STREET CAR LINE HAS SUPPORT OF EXCHANGE CLUB

Members Express Interest in Improvement; Big Picnic Takes Place Saturday

Interest in the establishment of street car service on Glendale avenue was expressed yesterday noon by the Glendale Exchange club. Secretary James Howarth was requested to communicate with the Glendale Advancement association, and express the interest of the Exchange club in this improvement.

The weekly meeting was held, as usual, at 637 East Broadway, in the Broadway Inn.

The subject was brought up for discussion by Attorney W. C. Ansprech of 111 East Broadway, for information in regard to it.

Dr. Henry R. Harrower remarked that the electrification of the railway line would be "a benefit to every corner of Glendale" because it would afford competition for the "beloved" Pacific Electric.

Up To People, Claim

Attorney George H. King of 106-A East Broadway commented on the fact that at least one of the members of the present railway commission was the owner of a hooped horse and the people of the state see that "proper" men were appointed to fill the vacancy.

Motion was made that a letter be written to the Glendale Credit association, requesting the removal of dollar day signs. It was suggested that it might be an excellent plan for everyone in the community to act as a committee of one to destroy all such signs as soon as possible.

James Howarth, secretary of the club, was chosen as a delegate to accompany W. B. Kelly, president of the organization, to the national convention this month in Louisville.

G. C. McConnell, vice-president, presided at the meeting.

Picnic on Saturday

George A. Whitaker, chairman of the special committee which has the matter in hand, reported that prospects were bright for the picnic to be held Saturday in Verdugo park.

Guests of the occasion were C. H. Brainerd of 111 East Broadway and Carl Cristy of the Harrower laboratory.

Realty Board Acts For Electrification of Glendale Line

The electrification of the Glendale avenue steam line has the whole-hearted support of the Glendale Realty Board. A number of the realtors will be present to inform the Glendale Improvement Association at the Broadway Inn today at noon. The realtors will personally "drop the cash in the hat" to show the East Glendale people and those of other sections the realtors are back of it as one.

This action was unanimously adopted by the Realty Board at its meeting yesterday noon, when W. L. Twining, following a stirring talk on the utility of electric action and on the necessity and value of having the proposed electric car line on Glendale avenue, moved that the board go on record in favor of the electrification and that the members appear personally at today's meeting on the subject and give the workers heartily by making their respective donations then and there.

W. C. HOLYWELL, AGE 70, IS KILLED

Bicycle He Is Riding Struck by Auto Driven by Miss Eleanor Jones

An inquest is being held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon in the funeral parlors of Pulliam, Kiefer & Eyerick into the death of W. C. Holywell of 543 Glenwood road who was killed yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Holywell, who was almost 70 years of age and nearly blind, was attempting to guide a bicycle down the road. According to report, he turned directly into the path of a Ford sedan driven by Miss Eleanor Jones of 206 North Louise street. She was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. G. E. Jones of 1165 North Pacific avenue.

The "wobbly" actions of Mr. Holywell's bicycle was noticed by Miss Jones a few minutes before the accident occurred, she says. She stopped the machine in order that he might determine upon which side of the road he wished to travel. After he had finished zig-zagging about, she started in low and had not shifted gears when Mr. Holywell's bicycle suddenly darted for the opposite side of the road, she says. His bicycle was struck by the automobile and Mr. Holywell fell to the ground. He was not run over, however, for Miss Jones steered her machine up over the curb, she declares.

Several Broken Ribs

Dr. R. E. Chase of 103 1/2 South Brand boulevard was summoned and Mr. Holywell was taken in his machine to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. He was found to have several broken ribs. Death resulted from a hemorrhage of the lungs.

Mr. Holywell was born in Canada, October 10, 1852. He came to California twenty-nine years ago and had lived in Glendale for the past two years.

Mrs. Jennette Holywell survives her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Florence Reinhard of 543 Glenwood road and Mrs. Lorraine Bartholomew of 1526 North Normandie avenue, Los Angeles.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Local White Shrine Entertains Official

Mrs. Kramer, high priestess-elect of the White Shrine organization to be installed shortly in Hollywood, was the honored guest last night at the meeting of the Glendale White Shrine in the Masonic temple.

The meeting was featured by the election of Alvah Leland as watchman of the shepherds, to succeed E. M. Cutting, who resigned because of absence from the city.

Plans were also discussed for the big social and dance to be given by the White Shrine Saturday night, October 28, in the Masonic temple.

SEEK HIGHER FEE FROM CURB REAL ESTATE AGENTS

City Council Will Be Asked for New Ordinance to Cover Solicitors

Sidewalk and curb operating realty agents and oil-promotion syndicates will have a hard row to hoe in Glendale if the recommendations of the Glendale Realty Board, adopted at yesterday's meeting, are carried out.

Following complaints by various members and non-members, a committee was appointed last week to investigate the subject and report back. The report indicated that the present city fee on busses operating for "excursions" is $600 yearly and there is a license fee of $10 for each for all more than one solicitor operating with such busses.

San Diego has just passed a bus license fee of $50 a day for such excursion operators.

The committee was instructed to urge upon the city council of Glendale the passage of a new ordinance charging a high fee for busses and solicitors of this class as will stand the test of constitutionality.

Expect Council Action

It is believed that the council will take such action, for some of its members and advisors have already signified an intention of putting the excursion-bus fee at the highest possible figure in order to eliminate as far as possible that sort of business. The Realty Board committee will also urge that a local office be required before any such license be issued under any circumstances.

The meeting accepted Secretary E. P. Hayward's report that he has arranged for speakers both for and against the so-called "lawyers' dum" at the next election. These speakers will be given limited time to put forth their respective sides of the subject at the next meeting, Wednesday, September 13. From the arguments brought out by the board, the board hopes to be able to take a stand as an organization.

The franchise bill, coming up for referendum in November also, is one the board wants information on and Secretary Hayward is endeavoring to secure speakers on that piece of proposed legislation.

KIWANIS CLUB AT BURBANK FORMED

Delegation From Glendale at Organization of Body in Neighboring City

Glendale's Kiwanians, three dozen strong, went over to Burbank yesterday noon and organized twenty-eight of that city's progressive business and professional men into a Burbank Kiwanis club.

Under the leadership of President Lyman P. Clark, the Glendale Kiwanis forces assembled with their cars at 11:30 o'clock yesterday forenoon. The call had been quietly sent out, and the number attending, was highly gratifying.

