Historic, archived document

Do not assume content reflects current scientific knowledge, policies, or practices.

Subject: "TMe Christmas Fruit Cake." Recipe from Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. D. A.

Bullotin available: "Aunt Sammy's Radio Recipes.
--00000--
"Aunt Sammy," said Uncle #benezer this morning, "what is that queerlooking package on the top shelf of the linen closet?"
"Your Christmas present, Uncle Ebenezer, and I'll tinank you not to go punching holes throug the wraping paper, to see what's inside."
"Would you mind givine me a subtle hint as to what you have bought for me?"
"Not a bit. It is not a dog, nor a Persian cat, nor a red geranium. Nothing to eat, nothing to wear, nothing even remotely connected with smoking, nothing lfor the home. ""
"Fad!" said. Uncle Ibenezer. "There's nothing left but a saxaphone, and you kow I can't use that, Aunt Samm."
"It is not a saxaphone, and besides, it's not nice to say Nag'!"
Sometimes I have to be quite severe with Uncle Ebenezer; he's as inquisitive as Billy, around Christmas time.
iNow, if no ono objects, welll turn our attention to the Christmas fruit cake. Not a bit too early to make your cakes for Christmas. My recipe calls for 16 ingrodients. It makes between 5 and 6 pounds of cake.

Before I bogin reading these 16 ingredients, you'd better lock the front door, rufile the telephone, and sive the baby sonething to play with. No interruptions allowed, at this important time.

Sixteen ingredients, for the Christmas fruit cake:

1 pound raisins
$l$ pound currants
1/s pound cition
1 cup chopped nuts
1/z pound butter
1 cup sugar
5 escs
$1 / 2$ cup cider
$1 / 3$ cup tart jelly
1/2 cup sour crean
1 cup molasses
4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
l tablespoon cinnamon, and
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Eousereepers' Chat

ROT FOP PUBLICATIONT

Subject: "The Christmas Fruit Cake." Recipe from Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. D. A.

Bulletin available: "Aunt Samny's Radio Recipes.

$$
--00000--
$$

"Aunt Samy," said Uncle Fbenezer tinis morning, "what is that queerlooking package on the top shelf of the linen closet?"
"Your Ciristras presert, Uncle Ebenezer, and I'll thank you not to go punching holes throug the wraping paper, to see what's inside."
"Would you mind givine me a subtle hint as to what you have bought for me?"

Hot a bit. It is not a dog, nor a Persian cat, nor a red geranium. Mothing to eat, nothing to wear, nothing even remotely connected with smoking, nothing lior the home."" and you know I cantt use that, Aunt Samm."
"It is not a saxaphone, and besides, it's not nice to say "Egad'!"
Sometines I have to be quite severe with Uncle Ebenezer; he's as inquisitive as Billy, around Christmas time.

ITow, if no one objects, velll turn our attention to the Christmas fruit care. Not a bit too early to make jour cakes for Christmas. My recipe calls for 16 ingrodients. It makes between 5 ana 6 pounds oi cake.

Before I befin reading these 16 ingredients, you'd better lock the front door, mufile the telephone, and sive the baby sonething to play with. No interruptions allowed, at this important time.

Sixteen ingredients, for the Christmas fruit cake:

1 pound raisins
1 pound currants
I/ 4 pound citron
l cup chopped nuts
1/2 pound butter
1 cup sugar
5 eges
1/2 cup cider

1/2 cup tart jelly
1/2 cup sour cream
1 cup molasses
4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
l tablespoon cinnamen, and
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Let's count the incredients again: (Repeat).
Before we mix the fruit cake, we must prepare all the fruit and the nuts. Fick the fruit over carefully, wash it, and dry it. May take some time to do this, but it pays. Our goal is a perfect fruit cake, and we can't have a periect fruit cake unless the fuit is carefully prepared. Cut the citron into very small pieces, and be sure there are no pieces of shell in the nuts.

ITow, take your pencils again, and I'll tell jou how to mix the cake. (neaci slowly).

First, cream the butter and sugar. Next, separate the eggs, and add the beaten yolks to the butter and sugar. Then add the liquid ingredients, that is, the cider, the jelly, the sour cream, and the molasses. Now, divicie the flour into two portions. With one-inalf of the flour sift the salt, the soda, and spices. To the other half of the flour, add the fruit and nuts, and mix thoroughy. Now take the half of the flous which contains the salt, socia, and spices, and add this to the liquid ingredients. Then put in the iloured firuit and nuts, using the hand to nix well. And last, fold in the beaten wites of tie equs. Just a word about the fruit. If it is well covered with flour, the fruit will be scattered through the cake as it should be, instead of settling to the bottom.

Trat's all there is to mixing the cake. You will note that the recipe calls for a half cup of tart jelly. Grape or currant jelly vill do nicely. If jou have some jelly winch is not firm enough to use on the table, you might use it in the calee. And be sure to select a molasses which has a good sweet llavor.

If you want a very rich fruit cake, you can vary this recipe. Ade an extra half -pound of raisins, and anotner cup of nuts. Or, you can use one pound of raisins, as in the orisinal recipe, and add one cup of chopped candied cheriies, candied pineaple, dates, or dried ígs, and one extra cup of chopped nuts. Good nuts to use in a fruit cake are pecans, Enclish walnuts, blanched almonds, and hicioory nuts.

Do you want to baize your fruit caize in one large loaf, or in two or more smaller ones, so that you can perhaps give away a loaf for a Christmas gift? If vou want to bare it in one large loaf, choose a large tube pan that will allow the dough to be $3-1 / 2$ to 4 inches deep in the pan. A cake this size will require about 4 hours to bare, at very moderate oven temperature ( $275^{\circ}$ to $300^{\circ}{ }^{\circ}$.). Fruit cake, you know, always needs to be baked in a moderate oven, because the fruit heats through slowly, and burns easily on sides and top if the oven is too hot.

If you prefer to bake your fruit cake in two smaller tube pans, it will take only about 3 hours at this same moderate oven temperature ( 2750 to 300 F. ). Or if you wish, bake your calke in small-sized bread pans. This recipe would nake three loaves that size, each one weighing about 2 pounds. The one large loaf mill weigh about 6 pounds.

B-H.C. $12 / 3$

No natter what size or shape the pan is, by all means line it with well-greased paper. Sometimes small pieces oi the fruit get next to the sices oi tho pan and stick and burn, unless there is a greased paper lining.

When you think the cake is done, test it in the good old-fashioned way, with a clean straw or a toothpick. If the toothoick comes out dry, the caize is cone.

Turn the cake out on a rack to cool as soon as you take it from the oven, anci then cold wrap it in waxed paner, or parchment paper, and put it in a tistly covered tin box. Minen it will keep until Christmas, and for weeks afterward, if the fanily give it half a chance. Look at the cake, once in a wile, to see that no mold is starting. Frie Recipe Lady says you can weer the fruit cake moist by putting half an apple in with it, or a piece of cheesecloth dampened with cider.

Zis caice is delicious without frosting. However, if you want a frostins, don't put it on until just before Christmas day. If jou put it on too soon, the frosting will discolor, and crack.

Fruit cakes make ap,ropriate Christmas gifts. Cet one of the attractive tin boxes, and Deike your gift caire so that it will fit the box.

Here's hoping your cake will be just as good as the one the Recipe Lady nade last weat. If you think it's even better -- well, of course I can't juáse that, without sampline it.

Donorrow: "马eaching Good Manners Mnrough Play."

