MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF NEW-ORLEANS.

Sitting of Saturday, 22d Nov. 1834.

Present, Messrs. Hyde, McCrindle, Dixon, Labatut, Pedesclaux, Mercier, Caldwell, Bermudez, and Montegut.

The minutes of the last sitting being read, together with the documents laid from the Mayor:

MAYORALTY OF NEW ORLEANS,
22d November, 1834.

To the President and Members of the City Council of New Orleans.

GENTLEMEN,—I have seen with great pleasure, the glorious disposition which you have taken to co-operate in the prosperity of that charitable establishment, the Orphans' Asylum, and I hasten to approve your resolution of the 5th of this month, by which you increase to $1000, the $500 which you accorded by a preceding ordinance.

I think it my duty to return, in order that you may remember it, your resolution which follows the one above spoken of. By this latter resolution, you appropriate to the same institution, the one half of the net proceeds of the fines recovered by the city. Although I am the guardian, provisional with tutelage of benevolence which have prompted you, I take the liberty, after having duly reflected upon the subject, to observe to you that by the article 7 of your ordinance of the 5th instant, and which proceeds 24th now consequently in a few days, you have already fifty per centum upon the product of the net amount of the fines that they have recovered; and that it would be exaggerated, perhaps, for so noble an expression of the heart. I should add, further, that the revenue that may be derived by the great quantity of fines pronounced by the ordinance in cases of infractions, are uncertain very—it is fixed, not very large sums; I add, in addition, that, if upon these fines we must suffice to pay the costs of prosecution and other expenses.

The contract which was to have been passed and signed by me in the name of the city corporation, and between me and the Police Jury of the Parish of Orleans, relative to the construction of the new prisons, is ready to receive the signature of the parties; but I think it my duty before signing it, to propose to you a clause which has been suggested by the Notary for the Corporation, and which seems to be fit to be inserted, by which it is stipulated that as soon as the buildings have reached to a certain degree of advancement, that fifty may be entertained for its safety from fire, the Mayor of the city be authorised to have it insured, at the cost of the Corporation and of the Parish of Orleans; and that the clause, likewise, express, that be be authorised each year, and for a time as long as the Corporation of the city and the parish of Orleans have a mutual interest. In this case, the Mayor will convoke the Jury of Police, in order that they may pass a resolution to this effect.

I present to the approbation of the Council, Mr. J. B. Langes as security for Mr. Lange, who has been appointed Wharfinger, in accordance with the ordinance of the 8th of the present month.

I transmit to revision, Mr. Louis Marrant, as keeper of the Powder Magazine, and Mr. Agenor Bosque, as his servant.

5. The adjudication of the divers branches of revenue of the city, is announced for the first Monday, first day of December next. It will be essential, I think, for the Council to fix in their sitting of to-day, the minimum of these different farmings, to wit:

1st. That of the revenue of the Meat Market, of the square of the city.

2d do. That of the Market in the Faubourg St. Mary.

3d do. The Vegetable Market.

4th do. The duties of the Levee on Pirogues.

5th do. The leasing-farms of free stores, No. 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, attached to the engine house.

The price which the city has derived from these leases during the year, which expires the 31st of Dec. next, is as follows:

To wit: 1st, Meat Market, $31,500
2d, St. Mary's Market, 10,250
3d, Vegetable Market, 14,300
4th, Farming on Pirogues, 1,263
5th, Stores of the Fire Establishment, 2,304

To wit: No. 1, $200 per month; No. 2, $77 per month; No. 4, $30 per month, and No. 5, $35 per month, likewise.

I inform you that to-day, conformable to public notice, the farming of the Levee duties upon crafts, flat boats and steam boats, has been adjudicated to Mr. Edward Magnier, who offers for his security, or rather his indemnitor, Mr. J. B. Pailly.

The amount of the adjudication, is $1,985.

Relative to the price of the stores of the fire establishment, it is proper that I should remark, that it is fitting that the minimum be fixed lower than formerly, on account of the number of houses building upon the lots sold in the Faubourg.

I have the honor to salute you, respectfully,

D. PRIEUR, Mayor.

Mr. Pedesclaux moved that upon the first person of the mayoralty, the council do persist. He said that the Judges of the Peace were not sufficiently vigilant, and that the surveillance of the members of that philanthropic society, would render the recovery of these fines much easier.