In the party were Mayor Spencer Robinson of Glendale, City Manager W. H. Reeves, Leslie Henry of Pasadena, international Kiwanis vice-president, and Frank H. Keene, international Kiwanis representative from Chicago.

Music, including the famed campaign organ, was taken along. Herb Henning, pianist, and Bill Bode, saxophonist and what-notist, headed the harmony program.

Bishop Cantwell to Be Guest of Church

At the meeting of the Knights of Columbus last night an invitation to the dedication was read from Father O'Neill and the lodge voted to attend 100 per cent strong.

The church building has been in use for well on to a year but Bishop Cantwell delayed the dedicatory services until the completion of the parish house, which will be finished and ready for occupancy in a few days.

DAN CAMPBELL TO QUIT AS ACTIVE HEAD OF BANK

W. W. Lee to Be President of Glendale National; Plans for Savings Institution

The rapid development of the South Glendale district has resulted in readjustment of personnel in the Glendale National bank and in the organization of a new state bank for that section.

Dan Campbell, president of the Glendale National bank, surprised his associate directors by announcing his intention to resign from the arduous duties.

Mr. Campbell will, however, retain a large financial interest in the bank and will be elected chairman of the board of directors and advisory committee.

W. W. Lee, formerly with the First National bank, has purchased a substantial interest in the Glendale National bank and will succeed retiring President Campbell in that capacity.

NEW BANK INITIATED

Mr. Campbell and Mr. Lee together with John A. Logan, George B. Karr, George V. Black and associates, have taken the preliminary step to organize a state savings and commercial bank to be located probably on San Fernando Road between Brand boulevard and Central avenue.

The rapid growth of the southern section of Glendale, together with increased demand for banking facilities, has convinced these bankers that the time has arrived for them to fulfill the requirements of growing commercial interests.

HOPE FOR PEACE IN IRELAND SOON

DUBLIN, Sept. 7.—Peace proposals to end the warfare between Irish irregulars and the Free State forces will be proposed when the Dail meets Saturday, it was learned today. William T. Cosgrave will lead the Free States in debate while Eamonn de Valera, despite reports of his capture, is expected to head the anti-treaty side. The report that de Valera and Erskine Childers were captured is doubted here.

It is believed that the Free State forces have had numerous opportunities to capture the rebel chief, but refrained for fear of "martyrizing" him.

Former Kansas Folk to Picnic Saturday

Kansas who are now residents or visitors in Glendale are asked to pack lunch baskets Saturday, September 9, and journey to Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, for a big Kansas reunion and jubilee.

GLENDALE K. OF C. MAKES PLANS TO GET NEW HOME

A new club house by Christmas, and over 500 members.

That is the goal toward which Glendale Council No. 1920, Knights of Columbus, is working.

At the meeting, last night, which was the annual election of officers, a complete program for the ensuing year was outlined. The officers elected are:

Harry Girard, grand knight; Michael Gannon, deputy grand knight; Edward Albright, chancellor; Ed Brahm, advocate; Otto Wolfran, warden; Herman Peonner, inside guard; Randolph Doll, outside guard; E. L. McMahon, treasurer; F. H. Huesman, financial secretary; E. T. Leary, recording secretary; Peter Ferry, trustee.

Proves Surprise

The election of Harry Girard to the post of grand knight came as a complete surprise to him, for owing to an accident he has been confined to his bed for many weeks. After the meeting last night about 70 of the members surprised him at his home and announced the results of the election. Mr. Girard has been very active in Knights of Columbus work, having recently secured fifty-three new members for the order. In speaking of the prospects for building up the lodge, he said:

"We have every reason to believe that the time is not far distant, when we will have passed the 500 mark in our membership. There are 1500 Catholic families in Glendale at the present time.

"A new club house is needed and the committee appointed last night of which Peter Ferry is chairman, is planning to get into action at once."

From Los Angeles

Early last night Mr. Girard was surprised by a group of Los Angeles friends, who were still there when 50 of his brother Knights of Columbus called to advise him of the honor paid him for his splendid work in the organization. The group from Los Angeles included the following: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Shannon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kitts, Jack Doyle, Tom Abbott, Dr. Milton Ferry and Frank O'Neill.

Attractive Window Display at Gordon's Lures Car Through Plate Glass

Another Paige was written into the history of freak motor car accidents in Glendale yesterday when the big touring car of that make owned and driven by F. H. Fay jumped the curb from a standing start and crashed through the plate glass window of E. E. Gordon's woman's wear shop at 119 North Brand boulevard.

Mr. Gordon was "dressing" the south window of the shop. Mr. Fay was on the running board of his car which stood at the curb before the shop. Mr. Fay accidentally touched the car's self-starter. The gears were in mesh, the motor started, and car and Fay took a wavering course toward the entrance of the Gordon shop.

Quick Action

"Looked like it was trying to get into the door," Mr. Gordon states. "Mr. Fay hadn't even a chance to get off the running board, apparently. But I showed speed in getting out of that window!"

"What was the first thing you thought of?" Mr. Gordon was asked.

"That I had just renewed the insurance on that plate glass this morning," he answered promptly. "I parted with the premium money with perhaps a slight grudge, but now the value of insurance is proven to me, as it always is to everyone."

Mr. Fay lives at 310 East Michigan avenue, La Crescenta.

Narrow Escapes

Two motorists who had narrow escapes from serious injury yesterday afternoon when their respective Ford's crashed together at Jackson and Wilson avenue, Glendale.

The car driven by H. J. Hannah, war veteran employee of the J. A. Newton Electric company, turned completely over onto him and had to be held to rescue him. But Mr. Hannah, fortunately, was unharmed.

The other driver, H. O. Feder, of 41 Westmoreland street, Los Angeles, was not injured in the crash, it is reported, but suffered a slight cut on the hand and arm in rescuing Mr. Hannah from his involuntary imprisonment underneath the overturned Ford.

Chinese Pupils on Strike for Equal Right With White

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 7.—Chinese school children went on a strike here today, refusing to attend classes unless placed on an equal plane with white pupils.

Chinese boys and girls, in the past, mingled with whites at all the schools here. But when many parents complained to the board that they didn't want their children sitting with youngsters who came from "diverse dens in Chinatown," the board decided to segregate the Orientals.

A special school was secured for the Chinese, but they refused to enter it.

until the date of the show. It is expected by the committee that the local merchants will gladly cooperate to this extent in advertising the show, and the fact that Eagle Rock is the Dahlia City.

Many Prizes Offered. A number of prizes have been offered for the best displays of various kinds. The committee expects that other prizes will also be offered by the time the show is held.

