Will Readers of This Paper Tell Business Men That They Are Subscribers?

YOU who are reading this article, if a regular subscriber to the Press, must to a more or less extent be interested in our welfare. We appreciate the interest you have displayed through your subscription. If you would go a little farther and demonstrate your interest in a practical way each of us would be the gainer.

It has been some time since we have told you just how many subscribers we have and since that time our circulation has increased considerably. Until today the Press goes into 7300 homes, to persons who pay each month the regular subscription price for it.

SEVENTY-THREE HUNDRED homes means nearly 30,000 readers. This sounds pretty big, but nevertheless it is a fact. Four readers for each subscriber is a conservative estimate. Just think what would happen if each one of our readers in doing his shopping would tell the storekeeper that he takes the Daily Press, likes its policy and prefers to read the storekeepers' ads in it. If all of our readers would take the trouble to do this our advertising would show a heavy increase and we, in consequence, could publish a much larger and better paper.

IT IS HARD for some storekeepers to realize that the Daily Press in a short three years could show an astounding growth, but if you, our readers, them you take the Press, they will be forcibly impressed on circulation is much desired by newspapers, not for any profit accruing from the subscription price, but entirely on account of its increasing the value to the business man as an advertising medium. An advertiser who pays for an ad pays for circulation, and the value of the ad to him rests entirely with the circulation—the rate being a minor consideration.

TODAY the Daily Press goes into over 2000 more homes than any other daily paper published in any town in the San Fernando valley and an increase is shown each day.

Just Off the Wire From and There

LULU, Nov. 23.—Rear Admiral U. S. N., returned today at Fort Kamehameha. Rear Admiral Wise came on shore last July. He was 87 years old. His naval career began in the Civil War. He became a rear admiral June 14, 1917, and retired November 8, 1904.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 23.—Local sugar refiners today announced an advance of 15 cents to $9.35 a hundred pounds in the price of their basic refined product. Refined beet sugar was raised a like amount to $9.15. The new prices are effective tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Coolidge "rode the goat" today—the only time since he was in college.
In the presence of a deputation of more than 200 delegates from the various parts of the country, the chief executive was presented with an honorary membership in the Delta Theta Phi fraternity.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President Coolidge feels that Music Shools might properly be operated by the government at a loss or disposed of to private interest at a sacrifice in order that the United States may be assured of a wartime supply of nitrate and a peacetime supply of cheap fertilizer.

Make Reservations at Once For Tuesday Eve.

All members of the Chamber of Commerce who expect to attend the banquet Tuesday night in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, under the auspices of the San Fernando Valley Chamber of Commerce must make their reservations before Monday noon according to E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

GLENDALE PERMITS PASS NINE MILLION MARK

L. A. Council's Attention is Called to Condition of Los Feliz Bridge

PERMITS PASS NINE MILLION MARK AT NOON

Permits Mounting Higher Than Last Year

Glendale building permits for the year at noon passed the $9,000,000 mark.
Although November has over a week left, its total to date is over $85,877 already.
The total of $9,000,524 for the year is $2,694,553 in excess of last year's total of $6,305,971. It is $3,001,333 in excess of the total of $5,999,201 for 1921. It is almost three times the total of $3,137,264 for 1920 and about seventeen times the total of $591,439 for 1919.

WELFARE CHEST YET MUCH LESS THAN HALF FULL

Glendale's Welfare Chest now contains $13,726 according to the report made at the luncheon today in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club.
"I think in about four days more we will get into our stride," remarked A. W. Tower, director of the campaign.

W. E. Hewitt, president of the Welfare Council, called attention to the fact that 150 cities have chests in successful operation. He asserted that over $700,000,000 was sent by United States foreign missions and added that it seemed odd that it should be so hard to raise $40,000 to be spent right here in Glendale.

"We haven't had the real response that we should have," he declared. "People ought to be glad of the privilege of giving this money."
Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, expressed her opinion that if every adult in the community would give $5, more than enough money would be raised. "There are a few men all the time who have to bear the burden for everybody!" she exclaimed. "This is true, in the church and everywhere."

Lyman P. Clark presided at the meeting of the Kiwanis club which voted to attend the services Sunday night at the Central Christian church.

WOMAN'S CLUB OF BURBANK IN FINE MEETING

The Woman's club of Burbank had the pleasure of bringing to the schools Mrs. Harriet Williams Myers, president of the California Audubon society, and chairman of the District and General Federation of Woman's clubs. She is also chairman of the birds and flowers committee in both district and federation.
She spoke three times at assembly, once at High school and once in the John Muir school. Her slides of birds and flowers were beautiful and interesting and the subject matter of her talk was splendid from an educational standpoint and the pupils, after hearing her, will no doubt be filled with a desire to know more about this subject.
Mrs. Walter C. Fisher, president of the Burbank Woman's Club, had the pleasure of introducing Mrs. Myers.

VOTING FOR C. OF C. DIRECTORS LAGS

Voting for the candidates for the board of directors is not nearly so active as it should be, according to E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. He stated that, out of a membership of over 900, only 200 votes have been cast. Polls close at 5 p. m. Tuesday. "A government, state, municipal or national, is just as effective as the people who support that government and manifest themselves on election day!" he exclaimed. "A chamber of commerce is just the same way."

WINSOME BONNIE JEAN MAKES BOW TO BUYING PUBLIC

Introducing "Bonnie Jean." Have you heard of Bonnie Jean? No—that's your loss. You will, however, through the Press today. Watch and wait.
Bonnie is the latest addition to the Press family of experts, and she is well acquainted with the latest suggestions for everyone in the home. Bonnie Jean has a message—one that will be of special interest to the lady in the home. She knows all about the modern ways of doing the little home necessities, and she is well acquainted with the latest equipment features for the home, from the front porch to the kitchen.
The message of this Bonnie Jean will appear twice a week in the Press. The first one will be published today. It will contain all kinds of helpful suggestions for everyone in the home. Bonnie Jean will tell you what to buy and where to buy it, saving you time, effort and money.
You'll like Bonnie Jean. She has so many nice things to tell you and she knows exactly how to tell it. Her aim will be to lighten the load of the housewife, to save those unnecessary steps, that make the contents of the "family purse" go farther and to spread cheer, and good will, which naturally results in the "smile that lingers."

PROGRESSIVE MUSIC SCHOOL IN FINE RECITAL

The second studio recital of Burbank's Progressive School of Music was held last evening with an exceptionally large attendance of parents and friends, including Glendale and Lankershim visitors. The pupils taking part are students of five teachers of the school, Miss Morrow, Mr. Davis, Miss Colburn, Mrs. Lovejoy and Miss Newhall. The numbers given consisted of piano, violin and guitar solos and were beautifully rendered by Isabella Neville, Caryl Peterson, Herbert Lovejoy, Graham Haefner, Virginia Lemon, Bayard Mendenhall, Vera May Lura, Rachael Haefner, Robert Lovejoy, Wilhelm Nollenberger and Pauline Lemon. Each played his or her solos with remarkable ease and the perfection which can come only of good training and concentrated study.
Killian Maleta, Marie Higgins, Geraldine Lemon, Virginia Parbell, Marie Jones, Joedell Evans, Lester Cox, William Fawkins, Virgie Baird, Bess Pendell, Ruth Jenkins, Grace Cook, Alva Adams, Pauline Cox, Maxine Henry, Naomi Lemon, and Hamer Rall, each played a solo with the ease and perfection which marked the others and which reflected glory and credit on their teachers. An Honor Roll system has been established in the school this year with monthly reports requiring a general average of E. The pupils honored for the month of October were Lester Cox, Wilfred and Eugene Haefner, Grace Cook, Geraldine Lemon, Herbert and Robert Lovejoy, William Paulkins, Sanford Van Luven, Beth Pendell and Irene Taylor.

EDUCATIONAL CONDITIONS IN BURBANK NOW

A conference of the members of the board of education and the representative heads of the different organizations was held in the Burbank High school last evening to discuss the educational conditions in the Burbank schools. Previous to the meeting a dinner was served after which a general discussion was held in regard to education. The outcome of the meeting was the appointment of a committee headed by Mrs. C. K. Bowen, to make a survey of the Burbank schools and report at a meeting of the school board on Monday night, December 3. The committee is composed of Mr. J. C. Crawford, Miss Octavia Leseur, Mrs. Ida Clark, Mrs. Walter Fisher and Dr. A. E. W. Yale.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—The Stresemann government resigned today as a result of its defeat in the reichstag on a vote of confidence.

GLENDALE CITY COUNCIL TO HAVE DAY SESSIONS

Hour Will Be 10 a. m., Every Thursday and Every Other Tuesday

The Glendale city council decided Thursday night to change the meeting time of that body from night to daylight hours. The first day meeting will be held at 10 o'clock on the morning of December 13. Thereafter the meetings will be held at 10 o'clock every Thursday morning and at 10 o'clock on the first and last Tuesdays of each month. The majority of the councilmen feel, after thorough investigation, that the work of the city can be carried on better by daylight than it can at night. On the roll call to change the time of meeting Councilman Davis voted "no."
As there were no protests against the establishment of a commercial district in Glendale Heights the next step in this work was ordered taken.
No protests were received against the laying of sidewalk on Brand boulevard and the next step in this work was ordered taken.
The hearing on the petition for the establishment of a commercial district on Fourth street, Winchester to Western.
The same date was set for the hearing of a petition to set aside Patterson, Columbus to Pacific, as a first-class residential district.
Upon request the set-back line on Lomita between Brand and Central, was changed from 25 to 10 feet.

'OXY' STUDENTS IN BIGGEST AND FINEST RALLY YET

This morning the Occidental college students had the biggest and finest rally they have ever had, in the chapel for the Pomona-Oxy football game. Many old graduates were on hand and gave thrilling accounts of past Pomona-Oxy games. These have always been the most talked-of games in the state.
Occidental boys are called the Tigers of the west because they have the same colors and emblems as Princeton. Pomonians are called the Sageshens, mainly for the reason that they live in a more or less country district where there are both sageshens and sagebrush.
The first game with Pomona was played about 1896 and with two or three years' intermission, they have been scheduled annually since.
Pomona is a little larger than Occidental, but the football teams are of about the same calibre. Tonight a monster bonfire will be lighted about 8 o'clock and the flames will illumine the monster 16-foot "O" which stands on top of the hill. Every one is invited to attend and see the pajama parade and hear the speeches, yells and songs.

SUPERIOR COURT DECIDES IN FAVOR OF GLENDALE

A decision has been handed down by the Superior Court in favor of the defendant in the case of Marr vs. The Southern California Gas company et al., which includes the city of Glendale.
The communication informing the council of this decision, received by that body from City Attorney Morrow, read as follows:
"I desire to report that I am in receipt of a notification from the County Clerk that Superior Court on the 21st day of November, 1923, rendered judgment for the defendant and intervenes in the case of Marr vs. The Southern California Gas company et al., in which action the city of Glendale was one of the defendants. This action was filed by Winifred Marr to invalidate the bonds for the laying of the gas mains into Verdugo canyon, which is Improvement District No. 6."
Bonds to the amount of $50,000 was voted by the people of Improvement District No. 6 for the purpose of providing gas for that section. After this election Winifred Marr brought suit to invalidate the bonds on technicalities. Realizing that the fight would be a long one the Southern California Gas company put the desired gas service in at its own expense. The bonds in the meantime, were sold. The decision handed down by the Superior Court leaves the city with the $50,000 on hand. What disposition will be made of the funds has not yet been determined.
In view of the fact that the council has been petitioned to order the widening of West Broadway, Glendale, 10 feet in either side, the petition for the installation of the lights along that thoroughfare from Central avenue to San Fernando road was ordered held up temporarily.
The petition asking for the lights contain 51.61 per cent property along the street.

TO INTER ACCIDENT VICTIM SATURDAY IN FOREST LAWN

At the coroner's inquest held this morning over the body of Frank Earl Litzenberg, the jury brought in a verdict exonerating the engineer from all blame and stating that death was due to hemorrhage and shock following the cutting off of both legs in the railway accident that occurred on Thursday morning in Forest Lawn cemetery, Glendale. Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the Little Church of the Flowers, under the auspices of Glendale Lodge of Elks, the L. G. Stoyern Undertaking company in charge.

SCHOLL CANYON RESIDENTS IN PROTEST

P. S. McNutt Says Sierra Avenue Folk Fear Flood Waters

The alleged menace of the property to residents of Scholl canyon was called to the attention of the Glendale city council last night by P. S. McNutt, a resident of that section, who feels that if something is not done in this matter the storm waters coming out of the canyon may do considerable damage. Mr. McNutt claims that the natural water way of that canyon has been blocked in several places, these constituting a menace. He says in effect:
"Work of the city, tract improvements and house building is filling up the ditch along the south line of Sierra avenue from Scholl Canyon to Sycamore canyon. Unless cleaned out this will allow the water to get in the street and over our orchards. Immediate attention is needed. One winter, when this ditch was not kept open, it cost over $2000 to repair damages. The recent fire burned off the hills and there will be more water than usual this winter."
In answer to this City Engineer Dupuy submitted a letter to the council, stating that "Sierra avenue is not a natural drainage course and any action taken by the city to make it a drainage course would place the city in a position of being liable to damages from overflow of flood waters." He also states that the ditch on the south side will be opened to a certain extent, but not as an outlet for water from these canyons until street is graded and paved, when it probably will be constructed so as to receive all of the flood waters of the canyons.

WIDENING FAVORED

pronounced sentiment in favor of the widening of Central avenue, between San Fernando road and Lexington drive, was evident in the High school auditorium last night at the meeting of the Central Avenue Improvement association.
Realtor C. E. Guthrie of 110 West Broadway, president of the association, made it plain that the meeting had been called for a friendly and neighborly discussion. At the commencement of the meeting were in favor of both paving and lighting Central avenue.
"It is understood, of course," he remarked, "that no part of Central avenue will be paved until the sewer is taken care of."
W. S. Bear, who is erecting a $50,000 apartment house at 308 North Central avenue, demonstrated the quality of his citizenship by remarking: "The way things look to me it would be better to widen Central avenue now. This probably will hurt a few but I am willing to pay my share to help pay those people for this damage."
"Study the growth of the city," exclaimed Realtor L. H. Wilson. "I can't conceive the idea of not widening Central avenue. I can't see how a person living in Glendale could be opposed to it."
Realtor J. O. Wernette stated that, if he should wake up some morning and find Central avenue widened, lighted and paved, he would not hesitate to add $10,000 to the price of his property.
"I am convinced," admitted W. F. Tower, "that it is only a question of time until Central avenue will have to be widened."
Accidents on Central avenue were commented upon by Mrs. L. W. Bosserman of 614 South Central avenue who confessed that for several years she had wished that the thoroughfare was wider.
"Anybody opposed to the widening," declared Realtor W. L. Trutt, "is taking money out of his pocket. I know that it would be a good investment and should be looked upon as an investment and not as an expense."
Delay was suggested by J. H. Franklin of 246 North Central avenue who stated: "I don't think that there is any necessity at the present time of destroying the beauty of this street by tearing out the parkways. This is one of the most beautiful streets in the city of Glendale and one of the best advertisements."
Glendale now has about as large a population as Los Angeles had about thirty-five years ago, according to John A. Cole. He inquired what Los Angeles would give to be able to widen Broadway.
As soon as Central avenue is improved, according to H. W. Armstrong, there is no doubt but that a majority of the traffic to and from Los Angeles will use this thoroughfare.

