Garbage Question a Paramount Issue. Dumping Ground will Probably be Purchased

All members present. The reading of approved demands and of the minutes opened the session. The usual application for permission to hunt in Verdugo Canyon, was received and granted. A complaint was received from Casa Verdugo in regard to overflow of irrigating water from the Thom ranch; referred to city engineer. Bids. were opened and declared as follows:

For the improvement of Raleigh street—D. C. Howard, grading, 39c; oiling, 2.2c; curb, 21½c; McCombs Bros., 24c; oiling 1¾c; curb, 21c; R. A. Merrill, grading, 32c; oiling, 1¾c; curb, 22c. Bids were referred to the city engineer.

Report of the city engineer was read and filed. The garbage question was discussed at some length and it was decided to publish a notice in the paper calling attention to the regulations in regard to the matter.

The chairman reported that the city can secure five acres of ground that will serve the city for dumping purposes and desired the members of the board to look at it; it was decided to visit the grounds Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Coker protested against the present ordinance in regard to the handling of garbage, in that the people should not be compelled to put the garbage cans on the curb if at the same time they are compelled to pay for the service. Mr. Watson expressed the idea that as soon as practicable the garbage should be handled free, the cost being borne by the general fund, but this is not practicable at the present time, as many people within the city do not require the service.

Mr. Tower expressed the same idea, calling attention to the fact that with 1000 families living in Glendale, only about 130 places are receiving the service. The next matter discussed informally was an ordinance placing a tax on persons peddling goods and produce in the city, a wide diversity of opinion being expressed. This shifted to the question of taxing outside trucks that use the streets, and in this matter there was a general agreement to the effect that something ought to be done about it. The city clerk and the engineer both contributed information as to sand teams hauling sand from Verdugo Canyon to Eagle Rock and elsewhere.

The city attorney recommended that the contract for Raleigh street improvement be awarded to McComb Bros., the lowest bidders; adopted. The engineer reported that he had been working on the storm water problem and was about ready to make a recommendation as to culverts which would spread the water and do away with much of the trouble. No action taken. The engineer recommended that the curb on the southeast corner of Broadway and Brand, be removed, as it is not on proper line. He was instructed to take the matter up and have it attended to. A motion prevailed that two poles on Broadway near Brand, one on the P. E. right of way and the other belonging to the Home Telephone Co., be removed.

Wages of garbage collector placed at $4.50 a day to take effect on Sept.

Every detail has been planned for the convenience and pleasure of the patronesses of the establishment.

THE ASSEMBLY CONTEST.

Returns from outside precincts on the vote on the assembly nominee on the Republican ticket have some local interest, one of the candidates being a Glendale man. A few of these follow: Burbank—Roberts, 49; Sherer, 53; Ready, 13. Lankershim—Roberts, 28; Sherer, 52; Ready, 5. Eagle Rock—Roberts, 98; Sherer, 39; Ready, 15. San Fernando—Roberts, 125; Sherer, 48; Ready, 27. Lancaster—Roberts, 46; Sherer, 46; Ready, 1. Van Nuys—Roberts, 15; Sherer, 23; Ready, 6. La Canada—Roberts, 34; Sherer, 23; Ready, 43. In the fifteen Los Angeles precincts, Roberts received 843, and Sherer 229, Roberts running 200 behind his ticket, Ready getting 85 votes. The editor of the NEWS wishes to extend his thanks to his contemporaries for their kind expressions in regard to his candidacy and the active assistance the most of them gave him.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS

Open Monday—District Boundaries Teachers, Etc.

The Glendale city schools will open Sept. 16. A full corps of teachers has been appointed and assigned to their respective work. We lose some of our best teachers, who have been lured to other places through larger salaries, but others, whom we believe equally efficient, will take their places.
The ungraded rooms will be in charge of Miss Annie McIntyre and Mrs. Fannie O. Stone, two of our most successful teachers.
The intermediate school will open for the first time in the new building on Third street. This building will be the center for manual training and domestic science, and, we hope, a social center for the entire community.
The domestic science and manual training quarters will be well equipped for their respective work.
Mr. Stewart Samuels will do regular school work, and have charge of the playground, assisted by the other teachers. Mr. Saumels graduated from the Chico State Normal, and took post-graduate work in agriculture and biology. He was in charge of the playground at Sacramento for one year. He has also served very successfully as teacher and principal of schools for four years.
Mr. Egbert Polly, a native of California, and an alumnus of the Kirksville State Normal School, has been secured as a regular teacher, and will assist with the boys' athletics.