J. J. Broomall, Eagle Rock's dahlia grower of nation-wide reputation, will give three prizes. The first will be $20 worth of dahlia tubers, to be given for the best dahlia display. Ten dollars in tubers will be awarded for the best vase of cut flowers, and $5 in the bulbs for the best single Golden West dahlia.

The Twentieth Century club has offered a prize of $25 for the best setpiece.

A $25 prize is that of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce, to be given for the largest dahlia display from a single garden.

Trustees Have Fund. The trustees of Eagle Rock have a fund of $25, says the committee, and expect to raise more, to be awarded at the show. The distribution of the awards from this fund have not yet been decided.

The meeting yesterday was the first to be held this fall, and as some of the members were still away on vacations, the attendance was not as large as can be expected later. Another meeting of the committee is to be held at the Tea Shoppe next Wednesday, shortly after noon, when further details of the show will be worked out.

The members at yesterday's luncheon and meeting were: Mrs. C. W. Young, chairman; Mrs. W. I. Ong, secretary; Mrs. Claude Williams, Mrs. E. C. Jones, Mrs. Mable M. Runge, Mrs. Marshall Prindle, Mrs. Hal Bailey, Mrs. E. P. Nair, Mrs. R. W. Stephens and Mrs. J. C. Clausen.

YANK 'ATROCITIES' ARE SCORED IN BRITISH PRESS

Aristocracy Is Aghast When American Women Stage Gum-Chewing Stunt

By DAVID M. CHURCH (For International News Service.) LONDON, Sept. 7.—Every invasion seems to have its "atrocities." There were German atrocities during the invasion of Belgium. Now there are American "atrocities" during the tourist invasion of Great Britain, if one is to believe the British press.

Despite the high cost of white paper and restricted space, the British press is devoting a great deal of space to American "atrocities."

Some of the indictments against the Americans as set forth in the English press are:
1. An American girl wore a knickerbocker suit in Piccadilly.
2. American men wear dinner jackets in the presence of ladies.
3. American women have their shoes shined at street bootblack stands.

4. American women chew gum. These are just a few of the "atrocities" that are worrying the British press and which are offending the niceties of British aristocracy and nobility.

Critic Gives Views. "Corisande," who writes like a Duchess out of work—and Duchesses are writing for the newspapers now that the Duchess business has gone to pot—in her "society" column in the Evening Standard, recites one of the horrible "American atrocities" as follows:
"What a brave people the Americans are! Or is it that they think they can do things in London dreamed of in New York? We might be just the same. I have thought this a good many times since the transatlantic rush began—and one has met Americans with every step in London."

"It came upon me very strongly when I saw an American woman walking into the Ritz restaurant with a man's straw hat, wrapped up in brown paper, under her arm, and the paper had come adrift in one direction, so that there could be no doubt that it was a straw hat."

Oh, Horrors! Horrors!
"I don't know what other lunchers—such as the Duke of Rutland, Sir Godfrey Baring, or the charming Countess Cholsuille (white haired and all in black)—must have thought. Perhaps they did not notice.
"What a brave people the Americans are! Or is it that they think they can do things in London dreamed of in New York? We might be just the same. I have thought this a good many times since the transatlantic rush began—and one has met Americans with every step in London."

Another measure in combatting the spread of rabies is that governing the keeping of dogs in auto camps. All dogs in auto camps must be kept in wire enclosures and separate from each other.

Bitten by Dogs.
There are at present two persons being treated by the city health department for possible attacks of rabies. They were both bitten by dogs, who were suffering from the disease.

In one case the dog had been sick for some time but had been permitted to run loose around the neighborhood, endangering the life of everyone meeting him. It was not until he bit a small child that he was killed and when his head was examined at the laboratory it was found that he had the rabies.

In order to more quickly and efficiently handle the local situation full equipment for giving the Pasteur treatment has been installed at the health department.

Real Danger Seen.
According to Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer, if everyone knew the real seriousness of being bitten by a mad dog every Glendale resident would cooperate in the fight. Dr. Kaemmerling and his assistants have asked that reports be made at once of any dog bites or scratches as a case of rabies will develop within forty-eight hours if the dog has rabies.

On the other hand, people would take a more active part in combatting the danger if they knew the painful process of administering the Pasteur serum. DOGS MUST STAY OFF CITY STREETS
Face Certain Death, Word Health Department Has in Latest 'War'

The Glendale dog, whether he is blooded or mongrel, muzzled or unmuzzled, is ordered unless he stays in his own backyard or kennel, according to the ultimatum issued today by the health department, which is making war against any possibility of the spreading of rabies in the city. This ultimatum comes preliminary to the passing of a city ordinance authorizing officers to shoot all dogs, muzzled or unmuzzled, that are found on the streets.

Until this ordinance is passed the officers are authorized to pick up all dogs or cats found on the street.

Another measure in combatting the spread of rabies is that governing the keeping of dogs in auto camps. All dogs in auto camps must be kept in wire enclosures and separate from each other.

Bitten by Dogs.
There are at present two persons being treated by the city health department for possible attacks of rabies. They were both bitten by dogs, who were suffering from the disease.

In one case the dog had been sick for some time but had been permitted to run loose around the neighborhood, endangering the life of everyone meeting him. It was not until he bit a small child that he was killed and when his head was examined at the laboratory it was found that he had the rabies.

In order to more quickly and efficiently handle the local situation full equipment for giving the Pasteur treatment has been installed at the health department.

Real Danger Seen.
According to Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer, if everyone knew the real seriousness of being bitten by a mad dog every Glendale resident would cooperate in the fight. Dr. Kaemmerling and his assistants have asked that reports be made at once of any dog bites or scratches as a case of rabies will develop within forty-eight hours if the dog has rabies.

On the other hand, people would take a more active part in combatting the danger if they knew the painful process of administering the Pasteur serum. After a person is bitten by a dog and the animal's head has been examined and shows rabies, the person is given the treatment day for twenty days. BANK ACCOUNT IS GIVEN NEWCOMER
William Warren Hayward, Recent Arrival, Receives Substantial Greetings

William Warren Hayward is a small newcomer in Glendale, but he is the most important resident of the city, so the secretary of the realty board and was also the most important personage in the minds of the entire board at yesterday's meeting.

William Warren Hayward is the baby son of Secretary and Mrs. E. P. Hayward. W. W. H. just registered his birth—at city hall a few days ago. Yesterday, through his father, he distributed cigars and candy to the assembled realtors in celebration of his coming to Glendale to live.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell gave an enthusiastic talk of welcome to the youngster and of praise to Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hayward for having brought in the new inhabitant.

