NEW SHORT STORIES

When Booth Was Prompted.

In the golden days of California Bret Harte was asked one evening by a Chicago man to relate the most amusing experience of his life on the Pacific coast. Bret Harte replied at once that this was easily done and told the following story:

The elder Booth was playing an engagement at the height of the gold fever. Every week miners were coming down by hundreds from their camps to see the great tragedian in "Othello." At every evening performance there would be several score of them in the best seats in the house.

One evening a large fellow in a red shirt, rough coat and heavy boots took a seat on the aisle in front of Bret Harte. Around him he spread with every breath the aroma of forty rod whisky. Moreover, at every curtain he went out to refresh himself, returning with a stronger aroma and increased interest in the play. At each climax the thrills seemed to permeate his whole body, so intense was his interest.

However, nothing moved him out of the ordinary until the scene between Othello and Iago in the matter of the handkerchief. It will be recalled by every reader of Shakespeare that in this scene Othello tries to argue himself out of his jealous rage regarding Desdemona, but that at the critical point of his argument Iago offers an objection to this effect, "Yes, my lord, but the handkerchief!" These references to the incriminating handkerchief of Othello's wife had an electric effect on the red shirted miner. His uneasiness grew with each successive objection interposed by Iago until he apparently could endure it no longer, and as Iago for the fifth or sixth time came back with his "Yes, my lord, but the handkerchief," the miner lifted himself heavily out of his seat, extended his right arm and, pointing with excited emphasis at Iago, roared in tones that rolled into the uppermost gallery:

"Wipe yer nose on yer sleeve, young man, and let the play go on!"—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Responded to Tonic.

"E. H. Harriman laughed," said a foreign correspondent, "when I told him about the newspaper stories of his bread and beer diet."

"He laughed, he began another of his hourly meals—cold beer and stewed fruit—and he said it was food, not beer, that he was taking for a tonic."

"He said food was almost as good a tonic as Mrs. Floyd Smith's. Mrs. Floyd Smith, he explained, was walking in the avenue with her aged but rich husband. The old fellow shuffled along drooping and spiritless, and suddenly his wife perceived her girlhood chum, Mrs. Lloyd Brown, approaching with her own husband, a poor book-keeper, but young, handsome and dashing."

"What was Mrs. Floyd Smith to do to put a little go in her bent and listless mate? An idea came to her and she exclaimed:

"John, who is that beautiful girl smiling at you from the taxicab?"

Campbell Is Now On the Map for Good

Campbell has at last been put on the map to stay. Thanks to the efforts of the Campbell Improvement Club and several private citizens of the town. Wednesday morning the Supervisors of the county granted the petition of Campbell residents to forming a township, and named it Campbell Township. The boundaries of the township are as follows: Taking the corner of Meridian Road and the Stevens Creek Road, running west to the Los Gatos-Santa Clara Road, running south to the Williams Road, running west to the San Tomas Aquino Creek, running south to Rincon avenue, running east to the Rinconado De Los Gatos, running southerly along that line to the bed of the Dry Creek, running easterly along Dry Creek to Meridian Road, and thence northerly to the place of beginning.

The petition was drawn up some time ago and signed by almost everyone in the vicinity. Mr. Farley was appointed Justice of the Peace and Mr. Sharp was appointed Constable. This brings about $150 a month more into the town, and not only this, but it centralizes things around Campbell more and more and soon we will wake up to the fact that we can get what we want if we want it bad enough. The progressive citizens of Campbell who favored this movement deserve the praise of the community, and we all hope the movement will be the beginning of greater things for the Orchard City.

Many people are of the opinion that we can not get anything from the Board of Supervisors, and that there is no use trying to get the town started toward a future success, but we guess that this will hold them for a while and make them see that we can get progress if we want it and know we want it.

Mrs. Warren Shelly has the Red Cross Stamps this year to sell, the same as last year.

NEWS OF WEEK FROM ALL THE COAST STATES

Occurrences Along the Pacific Slope Presented in Compendious Array.

Passing Events Among Your Neighbors Briefly Told in Short, Newsy Paragraphs.

Berkeley.—The Board of Trustees has under consideration an ordinance proposing that dogs be prohibited from all delivery wagons for sanitary reasons.

Bakersfield.—Forty students of the Bakersfield High School were suspended for a few days for playing truant to see the Philadelphia-Nationals baseball game.