GLENDALE VOTERS HAVE DEFINITE DUTY BEFORE THEM

You cannot make bricks without straw, you can't make bread without flour, nor can you vote unless you register. The sewer bond election that means so much to Glendale's future is set for January 8, 1924. To be enabled to cast your ballot on this proposition so vital to Glendale's continued marvelous growth, you must have registered since Jan. 1, 1922, and if you have thus fulfilled your duty as a real citizen, but have moved since you registered, you must re-register if you would vote. If you are already a qualified voter or if not and you register by Dec. 8, 1923, such registration empowers you to vote at any election held prior to April 1, 1924. There are many convenient places to register, one of them the Daily Press office, 333 North Brand. Deputy registrars will be here from 8 to 5 o'clock each day up to Dec. 8, and each night until 8 o'clock.
We urge you—don't forget to register, for you cannot fully do your duty as a citizen of this great republic, of the state of California, the county of Los Angeles and beautiful city of Glendale unless you register and vote on every matter that concerns the welfare of your city.

LOS FELIZ BRIDGE AND ROAD IN VERY BAD CONDITION

The dangerous condition of the Los Feliz bridge and of that thoroughfare between the Southern Pacific tracks and the river was last night called to the attention of the Glendale city council in a communication to City Clerk Van Wieg, by Secretary E. F. Sanders of the Glendale chamber of commerce, with recommendations as to what should be done in the matter.
The communication, which was directed to the city clerk and is self-explanatory, follows:
"At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce held last night, the matter of a new bridge over the Los Angeles river at Los Feliz road and the repairing of the Los Feliz road from the railroad crossing to the foot of the grade, was most thoroughly discussed. Accidents are occurring on this road almost daily.
"I need not call the attention of the City Council to the shape this road is now in and the unsafe condition of the bridge. I was instructed by the board of directors to write to our honorable City Council and ask them if they would be kind enough to direct a letter to the City Council of Los Angeles, requesting them to give this immediate attention."
The requested communication was ordered sent to the City Council of Los Angeles.

BUS AND STREET CAR IN SMASH AT EAGLE ROCK

One of the big green buses that run between Pasadena and Ocean Park collided last night with a yellow car going to Los Angeles at the southwest corner of Central and Colorado.
The bus always stops at the corner by the Seelig store, and then proceeds across the tracks. The car does not stop at this point unless there are passengers to pick up. As there were no passengers waiting the car kept going around the bend at the same time as the bus started across and with a bang that could be heard for six blocks they came together. The glass from the windshield cut two people in the bus rather bad. One of them a man whose name could not be learned was taken unconscious to a doctor's office. The glass in the front of both street car and bus was shattered. The front axle of the bus was broken and the fender and step were torn off of the car. The lady injured was given smelling salts and removed to her home. The next bus picked up the passengers and carried them to Pasadena.

BURBANK DRUIDS WILL RECEIVE GRAND OFFICERS

On next Monday night the Ancient Order of Druids of the Burbank Grove will receive the grand officers of the order from the north. Noble Grand Arch C. C. Salmina and Past Grand Arch C. Doran and B. Bralnard. The order will put on the initiation work in full form and after the general meeting a surprise program and entertainment will be given and refreshments served.

Trial of C. Adams Accused of Murder

The trial of C. Adams who has been charged with the murder of Nicola Pietrantonio of Burbank, while searching for liquor with a party of officers, will be held on next Monday, November 26, in the Superior court of Los Angeles. Mr. Romeo was a personal friend of the deceased and has followed the matter up and will spend his time in the court room during the trial. The accused will be prosecuted by Chief Deputy Dannon of the homicide squad.

WOMEN'S 20TH CENTURY CLUB'S BUSINESS MEET

The Twentieth Century Women's club of Eagle Rock held a business meeting yesterday afternoon at the club house. After the regular business had been finished, a splendid program was put on. In the business session considerable discussion was had on the scholarship fund, and the worthiness of the present recipient, who is attending Occidental college.
At this time a report was made on the finances of the organization. A brief talk then followed on the scholarship fund, as to how it was originally intended to be just one-half its present amount and was soon doubled.
The president, Mrs. A. G. Rely, then gave a brief talk on the value of doing the right thing at the right time. Miss Gunn, the recipient of the scholarship, has signed a contract to pay back the money when she has finished her course. This will give some one else a chance then to obtain it. Any one wanting to help this worthy cause can do so by making out a check to the scholarship fund of the club.
The condition of school children was also taken up. Very few persons know what hunger really is and there are many children who are underfed.
Mr. Wetherell of the Pacific Lodge for Boys, was then introduced by the president, and he told of the need of this home for keeping the boys morally straight.
The home is located a few miles east of Pomona and there are 60 acres of ground which the boys cultivate. A careful study is made of each boy so that he may be cured. There are sleeping porches, dormitories, administration quarters, dining room, kitchen, school

FLOOD WATERS DANGERS TAKEN UP BY COUNCIL

Steps were taken last night by the Glendale city council toward protecting the Verdugo canyon, and consequently, Glendale as a whole, against the flood waters of that canyon. This consisted of the passage of a resolution asking the county supervisors to donate $2,500 immediately for flood protection purposes in that section.
City Attorney Morrow stated that the counsel for the county supervisors had ruled that it could not turn funds over to the city of Glendale for this purpose, but that the work in question could be done by the supervisors. Passing the resolution, notwithstanding this fact, is believed will have weight with the supervisors.

R. S. GIFFORD AND PEARL HARRIS WIN DANCE CONTEST

The final foxtrot contest for the beautiful silver cup and for entry in the $1000 contest given by the Examiner was a closely contested one at the Palais Majestic ballroom in Burbank. Five judges were stationed in different parts of the hall and the contestants, of which there were eleven couple, were judged by position, poise, smoothness, plain and eccentric dancing. The winners of this contest were Karl Steensen of Los Angeles and Vera Short of Burbank and R. S. Gifford and Pearl Harris of Los Angeles. Both couples are to be entered into the contest which will be held soon in the ballroom of the Biltmore hotel. The cup was awarded to R. S. Gifford and Pearl Harris.

GLENDALE AVE.
P. T. A. MEETS IN AUDITORIUM

Members of the Glendale Avenue P. T. A. met for the first time in the new auditorium of the school Thursday afternoon and celebrated the occasion with an exceptionally fine program, Mrs. Spradling presiding.

Mrs. Mae Rosenberg made an excellent talk on the mutual benefit reading circle.

Mrs. Ernest Morgan asked for donations of linen and fruit for the Children's hospital.

Miss Gladys Sharpe told of the work done for crippled and otherwise disabled children unable to attend school who are being tutored by a special teacher who visits them in their homes. The number has increased and to raise funds to continue the work, a benefit entertainment is to be given in the high school next Wednesday evening, November 23.

Fathers' Night at Glendale Avenue was set for December 14 at 7:30 o'clock, with Mrs. George H. Moore in charge of the program.

The program included a dramatic representation in costume by members of the B-7-2 class under Miss Lacy, of early colonial life, the landing of the pilgrims and the courtship of Miles Standish. The boys' quartet sang a selection and Miss Anna Irene Jenkins gave a talk entitled, "Willing to Risk It," in which she defended the present system of public education.

EAGLE ROCK NOTES

Thursday evening the Stevenson Literary society of Occidental college had an interesting and successful meeting. There were several new members present. The program was one of good variety. Howard Harper gave a very interesting and enlightening talk on the United States consulate system. He was followed by Roy Weaver, who talk on "The Ten Greatest Inventors." As a fitting finish to the program, Charles Milos, the talented accordionist, favored with several beautiful numbers. The meeting terminated after a brief discussion.

The American Legion Auxiliary held a large card party last night at the home of Mrs. Bessolo, corner of Ellenwood drive and Colorado boulevard. The proceeds will go to the Christmas fund for the disabled veterans in hospitals. There were about 30 present. Bridge and five hundred were played, after which refreshments were enjoyed.

The order of Eastern Star will hold a prize dance on November 24. This will be a very interesting occasion, and everyone is cordially invited to attend. It will be held in the club house about 8 o'clock, and some of the articles which were left from the bazaar will be sold.

Every one is urged to save New Year's eve for the dinner dance which the Twentieth Century Women's club is putting on at that time. This will be a fitting climax to the year's progress which the club has made. Tickets can now be obtained through the various officers of the club.

On December 1 the Twentieth Century club will hold an old-fashioned dance at the club house. Wonderful music, a splendid program, and a good time is assured for all. The admission price will be $1.10, which includes the war tax.

All over the buildings of Occidental college signs and posters have been placed which say, "Get your Sagen meat, it's in season." This is used to get every one on edge for the big game tomorrow with Pomona college.

NAZARENE CHURCH REVIVAL CONTINUES

Rev. John T. Hatfield used as his text last night at the Nazarene church, I Kings 17:47. A revival campaign opened Tuesday night and will run for about a month. Rev. Hatfield, who is known as the "Hozier evangelist" is preaching straight from the shoulder and is stirring his hearers. There will be a meeting this evening at 7:30, but none Saturday.

Mrs. George W. Pierce of 205 East Maple street attended the luncheon given on Wednesday afternoon at the Michalinda Women's Community club. John Stephen McGorray gave an interesting talk on "California Missions" and Mrs. Pierce gave a group of readings.

Friends of C. J. Letts of 450 West Lexington drive are congratulating him on his recent promotion from district freight agent to general agent of the Southern California district for the Frisco lines, with office in Los Angeles.

Mrs. C. J. Letts of 450 West Lexington drive had as her house guests for the past ten days Miss Huffmeyer of Providence, R. I., and Mrs. M. Beck of Lynnbrook, L. I. They were very much delighted with Glendale.

Comrade A. W. Scudder of 320 West Harvard, is carrying his good right hand in a sling these days, on account of a severe case of blood poisoning due to a small scratch.

Miss Grace Osborn of 406 West Wilson avenue is spending several days at Van Nuys as the guest of Mrs. Furstenfeld.

ST. MARK'S REJOICING OVER COMPLETED REPAIRS

Members and friends of St. Mark's Episcopal church are happy today over the completion of additions and improvements to the church and guild hall. In celebration of this St. Mark's guild is having a bazaar today. Tonight at 7 o'clock there will be a parish dinner served in the social hall.

A number of members of Omar Tent No. 9, White Shrine of Jerusalem of Glendale, are planning to attend the card party and dance to be given tonight by Manetho Shrine No. 1 of Los Angeles at the Goldberg-Booley hall.

Mrs. A. H. Koverman of 915 Lomita avenue entertained at dinner on Wednesday night in honor of her two sisters, Mrs. A. E. Service of Los Angeles and Mrs. C. M. Kidd of Pittsburgh, Pa. Covers were laid for six.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klamm of 1226 Vassar are this evening entertaining at a 6 o'clock dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dickerson of Burbank and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Retberg, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jencks of 409 North Maryland avenue and son and daughter, Robert and Pauline, are planning to attend the Pomona-Occidental game at Pomona, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Marshall of Galesburg, Illinois, are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Card of 469 Pioneer drive. They arrived in Glendale on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. McDill of 1451 East Wilson avenue spent Thursday at Santa Ana.

BROADWAY M. E. LADIES SERVE CHICKEN DINNER

The chicken dinner served last evening by the ladies of the Broadway Methodist church in the social hall was a decided success, being largely attended by both members and friends of the congregation. An even hundred dollars was realized, to be used for the purchase of dishes, silverware and other kitchen equipment. This being their initial effort the ladies feel very much gratified at the financial outcome as well as the jovial spirit which tended to make the affair a decided success. Following the dinner, a delightful program was offered, in charge of Will J. Myers, choir director. This consisted of instrumental and vocal selections, recitations and a very humorous number by the choir, in which every one present learned exactly what became of John Brown's body. The affair being so successful, it was voted upon and decided unanimously to continue these banquets once every month.

The Dahlia Heights Parent-Teacher association is having a special meeting this afternoon to decide the division of the organization by vote.

DELPHIANS ENJOY MEETING AND LUNCHEON

The Delphian chapter of Glendale of which Mrs. P. O. Lucas is president, departed from its usual custom and enjoyed a luncheon at the Egyptian Village cafe following adjournment of its regular monthly meeting, which was held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Barton Manbert, 621 South Columbus avenue. The chapter is studying the drama of the twelfth and fourteenth centuries, and its program theme was "The Drama, Its Religious and Moral Force".

Two groups constitute the chapter, the Ivy group or section, of which Mrs. Bolton is leader, and the Lotus group, led by Mrs. Paul Mason. Six members of this group furnished the program, which included the "mystery play" of medieval days, "The Three Marys" in which six members took part: Mrs. H. W. Yarrick as "The Gardener" (Jesus); Mrs. Dwight Stephenson as "Mary Magdalene"; Mrs. Barton Manbert as "Mary, Mother of James"; Mrs. Ross Russell as "The First Angel"; Mrs. Snow as "The Second Angel"; Mrs. Long as "Mary Salome." It was effectively produced and very unusual.

The play was followed by a very beautiful vocal trio in harmony with it and in oratorio form, in which solos were sung by Mrs. Fritz, a member of the chapter and Glen Dolberg, with Miss Isabel Isgrig at the piano.

A preliminary talk was made by Mrs. Mason, who was followed by Mrs. C. L. Colburn with a talk on "The World's Best Seller," which in this case referred to the Bible and which gave interesting statistics relative to its annual distribution. Mrs. J. B. Zinks read the prologue of the play. Mrs. Lecher, a special guest of the club, gave a fine talk on constructive criticism, its value to the critic and the criticized. She enumerated the things to be stressed and set forth the obligation of the critic to be honest and impartial. Afterwards she explained that the subject was not of her choosing and that personally she does not advocate criticism at such meetings, believing that it creates constraint and destroys spontaneity.