Gets Bank Account
Upon suggestion by Dr. Russell a bank account was started by acclaim for the newcomer, with the suggestion that it be placed in the bank to await his majority, at which time William W. H. will probably want to purchase some of the still advancing Glendale realty.

Not to be outdone President C. D. Thom of the realty board ordered Dr. Russell to head a committee to buy and send or deliver to Mrs. E. P. Hayward, mother of the new citizen, the finest and biggest assembly of flowers that Glendale has to offer, which the board offers as an expression of appreciation, respect and admiration.

Baby Likes Funny Glass; Mamma Has Her Diamonds Now

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—A few large and assorted diamonds left scattered around the house make excellent playthings for the baby and tend to keep him out of mischief. The bright glimmer of the stones will catch baby's eye and he would rather hammer them with his toy engine than perhaps take a wallop at a dish or some other valuable article.

Witness the case of the 4-year-old son of Mrs. Samuel H. Goldsmith, wife of an insurance broker who today recovered missing diamond rings valued at $2500. The youngster told his mother he had some funny glass which would not break when he pounded it. He was keeping the "glass" hidden in the cushion of the porch swing between poundings.

Mail Ad Men Will Meet In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—Arrangements for the fifth annual convention of the direct mail advertising association, which is to be held here from October 25 to 27, have been completed and half of the exhibit space already sold. Officials of the organization say that the convention will be a "university post-graduate course in advertising" for the 2000 members expected to be in attendance. Indications now are that the meeting here will be the most successful in the association's history.

WOMAN AGED 117 HAS SPANISH INN
Real Native Cooking Proves Lure to Many to Visit Green Verdugo Hills

Situated at the foot of the Green Verdugo Hills, where the morning sun seems to shine brightest and the afternoon shadows linger the longest, the unassuming little home place of "Mama Nanita," California's 117-year-old native daughter, has been opened as a real Spanish inn, under the management of "Mama Nanita's" granddaughter, Maria Pettit.

There the tourist or native Californian may eat real Spanish cooking and, while lingering to chat over tamales, enchiladas or a Spanish dinner, they can enjoy the beauties of the valley from the bungalow pergola, over which climbs a grape vine planted in the early days.

In Shade of Trees
The little home "In the Shade of the Grape Vine" is reached by traveling out Verdugo Road for a short distance beyond Verdugo Woodlands and then turning to the left on a road that leads across the wash to the northeast to the little home in a small nest of trees and marked by a tall pole and flying flag. Reservations are required for regular dinners.

PICTURE OF LIFE IN 'DUST FLOWER'
New Basil King Photoplay Is Being Offered on Glendale Screen

There was shown at the Glendale theatre last night a new Basil King photoplay, "The Dust Flower," his first contribution to the screen since his marvelous "Earthbound" of two seasons ago. Both productions were made by Goldwyn. "The Dust Flower" was worth waiting two years for. It is a natural, human, everyday picture of life as it is known to all of us. While it does not have the appeal to the human desire to know what awaits the soul after death that "Earthbound" had, it clings closely to the reality in which we all live, struggle and occasionally win through to happiness.

Rowland V. Lee directed "The Dust Flower" with the active assistance of the author who was on the lot every day while his novel was being picturized. They have made a tremendously effective photodrama with an appeal that will strike home to every human being who sees it.

Queenie, the marvel horse, is an added attraction in the comedy, "Cured." You will surely get a kick out of this equine.

ANALYZE FIGURES ON PRODUCTION BY U. S. SOILS

Irrigation Projects Do Not Pay As Well As Some Believe, Is Claim

(By U. S. Press Association.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The government has invested $132,653,900 net in western irrigation projects, and the settlers on these projects have repaid $12,820,300, or less than 10 per cent of their obligation, in twenty years. Twenty-four individual projects have been established, on which are 31,462 farms. The crops from these farms for 1921 were valued at $49,620,300, or more than one-third of the total cost of building projects, while the value of crops from all projects for the past ten years is given as $426,090,120, substantially more than three times the amount invested. This figure does not cover the entire period during which some of the projects have been operated; it covers only the last ten years, and yet, in the face of these big returns from crops, the settlers, in twenty years, have repaid only $12,820,300.

Detailed figures are interesting. The famous Salt river project in Arizona, the project of the Roosevelt dam, produced crops last year valued at $11,435,380; in the past ten years this project produced crops valued at $111,101,108, yet the settlers of that prosperous project have repaid the government only $849,900. In a single year the crops of the Salt river project would repay the full cost of the project, yet those farmers have to date discharged only 4.7 per cent of their obligation to the government. This is the most flagrant instance of failure to meet an obligation. Six projects in the west have, as yet, repaid nothing at all; one has repaid more than $1,000,000, and only one has discharged more than 20 per cent of its obligation to the government.

Have Greater Yield
According to the department of agriculture, thirteen eastern states, which spend nothing for irrigation to make their lands productive, have a greater yield per acre than the true average of the irrigation projects built by the government. Connecticut leads with an average of $88.46 per acre; then in order come Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Maine, North Carolina, Florida, Vermont, New York, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

The expenditure of $132,000,000 of government money "loaned" to the west has produced an average crop yield of $27.35. Thirteen old states of the east exceed that yield without a cent of government aid. One reason for the relatively low averages on the irrigation projects is the fact that more irrigated land is devoted to growing hay and fodder than to any other crops. Fruits are second in importance among the irrigated crops, but more than half of all the fruit produced on government projects come from the Yakima and Okanogan valleys of Washington; vegetables and truck stuff are third in importance and cereals occupy a bad fourth place.

British Did Not Guarantee
"A number of inquiries have been received, as a result of statements recently published, with respect to the exact status of the obligations of foreign governments held by the United States," says Secretary of Treasury Mellon, in a recent statement. Mr.

LABOR DAY—AND EVERYBODY WORKED BUT FATHER!

By MORRIS

Protected by George Matthew Adams

Mellon says that "special attention has been directed to the origin of the indebtedness of the British government amounting to about $4,135,000,000." He further states that the United States government "virtually insisted upon a guarantee by the British government of amounts advanced to the other allies is evidently based upon a misapprehension. Instead of insisting upon a guarantee, or any transaction of that nature, he explains, the United States government took the position that it would make advances to each government to cover the purchase made by that government and would not require any government to give obligations for advances made to cover the purchases of any other government. Thus, the advance to the British government, evidenced by its obligations, were made to cover its own purchases, and advances were made to the other allies to cover their purchases.

