DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 775013

c. A great deal of the disorganization existing in Japanese local public welfare operations is due to not clearly defining those activities which are necessary to the accomplishment of the intent of the law and the accompanying forms, procedures, control and reporting devices. Some work has been done on this in this region, but it is necessary that the Ministry take leadership in reducing to routine all activities that logically are amenable to such treatment.

d. Paragraph 3a (2) of the study enclosed in basic letter indicates that those local public welfare offices with caseloads of less than 25 cases have not responded to attempts to improve them. As pointed out in a previous special report from this headquarters, the large number of such smaller offices militates against the adoption of modern, adequate practices in public welfare administration. It is recommended that the Ministry study this problem and indicate to the prefectures its desire that the problem also be studied at those levels. As long as the local public welfare caseload is too small to require and justify a competent full-time welfare officer, there will be no progress made in these smaller places.

e. There is considerable evidence to indicate that the removal of the Minsei-iin from the administrative process will not necessarily result in the need for a greatly expanded paid staff. Until such time as local office operations are functionally divided, as indicated in the Wakayama pattern, and routinization and rationalization of forms and procedures are achieved, a valid estimate cannot be made of the number of public officials that will be needed; and it is urged that the Ministry undertake the study of this question.

f. As a natural consequence of the functional division of activities being discussed, there inevitably arises the question of job description and responsibilities. This in turn impinges upon administrative supervision, and both can exist only in a personnel system which is geared to "merit principle". It is therefore recommended that the Ministry, as early as possible, clearly indicate to the prefectures that it is the Ministry's intention to work towards a merit system in public welfare administration, and that the Ministry encourage prefectures in any movement along these lines.

1. Promptly upon receipt of basic ommunication, the attached statement of Hanjutsu Ninomiya, (herein after discribed as the comptainant), was turned over to the Human Rights Committee of Hyogo Ken, as a matter within the purview of their interests.

2. They were requested to provide this office with a copy of their investigation for transmission to Hqs. I Corps.

3. The progress of their investigation included several conferences with the Legal Government Officer of this team.

4. This Committee has whole heartedly developed this investigation and it is believed that their report, which is forwarded herewith as compliance with Par. 2 basic communication, represents fair & impartial action on their part.

5. In an effort to further clarify the intent of the Committee, the following findings, as specifically determined by discussions with members, are set forth below:

a. That there is not sufficent evidence to justify submission of subject report to the procurator's office for prosecution of the Ikuta policemen involved, for flagrant mistreatment of the complainant.

b. That the complainant became involved in this investigation thru overt acts on his part, that justified a strong presumption on the part of the police, that the complainant know more concerning the theft of Post Exchange cameras, than he was willing to impart.

c. That any right of compensation from the public entity, accruing to the complainant, by reason of any injuries received by him, at the hands of police personnel, should, in any event, be limited to only nominal damages.

d. That, if it should be determined the public entity concerned is obligated to make compensations the amount of such determined compensation, should in no way bear any relationship to the value of the two cameras, properly confiscated from the complainant,-or to the amount of expenses the complainant paid to members of the Kyoto Korean Residents Association, who helped him.

e. That the complainant should look to Mr. Takeda for reimbursement of the purchase price of the Cameras. (Mr. Takeda is the vendor from whom the complainant alleges he purchased the cameras for ¥ 75000)

f. That it is the personal opinion of members of the Committee, that the police in all likelihood, used improper treatment on the complainant, in the course of their investigation of him for the theft of the cameras, but not to the extent of warranting an official reprimand for them on the basis of the evidence presented.

g. That, in spite of the fact that the report of the Human Rights Committee tends to recommend no official censure for the police personnel of the Ikuta Police Station, with respect to charges made by the complainant, they, the Committee members, are of the opinion that their Investigation has had & will continue to have, a salutary influence on police procedures in the Hyogo Prefecture.

6. The Legal Government Officer of this team concurs in the above findings and suggests that the complainant be advised of his rights as to desired redresses under Law #125 (27 Oct 1949) thru processed application to the proper Japanese Agencies.

7. It is recommended that Military Administration be concerned no further with this matter.

1. The tendency of many Koreans in Japan to accept subversive ideologies can be offset greatly if they are made to feel that they are an accepted part of the Japanese community, that they have essentially the same rights other than voting and holding public office and are eligible to receive the same assistance and benefits under Japanese laws as Japanese citizens. This can be accomplished by Japanese officials through an enlightened public welfare and educational approach.

2. Civil Affairs surveillance of public welfare and labor offices should be maintained with the aim of correcting any undesirable attitude or discrimination toward Koreans that may exist. Meetings should be encouraged between Japanese public welfare officials and responsible representatives of the Koreans to discuss the best ways and means of informing the Koreans of their rights.

3. Participation in the I Corps Adult Education Course by Koreans is suggested. I Corps is now working on a Korean translation and publication of the I Corps Adult Education Course in Democracy for the common man. The book should be available for use in late October.

1. The attached inclosures are copies (in English and Japanese) of a petition prepared by Shuichi Yanagida, mayor of Maizuru City, to the Local Autonomy Agency of the national government in Tokyo. The petition seeks financial relief for the city of Maizuru from the undue financial burden placed upon the city in discharging public safety responsibilities at Taira Repatriation Center. The petition offers strong factual data supporting the need for a careful study of the public safety problem at Taira.

2. The police problem at Taira has attracted the attention of occupation authorities, and has been the subject of conversations between Civil Affairs units and representatives of tactical forces stationed at Maizuru. Reference is made to letter, Headquarters 25th Infantry Division file AG 014.33 (A) subject: "Japanese Police at Maizuru Repatriation Center", dated 8 August 1949.

3. This headquarters recognizes the national aspects of the repatriation program and recommends that necessary adjustments be made to relieve the city of Maizuru, already in economic straits because of the reduction of the shipbuilding industry and consequent unemployment of its citizens, of the unjust burden. For this reason, it is further recommended that the attached petitions be forwarded to GHQ, SCAP for such consideration as they deem advisable.

