"THE SPITFIRE"

"The Spitfire," a famous nautical comedy-drama, will be the fascinating attraction shown at the new omorrow matinee and night, Dec. A most captivating combination of thrills and laughs, romance and adventure, is this four-part ver-sion of Edward Peple's melodramatic farce. Carlyle Blackwell, the popular and successful young photo-play

As a play, "The Spitfire" entertained thousands for many years. Its humorous situations, together with its absorbing dramatic element, makes the subject certain to please both lovers of light drama and those who prefer the big heart throb of tense and overpowering incident and episode. This tale of the sea will prove fascinating and intensely interesting.

It is wall to the sea will be a sea of the sea will prove the sea of the sea will prove fascinating and intensely interesting. star, is the hero in the story.

As a play, "The Spitfire" enter-mind at once and state that "The Spitfire" does not designate the heroine, but rather the name of heroing. It is well to relieve the reader's ine, but rather the name of her father's yacht. The pretty daughter, however, inflicts no little chastening upon the adventurous young man who becomes a passenger upon the yacht under peculiar circumstances. Carlyle Blackwell is an ideal type for the role he plays. In both the lighter moments and the big dramatic situations he portrays a perfect characterization. In addition to this thrilling romance, an educational subject, "Picturesque Holland and Notre Dame of Paris," will be shown.

Do not forget the popular Saturday matinee for the little folk and school children, who enjoy pictures but can-not be out in the evenings. The first performance at the matinee will begin promptly at 2:30. Special music