San Diego.—Mrs. Fannie Grant, wife of U. S. Grant, Jr., and daughter of former Senator J. B. Chaffey of Colorado, died after a brief illness. Apoplexy was the cause of death.

Grass Valley.—Great excitement prevails at Forest City over the discovery of the richest placer gravel in recent years, some of which is said to run $6000 to a miner's car of less than a ton.

San Rafael.—Rather than pay a fine of $25, Giuseppe Forni, who claims to be a well-to-do cigar importer of San Francisco, chose a term of twenty-five days in the county jail here for killing doves out of season.

Walla Walla, Wash.—A fire originating from a carelessly thrown lighted match destroyed the barns and stables of the Walla Walla Fair Association, together with seven valuable racehorses, causing a loss of $25,000. Ollie M, one of the most famous trotting horses in the northwest, was among the animals burned.

Portland, Or.—The jury in the suit of Mrs. Beatrice Hill Gadsby, who sought damages in the amount of $200,000 from William Gadsby, her father-in-law, a prominent business man of this city, for the alienation of the affections of her husband, Walter Gadsby, returned a verdict of $8000 damages in favor of the complainant.

Chico.—A. E. Wood, Constable of Dayton township, south of here, must stand trial in the Superior Court on a manslaughter charge for killing Ah Sam, an insane Chinese cook, at the W. B. Lynn ranch, near Durham, in September. He has been held to answer with bail fixed at $2500. Wood is alleged to have been too free with his gun when trying to arrest the Chinese.

Oakland.—From eating squirrels, Frank Bellis, a butcher of this city, has developed a severe case of bubonic plague, and has been isolated at the County Infirmary for treatment. This is the third case of plague contracted by a human being in three months reported at a meeting of the State Board of Health. The squirrels from which he contracted the disease were shot in Contra Costa county.

San Francisco.—William J. Burns, who has been associated for the last three years with Francis J. Heney and William H. Langdon in the local graft prosecutions, is now in New York. Burns will take up special work in the East which he has had under consideration for some time. With the election of C. M. Fickert to the office of district attorney he decided to accept the call to other fields.

Reno, Nev.—F. M. Lee, a well known banker and business man of this city and attorney in fact for Senator George S. Nixon, was relieved of jewels valued at $1500 while riding on a train from Sacramento to Reno. Lee took his jewel case from his traveling bag for the purpose of getting a stick pin. Going to the dressing room to complete his toilet, he left the jewel case on the seat. When he returned it was gone.

Tacoma, Wash.—In a stampede of the crowd at the Court-house to gain admission to the trial of Mrs. Kvalshaug, charged with the murder of her husband, Sheriff Tom Morris was carried off his feet, one woman had her arm badly hurt, several people were squeezed well nigh breathless, and only the iron railing around the light well prevented several persons being precipitated to the floor below. Several officers came to the assistance of the Sheriff and the riot was quelled without bloodshed.

NO CHANCE FOR ENTOMBED MEN AFTER PIT WAS SEALED

Hope of Rescuing Miners From Burning Shaft Had to Be Abandoned.

Cherry, Ill.—The 300 or more miners entombed in the St. Paul mine by last Saturday's disaster are dead. Some of the bodies lie buried beneath thousands of tons of earth, which caved in upon them, and it is doubtful if many ever can be recovered. This was the opinion expressed when attempts at rescue work, carried on night and day for forty-eight hours, were temporarily abandoned. Renewed fires in the mine made further descents by rescuers impossible.

As a result of the disaster there are in this town of only a few thousand people at least 1000 orphans and 200 widows. Some families of eight children will be dependent upon charity. These are the figures of Duncan McDonald of Springfield, Ill., president of District No. 12, United Mine Workers of America, who instituted a roll-call of the families of entombed miners. Mr. McDonald early abandoned hope that any miners would be brought up alive.

Cherry, Ill.—With popular feeling running high over the St. Paul mine disaster, James Steele, superintendent of the mine, has just made the startling admission that every man who may have been alive in the mine when the shafts were first sealed after the fire perished within two hours after the sealing of the shafts; and, right on the heels of this admission, James H. Penn of Peoria, Ill., a member of the Illinois sub-district board of the United Mine Workers of America, charges that the sealing of the mine was done without regard for the lives of the entombed miners and for the purpose of saving the property of the company.

Steele's admissions and Penn's charges, considered with the expressed opinions of experienced miners that men working in parts of the mine remote from the fire would have escaped death, has dashed the last hope of the relatives of entombed miners that any of the 300 or more imprisoned men are still alive, and caused the authorities to fear an outbreak of violence.

