At the time of your assnmption of office as official, whether or not the arrangement that the previous approval be obtained from the Zaibatsu or the direct Zaibatsu affiliate regarding assumption of the position of official existed between the Zaibatsu company where you served and the Zaibatsu or the direct Zaibatsu affiliates.

b. Details of circumstances under whicn you assumed the position of official; particularly whether or not the Zaibatsu or the direct Zaibatsu affiliate was concerned in approving your assumption of office.

(A)

I was elected a director of the Mitsui Steamship Company, Ltd., on June 18, 1946. The Mitsui Honsha, Ltd., its parent Company, had renounced as early as October, 1945, all its rights as a holding company, in line with the Allied policy of dissolving Zaibatsu; and in December of the same year, all the directors of the holding company resigned, with the exception of a few to act as liquidators. Being then in preparation for the formal dissolution, the Mitsui Honsha, Ltd., had nothing to do with my election to the Board of the Mitsui Steamship Company, Ltd., either before or after the said election.

My election to the Board of the Company was partly in recognition of my services for long years, and partly to give me a better standing in the business world. I was not in touch with the affairs of the Company during my encumbency of only six months.

(B)

I was elected a director of the Saikai Kisen Kaisha, Ltd., on May 15, 1946, and was co-opted a managing director on November 30, same year.

The Saikai Kisen Kaisha, Ltd., then lacked men experienced in shipping business, and failed to live up to the expectation of the Maritime Bureau of the Government. Since I happened to be manager of the Moji Branch of the Mitsui Steamship Company, Ltd., and close to the head-office of the Saikai Company, I was strongly urged by the General Maritime Bureau to join the latter company as a means of strengthening its management through the application of my many years' experience in the shipping operation. This fact is proved by the certificate of the Director of the General Maritime Bureau, appended hereto.

This fact is proved by the certificate of the Director of the General Maritime Bureau, appended hereto.

It is true that the Saikai Kisen Kaisha, Ltd., was a subsidiary of the Mitsui Steamship Company, Ltd., through its ownership of 40% of the stocks issued. There was no written arrangement between the two company regarding the selection of officials of the subsidiary company. Since the renunciation by the Mitsui [illegible], Ltd., of its rights as a holding company as early as October, 1945, the Mitsui Steamship Company, Ltd., too was following the example, and exercised increasingly smaller degree of control over its subsidiaties, in conformity with the Allied policy.

The Saikai Kisen Kaisha, Ltd., became a Mitsui Steamship Company affiliate as later as 1944. The management of the Saikai Company was in the hands of men led by the President who was an ex-Navy officer. Hence its relations with the Mitsui Steamship Company, Ltd., were much remoter than in the cases of some other subsidiaries. With the rise of the trend of Zaibatsu dissolution, the Saikai Company tended to be more and more undependent. Under such circumstances, there never was any approval obtained from the Mitsui Steamship Company, Ltd., for my election to be a director and later a managing director.

For your information, the Mitsui Steamship Company, Ltd., on a notice from the HCLC of October, 1946, came under the order of the Commission in the exercise of its voting power in its subsidiaries. I became a managing director of the Saikai Company after the said event. This is another clear proof that the Mitsui Steamship Company, Ltd., had no part in my assumption of the position of a managing director.

Sir:

Please cirtify, as the chief of Transport Section of the time, that the following statement is true and correct.

Circumstances of my assuming directorship of the Saikai Steamship Company are:

1. The Kyushu Maritime Board, the authority in direct charge, expressed to the General Maritime Board dissatisfaction over too conservative an attitude of the then officers of the Saikai Steamship Company, in commencing the operation of a regular service to Iki and Tsushima Islands from Northern Kyushu in early 1946.

2. You, the then chief of the Transport Section, the General Maritime Board, suggested to the Mitsui Steamship Company to make a suitable excutive available to the Saikai Steamship Company in order to buttress its management.

