NPR PROGRAM
SUMMARY OF PROGRAMS - CENTRAL PROCUREMENT PROGRAM

COMMUNICATION SEGMENT
DURING THE FIRST YEAR OF NPR

I. During the first year of NPR, central procurement consisted of procuring those items listed on the budgets for the JFY 50-51, and some items on the JFY budget for 51-52. Procurement specifications for each item were made by NPR GG Hqs and contracts let for a major portion of these items. Certain T/E items have been contracted for and delivered, among these are Radio Sets SCR-300, Reel Units RL-31, Switchboards TC-4, Switchboards TC-12, Switchboards BD-71 and 72 and Emergency Switchboards SB-18.

II. a. List of documents:

Procurement specifications

Budget estimates.

b. List of completed projects:

Budget estimate for JFY 50-51 and procurement specifications for all items on it

Budget estimate for JFY 51-52 and procurement specifications for all items on the 1st qtr of it.

c. List of projects in process of accomplishment at the end of the first year:

Budget estimate for JFY 52-53 and procurement specifications.

Specifications for the remaining part of the JFY budget 51-52.

Specifications for the items on the supplemental budget.

III. a. Graph showing T/E equipment versus items delivered.

NPR PROGRAM
SUMMARY OF PROGRESS - SUPPLY PROGRAM

COMMUNICATION SEGMENT
DURING FIRST YEAR OF NPR

I. During the first year of NPR, the problem of supply was to store and issue those items of T/E equipment that were procured under current budgets. The amount of equipment that was procured was only a minor amount of the complete T/E. Of those items that were procured and turned over to Supply for storage and issue, the majority has been issued with very little left in stock. The problem of instituting a supply program has been hampered by a lack of directives on supply procedure for NPR. This will be overcome in the future with publication of said directives.

II. a. Not applicable.

b. List of completed projects:

Issue of 300 ea Radio Sets SCR-300 to NPR units.

Storage of items produced on the Japanese market that are not to be issued yet.

c. List of major projects in process of accomplishment at end of the first year:

Establishment of Signal Depot at Tachikawa.

Publication of supply directives.

III. Not applicable at this time

NPR PROGRAMS
SUMMARY OF PROGRAMS - TRAINING PROGRAM

SOMMUNICATION SEGMENT
DURING FIRST YEAR OF NPR

I. The first year of NPR produced the problem of few if any trained communication specialists. This required the establishment of communication schools in addition to unit training in order to produce required specialists. Training for NPR units has been given thru the basic and specialist phases, with the team and unit phases starting in the fall of 51. Training in the units, for specialists, has been extremely limited due to the shortage of T/E equipment. Training at the schools has consisted of mainly training instructors for use in the T/O units in wire and radio communication.

III. a. List of documents:

Translation of the following Manuals (not distribution) has been accomplished:

FM 7-24 Communication in the Infantry Regiment
FM 11-5 Mission, Functions and Signal Communications in General
FM-24-5 Signal Communication
FM 24-6 Radio Operator
FM 24-16 Signal Orders, Records and Reports
FM 24-17 Signal Center and Message Center Procedure
FM 24-18 Radio Communication
FM 24-20 Field Wire Technique
TM 11-455 Fundementals of Radio

Course Outlines for the following courses completed:

Wire Chiefs Course
Basic Radio and Maintenance Course
Basic Field Wire Course

b. List of completed projects.

See par a.

c. List of major projects in process of accomplishment at end of first year:

Long range training program for communication specialists that will produce T/O requirements for specialists that cannot be trained in units.

Production of Graphic Training Aids for use at the GG School Center and in tactical units.

Translation of additional Field and Technical Manuals.

