1. Herewith Lt. Col. Elliotts report on Eta Jima.
2. Col. Elliott confirms our previous opinion that Col. Watkins does not want to have NPR and U S Army personnel training at Eta Jima at the same time although the staff and facilities are adequate.
3. Recommend
   a. That representative or representatives from this section be sent to Eta Jima to supervise and direct disposition of vehicles, weapons and training aids which have been allocated for use of NPR.
   b. That instructions be issued relative to granting certificates to interpreters

SUBJECT: Telephone Conversation Col Conway, Eta Jima, and It Col Webb, Training Branch, Operations Division. 0910 29 November 1950

Col Webb: I called you in reference to the recommendation you made to Lt Col Elliott on his recent visit to Eta Jima. He reported you recommended that some interpreters had become quite expert as instructors and should be issued a certificate of completion for the course.

Col Conway: Yes, that is right, some of these men are much more efficient, as instructors, than most of the NPR graduates.

Col Webb: I want to pass on to you the decision of General Shepard. General Shepard stated that those interpreters who instructed in at least 60% of the subjects of a particular course would be granted certificates for that course.

MEMORANDUM TO: Chief, Operations Division

SUBJECT: Staff visit to Eta Jima School Command (20-22 November 1950)

1. Purpose. a. To convey an expression of satisfaction and appreciation of this section for the specialist training given to members of the National Police Reserve at the school, and by their traveling carbine instruction team.

b. To observe as much of the training being given the National Police Reserve students as feasible, noting the methods of instruction in use and their apparent effectiveness.

c. To inform Eta Jima School Command of proposed plans for future usage of NPR at Eta Jima.

2. Conduct of Visit. a. Conference was held with Colonel Watkins and Colonel Conway, the Commanding Officer, and the Director of Training, respectively of the School Command, regarding the Capabilities of the school for future use and the result of their efforts to date.

(1) Colonel Watkins claimed to be under the impression that his current commitment to the National Police Reserve expired on or about 4 December 1950, and that he should be prepared to start serving the U.S. Troops' school needs on short notice after that time.

(2) Colonel Conway stated that their present capacity for the courses they are operating for us is as follows: Engineer 60, Automotive Maintenance - 100, Leaders course - 400. The figures apply to training facilities only, and are valid only so long as the school does not have to train U.S. Troops in the same courses, in which case the NPR would have to alternate with the U.S. Troops.

(3) Both the above named officers stated that they would not want to continue the training of National Police Reserve Personnel under any conditions after a large number of U.S. Troops began entering the school.

Orders mean nothing.

(4) The billeting situation presents a peculiar problem in that although the primary barracks has an unusually large capacity (over 3000), it is not feasible to use it jointly for NPR and U.S. Troops due to its central mess. The odor of the NPR mess precludes the messing of U.S. Troops in the same building. There exists a smaller barracks area where a small number of U.S. Troops may be housed among the school cadre. This small area is to be used by the signal students (U.S.) due to arrive on or about 1 December 1950.

b. A tour of the training facilities revealed an excellently laid plan and execution of instruction in all subjects. The cadre instructor would draw diagrams on a blackboard or point out details on a GTA Chart, explain in short remarks the text, an interpreter would repeat the text in Japanese, and all students would copy both text and diagrams in a copious manner. Their note books are so complete, it appears that any one of them could be published as a field manual. Both practical work out of doors and theoretical instruction indoors were being used. An all day rain on Tuesday did not prevent the weapons - firing, the engineer construction and the demolition work from being carried out as scheduled. Interest and enthusiasm was evident in all instruction observed.

c. The interepreters who have been kept on one course throughout have become quite expert as instructors themselves. Colonel Conway advises that they deserve appropriate certificates for completion of the courses in which they have been working.

d. Inquiry was made as to the amount of personnel and equipment that are now ~~in~~ present that could be released to us if and when we establish a separate school facility for the National Police Reserve. Answer is summarized as follows:

(1) Personnel - None except for some interpreters.

(2) Equipment: (a) Weapons - all that are now in use. They were obtained specifically for NPR. All are now serviceable.

