NEW-ORLEANS:
MONDAY MORNING, AUGUST 12, 1844.

ALABAMA.

The Advertiser of Saturday brings us the returns from a number of counties in South Alabama. They look well and prove the truth of the remark that the progress of the whig cause is onward even in Alabama.

In addition to the returns heretofore furnished we learn that Butler elects two whigs by about 250 majority. Whig gain of one member.

Washington county is redeemed. Colonel Prince (w) is elected to the Legislature. Whig majority 132.—Last year loco majority 30—whig gain ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-TWO.

Dallas is right side up. She gives Watrous 100 majority and elects two whigs to the Legislature.

Monroe gives 250 whig majority and elects two whigs—one gain.

Perry gives a loco majority of 38 and elects the locofoco ticket to the Legislature. Whig loss of one member.

Lowndes county gives 65 whig majority for Congress and elects a full whig ticket—being a gain of one member.

In addition to the above, we learn that the whigs have triumphed in the following counties, to wit:—Macon, one Representative; Russell, one; Chambers, two; Tallapoosa, one; Marengo, two; and Greene, three, being a whig gain of one each, in Chambers and Tallapoosa.

The locos have carried the counties of Autauga, two; Coosa, one; Clark, one; and Conecuh, one. Being a locofoco gain of one in Conecuh.

Pike has elected one whig and one loco, and so has Henry. A whig gain of one in Pike.

We give below a recapitulation of the returns for Representatives, as far as received, with the whig gain and losses:—

Counties.	Whig	Loco	W gain	W loss.
Mobile	1	3		1
Baldwin	1		1
Washington	1		1
Clarke		1
Marengo	2
Greene	3

Autauga		2
Coosa		1
Macon	1
Tallapoosa	1		1
Chambers	2		1

	28	13	8	3

Thus, it will be seen, as far as heard from, the whigs have gained eight representatives and lost three. Net whig gain five. This will do to begin with.

NORTH CAROLINA.

We are indebted to the politeness of the Hon. C. M. CONRAD, who came through North Carolina on his way hither, for the following authentic returns from that State. They are conclusive of the result. The Whigs have doubtless elected WM A. GRAHAM Governor, by a majority not differing materially from that given to MOREHEAD two years ago. GRAHAM's majority will range between 3,500 and 5,000. We have strong hopes, too, that the Whigs have revolutionized the Legislature, as the returns show, that in some 13 counties they have gained 8 members. We add to the statement furnished by Mr. CONRAD, the vote of one or two more counties received by mail.

Locofoco gain 257

There is a net Locofoco gain of 257 in these 18 counties, which, it will be remarked, comprise most of the strong locofoco counties in the State. The Charleston Mercury gives the majorities correctly, but makes a mistake of nearly 500 in the footing up, and thus makes the Locofoco gain much larger than it is.

We have no doubt that in the Western Counties the Whig gain will be far greater than the Democratic gain in the East.

LEGISLATURE.—The Whigs gain one member in Chatham, 4 in Orange, 2 in Johnston, 2 in Northampton, 1 in Hertford and Bertie, and 1 in Brunswick—11. The Locofocos gain 1 in Franklin and 2 in Robeson—Nett Whig gain, 8.

☞ We congratulate our friend and fellow-whig, Major Kelly, on his election as printer to the State Convention. It had been our intention to become a candidate for the office, but when we learned that our confrere was a competitor, we declined running, both because we did not wish to jeopard the success of a wing candidate, and because we thought the country press fully entitled to the honors and emoluments of the office. The Convention could not have made a better choice.

☞ On Tuesday, the 30th ult, Jones, Anderson, Hazleton and Johnson, the pirates of the Saladin, were executed at Halifax, N. S.

The prisoners arrived at the gallows about ten o'clock, accompanied by four clergymen. They ascended the scaffold with much firmness, and their whole behavior was decent and becoming. They remained engaged in devotion with their respective clergymen about half an hour. The ropes were then adjusted round their necks—they shook hands with each other, and with much piety took leave of their clergymen. Before their caps were drawn down, which was to shut out the light of the sun and the light of this glorious creation from their eyes, Jones stepped a pace forward, and, addressing the crowd, said: "Good-bye, fellow countrymen; I am brought to this by my bad conduct, and I deserve my fate. I hope you will take warning by me. I am an Irishman, and came from the county of Clare. Good-bye my countrymen."