Rushing Work on New Road.

Vallejo.—That the newly organized Vallejo and Northern railway company, whose line is to run between this city and Sacramento when completed, is sincere in its promises that it will begin the building of its lines at once is indicated by its many purchases of property along the proposed line. This line when completed will be 62 miles long. It is capitalized for $5,000,000, of which $119,000 is subscribed, and is expected to be in operation in 18 months or two years at the longest.

Thought He Had Been Swindled.

Seattle.—Clarence Putnam, a baker, despondent because he believed he had been cheated in a land purchase, shot and killed himself at his home in this city. Putnam, who was 26 years old, came here from Kansas six months ago. He bought 20 acres of land in the Yakima valley, paid $1,000 and gave a mortgage for $2,000. When he went to look at the land neighbors told him it was worthless and could not be irrigated.

Train Robbers Convicted.

Omaha, Neb.—"Guilty as found in the indictment" is the verdict returned by the jury in the case of D. W. Woods, William Mathews, Lawrence J. Golden, Frank Grigware and Fred Torgenson, who have been on trial in the federal court, charged with holding up and robbing the mail car of the overland limited train on the Union Pacific railroad on the night of May 22. The penalty for the crime is life imprisonment.

Sold Half Million Textbooks.

Sacramento.—The report of the California State text book sales for the fiscal year 1908-1909 shows that the number of text books sold was 581,101, the total amount of the sales being $142,055.34. Of this amount, $107,371.15 was paid to the revolving text book fund, while royalties amounted to $34,684.19.

Czolgosz' Brother Dead.

Aberdeen, Wash.—Frank Czolgosz, aged 40 years, elder brother of Leon Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley, died at his home in a Polish colony on the Wishkah river, of heart disease. He always believed his brother Leon insane.

To Wrestle For World's Championship.

Buffalo, N. Y.—A wrestling match for the world's championship between Frank Gotch and Zybasco, Polish champion, will take place in Buffalo on Thanksgiving night.

Victims of Chinese Tong Feud Now Number Six.

San Francisco.—The victims of the Chinese tong feud now number six, as follows:

YEE FAMILY.

November 2.—Yee Quan Wo assassinated in alley in this city.

November 2.—Yee Kee murdered in his room in Oakland.

November 14.—Yee Yup Woo shot to death in midday in front of Six Companies' office.

ON YICK TONG.

November 10.—Gee Han Toy killed in an attack at Mountain View.

November 10.—Owyang Kum killed in this city.

UNCONNECTED VICTIM BY MISTAKE.

November 10.—Gin Gong Fook shot but not fatally injured in Oakland lodging-house.

Half an hour after the Six Companies had arranged for a peace conference between the leaders of the Yee family and the On Yick tong, the score of the dead in the malignant feud was raised to six, when Yee Yup Woo, a laundry-worker, was slain by Gee Gong at midday, last Sunday, in front of the offices of the Six Companies, and in a manner recalling the fiendish butchery of the hatchet wars. The assassin was tracked in his flight by David Zuckerman, keeper of a restaurant, 917 Sacramento street, who pointed out the man to the police, and the arrest was immediately made.

Since the opening of the feud, Yee Yup Woo has hidden in the rooms of the Lee Chong laundry, with a special watchman at the door. He believed the streets to be safe Sunday in the midday light, and was returning to the laundry with a bundle of clothes along Stockton street, near Sacramento, when Gee Gong, lurking in the ruins of the old Starr King church, opened fire on his prey from the rear. The first shot struck the right hip, and the victim stumbled to the ground, when he was wounded a second time by a bullet in the back. Gee Gong then leaped from his hiding place, and with his foot on the neck of his victim, who made a struggling resistance, he fired three shots into the prostrate man's head.

David Zuckerman and twelve-year-old Frank Healey, 919 Sacramento street, both witnessed the killing. They followed the murderer and were soon joined by two policemen, who placed Gee Gong under arrest.

Gee Gong is a highbinder, 27 years old. He has never been regularly employed, and is of the most dangerous type of desperate tong assassins, who make a living by killing indiscriminately for pay.