III. None available at this time.

NPR PROGRAM
CIVILIAN PERSONNEL PROGRAM - SUMMARY OF PROGRESS

COMMUNICATION SEGMENT
DURING THE FIRST YEAR OF NPR

I. Not applicable to Communications during this year

NPR PROGRAMS

SUMMARY OF PROGRESS - POLICE OFFICIALS PROGRAM

COMMUNICATION SEGMENT
DURING THE FIRST YEAR OF NPR

I. During this first year, an attempt was made to produce sufficient qualified Communications Officers to fill T/E requirements of NPR. The initial allottment not being sufficient, branch immaterial officers were taken and given training at the General Group School Center in basic communication. This met the immediate requirements for the tactical units in most cases. Certain graduates of these courses were taken from the school and put on temporary duty with GG Hqs for additional training in staff work.

II. a. Not applicable.

b. Officer personnel trained to complete requirements (T/E) for tactical units.

c. Major projects in this subject are limited to training additional officers is specialties, and thr procurement of field grade officers for staff and command functions.

III. Not applicable at this time.

NPR PROGRAMS

SUMMARY OF PROGRESS- FINACIAL PROGRAM

COMMUNICATION SEGMENT
DURING FIRST YEAR OF NPR

I. During the first year of NPRJ, progress was made in the preparation of budget estimates for the JFY year 50-51, JFY 51-52, and a supplemental budget for the JFY 51-52. The budgets were primarily used to procure T/E equipment plus a small amount of additional communications equipment for fixed plant use.

The monetary value of the budgets are as listed below:

| | |
|---|---|
| Budget for 50-51 | ¥ 265,781,000 |
| Budget for 51-52 | ¥ 884,332,000 |
| Sup Budget for 51-52 | ¥ 4,152,450,194 |

II. Documents that were prepared:

a. Budget estimates for JFY 50-51, JFY 51-52, and Supplemetal budget for JFY 51-52. Procurement Specifications for items on the JFY 50-51 and JFY 51-52 budgets prepared.

b. Procurement Specifications for the JFY budget 50-51 completed, and the procurement specifications for the 1st qtr of the 51-52 budget completed.

c. Major projects in process of accomplishment:

Budget estimate for the JFY 52-53

Procurement Specifications for the remaining part of the 51-52 budget, the supplemental budget, and the 52-53 budget.

III. Not applicable at this time.

NPR PROGRAM
SUMMARY OF PROGRAMS - TECH SERVISE PROGRAM

COMMUNICATION SEGMENT
DURING THE FIRST YEAR OF NPR

I. The tech service program for NPR during the first year consisted of producing equipment specifications for manufacturers. This was done by written specifications and whenever possible samples of these items were loaned to Japanese manufacturers producing equipment.

II. Not applicable.

b. List of completed projects.

Procurement specifications for a major portion of T/E equipment.

c. List of major projects in process of accomplishment at the end of the first year:

Establishment of a central repair depot at Tachikawa.

Stockpiling of spare parts and expendable items.

III. Not applicable.

NPR PROGRAMS

SUMMARY OF PROGRAMS - FOREIGN SUPPORT PROGRAM

COMMUNICATION SEGMENT
DURING THE FIRST YEAR OF NPR

I. During the first year of NPR, foreign support was limited in the communications field. Assistance was given in the field of samples of equipment and technical assistance from Signal Corps personnel. Plans were made to equip NPR units with signal equipment that could not be produced on the Japanese market in a short period of time.

II. List of documents: not applicable.

b. List of completed projects:

Samples of equipment procured for manufacturers.

The following types of equipment borrowed from US sources for training purposes:

Radio Sets SCR-300, SCR-536, and SCR-610
Switchboards BD-71, TC-12, Telephones EE-8 and certain wire laying equipment.

c. List of major projects in process of accomplishment at the end of the first year:

a. The following radio sets will be procured from US sources:

Radio Sets SCR-177, SCR-193, SCR-399, SCR-508, SCR-510, SCR-528 SCR-608, SCR-610 and Radio Terminal Sets AN/TRC-3

Certain amounts of this equipment is authorized for issue to NPR on a loan basis at this time. This will be drawn and issued during the latter part of the year 1951.