Prof. A. M. Brooks, the supervising principal, is also a new man among us. He has been so actively engaged directing the janitors of the various buildings and fitting up and equipping the intermediate school that there has been little time for other things.
Mr. Brooks is a native of Pennsylvania, and was educated in the county schools, the Pennsylvania Normal, Edinboro, Albion College, University of Michigan and Chicago University. The degrees of A. B. and A. M. were conferred upon him. He has also traveled considerably in Asia, Africa and Europe.

BOUNDARIES OF SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

West Glendale District begins at the wash, thence to Ross & Thom ranch, north on Ross & Thom line to north boundary of the district, west on the north boundary to the west boundary, south on the west boundary to S. P. R. R. track, thence along railroad to place of beginning.
The Fourth street school limits are: West along the north line to the west line of Ross & Thom ranch, south along Ross & Thom line to wash, westerly on wash to Jackson, south on Jackson to Sixth, east on Sixth to place of beginning.
The Sixth street school limits are as follows: Beginning at S. P. R. R. tracks and the intersection of Sixth street, thence east to Central avenue, then north on Central avenue to Third, east on Third to Jackson, and south on Jackson to Sixth street, east to Glendale avenue, south on Glendale avenue to city limits.

MEETING OF SCHOOL TEACHERS.
The teachers of the city schools are to meet at the intermediate school, Third street, Friday, 13th, at 2 p. m. The trustees are expected to be present. Business of importance to all will be under consideration.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.
In Lanterman's grove, La Canada, a Farmers' Institute was held Wednesday last conducted by J. B. Neff of Anaheim, representative of the agricultural department of the state university. The NEWS regrets that it had no information of this meeting in advance, as these institutes are always very interesting and instructive and should have a large attendance.

JAPANESE LAWN FETE.

One of the most prominent of the early autumn social affairs will be the Japanese lawn fete given at the home of Mrs. Mattison B. Jones of Orange street on the evening of September 20th, under the auspices of the Tuesday Afternoon Club for the benefit of the club's building fund. Most elaborate and charming plans are being made by the various committees to make the evening a long-to-be-remembered pleasure. Friends of the club throughout the valley are most cordially invited. The ice cream booth will be prettily featured in cherry blossoms and will be presided over by Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and Mrs. Helen Campbell. A dainty booth of wisteria will be an open-air tearoom where Mrs. Henry Ward will be hostess. An immense Japanese umbrella will cover the candy booth, where Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson will be in charge. Dr. Jesse A. Russell will supervise the fortune telling booth where mysterious and creepy sensations will hold sway. Mrs. Mattison B. Jones and Mrs. Alexander Mitchell are in charge of the program for the evening and excellent and entertaining musical and literary numbers will be rendered by E. C. Boynton, A. A. Macurda, S. C. McPherson and E. Z. Ruenitz, Sierra Quartet, and by Miss Viney-Gee, dialect reader. A large number of members from the Friday Morning and Ebell Clubs of Los Angeles have accepted invitations to the affair.

LAVENDER HIGH TEA.

In honor of Miss Emma Williams of North Glendale, Miss Berenice Williams of 310 Cedar street entertained with a lavender tea party on Tuesday. The house was prettily decorated with lavender asters and quantities of asparagus fern.
The afternoon was devoted to needlework on behalf of the bride-elect. Dainty bags filled with old fashioned, sweet lavender were made for her linen chest after which a dozen tea towels were hemmed.
Miss Emma Williams received "Lavender and Old Lace" quaintly bound in lavender, as prize for being the most tea towels.

During the afternoon Miss Williams was presented by her friends with a set of half-dozen handsome hand-painted plates. Following the serving bee high tea was served. Table decorations were entirely in lavender; hand-painted place cards marked covers arranged for Miss Emma Williams, honoree, Miss Nellie Williams, Miss Clara Petersen, Miss Bertha Petersen, Miss Eleanor Clemens and Miss Kathryn Clemens of Altadena.

GLENDALE, CAL., SEPTEMBER 13, 1912

Brother Lawrence of the Burbank Review laments the fact that in the recent primary contest "there were too many good candidates for the same office." This is easily remedied; we will let the "Progressives" name them all next time.