Petition

To: Governor of the Board of Local Autonomy.
Chairman of the Local Autonomy Committee.
From: Shuichi Yanagida, Mayor of Maizuru City.
Date: 1 Aug., '49.

The repatriation of Japanese residents abroad has been commenced this year again through the kindness of the Occupation Forces and the earnest desire of the whole nation, though after much, complication with the Takasago Maru, the first ship of the first repatriation fleet which entered the port of Maizuru on June 27. The repatriates on board the ship and those on the other 3 vessels following put up at the Maizuru Repatriate Relief Board for 4 nights and went home to their native places. That the ships of the 2nd repatriation fleet have been coming home one after another is most gratifying to, all of us.

Needless to say, repatriation business is a most important and urgent state business of the day. In this city of Maizuru too, all the citizens are sparing nothing to help support this repatriation business. As for the guard in and out the Repatriate Relief Board we have received instructions from the Occupation Forces and are adopting a prundential policy by specially stationing our municipal police. In this connection we want to say, that the expenses for this special stationing since last year has become an unbearable, burden to the municipal finance which is in strained circumstances. In view of the special situation resulting from this state business or repatriation business, we have made representations to the authorities concerned so that they may take a special step to let us receive national subsidies. The Local Administration Committee of the House of Councillors has approved our wish and advised the Cabinet to realize it. As a matter of fact, however, this is not yet realized.

Apart from the subject, if we look at the repatriation condition of this year, we shall notice the fact that repatriates' way of thinking has undergone a great change and that there have appeared such persons as intend to take advantage of repatriates or to manuever in concert with them. The repatriates are giving incomprehensible feelings to those who come and see them or to their relatives. It is the actual state of affairs with them that they have been causing unusual atmosphere since the entrance of the first repatriation ship.

Against this, the Maizuru Municipal Police has stationed, in harmony with instructions of the Occupation Forces, much more policeman than last year on the guard in and out of the Repatriate Relief Board, having them settle various kinds of troubles among repatriates themselves. Our policemen are also preparing to protect or suppress the possible illegitimate interference from outside and are on strict watch for the theft of a great quantity of relief materials and also for incidents that may take place in repatriation ships. To prepare for the worst, 30 odd policemen are ordered to stand by in reserve all the time. There are also other policemen who are keeping strict watch at the entrance or inside of the station and in the streets as well. Thus we are adopting a most prudential policy. The amount of expenses for the above which we paid in the 1948 fiscal year or which is expected as necessary for the 1949 fiscal year is as follows: (Particulars are as stated in the accompanying document).

Incl #1

Amount already paid in the 1948 fiscal year	¥ 4,085,000
Amount necessary for the 1949 fiscal year	¥ 8,265,000
Total	¥12,350,000

This is too great an amount to be borne by Maizuru City's finance which is in strained circumstances. Be that as it may, we can never diminish our watch forces. Because if an unexpected accident which will frustrate this state business, or repatriation business, should take place, it would become a most serious problem not only to the city of Maizuru but also to the administration of the state. So we hope we shall be paid on this occasion sufficient national subsidies so that we may fulfil this important duty without any financial trouble.

We do hope you the authorities concerned will kindly take into consideration how awfully the finance of Maizuru City is endangered by the special circumstances following this state business and be good enough to take a special step to subsidize us for necessary expenses so that we may adopt a prudential policy in police guard.

This is why we took the liberty of making these representations.

SUBJECT: General Information of Interest to Public Welfare Officers

TO: See Distribution

Hereunder are extracts of two communications from SCAP pertaining to "right of appeal" under the Daily Life Security Law and "the cost of medical care" under Health Insurances. It is believed the extracts are self explanatory and will give you information of action being taken regarding these problems that might otherwise not have been available to your headquarters. Special attention is invited to the last paragraph of Extract I.

Extract I

Cost of Medical Care

The tremendous increase in cost of medical care under health insurances and Daily Life Security Law administration is of major concern. Statistical information from the Ministry of Welfare indicates that the basic cause is the increased utilization of the programs as represented by an increase in both the total number of people serviced and the frequency of visits per person.

The Japan Medical Association and the Ministry of Welfare have been cooperating in a plan to minimize abuses under the medical care phases of the insurances and relief plans and preliminary instructions were issued as Hoken Hatsu No. 207. Encouragement of such joint effort is being made by this headquarters.

Continued interest in this subject on the part of welfare and public health officers of the Civil Affairs Teams is encouraged. Stress on the protection of individual rights through use of established appeal procedures is believed advisable.

Extract II

Right of Appeal

Legal Section, Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers, is at present working with the Attorney General's Office to determine "right to public assistance" and "right of appeal and court action" with reference to the Daily Life Security Law.

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 775013

It is believed that this decision will effect the "complaint system" now in effect.

The Diet is also studying the possibility of rewriting the Daily Life Security Law in order to more clearly define these and similar points.

Public Health and Welfare Section will report results to civil affairs teams as they transpire.

SUBJECT: Communist Subsidation of Teachers

TO : Chief
Kinki Civil Affairs Region
APO 25
Attn: Civil Education Section

1. In compliance with request of your headquarters an investigation of the information reported in paragraph 8., Section 2-1, Wakayama Civil Affairs Activities for July 1949, was conducted by the Civil Education Officer. The information referred to is the report that Communists were subsidizing teachers specified amounts for various degrees of cooperation.

2. The mayor of Tanabe City, Wakayama Prefecture, the source of the report to Civil Affairs, was personally contacted on August 25. Additional information obtained from the mayor was as follows:

a. He had heard from two persons that "the Communists are very much interested in Japanese education." He could not recall their indentities.

b. He had heard from one person during an informal conversation at a meeting to the effect that Communists were subsidizing teachers monthly as follows:

¥ 3000 if they didn't oppose and if they would teach Marxist principles.