III. Not applicable at this time.

NPR PROGRAM
SUMMARY OF PROGRAM - RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

COMMUNICATION SEGMENT
DURING THE FIRST YEAR OF NPR

I. The research and development program for communications during the first year of NPR consisted of plans for research and development laboratories. Nothing concrete has yet been decided upon, but during the next year, it is hoped that a concrete plan will be implemented in order to assist the Japanese manufacturers in their production of communications equipment for NPR.

1. Field wire W-110B is being procured and will be distributed to camps as shown in paragraph 5 below.

2. This wire is combat unserviceable and is principally for training purposes. The insulation is such that it should be used with one twisted pair for each side of the circuit in connection with any semi permanent use. It is recommended that it be not used for power.

3. In addition to communications training, it may be possible to use this wire to simulate barbed wire in the teaching of wire entanglements, double apron, barricades, etc.

4. Precautions must be taken that none of this wire gets into the hands of U. S. military forces nor the hands of any other personnel for whom the U. S. Army has supply responsibility for this type material.

5. Wire is stored in the following camps in quantities shown below in numbers of Reels: Reel DR4 carries ½ mile each and Reel DR5, 1 mile each.

1. The following memorandum has been received from the Secretary of Defense:

"The President, at a meeting of the National Security Council, made the following statement:

'Public disclosure of classified information regarding this Government's national security policies and plans in these critical times has become so flagrant in recent weeks that I feel compelled to bring this matter to your attention at this meeting. I have in mind particularly recent disclosures in the press and radio of highly classified atomic energy information and TOP SECRET data * * * *. It is inconceivable to me that any loyal Government employee would make such information available to representatives of the press * * *. I desire that each of you take all practicable steps within your respective departments and agencies to prevent further disclosures of classified information, particularly during this period of national emergency when our security is at stake. I am particularly anxious that every Government employee having access to classified information realize his personal responsibility to his country for preventing the unauthorized disclosure of such information, through the press or otherwise.'

"It is desired that you take appropriate and immediate implementing action to insure that such violations do not occur within the Department of Defense, and that every Government employee having access to classified information is made to realize his responsibilities in this matter."

1. The rapid development of the National Police Reserve throughout Japan and the absence of National Police Reserve officials for command purposes have necessitated, in the past, a requirement for Civil Affairs Section Annex - Regional and Camp Cadre Commanders to exercise a direct supervision over the commitment and expenditure of Japanese Government funds made available for NPR purposes.

2. In view of the appointment and assignment of officer personnel throughout the NPR, and the subsequent orientation period during which they have served, it is believed appropriate that this direct supervision by Occupation officials over funds be discontinued. Full responsibility for the proper utilization, commitment and accounting for Japanese Government funds entrusted to the National Police Reserve, accordingly, should now rest with the appropriate officials of the NPR. It is directed that action be taken to notify all Japanese commanders and CASA advisors that full responsibility and accountability for NPR funds, in the future, will rest with the National Police Reserve officials to whom funds are entrusted. This policy will become effective 10 February 1951.

3. Assumption of this full responsibility by Japanese NPR officials does not relieve American officers of the responsibility of advising NPR officials in regard to the intended or actual use of Japanese funds entrusted to them. Advisory responsibility and policy guidance in this area continues, particularly where relatively large expenditures of funds are intended and where any major rehabilitation or new construction is involved. Frequent daily contact between Occupation advisors and the Japanese commanders at all levels is most important in this respect. However, the strict prior concurrence, to include initials or signatures by American officers on procurement or payment documents relative the commitment or expenditure of Japanese funds, will be discontinued.

1. The purpose of this letter is to enunciate the policy of this Section in providing guidance to the Japanese National Police Reserve at all levels. Section policy relative to NPR matters is disseminated through:

a. English copies of NPR policy documents concurred in by this Section and issued by General Group Headquarters.

b. Communications, directives, etc. prepared by this Section and transmitted to U. S. Advisers through U. S. channels.