The luncheon table was charming in its appointments and floral decoration. Mrs. Lucas was seated at the head. Mrs. Mason at the foot and covers were laid for Mrs. Charles Marshall, Mrs. Ross Russell, Mrs. Barton Manbert, Mrs. Dwight Stephenson, Mrs. H. W.

LODGES CLUBS - CHURCHES

BROADWAY DADS HAVE LARGEST MEETING EVER

The largest attendance on record gathered at the regular meeting of the Broadway Fathers' auxiliary of P.-T. A., held Thursday night in the auditorium of the Broadway school. Following a short business session a most interesting talk was given by Superintendent Richardson D. White. His topic was "Some Recent Criticisms of Education," bringing forth answers to numerous criticisms of the present day plan of education. Those present were given government statistics covering comparisons of the enormous expenditures per capita for luxuries and amusements, in relation to the small amount demanded for the education of the coming generation.

Through the courtesy of the Emerson school of expression recitations were given by Adele Lloyd and Mrs. Ethel Cleghorn. Arthur R. Burton gave several vocal solos, which were enthusiastically received. Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the Federation of P.-T. A. of Glendale, gave an address of welcome and urged the Broadway fathers' auxiliary to continue their good work and assist in the organization of fathers' auxiliaries in all the other districts.

On December 6 the fathers will hold a "stag party" in the Community Center building at Sparr Heights. A radio program, games and a smoker will constitute the evening's entertainment and, every man in Glendale is asked to take part.

BROADWAY FATHERS GIVE ATHLETICS PRIZES

Several prizes were given by the Fathers' Auxiliary of the Broadway school last week in the way of athletic equipment, such as volley and soccer balls, and more gifts along the same line will be made.

Yarrick, Mrs. Alma Danford, Mrs. Lecher, Mrs. J. B. Zinke, Mrs. Parks, Mrs. C. L. Colburn and Miss Gertrude Gibbs.

At the close of the luncheon Mrs. Lucas voiced the chapter's enjoyment of the program and called upon Mrs. Mason, who responded with a very original series of rhymes descriptive of and complimentary to all who had participated.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT HOUSE WARMING

Fathers and mothers to the number of 100 or more, who are members of the Pacific Avenue P.-T. A. were guests Thursday evening at a house warming given by teachers at which the whole school was thrown open for inspection of the class rooms, new and old, and the work of the pupils. A fine program was given in the court which had been beautifully decorated with fall flowers, refreshments being served at its close.

The evening's entertainment included three selections on steel guitar by Mrs. Ruth Lane, a vocal number by Miss Ruth Davis of the A-5 grade and a fine talk by Judge Sidney Reeve on child delinquency, its cause and correction.

MAIDS AND YOUNG MATRONS OBSERVE HUSBANDS' NIGHT

On Thursday night members of the maids and young matrons section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. C. G. Putnam is curator, celebrated husbands' night by entertaining with a dinner and program in the tea room of the club house. There were 70 present. Each member of the section contributed some article for the dinner, which was served cafeteria style. Arrangements for the dinner were in charge of Mrs. W. F. Macpherson, assisted by Mrs. E. L. Osborn and Mrs. J. Earl Osgood. Mrs. S. H. Waller had charge of decorations.

The program for the evening included vocal solos by Phillip J. Meany of San Gabriel, "I Know a Lovely Garden" (D'Hardelot) and "I Will Sing Thee Songs of Araby" (Clay); readings by Mrs. Leonard W. Bradley; vocal solos by Mrs. Helen Graham Cole, "Less Than the Dust" (Finden), "Banjo Song" (Homer); saxophone duet by Lafayette Taylor and D. Miller of Los Angeles, accompanied by Miss Life, "Easy Melody"; reading from "Ben Hur" by Mrs. Bradley; saxophone solo by Mr. Taylor, "La Verne"; solos by Mr. Meany, "Slumber Song" (Gaynor), and "A Boat Song" (Ware); saxophone duet, "Midnight Rose," by Messrs. Taylor and Miller; reading by Mrs. Bradley, "Widow Doodles."

A short business session was held, during which time plans were discussed for the Christmas party of the section, which will be in the form of a luncheon held on December 13. Reports were also made on the bazaar.

R. T. W. CLASS MEETS WITH MRS. BENTLEY

The R. T. W. class of the First Baptist church held its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Bentley on Virginia drive. Mrs. J. Roger Bentley presided at the business session, after which the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Fred Abbey. She introduced Mrs. M. C. Wilcox, who gave a most excellent reading of "The Desert of Waiting," by Johnson. The nickel bags which had been distributed among the members were opened and brought in $69. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Walter Stamps and Mrs. Emma Sudlow. After the program refreshments were served.

ROOM MOTHERS BUSY DECORATING BOOTHS

Room mothers of the Acacia Avenue Mothers' club, P.-T. A., are busy at the school today decorating the booths for the bazaar to be given by them at the school on Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, and continuing throughout the evening. The different booths will be in charge of room mothers from the following grades: kindergarten, fish pond; first grade, country store; second and third grades, olives and home-made candy; A-4 and B-5, cooked foods; A-5 and 6, aprons and caps. The sixth grade will also have a booth where the members will receive subscriptions for a school paper that is to be edited by them.

WILSON AVENUE P.-T. A. MEETS NEXT MONDAY

On Monday afternoon the Wilson Avenue Parent-Teacher association will hold its regular meeting. The executive board will convene at 1:45 o'clock and the room mothers at 2. The meeting of the association will be at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. E. B. Wyman, program chairman, is planning an interest program. Miss Tupper, city school nurse, will give a talk and Mr. Merrill, acting principal of the Wilson Avenue school, will talk on the "Relation of Parent to Teacher."

MONDAY LUNCHEON AT BROADWAY SCHOOL

The noonday luncheon food sale for children of the Broadway school on Thursday when potato chips, sandwiches and ice cream were dispensed at five cents each, netted the P.-T. A. about $15. Another similar sale will be held in about two weeks. The association has no regular budget to meet but raises money as the need arises. Mrs. Mary Reese is president. The sale was in charge of Mrs. Paul Brown.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS MET THURSDAY NIGHT

Camp Fire Girls of Wenona camp met Thursday night in their club room at the home of their guardian, Mrs. Woodbury, 202 Sinclair avenue and voted to enlarge the membership of their organization. They also decided to meet Saturday morning at the home of the guardian. Nine were present besides the guardian and a visitor.

MRS. FLORENCE COLLINS PORTER HONOR GUEST

Mrs. Florence Collins Porter is to be the honor guest at a luncheon to be given by the Republican Study club at the Clark hotel, Saturday, November 24, at 12 noon. Mrs. Porter with Mrs. J. Ellen Foster organized the first National Republican club in New York in 1888. In 1920 she founded the Los Angeles Republican club.

Mrs. Porter was prominent in the equal suffrage movement in California. In 1912 she was one of the presidential electors. In 1918 she was one of six women on the advisory board acting with national republican committee to secure larger participation of women in the affairs of the party. She has done much work in newspaper work and is author of many books, some of which have only recently been published. She has wonderful executive ability and is known as a leader and organizer throughout the states.

Mrs. O. P. Clark, national committee woman will act as toast mistress.

MRS. CAMPBELL AND MRS. TOLL VISIT MONROVIA CLUB

Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Glendale, president of the Los Angeles district federation of Women's clubs, were guests at the reciprocity day of the Monrovia Women's club on Wednesday. Mrs. Toll gave an address on "Federation Spirit." Each president was called upon to give some outstanding feature of the work her club was doing. The Monrovia Women's club has recently purchased a beautiful, large colonial residence for its club home and is planning to purchase a lot next to it on which to build an auditorium.

ODD FELLOWS IN FIRST NOMINATIONS

Recess of 15 minutes was called during the regular meeting of Glendale lodge of Odd Fellows, held Thursday night, when the members went in a group to view the body of the late Brother Valerius of 404 North Jackson street, who recently passed away. Mr. Valerius for some time had been janitor at the Odd Fellows' hall and the brothers wished to show their respect.

At the business session the first nomination of officers for the ensuing year was made. Nominations will be continued at the next meeting and the section will take place at the first meeting in December. Tonight a group of the local Odd Fellows will attend the session of Van Nuys lodge, as the grand master of the state of California will be present.

SEMI-MONTHLY CLUB MEMBERS AT LUNCHEON

Twelve members of the Semi-Monthly club were guests of Mrs. J. Monahan at a luncheon served at the Egyptian Village cafe Thursday noon. It was followed by an afternoon of Five Hundred, the first prize going to Mrs. M. J. O'Brien, second prize to Mrs. M. J. Brennan and consolation to Mrs. Carrie Smith.

A. O. U. W. LODGE TO BE ORGANIZED IN GLENDALE

All former members of the A. O. U. W., all members in good standing and all laboring men who wish to attend a meeting Saturday evening at the K. P. hall, Park and Brand, which is to be held for the purpose of organizing a lodge here.

GLENDALE AVENUE P.-T. A. SERVES LUNCHEON

A luncheon for teachers and pupils is being served today at the Glendale Avenue school by members of the Glendale Avenue P.-T. A., of which Mrs. Spradling is president and Mrs. Crizer, secretary.

ARTICLE NO. 5

If players stopped to realize how many games and rubbers are "chucked," that is, lost by bad bidding or bad play, they would be more anxious to improve their game. One expert claims that four out of every five rubbers are "chucked."

That may appear exaggerated, but if you will keep track of the various bids and plays that turn out to be incorrect, you will begin to agree with the expert's opinion. The following hands are representative examples of "chucking."

Hearts—None
Clubs—6, 2
Diamonds—A, 10, 8, 7, 3, 2
Spades—A, Q, J, 9, 5

Hearts—K, Q, 10, 9, 6, 5, 3, 2
Clubs—9, 4
Diamonds—K
Spades—K, 2

Hearts—A, J, 4
Clubs—K, Q, J, 10, 8, 7
Diamonds—9, 6, 5
Spades—10

Y dealt and bid one spade. B bid two hearts and Z bid three clubs. This is a better bid than two no-trump, even with a double stopper in the heart suit. Z has a void diamond suit and only one spade so that a no-trump bid might go very badly. A passed three clubs and Y correctly bid three diamonds. B bid three hearts and Z, having located the diamond suit, now bid three no-trump. A passed and Y now made the great mistake of bidding four diamonds. This was a bad call, for the bidding had indicated Z's double stopper in the heart suit and therefore a better chance for game in no-trump. B passed and Z, feeling that Y could not bid five diamonds, decided to bid five clubs. A passed and Y suddenly decided to bid five no-trump—another bad bid. Needless to say, Z could have made five clubs or three no-trump but was unable to make five no-trump. Y "chucked" this sure game by the worst kind of bidding. If there is one type of hand that seems to confuse good players more than any other, it is the two-suiter, or a hand that has two suits each of which contains five or more cards. Such a hand is very powerful and should be bid with the purpose of informing partner as to the two suits and letting him choose which offers the best chance for game. When your opponents are bidding two suits, do not be over eager to double. A two-suiter is the strongest hand that can be held at Auction; do not double a hand unless sure of your double. The following represents this type of hand:

Hearts—A, K, 9
Clubs—A, K, 7, 2
Diamonds—9, 7, 6
Spades—Q, 4, 2

Hearts—J, 6, 3
Clubs—10, 6, 4, 3
Diamonds—Q, 8, 3
Spades—A, 8, 6

Hearts—Q, 10, 8, 7, 5, 2
Clubs—None
Diamonds—A, J, 10, 5, 4, 2
Spades—10

Hearts—4
Clubs—Q, J, 9, 8, 5
Diamonds—K
Spades—K, J, 9, 7, 5, 3

Z dealt and passed. A bid one heart, Y one no-trump and B passed. Z now bid two spades, A three diamonds, Y three hearts and B four hearts. Z now bid four spades, A five hearts and Y doubled. Under ordinary circumstances Y's double would have been sound but the fact that A was bidding two suits and to such high bids, should have indicated to Y that A held a fresh hand. When a player can bid five in a suit without the ace king, he must have a very unusual hand. As a result, A made five hearts doubled while Y-Z could have made five spades. It goes to show how many games are "chucked" by bad bidding. Since an error in judgment in the bidding is always more costly than in the play, one cannot be too careful.

Make sound bids that inform and you will soon get good results. Auction is a partnership game and the object of every player should be to obtain the best bid out of 26 cards, his partner's and his own, rather than out of 13, his own hand only. Be on the lookout for errors and let each one tell you something. Learn by your own mistakes and those of others. If you notice that you are bidding or playing incorrectly, try to find out the trouble and if possible, correct it. Try not to "chuck." The following problem is a good example of how a very good player can go game in a hand with which most players will fail to do so:

Problem No. 3
Hearts—Q, 8, 4, 2
Clubs—K, Q, 7, 2
Diamonds—A, Q, 7, 2
Spades—7

Hearts—J
Clubs—A, 6, 5, 4
Diamonds—J, 10, 9, 8
Spades—J, 10, 8, 4

Hearts—A, 10, 5
Clubs—J, 9, 3
Diamonds—6
Spades—A, Q, 9, 6, 3, 2

Spades are trumps and Z is playing the hand. The problem is for Z to make four spades against any defense after A leads the jack of diamonds. The solution will appear in the next article.

WONDER SALE OF A. B. GAS RANGES IS ATTRACTION

The Goodhousekeeping Shop, 140 South Brand, announces the greatest sale of high-grade ranges in the history of Glendale. Forty of the well-known A. B. ranges were bought at a great discount, and these will all go at greatly reduced prices.

D. L. Larkin, manager of the store, announces that "we made the greatest purchase on these ranges ever made from this famous factory to close out their warehouse before going into their own coast plant in Los Angeles, another industry for Southern California."

Everyone knows the wonderful qualities of the famous A. B. gas range, and this shipment should not last long at the low prices at which they are offered. All ranges in this sale are of the same size and construction, the difference in prices are due to the added features, such as enameled parts, etc. The ovens on all these ranges are extra large, being twenty inches deep by seventeen inches wide, and are constructed of the celebrated Wilder metal, which is guaranteed rust-proof, a feature not to be overlooked. Other features include porcelain, non-heating handles, large cooking top, and a baked enamel finish, with all trimmings in nickel, making a very serviceable and attractive range. Conventional terms are offered with a liberal discount for cash.

