Two people took the opportunity to leave further comments, one saying the session was very interesting the other thanking the organisers for the event.

See Appendix 1 for full details.

3. Please write three words/expressions which describe this workshop for you

Broadly positive words were used, with the results displayed in a word cloud below. Words which occurred in the feedback more frequently are in a larger font.

See Appendix 2 for further details.
4. Tell us at least one thing that would have improved this workshop for you

Of the nine people who responded to this question, two people commented on the organisation, one asking for more time and the other for better wifi. On top of that, one person remarked that they had no suggestions. The remaining six people asked for more information, ranging from a step-by-step guide to creating articles to an explanation of projects such as Wikisource.

See Appendix 3 for further details.

5. Further comments – anything positive or negative that you would like to share!

The four answers to this question were uniformly positive with three people praising the trainers, and the four showing real enthusiasm for getting involved with Wikipedia.

See Appendix 4 for further details.