(b) Automotive - Only the trucks that were issued specifically for the NPR. All fixed installations, such as mounted engines, cutaways and all other fixed training aids are to remain.

e. Training Aids for NPR Classes in the form of charts have been prepared by artists of the School's Training Aids shop. They are printed in both English and Japanese. These charts will be stored for our future use upon the closing of current classes.

f. Cadre & overhead. The School Command Cadre now on the post consists of about 430 Officers and Enlisted Men. Present also are about 400 dependents of the Cadre. The entire Command seems to be standing-by awaiting the return of U.S. Troops for large scale reopening, except for the few instructors who are involved in the operation of the NPR courses.

3. Conclusions. a. That the Eta Jima School Command has offered a superior Training facility for the specialists courses required by the NPR to date.

b. That the present courses could continue to operate until the input of U.S. Troops required use of the same facilities.

c. That the personnel and equipment cited in paragraph 2d, above, will be of material aid in establishing a similar school specifically for NPR.

d. That the housing and training facilities, including the dependent housing projects are among the best in Japan and should not be released by the occupation forces. (Basic installation is the former Japanese Naval Academy).

4. Recommendations. In view of the information received upon my return, concerning the termination of training of NPR specialists at the school, no recommendations resulting from this visit are considered to be in order.

5. During my return through Kure, a short visit was made at the Headquarters, Chugoku Civil Affairs Region for the purpose of paying my respects to the Chief thereof and meeting the headquarters personnel. No problems were presented for liaison action.

OPERATIONS DIVISION

M/R - Proper Orders for KPR Personnel Reporting to Eta J.

3 October 1950

Reference:
Telephone conversation this date between Col. Conway C.O. Eta Jima School Command and Lt. Col. Webb.

A. Orders

1. Students who arrived over past week and for courses to start on 2 Oct 1950 came in with, in many instances, improper orders:

a. Some without orders.
b. Some on blanket orders.
c. Some who had been told verbally they would attend a particular course.
d. Courses had been misnamed; mortar maintenance course in lieu of weapons maintenance course, and motor maintenance course in lieu of automotive maintenance course. Thus where students had been told verbally what course they would attend they were completely mixed up.
e. Some orders did not send students to the proper location.

2. Col. Conway is preparing a complete report on this with a recommendation for correction.

B. 40 officers to be selected for advance course at Camp Mc Knight. Officers course at Eta Jima will not start until 9 Oct instead of 2 Oct. Having to supply names of 40 officers for this course to CAS Annex by 18 Oct will leave Col. Conway only a few days to observe, interview and select those men. He requested this information be passed on to the executive, Col. Kowalski.

C. Eta Jima has four 75mm and four 57mm Rifles with adequate supply of ammunition to instruct and fire. Col. Conway suggested a course of 80 students be sent for this course to start on 16 Oct 1950.

M/R- Anti-Tank Course at Eta Jima To Be Discontinued

MEMORANDUM FOR: Record

Colonel Kowalski directed that the sub-course (known as Anti-Tank) of the Two-Weeks Weapons Course, Eta Jima, be discontined effective at close of 1st class (16 Sep) due to lack of ammunition for 57 and 75mm recoilless rifles and rocket launchers.

Col Albergotti —

We have already ordered Chief of Reg. to send a total of 700 students to the 2d Wpns Course class, reporting 16 Sept.

Col Suggs got from Col Conway that they can handle all 700 less the increase in M.G. and Mortars. claim for the Duchownee

I believe we should take advantage of the facilities to teach M.G. & Mortars and not cancel our order on 335 of the 700.

MEMORANDUM FOR: COMMANDING OFFICER, ETA JIMA SCHOOL COMMAND

SUBJECT: Logistical Support for Operation of National Police Reserve School, Eta Jima

1. In discussions with your representative (Major Jenkins), it is understood that cost of operating expenses of the Eta Jima school for the National Police Reserve will continue to be supported from the TOW appropriation, except for the following supplies and services required by NPR which will be obtained thru use of NPR appropriated funds:

a. Cleaning and preserving materials
b. Contract for mess
c. Medical services
d. Transportation

2. It is assumed that a mess contract will be negotiated providing for payment on a head count basis. Provision should be made to cover adjustments in the number of persons to be messed, without penalty, by reasonable prior notice to the contractor. Permanent first aid stations should be established as soon as possible, and a contract negotiated to cover medical treatment over and above that furnished by aid stations. Local hospitals should be utilized for persons requiring hospitalization. In reference to transportation of NPR personnel from the mainland to the school, a contract for ferry service from Kure and Hiroshima to Eta Jima and return should be consummated. Information pertaining to procurement of vehicles will be furnished at a later date.

