PRINTED AND PUBLISHED DAILY BY JEROME BAYON.
FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 4, 1832.

GOVERNOR.
DAWSON.

We are authorized to announce JOHN R. GRIMES, Esq., as a candidate for a seat in the state legislature.

The northern mail furnishes regular dates. The New York papers afford intelligence from Paris to the 18th, and London to the 20th March.

NEW YORK, April 10.

TEN DAYS LATER FROM FRANCE.

By the packet ship Emmon, captain Orne, from Havre, we have Paris dates to the 15th of March, and Havre of the 16th, being ten days later than those received via London. The London dates by this arrival reach to the 13th.

ITALY.

The affairs of Italy excite great interest at the last advices. The London Courier of the 12th of March, says, "it is with pain we have to say, that notwithstanding the good feeling which exists between England and France, Lord Palmerston has thought it necessary to express great discontent at the occupation of Ancona by the French. The report in the highest circles, is that lord P. has sent a courier with instructions to our ambassador, lord Granville, that he should remonstrate against the conduct of the French ministers, and demand that the transferred flag should be withdrawn from the citadel of Ancona, and that the French troops should be immediately recalled. The remonstrance is, however, couched in amicable terms, and it is not probable that any serious misunderstanding will result. If there is any one thing, which we should consider more dangerous to our government than any other thing, it is the adoption hastily, of the views of other states against France."

SPAIN.

A Madrid paragraph of March 5, says there was considerable apprehensions of desertion in Don Pedro's from the Spanish army. On account of this, only the troops most to be trusted are sent to the frontiers of Portugal there are now 28,000 men besides the 18,000 in Galiquizo, 15,000 in Catalonia, and 15,000 in Burgos and Valladolid.

HOLLAND.

Count Orloff has not yet left the Hague for London. The King of Holland, so far from having agreed to ratify the act of conference, has again repeated in the strongest manner, his determination not to ratify it. The langu[illegible] Count Orloff is said to have been decided, and [illegible]. He was waiting at the Hague for despatches. [illegible] the prince of Orange is said to have remonstrated with his father on the imprudence of the course he is pursuing, which may involve him in a long and ruinous war, resulting in no possible advantage.

PARIS, March 12.—The following is given by the London Journal, "The Albion," on the authority of its Parisian correspondent, as the text of the Papal protest, of the existence of which mention has already been made in the Messenger, and other Parisian prints. We know not what reliance can be placed on the genuineness of this document, but it is not a little singular that the wording of it appears rather that of a relation of events than of a protest, and no less so than in an official document the name of the colonel in command should be left in blank.

"From the chamber of the Vatican, Feb. 28, 1832.

"The undersigned cardinal secretary of state has received by express from the pro legate of Ancona, and from the commander of that fortress, two similar reports, an event which, in the very friendly state of the relations existing between his holiness and his majesty the king of the French, after the repeated declarations of the government of his majesty that it wished to guarantee the integrity and independence of the states of the Holy See, and after the two notes addressed by the undersigned to your excellency, bearing the date of the 1st and 15th of February, appears absolutely incredible. This occurrence is probably known by this time to your excellency, and the undersigned has no doubt that you will be equally surprised at it.

"On the 22d of the present month the French squadron, consisting of the Suffren, of 90 guns; a frigate, the Artemise, of 60 guns; and the frigate Victorie, of 44 guns, coming from Algiers, the latter having still a portion of quarantine to perform, not having accomplished it at Toulon, presented itself before the city of Ancona, at a few miles distant from it. On the 22d of Feb. the Captain of the port went in the name of the Representative of his Holiness, to offer the Commander of the Squadron all that the latter might stand in need of, and also his own personal services. The commander of the squadron presented his grateful acknowledgements for the offers made him and declared that on the morning of the 23d he would enter the port, and that he would not fail to fire the usual salutes, which were to be returned by the fort. The etiquette to be observed in case the squadron should land was also agreed upon. Nothing occurred between the Papal authorities and the Commander of the French squadron which did not denote the most friendly understanding. The Commander of the squadron manifested some displeasure, solely on account of the remaining portion of quarantine which the frigate La Victorie had still to perform. On the 23d Feb. at 3 o'clock in the morning, the French troops landed clandestinely and placed ashore 1,500 men, who began by throwing down the gate called Marello, which was not guarded, and thence they proceeded to make themselves masters of the gates of the city, disarming at the same time the Papal Guards. They surprised with about one battalion, the guards of the dwelling of Colonel Lazzorino, Commander of the fort and city.—They then sent to the gates of the Colonel's residence a sergeant of the Papal Guards, whose voice was known to the people of the house, and at whose demand the doors were opened by them.