None of the other prisoners spoke a word after they ascended the scaffold, except what they said in a low voice to their clergymen. The caps were then drawn over their faces, and immediately afterwards the drop fell. They exhibited but little signs of suffering, and in a short time their souls were in eternity.

☞ Joseph Holleman, Esq., member elect to the Virginia House of Delegates, from the Isle of Wight, died at his residence on the 1st instant, of a chronic affection of the heart. He had been a member of Congress from the Norfolk district, and was afterwards speaker of the House of Delegates in Virginia.

☞ Judge LILLESTON, of Indiana, whom the locos claim as a convert to Polk and Dallas, in a card addressed to the citizens of Vanderburg county, announces himself as a candidate for the Legislature, and declares that though a democrat, he votes for HENRY CLAY.—We have read his address, so please strike his name from the lists Messrs. Locofocos.

THE WHIG SPIRIT.—Since our last publication, we have read accounts of a Convention 10,000 strong, at Madison, Indiana; another of 8000 at Gibson, Indiana, another of 6000 at Lexington, Kentucky, and one of 4000 in Iredell county, N. C. This gives a faint idea of the spirit abroad throughout the country. The locofocos will fight with desperation, but nothing can resist the genuine whig enthusiasm that pervades the land.

☞ The Philadelphia papers are filled with details of a most glorious and enthusiastic whig gathering in the Locofoco stronghold of Montgomery. The meeting numbered TEN THOUSAND, while a locofoco assemblage, held the same day, did not comprise one-fourth that number. Truly the good cause is making triumphant [illegible]

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

☞ Edward Conway, a native of Ireland, aged 23 years, employed as a waiter at the St Charles Hotel, fell from the fifth story, in the rear of that building, on Saturday morning, about one o'clock, striking with his head upon a pile of coal, breaking both arms, and being otherwise so severely injured that he died in about three quarters of an hour afterwards. It is supposed that he got out of bed, being unable to sleep, and went into the passage to cool himself, and while leaning over the railing at the end of the passage, fell asleep and tumbled over. When taken up by some of the servants who heard his moans, he was unable to give any account of the accident. The deceased was a very attentive and excellent servant.

FIRE.—About 11 o'clock on Saturday, a fire broke out in a small frame building, at the corner of Rampart and Toulouse streets, occupied by Mr. Dufour, as a cabaret. The roof was consumed and the contents of the store much damaged, but owing to the prompt exertions of the firemen, no further damage was done.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—Alderman Benit, acting as coroner, held an inquest on Saturday, on the body of a white man, name unknown, found floating in the river opposite St. Joseph street. Verdict—found drowned.

☞ On Friday evening, two Frenchmen went into the river to bathe, alongside of the First Municipality Landing, and got out of their depth, when being unable to swim, one of them named Baptiste Gratiet, employed as a waiter at Pons Coffee-house, near the Beef Market, was drowned, and the other saved himself by getting hold of the chain cable of a vessel. The body of the drowned man was found the next day at the foot of Ursuline street, and an inquest held by acting Coroner Benit, when a verdict was returned of found drowned.

☞ We learn by the Lafayette Sentinel, that on Friday the batture at Carrollton, near the Race Course, broke away about midnight, carrying a man named Peter Emery into the water, where he was drowned. The river on Saturday was but one foot from the main levee, which was fast caving in, and at that point the water was 30 feet deep. Application was made yesterday to the Mayor of New Orleans for a large force to assist in making a new levee in place of the old one, as strong fears were entertained that a crevasse would ensue.

We have since heard that the levee again caved in yesterday, to a considerable extent, and that there is now thirty-five feet water close to the bank, under which it is undermining. The levee is now only eight feet in width, and it is feared that if another fall of earth takes place, a serious crevasse will be the result. The Mayor of our city, Recorder Genois and several other gentlemen were on the spot yesterday, and we may rest assured that every thing will be done which the circumstances of the case renders necessary to guard against the danger of an overflow.