Mr. Montegut opposed this motion. We have accorded to this society its demand. I do not think it necessary that we should go further. If this society addressed to us another petition, we can always give them relief; but I do not think we should bestow upon them the half of an immense revenue. According to the estimate of Mr. Montreuil, there was more than $29,000 in suit, of which a great portion had been recovered. I think we accord them too much in giving them one quarter of that sum.

Mr. Mercier said, Mr. President, there are things that surpass my information. The mayor says to us on one side that the amount of the fines collected barely suffice to meet the costs for instituting suits, and on the other hand the honorable member says that it would be according them a revenue too considerable. Although I put my mind to the torture I cannot understand this contradiction. The truth is, there have been many suits instituted, but which have been neglected. If we had a surveillance so diligent as the members of the orphan asylum, we would not see so many suits suspended or resting upon our dockets; the costs would be paid, and there would remain besides a sum sufficient to support the society, of which question is now made.

Mr. Bermudez opposed the motion of the gentleman from the 3d ward, because he shot that the directors of the society did not meet the distinction of playing the part of spies, and that besides, they had not the right to institute actions of the kind, before the judges of the city courts; that, was the purpose of the complainants. He considered the resolution inopportune.

Mr. McCrindle said, if it was desired to accord any sum, let it be of what amount it might, to this society, it should be done in quite a different manner. It was paying no compliment to the directors to render the places a spying employment. According to his views, he thought it better to accord to them a fixed revenue; and in conclusion (said the hon. member) it would be making the orphans drink a bitter draught when they remembered that it was with such revenue that they were raised.

Mr. Pedesclaux observed to the hon. member that he was mistaken; that his intention was not to make the directors of the society spies who would stop all the carts at the corners of the streets, but he thought that in granting them a portion of this revenue, the judges of the peace would pay more attention to those suits, for as soon as they would have an interest in seeing them terminated, they would go to court to receive the amount, and hence in working for the interests of the orphans' asylum, they would be working for that of the city.

Dr. McFarlane seconded with the views of the member from the 6th ward, Mr. Caldwell. He thought it would be an insult to the directors of the asylum to invest them with the duties proposed.

The roll-call being called, it appeared that Messrs. Pedesclaux, Labatut and Mercier had voted for the adoption of the motion to pass, and that Messrs. Montegut, Caldwell, McCrindle, McFarlane, Hyde, Dixon and Bermudez had voted against it.

Upon the second item of the mayor's letter, Mr. Montegut proved that in accordance with the mayor's recommendation, the new prisons be founded,—adopted.

Upon motion, Messrs. Montegut and Labatut were received as sureties of Messrs. Lange.

The council proceeded to the election of a sergeant-at-arms. Mr. Mouliant was duly elected.

Upon the 5th part of the Mayor's letter, Mr. Pedesclaux proved that the council do sit with closed doors—adopted.

The doors being opened, Mr. Edmond Madore was likewise received as his security.

3 local private resolutions were then read and referred.

Mr. McCrindle introduced the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Mayor be and he is hereby authorized to cause to be made in stone by contract, the causeways and gutters at the corner of Julia and Front streets in Camp street, at the shortest delay possible.

Mr. Bermudez demanded the order of the day upon the continuance treating on engineer department—accorded.

The secretary read the said ordinance.

Mr. Pedesclaux moved that it be adopted section by section.

Art. 1st. The mayor shall nominate with the advice and consent of the city council, and shall commission an engineer for the city of New Orleans, who shall, before entering upon his duties, take an oath before the Mayor to fulfil his duties with impartiality, fidelity and exactitude.

Mr. Montegut moved to add to, embrace the following words: "And that he shall be elected every first day of May."

Mr. McCrindle presented in the form of a substitute an ordinance which he had prepared upon the same subject.

Mr. Pedesclaux said, that he was altogether surprised at the motion of the member from the 6th ward, saying that the ordinance which he presented, was precisely the same which had been presented by the committee.

Mr. Labatut said, that he desired not but that the hon. member in his good intentions, had made a better mark than that of the committee, but that, at least, it should be known. The report happy to have been printed and laid on the table of the day, and he found it surprising that an old and another was substituted in his place of which they had no time. Mr. Labatut said, that he desired not but that the hon. member in his good intentions, had made a better mark than that of the committee, but that, at least, it should be known. The report happy to have been printed and laid on the table of the day, and he found it surprising that an old and another was substituted in his place of which they had no time. The printed, at least, should have been received; but I feel confident before hand, that these remarks will have no effect, as there is a majority in the council to support the ordinance. I, however, notwithstanding, I declare to the council that for myself, I find it impossible to form an opinion upon a question that has been presented for the first time before the council.