Having criticized Governor Johnson in times past, and still having occasion to do so, it is quite a relief to our gray matter to commend him for declaring that he will enforce the law in regard to capital punishment. The Governor is reported as saying: "I don't feel that I have any greater right to abrogate the law of capital punishment than any other law;" a just and sensible conclusion.

Some citizens of Tropic are criticizing their city trustees for making a contract with the Pacific Light and Power Company in preference to accepting a proposition from the City of Los Angeles to furnish similar service at a lower rate, beginning April next.

The representatives of the Los Angeles Aqueduct power made a similar offer to the Glendale trustees, which, for apparently good reasons, was rejected, and a contract entered into with the Pacific Light and Power Company. A good many people doubt the ability of Los Angeles to deliver either power or water from the Aqueduct by April next, or for several months afterwards. Estimates based on future contingencies vital to the issue are mighty uncertain.

CITY AND COUNTY CONSOLIDA- TION.

Friday evening of this week there will be held at San Gabriel under the auspices of the San Gabriel Valley Intercity Commission, a mass meeting to protest against the proposed change in the constitution of the state enabling the consolidation of city and county governments, which the voters must pass upon next November in accordance with the terms of an initiative petition. This amendment proposes to practically put within the power of the cities of Los Angeles and San Francisco the ability to annex any surrounding territory upon which they may chance to cast envious eyes.
In the North, San Francisco wants to swallow whole the flourishing smaller cities across the bay, Berkeley, Oakland and Alameda. In the South, the desire of Los Angeles to take in all of the surrounding country is well known. The proposed law is apparently full of "jokers" and the Pasadena Record in a recent issue devotes considerable space to exposing them.
Senator Hewitt in the legislature two years ago endeavored to get a law through by which annexation elections could be carried through the means of a blanket election at which the vote of the larger city and the territory proposed to be annexed could be bunched together, enabling the large city to have everything its own way, and it looks as if an effort will be made by the same bunch of statesmen to accomplish the same object through this initiative measure.

WELCOME TO THE G. A. R.

This week in Los Angeles belongs to the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic who meet there to hold their annual national encampment.
Los Angeles is coming rapidly to the front as a great convention city which draws to it from all parts of the United States the various bodies which hold annual meetings for business and pleasure. From time to time bodies of educators, of religious organizations, of fraternal societies and clubs of all sorts, come to this city and are hospitably received. But the association that meets there this week is one that has unique claims upon any city in which it may choose to meet.
There is nothing new to be said in regard to the debt that the nation owes to the veterans of the Grand Army, but it cannot be too often repeated. The little that the people of this nation can do in the way of honoring them, is as nothing compared to the debt we owe them. In these times of peace and prosperity there is a natural human tendency to forget the price paid for the blessings of liberty which we enjoy, and we cannot be too often reminded of it. The generation that has grown up since the Civil war cannot easily realize the vital significance of that conflict. Almost half a century has closed since its final chapter was written at Ap-pomatox on the soil of old Virginia and millions of human beings have been born and grown up to manhood and womanhood in those forty-seven years. They came into existence in a time of peace and in this nation during their lives no other great conflict has been fought. It is not only the youth of the land who need an object lesson in patriotism, but men and women whose life is in its prime may profit by the presence among them of the surviving actors in that great tragedy. These old soldiers are the men who made history for us in the old, primal, heroic way, by the might of their strong arms and the courage of valiant souls.

In those days when the life of the nation was in peril, the North sent out to do battle for it, the best that it had; no sacrifice of property or life was too precious to lay upon the country's altar and the God of War accepted alike the youth and the man whose hair was already gray. It is principally the young soldiers of that time that survive to receive honor today; they went to the front in the full flush of boyish enthusiasm and by reason of strength and good fortune survived to see the fruits of their sacrifice ripen and to receive this occasional honor from their countrymen.
All the hospitality of a great city is offered to the G. A. R. this week and all the honors that the people can pay the veterans of '65 will be but a small installment of that which is due.

The NEWS has received for publication from the Roosevelt Progressive Republican League a long communication reciting the action of "The Republican State Central Committee" at San Francisco Saturday a week ago. This committee we are informed "repudiated and denounced the nomination of Taft and Sherman by the boss-ridden Republican National Convention at Chicago."