"Col. — immediately presented himself to the commander, and declared to him that he was a prisoner of war of France until such time as he ordered the fortress to be delivered up to him. The commander refused to do so, and the Colonel caused him to be conducted, with the Adjutant-Major of the Papal troops, to the palace of the Pro-Legate, to which place the Colonel himself returned, to intimate to the commander that he should not be set at liberty until the fortress was delivered up. Upon receiving another refusal he declared that the commander as well as the officers, functionaries, and military employes, were prisoners, permitting them, on the parole of the commander, permission to consider the city as their prison. About the same time, that is to say, at four o'clock in the morning, a superior officer introduced himself into the bed room of the Pro-Legate, accompanied by a Papal Officer, who had been previously on guard on the place; he declared to the Pro-Legate that he had occupied the military posts of the city, and he demanded the cession of the fortress, to avoid the shedding of blood. The Pro-Legate, surprised at such a proceeding from the troops of a friendly power, declared to the Colonel that he would not lend himself to such a demand, and protested both in words and in writings against this attack on the sovereignty of the Pope.—Such is the genuine history of the facts stated in the official reports which the undersigned has received.

"On being informed of all this, his Holiness, although persuaded that so serious an act against his sovereignty cannot proceed from the orders of his Majesty the King of the French, not from those of his Government, and that it has occurred without the knowledge of your Excellency, notwithstanding this, for the protection of his sovereign rights, he has commanded the undersigned to lay before your Excellency all the circumstances, and to declare as follows:

"His Holiness formally protests against the violation of the Papal territory which was accomplished on the morning of the 23d February by the French squadron, against all the attacks committed at the same time against his sovereignty, and against the infraction of the sanitary laws by the squadron, and declares the French Government responsible for whatever consequences may be the result of these acts. His Holiness demands that the French troops who have entered in a hostile manner into Ancona, do depart from that city immediately. Amidst the deep displeasure which his Holiness derives from such an unhappy event, he feels confident that he will obtain from the French Government, the just reparation which he demands. The Cardinal Secretary of State takes advantage of this opportunity, etc.

(Signed) C. BERNETTI.

The Journal du Commerce after quoting the above protest, adds that a letter from Genoa, brought to Marseilles by the steamboat Sully, announces that the ambassadors of the three great northern Powers have signified their approbation of the Protest, and that another letter, dated Rome, Feb. 28, received by the same conveyance, declares that the Count de Saint Aulaire has applied for his recal (donne sa demission.) The approbation of the Protest by the three Powers, we much doubt.

STILL LATER.

At a late hour this morning, the packet ship Hudson, Morgan, arrived from London, bringing dates from that city to the 20th of March. Our papers not having reached us, we are indebted to the kindness of the editors of the Journal of Commerce for the loan of a file to the evening of the 19th of March inclusive.

The Pestilence.—The increase of the Cholera has been alarmingly great, since the advices of yesterday. On the 17th, there were 155 new cases in the north county, and 61 deaths. In London, on the 18th, there were 72 new cases, and 41 deaths. Total number of cases, 6878, more than 1000 since the advices of yesterday. Of deaths, the total is swelled to the number of 2025.

The Reform Bill has at length been passed through in committee of the whole, of the Commons, and was to be read the third time on the evening of the 19th. The Courier thinks there would be no material falling off on the final vote.

The London Courier of the 19th, says that Prince Talleyrand the French ambassador, and Mr. Van Buren, the minister from the United States, had interviews with Viscount Palmerston on Saturday, at the Foreign office.

Discussions are going on between the French and English papers respecting the landing of the French at Ancona. The Courier is very confident that there will be a majority in the Lords for the second reading of the bill, of from ten to twenty—perhaps more—as it was believed the bench of Bishops would go for the second reading.