¥ 7000 if they were active in party affairs.

¥13000 if they assumed leadership in party affairs.

The mayor "couldn't remember" the person's identity or the particular meeting but in answer to leading questions replied that he was an intellectual person and that he "may have been an official" and also that he was a person not in a position to have first-hand knowledge of the matter.

c. All of the above assertions referred to Japan as a whole and had not been localized.

3. Due to the mayor's apparent reluctance to disclose persons from whom he received the information it was impossible to pursue the matter farther through him.

4. Reliable educators in the Tanabe area were contacted including a former employee of Civil Education Section. None had heard of Communists subsidizing teachers and they discounted the probability.

5. Although the mayor's statements were believed to have had some foundation at the time of the original interview, due to his position and to figures he quoted, it appears that they were based upon rumor. The report will be considered as such by this headquarters until such time as substantiating evidence obtained through future investigation might prove otherwise. Any subsequent information discovered will be duly reported.

b. OD 75, Hq Eighth Army, 1946.
c. OD 25, Hq Eighth Army, 1948

2. It is recommended that the form of the certificate required by Japanese police carrying arms, as called for by references "a" and "d" above, be changed to a form of certificate as shown on inclosure number 1 attached hereto.

3. The present form of certificate has proven to be impracticable in view of the fact, occasioned by the shortage of arms assigned to Japanese police, that ten or more policemen share a single arm. This circumstance occasions an almost continuous process of taking up and reissuing of certificates, thus not only causing an excess of paper work and waste, but also slowing down the issuance of arms in the event of an emergency.

4. Essential data not shown on the certificate herein recommended (Incl. #1), such as date of issue and person to whom a particular arm is issued, will be kept in a "Register of Arms" maintained by the police at place of issue. Certificates will be issued and turned in at the same time arms are issued or turned in.

SIMPLE PARLIAMENTARY RULES FOR THE CONDUCT OF A MEETING OF A SMALL ORGANIZATION

NOTE: The following rules can be used by small organizations (15-30 members) for the conduct of their meetings. Larger organizations can also use these rules, but they should consult the pamphlet, "Techniques of Democracy," for more complete information. In principle, the conduct of the meetings of small and large organizations is the same; the only difference is a difference in the degree of formality used. For example, in the cases of Items 3, 4, and 5, raising the hand is sufficient in getting recognition in a small organization, but in a large organization it is customary to stand to get recognition.

1. No meeting can be held unless a quorum is present.

2. All remarks, discussion, etc. are addressed to the Chairman. Members will not speak directly to each other.

3. No member will speak without first being recognized by the Chairman. However, when making nominations and when seconding motions, recognition is unnecessary.

4. If someone desires to speak, he will raise his hand until the Chairman recognizes him.

5. The Chairman will recognize the first person to raise his hand.

6. No one will raise his hand while another is speaking.

7. To have any discussion, motions are necessary. ("I move that.....")

8. All motions, except nominations and questions of privilege, must be seconded. (Questions of privilege refer to the rights, comfort, etc. of members or of the organization, or may be questions referring to the conduct of business or questions referring to the business under discussion.)

9. The Chairman must restate all motions after they are made and seconded. He must also restate motions immediately prior to taking the vote on them.

10. Each speaker will be limited to three minutes.

11. No person may speak more than once on one motion as long as there is someone else who has not spoken who desires to speak.

12. Discussion must be on the motion made, that is, it must be pertinent to the subject being discussed.

13. The Chairman may not join in the discussion.

14. Once a motion is made and seconded it must be disposed of before any other business is brought up for discussion. However, amendments to motions may be made in which case they must be disposed of before the original motion can be discussed.

15. Amendments to motions may be made. They will be moved, seconded, and voted upon.

16. Decisions will be made by majority vote. Except in the case of election of officers, such vote will be indicated by standing or by raising the right hand. Votes will be counted. Election of officers will be by ballot.

17. The Chairman may not vote except in case of a tie in which case he may vote. He may also vote to create a tie, in which case the motion is lost. In addition, he may vote when the voting is by ballot.

18. All motions which are carried will be recorded by the Secretary.

19. Business meetings will usually be limited to one hour. If extended, there must be a two-thirds' vote of the members present to that effect.

SUBJECT: Personnel Practices in Welfare Institutions.

TO : Chief
Kinki Civil Affairs Region
APO 25

1. Reference: Operational Directive Number 6, Headquarters, Eighth Army, dated 24 January 1949, subject, "Public Welfare", paragraph 7.

2. Problems:

a. The minimum standards establish within welfare institutions, staff positions, i. e., Hobe, Kyogo, Kyobo, etc. However, reviews of welfare institutions and personnel practices within these institutions reveal that no clear descriptions of what these jobs entail exist. These jobs, performed under the same position title, vary with each institution. The fact that no clear duty descriptions have accompanied the establishment of staff positions negates the value of the designation of specific jobs. Together with vague qualification requirements, the absence of duty descriptions permits the constant practice by institutions of merely relabeling old staff members. While no change is made in the old institution program, this fosters the attitude that conformance with required and acceptable standards in this instance is thereby attained.

b. A second unsound personnel practice is noted in the accepted procedure of permitting relatives to hold staff positions within the same institution. This condition exists in every children's institution in Wakayama Prefecture, except one recently established. The most recent application for the establishment of an orphanage proposed a staff consisting of the mother, son, son's wife, son's brother and sister. There is a tendency for families to establish institutions, not as welfare projects, but as business enterprises, with the resultant abuses and scandals. This has been borne out consistently by institution inspections. The director, usually the family head, is not in a position to be objective in his management of the staff and the care of the children. All the family members invariably never meet the qualification requirements for the varied jobs. This situation is overlooked because of the fact that they are family members. It is often argued that the practice is a desirable one because of the low salaries the institution program affords. However, this seems obviously a false solution to the problem.