Court Checks Attempt to Raise Freight Rates on Fruit

San Francisco.—The advance in the lemon rates, by which the railroads had planned to absorb the increased tariff, is held up by order of the United States circuit court. A temporary restraining order was granted by Judge Morrow. It is directed against the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Salt Lake railroads and forbids the contemplated change from $1 to $1.15 a hundred pounds. The new transcontinental rate is scheduled to go into effect December 6. In the meantime the hearing will be held in this city.

The injunction was sought on behalf of the Arlington Heights fruit company and more than 40 other citrus companies, and associations which distribute from Southern California points. The action was brought first in Los Angeles, but Judge Ross of the southern jurisdiction disqualified himself because of his financial interest in the lemon industry. Attorney Joseph Call, representing the growers, then hurried to San Francisco and obtained the restraining order. He left immediately afterward for Los Angeles.

It is declared by the growers that the railroads are pursuing not only an unfair but unwise policy in raising the lemon freight rates. It is predicted that a contest will follow, involving the entire citrus rate schedule, which will prove much more costly to the roads than any possible profits from the increased rate. The lemon advance is not the only object of the growers' attack, as the fight is now being made against the orange and refrigeration rates.

The advance of 15 cents a hundred pounds on lemons would make a difference of about $45 a car. On this year's crop of a little more than 6,000 cars it would aggregate approximately $275,000. That is what the railroads would gain by the advance on this year's big output.

Monkey-Wrenches in Demand by Thirsty Police Officers

San Francisco.—One policeman's answers to the questions of the Civil Service Commissioners in the recent examination for promotion to the rank of corporal have been made public by the clerk of the Board. There were 363 other policemen who tried the examination.

"Cite an instance in the department where, if you were corporal, would you make a thorough investigation for the betterment of the service," was one of the subjects.

"If I was corporal I would send all the patrol wagons to the shop for repairs," read that patrolman's answer. "There seems to be something the matter with them, for whenever one of them passes Dick Donnelly's place, on a corner on my beat, something happens to the wagon." "A nut's loose," says the policeman on the seat with the driver and the driver stops. I'll go in and borrow Dick's monkey-wrench.

"Then the policeman in the back of the wagon says, 'You couldn't find nothing. I know where Dick keeps it.' Then he goes in and comes out smiling and says he can't find it either. The driver gets sore and he goes in and ain't sore when he comes out. He says he couldn't find the monkey-wrench, and the policeman on the seat with him says, 'Oh, drive on anyway, there ain't no danger of the wheel coming off till we get back to the barn.' 'Yes,' says the driver, 'we'll take a chance,' and off they go.

"When I am corporal I will have all the wagons fixed, and put a monkey-wrench on every one of them."

At Hawaii Uncle Sam Will Be on Guard Over Pacific

Washington.—President Taft, in conference with Secretary Meyer, decided that Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, shall be the key to the Pacific.

This means that Pearl Harbor shall be the radial point for offense and defense of the United States' operations in the East. It is evident that this new and striking move on the international chess board gives the United States the domination of the Pacific ocean.

Inasmuch as the President himself has determined upon this move it is a fair, indisputable evidence that battleships must be transferred to Pearl Harbor, which will be the greatest naval base in the Western hemisphere.

This announcement by Secretary Meyer for President Taft, read between the lines, means that the work of the State Department will henceforth be an easy matter when dealing with the enemies of the United States in the Orient.

It is the most important move made by the United States since the Philippines came into this country's possession. It apparently settles in advance the international issues.

The nearest adjunct for the Pearl Harbor base is San Francisco. The closest relations are therefore established between San Francisco and the key of the Pacific. San Francisco will be the port necessarily of all ships sailing the Pacific.

WINS ITS SUIT FOR SAVING LANDS OF IMPERIAL VALLEY

Southern Pacific Given Judgment for Checking Great Floods.

Los Angeles.—The Southern Pacific Company was awarded judgment by Superior Judge Houser for $405,927.43, the entire amount asked for in the suit against the California Development Company. Notwithstanding the enormous sum involved, the court did not render a written opinion, apparently deeming it unnecessary inasmuch as the defendant did not deny its indebtedness. There was little controversy except along lines introduced by the interveners, who were former officers and directors of the development company and signers of the paper involved. The suit was brought on promissory notes given to the railroad company. It was alleged that the money was used to stem the Colorado river floods of 1904 in the Imperial valley. The interveners asserted that the indebtedness was merely a way of making the defendant responsible for the maintenance of the Southern Pacific tracks through the desert; that the railroad loaned the money to get control of the development concern and later sell the valuable water rights to the government reclamation service.