Imprisonment of Dr. Howe.—We regret to learn that our estimable and patriotic friend, Dr. S. G. Howe, late the efficient agent of the Greek committee of this city, who was sent to Berlin by the Polish committee of Paris, of which he is a member, for the purpose of distributing relief to the refugees traversing Prussia on their way to France, has been arrested at Berlin, and thrown into prison. When the letter which brought this intelligence was sent off, none of his friends had been allowed access to him.

From the London Courier of the 19th March.

PORTUGAL.

Letters from Lisbon of the 30th ult. state that, after the arrival of the Sandwich packet on the 29th of Feb. with London newspapers of the 23d, additional exertions were made to dispatch the reinforcement of troops to Madeira, and the corvette, a brig of war, four store ships, and five small schooners had that morning put to sea, having on board from 1000 to 1200 troops, in the hopes of reaching Madeira before the arrival of Don Pedro.

Lisbon was in a state of great excitement, and many of Don Pedro's manifestoes and proclamations had not only been circulated, but actually pasted on the convent and church doors, and even close to the gates of the arsenal.

Political arrests were occurring daily.

Don Miguel had gone up the river to a palace about twenty miles from Lisbon upon a shooting excursion.

The Constitutionalists were highly delighted at the intelligence contained in the Courier of the 23d of February, that the English and French governments had interposed to prevent Spain from interfering in the affairs of Portugal. That she meant to have done so there can be no doubt, as the troops were on the frontiers.

The Lisbon Gazette contains a letter, written, it states, from Terceira, which gives an account of the troops of Don Pedro in the island, amounting only to 5,000 men, half of whom were conscripts, compelled to the service, and retained in it by martial law. So far, we understand (says the Courier,) from this being the case, his army there amounts to upwards of 6,000picked men, of whom only 1,800 are recruits, and of those the majority are volunteers.

Don Pedro had arrived at Terceira for the purpose, as has been previously stated, of being formally declared regent. He was received with the greatest enthusiasm.

Liverpool, March 17.—The Atalanta arrived at this port on Friday night, in eleven days from Terceira. Don Pedro, who arrived at St. Michals on the 23d ult. reached Terceira on the 2d inst. He landed amidst the thunder of artillery and the shouts of his followers. The event was celebrated with the most enthusiastic demonstrations of joy by the troops and the inhabitants. Several of the transports which accompanied Don Pedro from Belleisle, had previously arrived at Terceira, and had landed the volunteers they had brought from Europe. The total force collected at that place were estimated at 10,000 to 15,000 men. The troops were all regimented, and drilled with great activity. The general belief at Terceira was, that the expedition for the invasion of Portugal would be ready to sail early in May.

FRANCE.

Letters and papers from the French capital, are to the 17th March, inclusive. There are further indications of hostility between the peers and deputies. Great indignation is felt at the reduction of the salaries of the marshals of France—already, as it was contended, too small. The pay of a French soldier is half a penny a day, and the officers in the same beggarly proportion. Gen. Belliard is dead. His funeral was attended on the 17th, with great pomp, but little solemnity.

Disturbances in the south of France.

Accounts from Toulon of the 11th ult. mention an attempt to fire the arsenal, said to be the third of the kind. It is ascribed to conspirators against the government, who are retained in its pay. There were disturbances in Grenoble on the 12th, 13th and 14th, occasioned by a masque ball procession, in which the king and the university were burlesqued. The prefect and colonel commanding the department, were made prisoners in their own houses by the mob, and the latter was compelled to order his regiment to leave the town, for which he was afterwards dismissed. The carnival likewise gave occasion to disturbances in other quarters, which were suffered to be fomented by the faction of the carlists.

From the Messager des Chambres of 17th.

"The passions excited by the Dutch government among its subjects against the Belgians and the French have just occasioned a most unfortunate event, and one which may have serious consequences. We allude to an act of public violence committed at Rotterdam against the consul of France, who was torn from his carriage and threatened to be flung into the water.

GREECE.