3. Whereupon the Mitsui Steamship Company determined to recommend me to the Saikai Steamship Company, because I was then stationed at Moji as manager of Company's Branch there, and most conveniently located to fill the new position.

4. It was under such circumstances that I was elected a director of the Saikai Steamship Company on May 8, 1946. Then, on June 18, 1946, I was elected a director of the Mitsui Steamship Company. This position was a nominal and honorary one, from which I resigned on Dec. 10, 1946, following my assumption of the post of senior managing director of the Saikai Steamship Company on Nov. 30, 1946.

As I mentioned above, I made available to the present company as an experienced executive in accordance with the suggestion made by the authorities, and not as an officer representing the interest of the Mitsui Steamship Company, which was then our holding company.

Yours faithfully,

H. Hodama
Senior Managing Director

No 103

APPLICATION FOR APPROVAL OF MY NOT BEING THE APPOINTEE OF ZAIBATSU.

Misao Ueda.

Present address: 159, Higashi Sumiyoshi-cho, Fukuoka City.

Present post : (Ordinary) Managing-director of Saikai Kisen Co. Ltd.

Applicant : Kondo Tokujyu.

I hereby submit application as:-

1. Purport of application. In May 1942, I was installed as director with representing authority of Saikai Kisen Co. Ltd. (Indirect Zaibatsu affiliate company) on behalf of Hakata Wan Unyu Co. Ltd. (Hakata Bay Trans. Co. Ltd.), one of investing companies, and in March 1944, along with the inflow of Mitsui capital, was made (ordinary) managing-director without authority of representation and have remained same to date. I hereby request for approval of my not being the appointee of Zaibatsu for the following reasons.

2. Reason for application.
(a) As is explained in Inclosure No.1, the inflow of Mitsui capital was made not because of spontaneous will of the original officals of the company, but because of our inevitable acceptance of the state policy. As such, my appointment to managing-directorship had nothing to do with Mitsui Zaibatsu.
If I had had some connection with Mitsui, I would never have become ordinary managing-director without representing authority from the previous post of special managing directorship with representing authority.

(b) As is seen from Inclosure No.6, the entire business of the Company was taken up by the Mitsui-appointed director. In order to protect the right of local share-holders, I have fought against this state of affairs.
To cite a few instances, since Mr. Kodama Kiichi assumed his post, about 70% of key positions of the Company such as section chief, branch chief etc, were given to employes who were of Mitsui origin. As tenure of service of employes of Mitsui origin was taken into account, it is feared that, due to discrimination, strife may arise between those of Mitsui origin and original employes of this new Company. The actual state of affairs is that Mitsui Zaibatsu, taking advantage of being a big share-holder, is putting pressure on us original officials and disturbing the peace of the Company, by trying to change everything into Mitsui color. It is thought that Inclosure No.1 will throw light on this state of affairs. Viewed from this, too, it is unjustifiable for me to be regarded as Mitsui-appointed official.

3. Inclosures.

Enclosure No. I

Circumstances under which Mitsui Capital Flowed in;
And Situation Inside the Company.

15 January 1948

As shown in a history of the company (Enclosure No.2) the Saikai Kisen Co.Ltd. was first a steamship company with a dence local color, which was inaugurated by contribution of small-sized vessels in the possession of several local steamship companies that had been operating coastwise transportation around Kyushu, and started its service in May 1942 as a transportation agent.

In the light of the situation of the last war, however, the government started reorganization of transportation agents, and planned to concentrate them by depriving medium and minor agents of their operating rights. As a result, under half-coercive persuation of the General Maritime Bureau, our company was placed under the supervision of the Mitsui Sempaku Co. Ltd. and went on retaining the qualification of transportation agent. Later, capital of the latter was increased by investment of vessels in the possession of the company and its subsidiaries(cf. Enclosure No. 2 and 3).