Mrs. C. E. Pendroy Selects Costumes for Display on September 26

Selection of gowns for the many fall models being received by Pendroy is the task which is occupying the attention of Mrs. C. E. Pendroy, the chosen costume to be displayed at the first annual fashion review to be given by that firm at the Glendale Theatre on September 26, and which will be for the benefit of the building fund of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

The review will include the latest in suits, street costumes, hats, shoes, afternoon dresses, evening gowns, coats, wraps, furs, etc., to be displayed on living models. Imported gowns will be among those displayed.

Mrs. Pendroy states that there will be two shows, a matinee in the afternoon, tickets for which are not reserved, and an evening performance, for which tickets are being reserved. The members of the ways and means committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club have charge of the tickets, which may also be secured at the Glendale Theatre, the use of which has been secured for the review through the cooperation of William A. COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Read and Recognition Development Speeds On Large Program Ahead Work, Save, Buy, Build

By Gil A. Cowan

NOTICING people comment on the great volume of classified advertising carried in The Glendale Evening News.

Incidentally, you can take yesterday's issue of The Glendale Evening News, for instance, and compare its classified advertising with all of the sheets published in this valley and find the sum total hardly equals that of this one paper.

Aside from showing business leadership in the community, the classified advertising is proof positive that The Glendale Evening News is read and recognized.

Further, it shows that the circulation of this newspaper is substantial, standing alone as it does on its own merits. The wise merchant will take cognizance of this fact in buying advertising space.

This fall and winter Glendale will see great progress and greater prosperity than ever before. New residents will flock here by the thousands. Already they are arriving and by January 1 the Chamber of Commerce will be in a position to claim close to 40,000 population in this community.

In speaking with one of the leading real estate agents yesterday I was surprised to learn that residential subdivisions are sometimes sold out before the plan has been accepted by the city!

There are approximately 4000 acres within the city limits now being sold out or in the process of subdivision, which means an additional 25,000 population.

One wonders at the speed with which development is going on right here in our midst. It is an almost impossible task to keep up with the progress. Millions could well be voted and spent in the next twelve months for sewers, streets, lights and water. The municipal program cannot be too large or too complete to meet the unprecedented demands.

Fact is, Glendale has just begun to grow! A good building site in this city today is little less than a piece of gold.

You cannot go wrong when you invest in the future of Glendale. For that matter, practically all of Southern California is equally as good.

The young man here will do well to work, save, buy, build and in ten years' time retire wealthy.

All of which leads right up to an editorial on "Successful Men," published recently in the Hollywood Daily Citizen, which is well worth reading:

"Everybody admires a successful man; they not only admire him but they are interested in him.

"If a man makes a success in the world the public wants to know how he did it; the public wants to know what extraordinary attainments the man possesses.

"The story of a railroad president who rose from station agent is not uncommon. That was the more or less humble beginning of a large number of railroad executives.

"What successful man can you think of, offhand, who did not start at the bottom?"

The RIDDLE of the FROZEN FLAME

"Good-night," chorused a score of voices, while the fat barmaid blew a kiss off the tips of her stubby fingers and called out after him.

"Well, Sammy, better be movin' back to our shelterin' roof an' all the corners of 'ome," began Cleek almost at once, and gulping down the last of his fourth tankard and slouching over to the doorway.

"Where you sleepin'?" "Under the 'yastack about 'arf a mile from 'ere," replied Cleek gl'ibly and at a venture.

The barmaid's brows knitted into a frown. "Aystack?" she repeated. "There ain't no 'yastack along this road from 'ere to Fetchworth. Bit off the track, ain't yer?"

Cleek retrieved himself at once. "Ain't there? Well, wot if there ain't? The place wot I calls a 'yastack—an' wot Lunnoners calls a 'yastack too—is the nearest bit of shelter wot comes your way. Manner of speakin', that's all."

"Oh! Then I reckon you means the barn about a quarter of a mile up the road toward the village?" The barmaid smiled again. "That's it. Good night."

"Good night," chorused the hoarse voices. The night outside was as black as a pocket. "Better cut along by the fields, Dollops," whispered Cleek as they took to their heels up the rough road.

"Got to pass him. This mist will help us. That was a near shaver about the haystack. I nearly tripped us up there. Awful creature, that woman!"

"Looks like a jelly-fish come loose," threw in Dollops with a snort. "There's ole Borkins, sir, straight ahead. 'Ere—in through this gap in the 'edge and then across the field by the side of 'im. . . . Weren't such a rough night after all, was it, sir?"

Cleek sighed. One might almost have thought that he regretted the fact. "No, Dollops," he said, softly, "it was the calmest night of its kind I've ever experienced. But we've gleaned something from it. But what the devil has Borkins got to do with this factory? What over it is he's in it right up to the neck, and we'll have to dig around pretty carefully. You'll help me, Dollops, won't you? Can't do without you, you know."

"Orlways, sir—orlways," breathed Dollops, in a husky whisper. "Where you goes, I'm a-hikin' along by yer side. You ain't ever goin' ter get rid of me."

"Good lad!" and they redoubled their pace.

CHAPTER XX. At the Inquest Thursday dawned in a blaze of sunshine, and after the bleak promise of the day before the sky was a clear, sapphire-blue.

What a day! And what a mission to waste it on! sighed Cleek next morning, as he finished breakfast and took a turn to the front door, smoking his cigarette. "Here's murder at the very door of this ill-fated place. And we've got to see the thing out!"

He spun upon his heel and went back again into the gloomy hall, as though the sight of the sunshine sickened him. His thoughts were with Merriton, shut away there in the village prison to await this day of reckoning, with, if the wrd should go against him, a still further day of reckoning ahead. A day when the cleverest brains of the law schools would be arrayed against him, and he would have to go through the awful tragedy of a trial in open court. What was a mere coroner's jury to that possibility.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

A FAMILIAR DRAMA

A wife I know had been prodigal her husband, in the way wives have, by telling him of another man in the same line of business in which he is, who "in spite of all these hard times, you talk so much about" has managed to make a lot of money.

One day she would come home with the news: "They have just bought a Luxury Six."

Again: "They are thinking of taking the house the Mosleys moved out of when they lost their money."

Next week: "They are going to take a trip in the Luxury Six and she has bought a lot of lovely new clothes to wear."