ALMOST A CREVASSE.—The Iberville Gazette, of Saturday says:—A land slide took place last week, near the plantation of Colonel Reames, a little above Bayou Plaquemine. The land for two acres, caved into the river, in some places, taking a part of the levee along with it, but leaving enough to prevent the water from breaking through until a new levee was made.

☞ We regret that the accounts of Colonel Stone's health remain unfavorable. He is in an uncertain balance between life and death, and there are many who will utter a fervent wish that he may be raised up again from his bed of sickness.

ARRIVAL OF THE CALEDONIA.
FIFTEEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE

The steamer Caledonia arrived at Boston on the 1st inst., making a passage of less than thirteen days.—By this arrival we have received papers from London and Liverpool to the 19th ult. The Caledonia brought 93 passengers from Liverpool and 10 from Halifax.

The Cotton Market was depressed in consequence of the great supply, but other business was active. The stock in Liverpool had swelled to the unprecedented amount of upwards of one million of bales.

Scholefield, M. P. for Birmingham, died on the 14th. Mr. Spencer, a Conservative, has been elected in his stead.

The House of Lords have decided against the claims of Sir Augustus d'Este, in the Sussex peerage case.—They have decided that the marriage between the late Duke of Sussex and Lady Augusta Murray, however valid in every essential to a marriage as such, is against the provisions of the Royal Marriage Act, and is therefore not considered a marriage by the English law.

In the House of Lords on the 4th, the subject of opening private letters in the Post office was discussed.—The Earl of Radnor moved a secret committee to enquire into the alledged facts, and in his speech supporting his motion he spoke at length of the importance of the subject to the honor of the country. It is certain, he said, that private letters had thus been opened, and he doubted the authority for doing it. He denounced particularly the practice of spying into the letters of foreigners residing in England, as at war with the hospitality and free principles of which Great Britain boasts, and characterized it as insulting and infamous. The letters of two foreigners, Mr. Mazzini and Capt. Stolzberg, were known to have been thus opened, and if a committee were granted he offered to prove that the same thing had been done in other cases. He thought the practice amounted to "falsehood, forgery and treachery" on the part of the Government. The Duke of Wellington justified the practice on the grounds of the public welfare, but concurred in the appointment of a committee to enquire into the law. In reply to enquiries the Earl of Aberdeen denied that the letters thus opened were ever communicated to foreign powers. The committee was appointed with a Whig majority of one.

Dalmas, who was lately found guilty and convicted of a most horrible and apparently premeditated murder, and was therefore, sentenced to death, but, on a suggestion of insanity, subjected to medical examination, has been pardoned, on condition of transportation for life. The Times denounces this decision as most extraordinary and unjustifiable. It says:

"Either this man was so mad as to be unable to distinguish right from wrong, or he was not. If he was, he ought to have been absolutely pardoned, and kept for the remainder of his life in a mad-house, where he could do no mischief; and if he was not, he ought undoubtedly to have been hanged."

The Times closes an article on the despatch of Capt. Elliott concerning Texas and Great Britain with the following remarks,—which have at least a very official tone:

It is scarcely necessary to repeat the assurances which Her Majesty's Government and their various representatives have at all times been eager to give, that the adjustment of the dispute with Mexico and the maintenance of the independence of Texas have been the sole object (for they are, in fact, one and the same thing) which England had in view. Nor can we condescend to reply to the American journals, which have attempted to extract from Capt. Elliott's temperate and rather colourless despatch evidence of a predisposition on the part of the British Government to thwart the policy of the United States. Undoubtedly when we see an American President exerting military powers which the Constitution has not given him, and signing the treaties for the acquisition of territory which the Senate disowns, we are at liberty to reprobate acts which the constitutional powers of the Union do not confirm or adopt. But the opposition of England to the policy of the United States towards Texas is no more than a legitimate resistance of these exhorbitant pretensions, and though she has sought, in conjunction with France, to dissuade the contracting powers from a treaty which would inevitably have led to war, she has emphatically disavowed those designs upon which one of the arguments for the treaty was falsely based, and she still hopes that the independence of Texas will not only be acknowledged by Mexico, but respected by all other Powers, and defended by the authorities of that commonwealth.