The A. B. Store company of Battle Creek, Michigan, has begun work on a factory branch in Los Angeles, at 2121 East Fifty-first street, from where all Southern California selling agents, such as the Good Housekeeping Shop, will be able to get direct and immediate delivery on ranges. This new factory will be in charge of J. E. Moore, district manager, 1461 Dorothy drive, and C. W. Dobbins, assistant district manager, 627 Lexington drive, both of this city.

LA CRESCENTA NOTES

The matinee picture show, "The Dwellers in the Desert," given at the school auditorium, Wednesday afternoon by the local Boy Scouts, added $28 to their flag fund. The auditorium was packed with a most appreciative crowd of youngsters.

The celebration of the Holy communion will mark the first services of the Saint Luke's of the Mountains church at the school auditorium next Sunday morning. Bishop Stevens officiating, assisted by Dr. Robert Renison. Deaconess Grebe will organize a Sunday school at 10 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Stivers of 143 East Mayfield entertained at dinner last Wednesday evening in honor of their mother, Mrs. E. R. Stivers of Annandale, and their uncle, Dr. C. G. Stivers of Los Angeles. Dr. Stivers having returned from a six months' stay abroad.

The children of the local schools are making their annual egg drive for the Macey Street school, for undernourished children of Los Angeles.

The first card evening of the season, given by the La Crescenta Woman's club was a pleasant event of the week. Bridge and 500 were played and high scores were made by Mrs. A. W. Brown, Mrs. C. A. Haskins, Mrs. M. B. Darrow, Mrs. E. N. Nettleton, Mr. H. A. Baldrige, Mr. M. S. Collins, Mr. T. O. Potts and Dr. E. N. Nettleton.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The war-tim ship construction plant of the Skinner and Eddy company at Seattle was sold today to the city of Seattle for $800,000. The shipping board announced that the equipment of the works was withheld from the contract and will be sold later by competitive bids.

KEIFER & EYERICK UNDERTAKING PARLORS

Completely Remodeled, Rarely Beautiful in Every Feature

Keifer & Eyerick are just putting the finishing touches on their remodeled, redecorated and refurnished chapel and suite of undertaking parlors at 305 East Broadway. The remodeling has provided a reception room at the rear of the chapel, enlarged the office, made space for a "family room" at the left of the chapel, luxuriously furnished in overstuffed furniture in harmony with wall and floor covering and where complete privacy is insured. The good taste displayed in the improvements is evident upon entrance into the business sanatorium of the firm and is confirmed by the furnishings of the chapel, re-seated with individual wicker chairs contrasting pleasantly with the new carpeting and valour hangings. New ceiling lighting fixtures and floor lamps, palms, ferns and flowers agreeably remove suggestion of death.

Not content with these embellishments which soothe the eye, Keifer & Eyerick have equipped their establishment with a Wurli-tzer combination organ-piano-reproducer of musical records for use in chapel services, for which it is specially designed both in the quality and character of music produced. It is said to be the only instrument of its kind in the San Fernando valley.

Back of the chapel is the display room, in which a full line of caskets of the most modern designs is to be found, ranging in price from a very moderate sum to thousands of dollars. In exhibiting these Mr. Keifer conveyed the information that in his business there is no longer a call for shrouds but that he does keep on hand for emergency needs a stock of wearing apparel, up-to-date in cut, design and material, that he may be prepared to supply any unexpected demand. Of course the stock also includes vaults and shipping cases. This room has not escaped the decorator. It, too, has been made fresh and attractive and its windows have been newly curtained. Some of the wonderful devices in the way of concealed electric lighting effects are a revelation to one who has had no occasion to study the art of caring for the earthly tabernacles of the dead.

Emil Keifer became associated with the business before the world war while it was conducted by the late C. O. Pulliam. He was in service overseas and after the signing of the armistice returned to Glendale and to his old place in the establishment, where he became a partner. After the death of Mr. Pulliam a reorganization was effected, Mr. Eyerick associating himself with Mr. Keifer in February, 1922. Mrs. Eyerick is also a licensed embalmer and assists the firm.

Mr. Keifer has been a resident of this city for ten years or more. He married a Glendale girl, Miss Leone Shattuck, and is one of the most loyal citizens the town possesses. He is prominent in the local post of the American Legion, which he has served as commander, is chief ranger of the Glendale Foresters, is an Elk, is identified with three Masonic orders and is a Scot.

Mr. Eyerick has not had so long a residence but is just as ardent a booster for Glendale. He came to the state 12 years ago from Ohio and hopes to end his days here. He likewise belongs to several Masonic orders, is a Knight of Pythias, an Eastern Star and a Scot.

MANY NEW BOOKS OF FICTION NOW ON LIBRARY SHELVES

Lovers of fiction will find much to interest them among the new volumes that have recently been added to the shelves of the Glendale public library on Harvard street. Among the new books are the following, which include a goodly number of western stories, mysteries, romance, etc.:

"Judith of Blue Lake Ranch," by Jackson Gregory. A quick action story of the great plains.
"Timber Wolf," by Jackson Gregory. A story of the great southwest country.
"A Lighter of Flames," by Wm. S. Hart. A story that deals with the stirring events leading up to the Revolution.
"A Lost Lady," by Willa Cather. A romance of the old west, of the railroad aristocracy that grew up when the great transcontinental lines were being built across the plains.
"The Texan," by James B. Hendryx. A novel of the cattle country and of the mountains.
"A Texas Ranger," by Wm. MacLeod Hatne. "The Quirt," by B. M. Bower. "Christmas Eve on Lonesome Hell-Fer-Sartin, and in Happy Valley," by John Fox, Jr. "Smoke of the 45" by Harry Sinclair Drago. "Ride Him, Cowboy," by Kenneth Perkins.
"Trooper O'Neill," by George Goodchild. A story of strong men and brave women. The scene is laid in the great Canadian north-meetings at the clubhouse on Thursday. For many of them it was their first experience of painting designs on useful articles. The study for the meeting was that of painting ginger jars. The designs worked out, many of them being original, presented a variety of motifs and colorings. There were desert scenes, with the palm trees, pyramids, camels and sheiks, Japanese gardens with lanterns, wisteria and cherry blossoms, fantastic floral designs and other ideas. It really was interesting to see how, within a few hours' time, the members of the section, who had one of their own members, Mrs. Beach, as instructor, could take a piece of pottery, a few paints and transform it into a piece of cheerfulness to brighten the kitchen or dining room. Mrs. W. C. Wattles is curator of section B, which meets the second and fourth Thursdays from 10 a. m. until 2 p. m. The next lesson will be on the making of fancy pillows.

"Alcatraz," by Rupert Brand. "Crooked Lanes" by Rupert Sargent Holland. A mystery story that deals with an inexplicable crime at the American home of a Brazilian explorer.

Pile Sufferers Get Quick Relief

Doctor discovers real remedy that actually heals Piles and absorbs them never to return.

No man or woman need suffer another hour from any pain, soreness or distress arising from Hemorrhoids or Piles now that this wonderful prescription known as MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES can be obtained for a moderate price at any first-class drug store on the money back if dissatisfied plan.

You'll be amazed to see how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in an hour; even in cases of long standing with profuse bleeding, really wonderful results have been accomplished.

Remember the name, MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES, and be sure to follow the simple directions that come in each box.

Sweepings from one automobile plant represent a savings in material totaling more than $500,000 annually.

"Sure! we'll have it WARM in a minute!"

Move it at will! With Pearl Oil in a good oil heater—you can warm up any room in the house in a jiffy. Heat you can place right where and when it is needed—to dress by comfortably in the morning, or for hallway, sewing-room, living-room or bath. And if in ordering you say "Pearl Oil" by name, there'll be absolutely no odor—because Pearl Oil is entirely consumed by the flame. It leaves the air sweet, clean and fresh though you use it every hour of the day.

In even the best oil heaters—you should use only the highest quality kerosene. Avoid asking for "kerosene" or "coal oil," which may mean any kind of kerosene.

Order "Pearl Oil" by the name that's copyrighted for your protection. It applies exclusively to the clean-burning, quality kerosene—refined and re-refined by the Standard Oil Company's special process.

CITY COUNCIL DAY SESSIONS

along the Southern Pacific tracts between Los Feliz and Fernando court, was referred to the city manager.

The following ordinances were adopted:

An amendment to Ordinance 411, allowing fireproof garages under apartment houses.

An ordinance regulating the use of slot machines in the city of Glendale.

The following resolutions were adopted:

A resolution abandoning proceedings for the improvement of Concord street.

Resolutions ordering the improvement of Brand boulevard with sidewalk, Cerritos avenue, and Windsor road.

A resolution adopting diagrams of Park, Florence, Virginia and Acacia.

Resolutions adopting plans for the improvement of Windsor, Garfield, Los Angeles, Thompson and Concord.

A resolution of intention for the improvement of Windsor, Garfield, Los Angeles, Thompson and Concord.

The following ordinances were introduced:

An ordinance ordering the opening and widening of Raymond avenue.

An ordinance establishing the grades on a portion of Irving avenue and San Fernando road.

An ordinance establishing a first class residential district on Doran between Pioneer and Fairmont.

Another ordinance establishing a first class residential district on Lexington, between Columbus and Pacific.

An ordinance regulating the parking on Brand south of Windsor.

On the statement that the city school system is not able to pay for the improvement of that portion of Palmer from Central to San Fernando that lies before the school property, the council voted to cut that part of the street out of the section to be improved.

Maps of tracts Nos. 7160, 7588, 7631 and 6708 were accepted.

The matter of the protest of O. M. Newby against certain improvement work that is going in Virginia avenue was referred to the city attorney.

George Seal was refused relief in the duplicate payment for water meter service. Mr. Seal ordered a meter set on a certain lot on Elm avenue and this was done. Later it was discovered that that was the wrong lot. When Mr. Seal asked to have the meter transferred to another lot his request was refused.

A communication from the Pacific Electric stated that in the opinion of the company there is no need of a stop on that line between Arden and Dryden, and therefore this action could not be taken.

On request of manager of the public service department the city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for one 100,000-redwood reservoir, this to be placed on the Glenoaks tract to furnish water to the people of that district. It will be placed at an elevation of 960 feet.

WOMEN'S CLUB BUSINESS MEET

rooms and a good, wholesome Christian atmosphere.

The card parties are in charge of Mrs. Hansen and all the funds received will go to charitable treasures. The arts and crafts section will meet every Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the club house.

An experienced lady will take care of the children. Mrs. White is in charge. Applications for membership by Mrs. Reed, Mrs. Dales, Mrs. Anne H. Harrison and Mrs. Anna Weil were read.

The program was then started by beautiful little Peggy Warren of Santa Monica. Accompanied by her mother, she whistled several very beautiful selections. For an encore the different calls of the birds were given.

Mrs. Lorbeer, vice president of the district federation of Women's clubs then gave a wonderful talk on the influence of women's organizations.

Community service was then taken up with the idea of American citizenship being bettered. The recent bill in congress which was introduced with a hidden purpose in order to grab the lands of the Indians was shown to be the result of combined organization of the three million club women in the United States. A new bill which will give the Indians a square deal will have the votes of the whole organization behind it. Also young children will be given a chance to grow up instead of having to work 12 to 13 hours a day in some states. This can be accomplished only by having a national law. Work is also being done on the cigarette question and prison reform is being taken up also.

The little children should be taught to love nature and clubs are now being formed to study birds. In finishing her speech, Mrs. Lorbeer gave a beautiful little poem in which the beauty of a little garden was shown.

At the close of the program all those who had not purchased Red Cross memberships were given an opportunity to do so.

U. S. STILL LEADS OIL PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The United States produced almost two-thirds of the world output of petroleum last year, and Mexico slightly more than one-fifth, the Geological Survey reports. World production was 854,889,000 barrels, of which the United States supplied 557,531,000 and Mexico 182,278,000 barrels.

In the 65 years, 1857-1922, world production of petroleum totaled 10,856,778,000 barrels. The United States furnished 62.5 per cent, or 6,659,582,000 barrels.

A half million dollars' worth of property has been sold by the firm of Finlay & Preston, 131 South Brand boulevard in the past six months, since they started out in business together, and nearly one hundred thousand dollars' worth of property has been sold by them in the past week, and the end is not yet.

The entire sales force of the firm has been reorganized during the past few weeks and below are the names of the four salesmen:

Mr. S. A. Koontz, originally in business in Pittsburg and for the past nine years a resident of California. He has had considerable experience in the real estate business and is making a fine record on sales. He is a member of the K. of P. lodge.

TOURING THE SHOPS with BONNIE JEANNE

YOUR BRONZING PROBLEMS.
Of course you are going to do a great deal of bronzing, now that holiday time and gift time is here. The things one has made always prove such acceptable gifts.

If you are in doubt about the process to be used in bronzing grasses, candle sticks, and novelties, you will find an unending source of information at the Harry Moore Company, Inc., 304 East Broadway, where everything in bronzing powders is to be had, and directions for their use will be given freely. If one begins early in making the Christmas gifts, it will be possible to lend the giving season just the personal touch that makes for fuller appreciation.

A new stainless silver has been introduced in Great Britain.

Thanksgiving dinner will be easy if you have an Occidental range with Robertshaw heat control.

OUR PIANOS AND PLAYERS FOR THE HOLIDAY SEASON are ready for your inspection—the Piano Exchange, 112 West Broadway, announces.

And, really, a finer lot, it seems, has never been shown. If you are to buy a new piano or player piano for your home or as a gift presents.

you'll do yourself an injustice not to see the line at the Piano Exchange. These are guaranteed makes at guaranteed prices, and are sold on terms of easy payments.

YOUR PERSONAL APPEARANCE
Beauty is only skin deep, so you too may become beautiful. It is simply a matter of choosing competent aids to beauty. Many ordinary looking women have found it distinctly to their advantage to confide their problems in the thoroughly experienced operators at the Palace Grand Beauty Shoppe, which is upstairs in Jensen's Palace Grand Shops, 133 North Brand. Efficiency in all lines of beauty parlor work, including permanent waving, waterwaving, marcelling, bob curling, shampooing and facials, insures satisfaction and an increase in one's self-assurance. Phone Glendale 1800 for appointments—Mgr. Helen Woodford.

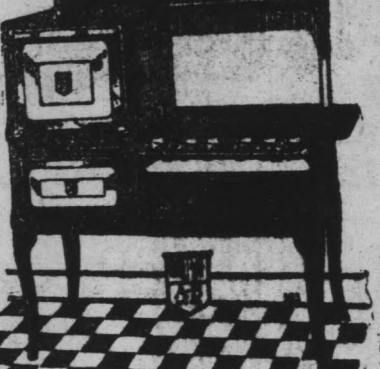

Write all addresses in ink on packages to be mailed. Write plainly your name and return address on the package. Send it early. Make this season a satisfactory one.