Each of five antecedents of our company, viz., Hakatawan tetsudo Kisen, Hakatawan Unyu, Nagai Unyu, Hakuun Shoji and Hisatomi Shoji, had a long history and background, and had been operating courses closely interconnected. Further, there existed moral unity among their managers. Therefore amalgamation of their capitals was realized with utmost smoothness. On the contrary, at the time of amalgamation of capital with the Mitsui Sempaku, there arose extreme confusion among share-holders of our component companies, who feared probable absorption by the Zaibatsu.

At that time, all the vessels in this country were under national control, and assignment, operation, repair and the like were all under the supervision of the government. It was virtually the day of the so-called private-ownership and government-management, where the management of a company could be in no wise affected by the number of shares. On the other hand, just to simplify commanding channels in respect to shipping operation, which was required most in the time of war, the government established big transportation agent system in an effort to control shipping by bringing medium and minor agents into the frame of big ones. Further, with a view to strengthening this control decrease in the number of shipowners, that is to say, amalgamation of capitals was self-coercively urged.

The process in which consolidation of transportation agents was started and then followed by amalgamation of capitals was a common sense during the war, and so, to follow this process was the best way for medium and minor shipping companies in meeting the national policy, and it was also responsibility of the people.

However, when people began to talk about free shipping and dissolution of Zaibatsu after the end of the war, what we had feared at the time of the inflow of Mitsui capital turned out true. In the beginning of 1946 Mr. Shuichi Sakai, President of the Mitsui Sempaku Co. Ltd., requested that Mr. Kodama Kiichi, Chief of Moji Branch of the compan who was expected to be a director of the Mitsui Sempaku K.K., should be newly appointed a responsible director on top of messrs. Omasa Masao and Hori Rokuemon who had already been in our company as affiliated officials, and accepted it as a request by a representative of a majority of the share-holders.

After the termination of the war, the Mitsui people foreseeing dissolution of Zaibatsu unavoidable, tried, even in case of the Mitsui Zaibatsu being dissolved, to maintain their established influence by strengthening connection of the Mitsui people who had been diffused all over Japan. It is a well-known fact that upon issuance of the directive in the beginning of November 1945 ordering the dissolution of Mitsui's head office, reshuffle of officials of the companies under the Mitsui Zaibatsu, especially of those which had solid and sound assets, was carried out straightforwardly. No exception was applied to our company which became eventually an object of a scheme which the Mitsui people sought to realize. Thus, as soon as Mr. Kodama Kiichi assumed office of a director in May 1946(his nominal assumption of the office had been decided at the regular share-holders' general meeting of November 30), he arbitrarily picked up Mitsui-interested people as members of our company for the reason that he was representing a majority of the share-holders (as is explained in Enclosure No. 4, total of the shares held by the Mitsui Senpaku and Mitsui-interested Taiyo Kogyo, Toyo Kaiun, Hokkai Senpaku and ~~Kogo~~ Mr. Fumio Shimaya amounted to 78 %), and placed them in a key positions such as section chiefs and local extention office chiefs with a view to strengthening personal connections, and further, in respect to managing policy of our company, he pressed upon us what he was instructed by the Mitsui Senpaku K.K., even to a minutest point. This may be taken as one of typical instances of Mitsui People's efforts to solidify their unity and cultivate their influence.

As a result, the atmosphere of the company has completely changed and antagonistic feelings have arisen betweeen officials serving from the outset and those of the Mitsui origin. Today we are exerting unusual efforts to control the situation.

As we look back we recollect that, starting the shipping business several decades ago with small funds, we have all the while worked hard and dilligently, enduring depression and not enraptured in a boom. We built a ship when we had accumulated enough funds, the fruit of our bloc and sweat, and then built another to add up what we have today. Therefor those vessels are our blood and flesh and our children. They are our beloved vessels full of life.

Among the reasons entertained by the original share-holders against the inflow of Mitsui capital, strong was the sentiment of reluctance that these ships with real life must go to the hands of strangers.