HAWAIIAN PLANTERS WANT MORE RUSSIAN IMMIGRANTS

Muscovites Better Than Japanese as Laborers in the Cane Fields.

Honolulu.—The Territorial Board of Immigration will soon send another agent to Harbin, the metropolis of Southeastern Siberia, to get Russian immigrants for Hawaii. This will be the second representative of the Territory to go to Siberia to induce Russian immigrants to come to the Hawaiian islands. In trying to solve the labor problem for the sugar plantations, the Board of Immigration has experimented with Spaniards, Portuguese, Porto Ricans, South Sea Islanders, Chinese and other nationalities. Many of these became dissatisfied after their arrival here and in time found their way to the States.

About fifty Russian families are now on their way to Hawaii, and if these prove satisfactory as plantation laborers, others will be sent for.

More Football Victims.

Great Neck, L. I.—As the result of an accident suffered in a football game on election day, Harry Allen is dead of concussion of the brain. He was kicked on the head.

Washington.—Football claimed another victim Sunday, when Archer Christian, 18 years old, left halfback of the University of Virginia team, who was injured in the game with Georgetown university Saturday, died at Georgetown university hospital. An autopsy disclosed that death was due to cerebral hemorrhage following concussion.

Say Hypnotism Caused Insanity.

Redding.—A startling explanation as to the cause for insanity of Miss Alice Carson, aged 19, who was sent to the Napa hospital, is told by the girl's parents and friends. It is claimed that her mind was affected by being hypnotized by an old man, whose name is not given. She made two or three attempts to kill her mother recently and has since disowned her mother entirely, insisting that she does not know her.

Japan to Change Military Tactics.

Tokio.—The Japanese military council has made several important changes in Japanese military works, a new manual of infantry exercises being arranged, basing all infantry maneuvers on the theory of attack, the idea being that men should be taught to carry the spirit of assault in every engagement without consideration of defensive tactics.

Italy's Champion Wrestler Defeated.

Chicago.—Frank Gotch, champion wrestler of the world, defeated Giovanni Raicevich, champion of Italy, in two straight falls at the Coliseum here. The first fall was in 16 minutes and 28 seconds, and the second in 5 minutes and 28 seconds.

North Dakota Senator Appointed.

Bismarck, N. D.—Fountain L. Thompson, of Cando, N. D., has been appointed United States senator by Governor Burke to fill the unexpired term of Senator Johnson, who died three weeks ago.

Queen Joins Congress of Mothers.

Washington.—Queen Helena of Italy is to become a member of the International Congress of Mothers. It is expected other European sovereigns will follow suit.

New York.—The activity in Wells Fargo stock was renewed a few days ago, and the stock advanced to 514½, making a net gain of 39½ points on transactions of 1075 shares. Heavy dealings and the rapid advance were accompanied by renewed talk of a melon cutting. Last year the stock earned 58 per cent. The company has a loan account outstanding of over $17,000,000, and owns stocks and bonds worth nearly $7,000,000, so it could readily make some special distribution to its shareholders, if the directors chose.

Destroys Hair Germs

Recent discoveries have shown that falling hair is caused by germs at the roots of the hair. Therefore, to stop falling hair, you must first completely destroy these germs. Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, will certainly do this. Then leave the rest to nature.

Does not change the color of the hair.

BEAUTY IN A DUTCH HOME.

Delft Blue of the Walls and Rare Decoration—A Tiled Kitchen.
In an article describing her first visit to Holland, Eva Madden, in Harper's Bazar, tells of one of the houses she visited:

"The house of this lively old lady stood on the river and had its old warehouse beneath it. Its dining room was what we call a 'Dutch' one, and seated at its polished round table, my feet on a stool, my chair a high-back, carved one, my companions Dutch ladies, my food cheese, bread, delicious butter (the Dutch take holiday, by the way, on the day of the first appearance of butter after the cows have eaten the new grass) and sausages, my eye rejoiced in the vision of the ceiling with its black oak carved rafters, at the Delft blue of the walls with their rare Dutch decoration, at the black oak wainscoting with its lovely row of Delft plates bounding the four ancient walls, at the heavy oak doors, the sideboard, the cups in a cupboard, the polished floor all lovely in many-hued light of the painted glass window the its end for lighting.