YOU SHOULD HAVE ONE
You will adore the very convenient and complete Spinnet Writing desks that the Enterprise Furniture company is showing at both of its stores, 216 East Broadway and 1261 South Brand. They are offered in mahogany and walnut, and the very reasonable prices, $23.50 and $35.50 for these home essentials will be the final argument in their favor as practical Christmas gifts.

Mr. Turk will be done just right with an Occidental range equipped with Robertshaw heat control.

THE PSYCHOLOGICAL MOMENT
for purchasing an A. B. gas range has arrived. There is a reason.

At the Good Housekeeping Shop, 140 South Brand, they will tell you of the greatest purchase they have ever made on these ranges from the famous A. B. factory to close out their warehouse before going into their own coast plant in Los Angeles, another industry for Southern California. The ovens in these ranges are extra large, 20 inches deep and 17 inches wide, made of famous Wilder metal, guaranteed rust proof, heated by the latest improved economical burner. Terms will be arranged to suit any desires, but a liberal discount is given for cash, and any range bought during the sale need not be delivered for 30 days if so desired by the purchaser. This is genuine range talk that means money in your pocket.

NON PERFECTUS EST
I was surprised at the quality and texture of the Wilton velvet rugs which, because of slight imperfections, are being offered at very low prices at the Enterprise Furniture Co., 216 East Broadway and 1261 South Brand. When one of these rugs is laid, the most critical eye could not detect the defects, but your pocketbook will know the difference in the price.

Your friends will appreciate their gifts more if they receive them before Christmas, rather than after.

THE COMPLETE OFFERING
Among the Glendale shops the store that seems to be one of the most favored by women shoppers is the Japan Art and Tea Company. They carry such an immense stock of—well, everything, especially novelty jewelry. You can't find a finer assortment or more complete line of gift suggestions even in business houses of the bigger cities. When you make your own investigation, note the great variety of imported food products. Its wonderful!

The person who says he isn't going to give any presents this year is the one who is always treading on our toes on December 24, when we are buying the Christmas dinner.

A DISCOVERY
You have wondered where the lady you admired so much purchased that nifty Chappie coat. Undoubtedly, if you asked her, she would tell you that she bought it at the BETTY ELLEN, 215 South Brand. If you could see the assortment of distinctive imported brushed mohair Chappie coats at the Betty Ellen you would decide the same.

Aside from specializing in sweaters, the Betty Ellen carries a complete line of the celebrated "Everwear" hosiery, in all of the popular shades. These are well worth consideration as Christmas gifts, and may solve several of your gift problems during the holiday season.

Betty Ellen is exclusive agent for Furbeck's hand painted china.

GREETINGS FROM BONNIE JEANNE

What Are You Going to Give This Year?

The oncoming holidays have all the indications of being the best Christmas season Glendale has known. All of the stores and shops are crammed with lovely gifts from which to choose.

Choosing is the problem. I will gladly be of assistance in making suggestions. Some of these, worthy of mention, will be found on this page each Tuesday and Friday. You are certain to find just what you want if you continue to consult these columns.

M. & L. BOOTERY

What more pleasing gift for any member of the family than the comfy bedroom slipper. The M. & L. Bootery, 116 A. South Brand, carries varieties of shades in felts from $1 up and satins from $1.50 up.

Tweed Suit
A suit of mixed tweed, blue and gold, has a smart little double breasted coat, and a sleeveless dress that is worn with a narrow belt.

PERSONALITY HATS
Hand-made hats of velvets, combinations, and duvetynes, for children from 2 to 16 years, form a specialty of the Yarbrough Hat Shop, 106 West Broadway. Women's hats of originality and a new line of hand-made flowers for corsages, tinted so that they will not fade, are certainly designed to please discriminating shoppers.

GOOD HOSE
The importance of hosiery is known to every well dressed woman, and every well dressed woman knows the celebrated Mission and Holeproof hose. These lines in all the new shades ranging in price from 98 cents to $2.25 are waiting your selection at Wragg & Laveland Ladies' Garment Shop, 209 East Broadway. They also carry a complete line of silk undergarments in radium and crepe de chine.

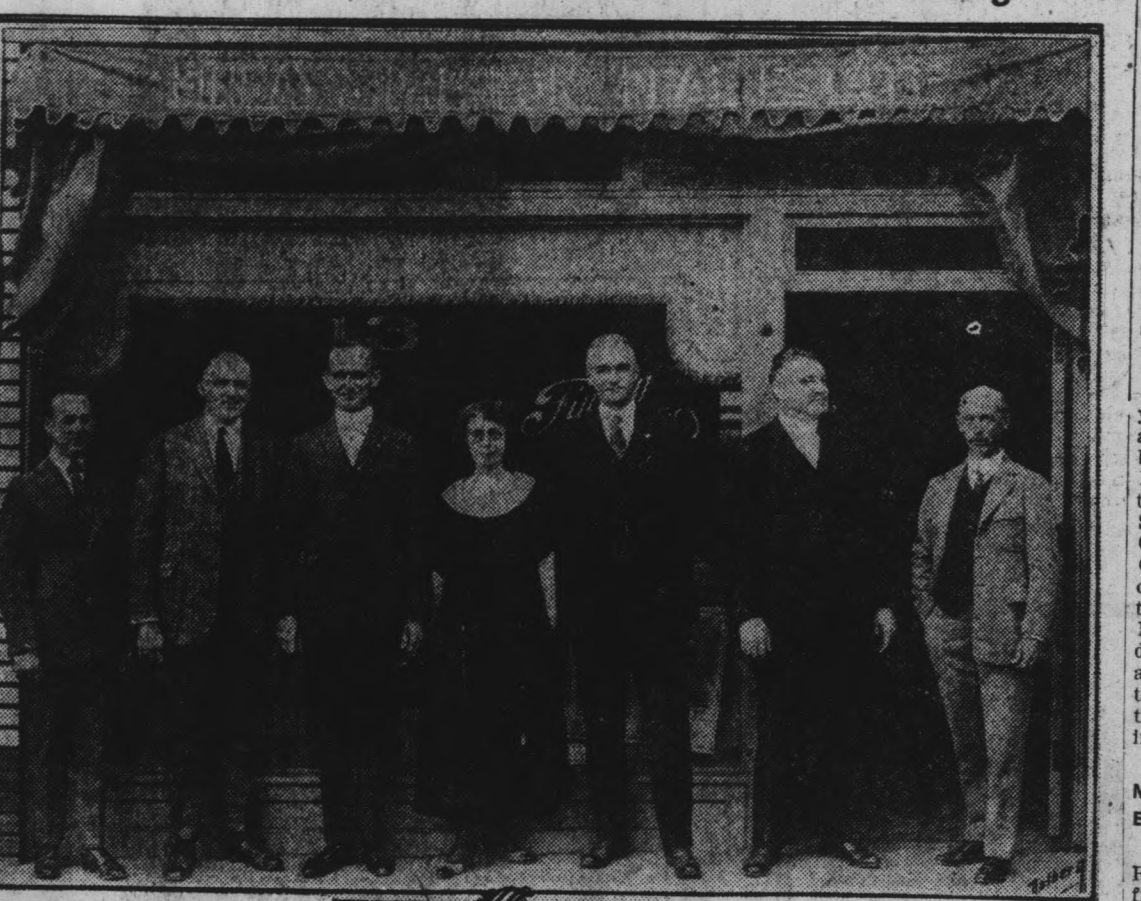

New Sport Handkerchiefs
Sport handkerchiefs of colored linen with a stunning initial hand blocked in one corner are new. They come in two sizes, for men and for women.

A lounging robe of much charm is built on the lines of the useful pajama. It is made of black satin with much Chinese embroidery in gold and pale yellow.

Finlay & Preston Are Compelled by a Large Increase In Business to Make Additions to Their Selling Force

A half million dollars' worth of property has been sold by the firm of Finlay & Preston, 131 South Brand boulevard in the past six months, since they started out in business together, and nearly one hundred thousand dollars' worth of property has been sold by them in the past week, and the end is not yet.

The entire sales force of the firm has been reorganized during the past few weeks and below are the names of the four salesmen:

Mr. S. A. Koontz, originally in business in Pittsburg and for the past nine years a resident of California. He has had considerable experience in the real estate business and is making a fine record on sales. He is a member of the K. of P. lodge.

Mr. W. C. Waring, originally from Montclair, New Jersey and nearly $185,000 worth of real estate in the past ninety days, nearly $65,000 of this being consummated during the past week. Mr. Warner has charge of the exchange department of the firm and will specialize in exchanges, small and great. He invites his many friends and clients to see him with reference to property deals.

Miss Jean Barlow is secretary for the firm and has lived in Glendale three years, coming from Des Moines, Iowa, where she held the position of executive secretary for the United States bureau of investigation. For some time she had charge of the classified advertising for the Glendale Press.

In an interview today Mr. Finlay and Mr. Preston both expressed themselves as well pleased with the progress of the firm and are very optimistic about the future of Glendale.

"We invite the patronage of our many friends and acquaintances," said Mr. Preston today, "and we will endeavor to give all a square deal." Mr. Preston was formerly pastor of the Pacific avenue Community Methodist church in this city and on account of financial reasons entered the real estate profession over a year ago. He is connected with the first Methodist church of Glendale, is Chaplain of the local American Legion Post and a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge. He has lived in California four years and in Glendale two years and hailed from New York. He is a native of Iowa.

Mr. Finlay is a native of Ohio and has resided in California for fifteen years, in Glendale six years. He was connected with the Union Oil company of California for eight years, with the credit department and has engaged in the real estate business the past year in Glendale. Mr. Finlay is superintendent of the First Presbyterian church Sunday school and is an Ex-Y. M. C. A. secretary; is active in the Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations and committees. "We are well pleased" said Mr. Finlay today, "with the confidence already shown in our firm, as evidenced by our sales records to date, and pledge our best efforts to our customers and clients during the coming year."

AMERICAN EDUCATIONAL WEEK

SOME CURRENT CRITICISMS OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Are They Just, Questions Supt. Richardson D. White

By RICHARDSON D. WHITE
This week, November 19-24, has been proclaimed American Educational Week by the President of the United States and is being celebrated as such for the purpose of concentrating the attention of the people upon our public schools.

We have not yet recovered from the unrest engendered by the world war, and as a result of this unrest there is a tendency to criticize, as is shown by the criticism which has been directed toward the public schools, and it is my intention to point out a few of these criticisms and try to answer them.

You will find that all teachers, educators and people interested in education welcome constructive criticism and are more than willing to receive it and profit by it, but it is the kind that is destructive and unjust that is never welcome. Some of this has come from high places—the president of Brown University at Providence, Rhode Island, the president of Amherst college, and other men connected with old conservative institutions have said that the American people cannot afford the burden of the public schools. Even the governor of the state of California has come out with the same kind of criticism, some of which may be just. If so, we should like to know it and profit thereby.

I shall attempt to answer some of these criticisms one by one.

First, it has been said that we are teaching too many frills in the public schools. I am not going to attempt to give a detailed defense of every subject taught in the schools, as we are teaching in the elementary schools of the state of California 23 subjects. These subjects are required by law to be taught and if some of them should not be taught, the only remedy is to change the law of the state of California, so that local boards of education may have the power to make their own courses of study to fit their respective localities.

In the second place, it is said that so much time is given to teaching the so-called frills that we are not teaching the fundamentals efficiently. We shall consider a few of these special subjects such as art, music, cooking, sewing, manual training, etc., and see which ones, if any, should be eliminated. Suppose we consider the subject of art. The homes of today are a great deal more artistically furnished than they were 25 years ago, and we know artistic surroundings have a great deal to do with the character of a child. What child would not grow nervous in a room with bright, red wall paper? We teach art, not because it is a fad, but because it is an essential, and we may well say the same thing about musical, manual training and the other subjects. Every boy should know enough about manual training to do simple things around the home.

I am going to take up the direct charge that has been made that we are not teaching efficiently the fundamentals such as reading, writing and arithmetic.

In the first place, we must ask you how you know that these fundamentals are not taught as well as in the old time school. You may answer that you know because you are a member of that school, but we must remember that everything in our childhood days has the glamour of youth and that the point of view of youth is very different from that of later life. Memory then, is the only test we have and that of course is not a fair one.

It may be asked of us what tests we have to prove that these fundamentals are being better taught now than 40 or 50 years ago, and we can say that we have an actual test.

Not long ago the superintendent of schools at Springfield, Mass., found among some old files, a complete set of examination papers dated in 1845. These papers contained the questions, answers and grades of the eighth grade pupils who had taken the examination, which was on arithmetic, spelling, grammar, composition and reading, all subjects which we regard as fundamentals.

As an experiment the superintendent of the Springfield schools then took these examination questions and had them given to a class of eighth grade children about to graduate as were the other for whom the questions had been originally prepared. What was the result? In every case the children of the present day passed this examination on the fundamental subjects with grades that ran from 10 to 50 per cent higher than did those children of 1845, with but one exception and that exception was in the parsing and diagramming of sentences. In other words, though the children of the present day understood and could use the English language 100 per cent better, they could not rattle off dry bones as could those old time children. It may be that we ought to teach the children these things now, but we believe that the way to learn the use of the English language is to use it, and not to memorize a great deal of meaningless form.

An old set of examination questions similar to the other was also found in Boston, Massachusetts, and was given to a group of Boston children with the same results. This Boston test was recently given at Berkeley, California, and as in the other cases the children did a great deal better than the children of 40 or 50 years ago with of course the one exception.

So you can see that we have some foundation for it when we say that the children of today are learning the fundamentals better than they did in former years. We have an actual test whereby we can make a comparison.

Even the schools of 25 years ago did not teach the fundamentals as well as they are taught today. Subjects are taught a great deal more scientifically now, and we do not teach reading, spelling and arithmetic in the same way. For instance, how many people use cube root? How many ever use numbers with 4, 5 or 6 decimal places? And although all of the children used to be required to learn these things, did they know as much practical arithmetic as the children of today? No, I do not think so. With spelling it is the same old story. We do not now make children stand up in a row and spell orally, because we know that things are learned a great deal quicker through the eye than through the ear, and we therefore teach spelling visually and not by hearing.

Another criticism we have met is that there are too many children going to school and that they go to school too long. Whose children are the too many? Are they yours? It is said that when a boy reaches the age of 14 years he should be allowed to leave school and go to work. There may be a difference of opinion on this, but the law of the state says that every child must attend school until he is 16 years old, unless he has graduated from high school.