There is no news in this statement.
The stock in trade of a group of men who manage a political campaign regardless of the ordinary principles of political decency and the moral law, is denunciation. These men went to Chicago and entered the national convention of the party. They knew the rules of the convention, were familiar with the call by which the national committee arranged for representation in that convention, knew that California had held a primary election contrary to the call, knew that their own managers had filed over a hundred admittedly "fake" contests, knew that in the Republican National party the decision of the National Convention always has been and necessarily must be the supreme authority in party affairs. They went there prepared to "Rule or Ruin." At no time did Theodore Roosevelt have a majority of the delegates in that convention although every effort was made to secure delegates by purchase and otherwise. They were met by Republicans of high standing in the party and in the nation who knew their game and were prepared for it.
Never before in the history of the party were the proceedings so open and above board. The meetings of the National Committee were open to the press; every decision was in accordance with precedent, and the mere fact that the California case is the one upon which the seceders rely for their justification, discredits their entire structure upon which the claim of fraud is based, for in that case the committee acted not only within its rights, but was compelled to come to the decision it did in order to maintain adherence to precedent and its own authority. Further than this the National Committee was a hold-over committee from a Roosevelt dominated convention, every member of it being satisfactory to that gentleman when chosen and supposed to be a decent citizen until he acted contrary to the will of the one dominant figure in a faction which we are told is not "boss-ridden."

Falling in its object but still carrying out a deliberately chosen program the defeated faction started a movement to destroy the party to which they still claim adherence. Their leader gave up all claims to being a Republican and started a new party as distinct from the Republican party as is the Democratic party or any other. He advised his followers to organize a "Progressive" party in all states except in those where they could "take over" (steal) the Republican organization, and California is in the latter class. The people of the state of California by reason of their very zeal for good government in reality, are being led into ways that are devious by leaders ambitious for power capable of no such a motive

SIXTY-TWO YEARS A STATE.

The month is so prolific in holidays that September 9th does not meet with the attention which it deserves.
It is the anniversary of a great event, the admission of California into the Union as the 31st state. A few important historical facts leading up to this culmination are of interest as we find them recorded in McGroarty's "California."

In 1846 there were about 10,000 whites in California, principally located around about the bay of San Francisco. It was then a Mexican province with a civil governor, Pico, in Los Angeles, and a military governor, Castro, in Monterey. Between these two there was much rivalry, there were only about 400 Mexican soldiers in the state and consequently it was a government lacking cohesion and force. Russia had already secured some slight foothold at Port Ross in Mendocino county, English vessels hovered about the bay of San Francisco, even France had a jealous eye upon this portion of the coast and the United States was just beginning to see visions of empire here. "Came then that picturesque character, Fremont the "Pathfinder," in command of a small section of the army of the United States. The Americans were becoming restless at the condition of affairs; the Mexican population hated the "Gringos" with a bitter hatred and the friction between the two races was bound to result in an outbreak.

This occurred when on June 14th, 1846, a company of Americans under the leadership of Captain Ezekiel Merritt and supposed to have been encouraged by Fremont, for his chief scout, Kit Carson was among them, captured General Vallejo at his beautiful home at Sonoma, sent them to Sutter's Fort (at Sacramento) and hoisted the celebrated Bear Flag.
The excuse for this and possibly the reason, was that the Mexican general Castro had recently been busy stirring up the natives, inflaming their minds against the Americans and making threats to drive them out. After the capture of Sonoma Wm. B. Ide was made commander-in-chief and the "Republic of California" was formed. On July 7th, Monterey, the Mexican capital was captured in a bloodless manner and the Bear Flag hoisted there.
Three days later news was received that war had been declared between the United States and Mexico. This made things easy for Fremont and he at once hoisted the Stars and Stripes.

In January, 1848, Marshall discovered gold at Colima near Sacramento.
This was the beginning of an epoch and as fast as they could come overland or across the Isthmus, the Argonauts poured into California. The output of the California gold fields in five years was the tremendous sum of $1,200,000,000, making its influence felt throughout the world. The state would have been admitted sooner had it not been for the opposition of the southerners in Congress who objected to the admission of a state the constitution of which prohibited slavery.
However, on Sept. 9th, 1850, the Golden state came into the Union full-fledged without the usual territorial probation. San Jose was the capital for two years, Vallejo and Benicia each for about one year and then in 1854 it was established at Sacramento.
The history of the state from its first settlement is a romance in many chapters, and the end of the romance is still far in the future if one may read the signs of the times and judge of that future by the wonderful past and the no less marvelous present.