3. Recommendations:

a. That the Welfare Ministry establish clear duty descriptions, which spell out in detail, the duties and responsibilities for each job outlined in the institution program. This will afford not only a clarification of personnel functions within an institution but also an additional standard against which to evaluate personnel applications and performance.

b. That clear, concise minimum requirements of education and experience for personnel filling these positions be set down and accompany these duty descriptions.

c. That the Welfare Ministry place restrictions upon members of the same family working in the same institution, with the possible exception of a man and wife in an institution operated on the cottage plan.

d. That the Welfare Ministry intensify its field supervision and objectively evaluate the actual qualifications of the staff against the requirements of the standards.

Hq Kinki Civil Affairs Region, APO 25, 31 August 1949

TO: Chief, Wakayama Civil Affairs Team, APO 25
ATTN: Public Welfare Section

1. Forwarded for your information and consideration.

2. The mismanagement described in Ltr, Hq Wakayama Mil Govt Team, APO 25, dtd 11 March 1949, 091.4 subj: "Inspection of Child Welfare Institution" was not and is not an isolated occurence. The 3 years of inspections of institutions by Civil Affairs Welfare Officers have resulted in but little perceptible improvement in the adoption of personnel and other standards; the majority of the institutions subject to the Minimum Standards Law will fail to come up to the prescribed minimum; not even such as elementary control as fiscal accounting has as yet been standardized. A basic factor contributing to this is the lack of improvement in institution management personnel, and the reluctance of public officials to enforce improvements.

3. A review of data on institutions, compiled about a year ago, reveals that 60 percent of all institutions in Kinki Region are under private operation, and that 50 percent of these are operated by private individuals as their private property. It is this 50 percent (over 200 agencies) that requires more adequate supervision and controls, as those under private organizations, and public operation will be more easily amenable to standards (once standards are enforced with energy). In one of the prefectures of this region a private individual recently completed the construction of a ¥20,000,000.00 plant in a small village in a mountainous region 1½ hours from the capital city. He has no program developed and no plans for the intake, programs and discharge of the children he hopes to place in the institution. The present institutions in this prefecture are far from crowded. It was only after Civil Affairs inspected the plant that questions were raised about the provisions of the Social Work Law, etc. It is now revealed that this individual is the largest tax-delinquent in the prefecture.

4. This headquarters is initiating surveys, to be bases for special reports, on personnel, including the question of family staffs, in institutions; the adequacy of the education facilities available to the children in certain types of institutions - those whose children are not allowed to attend the neighboring public schools; and the incidence of trachoma, with a treatment program.

5. The recommendations in par 3 of basic letter are concurred in. It is further recommended that the Social Work Law be reviewed as to basic policy, with the view to requiring prior approval, after survey of needs, before new institutions can be started. The practice of allowing private individuals to engage in social institution operation as a private venture needs careful study - if the attendant evils of profit-making out of welfare operations are to be stopped.

SUBJECT: YO EN RAN, Petitioner under SCAPIN 777

TO: Chinese Mission in Japan
Osaka Branch
Osaka, Honshu

FOR FILE

1. On 10 August 1949, Yo En Ran filed with this office a petition for inquiry into a civil case in the Japanese court between himself (a Chinese national) and Tsuji, Seigoro (a Japanese national), under paragraph 2b of SCAPIN 777, dated 26 February 1946.

2. Following filing of this petition, this headquarters requested and obtained a report on the case from the Osaka District Court. The following items constitute the principal elements of the case:

a. Mr. Yo, in 1946, purchased a house from a fellow countryman with money of which ¥620,000 had been borrowed from Tsuji, Seigoro. The property is located at 35, 5 bancho, Nambashinchi, Minami-ku, Osaka City. At the time Mr. Yo borrowed the money, he gave as security to Mr. Tsuji a letter of sale to this establishment. This letter of sale was addressed to Tsuji and was in substance that Ryo Sui Ka (the original owner of the house) had transferred the rights of the establishment to Tsuji and Yo, effective 5 December 1946 for payment of ¥620,000.

b. The building originally purchased was torn down and a new two-story building erected on the land.

c. On 22 August 1947 the newly constructed building was destroyed by fire and Mr. Yo received ¥1,400,000 compensation from his insurance. From this sum Mr. Yo claims to have repaid Mr. Tsuji in the sum of ¥620,000, plus ¥60,000 interest; however Mr. Yo did not receive from Mr. Tsuji the instrument of security which had been pledged for the debt.

d. Late in 1947 another two-story building was erected on this same land. The lower portion was divided into 3 sections and Mr. Yo allowed Mr. Tsuji to occupy two of the firstfloor stalls rent-free, and retained for himself the other stall plus the second story. This is understood to have been an oral agreement; Mr. Yo contends that another term of the oral agreement provided that Mr. Tsuji would vacate the premises upon demand of Mr. Yo.

e. Mr. Tsuji subsequently sublet one of the stalls occupied by him to a Turkish national without having obtained the prior approval of Mr. Yo. Mr. Yo requested vacation of the premises by Tsuji and return of the property to him. Mr. Tsuji failed to vacate and in June 1948 Mr. Yo filed a suit in the Japanese Civil Court charging Tsuji with illegal occupation of the building and demanded immediate vacation of the premises. Mr. Tsuji filed a counter suit demanding that Mr. Yo be evicted and the property returned to him as rightful owner and possessor of the certificate of ownership. Mr. Tsuji also obtained on 2 July 1948, a provisional disposition from the court, ordering Mr. Yo to retain the premises in their present form until final determination was made. Mr. Yo then obtained from the court a provisional disposition against Mr. Tsuji, ordering him to retain the premises in their original form until final disposition had been made.

f. The court states, but Mr. Yo denies, that on 5 April 1949, both parties requested the court to delay in the proceedings in order to permit the two parties to reach an amicable agreement. The court granted the delay.

g. Despite the provisional disposition order of the court, Mr. Yo made alterations in the part of the building occupied by him, and late in July of this year, entered into a partnership with another party to conduct the business. Mr. Tsuji applied to the court for execution of the provional disposition, which the court ordered and sent bailiffs to supervise the execution, which means restoring the place to its original condition, and possibly closing the portion occupied by Mr. Yo until final court action. Mr. Yo has also filed a request with the court for execution of the provisional disposition against Mr. Tsuji, charging that he has modified the portion occupied by him at least 3 times since the issuance of the court order. The request for execution of the provisional disposition against Mr. Tsuji was filed recently, and action taken by the court has not been ascertained.