Today, with the complete change of situation, there exists no more the necessity of concentrating vessels. In this respect we maintain that the present Saikai Kisen be reduced to what it was before the inflow of the Mitsui capital--- the original Saikai Kisen. Our claim and the only way of our regeneration is to separate the seven existing vessels (total tonnage being 1,792 Gross tons) which were capitalized by the four companies, viz., Haketawan Unyu, Nagai Unyu, Hakuun Shoji and Hisatomi Shoji, and then build up new local shipping companies.

As we stated above, neither did we on our own accord go under the scheme of the Mitsui Sempaku K.K. which was one of the six major transportation agents nor participated in the consolidation or capitals. As we think now, it may be recalled that we fell a victim to national policy during the war. From the viewpoint of "Economic Power Decentralization Law," too, it is believed that our regeneration plan under consideration will naturally be acceptable.

Representing share-holders of Pre-Mitsui days,

Motomatsu Naoto

Therefore, Mitsui was unable to change, by resorting to the right of stock-holders, my position of presidency which I had held since the inauguration of the Company. The circumstances stated above will be fully understood in the light of the general situation then prevailing in Japan. After the close of war, however, it is understood that Mitsui is watching my course of action with grave concern.

APPLICATION FOR APPROVAL OF MY NOT BEING THE APPOINTEE OF ZAIBATSU.

Present address: c/o Hongo Yasushi, 278, Hamao, Kashii-machi, Fukuoka Pref.

Present post : President, Saikai Kisen Co. Ltd.

Applicant : Motomatsu Naoto.

I hereby submit application as:-

1. Purport of application.
In May 1942, simultaneously with the establishment of Saikai Kisen Co. Ltd., which was effected by the investments of local maritime transportors, I was installed as president of the Company by the unanimons recommendation of investors, and remained same to date.
I wish to file application for approval of my not being the appointee of Zaibatsu for the following reasons.

2. Reasons for application.
(a) During the period of May 1942 and February 1944, Saikai Kisen Co. Ltd. had no connection with Mitsui Zaibatsu, in point of capital or personnel. It was only in March 1944 that inflow of Mitsui capital was effected. However, it was never made at the will of share-holders, nor sponsored by me. As a result of strengthening of control over the maritime transportation, the concentration of medium and small-sized steamship companies was taking place one after another. The amalgamation of these small capitals was, willy-nilly, the trend of the day, and also the maritime transportation policy of the government. The company's amalgamation with Mitsui capital was taken place in order to respond to this state policy. With regard to why the amalgamation was effected with Mitsui capital, it is stressed that it was due to almost coersive recommendation of Kaiun Sokyoku (Maritime Transportation Bureau) at the time. I had been connected with Hakata Wan Tetsudo Kisen Co. Ltd. (Haksta Bay Railway Steamship Co. Ltd.), which had no tie with any company of the Mitsui lineage, and even after I joined Saikai Kisen Co. Ltd., I remained to have no connection whatsoever. As such, the Company's amalgamation with Mitsui capital was by no means an intentional action.

(b) As the inflow of Mitsui capital was accepted only to respond to the state policy, even after that time, the management of business of the Company was done solely from the governmental stand point. On the part of Mitsui, too, although they sent to the Company Messrs. Omasa Masao and Tsuno Masakusu as (ordinary) managing-director and director respectively simultaneously with the inflow of capital, they never assumed such capitalistic attitude as to demand representing authority to their appointees; instead, they remained to have co-operative attitude towards the state policy.

After the termination of war, however, this attitude took a sudden turn. Particularly, the participation of Mr. Kodama Kiichi, was made on condition that representing authority be given to him. When Mr. Kodama took up his post of managing-directorship, he assumed the responsibility of supervising entire business of the Company, and began to change the Company into Mitsui color. I have and am managing the Company with the basic idea that it should be run as service organ for the nation, not for the interest of Mitsui. As is clear from my personal history, I have never received any favor from capitalists, nor had any connection with them. I have always been in a position of being able to think and act fair and square. As such, I can expressly state that never have I done anything intentionally in the interest of Mitsui Zaibatsu.