HOW IT WAS IN TROPICO.

"For member of the Assembly, the combined vote of the two precincts of the city was as follows: For R. W.
Ready, 9; W. A. Roberts, 89; J. C.
Sherer, 74; a majority for Mr. Roberts of only 15. In the City of Glendale, Mr. Sherer's home town, the majority for Mr. Roberts was 94. Proportionately, Mr. Sherer appears to have more friends in Tropic than in Glendale. Something for you to remember, Brother Sherer."—Tropico Sentinel.

Thank you, Brother Burch. Mr.
Sherer will always remember with pleasure the support received in

THE WATER QUESTION AT BURBANK.

There was a fairly good attendance at the water meeting held at the City Hall on Monday evening last, to hear the report of the water committee and discuss the same. The chairman of the committee, C. H. Kline, presided and Will Craig was chosen secretary.

Chairman Kline introduced the subject in hand, that of securing a better and more permanent water supply for the city of Burbank. His committee had spent considerable time investigating. They had waited in vain for something definite as to obtaining a permanent water supply from the Owens river aqueduct at prices we could afford to pay. There is nothing positive as to time of getting the Owens water, price, or whether we can retain it more than a few years, should we secure it. The understanding is that Los Angeles can only sell the surplus water and if she needs what we are using can take it from us. It is also said that the water surplus must first go to those watering for irrigation of lands. If there is more than the ranchers and big land owners up the valley need, we may buy some. "One thing is certain, Burbank must have a water pipeline system, pump, etc., and pay for the same, whether we purchase the Brand system or put in a new system for the aqueduct water or a regular municipal water plant for Burbank.

The committee had received from L. C. Brand an itemized statement of the value of his water system in Burbank, which the chairman read. Some of the items were considered as too high, but it was thought Mr. Brand might be induced to cut the total valuation of $26,686 considerably, if Burbank came forward with a good business proposition.—Review.

Fall Opening

These very cool nights and mornings are heralds of the fall and winter season and a renewed activity is noticeable in the shops. This is especially true in the dry goods and millinery establishments. The displays of airy summer garments have given place to apparel more in keeping with the season.

A glimpse behind the scenes in the millinery parlors of Anna L. Smith and Leonora M. Miller, 1024 West Broadway, was a revelation.

In the midst of a seemingly impossible conglomeration of colors and hats and fabrics, sat Miss Elizabeth Christman, skilled trimmer, recently of New York, evolving from the apparent chaotic mass of beautiful things, the designs created by Miss Smith.

There were big hats, medium hats and little hats. Hats for the old, the middle aged and the young. There were tailor-made hats, reception hats and evening hats. There were hats of downy plush, rich velvet and then there were others upon which the plumes and bows lay flat—very flat.
But it was the colors and the daring combination of colors that made you catch your breath. There are some new ones, you know, that are making their initial appearance this season.
There is fuchsia, mustard and taupe are among the new arrivals, and they are as fascinating to the eye as they are alluring when one tries to describe them. To the uninitiated browser in these realms, the mass of trimming that was heaped in the crown of an inverted picture hat, could spell nothing but the most awful discord. But, presto! Under the magic touch of the artist's master hand, the whole was transformed into an exquisite symphony of lines and color.

Thursday and Friday of next week these parlors will be in gala attire and the display of trimmed chapeaux will be a feature no woman should miss.

We specialize on Plumes. We have a large and varied line at different prices. Anna L. Smith and Leonora

IN GREEN AND WHITE.

A charming luncheon party and miscellaneous shower were given Wednesday by Mrs. A. L. Bryant and Mrs.
Frank Campbell at the former's home in honor of Miss Una Russell soon to be married to Mr. Alexander S. Russell. The dining room was exquisitely decorated in green and white. Table decorations were especially unique and dainty. A tiny bride in a thrilling bridal veil and carrying a shower bou-quet, stood in the center of the table facing the bride-elect who graced the head of the table. Dainty satin streamers of green trailed over the white cloth to converge at the honored guest's place. At the conclusion of the luncheon each guest wrote four "Don'ts" on the back of her place card and presented it to Miss Russell, after which they adjourned to the living room. A guessing game of the wedding journey occasioned much amusement. Mrs. George U. Moyse won head prize.