"After the dining hall, the kitchen was most characteristic of what we know as 'Dutch,' and it lingers like a picture.
"It was white-tiled and spotless. There were blue plates and cups and there was copper and old copper shone and the fire burned in a Dutch oven and in all this beauty stood the maid in her short skirt and red blouse, polishing for dear life.

"My hostess gave her little laugh, her lively eyes twinkling merrily.
"Maritje," she said—all the maids all over Europe appear to be named Maria—why do you polish? Is not that kettle spotless?
"Ja, merouw, ja," answered Maria, also smiling; "but to-day, you know, is Thursday."

Gunner Returned to Duty.

Admiral Kimberly was in 1862 Lieutenant Kimberly and the executive officer of the Hartford, in which Admiral Farragut ran the enemy's batteries at Grand Gulf, on the Mississippi River, under a terrible fire, which disabled a part of his fleet. Lieutenant Eaton, of the Signal Corps of the army, had just before this been ordered aboard the Hartford, that communication between the fleet and army might be carried on. When the ship drew up under fire and her own batteries got to work, Lieutenant Kimberly on the gun-deck fought the ship, while Admiral Farragut walked one side of the quarter-deck, and the captain of the ship the other, and poor Eaton made himself as small as possible at the extreme stern, and wished the war were over. But the captain, one of the old school, looking down on the gun-deck as he finished one of his quarter-deck perambulations, saw, to his horror, that a sailor, one of the fighting gun's crews, panic-stricken for the moment, had deserted his gun, and was leaning helplessly against the mast. "Mr. Kimberly! Mr. Kimberly!" exclaimed the captain in a high pitched voice which penetrated above the roar of the artillery, "pray, what is that person doing there?" And he pointed a terrible finger at the sailor. No sooner did Kimberly's eyes light on the object of the captain's inquiry than he sprang furiously on the man, seized him by the collar, and rushed him with a violent shake to his proper position at the gun. Then, turning and facing the quarter-deck, he touched his cap with all possible ceremony and reported: "Sir, the person you allude to has returned to duty."

Separate Ideals.
"Why did you never marry, Tom?" inquired the young Benedict of the old bachelor.
"Well, you see," replied the single one, "when I was quite young I resolved that I wouldn't marry until I found an ideal woman. I was difficult to please, but after many years I found her."
"Lucky beggar! And then—"
"She was looking for an ideal man," replied the bachelor, sadly.—Tit-Bits.

Fitted for the Job.
The general consulted the topographical chart. "You understand colonel," he said, "that this charge or the enemy's fortification necessitates the most reckless disregard for human life?" "I understand, general," the colonel replied. "The forlorn hope that leads the movement will be composed exclusively of amateur chauffeurs."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

IN THE LAND OF BANANAS.

Don't Believe Get-Rich-Quick Stories of Promoters, Grower Says.
"When you see bananas in a store window the fruit hangs downward from the stem, and a person naturally supposes that they grow that way, but they don't. When growing on a tree every banana points toward heaven," said R. F. Harrison, a banana planter of Boscos del Toro, Panama, who is at the Savoy Hotel, the Kansas City Times says. Mr. Harrison was formerly a resident of Kansas City, a member of the class of 1898 of the Central high school. Five years ago he went to Central America and became a fruit raiser. He was secretary of the Honduras commission to the St. Louis World's Fair and is now manager and part owner of a banana plantation of 1,810 acres.

"People in the United States are letting great business opportunities go by when they fail to make an attempt to sell American goods in Central and South America," continued Mr. Harrison. "Americans in the tropics wear English clothes, English hats, and use, for the most part, German-made tools. This is not on account of any lack of loyalty to their native land, but it is because no one in South America ever sees goods bearing Uncle Sam's trade mark. Some day they will realize what an opportunity they are missing. That will be when the Panama canal is finished and the eyes of the world are opened to the great opportunities of the American tropics.

"The Panama canal may be finished before the people here expect it, too. My plantation is only sixty miles away from the canal and I go over there quite often. The rumor is now current that a night shift of men will be put to work and an attempt made to finish it in President Taft's administration.

"The most harmful thing to the fruit or rubber grower of Central America, however, is not the lack of American goods nor the lack of a canal by which to ship their products, but it is the numerous 'fake' advertisements which state that the annual profit on one acre of land planted in bananas is $100, and that the yield on an acre a year is 500 bunches. Such advertisements are as false and misleading as the get-rich-quick mining ads. When an acre of bananas yields $35 worth of fruit a year the owner makes a profit of 60 per cent, which is considered a good return on an investment even in Panama. When a planter cuts 240 bunches of bananas from one acre in a year it is considered an enormous cutting.