Letters from Greece state that the opposition positively reject the nomination of Prince Otho as king of Greece, and that nothing but foreign interference can force him upon the country. Under this king of fifteen years old, Greece would, they maintain, be governed by Russia, and become a province of the Czar, even if protected by a constitution, which it is so easy for sovereigns to violate or set aside. The two thirds of the Peloponnesus, says the letter, are willing until the Roumeliote chiefs have passed the Isthmus of Corinth to join the 5000 men placed under their command. When the junction has taken place, they will put down the remains of the faction which has governed them for three years. The troops of Colocotroni become daily more unwilling to follow him. A great number of soldiers have refused to proceed thither.

LONDON, March 19.

Advices from Bordeaux have reached the city that the ships La Suzanne and La Bordelais have been chartered there for Don Pedro, and that seamen are hired at that place and sent to La Rochelle, from whence an armament is fitting out at Terceira. Nine merchantmen were to sail on the 10th or 12th instant to join the expedition at Terceira.

PARIS, March 16.

M. Berrier, who lately attempted to drive his cabriolet over Louis Philipe, was brought before the chamber of accusation, who declared that the accusations were not sufficiently authenticated. The attorney general has, however, moved for his further imprisonment, in order to bring forward new counts.

News from Hungary speaks of the people having determined to render themselves independent of the Austrian government by forming a government of their own, under a scion of the Austrian family, to protect their liberties from Metternich.

The Moniteur of this morning states, that an official dispatch from Lyons, was received at 2 o'clock yesterday, to announce that the national guard had rallied and established tranquility in Grenoble, and that Lyons continued in the greatest quiet.

March 17.

The evacuation of Ancona is expected very soon, and as it has been so energetically required by the other powers. However, the ministerial journal, the Nouvelliste, denied formally yesterday evening, that orders have been sent for the removal of the troops from Ancona.

Great diplomatic discussions now take place, but nothing certain appears decided, nor are there any advances made.

Capt. Gallois, the commodore of the squadron which went to Ancona, is to be tried by a court martial at Toulon.

COMMERCIAL RECORD.

MARKETS.

LIVERPOOL, March 17.—Cotton Market.—The business of the week has again been very extensive, and a further advance has been realized on all descriptions. The fair to good qualities of Pernams and Marahams, and the lower kinds of Uplands and Orleans, all of which are scarce, have been most affected by the demand; but all sorts, whether of Am. or Brazil, have been more ready of sale, and we raise our quotations generally ¼d per pound. The new Mobile from the staple, being so remarkably good, have been selling at 7d per lb., though of not more than fair quality.

Sea Islands have been inquired after, and there is little or nothing upon the market under 10½d to 11d per lb and only a few at these prices.

East India cottons continue scarce, and in request.—1300 Surats and 100 Manillas are advertised by auction on Friday next. The sales of the week, including 4,000 bales American, 600 Bahia, and 300 Maranhams taken on speculation, amount to 25,970 bags, viz: 690 Sea Island Georgia 10½ a 16d; 20 stained do 7¾ cents to 9; 12,100 Uplands do 6d to 7½; 5,140 New Orleans 6¾ to 8½d; 980 Pernambuco 8½ a 9½d; 2400 Bahia and Maracaibo 6½ a 7½; 1050 Maranham 7d to 8½d; 20 Minas 6¾; 890 Egyptian 7¼ to 8½d; and 480 Surat, at 4½d to 5½d per lb. Import 17,115 bags.

THE MARKETS.—This Day. Corn Exchange. There was a short supply of wheat from the home counties today, and the trade is rather brisk for the finest qualities, and last Monday's prices were fully maintained; but the ordinary sorts continue as dull as ever, having no demand for them.

HAVRE MARKET, March 12.—For the week. During the week 17 vessels have arrived from the United States, loaded chiefly with cotton. The whole arrivals of cotton are 13,285 bales. Sales 4864 bales, viz. 1984 Orleans at 90f a 105f 50 free; 2708 Georgia at 83 at 95f; 542 Alabama, Tennessee, &c. at 77 a 85f; 200 Virginia at 86f. Notwithstanding the extensive arrivals, the demand has continued animated, and the increased stock far from dampening the market, has in connexion with the news from the United States, rendered more firm and an advance has been obtained on some sorts of ½a 2f. Speculations have opened a little. The good and fine sorts are held highest Georgias are in good demand—they answer for all purposes. Present stocks 32,000 bales. Sugars heavy.