Enclosure No. I

Circumstances under which Mitsui Capital Flowed in;
And Situation Inside the Company.

I5 January I948

As shown in a history of the company (Enclosure No.2) the Saikai Kisen Co.Ltd. was first a steamship company with a dence local color, which was inaugurated by contribution of small-sized vessels in the possession of several local steamship companies that had been operating coastwise transportation around Kyushu, and started its service in May I942 as a transportation agent.

In the light of the situation of the last war, however, the government started reorganization of transportation agents, and planned to concentrate them by depriving medium and minor agents of their operating rights. As a result, under half-coercive persuation of the General Maritime Bureau, our company was placed under the supervision of the Mitsui Sempaku Co. Ltd. and went on retaining the qualification of transportation agent. Later, capital of the latter was increased by investment of vessels in the possession of the company and its subsidiaries(cf. Enclosure No. 2 and 3).

Each of five antecedents of our company, viz., Hakatawan tetsudo Kisen, Hakatawan Unyu, Nagai Unyu, Hakuun Shoji and Hisatomi Shoji, had a long history and background, and had been operating courses closely interconnected. Further, there existed moral unity among their managers. Therefore amalgamation of their capitals was realized with utmost smoothness. On the contrary, at the time of amalgamation of capital with the Mitsui Sempaku, there arose extreme confusion among share-holders of our component companies, who feared probable absorption by the Zaibatsu.

At that time, all the vessels in this country were under national control, and assignment, operation, repair and the like were all under the supervision of the government. It was virtually the day of the so-called private-ownership and government-management, where the management of a company could be in no wise affected by the number of shares. On the other hand, just to simplify commanding channels in respect to shipping operation, which was required most in the time of war, the government established big transportation agent system in an effort to control shipping by bringing medium and minor agents into the frame of big ones. Further, with a view to strengthening this control decrease in the number of shipowners, that is to say, amalgamation of capitals was half-coercively urged.

The process in which consolidation of transportation agents was started and then followed by amalgamation of capitals was a common sense during the war, and so, to follow this process was the best way for medium and minor shipping companies in meeting the national policy, and it was also responsibility of the people.

However, when people began to talk about free shipping and dissolution of Zaibatsu after the end of the war, what we had feared at the time of the inflow of Mitsui capital turned out true. In the beginning of 1946 Mr. Shuichi Sakai, President of the Mitsui Sempaku Co. Ltd., requested that Mr. Kodama Kiichi, Chief of Moji Branch of the company, who was expected to be a director of the Mitsui Sempaku K.K., should be newly appointed a responsible director on top of Messrs. Omasa Masao and Hori Rokuemon who had already been in our company as affiliated officials, and accepted it as a request by a representative of a majority of the share-holders.

After the termination of the war, the Mitsui people foreseeing dissolution of Zaibatsu unavoidable, tried, even in case of the Mitsui Zaibatsu being dissolved, to maintain their established influence by strengbhening connection of the Mitsui people who had been diffused

Enclosure NO.2

PROCESS OF DEVELOPMENT
SAIKAI KISEN CO.LTD.

I. In May I942, Saikai Kisen Co. Ltd. was established by cash investments by Hakatawan Tetsudo Kisen Co. Ltd.(Later renamed as Nishi Nihon Tetsudo Co. Ltd as a result of concentration of local railways), Hakatawan Unyu Co. Ltd.,Hakuun Shoji Co. Ltd, as well as Nagai Unyu Limited Partnership, and, with a capital of ¥ I00,000, started business as a transportation agent. On behalf of the said four companies, Messrs. Motoratsu Naoto, Kondo Tokuju, Nakagawa Kasuke, Nagai Hideo and Kishida Tsunetaro assumed directorship, and Messrs. Yashiro Takehiko and Sato Tomizo assumed auditorship.