"The problem of getting good laborers in South America is not as great as one would think. The Jamaica negro, who is worthless at any kind of work, seems to have been born to be a banana picker. He starts out early in the morning armed with a 'Jamaica beefsteak,' as the sugar cane is called, and a machete. Between chews on the sugar cane he cuts down the banana trees. Early in the afternoon he comes back from the fields, his work for the day over.

"The humidity of Central America causes sickness among the people, but does good to the crops. A planter puts the banana bulbs in the ground before he takes the timber from the land. Then he fells the trees, and in a few months they are decayed by the dampness of the air and are a good fertilizer for the growing banana plants. In eight months the one bunch that each plant bears is cut off and the main stalk is also chopped down, to grow and bear another bunch in another eight months."

A Little Sermon to Girls.

Each one of us, then, must do these two things: Understand ourselves and understand others. It is not enough to claim the right of the individual to "grow" as he sees fit. It is impertinent to announce that "my mother is behind the times." None of us can grow rightly if we grow rudely, defiantly, wounding unnecessarily, falling in kindness and consideration. We may sometimes have to give pain, as when one changes a church, and so offends a parental prejudice. But if conviction be strong, one cannot be irritable, the crisis is too vital, and it is just because we do lack real conviction in any stand we take that we grow irritable in little things. Conviction makes us serious. It is when we have only half thought out some subject for ourselves that we grow irritable and prove unequal to the task of either enlightening those we pain or of steering the bark of our cherished purposes through distracting shoals.—Harner's Bazaar.

A Moot Question.
Where is Mabel's waist line? Is what I want to know. It used to be just halfway up. But now it seems as though she's shifted it, and, if you please, it's somewhere round about her knees.

Where is Mabel's waist line?
A few short years ago "Twas just beneath her dimpled arms, but now it's 'way below. The site Dame Fashion formerly declared it a la mode to be.

Where is Mabel's waist line?
The modes may come and go, but while the public has to guess, in confidence I know. A good right arm reveals to me. The truth—'tis where it used to be! —Arthur D. Pratt in Puck.

ADVERTISED AT LAST
THERE was a merchant in our town Who was so wondrous wise He saw his business running down, Yet would not advertise. SAID he: "I cannot see the sense When trade is at its worst Of multiplying my expense. I'll wait till trade comes first."

AT last this merchant, ill advised, Had naught to do but fail, And then the sheriff advertised A bankrupt auction sale.

Boomerang Kinks.
There are a good many "kinks" to be learned to throw the boomerang skillfully. One is always to throw against the wind if you want it to come back to you. It is a miniature aeroplane, for it literally sails against the wind and is borne upward and onward by the breeze. If the player wants to make a long distance straightaway record he can throw with the wind, but he must take care to select a boomerang which is heavy, so heavy that it will not be too much affected by the air currents. By pointing the boomerang at a certain angle he can make it soar aloft in circles like a hawk until it may be as high as 100 feet above the earth. As in golf playing, it is not so much mere strength that makes a long thrower but the skill in aiming, the direction and, in boomerang throwing, the way in which advantage may be taken of the air currents.—St. Nicholas.

Animals With Pockets.
Did you ever think what a curious thing it is that some animals have pockets—great, roomy, fur lined vest pockets big enough to carry a family of little ones about in? Many of the animals native to Australia and Tasmania have these convenient pockets, and so has the opossum, a common animal in our southern states. The kangaroo is the largest of this species. Full grown kangaroos go sixteen feet at a jump, and so when going on a long journey or running from hunters think what a comfort it must be to Mother Kangaroo to know that her babies are snug and safe in her pocket, and if they have a taste for scenery they can peep out of the top at the passing landscape.—Century Path.

Riddlemeere.
Why is a man looking for a philosopher's stone like Neptune? Because he is sea-king but never was.
On which side of a donkey would you look for the most hair? On the outside.
Why do not trees open their trunks in the spring when they change their dress? Because they leave their summer clothing out.
Why is a bootblack like an editor? Because he polishes the understanding of his patrons.

Human Burden Race.
This is a most amusing variation of the old fashioned potato race. The players are divided into two equal squads and stand facing each other on parallel lines about thirty feet apart. A player from each squad goes to the opposite line and, at the signal "Go," runs across the space, picks up a member of her team, carries her back to the line and then returns for another girl. The player first carrying all of her squad across the space wins the game.