3. No objections are interposed to establishment of a Japanese concessionnaire at the school for supply of soap, shaving items, or other personal supplies, provided installation and operation is accomplished without cost to either TOW or NPR appropriations.

4. To facilitate initial procurement, the National Rural Police in Hiroshima will be delegated authority to contract and obligate for the National Police Reserve. Funds to meet current requirements will be made available to NRP upon receipt of a budget estimate covering items indicated in par (1) above.

5. Clothing and equipment will be provided recruits through NPR Headquarters Tokyo and will not be procured locally.

6. A representative of Civil Affairs Section Annex, and the National Police Reserve will be detailed at Sta Jinn to effect procurements for NPR as soon as possible. During the interim the Commanding Officer, Sta Jinn, or his designated representative is authorized to commit NPR funds for procurement of services and supplies as outlined above.

7. It is requested that a weekly report of obligations and disbursements of NPR funds be furnished the Comptroller, Civil Affairs Section Annex, APO 500.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Lt Col Weetman

SUBJECT: NJPR Training at Eta Jima

1. a. The above training is scheduled to commence on 1 September 1950 or as soon thereafter as recruitment will permit. This training will include a Company Officer's Course and courses for EM in ~~light~~ infantry weapons, signal communications, motor maintenance (2nd echelon), weapons maintenance (2nd echelon), and engineer combat construction and demolitions. In the field of training, the above is to be the only American guidance offered to small units of the NJPR. This being the case, the support of Eta Jima appears to be a matter of the highest importance. As to logistics support, it is understood that the two basic sources will be the NJPR budget and Eighth Army facilities. Timely guidance from this headquarters is considered necessary, especially during the initial phase and until policies have been throughly established and universally understood.

b. In accordance with instructions thus far received, support of Eta Jima is to be made roughly as follows:

(1) From NJPR Budget:

(a) Messing of students.

(b) Medical care of students.

(c) Transportation of students between Kure and Eta Jima by contract ferry service.

(2) From Eighth Army facilities:

(a) Bedding for students.

(b) Training equipment, ammunition, supplies, and construction materials.

c. The CO Eta Jima School Command has been advised that special projects allocations or expenditures from NJPR funds must first be cleared through this Headquarters. Similarly, he was advised that he would follow normal supply channels in obtaining items covered by par 1.b.(2) above.

d. Major Jenkins, S-4 Eta Jima School Command, stated that training ammunition and weapons are available at Kobe in sufficient quantities (except carbines) to build up the school stocks in these items to initiate the training on schedule. The school has expressed some concern over its ability to procure unserviceable vehicles and weapons for use in connection with the motor maintenance and weapons maintenance courses respectively, and requested assistance from this Headquarters.

2. In addition to furnishing the School with help and assistance in the procurement of normal support, Logistics is requested to take whatever steps are necessary to equip the school with the following:

a. For the motor maintenance course:

(1) Forty unserviceable vehicles broken down as follows:
10 3/4-ton trucks (weapons carriers)
20 1/4-ton trucks (Weapons carriers)
10 2 1/2-ton trucks (cargo)

(2) Effect delivery to Eta Jima School by 1 September 1950.

b. For the weapons maintenance course:

(1) ~~One-hundred-forty-four~~ 212 unserviceable weapons broke down as follows:
40 Carbines, Cal .30.
20 Submachine guns, Cal .45, M3
20 Mortars, 60-mm.
20 Mortars, 81-mm.
20 Rocket Launchers, 2.36-in.
16 Machine guns, Cal .30, M1917A1
8 Machine guns, Cal .50.
16 Machine Guns, Cal. 30, M1919A6
20 BAR, Cal. 30.
16 57mm Rifle.
16 75mm Rifle.

(2) Effect delivery to Eta Jima School by 1 Sept 1950.

NOTE: If weapons and vehicles are not avilable in the quantities and types desired, any lesser number of the types requested will be of some help.
