INSTRUCTIONS

Economic Stabilization Board
Instructions No. 31

May 21, 1948

To Each Ministry

In accordance with the provisions of Article 15 of the Ordinance of the Economic Stabilization Board, the gist of the Allocation Procedure of Necessaries of Life for the Workers, shall be decided as follows:

President of Economic Stabilization Board
ASHIDA Hitoshi

The Gist of the Allocation Procedure of Necessaries of Life for the Workers

In view of the fact that the demand and supply situation of necessaries of life is at present extremely stringent, the allocation procedure of special distribution goods to workers engaged in the essential industries and other works vital to the nation will be clarified along with the following gist and, through its operation, the illicit receipt of distribution will be prevented and remedied so that the distribution may be equitable and effective, contributing to the enhancement of workers' enthusiasm for work and stabilization of workers' life.

For this purpose, the Economic Stabilization Board, offices having control over the distribution of goods concerned, offices concerned with labour and offices in charge of industries concerned, not only on the national level but also on the local level, shall through the efficient performance of their respective functions, have the correct basic data on the recipients and their attendance rate at command with respect to every kind of work so that the efficient formulation and execution of the distribution program to meet the changing economic situation may be ensured perfectly.

I. The function of the Economic Stabilization Board

The Economic Stabilization Board will determine the basic allocation plan for workers by types of industries as shown in the first column of the attached table as a part of the demand and supply program of the necessaries of life in accordance with each of the following paragraphs. But, in case it is necessary to do so, the plan may be decided after the subclassification of industries or specification of the recipients by factories, working places, etc.:

1. The E.S.B. will get data necessary for the abovementioned determination submitted beforehand in the following manner:

(a) The Central Government Offices in charge of the industries concerned as listed in the second column of the attached table shall be caused to submit necessary materials on the matters calling for special consideration in the allocation of necessaries of life in view of the necessity for production increase, etc. such as the relative importance of factories, areas, etc. in the industry concerned and the estimated operation of factories and working places in the period concerned with regard to the industries in charge, and other matters concerning allocation.

(b) With regard to industries (hereinafter referred to as industries in general) as marked in the third column of Attached Table, the Ministry of Labor shall be caused to submit the report on the total number of workers by industries, number of recipients of distribution and their actual working days, and other necessary datal concerning allocation on the basis of the latest materials. On this occasion, the Ministry of Labor may present its general views on the allocation of necessaries of life together with the same data.

In that case, the above estimate of the total number of workers by industries shall be made on the basis of classification of factories and working places into industries determined previously after consultation with the Ministries in charge of the industries concerned.

2. The E.S.B. shall coordinate the materials as mentioned in the preceding paragraph and decide the allocation by industries or specifying factories, working places, etc. as object of distribution.

The above decision of the allocation shall be made as follows on the basis of the contents of the materials and opinions submitted:

(a) Consultation with the Ministries in charge of industries concerned and the Ministry of Labor shall be made previously with regard to the general industries.

(b) Consultation with the Ministries in charge of industries concerned shall be made previously with regard to industries other than the general industries. Prior to the final determination of the allocation, the E.S.B. shall, as a rule, consult the Central Council for the Distribution of Goods to Workers set up within the E.S.B.

3. On the basis of this decision, the E.S.B. shall give directions to the Ministries in charge of the allocation and distribution of goods concerned (hereinafter called the central distribution office) on the execution of the allocation by industries or by areas or specifying factories, working places as object of distribution and concurrently notify this decision to the local E.S.B. offices, Central Government Offices in charge of industries and the Ministry of Labor.

II. The function of the Central Distribution Offices

The central distribution offices shall determine quarterly central operational programs proportionate to the supply on the basis of the basic program determined by the E.S.B. in accordance with the provisions as laid down in each of the following paragraphs.

The said operational program shall be determined by the areas under jurisdiction of the local distribution office (hereinafter called local distribution office) indicated by the Central Distribution Office, as occasion demands, after subclassification of industries. But, if necessary, the object of distribution shall be determined for specified factories, working places, etc.:

1. The central distribution office shall have respectively the central government office in charge of the industries and the Ministry of Labor, submit materials necessary for the above determination of the matters as enumerated in (1) of I prior to the determination.

2. The central distribution office shall coordinate the materials as mentioned in the preceding paragraph, and determine the operational program of allocation by areas or by specifying as object of distribution specified factories, working places, etc.

The above determination shall be made in a manner similar to (2) of I as follows:

(a) Consulation with the central government offices in charge of the industries concerned and the Ministry of Labor shall be made previously with regard to the general industries, and,

(b) Consultation with the central government offices in charge of the industries concerned shall be made previously with regard to other industries other than the general industries.

3. The central distribution office shall, in accordance with the said operative plan, direct the local distribution offices to make the allocation by factories or working places or by subdivided administrative areas and by workers and concurrently, without delay, report its determination to the E.S.B., and notify the same to the central government offices in charge of the industries concerned and the Ministry of Labor.

III. The function of the local distribution office

The local distribution office shall, in accordance with each of the following paragraphs, make the allocation by factories and working places, by sub-divided administrative areas, and by workers on the basis of the operational program determined, by the central distribution office, and shall issue ration evidences to workers through the ration evidence delivering agencies (purchasing coupon, purchasing book, etc.) as mentioned in the third column of the attached table (hereinafter called as ticket delivering agency):

1. The allocation by factories and working places and by sub-divided administrative areas.

(1) The local distribution office shall have the local offices in charge of the industries concerned and the prefectural labor standard offices submit the materials necessary for the determination of the allocation concerning, among others, the total number of workers by industries, number of recipients of distribution and the estimated and actual working days and others in a manner similar to that of (1) of I above.