Game of Jingling.
This is an old game and used to be played on village greens in England. A piece of ground is roped off, and the players are put in it blindfolded, the jingler, who has a small bell fastened to his arm, being the only one who can see. The other players then try to catch him, guessing by the sound of the bell where he is. The one who catches him becomes jingler.

CAMPBELL (THE ORCHARD CITY)

Lies 50 miles south of San Francisco, on the Santa Cruz Division of the Southern Pacific Railway, and is the central point of the most fruitful, diversified and scenic section of the famous Santa Clara Valley. Superb electric car service places it within but a few minutes' ride of San Jose, the metropolis of the valley. Los Gatos, the Gem City of the foothills, Congress Springs, the medicinal virtue of which waters is unequalled; Saratoga another beautiful foothill city, and as you ride past and through the thousands of orchard and vineyard homes, and merge into the picturesque canyons of the foothills of the evergreen Santa Cruz Mountains, you can but exclaim: "This is a goodly heritage!"

SCENERY SUPERB.
With the Santa Cruz Mountains to the west and south and the Coast Range on the east, a majestic amphitheater is formed, the beauty of which can not be excelled anywhere. Campbell has an altitude of 195 feet. The cool breezes from San Francisco bay at the north insure an even and comfortable temperature throughout the summer months, while the winters are warm and pleasant. Flowers bloom out of doors the year around.

FINE ROADS AND RESORTS.
The Santa Clara Valley boasts of the finest roads to be found in the State. It has over 350 miles of sprinkled rural highways. In attractions for tourists the Santa Clara Valley can not be surpassed. Thirty-two miles eastward over a magnificent mountain road is the famous Lick Observatory on Mt. Hamilton, 4444 feet above sea level. There are numerous mountain retreats within two hours' drive for those who love the camp and the sparkling brook. The sea beach to the southwest 27 miles by rail or carriage drive, and through the most beautiful mountain scenery in the world.

A trip to the Big Trees, twenty feet in diameter and two thousand years old, will furnish a delightful day's outing.
EDUCATIONAL ADVANTAGES.
Campbell has a population of about 600. It maintains a (third class) postoffice which distributes to 3,000 patrons, covering over 30 square miles of orchard homes. There are two churches—Methodist and Congregational, a first-class High School and Graded School, and within a few miles are two Universities, two Colleges, a State Normal School and several Business Colleges and private schools.

The Stanford University, with its marvelous architecture, is only 20 miles away.
NO SALOONS.
Campbell has a complete water system of its own. It has electric lights and power for mechanical purposes, which is distributed throughout the orchard district. A telephone exchange serves over 40,000 people. A prohibitory clause in all deeds to property within the town limits, prevents the saloon from being established.

BUSINESS INTERESTS.
Campbell has the largest fruit packing and drying establishment in the world, the best equipped cannery on the coast, catering to the highest class export trade, a fruit, syran establishment, lumber yards, planning mill and stores of all kinds. It also has a weekly newspaper and modern job printing plant. The Bank of Campbell, with individual deposits amounting to a quarter of a million dollars, is a fair indication of the prosperity of the community.

FRUIT CENTER.
Campbell is pre-eminently a fruit center, and offers unusual opportunities for profitable investment, whether it be a large commercial orchard, a chicken ranch, or a small orchard home adapted to those who want to earn a few hundred dollars a year to supplement a limited income or annuity. The Campbell fruit district is noted for the quality of its fruit, and for this reason has become a trade center. The man with a few boxes of fruit has the same opportunities for selling his products as the man with many tons. Our large packing and drying establishments will have their agents at your door before the fruit begins to color.

INTERURBAN CONDITIONS.
Campbell is neither urban nor suburban, but is in fact, as well as in name, an Orchard City—a city of orchard homes, with all the conveniences necessary for 20th century comfort. The demand for intelligent labor is increasing every year, and families desiring profitable employment in orchards, packing houses and canneries find this an ideal home.

LAND VALUES MODERATE.
Acreage can be secured at various prices. Bare land, suitable for chicken ranch, hay, grain or vineyard, can be secured for $100 per acre. Productive orchards sell for from $200 to $500 per acre, depending on the record of the orchard for productivity.

In buying an orchard here you do not buy a "pig in a poke"—facts and figures will be given you, showing what returns can reasonably be expected from your investment.