The trip was taken, the week after they came back the husband was taken sick with typhoid. After a six weeks' illness he died. When the estate was settled up it was found that he had the house on a mortgage which represented all or if not more than it would sell for; that the Luxury Six and the baby grand were both being bought on the installment plan and had to go back to the dealer; that they owed big bills at the department stores at which she bought the lovely clothes, to say nothing of large accounts with the grocer and the provision dealer; and that when these bills, and the bills for his illness had been paid, the widow would be penniless.

In other words they had not been nearly so well off in solid assets as the wife who had been envying them their seeming prosperity.

MOTHERS GET $20 FOR EACH BABE BORN; SEASON RUSHING

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7.—Each visit the stork pays to the Edgar Genebach farm, in southeast Missouri, the mother receives a check for $20 from Genebach, of this city. Three checks went forward from here last month to the cotton farm, where there are about thirty negro tenants.

"They are coming a little strong this month," Genebach said, "but it's all right. I regard it as a good investment, to say nothing of the satisfaction afforded by real practical welfare work. I have been more than repaid by the loyalty and faithful service of the negroes on my place."

HUBBY SPOKE HARSHLY; SHE SWALLOWS LYSOL

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—After her husband, George, it is alleged, had "spoken harshly to her for not dressing neatly around the house," Mrs. Veronica Addiz, 28 years old, drank a quantity of lysol. She was found lying in her room by her mother, Mrs. Marie Schaffer, who ran to the street shouting "My daughter is dying!" Patrolman Casila called an ambulance. Dr. Merriweather, of Knickerbocker hospital, said Mrs. Addiz' condition was not serious.

BEAUTY CHATS

A beauty specialist recently remarked that there was no excuse for a double chin. I had to agree with her, since I know that a double chin comes from over-eating, or from a careless manner of carrying the body.

Of course, the muscle laxness that comes with old age will cause some natural sagging, and if the person is accumulating fat over the whole body the sagged skin will soon be filled out into a pouch, forming a roll under the original chin.

The first step toward ridding oneself of this disfigurement should be a general reduction to the proper weight, and ice rubs to tighten up the muscles. A local treatment that will also help, is one in which the flesh is kneaded with the fingers as if it were soft dough; this is followed by a massage, beginning at the throat and stroking out to the tip of the chin. To do this use the palm of either hand and stroke with a light pressure, after the manner of using a flat iron on cloth.

An exercise that will help much is accomplished by dropping the jaw a little and throwing back the head as far as is possible without strain. Shut the mouth, open and shut several times—you can feel the pull along the tendons. Now roll the head around and around the shoulders, to the right, in back, to the left and front again. This will also chase off some of the fat over the throat.

Book Reviews

"God has wiped the slate clean," says J. A. R. Marriott in the final chapter, dealing with the settlement of the war, of his new book, "Europe and Beyond." There can be no question as to the completeness of the process. Between 1914 and 1918 the soldiers were doing the work of Providence. It was a preliminary, perhaps half-conscious, but none the less essential work. It is often so.

Six Girls Lose Jobs Because of Beauty

DETROIT, Mich.—Six Detroit girls are out of work because they are so pretty.

They were employed in the controller's department, receiving tax collections in the first floor corridor of the city hall.

"Too attractive—and too efficient as chin workers," Chester M. Pullford, assistant controller, commented briefly in discussing their removal. The business of paying taxes has been pleasant for Detroit property owners since the levy of young women were installed.

There were certain difficulties involved, though, from the start. It was not an easy matter to keep the long line of taxpayers moving. They exhibited a penchant for stalling in front of a blonde or brunette, stalling and stalling.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor: Will you kindly tell me what I could do to stop my legs and feet from itching? Every night when I take off my stockings I could just tear them to pieces. I am nearly 50 years old and heavy on my feet. I have pains across my loins, or rather the lower part of my back. I have been taking kidney and liver pills but they don't seem to do me any good. Walking out or if I do too much working around I am just crazy with pain and if I stop for 15 minutes it rests me a lot. Otherwise I am in splendid health.—E. F."

The technical name for the condition on your legs is known as Pruritus, from the Latin word meaning to itch. Pruritus is characterized by a sensation of itching which is not produced originally by skin disorders. It may be general or partial. It usually begins by tickling or crawling or itching sensation in the skin.

Your expression that you could "just tear them to pieces" is quite characteristic; and while there is apparently no skin disorder in the beginning, this "tearing them to pieces" is due to the real inflammation of the skin.

The different forms given in the text-book are: Senile Pruritus, that form occurring in the aged, which is due to degenerative changes in the skin; P. Genitalium, in which the external genital organs are affected—in these cases there should be made search for worms and a urinalysis, and an examination for internal genital disorders; P. Ani, itching around the anus, the external opening of the rectum; P. Palmatae et Plantae, in which the itching is limited to the palms and soles; P. Hiemalis, a frost itch or winter itch, a disorder of northern climates.

The causes of Pruritus are many and it is often difficult to determine which particular one is acting in a given case. It is probably due to some sort of irritation of the nerves of the skin. It is frequently a symptom of internal diseases, diabetes, jaundice, Bright's disease, rheumatism, etc. It is common in the gouty and rheumatic and neurotic. It is often due to auto-intoxication and disturbance of the digestion. It may be due to drugs.

In your case, inasmuch as you acknowledge being heavy on your feet and suffering from pains in BUCYRUS, Ohio.—An odor like that of a movie star's boudoir fought hard for ascendancy over the ever-present scent of disinfectants in the city prison here, due to the lodging of Calvin Bippus, a local character, in the city bastille over night.

Bippus had succeeded in getting a first-class jag out of the contents of a $1 bottle of Lilac Imperial toilet water.

Of the original six ounces half of it was left in the bottle when Bippus started arguing with Chief of Police Trautman, who arrested him, about the beauties of the sunset and the pleasant singing of the birds.

When Bippus had sobered up he explained that he did not drink all the missing three ounces, but had measured with his thumb the amount he swallowed.

He touched the information that "it acted awful quick."

JOHNNY MYERS IS HE IS AFTER BROTHER'S CROWN GIVEN VERDICT ON YOUNG STONE

Pair Provide Classy Bout Last Night; Watson and 'Wildcat' In Draw

Johnny Myers last night won a decision over Young Stone in the classiest four-round bout staged by the Modern Woodmen in many moons.

The first bout was a sweet little affair between little Paddy Mulligan of Pasadena and Young Welch of Glendale.

The second round of the match was so nearly all in that the match was stopped, Welch winning the decision.

The Kid Essick versus King bout was one of the classiest events of the evening.

King used his head more last night than formerly, and put up a better guard than in previous matches.