(2) The local distribution office shall coordinate the materials as mentioned in the preceding paragraph and determine the allocation.

The above determination shall be made in a manner similar to (1) of 1 above as follows:

(a) Consultation with the local office in charge of the industries concerned and the prefectural labor standard office shall be made with regard to the general industries and,

(b) Consultation with the local offices in charge of the industries concerned shall be made with regard to industries other than the general industries.

The Local Council for the Distribution of Goods to Workers shall be set up in the prefectural labour standard office. In the said council, the government offices concerned and organizations concerned shall confer on the total number of workers by industries, number of recipients of distribution and actual results of labour, ration evidence delivering procedure, investigation methods of the actual condition of receipt and distribution and measures to prevent illicit receipts and distribution and will present other necessary views on aforesaid matters to the local distribution office.

2. The allocation by workers.

(1) In order to certify the qualification of recipients, quantity, or standard of the distribution thereto necessary for the determination of the allocation, the local distribution office shall have the ticket delivering agencies take the following measures:

(a) In the case of workers coming under the link distribution system, it depends upon the notification issued by the appointed agencies where the fulfillment of the conditions for link distribution is to be confirmed.

(b) In other cases, it depends upon the documents showing that persons are qualified for the distribution concerned such as the list of workers, pay-roll, certificates for wage payment, etc.

(2) In the case of the allocation of total distribution by factories and working places, the local distribution office shall have the ticket delivering agency certify, after consultation with labour and management of the factory or working-place concerned and after examination thereof, the percentage allocation of distribution to workers by types of work, distribution priority order and other standards for distribution by each factory or working place.

(3) Taking into account the actual circumstances bearing on the distribution of goods concerned such as condition of shipments of goods, the local distribution office shall give directions necessary for the operation of distribution to the ticket delivering agencies concerning the time for the delivery of ration evidence, the receivers of the ration evidences and other matters and have them issue ration evidences.

(4) The local distribution office shall make effort not only to make clear the classification of factories and working places into industries as mentioned in (b), (1), of I above, but also to be constantly well informed of the actual conditions in the distribution of goods and do its best to prevent and remedy the illicit receipt and distribution such as double receipt of distribution, "ghost population", etc.

For this purpose, the Local Labour Standard Inspection Office or other ticket delivering agencies shall, at any time, investigate the actual distribution at factories and working-places.

The distribution recipient workers by factories and working places shall report on the actual receipts of goods to the local distribution office through the local labour standard inspection office and other ticket delivering agencies.

The local distribution offices and ticket delivering agencies shall report to the higher offices respectively on the actual distribution and the actual delivery of ration evidence in the unification form specified later, and keep necessary recording book in goods order.

IV. The allocation under this procedure will be put into effect, as a rule, as from July 1, 1948.

JUDGEMENT

Judgement of the New Trial

The following sentence of "not guilty" has been delivered to the final judgement against the suspect, NUKUI, Chizuo, with the charge of stealing goods, as a result of the re-examination of the Court.

(Supreme Court)

Permanent Address: No. 32, Uegahara, Imakita, Amagasaki-shi.
Present Address: The same as Permanent Address.
Applicant for a New Trial: Chizuo Nukui, 23 years old, without a regular occupation.

In accordance with determination to open a new trial for the above applicant on September 19, 1947, Procurator Yasuhide Komura trying the case, this Court has judged him as follows:

Text of Decision

The applicant for a new trial is innocent.

Reason

According the conclusion of the original decision, the applicant for a new trial who was on the way to purchase rice and fresh fishes in the direction of Tottori, stole one rucksack in which ten bicycle tyres, seven pairs of canvas shoes and two pairs of rubber-soled socks contained, and which both Taketoshi Tsuda (No. 734, Tsumori-cho, Nishinari-ku, Osaka-shi) and Takeshi Kodera (No. 22, 1-chome, Toosatokomachi, Sakai-shi) possessed, when the train in which they get was ready to stop at Kinosaki Station, on the San-in Line, about 1 p.m. May 1, 1947.

On the contrary, from what the applicant for a new trial stated at this Court, it was not he who stole the abovementioned thing, but his companion, Koichi Teraoka. Namely his statement was as follows;—when the train arrived at Kinosaki Station, to his great surprise, his companion Teraoka touched the abovementioned thing, but he (the applicant) could not keep him (Teraoka) from stop to steal it, and in that condition getting off the train with him and the other companion, Masakazu Takahashi and others, they went to the wicket. Then, as he felt the victim of robbery overtook them, he adviced Teraoka to cast away the rucksack on the platform. When they went through the wicket, it seemed that the baggage was brought by a station employee to the office-room, and because Teraoka and others assumed that he still covetted the thing, the applicant felt he was responsible for his act. Therefore going to the office-room to take it back, he was suspected of a crime violating economic ordinance by a police-man who happened to be there, and had come to be examined. By and by the victim appeared there, then he stated as if he stole it himself.—

Ever since at the Court he has not changed such statement as above. The reason why he did not say the actual facts of the case was that he earnestly feared to bring trouble upon Teraoka, his intimate friend. This explanation agrees nearly with the statement of the witnesses, Koichi Teraoka and Masakazu Takahashi at the second trial of the Court. It is considered that either Teraoka or Takahashi has stolen the thing, or that Teraoka has done in concert with Takahashi, nevertheless there is no evidence showing that the applicant for a new trial has taken part in theft. Indeed, there is some cause which he has been fallen under suspicion from the view-point that he advised Teraoka to cast away the rucksack and still went to the office-room to take it back. But even this can be explained as his statement.

After all, I cannot but conclude no proof about this case of crime. So that I have judged him as the Text of Decision.

February 23, 1948.