3. As is evident from the foregoing summary of facts, the case is rather complex; however, it was pointed out to the court at the time they were in this office, that this case has been dragging on for 15 months and should have been decided sometime ago. The court has decided to vacate the delay granted (reference, paragraph 2f) and will take up the case on 13 September 1949. Further, this headquarters finds no evidence to support the petitioner's claim that his rights are not adequately protected in the Japanese court; in fact there is some evidence to indicate Mr. Yo could have been more vigilant in protecting his own rights as an individual, viz. his failure to repossess security pledged at the time he repaid the ¥620,000 loan to Mr. Tsuji; also his failure to obtain modification of the court order of provisional disposition against him before he undertook alteration of the part of the building occupied by him; and his delay in requesting the Japanese court to enforce its provisional disposition against Tsuji when he modified his premises as alleged by Mr. Yo.

4. This headquarters will continue surveillance over the case in the Japanese court until it is completed, and if any evidence is uncovered which supports the conclusion that Mr. Yo's legal rights are being prejudiced by the Japanese court, appropriate action will be taken.

1. A request for aid and "moral support" for a scientific exploring expedition has been made through this office by the Kyoto Alpine League.

2. Our investigation seems to indicate that the group is a reputable one, and that past projects by the participants have been on a high scientific level.

3. In inclosure 2 is an itinerary and a list of expenditures and items deemed necessary to conduct the expedition successfully. Although the proposed starting time is close at hand, the League respectfully asks financial and physical assistance in procuring the items necessary for conducting the mission.

TO : Commanding General

ATTN: Civil Affairs Section

1. Recommend surveillance by Prefectural Civil Affairs Teams be discontinued as of 31 October 1949, for the following reasons:

a. If teams are to continue surveillance thru November they must immediately reduce their indigenous personnel as much as fifty percent in order to meet budget requirements. Such a reduction would seriously curtail their surveillance.

b. By having region exercise surveillance beginning 1 November teams can plan their reduction of personnel so as to retain only those essential to disbandonment after 1 November, and can better perform surveillance during the months of September and October.

c. Teams will be free to close out after submission of their October MG-4 report.

SUBJECT: Petition Concerning Kobe Fair

See 1001 file

TO : Commanding Officer
Kinki Civil Affairs Region
APO 25

1. Attached is a petition from the Governor of Hyogo prefecture and the Mayor of Kobe concerning an Industrial Fair to be held in Kobe during the period March-June 1950. The purpose of this fair, plans and estimate of materials needed, are included.

2. I have given this matter much thought and consideration. Conferences have been held with officials connected with the development of this idea at which time the estimated revenues and expenses were examined. It will be noted that if the estimated revenue from taxes is realized, it will fail to balance the subsidy from prefectural and city sources by about fifteen million yen.

3. At a recent visit made to Yokohama, various section heads of the Kanagawa Civil Affairs Team were contacted concerning a similar fair which was held in Yokohama last year. With reference to this fair, the following facts are significant:

(a) There was no difficulty encountered in raising subscriptions.

(b) The presale of tickets was very successful. However, due to adverse weather conditions, the gate receipts were less than anticipated.

(c) There was no indications of any mismanagement of funds.

(d) Revenue derived from exhibitions and entertainment was equal to that anticipated.

(e) Poor planing in connection with advertising resulted in insufficient information being made available concerning what exhibits were being shown and their purpose. Free literature concerning the fair as a whole was not available to foreign traders. Posters were located in poorly selected sites.

4. Recommend that permission be granted to hold the Kobe fair as outlined in the attached papers if the materials for construction can be made available without curtailing any housing project now under consideration.

5. It is further recommended that the officials connected with this fair be instructed to furnish plans as to the use of each building upon completion of the fair, such as schools, dwellings or government buildings. In addition they must be prepared to furnish an itemized final accounting, covering all expenses and revenues connected with the fair.

6. It is thought that if this fair is properly organized and operated and the mistakes made by the Yokohama fair are avoided, it will have a stimulating effect on foreign trade and the city of Kobe will be greatly benefitted.

1. This headquarters has completed a thorough study of the proposed fair. Study was conducted by a series of conferences with Hyogo prefectural officials, Kobe City officials, officials of other Japanese agencies and business men, including exporters and importers. All agree that the proposed fair would be advantageous to the area in promoting, or stimulating, manufacture for export.

2. The original concern of this headquarters was that by the use of an enormous amount of critical materials essential industries would be deprived of securing building material, etc. Also, it was first believed that these critical materials could be best used in a housing program for the burned out and overcrowded city of Kobe. However, the added inclosure indicates that a useful disposition would be made of the buildings, etc. after the fair has suspended operations.

3. It was brought out during conferences, and as the added inclosure indicates, that "top-level" personnel of the central government have approved this fair, and in most cases have accepted appointment as honorary advisers. This being the case, it is apparent that very little trouble is anticipated in securing most of the critical materials, which are desired. However, the Hyogo officials believe they will require aid from the Occupation Forces to secure the materials controlled by GHQ, SCAP.

4. In view of the above, it is recommended that the officials for the Kobe Fair be given all possible aid in securing the necessary critical materials required in order to hold the fair.