About 52 per cent of the taxes this year will go to the schools, because every child needs an education and the great state of California has a right to have every child educated. The public school is the foundation stone of democracy. Theodore Roosevelt said, "Eliminate all public schools from the United States and this republic would not endure beyond the generation now living." That is the answer to the question of whether they are going to school too long.

We now come to the criticism that the schools cost too much and that we are spending entirely too much money on them.

There are two ways of deciding whether something costs too much, and one way is to determine whether or not it costs more than it is worth. The public school produces results and reaches the objectives we set for it, then it is worth what we pay for it. The objectives of the public schools are as follows:

First, to try to prepare children to earn a living, for no one is a good citizen unless he can earn a living and statistics show that those having a high school education are ten years later making a great deal more money on the average than those without a high school education.

Secondly, to try to teach the children to be good citizens.

Thirdly, to teach them to use their leisure time properly, because it is said that a man may be judged by the use he makes of his leisure time.

Fourthly, to try to educate the children physically so that they may have strong bodies as well as strong minds.

Fifthly, to train character. These are the things we are trying to teach and if we teach them and our objective is reached, then the school is worth whatever it may cost.

There is another way of deciding this question of whether or not the public schools are costing too much, and that is by deciding whether or not they cost more than we can afford. Statistics show that in the state of California last year it cost $13 per capita to maintain the public schools, that is, $13 for each man, woman and child in the state. We will take an average tax bill of $140 and say that $80 of it goes to the public schools. In a family of four—mother, father and two children, this means $40 a year to educate each child in the public schools. Is this more than we can afford? Even though there were but one child, is $80 too much, when one considers that part of the money goes toward the education of another child who will make a decent, well-trained citizen for your child to associate with when he grows up.

A few figures which have been compiled on the subjects are as follows: In 1920 the national wealth was approximately $250,000,000,000, $1,036,000,000 of which was spent on education, that is, 4-10 of 1 per cent of all our national wealth was spent on the public schools. Statistics show that our income for 1920 was $70,000,000,000. As was stated, $1,036,000,000 was spent on education, and that means that 1 1/2 per cent of our income was spent on the schools. Can we afford that?

In Southern California last year $24,000,000 was spent on theatre admissions, and that means that we did not spend as much money in Southern California on school maintenance as was spent on the theatre admissions.

Statistics show that in the United States, $1,350,000,000 was spent on candy and soft drinks which is a great deal more than was spent on schools. $750,000,000 was spent on perfumes and cosmetics, that is three-fourths as much as was put on our faces as was spent on the public schools. $2,111,000,000 was spent on tobacco in the United States or twice as much as was spent on education. On luxuries as a whole $17,361,000,000 was spent or 17 times as much as was spent on the public schools.

We may now well ask—can we afford it? Are we able to afford our child a proper education? I feel that I have now answered most of the criticism directed toward the public schools, and though some of it may be just, most of it is unfair and grossly exaggerated.

CARELESSNESS
Junior Fitch
Grand View School, A-5

Safety first is one of the most important things of life. To be safe is to be careful. Many deaths each year are caused from carelessness. Failure to obey traffic rules, rules of any kind and too much haste cause the death of many, many people. All know the saying "Haste makes waste," and lives are being sacrificed daily by too much haste.

The street is not the place for children to play. It is dangerous to do so. Machines are always passing by. Some drivers are careless and some children are careless and an accident is the result.

Children stay out of the street, stop and look before crossing and you will not spend time in the hospital due to carelessness.

Carelessness with fire is also the cause of much loss of life and property. Glendale learned a lesson from the mountain fire a short while ago. It caused people to stop and think when they saw the damage done by this blaze. Two of our best citizens gave their lives. Lives and property were both destroyed. Think before burning matches at the side of the road. This will prevent loss of any kind and people cannot say that we are careless.

ADVERTISEMENTS
Mildred La Bau
Wilson Ave. School, A-8

The other day as I was going home on the street car, I chanced to glance up at the advertisements. There were so many colors in them that they reminded me of a huge rainbow.

There were advertisements of different brands of canned goods. There were others advertising all styles of clothes. Some advertised medicines while others were pictures of mountain resorts.

One of the pictures was advertising tobacco. It had an outline of a man with a large pipe in his mouth. To me it seemed very ugly. It suddenly penetrated my mind that there was an unpleasant odor in my nostrils. I glanced up and discovered a man directly in front of me smoking like a steam engine. I can assure you I lost no time changing my seat.

However, I soon fell to studying the pictures again. There was one picture advertising toothpaste. I just glanced at it and began to inspect the next one.

THE ADVENTURES OF DOROTHY AND GRANDPA
Helen Fraley
Cerritos Ave. School, 5th

One hot day in June Dorothy came running into the house to tell Grandpa something nice. A little old lady in a black dress and grey shawl appeared in the hall. Dorothy told her that she and Grandpa were going to the Sierras in an airplane.

So that morning Grandpa, a little old man bent over with age, and Dorothy got ready to go on that long trip. Dorothy got in on the right and Grandpa on the left.

As they were flying along Dorothy learned a little too far and fell out on the wing. She tried to hang on but couldn't and rolled off. Fortunately she landed on a bed of straw.

Grandpa did not miss Dorothy till an hour or so later. He told the aviator that the child was missing. So they went back the way they came. They looked all that day. Towards evening they came to the spot where Dorothy had fallen and fortunately she had not moved, so they found her and continued their trip to the Sierras.

Grandpa went hunting. Dorothy was sweeping the floor of the cabin when she heard a low growl. She turned just in time to see a bear ready to spring at her. The only weapon she had was the broom in her hand. She got upon a chair and began striking the bear. There was nobody near so the only thing to do was to try to keep the bear away hoping help would come.

Now Grandpa had just killed a bear and thought that ought to be enough for that day. When Dorothy saw her Grandfather coming she cried to him to hurry that a bear was in the cabin. Grandpa did hurry. After he had shot the bear he said she was a very brave little girl.

A SHORT HISTORY OF THE AUTOMOBILE
Margaret Graham
Wilson Ave. School, A-8

The story you are about to read is the true history of Automobiles. Along about 1885 or 1890 a company in New York city introduced to the public what they called an "electric hansom." This was a queer looking machine in which the driver sat perched up behind the cab, very much as the old cabbies of the horse-drawn hansom of former days.

The steering was done with the rear wheels instead of the present front wheels and with the very short wheel-base they gave one the impression of worms squirming around in the traffic. And as "worms" they came to be known all over the city.

It was not until some seven or eight years later that the gasoline driven machines were used for the public conveyances. Most of these were imported from Europe, the French and Italian makes having the preference.

Along about this time a young machinist by the name of Haynes began experimenting with what he called a "horseless carriage." But it was not until a year or two later that he finally made something that would run under its own power. He experienced a great many difficulties with the authorities, because it frightened the horses and pedestrians and also blocked traffic. He had to pull it way out into the country before he was allowed to run it. There's a monument now being erected in his honor.

From this small beginning the automobile industry has grown until we have one factory alone in Detroit which produces forty thousand seven hundred and twenty-eight completed machines every six days. Soon the automobile will be a necessity in every family.

Every day we run many risks in doing our daily tasks. Dangers of fire and accidents from trolley cars and automobiles are always present. For this reason we have rules and laws to protect us. Take for instance the automobile, everyone must have two head-lights in front to light up the road and to warn others of its approach. There must be a red light in the rear, and the stop lights which are new are very important. Every machine must have a horn and also good brakes to stop quickly. The automobile club has signs along the roads telling people to go slow, because there is a railroad crossing or danger spot ahead. If we look around the city we

Modern Version of New Testament

By EDGAR J. GOODSPEED
THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO MATTHEW

"But immediately after the misery of those days, the sun will be darkened, and the moon will not shed its light, and the stars will fall from the sky, and the forces of the sky will shake. Then the sign of the Son of Man will appear in the sky, and all the nations of the earth will lament when they see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of the sky, in all his power and splendor. And he will send out his angels with a loud trumpet-call, and they will gather his chosen people from the four winds, from one end of the sky to the other.

"Let the fig tree teach you the lesson. As soon as its branches grow soft and put forth leaves, you know that summer is coming. So when you see all these things, you must know that he is just at the door. I tell you, these things will all happen before the present age passes away. Earth and sky will pass away but my words will never pass away. But about that day or hour no one knows, not even the angels in heaven nor the Son, but only the father. For just as it was in the time of Noah, it will be at the coming of the Son of Man. For just as in those days before the flood people were eating and drinking, marrying and being married, until the very day Noah entered the ark, and knew nothing about it until the flood came and destroyed them all, so it will be at the coming of the Son of Man. Two men will be in the field; one will be taken and one left. Two women will be grinding with the handmill; one will be taken and one left. So you must be on the watch, for you do not know on what day your Master is coming. But you may be sure of this, that if the master of the house had known in what part of the night the thief was coming, he would have been on the watch, and would not have let his house be broken into. Therefore you must be ready too, for the Son of Man is coming at a time when you do not expect him.

"Who then will be the faithful, thoughtful slave whom his master put in charge of his household, to give the members of it their supplies at the proper time? Blessed is that slave if his master when he returns finds him doing it. I tell you, he will put him in charge of all his property. But if he is a bad slave and says to himself, 'My master is going to stay a long time,' and begins to beat the other slaves, and eats and drinks with drunkards, that slave's master will come back some day when he does not expect him, and at some time of which he does not know, and will cut him in two, and put him with the hypocrites, to weep and gnash his teeth.

"Then the Kingdom of Heaven will be like the bridesmaids who took their lamps and went out to meet the bridegroom. Now five of them were foolish and five were sensible. For the foolish ones brought their lamps but brought no oil with them, but the sensible ones with their lamps brought oil in their flasks. As the bridegroom was slow in coming, they all grew drowsy and fell asleep. But in the middle of the night there was a shout 'Here is the bridegroom! Come out and meet him!' Then all the bridesmaids awoke, and trimmed their lamps. And the foolish ones said to the sensible ones, 'Give us some of your oil, for our lamps are going out.' But the sensible ones answered, 'There may not be enough for us and you. You had better go to the dealers and buy yourselves some.' But while they were gone to buy it, the bridegroom arrived, and the ones that were ready went in with him to the wedding banquet, and the door was closed. Afterward the other bridesmaids came and said, 'Sir! Sir! Open the door for us!' But he answered, 'I tell you, I do not know you!' So you must be on the watch, for you do not know either the day or the hour.

"For it is just like a man who was going on a journey, and called in his slaves, and put his property in their hands. He gave one five thousand dollars, and another two thousand, and another one thousand; to each according to his ability. Then he went away. The man who had received the five thousand dollars immediately went into business with the money, and made five thousand more. In the same way the man who had received the two thousand made two thousand more. But the man who had received the one thousand went away and dug a hole in the ground and hid his master's money. Long afterward, their master came back and settled accounts with them. And the man who had received the five thousand dollars came up bringing him five thousand more, and said, 'Sir, you put five thousand dollars in my hands; here I have made five thousand more.' His master said to him, 'Well done, my excellent, faithful slave! you have been faithful about a small amount; I will put a large one into your hands. Come, share your master's enjoyment!' And the man who had received the two thousand came up and said 'Sir, you put two thousand dollars into my hands, here I have made two thousand more.' His master said to him, 'Well done, my excellent, faithful slave; you have been faithful about a small amount; I will put a large one into your hands. Come! share your master's enjoyment.' And the man who had received the one thousand came up and said, 'Sir, I knew you were a hard man, who reaped where you had not sown, and gathered where you had not threshed, and I was frightened, and I went and hid your thousand dollars in the ground. Here is your money!' His master answered, 'You wicked, idle slave! You knew that I reaped where I had not sown and gathered where I had not threshed? Then you ought to have put my money in the bank, and then when I came back I would have gotten my property with interest. So take the thousand dollars away from me, and give it to the man who has the ten thousand, for the man who has will have more given him, and will be plentifully supplied, and from the man who has nothing even what he has will be taken away. And put the good-for-nothing slave out into the darkness outside, to weep and grind his teeth there.

"When the Son of Man comes in his splendor, with all his angels with him, he will take his seat on his glorious throne, and all the nations will be gathered before him, and he will separate them from one another, just as a shepherd separates his sheep from his goats, and he will put the sheep at his right hand and the goats at his left. Then the king will say to those at his right, 'Come, you whom my Father has blessed, take possession of the kingdom which has been destined for you from the creation of the world. For when I was hungry, you gave me food, when I was thirsty you gave me something to drink, when I was a stranger, you invited me to your homes, when I had no clothes, you gave me clothes, when I was sick, you looked after me, when I was in prison, you came to see me.' Then the upright will answer, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry and give you food, or thirsty, and give you something to drink? When did we see you a stranger, and invite you home, or without clothing, and supply you with it?' The king will answer, 'I tell you, in so far as you did it to one of the humblest of these brothers, of mine, you did it to me.' Then he will say to those at his left, 'Begone, you accursed people, to the everlasting fire destined for the devil and his angels! For when I was hungry, you gave me nothing to eat, and when I was thirsty you gave me nothing to drink, when I was a stranger, you did not invite me home, when I had no clothes, you did not supply me.' Then they in their turn will answer, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry, or thirsty, or a stranger, or in need of clothes, or sick, or in prison, and did not wait upon you?' Then he will answer, 'I tell you, in so far as you failed to do it for one of those people who are humblest, you failed to do it for me.' Then they will go away to everlasting punishment, and the upright to everlasting life."

Truths in Epigram

Sunday is the golden clasp that binds the volume of the week.—Longfellow.

Look on the poor with gentle eyes, for in such habits often, angels desire an alms.—Massinger.

The dead are the living. They lived while they died, and after they die they live on forever.—Maclaren.

THE TOSS OF A COIN

A pardon has been issued by the governor of Mississippi for a man found guilty of murder, the decision of the jury having been reached by the tossing of a coin. The governor was acting within his power and taking the only course demanded by the circumstances. He will not be able to extend similar clemency to the members of the jury. Their crime was unpardonable. Each should go on record, however, as unfit to serve on a jury again. They were all unfit in the first place, but the truth about them could not have been known in advance.

Many juries do not have an adequate conception of their duties. It is not strange that this should be so. The restrictions as to selecting them seem almost to inhibit intelligence. The result is that to decide the fate of an accused person there often is a collection of stupid individuals whose judgment would not be accepted in any other relation. Such persons are empowered to determine whether a prisoner shall go free or be hanged. In order to reach a just conclusion, they must understand the law, as most of them do not; weigh the evidence, which most of them are incapable of doing; resist the specious pleading of the trick lawyer, a point at which the majority of them fail. Above all are they bound to respect their oaths, which on the contrary, it is their wont to hold lightly.