2. In March I943, a capital increase of ¥ 5,900,000 was effected by contribution of vessels owned by the said four companies, and total amount of capital became ¥ 6,000,000.

3. In October I943, by contribution of vessels in the possession of Hisatomi Shoji Co. Ltd., total amount of capital became ¥ 7,350,000. On behalf of Hisatomi Shoji Co. Ltd.; Mr. Hisatomi Ohkura assumed directorship.

4. In March I944, Mitsui Senpaku Co. Ltd. caused Nagasaki Godo Senpaku Co. Ltd., Toyo Kaiun Co. Ltd., Taiyo Kogyo Co. Ltd and Mr. Ezaki Tokuji, which were all affiliated with Mitsui Zaibatsu, to invest vessels in their possession at the value of ¥ 4,866,000, which brought total amount of capital to ¥ I2,2I6,000. At the same time, on behalf of Mitsui Senpaku Co. Ltd., Mr. Omasa Masao, ex-director of Steamship Department, Hokkaido Tanko Kisen Co. Ltd., and Mr. Tsuno Masakusu, auditor of Mitsui Senpaku Co. Ltd. became ordinary managing-director and ordinary director respectively. Simultaneously Messrs. Nagai Hideo and Hisatomi Ohkura resigned directorship and assumed auditorship.

5. In May I944, Mitsui Senpaku Co. Ltd. and Taiyo Kogyo Co. Ltd., subsidiary company of the former, made investments of vessels in their possession at the value of ¥ 946,000, which brought the total capital to ¥ I3,I62,000. In December of the same year, Mr. Tsuno Masakusu resigned directorship, who was succeeded by Mr. Hori Rokuemon, auditor of Mitsui Senpaku Co. Ltd.

all over Japan. It is a well-known fact that upon issuance of the directive in the beginning of November 1945 ordering the dissolution of Mitsui's head office, reshuffle of officials of the companies under the Mitsui Zaibatsu, especially of those which had solid and sound assets, was carried out straightforwardly. No exception was applied to our company which became eventually an object of a scheme which the Mitsui people sought to realize. Thus, as soon as Mr. Kodama Kiichi assumed office of a director in May 1946(his nominal assumption of the office had been decided at the regular share-holders' general meeting of November 30), he arbitrarily picked up Mitsui-interested people as members of our company for the reason that he was representing a majority of the share-holders (as is explained in Enclosure No. 4, total of the shares held by the Mitsui Sempaku and Mitsui-interested Taiyo Kogyo, Toyo Kaiun, Hokkai Senpaku and ~~Masao~~ Mr. Fumio Shimaya-tani amounted to 78 %), and placed them in a key positions such as section chiefs and local extention office chiefs with a view to strengthening personal connections, and further, in respect to managing policy of our company, he pressed upon us what he was instructed by the Mitsui Sempaku K.K., even to a minutest point. This may be taken as one of typical instances of Mitsui People's efforts to solidify their unity and cultivate their influence.

As a result, the atmosphere of the company has completely changed, and antagonistic feelings have arisen betweeen officials serving from the outset and those of the Mitsui origin. Today we are exerting unusual efforts to control the situation.

As we look back we recollect that, starting the shipping business several decades ago with small funds, we have all the while worked hard and dilligently, enduring depression and not enraptured in a boom. We built a ship when we had accumulated enough funds, the fruit of our blood and sweat, and then built another to add up what we have today. Therefore, those vessels are our blood and flesh and our children. They are our beloved vessels full of life.

Among the reasons entertained by the original share-holders against the inflow of Mitsui capital, strong was the sentiment of reluctance that these ships with real life must go to the hands of strangers.

Today, with the complete change of situation, there exists no more the necessity of concentrating vessels. In this respect we maintain that the present Saikai Kisen be reduced to what it was before the inflow of the Mitsui capital--- the original Saikai Kisen. Our claim and the only way of our regeneration is to separate the seven existing vessels (total tonnage being I,792 Gross tons) which were capitalized by the four companies, viz., Hakatawan Unyu, Nagai Unyu, Hakuun Shoji and Hisatomi Shoji, and then build up new local shipping companies.