1. Reference CD No. 8, 3 February 1948.

2. In compliance with telephonic instructions from Commanding Officer Kinki Civil Affairs Region, 9 July 1949, the following investigation of Keuchi Nagata, Chief of Kyoto Municipal Police, is being instigated to determine his fitness for continuance in office.

3. Personal history and qualifications. Graduated from Kyoto Imperial University in 1922, Department of Jurisprudence. Appointed Judicial Officer, Osaka District Law Court, appointed Procurator in 1923 and served in Osaka for seven years. Appointed procurator, Kobe District Law Court, 1930. Appointed procurator Kyoto District Law Court, 1934. Appointed procurator in charge of economic crimes, 1941. Appointed chief procurator Shimane Prefecture, 1946. Became the first chief of Kyoto Municipal Police Bureau, 8 March 1948.

4. The following major incidents (Inclosure 1, 2, 3 and 4) covering the last six months and police action, or lack of action on the part of the police force, and statements from officers with personal knowledge of the various situations (Inclosure 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10) provide the bases

a. Major incidents

(1) The Korean Tax Incident (Inclosure 1). Attached as Inclosure 1 is report of incident occurring at the Nakakyo Tax Office which was as a result of a raid previously made by the police on the illegal Korean Sake Distillers in the Nishi-jin area. The Koreans went to the Nakakyo Tax Office to protest the raid and demanded return of their sake distilling equipment and the rice and crude sake which had been confiscated.

This headquarters had an observer at the tax office from before noontime until the incident had finished, relaying information to this headquarters as to the situation. During the course of the day conferences were held at this headquarters with Mr. Yoshida, head of all the tax offices in Kyoto City; Mr. Nakagawa, Head of the Peace and Preservation Section, Municipal Police; Mr. Kobashi, Head of the Peace Preservation Division, Municipal Police; and later with Mr. Ogawa, Vice-Chief, Municipal Police. Efforts were made to stimulate the tax officials and the police to take positive action in dispersing the mob which was preventing the tax office from carrying out its routine business.

The police were loathe to take any action against the demonstrators and blamed the tax officials for not requesting the police to take definitive action. Eyewitness reports relayed to this headquarters stated that the policement guarding the tax office had been spit on and had their clothing torn by the Korean women demonstrators, but that no action had been taken by the police to apprehend the violators. It was further reported that at least one of the policemen had been bodily carried some distance away from the tax office by several Koreans, beaten up and warned to stay away from the scene of action. These instances were all brought to the attention of the police officials who maintained that although it was a bad situation they could do nothing to correct it unless a request was made by the tax office. At the final two conferences held with the police officials at 1520 and 1710 hours, the need for immediate positive action to quell the impending riot was forcibly impressed upon them.

Finally, at approximately 1930 hours additional reenforcements of police arrived in trucks, arrested the ring leaders and took them off to the Gojo Police Station. This was the first instance in Kyoto in which the police were finally obliged to take positive action on their own and handle a situation without any help from the Military Police or other Occupation enforcement agencies.

It will be noted that the police did a good job of handling the situation once they decided to take definitive action but it took some eight hours to arrive at this decision. Furthermore, if such action had been taken much earlier, the situation would not have developed to nearly the same proportions as it did. It is believed that the reluctance to take proper action is directly attributable to lack of strong forceful leadership at the policy making level.

(2) Anti-Tax Movement and Demonstrations (Inclosure 2). The anti-tax movement and demonstrations at their inception were a well planned campaign to discredit the tax system and the tax officials. In Kyoto City the movement developed into one of discrediting the police force and furthermore succeeding.

The reluctance or inability of Chief Nagata to take decisive and aggressive action against these flagrant violators permitted them to reach the point where they openly flouted and pushed the police around. Several arrests were made but no one ever stood trial. Any action by the police was taken only after repeated advice and suggestions by members of this team.

Lack of action by the police and their non-cooperation with the tax officials was a definite detriment to the tax program. In many instances because of such non-cooperation the tax officials could not perform their duties.

(3) The Kyoto University Hospital Case (Inclosure 3). This incident started out as a university affair but when labor unions and communists stepped in, it made front page news. This case is a perfect example of Chief Nagata's indecision and policy of not stepping on anyone's toes. Crimes were being committed, coercion, trespass, and illegal entry, and the director of the hospital had been held a prisoner for twenty-eight hours. Nagata, doing nothing, as usual, hoping the problem would solve itself. On the morning of the 17th at 0900 hours a conference was held with Chief Nagata and the Chief of the Public Safety Department, Tanaka, by the Commanding Officer and members of the team to discuss the problem.

The police were fully cognizant of the situation, and despite discussions on the applicable laws and regulations, and the official's belief that something should be done, no action was taken by the police until 2030 hours that night at which time they finally decided to enforce the law. The police arrested three demonstrators, after which the crowd dispersed. When Chief Nagata finally employed the police to break up the demonstration they were not allowed to wear police badges or carry night sticks.

(4) Repatriate Incidents of 1 and 4 July 1949 (Inclosure 4). The police had prior knowledge of the plans of the leftist and extremist groups for 1 July through their own channels and Occupation Force channels. The Police Guarding Department had adequate plans prepared and sufficient police alerted to handle any disturbance that might occur.

These groups immediately and completely took over the reception, crowding the officially designated welcoming officials out. They welcomed the repatriates with red flags and banners, and led them to the plaza where a mass meeting and demonstration was in progress in direct violation of the city parade and demonstration ordinance. The police made no attempt to enforce law and order other than to direct traffic.

After the violations on 1 July the police warned the organizations that any recurrence of the violations on 4 July would involve the use of police force. The organizations with utter contempt for the police order, carried on as though they had not been warned. Demonstrations and disorders started with the arrival of the first repatriates at 1100 hours and continued until 2230 hours. It was only after constant urging by Occupation Force personnel (Inclosure 5) that the order to break up the mob was given. After the order was given by Chief Nagata, his subordinates carried it out very well. It was apparent that their instructions had been to standby and do nothing without orders from the chief.