Miss Russell was then led to a decorated chair and while Mrs. Bryant played the wedding march the guests marched in and presented their various gifts at Miss Russell's feet. The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to a musical. Guests were Miss Bess Palmer of Orange, Mrs. C. W.
Burket of Whittier, Mrs. G. McDonald and Miss McDonald of Los Angeles, Mrs. Hazen Collins of Los Angeles, Mrs. Captain Hall of Los Angeles, Mrs. C. E. Russell, Mrs. Dora Hall, Mrs. John Danford, Mrs. Horace Overton, Mrs. George Moyse, Mrs. W.
A. Goss and Miss Bertha Fuller.

All women in Glendale and vicinity interested in the philanthropic work of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon quart jars of the same are always grateful to the following institutions the Children's Hospital, the Maternity Cottage, King's Daughters Day Nursery, Mrs. Vance's Working Home. If each member of the club or those interested in charities would contribute one quart of fruit or jelly, the donation would be a great help and a sweet relief for the sick and needy.

We need for each institute at least twenty-five quart jars. Empty jars to be filled can be procured and also returned at the grocery store of Mr.

three meetings, the last one being last evening (Thursday). Mr. Frank L.
Muhleman is chairman and Mr. C. E.

week, the election to be held on the 20th. There are eighteen names now

G. A. R. COMRADES MEET IN GLENDALE AFTER LONG YEARS.

George Cornwell, a well-known resident of Glendale, was writing his name on his pension voucher in the notary's office one day last week, when John Clark looked over his shoulder and said: "Why, I knew a soldier back in Arkansas in 1853 whose signature was just like that."
Cornwell turned around, looked at Clark and exclaimed, "Well, I'm the man." It took quite a while for the old soldiers to recognize in each other the man they had known 49-years ago, but it took only an instant for them to grasp hands and express their pleasure at the meeting. Both talked at the same time for a few minutes as the years fell away and they were boys together again in the service of Uncle Sam in old Arkansas.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

GOOD BUILDING RECORD.

There was something doing in this city in the building line during the month of August. During the month 52 permits were issued by J. M. Banker, building inspector, these representing a valuation of $65,109. Last August was the second-largest month this year as far as valuation of new buildings is concerned, the largest being March, with 27 permits and a valuation of $65,750. The smallest month this year was June with thirty-five permits and a valuation of $36,910.

"Everything is certainly encouraging in the building line here this year," stated Mr. Banker. "It is seldom that you see the building continue as good through the summer as it has in this city during the summer months just closing, and the coming fall bids well toward being the most active season Glendale has ever known. Homes are being erected principally, and these are gradually growing to be of a better class. It would take an earthquake, or a flood to stop the growth of this city. Why already this month there have been thirteen permits issued; these will have a valuation of at least $10,000, and these are for homes, too. During the month of August last year there were 26 permits issued with a valuation of $26,340."

Taken by the first eight months this year has made a great increase over the same period last year. The first eight months last year shows 192 permits issued with a valuation of $209,220; while during the first eight months of this year 325 permits were issued, representing a valuation of $387,630, showing an increase of 113 permits with a valuation of $178,410. This year's figures come within $16,810 of doubling those of last year.

NEWCOMER SUDDENLY STRICKEN

Lokan G. Maxwell, aged 64 years, who has been a resident of this city since last Friday, was stricken with apoplexy at 8:30 o'clock Monday morning on Broadway near Kenwood street. The stroke came without any warning and before medical aid could be summoned he had breathed his last.

Shortly after 8 o'clock Mr. Maxwell started from the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Stafford, to give his grandchild the usual morning ride in the carriage.

As he was turning from Kenwood street onto Broadway he reeled and fell, overturning the carriage and throwing the baby to the sidewalk. The child was carried into a home near by where it was taken care of while the body of the unfortunate man was taken, after medical examination to the Pulliam Undertaking company parlors across the street.

Before coming to this place Mr. Maxwell was a resident of Los Angeles where he had been for several years. He was a native of Tennessee and has lived in California for the past 58 years. He was a member of the Presbyterian church of Oakland, where he lived previous to coming to Los Angeles. He was unusually popular with all who knew him, being of a retiring, pleasant disposition.

The decedent leaves two sisters and one brother in Oakland, one brother in San Francisco, one son in Los Angeles, one son in San Francisco and one daughter, Mrs. E. D. Stafford, in this city.