As we stated above, neither did we on our own accord go under the scheme of the Mitsui Sempaku K.K. which was one of the six major transportation agents nor participated in the consolidation or capitals. As we think now, it may be recalled that we fell a victim to national policy during the war. From the viewpoint of "Economic Power Decentralization Law," too, it is believed that our regeneration plan under consideration will naturally be acceptable.

Representing share-holders of Pre-Mitsui days,

Motomatsu Naoto

Kondo Tokuju

Nagai Hideo

Hisatomi Ohkura

Application for Approval of My Not being Appointee of Zaibatsu

Misao Ueda

Present Address: 972, Shimo Miyazakimachi, Fukuoka City

Present Post : Auditor, the Saikai Kisen Kabushiki Kaisha

Applicant: Hideo Nagai

I hereby submit application as:-

1. Purport of Application

I held a position, before 2 September 1945, of auditor at a company affiliated with Zaibatsu, which is stipulated in the Law for Termination of the Zaibatsu Family Control. It is requested, however, that an approval be granted to the fact that I am not an official affiliated with Zaibatsu for reasons stated below.

2. Reasons for Application

Among officials of Japanese companies in general, the position of ordinary directors and auditors is very low, and especially that of auditors is all but nominal. With a few exceptions, it is a general rule that, if there is the biggest share-holder who is not directly in charge of company's business, he will in the first place be appointed an ordinary director as an honorary post, and the next in order will be chosen as an auditor. In my case too, this general rule was applied, for the Mitsui became the top share-holder and I was degraded from a directpr to an auditor because the share-holding percentage of Nagai Unyu Goshi Kaisha and Hakatawan Unyu Kabushiki Kaisha which I represented had dropped. Had there been a special connection between I and the Mitsui Zaibatsu, such a situation would never have occured. Your attention is invited to Inclosure No.3 which is attached hereto in order to explain the situation in detail.

Enclosure No.1

Circumstances under Which Mitsui Capital Flowed In;
And Situation Inside the Company

15 January 1948

As shown in a history of the company (Inclosure No.2) the Saikai Kisen Kabushiki Kaisha was at first a steamship company with a dense local color, which was inaugurated by contribution of small-sized vessels in the possession of several local steamship companies that had been operating coastwise transportation around Kyushu, and started its service in May 1942 as a transportation agent.

In the light of situations of the last war, however, the government started reorganization of transportation agents, and planned to concentrate them by depriving medium and minor agents of their operating rights. As a result, under half-coercive persuation of the General Maritime Bureau, our company was placed under the supervision of the Mitsui Sempaku Kabushiki Kaisha and went on retaining the qualification of transportation agent. Later, capital of the latter was increased by investment of vessels in the possession of the company and its subsidiaries (cf. Inclosures Nos. 2 and 3).

Each of five antecedents of our company, viz., Hakatawan Tetsudo Kisen, Hakatawan Unyu, Nagai Unyu, Hakuun Shoji and Hisatomi Shoji, had a long history and background, and had been operating courses closely interconnected. Further, there existed moral unity among their managers. Therefore amalgamation of their capitals was realized with utmost smoothness. On the contrary, at the time of amalgamation of capitals with the Mitsui Sempaku, there arose extreme confusion among share-holders of our component companies, who feared probable absorption by the Zaibatsu.

At that time all the vessels in this country were under national control, and assignment, operation, repair and the like were all under the supervision of the government. It was virtually the day of the so-called private-ownership and government-management, where the management of a company could be in no wise affected by the number of shares. On the other hand, just to simplify commanding channels in respect to shipping operation, which was required most in the time of war, the government established big transportation agent system in an effort to control shipping by bringing medium and minor agents into the frame of big ones. Further, with a view to strengthening this control decrease in the number of shipowners, that is to say, amalgamation of capitals was half-coercively urged.