(5) After the violation on 4 July a large number of repatriates passed through Kyoto. There were some disorders but the police handled things with promptness and dispatch and due to this there were no disorders of any size and all the repatriates were sent on to their destinations. This apparently indicated a firmer and more aggressive attitude on the part of the police.

b. Statements from officers having personal knowledge of the incidents.

(1) Statement of Colonel J. J. Burns, I Corps Civil Affairs Officer (Inclosure 5).

(2) Statement of Major Harold C. Sheffield, Executive Officer Kyoto Civil Affairs Team (Inclosure 6).

(3) Statement of Major F. H. Finnan, Kyoto Area Provost Marshal (Inclosure 7).

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 775013

(4) Statement of Captain Carroll H. Hoagland, Legal and Government Officer Kyoto Civil Affairs Team (Inclosure 8).

(5) Statement of Lieutenant T. Y. Takahashi, Commanding Officer 163rd Language Detachment (Inclosure 9).

(6) Statement of Colonel T. W. Ligon, Commanding Officer Kyoto Civil Affairs Team (Inclosure 10).

(7) Statement of Chief Nagata, Kyoto Municipal Police (Inclosure 11).

5. Chief Nagata was informed by me of this investigation and on 4 August submitted a statement in his behalf (Inclosure 11).

6. Conclusions.

a. That maximum local corrective action by this team has been accomplished by repeated discussions on ways and means to control mobs, necessary preventive measures, pertinent laws and regulations, and the need for prompt aggressive action.

b. That Chief Nagata is loathe to take decisive action because of fear of public opinion. These fears have proven groundless, for after proper action by the police, they have received good publicity and support from the press.

c. That in all phases of police activity where positive action has been indicated the police chief has procrastinated and delayed so long that unlawful minor incidents, which if nipped in the bud would have remained minor, developed into major issues.

d. That the police force as a whole is well trained and capable of executing its mission, but lacks strong, aggressive leadership necessary for a modern police force.

e. That since the incident in connection with the repatriates on 4 July 1949, Chief Nagata has seemed to come out of his shell and has handled police matters with a firmer hand and has appeared more willing to assume responsibility and to act aggressively.

Recommendations:

That Mr. Nagata be continued as Chief of the Kyoto Municipal Police for the time being.

That this investigation be returned to this team, to be held pending further surveillance and supervision of Chief Nagata and the Kyoto Municipal Police Force.

1. Attention invited to basic letter and inclosures pertaining to an investigation of the Chief of Police of Kyoto City, prepared by the Kyoto Civil Affairs Team.

2. This headquarters is of the opinion that sufficient evidence has been presented to warrant the removal of Chief Nagata from the office of Chief of Police of Kyoto City. However, for reasons stated in the following paragraph, this headquarters concurs in the recommendations (paragraph 6, basic letter) of the Kyoto Civil Affairs Team.

3. The radical elements of Kyoto City have repeatedly demanded the resignation of Chief Nagata each time he has been forced to take aggressive action against lawless elements. To remove him from office at this time would play into their hands, and they would loudly announce his removal as one of their accomplishments.

4. The Kycto Civil Affairs Team requests that subject correspondence be returned to office of origin. This headquarters concurs in said recommendation and plans to instruct the Kyoto Civil Affairs Team to confer with Chief Nagata and the Public Safety Commission to point out wherein the Chief is deemed to have been remiss in performance of his duties, and further inform them that this report of investigation will remain on file for further action should future events so warrant.

SUBJECT: Public Opinion Research - Local Autonomy Programs

TO : Commanding Officer
Kinki Civil Affairs Region
APO 25

1. A public opinion research survey on local autonomy will be conducted in the Kinki Civil Affairs Region.

2. The purpose of this public opinion research survey is to provide information necessary for the evaluation of the effectiveness and stage of development of local autonomy programs, for increasing their effectiveness, and for making such recommentations as may be necessary to the appropriate headquarters.

3. Civil Affairs Section, this Headquarters, will furnish five (5) Japanese public opinion research specialists to assist in the supervision of this survey. This personnel will serve only in a consultative and not in a directive capacity. Their function is to advise within the limits specified by the Kinki Civil Affairs Region requirements, available personnel, and available funds. In keeping with the objectives of the economic recovery program, prefectural officials should keep the cost of the interviews at a minimum level. This can be done by using personnel which are already employed by the local government or Civil Affairs team. It is not intended for this survey to constitute an unnecessary burden on civil affairs operations. This means, in effect, an absolute minimum use of civil affairs employees and maximum use of available prefectural government resources.

4. Planning of survey, preparation of samples, allocation of areas, collection of completed questionnaires, tabulation and analysis of results, preparation of reports of analysis and interpretation of results is the responsibility of the Civil Affairs, Public Opinion Research Branch, this Headquarters. The questionnaires, instruction sheets, sample designs, and schedule of survey will be supplied by this Headquarters. There will be no changes, additions or deletions in the form which have been prepared.

5. It is absolutely necessary to assure the highest possible quality of survey product. Any compromises on quality can only serve to mislead by presenting a false picture of actual conditions. Close supervision of this survey should be exercised. The two principal reasons for close supervision are (a) necessity of preventing the misuse of public opinion research for thought control purposes and (b) the necessity of maintaining the highest possible level of quality. In order to obtain a final analysis with the minimum amount of error it is important that Civil Affairs remains in the background and have no connection with the survey, with the exception of surveillance. No publicity should be given to the survey.

6. This survey is non-political and is not prohibited by Eighth Army Operational Directive No.5, dated 10 January 1947.

SAMPLE DESIGN

1) The Population of the survey was limited to whole voters in Kinki Region, 6,023,323 voters.

