PART I

ROSTER OF POSSIBLE CANDIDATES FOR NEXT GENERAL ELECTION (IN FOUR PARTS)

MAINICHI SHIMBUN(AM) 10-13 Dec 51 -- The political world has come to life since the latter part of the last special Diet session. The opinion is gaining ground that the present Cabinet has accomplished its mission with the conclusion of the peace treaty. The Government's recent failures over the decontrol of rice and the revision of the table of personnel organization laws have revealed that the political power of the Government has already reached its limit. Public opinion is now gradually coming to favor the stand that a general election should be held at the earliest possible date in order to bring new life into the political situation and to establish the structural foundation for independence. Speaker KAYASHI of the House of Representatives predicted that there would be a general election in May or June next year, immediately after the end of the regular Diet session. ONO Bamboku, a senior member of the Liberal Party, stated that next April should be the time for election. The same opinion was expressed by Secretary General ASANUMA of the Socialist Party. EX-politicians and bureaucrats, who, after six years, have been depurged, intend to run in the next general election and return to the political world. They have already begun canvassing their constituencies to compete with the incumbent Diet members. The new party movement is also a project which was started with the general election as the primary objective.

The following is the general outlook in the various constituencies throughout the country.

KANTO REGION

TOKYO

First District (4 seats): The Liberal Party will place six candidates, including two incumbents, IDE Mitsuji and NOMURA Sentaro; three depurgees, big boss HATOYAMA Ichiro (former), veteran ANDO Masazumi (former) and NAGANO Takaichi (former); and TAKAHASHI Shohachiro (new), runner-up in the last election. The Democratic Party will put up depurged former Diet members, NAKAJIMA Yadanji, KONAI Juji, TANOMOGI Shinroku and TAKAHASHI Yoshitsugu. For the Socialist Party, Rightist ASANUMA Inejiro (inc) and Leftist HARA Ryo (former) will fight alone. The question is which of the two will gain a bigger share of the 60,000 votes polled by the now-purged NOSAKA Sanzo who won the largest number of votes in the last election. As this is one of the most fiercely contested electoral districts in the country, unexpected results may follow.

Second District (3 seats): ITO Kenkichi (Com) having been purged, incumbents who will run as candidates are KIKUCHI Yoshiro (Lib) and MATSUOKA Komakichi (Soc R). Depurged OHASHI Seitaro (Dem, former), ex-Labor Minister KATO Kanju (Soc R) who ran in Aichi Prefecture last time, and UTSUNOMIYA Tokuma (Lib, new), runner-up in the last election, will come out as candidates. Former Toho Movie Company president WATANABE Tetsuzo (Lib, new) is likely to become a candidate.

Third District (3 seats): As TOKUDA Kyuichi was purged, there are two incumbents left, HIROKAWA Konen, Liberal Party General Affairs chairman, and SUZUKI Mosaburo, committee chairman of the Socialist Party Left. The Socialist Rightists will reportedly put up depurged MIWA Juso against SUZUKI, but he will probably run in the First District. It is rumored that NABEYAMA Sadachika will run in his place.

Fourth District (3 seats): The lineup of the Liberal Party includes, in addition to incumbents HANAMURA Shiro and TAKAGI Akira, depurgees MIKAMI Hideo (former) and OKAZAKI Hideki (new), ex-Home Ministry official, and ex-Attorney General UEDA Shunkichi (new). Against these conservatives plus depurgee HONMYO Shinjiro (Dem, former), the Communist Party and the Socialist Party will respectively run KAZAHAYA Yasoji (Com, inc) and last election runner-up KIKUKAWA Tadao (Soc R). ARAHATA Kanson (Ind, ex) is still undecided.

Fifth District (4 seats): As KAMIYAMA Shigeo (Com) was purged, there are three incumbents left, KATO Ryutaro (Lib), SUZUKI Sempachi (Lib), and ISHIDA Ichimatsu (Dem).