The Dublin correspondent of the Times says that through the efforts of the Catholic clergy the Repeal agitation is kept up in the provinces, especially in the south and west. A monster meeting was held in the county of Waterford, at which a parish priest presided and pledged the support of the clergy to O'Connell.

The quarterly returns of the revenue of Great Britain present very favorable results. The four important items of Customs, Excise, Stamps and Taxes present an aggregate increase over the corresponding items of the quarter ending July 5, 1843, of 448 574l. The increase respectively on the entire year ending July 5, 1844, is the somewhat startling sum of 835,349l for the customs, and 420 073l for the excise. The total income of the year just ended exceeds that of the year previous by a sum of no less than 2,440,336l.

The money from China, which in the amount received in the quarter ending July 5, 1843, appears to have exceeded that received in the quarter just terminated by somewhere about 600,000l, and upon the aggregate revenue of the whole year ending in July, 1843, seems to have supplied a still larger excess above the amount received from the same source in the year just ended, has caused an apparent diminution of 176,-299l in the revenue of the quarter now ended, as compared with that of the corresponding quarter of the preceding year; if, however, the China money be deducted, an increase in the quarter will result of somewhere about 400,000l, and on the year of upwards of 3,000,000l.—Times.

The writ of error in the case of O'Connell has been argued in the House of Lords for several days in succession, but with little hope of success on the part of the plaintiffs in error.

The funeral of the poet Campbell took place on the 3d ult., with a good deal of ceremony. It was attended by a very large concourse of his friends and admirers, consisting of noblemen, members of Parliament and literary gentlemen.

A new comet has been discovered. M. Arago announced to the Academy of Sciences that M. Mauvais had discovered in the constellation of Hercules a nebulosity which he suspected to be a comet. The observations made at London and elsewhere fully confirmed that supposition, and the new star had already been seen in two different positions. The First Assistant of the Royal Observatory at Greenwich says, "It is very faint, nearly circular, having an ill defined planetary nucleus surrounded by a coma. Its brightness is considerable, and may be easily found with a small telescope." An observer at Kensington says: "It is very faint, but no observation of the times of the increment, and-less place in ... [illegible]

FRANCE, MOROCCO AND ALGIERS.—The Prince de Joinville has arrived with his squadron on the coast of Morocco, and has taken possession of the town of Ouchda. The object of the expedition is to strike terror into the ranks of the Emperor of Morocco, and compel him to maintain peace relations with France.

The "dotation" question—the question of a provision for the younger branches of the Orleans family, keeps France in a ferment, and Louis Phillippe, it is clear, has not only injured his own popularity, but endangered his dynasty by the proposition.

The National publishes a list of the property said to belong to the House of Orleans. It gives a total of 16,771,704 francs, to which "must be added more than 16,000,000f. which the Duke of Orleans received as heir to his father, and this will increase it to more than 28,000,000 francs, the sums received by the 'unfortunate family' for which public charity is now demanded.

PORTUGAL.—The estimates usually presented to the Cortes, at this period of the year, (the Chambers being dispensed with) are laid before the public. The expenditure of the Treasury for the future fiscal year, beginning the 15th inst., is estimated at 8,148 contos.—The receipts of the Treasury for the last year, are estimated at 7,520, leaving a deficit of 541 contos, less by donations of their Majesties, 87.

SPAIN.—The Madrid Gazette of the 1st contains revolting particulars of the executions in only one district of Catalonia. About 300 in all had been executed.

Seditious cries of "Long live Espartero!" "Death to the tyrants!" had been raised at Murcia on the 29th ult, by about 20 persons, of whom four were arrested.

The following is an extract of a letter dated Barcelona, on the 1st inst: "It is certain that a decree will be published on the 10th instant, dissolving the Cortes, and assembling the new Chambers for the 10th of October; and that in the same decree the Government will make known its system of government."

FOREIGN.