A jury has a right to disagree, if this is the course indicated by their legal obligations and pleasing to conscience. No jury reasonably sound mentally, and normal on the moral side, could be induced to leave the fate of a prisoner to chance.

GETTING ACQUAINTED AFTERWARDS

"I don't know much about him. I don't know his occupation. I met him only two weeks before we were married."

This was the statement of a woman who had applied for divorce. Of course she did not deserve divorce or other consideration. However, under the law she was granted the freedom sought. The stranger with whom she had lived as wife had packed his grip and left her lorn. That was desertion. The great regret at the necessity of giving the petitioner divorce lies in the fact that she is certain to marry again. Such marital bluffs not only clutter up the courts, but various undesirable social complexities are likely to arise from them.

"Men often marry in hasty recklessness," said Moliere, "and repent afterwards all their lives." Doubtless the great Frenchman had in mind men of intelligence, of moral perception, and of a code at least tinged with honor. Such men, swayed by sudden and dazzling appeal make mistakes. And they may "repent afterwards all their lives" in token of an inherent decency. His statement has no application to folk of the grade who marry without some previous knowledge, some inkling of the character of the one chosen. These do not repent. They merely quit, and seek new fields. They have no concern as to the obligations of marriage. Too scantily supplied with brain to be equipped with conscience, the ignoring of their vows does not worry them, since they regarded the assumption of the vows as an incident of no importance.

Perhaps it would be well were the law to make special provision for the woman circumstanced as the plaintiff in the case cited. If she were to be classed as weak-minded, a classification warranted by the condition, the marriage could be annulled almost automatically, and future marriages for her prevented.

THE OPTIMISTIC NOTE

Prof. W. M. Sloane, whose standing as a historian no scholar will dispute, sounds a wholly new note concerning European conditions. It is worth quoting:

"It took forty years for America to recover after the civil war. France and Germany will recover in a fraction of that time. Their reconstruction is amazing. Already they are fit for anything that might come."

This he ascribes to a secret working arrangement that he says has been perfected between the industrial captains of the two countries. He expects that political clarification is to follow speedily.

Prof. Sloane assuredly sounds a new note of optimism. His opinion is in conflict with superficial appearances. There is nothing coming under the observation of the ordinary student of affairs that seems to sustain it. Yet it is given with a confidence that carries, if not conviction, at least a certainty of the historian's good faith.

RED CROSS WORK

Perhaps the public does not understand that the Red Cross is doing much for the invalid ex-soldier. If it did understand, the laggard response of such a city as Los Angeles to the call for support would be amazing. The call is one of the regular demands, made in behalf of a charity the scope of whose operations is world-wide.

Whenever there is calamity on a scale of magnitude, no matter what the cause, or the nationality of the people afflicted, the Red Cross is quick with aid. It is so organized as to be able to reach far without loss of time. It follows in the wake of storm, of elemental upheaval, of plague and of battle. Its purpose has been amply vindicated by its activities. When it asks there should be ready answer. No community knows but the Red Cross army of mercy shall next be called upon to minister to its sudden needs.

When there is a disaster that startles the nations, the early presence of the Red Cross is taken for granted. Such disasters are comparatively rare, but all the time there are smaller though insistent demands. In instances the invalid ex-soldier has been provided for either by the government or by friends and relatives. In more cases than it is comfortable to think about, he has, excepting for the Red Cross, been neglected, and would be suffering great privations. The work was undertaken in wartime, and was supposed to be temporary. There has been no opportunity to drop it, and the Red Cross, realizing the urgency, has no desire to drop it.

The dollar needed for an honorable and useful cause should not be withheld. On the contrary, to give it must be regarded as a duty by each person realizing the exigency of the matter.

One Dr. Eddy exhibited an "ectoplasmic ghost" to a Tacoma audience. Some spectator lacking in faith grabbed the apparition, and discovered it to be a young man clad in a sheet. Followed then what is known as "rough housing," but a thoughtful squad of police rescued Eddy still in one piece. Conan Doyle should be told about this.

King George of Greece seems to be another whose throne has been tipped to a slippery angle. He is clinging to it still, but apparently with oozing courage.

A man is not always known by the company he associates with—as the company sometimes discovers to its cost.

If the young man in the case is in love and the girl isn't he makes a fool of himself, but if the girl is in love and he isn't he makes a fool of her.

If time is money you can't accuse a lazy man of being stingy.

NO "RESERVED SEATS"

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSET

When the management of a concert series or other popular attraction announces that there will be "no reserved seats" patrons have a moral and legal right to take the statement at its face value.

The assumption is that when no seats are reserved the first to come will have precedence over later arrivals in the matter of places.

Mark that assumption off your list as an evidence of naivete.

The management may have a fond belief that no seats are reserved unless the box office reserves them; if so I advise the management to slip in early wearing a disguise and attempt to take a desirable seat.

At the Georgette Leblanc recital in Los Angeles everybody was supposed to fare alike in the matter of seats. This statement is not meant to include those who paid for boxes; folks who wish to mulct themselves in order to be part of the scenery should be unimpeded in their efforts to increase the box office receipts.

But the rank and file who pay for a "first come first served" program have a right to get what they have paid for. But the way it worked out at Georgette's recital was this:

A number of matrons with firm jaws and ardy friends sat in as soon as the doors opened, and promptly pre-empted not only a seat each but all the unoccupied seats within reach, placing on each a card marked "reserved."

Those who followed the pirates found themselves obliged to take rear seats while the houses were sprinkled with empty chairs held by force for people who should by virtue of their own tardiness have been compelled to occupy less desirable places.

If anybody questioned the right of a seat bandit to hold what she had staked out that person was promptly informed that "The lady who had this seat has just gone out for a moment and will be right back."

Which she hadn't and wouldn't.

Such things are responsible for the American reputation for public rudeness. People who try to abrogate the rules made for public entertainments deserve to have their tickets forfeited in the interest of the patrons who expect a statement to mean what it seems to mean. As it is we are putting a premium on bad manners and untruthfulness.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

The kid was in another auto smash last night. We located him this morning in a hospital, with a rib or two gone and a face that looks like one of the new maps. The insurance adjuster said the kid's new car was a complete wreck.

"Floole," said he. Just like that. So the family is in despair. Not on account of the kid's ribs and new car. That has happened before. And his face will recover. No. The sorrow that has settled down on our clan like a fog is occasioned by an entirely different reason.

You see, none of us liked Mazie very well when she married into our tribe. Oh, she's pretty, all right. We admitted that. And the kid certainly had been a trouble to us, and just as certainly she straightened him out. It is handsome of us, we think, to admit that she was able to do more with the kid than all the rest of us combined had been able to do in his previous twenty-seven years of life. But she didn't belong—with us. She thought differently, talked differently, dressed differently. Then she quit the kid.

"It's too bad," we said, pretending to be all broken up. "It's too bad that this should have come to our family. We always knew how that marriage would turn out. She disgraced us."

Down in our mean little hearts we were tickled to death. And now they have made up again. And the family is heart-broken. Only, not me. I haven't the nerve to tell 'em. But I think that Mazie is a better piece of goods than the kid. Anyhow, it's their affair. For the rest of my life I propose to let them alone.

THEY LISTENING POST

The Cynic and the Philosopher were walking together. The Philosopher plucked a rose. And as he held it the petals fell into the dust.

And the Cynic smiled: "What is it all about?" he asked.

"What is what all about?" said the Philosopher.

"The rose," replied the Cynic. "It was beautiful for a day. The gardener cultivated it. The sun shone on it. The air kissed it. The rain fell upon it. Someone lavished care upon it. You plucked it. And then the petals fell into the dust."

"Even so," said the Philosopher. "But if you look you will find seeds on the bush. And there will be more roses even more beautiful than this one. The race of roses will go on. Some one has known fragrance from this one. It has delighted the eye. It has comforted the senses. And its purpose has been served."

And as they were passing a house, the doors opened and a casket was borne out.

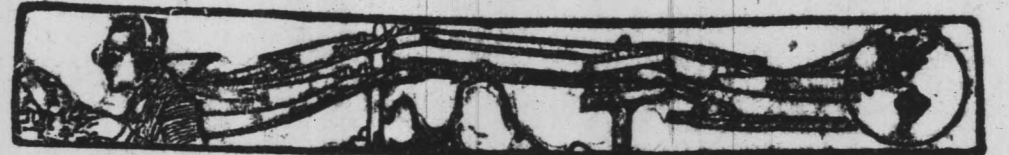

"There was a good man and true," said the Philosopher.

"He labored well. He kept his word. He reared his family. He served his neighbors well."

"True enough," said the Cynic, "but what is it all about?"

"What is what about?" asked the Philosopher. "The life of the good man," replied the Cynic.

"He has done all the things you say. Now he is carried forth senseless and silent. No more shall he see the dawn or the sunset. Not again shall he smell the rose's fragrance or hear the song of the bird."

Songs of the Poets

An Epitaph—By James Beattie (1735-1803)

Like thee I once have stemm'd the sea of life,
Like thee have languish'd after empty joys,
Like thee have labour'd in the stormy strife,
Been grieved for trifles, and amused with toys.

DREAM-STUFFS

By DR. FRANK CRANE

GUESSES, dreams, vague notions, fleeting glimpses, and all such ghost-timber are as valuable as clear and exact ideas.

All great deeds are made of this stuff. The mysterious cloud of half-understood ideas concentrates into the actual thing.

A poem of Tennyson was once but something dimly felt; he made it concrete.

The novelist makes his flesh-and-blood characters out of fugitive visions that have been peeping and lurking in his mind.

The bridge-builder, the inventor, the trust-maker, the statesman, and every doer in like manner "gives to airy evanescence impressions when they come to you; put some catch-word in your note book that will recall them. And then when you have leisure for meditation, when you have an hour to wait for a train, when time hangs heavy on your hands for any cause, take out your book. Call to mind the fleeting impression and try to develop it into something clear and concrete. The best things in life come to us by the way. They are not the things we plan for and go after, but the things that come over our shoulder and surprise us.

No one really believes in God unless he believes that the universe has something better for us than anything we could imagine. Give the universe a chance. Welcome the things that come and do not pin all your happiness upon the things you go after.

Remember Wordsworth: "Those obstinate questionings Of Sense and outward things, Falling from us, vanishing, Blank misgivings of a creature In living shapes, like sounds that die— Moving about in worlds not realized, High instincts before which our mortal nature Did tremble like a guilty thing surprised."

(Copyright, 1923, by Dr. Frank Crane)

Even impetuous France took a sober second thought over the possible rupture of the cordial entente.

The price of a stein of beer in Berlin is 1,000,000,000 marks, which is almost equivalent to prohibition.

Californians believed they were right about the alien land law even before the supreme court had told them so.

Probably purchasers of jewels pay a little extra for believing the gems belonged to the Russian crown.

Governor Walton was not only put out, but he went with such force that the impact must have been disconcerting.

Adolph Hitler, leader of the Bavarian uprising, is said to have brain fever, but this may be flattery.

Although a Los Angeles girl thrashed a man who had grabbed her purse, comparatively few girls are built that way.

Up in Vancouver convicted bandits are given a number of lashes. This is more reformatory than giving them parole.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

PLACING RESPONSIBILITY

[Washington Post]

There seems to be a spreading tendency to blame federal enforcement for all failures of prohibition. This is both unjust and unreasonable. A share of responsibility for enforcement cannot go further than congress has authorized and provided for it to go. Another share of responsibility is with the states. The central government cannot enforce prohibition fully without co-operation of the commonwealths. Another—and perhaps the largest—share of responsibility is with the people. Without co-operation of the majority prohibition cannot be satisfactorily enforced. Critics of Federal enforcement evidently have failed to realize this division of responsibility or have shut their eyes to it in an effort to avoid an unpleasant sight.

SPORT GRAMS

FRANCIS W. READ

It seems that in the past few months Glendale has achieved some notable accomplishments in the line of sports. Baseball, football, boxing, wrestling and many other forms of sport have shared in this era of sporting prosperity.

First, we have football. The Glendale high school football team has won the championship of the Central league without a defeat, and is now entered in the playoffs for the Southern California championship. Tomorrow the Black and Red gridders take on the San Bernardino eleven in the first of the series. The game will be played at the Chaffey field at Ontario.

The erection of the new baseball park on South San Fernando road that will be dedicated Sunday afternoon, and the entrance of a Glendale team in the new Triple A Winter league are marked victories for the "fastest growing city in America."

In the boxing and wrestling line recently Glendale has come to the front in a sensational manner. The Montana-Hackenschmidt match staged by the American Legion in the Press auditorium on Labor Day was the first affair of its kind in these parts and did much to popularize the sport in Glendale.

Thus is Glendale taking its place on the sport map.

Never tell a girl that her face looks like a picture; she'll think you think she painted the portrait herself.

VANDALS READY TO TAKE ON TROJANS

Both Teams Will Open Up in the Last Game

A medium-light, hard-hitting, fast and very shifty eleven that has perfected the forward pass until it is a fine art; a team that has met but one defeat this season and is in the very dangerous frame of mind of being convinced that but for two unfortunate penalties it would have won that game from what its members consider an inferior machine; a team that in 1922 hit the Trojan warriors harder than they had ever been hit before; a team coached by one of the smartest men in western football, a man who is as tricky as the traditional fox and whose entire plan of battle is to be on the offensive with a whirlwind attack at all stages of a football game.

Such is the University of Idaho varsity which is now resting in Pasadena, awaiting its clash on Saturday afternoon with the University of Southern California. This game, which will be played in the Los Angeles Coliseum, is the final struggle of the season for each eleven. Neither Coach Henderson of Southern California nor Coach Mathews of Idaho has anything to conceal from future rivals. Each will "open up" with everything in his repertoire of plays. There will be something every minute and for sensational action and real thrills this game should provide the spectators with the best entertainment of the entire season.

Henderson has been criticized for not showing an offensive until too late in the California game. He believed to be the best plan of battle, the game that he considered most likely to defeat California. The fact that he lost has started the cry, "Why didn't you open up sooner?" Realizing that the fans want to see an offensive, Henderson has determined to give it to them. Last Saturday he completely smothered Arizona, 69 to 0. That was an attack which would satisfy anyone. But Arizona was weak and could not stop anything. Idaho is strong and only a perfectly executed attack can defeat the Vandals. Henderson will send his team onto the field Saturday to show the world whether or not he is able to develop an offensive. He intends to "open up" from the start and give the fans the thrills they have been aching for all year.