2. Following are principles which will be adhered to by all Advisory personnel:

a. U. S. Army Advisory personnel are not in command of elements of the NPR.

b. NPR personnel will be accorded the same consideration as U. S. personnel.

c. Vigorous and solicitous advice will be given to NPR Commanders by Senior U. S. Advisers at Camps, Region and Service Group Headquarters, where necessary, to accomplish a known policy of this Section or to bring to their attention any deficiencies or irregularities which are counter to the best interests of the NPR. To augment the Advisory relationship, advice will include sufficient explanatory detail as to purpose and expected results to permit a clear understanding, unqualified acceptance and thorough implementation by NPR Commanders.

d. It will always be considered that the exercise of command by NPR Commanders will vary with individuals. Inconsequential variations from the command actions which U. S. Advisers would take in similar situations will not be made an issue as long as the desired results are accomplished without any appreciable loss of efficiency, effectiveness, or economy.

e. Corrective advice will habitually be given at the highest appropriate (normally the highest) NPR Command level in Camp, Region and Service Group Headquarters, not at the sergeant-patrolman or small unit level.

f. When advice of Senior Camp Adviser, known to be in accordance with policy of this Section, is not accepted by the NPR Camp Commander, that fact will be reported to the Region or Service Group Senior Adviser.

g. When advice of the Region or Service Group Senior Adviser is not followed by NPR Region or Service Group Commander, this Section will be notified.

h. Region and Service Group Senior Advisers will periodically inspect and critique the advisory techniques of their subordinate U. S. Advisers.

i. A U.S. Adviser who is continually referring matters (paragraphs f and g, above) to higher authority will re-examine his advisory techniques and relationship with his counterpart, and take corrective action.

3. Nothing in this directive should be construed as limiting timely and appropriate assistance to be rendered by Advisory personnel at all levels.

TRAINING MEMORANDUM
NUMBER 13

13 December 1951

ON-THE-JOB TRAINING OF TECHNICAL SPECIALISTS, NPRJ

1. General.

a. The purpose of this memorandum is to provide on-the-job specialist training for personnel of the National Police Reserve Japan in installations or units of Japan Logistical Command. This memorandum authorizes only the on-the-job training of specialists in the MOS assignments specified in Inclosure 1, and does not constitute authority for training other components of the National Police Reserve Japan. Additional courses which may be required will be made the subject of additional directives.

b. NPRJ personnel are to be allocated to various installations of Japan Logistical Command, in numbers and MOS's as listed in Inclosure 1. They will be attached to skilled personnel as apprentices, learn the necessary skills required by their MOS by observation and practical work, then return to their units.

2. Mission of Japan Logistical Command.

a. Designate facilities, equipment, individual craftsmen and instructors to be utilized in the training of NPRJ personnel as specialists, in accordance with paragraph 1b.

b. In coordination with Civil Affairs Section, SCAP, supervise the on-the-job training of technical specialists of the NPRJ.

3. Tasks for Staff Sections and Installation Commanders:

a. Section chiefs will, in coordination with Civil Affairs Section:

(1) Determine installations to be utilized.

(2) Allocate appropriate numbers of trainees to each installation.

(3) Determine appropriate standards of performance for each type of specialty.

(5) Announce a specific time period for each course of instruction.

b. Installation Commanders will:

(1) Designate specific facilities and equipment to be utilized.

(2) Organize their skilled employees (Army, DAC and indigenous) to instruct personnel of the NPRJ as apprentices.

(3) Conduct on-the-job training of NPRJ personnel with a minimum interference with the operational mission.

(4) Where possible, conduct schools and formal instruction.

(5) Assign a variety of tasks to insure development of multiple skills.

(6) In coordination with representatives of Civil Affairs Section, SCAP, insure appropriate standards of performance by each trainee.

(7) Ensure completion of rating sheets for each trainee.

(8) Arrange for the relief and replacement of trainees who fail to demonstrate ability to profit by instruction

x. Starting date will be on or about 7 January 1952.

4. Administrative Matters.

a. Personnel. No additional personnel will be authorized for the accomplishment of this plan.

b. Quarters, Rations, Administration and Transportation. Furnished by NPRJ under supervision of Civil Affairs Section, SCAP.