The question was put to vote, and the first section, conceived in these words, was adopted:

It is ordained by the city council of New Orleans:

"Art. 1st. There shall annually be raised by the Mayor, by and with the advice and consent of the city council, an officer who shall be an engineer, and shall be designated by the name of commissary of the streets of the city of New Orleans, and that before entering into a discharge of his duties, he shall take an oath before the mayor faithfully to fulfill all the duties attached to his office, and to do no work for individuals or for public corporations."

The ayes and nays having been called, it appeared that Messrs. Hyde, McCrindle, Dixon, Caldwell, McCrindle, and Bermudez voted for the adoption, and that Messrs Pedesclaux, Mercier, Labatut and Montegut had voted for the rejection.

Mr. McCrindle then read his substitute, and proposed the same made the order of the day for the next sitting.

Mr. Bermudez said, that this seemed to him useless, that, in truth, he wished at the commencement that the measure had to be pursued; but since, it all events, it was intended to adopt the substitute, it might be done. He would do nothing more, but conceived that it was impossible to change the opinions of the members.

Mr. McCrindle's substitute was adopted in toto. The ayes and nays were the same as upon the previous question.

Upon motion of Mr. Bermudez, the ordinance creating an Engineer Department, was referred to him.

Upon motion of Mr. Pedesclaux, the resolution made the order of the day in this sitting, to diminish the net tax relief, was called. He said that it was time to diminish the abuse; that the first year, $6000 was given; the second, $3000; and that, according to this manner, this year, it would be from $29,000 to $30,000.

Mr. Hyde proposed to fix the maximum of what a member might grant to $100 instead of $250 per month.

Mr. Mercier proposed a sub-amendment in effect according only $50 to the two members of the 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th wards, and $100 to the members from the other wards.

Mr. Mercier explained his views in submitting this amendment to the one proposed by the gentleman from the first ward, in a succinct and clear manner.

A discussion then took place, in which Messrs. Labatut, Pedesclaux and McCrindle took part, when

Mr. Bermudez proposed a substitute in effect nominating a committee to visit the lists of relief of the different members and to assure themselves by actual inspection, whether the persons merited the assistance of the council.

Mr. Mercier, in answer to this said, that the members had their private messengers to attend to, and that it would be impossible for them to run about the city to know whether this or that person merited assistance or not. He asked the member from the 4th ward, whether he would leave his office to go to the extremity of the city to know whether this person was blind, or whether another was lame. The substitute appeared to him to be ridiculous.

Mr. Labatut added, that it was unnecessary to name a committee, as the most of committees did nothing. He cited for example, the committee of Petitions, to which he belonged, and to whom no matter had been referred.

Mr. Bermudez defended the substitute which he had introduced, and recommended its adoption.

The question being taken, Mr. Bermudez's substitute prevailed.

The Recorder named Messrs. Bermudez, Dixon and Hyde, to form said committee.

The Recorder named Dr. McFarlane upon the committee of Claims, in the place of Mr. Pritchard.

On motion of Mr. Dixon the council adjourned to Saturday.

NEW WORKS.

Belgain and western Germany in 1833, by Mrs. Trollope Author of "Domestic manners in America," Wm McKean, Bookseller New Orleans

The authors has immortalised her by a work on American manners and customs, which for absurdity is scarcely surpassed by Baron Munchausen himself. Mrs. T. however writes well, her style is fine in America, had it been published previous to her "manners would have been read and admired, her Abbess is a novel of more merit, and altogether may be considered a "valuable book," but the fog created by her unfortunate tour completely obscured whatever may be contained in them. Throwing aside, however, all the natural prejudices, we have taken up her last work "Tour in Germany, and have read it with much gratification, Mrs. T. has been however more partial to the Dutch, and her familiar style, and domestic manners has made it a very interesting Journal, she seems to have a peculiar disposition to pay her red nose into kitchen and penetrate the arcanita of a "Stew pan, in fact her tour is a jumble of scandal-romance, eating, drinking—smoking—tacking—Travelling &c.

The only good thing is her "Manners, and the conclusion drawn from a perusal is that Mrs T. is an epicure to give her full justice, we must say that her book occasioned much amusement and if it failed in the instruction, it was for a want of faith in her descriptions for the person who can slander one country from no cause, certainly will not hesitate to do the same good turn to another. Her legends and imaginary incidents as connected with Grimas superstition as good, and from which we one day expect to see arise in all its gorgeous splendor a Trollopesque romance.
