians had kept their promise, but the whites had not.

HOUSE.—The tax bill was resumed. Otheo divested the Speaker of many minute speeches were made. Schenck closed the discussion. He said the committee had proposed to reduce the income tax by increasing the exemption to $1500, which would be a reduction of nearly $6,000,000, and he was in opinion, that was about as much as could be spared at this time, but he was not at all prepared to say that next year and the year after, and so on, the revenue should not be reduced and continued. Gentlemen were not to be misled by supposing that all the revenue from the tax on incomes, having come here in advance to superintend the arrival of emigrants at this port from China, and report back for the satisfactory information of others who may wish to emigrate to this place.

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Denver, Col., June 2.—Two miles and six hundred feet of track was laid on the Denver and Pacific Railroad yesterday: twenty-three miles yet to be laid. About July 1st Kansas Pacific will begin laying track Eastward from here; two million a day will be laid.

Chicago, June 2.—Central Illinois was yesterday visited by a fine rain storm. The crops look splendid, and are nearly a month ahead of last year. At many points the corn is ten inches high. Wheat is doing first rate. Fruit was never more plenty.

Mrs. Queen Franks committed suicide at Pekin, Illinois, on Tuesday, by shooting herself. She placed the muzzle of the gun against her breast and pulled the trigger with a string. Her heart was blown to atoms. Cause—domestic infelicity.

Columbus, O., June 2.—The Democratic State Convention passed resolutions denouncing the tariff and internal revenue laws and pronouncing law for the enforcement of the Fifteenth Amendment unconstitutional. The following nominations were made: Secretary of State, Wm. Heisley, of Cleveland; Supreme Judge, R. W. Harrison, of London; Controller of the Treasury, John H. Heaton, of Belmont.

RIVER NEWS.

Louisville, June 2.—Arrived—Argosy and barges, Silver Spray and Sam J. Hale, from Cincinnati. Departed—Argosy and barges, and Silver Spray, for New Orleans. River receding slowly, with 8 feet 10 inches in the canal, and 4 feet 10 inches in the chute. Weather clear and warm.

The steamboat Alps left this evening with twelve boats of coal for the New Orleans and Memphis markets.

Memphis, June 3.—Passed up—Henry Amos. Down—Alice Dean. River falling slowly.

[Previous Dispatches.]

New York, June 2.—Several prominent Fenians returning have been arrested. All are loud in their denunciation of O'Neill and Starr.

The Cuban Charitable Aid Society and the Cuban League have consolidated.

Four hundred warrants have been issued for lottery dealers who failed to secure proper license; six have been arrested and held to $2000 bail.

Madrid, June 2.—Dispatches received from Gen. De Rodas inform the Government that the insurgent Generals propose surrendering, on condition that lives and property be spared. De Rodas asks for instructions. The Government replies that insurgent officers sincerely desiring to give up the contest and become reconciled to Spain, will be dealt with generously.

The Cortes will commence discussing the question of an occupant for the throne on Monday.