2) The Sample Size was decided to 1,500 by the theory of Statistical Mathematics.

3) The Population was divided into two basic groups, rural and urban. Then, rural (Gun) districts were stratified into five strata on the basis of the voting ratio in the General Election of January 1949.

4) The survey spots (26 in urban centers + 24 in rural districts = 50) were picked out at random according to Probability Proportionate to the size of Population.

5) Number of Samples per spot is 30.

6) Three points will be picked out from each spot and ten respondents from each point will be required.

SUBJECT: Activities of Korean League

TO: Commanding General
I Corps
APO 301
Attention: Civil Affairs Section

1. The Korean League, in an effort to raise funds for the use of the League, organized the Chuo Sangyo KK (Central Industrial Corporation) with a proposed capital of three billion yen. As part of the money raising campaign the Higashinari branch of the Korean League in Osaka placed an initial order for ten thousand fans to be sold to League members and others for 75 or 80 yen per fan.

2. The fan has a design in the center and patriotic verses on either side of the emblem. The design consists of a hydro-electric plant and dam, with a mountain scene in the background. The design is bordered with golden rice sheaves surmounted by a red star. The attached inclosure contains photographs of the fan and design.

3. A survey of directives relative to North Korean activities revealed only I Corps TWX ICBA-225, dated 10 October 1948. As subject directive applied to display of a flag, it was deemed not applicable to the design on the fan.

SUBJECT: Security of Classified Installation

TO: Commanding General
I Corps
APO 301

1. This unit is operating a classified installation in an agricultural area, approximately three miles south of the unit area, near (570.8 - 861.9) Ogura.

2. Recently a Japanese farmer has constructed a shelter, apparently to protect his family from the elements as they rest from their labors during the noon hour each day. This shelter is approximately fifteen yards from the installation described in the above par and is a definite security risk as personnel resting there can hear what is taking place within the installation.

3. It is requested that the Japanese responsible for the shelter be directed to move it to an area no closer than one hundred yards from the installation.

HEADQUARTERS 25th INFANTRY DIVISION
APO 25

AG 680 (A) 23 July 1949

SUBJECT: Cleaning of Bivouac Sites

THRU: Commanding General
I Corps
APO 301

TO: Commanding Officer
Kinki Civil Affairs Region
APO 25

1. During the period 18 July to 22 July, the troops of the 25th Division used the bivouac area between Tonoichi and Isa (east of Fukuchi-yama).

2. This bivouac area was thoroughly cleaned by the troops prior to their departure on 22 July. The area was inspected by a representative of the Division Commander, who reported that all kitchen refuse had been buried and covered and that all latrine pits had been covered over with dirt and had been properly marked.

3. It was noted that almost immediately following the departure of the troops, local Japanese residents opened these pits to search for the refuse. They then left the pits open, with refuse scattered about on the ground.

4. It is requested that you take up with the proper Japanese authorities the unsanitary conditions which will result from the actions of the inhabitants of nearby areas, and that they be requested to restore the bivouac sites to the same sanitary condition in which they were left by Occupation Troops.

5. An additional bivouac was occupied just north of the town of Suchi the night of 22-23 July. The Occupation Troops will leave that area today and no doubt a similar condition will result from the actions of local inhabitants.

MEMORANDUM TO: Kinki Civil Affairs Region

FROM: Osaka Civil Affairs Team

A rally and parade held by the young men and women of the Japanese CIO, the Osaka Government and Public Workers Union, the Private Railway Workers Union and the Korean League of Democratic Youth was able to muster only 500 participants.

This is especially significant as one of the purposes of the rally was to regain face because an earlier rally by essentially the same organizations attracted only 1200 people.

(Thru Channels)

1. Transmitted herewith letters addressed to the Allied Council for Japan, the Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers, and the Soviet Embassy in Japan for your information and any action desired.

2. The Organization of Nara Regional Conference for Repatriation Relief Campaign is a prefectural chapter of the All Japan National Organization, which originated in Tokyo and has been organized since December 1948.

3. The first repatriates returned to Nara Prefecture from Russia commenced to arrive in the month of April 1947. During the year a total of 1,000 repatriates were returned to Nara Prefecture. In January 1948 the repatriates were still arriving and for the year, a total of 2,000 repatriates were returned to Nara Prefecture. The repatriates started to arrive in Nara Prefecture in July of this year. To date, a total of 67 repatriates have arrived in Nara Prefecture.

4. At present, the records in Nara Prefecture indicate that there are yet to be returned to Nara Prefecture the following:

Army:	1311
Navy:	11
Civilians:	311
Total	1633

All of these Japanese have been in Russian territory since September 1945.

SUBJECT: Liu Zai Sen, Chinese National

TO : Commanding Officer
Osaka Civil Affairs Team
APO 25

1. Reference is made to the telephone conversation, 9 July 1949, between Chief, Legal-Government Section of this headquarters and Captain Ellingson of your headquarters. This conversation was based upon a telephone call from Mr. Matthew C. Liu of the Chinese Mission in Japan, Tokyo Office. An information copy of the telephone abstract was dispatched to Captain Ellingson as separate correspondence.

2. The attached letter from the Osaka Consular Affairs Office of the Chinese Mission in Japan was delivered to this headquarters 11 July, and further pertains to the Chinese national.

3. This headquarters interprets the SCAPINs and Operational Directives pertaining to legal process as denying the Japanese authorities jurisdiction over United Nations' nationals residing in Japan, in arrests, seizures, searches, criminal prosecution and confinement. In all other matters United Nations' residents in Japan are subject to Japanese law and governmental process. The real estate difficulty appears to be primarily a civil suit, and whichever party deems himself wronged should seek a remedy through the Japanese courts. If either party again approaches your headquarters, it is desired that you so advise them.

4. This letter is not intended to preclude any investigation into tax evasion or criminal acts of either party which your headquarters deems expedient.
