POWER OF PLEASING

[illegible]

PAWNED EYES AND LEGS.

Novel Security Offered the Money Lender by Defective Men in Need of Funds.

Their right eyes. These are pledges that people often tender for loans at pawnbrokers'. "But, of course, it's only a joke," says B. Bank. Mr. Bank is a pawnbroker of many years' profits. He knows the difference between a pledge and a joke. That is, he generally knows, says the Minneapolis Journal.

"Once I didn't," he related the other day. "Once an old fellow came up to my counter when I was [illegible] in [illegible] and he said, 'What'll you let me have on this, Bank?' 'On what?' says I. 'Why, on my right eye.' [illegible] I [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] for [illegible]

[illegible]

CAUSES OF DISEASE.

Theories as to Origin of Sickness Are Numerous Enough to Give Everybody a Choice.

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

THE TUTTLE SUPPLY

[illegible]

[illegible] A POWER FELL

[illegible]