Mrs. Maxwell left Tuesday morning for Santa Ana, where the body was interred in the family lot Wednesday afternoon. Roy Maxwell, his son living in San Francisco, arrived Tuesday morning to attend the last services over the body of his father.

DISLIKE TRUSTEES' ACTION.

Some of the residents of Tropico have taken exception to the action taken a short time ago by the board of trustees of this place, in the awarding of the contract for the electric lighting of this city to the Pacific Light and Power company. Since the awarding of the contract, and even a short time before that, some of the local men have been doing some "talk figuring," and claim that during the five years—the life of the present contract with the power company—the Tropico people can save themselves a sum of $31,485, if at this time they vote bonds for a municipal electric lighting plant and secure the Owens river juice just as soon as it is available. They claim that the juice will be ready for Tropico shortly after if not as soon as the Tropico plant could be made ready to receive it.

It seems as though the Tropico trustees are tired of living in darkness—something which they should be used to by this time—and notwithstanding the fact that the Pacific Light and Power Company's offer would cost the city considerable more in the end, they decided that they can stand it no longer to be without having our streets lighted.

Petitions were circulated around through the Tropico residents this week protesting against the contract as entered into by the trustees and the light and power company, and it is believed that these papers are being numerously signed. These papers will be presented today to the state railroad commission asking the commission to give this city relief, which is within their power.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA.

What is perhaps the most remarkable deposit of remains of extinct animals yet discovered in the world is now to be explored by the University of California. This is the fossil beds in the Rancho La Brea, in the outskirts of Los Angeles. Here for countless ages oil has oozed to the surface. In the tar pools so formed animals have become mired, have lost their lives, and their skeletons, even to the most fragile portions, have been perfectly preserved. The fossil deposits resulting are extraordinary for the perfection with which the skeletons are preserved, for the completeness of the representation of the life of a past geological period, and for the abundance of individuals of each species represented. Madam Ida Hancock Ross, the owner of the Rancho La Brea, has generously given to the university the privilege of excavating these fossil beds. The work has just begun, under the direction of Dr. John Campbell Merriam, professor of paleontology and historical geology in the University of California. Its results will be of great value in the study of how evolution has proceeded and animal species have developed on the earth.

With 14½ per cent more students enrolled at Berkeley than at this time a year ago, the university has to meet the enlarged demands with an income which has increased only three per cent over last year's income. It is now expected that the registration for the year will be approximately 7200. The registration at Berkeley this month is 4165. Of these, 324 are new graduate students, while 1305 are new undergraduates. That is to say, there are 1629 students at Berkeley this fall who were not here last year.

GLENDALE CITIZEN HONORED. THE DUFFIELD BENEFIT.

The benefit performance tendered H. S. Duffield on the fiftieth anniversary of his first appearance on the stage, given at the Burbank Theater Tuesday afternoon, was a memorable event and a success from every point of view. There was an audience of from 1,500 to 2,000 people present, and a great many tickets had been sold which were not represented. As Mr. Duffield was only ten years old when he made his first appearance before the public, it follows that he is not yet an old man, and he was in excellent form on Tuesday, when he appeared as Enoch Arden, and he gives good promise of many more years of service in his honorable profession. Mr. Duffield is the dean of the Lomita Park actors' colony, and all of them lent a hand in making the affair a success. One feature not down on the program was the presentation to the gentleman honored, of a fine gold watch from his brethren of The Elks. Mr. Duffield was evidently taken by surprise and rendered speechless for the moment, but soon rallied and acknowledged the honor in well-chosen words.

A number of people from this section attended the performance, glad of the opportunity to express their appreciation of their fellow townsman as an actor and a citizen.

Vicente Figueroa, a native Californian, aged 45, died at his home on Verdugo road, of cardiac asthma. Mr. Figueroa had been a sufferer from the disease for some years, and his death was not unexpected. He was connected with the Verdugo family by marriage and was a highly respected member of the Spanish circle which has its representatives in our valley now as it has had any time for a century past. The funeral took place Friday of last week, interment at Forest Lawn.

The Glendale light department has taken over the electric light line leading to Verdugo Park at an inventory valuation. A satisfactory arrangement has also been made with Mr. Hartranf regarding the removal of the railroad company poles on Broadway by which they will be done away with in a short time.