The principal foreign interest of the last fortnight is centred in the squabble between France and Morocco, which is in a fair way, it will be seen, of adjustment.—France has no desire to extend its dominions in Africa, and the Emperor of Morocco finds his cue in beating a breach with so formidable a foe. The result will be to limit the range of Abd-el-Kader's power of doing mischief, and thereby to consolidate the French possessions of Algeria. Near home, Louis Philippe has been getting into disgrace by calling upon the nation to make provision for the members of his family. We have gone somewhat into detail on the subject in another column. Such a demand, coming from a crowned head, personally, the richest sovereign in Europe, has given a formidable stab to his popularity. Patrimony in a man, and more especially in a monarch, is equivalent in the world's eye to a moral stain in the character of the other sex—il n'en coûte bonne mines, which are never forgotten or forgiven. Punch last week had a capital cut at the "Citizen King," who is pictured as le pauvre malheureux, going round with his hat, asking for sous. The other foreign events since our last are destitute of interest, if we except Spain, where the work of butchery progresses in the inverse ratio of the country's tranquility.—Wilmer's European Times.

"On the 13th instant," says an Irish paper, "Mr. O'Connell commenced his great literary labour, his 'Life and Times,' or by what other style and title his projected autobiography is to be distinguished, employing Mr. O'Neill Daunt as his amanuensis."

It is calculated that the O'Connell tribute this year will reach £ 40,000.

The Queen has been pleased to approve of Mr. Michael Kennedy as Consul at Galway, for the United States of America.

Lieut. Munro, who shot Col. Fawcett in a duel, is at present residing in Hamburgh, with his wife and family.

The notorious Prince of Peace, who was Prime Minister under Ferdinand VII., has arrived at Madrid.

The total amount of imports into France last year was 1,150,000,000 francs, about £ 46,000,000 sterling; the exports 992,000,000 francs, about £ 39,680,000 sterling.

MARINE DISASTER.—The brig Colore, Capt. Shepard, bound to Boston, when going to sea on Sunday afternoon, about four o'clock, in charge of the pilot, off Tybee, was struck by a squall, which carried away her main top mast at the head, fore top gallant-mast and top-mast, split fore top sail, fore top gallant-sail and jib, and sustained other damage. The Captain finding it impossible to proceed to sea in the disabled condition of his vessel, returned yesterday in tow of steamer J. Stoney, to repair.—Savannah Republican, 6th.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Per steamship Caledonia at Boston.)

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET—JULY 5.

Business, generally, has been with a fair demand from the trade, and prices rather in favor of the buyer; the inquiry has slackened, and we close at the quotations of Friday last. Speculators have taken 9,000 bales, and the exporters about 4,000 bales.

JULY 12.—There has been a fair demand from the trade this week, and speculators have taken a fair quantity of Cotton, but the stock has been so well supplied, that prices are unchanged. The sales ... about 46,000 bales, ... speculators have taken 1,... [illegible]

JULY 19.—The market has given way since our last publication, under the pressure of heavy supplies. The demand from the trade has continued steady during the week, and there has been a moderate enquiry for export. The American sorts have sold at a decline of ⅛d per lb since last week. Buyers have had a large supply to choose from, and the trade has by no means a settled appearance. The sales have been this week about 37,000 bales, and the sales since Friday amount to ... bales. Fair Uplands have been very sparingly offered. Prices to-day:—Bowed, ordinary, 3½; middling, 4½; fair, 4½; good fair, 5¼; good and choice, 5½; New Orleans ordinary 3½; middling, 4½; fair, 4⅞; good fair, 5½; good and choice, 5¾; Mobile, ordinary, 3¼; middling, 4¼; fair, 4⅝; good fair, 5¼; good and choice, 5½.

(PRIVATE CORRESPONDENCE.)

LIVERPOOL, JULY 19, 1844.

Although the stock of Cotton in our port at this time last year was so much beyond all former precedent, yet the present stock is 80,000 bales in excess of it, and amounts to 1,000,000 bales. The stock of American is estimated at 780,000, being 20,000 above the maximum of that description last season.