Some Heavy Staff In the third event Walter Dodge, Glendale, was booked to fight Johnny McCrary of Burbank and fight was the correct word.

McCrary was heavier than the local boy and during the first few seconds of the first round the two exchanged some heavy barrages.

Provide Real Fight Chick Watson of Glendale and the "Arizona Wildcat" from Burbank put on a real bout.

Chick was much better than the Wildcat at long range stuff, while the Burbank boy outclassed Watson when it came to infighting.

AMERICAN LABOR WATCHES TRIALS

Gold Field Rioters Present Their Side of Case In Recent Circular

By H. K. REYNOLDS
 For International News Service.
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. — Labor organizations in this country are greatly interested in the outcome of the trials of the 11,000 persons now in jail in South Africa in connection with the great strike in the Rand gold fields in January. Of those now imprisoned $50 are accused of high treason and many of them will be tried for murder under the old Roman-Dutch law.

Although the strike was described throughout the world as a revolution, this characterization is denied in a statement issued in London by the Class War Prisoners' Release committee. Copies of the statement have been circulated in labor circles in the United States.

"The trouble arose over a demand by the employers for a reduction in wages of the white men in the gold fields of five shillings a day," the statement says.

"This was resisted by the Federation of Trades, which made a counter-offer on behalf of the men to accept a reduction of two shillings and sixpence a day pending arbitration. This was refused by the employers, who were backed by the government."

Black Labor Employed

"At the same time the Chamber of Mines, which represents the gold mine owners, demanded that in future work hitherto performed by white men should be done by cheap black labor. This meant that 5,000 white workers would be thrown out of employment and that wages would be reduced from twenty shillings per day to two shillings per day, the difference between the wages of the white worker and the native."

"These demands were opposed by the unions and a strike began on January 10. Appeals were made to the government on behalf of the white workers, with the object of effecting a settlement; the government replied by advising the men to accept the employers' terms. These were counted as impossible."

"Sympathy of the whole community was with the unions, and food supplies were sent by the farmers to enable the strike to continue. This in itself was proof of the justice of the miners' demands, and it did not please the employers. Something had to be done."

Three Miners Murdered

"Aggression on the part of the police took place at Boksburg, and three miners were murdered. A demand was made of the government that a public inquiry be held and that the officers responsible for these deaths be brought to trial. The government, which shares in the profits from the mines, advised the unions to accept any terms offered and return to work. It then called upon the employers to open the mines, giving a guarantee that full protection would be given to every man returning to work."

"As a reprisal the Federation of Trades called a general strike. Aeroplanes, tanks, heavy artillery and bombs were then brought into action by the South African government, which was responsible for the hundreds of deaths that followed."

"Indiscriminate destruction of life and property took place. Three sons of a widow were taken from their home by the military and, despite their mother's appeal, were shot."

Government Is Opposed

"After many fearful atrocities the government brought in a bill to indemnify the police and the military. This was strongly opposed by the South African Labor party, and a hard fight is being put up by all sections of the working class movement."

Englishman Would Ban London Smoke

LONDON—London is the dirtiest town in the world, while, according to the statement made by Lord Newton in the House of Lords, England as a whole bears an unenviable sooty record.

No less than twenty-five tons of soot to the square mile falls every month in, or on, London, while in Birmingham the fall amounts to twenty-four tons per month.

Lord Newton was speaking in support of a bill that aims at doing away with smoke nuisances, the banning of all steam trains within the London suburbs, establishing central heating in offices and factories and the running of machinery in factories by electricity.

A. GELMOR TELLS ABOUT PROGRESS

Stock Compares Favorably With Largest Tailoring Shops in L. A.

"When I came to Glendale three years ago, I had ten pieces of goods," says A. Gelmor, tailor at 138 South Brand, "and now my stock compares favorably with the largest Los Angeles tailoring shops."

Mr. Gelmor yesterday obtained a lease for three more years on his store on South Brand, from the Roy L. Kent company.

A new fall line of many different materials and styles is now being shown at the Gelmor shop. Mr. Gelmor does tailoring for both women and men, and states that nothing but the authentic fall styles are being shown.

Has Second Shop

The quality of goods and workmanship and the service given at his place of business may be judged from the patronage, he says. Not only has his tailoring shop on South Brand multiplied itself many times in stock carried and work done, but he has established a second shop, the Merino Tailors, at 212 North Brand.

The latter, he explains, was opened for those persons who prefer a less expensive quality of goods and it is designed to offer such goods at prices which eliminate the necessity of going into Los Angeles to buy a suit.

Milk Condensing In U. S. Is on Decline

WASHINGTON—The milk-condensing business in the United States is on the wane again.

Before the world war, according to agriculture department officials, the milk condensing industry was comparatively small. During the conflict, however, it grew to large proportions, the production rising from 875,000,000 pounds in 1914 to 2,000,000,000 pounds in 1918.

Since then, officials assert, the milk condensing business has lost a large part of its market, with resulting disturbances to the dairy business generally.

BUCCYRUS, O.—Two Marlon girls came up to enjoy the bathing in the swimming pool at Oceola, seven miles west of here.

So the bathers at the pool were mystified, at 4:30, upon hearing the tones of a big alarm clock, until the fair bathers explained that they had brought the clock along with the returning car that leaves here at 5 in the afternoon.

Glendale Dry Goods Store Holding Sale

"We are very well satisfied with the business which has come to us during the past year," remarked Joe Holzman at 115 East Broadway, commenting upon the first anniversary sale of the Glendale Dry Goods store.

According to Mr. Holzman, this sale is necessary to make room for a large and varied stock of fall merchandise shipments which are arriving daily.

During the progress of this sale which will last about five days, all summer goods are marked at cost. Reductions are noted on the entire stock of women's ready-to-wear apparel.

SHOPMEN TO VOTE ON MAKING PEACE

DELAY REPORTED IN MINE RESCUE

Policy Committee to Meet Monday and Take Ballot on Settlement Plan

May Require Week or More to Reach Trapped Men; Work Goes Forward

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—The dark clouds of the destructive labor-capital war of shopmen and railroads which threatened to involve all railroad brotherhoods and even go as far as to bring about a general labor strike were split with a widening rift of peace today.

Official call for a meeting of the shopcrafts' policy committee of ninety to vote on the proposed plan of settlement had gone to the members and decks were being cleared for action. The meeting will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Sheridan-Plaza hotel here.

This policy committee, representing three divisions throughout the United States, has the power to accept propositions which will end the national railroad strike.