The process in which consolidation of transportation agents was started and then followed by amalgamation of capitals was a common sense during the war, and so, to follow this process was the best way for medium and minor shipping companies in meeting the national policy, and it was also responsibility of the people.

However, when people began to talk about free shipping and dissolution of Zaibatsu after the end of the war, what we had feared at the time of the inflow of Mitsui's capital turned out true. In the beginning of 1946 Mr. Shuichi Sakai, President of the Mitsui Sempaku K.K., requested that Mr. Kiichi Kodama, Chief of Moji Branch of the company, who was expected to be a director of the Mitsui Sempaku K.K., should be newly appointed a responsible director on top of Messrs. Masao Omasa and Rokuemon Hori who had already been in our company as affiliated officials, and accepted it as a request by a representative of a majority of the share-holders.

After the termination of the war, the Mitsui people foreseeing dissolution of Zaibatsu unavoidable, tried, even in case of the Mitsui Zaibatsu being dissolved, to maintain their established influence by strenghtening connections of the Mitsui people who had been diffused all over Japan. It is a well-known fact that upon issuance of the directive in the beginning of November, 1945 ordering the dissolution of Mitsui's Head Office, reshuffle of officials of the companies under the Mitsui Zaibatsu, especially of those which had solid and sound assets, was carried out straightforwardly. No exception was applied to our company which became eventually an object of a scheme which the Mitsui people sought to realize. Thus, as soon as Mr. Kiichi Kodama assumed office of a director in May, 1946 (his nominal inauguration of the office had been decided at the regular share-holders' general meeting of November 30), he arbitrarily picked up Mitsui-interested people as members of our company for the reason that he was representing a majority of the share-holders (as is explained in Inc losure No.4, total of the shares held by the Mitsui Sempaku and Mitsui-interested Taiyo Kogyo, Toyo Kaiun, Hokkai Sempaku and Mr. Fumio Shimatani amounted to 78%), and placed them in a key positions such as section chiefs and local extention office chiefs with a view to strenghtening personal connections, and further, in respect to managing policy of our company, he pressed upon us what he was instructed by the Mitsui Sempaku K.K., even to a minutest point. This may be taken as one of typical instances of Mitsui people's efforts to solidify their unity and cultivate their influence.

As a result, the atmosphere of the company has completely changed, and antagonistinc feelings have arisen between officials serving from the outset and those of the Mitsui origin. Today we are exerting unusual efforts to control the situation.

As we look back we recollect that, starting the shipping business several decades ago with small funds, we have all the while worked hard and diligently, enduring depression and not enraptured in a boom. We built a ship when we had accumulated enough funds, the fruit of our blood and sweat, and then built another to add up what we have today. Therefore those vessels are our blood and flesh and our children. They are our beloved vessels full of life.

Among the reasons entertained by the original share-holders against the inflow of Mitsui capital, strong was the sentiment of reluctance that these ships with real life must go to the hands of strangers.

Today, with the complete change of situation, there exists no more the necessity of concentrating vessels. In this respect we maintain that the present Saikai Kisen be reduced to what it was before the inflow of the Mitsui capital--the original Saikai Kisen. Our claim and the only way of our regeneration is to separate the seven existing vessels (total tonnage being 1,792 gross tons) which were capitalized by the four companies, viz., Hakatawan Unyu, Nagai

Unyu, Hakuun Shoji and Hisatomi Shoji, and then build up new local shipping companies.

As we stated above, neither did we on our own accord go under the scheme of the Mitsui Sempaku K.K. which was one of the six major transportation agents nor participated in the consolidation of capitals. As we think now, it may be recalled that we fell a victim to national policy during the war. From the viewpoint of "Economic Power Decentralization Law,"too, it is believed that our regenerating plan under consideration will naturally be accepted.