The weight of this stock has been much felt in our market since the departure of last steamer, and though the consumers have continued to buy steadily and to a fair extent, the quantity offering has so greatly exceeded the demand as to have caused a decline of ⅛d per lb upon the ordinary and middling qualities, with particularly in the ordinary and middling qualities, with which the market is so superabundantly supplied. Trade at Manchester continues decidedly good, and but for the favorable influence we should most probably have to report a greater depression here, as the speculative demand has been nearly or quite suspended for a fortnight past. The sales for the week ended 5th inst were 46,000 bales, and for that ended 12th inst the business amounted to 32,930 bales. Of the latter 11,850 were Upland at 3¼ to 5¼d; 11,990 Orleans at 3¼ to 6d, with 50 bales fancy marks at 7½ to 8d; 4,000 Alabama and Mobile at 4 to 5½, and 400 Sea Islands at 13 to 19d. The sales for the five days of this week have amounted to about 21,000 bales. We quote Upland, 3¼ to 4½, fair, 4⅜; Orleans, 3½ to 4½, fair, 5½; Mobile 4½ to 4⅞, fair, 5¼, and Alabama and Tennessee 4½ to 4⅞.

The Corn markets are in a state of extreme depression from the very promising prospect for the Wheat harvest and the improved appearance of the crops of Oats etc. The quotation for bonded Flour is 19s to 20s. ⅌ barrel.

HAVRE COTTON MARKET—JULY 13

The arrival of advices from the United States up to the 16th ult, introduced more spirit into our cotton-market, and caused prices to advance ½f. The demand has, however slackened, and the amendment has been lost. The day's business comprised about 1,500 bales

HAVRE—JULY 16

On Saturday last, there was good feeling manifested in our market, and 2,700 bales United States descriptions were changed hands. Prices, which had declined ¼f, recovered immediately. Yesterday, Monday, at the opening, the demand again became dull, owing to the unfavorable advices from Liverpool up to the 13th instant, and only 1,500 bales were taken for consumption, but no change has occurred in prices.

We are now looking for New York dates to 1st instant by the Acadia steamer.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 17.

I wrote you yesterday morning. The demand since became spirited, and yesterday evening the sales amounted to 3,000 bales United States Cottons at well supported prices, but, to-day, notwithstanding the favorable tenor of the advices brought from the other side of the Atlantic by the Acadia steamer, which left the United States on the 1st instant the market assumed again a dull aspect, and the sales were very moderate. Upon the whole, we have no change to notice in prices, although the accounts are not encouraging.

ANTWERP—JULY 10.—Our Cotton market is firm, at previous rates and 1,000 bales Louisiana and Georgia have changed hands to-day.

HAMBURGH JULY 8.—The transactions in Cotton during the last week comprised 1,000 bales New Orleans, at 4½d. to 4½d. sch. being previous rates.

AT THE FINE GREEN OAKS OF BILOXI.
NOTICE TO PERSONS DESIRING OF PASSING THE SUMMER IN THE COUNTRY.
The country house of Mad. PRADAT has been opened to the public since the first of June last.
The splendid establishment which is maintained at great cost and with extreme care, offers every source of amusement; which is vainly sought for elsewhere. Cool apartments, charming gardens, a variety of games abundant fishing, delicious promenades, a choice table and faithful and attentive servants.
A bar, copiously supplied with the choicest wines and liquors, has been established on the grounds, and an excellent billiard room has been added to the various pastimes which are proffered to guests.
For the convenience of travellers, Madame Pradat has had built opposite her residence a wharf which enables steamboats to land passengers at all hours.
Madame Pradat flatters herself that her constant efforts to please the public will ensure her a continuance of the patronage heretofore extended to her

THIRTY DOLLARS REWARD.—The negro woman CASSEY, or KATHARINE, well known in this city as a marchande, ranaway from my residence on the 16th May last. She is about 40 to 45 years of age. Her front teeth in the upper jaw are wanting. She has a small wen near the left temple close by the ear, occasioned by an accident on the railroad—She is middling sized and well built. She was in the habit of vending her wares especially on board of steamboats. The above reward will be paid to whoever will lodge her in one of our jails, or ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS will be given if she be apprehended out of the State. Captains of vessels and others are cautioned not to harbor said slave on pain of prosecution to the utmost rigor of the law. F REYNAUD.