The telegrams were sent out after a long distance communication between B. M. Jewell and John Scott Jewell, who was "somewhere in the east" instructed Scott to order the three division committees to report "in Chicago without fail."

Of the $32,000,000 expended for a first-class battleship, $21,000,000 is for machinery.

GLENDALE K. OF C. MAKES PLANS TO GET NEW HOME

The committee, headed by Mr. Ferry, will push the plans for the new club house. It is announced. It is planned to purchase a large residence, and remodel it, having a council chamber in the rear. A suitable piece of property has already been found, and negotiations are said to be under way for its purchase. The new club house will be close in, according to Mr. Girard.

Growing Rapidly

Mr. Cannon, the newly elected deputy grand knight, held the position of grand knight for five consecutive years in the east, it is announced. There is splendid material here for a big lodge, according to Mr. Girard.

The local council was organized about five years ago. At that time there were about thirty charter members. The membership is now well on its way toward the 200 mark and growing at a rapid rate, owing to the new member drive now being made.

Meetings in the past have been held twice a month in the I. O. O. F. hall.

L. F. Wright was the grand knight for the year just closed, while F. H. Huessman has been financial secretary since the organization of the chapter. He was re-elected.

Lots of Enthusiasm

With Harry Girard as president elect, the Glendale council of the Knights of Columbus is on the verge of the most successful year of its history, is the opinion of H. V. Henry, prominent knight.

"Last night's meeting was enthusiastic from start to finish," said Mr. Henry today. Grand Knight Leslie Wright, president, and in addition to the consideration of several applications for membership and the election of officers there was an inspiring talk by Frank O'Neil, well known member of the Los Angeles council, and short talks by Peter Ferry, Jesse Smith, M. J. Brennan and H. M. Doll.

"Interesting facts of the election, were that the new officers were elected by unanimous acclamation and with the exception of the secretary and treasurer, all are new officers."

"I predict more than 100 per cent increase in membership for the coming year. In addition to building a new club house, we are going to organize five troops of Boy Scouts, a baseball team, bowling team and under the direction of our new president a glee club and chorus. In short we're going to be actively interested in the extensive athletic and social program now being formulated by Mr. Girard and his corps of helpers."

Wonder Circus Will Be In Los Angeles

Made even more tremendous than in 1921 by the recent additions of many more trained wild animal displays and the purchase of Europe's biggest horse show, Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined will exhibit at Los Angeles, September 11, 12, 13 and 14.

All who glance over the cable news or who read the magazines must have noted the many contracts entered into by the Ringling Brothers for foreign talent last winter. A special ship was chartered this spring to bring the hundreds of human performers, trained animal acts and equine displays to America.

The show this year is a third bigger than the Ringling Brothers & Barnum & Bailey show of last season.

Big as is this wonder circus of 1922—with its more than twenty trained wild-animal displays in steel arenas, fully 150 wonderfully schooled trick horses, 700 men and women performers, 100 elephants and scores of features—the price of admission is no more than before.

And, though the trained animal numbers and the immense horse show were circuses in themselves while touring Europe, they are not offered as separate attractions by the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey combined shows. Instead, all are on one gigantic program.

Anniversary of Loss of Leg Celebrated

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—The other day John Hoffman, sixty, elevator operator at the Deaconess Hospital, commemorated to his passengers that it had been eight years to the day and hour since the fateful day when a 100-pound cake of ice fell on his foot, inflicting injuries which later necessitated amputation of his right leg just below the knee.

"I'm celebrating the eighth anniversary," he said. "Twenty minutes later he got off the elevator stool and started to leave the cab. One of his crutches slipped and he fell to the floor, fracturing the hip of his crippled leg."

Arrival of Stork May Reconcile Bill Hart and His Wife

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—Bill Hart, Jr., arrived yesterday. The stork brought him to the home of his mother, Mrs. William S. Hart, wife of the motion picture star at Santa Monica. Bill, Jr., weighed nine pounds. He and his mother were reported to be doing splendidly.

The separation of Bill Hart, the "two gun" screen hero, and his wife, who was Winifred Westover, was reported several weeks ago when Mrs. Hart went to live with her mother in Santa Monica while her husband remained at his home.

At the time of the reported separation Mrs. Hart was said to be preparing to file suit for divorce. Hart strenuously denied her reported charges of cruelty and no action was taken. Recently it was reported that there was a prospect of a reconciliation.

"BLOOD AND SAND" CLOSES TONIGHT

Has Broken All Attendance Records; Valentino Is Seen at His Best

"Blood and Sand"—the play that has broken all summer attendance records at the T. D. & L. Theatre—finishes its run tonight.

The worshippers of Rodolph Valentino, and there are many, declare "Blood and Sand" to be his best picture. In this, his latest picture, he has been given opportunities for greater portrayal than ever before.

The story by Ibanez has a deep philosophy running through it, aside from the romance which is the crowning element of this famous play. Words fail to describe "Blood and Sand"—and Valentino.

Eight long reels prove all too short, for one is held in suspense from the start to finish. The interest is never lacking for a moment.

Not to see Valentino in "Blood and Sand" is to fail to see one of the new season's great productions. Today is the last chance to see it, for the final showings take place tonight.

The people of the United States spend $750,000,000 every year to see the moving pictures.

proposed industrial show in October recommended that the idea be not considered at the present time, but asked for permission to continue its investigations for further report and recommendation.

Secretary Hayward reported that he is trying to get speakers on the proposed power and water bill which is up for referendum. He also reported some 2000 Glendale booklets at his office, not yet made use of by members to send out as publicity for the city.

A letter from an experienced hotel man in the south was read in which the writer expressed an interest in coming to Glendale to operate a tourist hotel. No concerted action was taken, and it is deemed unwise to split the effort at present being directed toward the hotel proposition in the eastern part of the city.

Fair Fortune Teller Takes Client's Cash

CHELSEA, Mass.—Police of this city are searching for a fair young fortune teller who fleeced Konstante Telone of $1900—the savings of his entire life.

The victim said the fortune teller offered to make a money belt for him, and advised him to keep all his money in it. This he did, he said, withdrawing his $1900 from the bank and putting it in the belt. At another appointment with the fortune teller she took the belt to examine it and then gave it back. When Telone appeared for his third appointment she had disappeared. He then examined his money belt and found the money had vanished.

"He's been whistling since he was six months old," declared the proud father. "I'm sure he is the champion baby whistler of the world. Why, when that boy grows up he ought to be in great demand. Think what Mr. Sousa would give to have such a whistler in his band!"