Here is the schedule of football games for the west tomorrow:

- Glendale vs. San Bernardino at Ontario.
U. S. C. vs. Idaho at Los Angeles Coliseum.
Occidental vs. Pomona at Claremont.
Caltech vs. Southern Branch at Pasadena stadium.
Redlands vs. Whittier at Redlands.
Stanford vs. California at Berkeley (new stadium).
U. of Washington vs. Washington State at Seattle.

With a charging backfield that can go through a wall of brick, pass accurately as the best of them, run like the Olympic athletes and battle the best of them with its various plays, Hayhurst should be able to show the Gate City boys some real football. Howard Elliot at full, known variously as "Tony," "Breezy" or any one of a number of more or less euphonious titles, is regarded as the main strength of the Glendale backfield. Elliot can kick along with the best of them. In the punting line he looks like a future Bill Blewett or Jack Witter. His boots are always accurate and well timed. He can run back punts for long gains and in this respect he looks like a coming Don Nichols. When it comes to hurling passes—he is there with the goods. They are always right to the man and timed just right. San Bernardino will no doubt be on the watch for Elliot.

GLENDALE HIGH FOOTBALLERS MEET SAN BERNARDINO ELEVEN TOMORROW IN TITLE PLAYOFFS

Dynamiters Take on Gate City Boys on Chaffey Field at Ontario Tomorrow Afternoon; Hayhurst Says the Team Looks Good

By FRANCIS W. READ

After winning the Central League championship without a loss or even a score against them, the Glendale high school footballers will take on the San Bernardino eleven tomorrow afternoon in the first game of the playoffs for the Southern California title. The game will be played on the Chaffey Union field at Ontario and is scheduled for 2:30.

For the past week Coach Hayhurst has been working his Dynamiters harder than ever before in order to get them in shape for the Gate City eleven. Not that they have been out of form—on the contrary they were never going better than in the last half of the Covina game last Friday—but just to insure that they will be O. K. when they step out against San Bernardino tomorrow. Improvement in the Dynamiters' offense has made and their defense looks like a stone wall for any kind of an attack.

With a charging backfield that can go through a wall of brick, pass accurately as the best of them, run like the Olympic athletes and battle the best of them with its various plays, Hayhurst should be able to show the Gate City boys some real football. Howard Elliot at full, known variously as "Tony," "Breezy" or any one of a number of more or less euphonious titles, is regarded as the main strength of the Glendale backfield. Elliot can kick along with the best of them. In the punting line he looks like a future Bill Blewett or Jack Witter. His boots are always accurate and well timed. He can run back punts for long gains and in this respect he looks like a coming Don Nichols. When it comes to hurling passes—he is there with the goods. They are always right to the man and timed just right. San Bernardino will no doubt be on the watch for Elliot.

Bud Elliot, brother of the famous fullback, is responsible in no small measure for the brilliant defense of the Dynamiters. Bud calls the signals from quarter. He knows just how to use the men in each play and when to call for the different maneuvers. The manner in which he executes the Glendale attack tomorrow will have the Gate City boys guessing.

Dick Ryan, Ronald West, captain of the eleven, and Cyril Walton are the men who hold down the halfback jobs. Whether West's injury will permit him to start tomorrow is a question. In the event that he cannot, Walton will start. Walton's long suit is catching passes and he will be used in the event passes are needed for long gains. West is great at the line plunging, and can be counted on for yards when a touchdown is needed. Ryan can run or charge, and is a good all around half. On the line Horri and Lavelle will play at the end positions. Horri is the lightest man on the team, weighing only 127 pounds. He can catch a pass with beautiful precision and is usually to be counted on for a gain afterward. Lavelle is one of the fastest, wingmen in these parts. Phillips and Dotson are hard fighting tackles and can both be counted on to get their man every time and to hold like a wall of stone on the defensive. Mor-

GLENDALE AND COVINA DECIDE MIDGET TITLE

Glendale and Covina, the two schools tied for the championship of the lightweight division of the Central league, faced each other this afternoon on the Monrovia gridiron to play off the tie. A large crowd of fans accompanied both teams and shortly before the game started the attendance was estimated as the largest that has witnessed a lightweight game this season.

Coach Butterfield's Glendale eleven was given the edge over the Covina team before the game started. The cause for this was the victory Butterfield's Dynamiters staged over this same eleven on the Covina field last week, bringing the two teams into a tie for championship. Covina fans, however, were confident that they would be able to stop the Glendaleans. They lined up as follows:

Table with 2 columns: GLENDALE and COVINA. Lists player names and positions for both teams.

Phillips and Brucker at the guard positions constitute one of the main strengths of the team, both on the offensive and defensive. Zaun is classed as the best center in the Central league, and can be counted on for accurate passes from the line of scrimmage.

San Bernardino outweighs Glendale seven pounds to the man and has won all of its seven games this season; 170 points have been scored by San Bernardino against 145 by Glendale, but the Gate City has been scored on for 25 points, whereas the Dynamiters' goal line has not been crossed. There is no doubt that Coach Shafer has a real football team out at San Bernardino.

The teams will probably line up as follows:

'OXY' AND POMONA BATTLE FOR HONORS

Tigers and Sagehens Play to Decide Conference Title Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon will be the twenty-fifth occasion when teams representing Occidental and Pomona have been unleashed on the gridiron to scrap for football supremacy, but it will be the first time when there have been as many conflicting opinions on what is going to happen in the little village of Claremont between noon and nightfall tomorrow.

Both elevens have their backs and their gloom-spreaders, and there are plenty of reasons for taking either view. Pomona has been no more of an in-and-out football team than Occidental, both teams having played like a bunch of dubs on one day, and giving the fans a treat on their next appearance. Pomona opened the season rather dismally for the Sagehens by dropping a 13-to-6 verdict to Caltech, and looked far below championship standard in games with Redlands and Whittier later in the season. A whirlwind finish in both these games saved the day for Nixon's bunch. Against Southern Branch the Sagehens played faultless football for the first time.

Occidental, in the same way, played a rather dumb game against Caltech, losing by the same score, looked promising against Redlands, and played a beautiful brand of football against Whittier and Southern Branch. On the strength of past games Oxy would seem to have an edge, but the loss of Spangler, Ridderhoff and Prialux by injuries has put a crimp in the Tiger eleven which frantic work by the coaches has not relieved.

In another point in Pomona's favor is the fact that while the Sagehens made a miserable start, they have shown steady improvement. Occidental in the meantime giving the coaching staff chills of uncertainty, playing their poorest game in midseason.

In weight there is practically no advantage on either team. Occidental being outweighed in the backfield, but having a slight advantage in the line. The gross tonnage of the teams expected to start is not high, the Sagehens averaging 164 1/2 to 165 for Pinal's outfit. Bayham of Pomona, 198 pound tackle, is the big boy of the list. Snoddy's 188 pounds of meat being the most any Oxy player can show.

HACKENSCHMIDT AND MONTANA MEET HERE

Finish Match Between Wrestlers on Tuesday Night

John Hackenschmidt and Bull Montana, wrestlers of no mean repute, will meet Tuesday evening in the main event of the Glendale Athletic club card. The match will be staged at Hahn's auditorium, 109 North Brand.

This will be the second time that Hack and Bull have grappled in the local arena. On Labor day the two wrestlers met in a two-hour match in the auditorium of the Daily Press building. They grappled the full time to a draw. This time there will be no draw, as they have decided to have a finish match. Consequently there will be no time limit. The best two out of three falls wins and the winner takes all.

Since their last meeting the two wrestlers have both grappled with other opponents in the local arena. Hackenschmidt took on Joe Polk, champion of the American Expeditionary forces, and defeated him when Polk threw up the sponge after more than an hour. Polk was suffering from a cut on his face received while working in the movies that afternoon. There were no falls in the whole time. Joe had Hack working like mad and used the toe-hold on him to excellent advantage.

A couple of weeks ago Bull Montana took on Charlie Olson, the terrible two, and defeated him in great fashion, registering the required two falls in one hour and twenty-eight minutes. Hack issued a challenge to the winner before the scrap commenced.

Les Marston, matchmaker for the club, is preparing for a capacity house next Tuesday night. It is certain that a large crowd will come out to see the two grapplers do their stuff. Both men have tremendous followings and Hackenschmidt is a resident of Glendale.

Three boxing bouts are planned as preliminaries. Dutch Crawford and Ernie Stocker, 116 pounds will meet in the semi-windup. Jack Carr and Kid Payo will put up a scrap at 110 pounds, while Lanch and Kearns, 118 pounds, will fight the curtain raiser.

no advantage on either team. Occidental being outweighed in the backfield, but having a slight advantage in the line. The gross tonnage of the teams expected to start is not high, the Sagehens averaging 164 1/2 to 165 for Pinal's outfit. Bayham of Pomona, 198 pound tackle, is the big boy of the list. [By Associated Press]
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 23.—Pilot Rhinehart, who is essaying to fly his aerial coupe from Dayton, Ohio, to the Pacific coast with one passenger and a quantity of freight, abandoned his attempt in Cheyenne this afternoon. He started dismantling his plane and said he would ship the freight by train the remainder of the way. No reason for his action was given.

ALCOHOL-CRAZED
MAN ASSAULTS
TWO WATCHMEN

STOCKTON, Calif., Nov. 23.—Crazed by what the police believe was a combination of a drug and alcohol, an unidentified man last night assaulted two watchmen and beat them badly, wrecked two houses, fired a number of shots at a bystander without taking effect, fired point blank at a policeman and missed and was finally killed by a shot from the policeman's revolver.

The man had the appearance of a laborer and was roughly dressed. He appeared suddenly before the watchman at a box factory and started beating him. The watchman fled to a lumber yard and with another watchman took refuge in the office of the place while the crazed man battered down the door.

A bullet in the abdomen, fired by one of the watchmen failed to stop him and he tore the door of the place from the hinges and severely beat the man who had shot him. He then took the revolver and fled, entered a house, ejected two men and literally wrecked the place.

When the officers entered the house the man attempted to shoot but the revolver failed him. He struck the detective over the head with the weapon, fired one shot and was himself shot dead by Policeman Floyd Brown.

WOMEN OF U. S. ARE ORGANIZING TO DEFEND THE LAW

An organization which is absolutely unique in that it has behind it the large women's organizations of the country has been effected for defense of the prohibition law. Their purpose is to furnish the women of the country argument and information, and instruction as to the proper use of political activity and educational propaganda. The first measure taken by them was to publish a bulletin entitled "Save America," which can be procured for 25 cents from the "National Committee for Law Enforcement," 302 Ford Building, Boston, Mass.

The book is divided into four parts: First, "Women and Prohibition;" second, "Law Offense;" third, "Ammunition for the Battle;" and fourth, "Programs and Resolutions." The contributors include Elizabeth Tilton, Kathleen Norris, Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Viscountess Astor and others of like prominence. The general chairman of the organization is Mr. Edward Franklin White, who is chairman of the Legislative Department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The vice-chairmen include Mrs. Elmer Blair, Department of Public Welfare, General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. James A. Webb, Jr., Young Women's Christian Association; Mrs. A. G. Reeves, Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Association; Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, Federation of Women's Boards of Foreign Missions; Mrs. Fred S. Bennett, Council of Women for Home Missions; Mrs. Robert Reed, International Order of King's Daughters; Mrs. Phillip Moore, National Council of Women, and Mrs. Ellis Yost, Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The organization is one of the most formidable reinforcements to the cause of law enforcement. The initial publication is extremely valuable. The discussion in "Save America" of the course of prohibition in Kansas is especially interesting. Few of our people realize that it took many years to make prohibition effective in Kansas. But today the fight in that state is absolutely won beyond controversy. Other states also have gone through the fire and come out purified.

American Citizen Kidnapped to Mexico?

BRAWLEY, Calif., Nov. 23.—Andrea Laseter, American citizen, is said to be in a critical condition in a hospital in Mexicali, Mexico, across the international border from Calexico, following his alleged kidnaping by American and Mexican officers to face charges in Mexico of smuggling and participating in the shooting of a Mexican customs officer.

Laseter's attorney here, Alfred Blaisdale, today filed appeals for the return of his client from Mexicali with the state department at Washington and the attorney general of California.

It is charged that Laseter was lying on a hospital cot at El Centro suffering from an operation in which his hand had been amputated, which had been shattered by a bullet, when he was seized and rushed across the international border at Calexico despite the protests of the hospital physician.

"Infamous" Stokes and Wife Do Finally Agree

[By Associated Press]
NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy hotel man and his wife, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes, formerly of Denver, today ended their legal warfare of several years' standing through an agreement by which Mrs. Stokes was formally granted a degree of separation and one million dollars.

NEW GROCERY STORES
BIG HELP TO PEOPLE
People must eat. Acting on that principle two new groceries have made their appearance in Montrose. Both will carry a high-grade of goods, with fresh eggs, butter and milk, as well as staples. One of the new stores, the Huntington Grocery, is situated on Florencita drive, just west of Orangedale avenue. The other, which will be known as the Honolulu Cash Grocery when its doors open December 8, is located on Honolulu avenue a few doors west of Max Renner's. It is interesting to note that not two years ago there was only one grocery in Montrose. Now there are five, all doing a good business.

Montrose Notes
HISTORY OF CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEXT WEEK
It is the plan of the Montrose boosters, whose names appear each week on this page, to feature with every publication a story of special interest concerning Montrose and various Montrose organizations. Accordingly, next week's edition will contain the history of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce. A young but very lively and progressive organization, which, since its "birth" about 18 months ago, has worked wonders for this community. To those who do not know of the chamber's accomplishments the story will prove vastly interesting and instructive, and to those who have worked and backed the organization it will be a pleasure to read a "written acknowledgement" of that body's good deeds and endeavors.

MANY DELIGHTFUL PARTIES TO BE GIVEN
Many delightful parties are being planned for Thanksgiving week. Among them is a "kid" dance to be given at the Briggs Avenue hall, north of Michigan avenue. Each person attending will be dressed in kiddy costume, and it is expected that many Lord Fauntleroy and Bo Peeps will vie with one another for the honors of the evening. The dances at the Briggs hall continue to become more popular and are usually attended by many from neighboring towns as well as Montrose. The music is always splendid and the crowd which participates in the affairs are jolly, hospitable folks. The dances are given under the auspices of the Briggs Terrace residents.

MUSICAL BENEFIT TO BE GIVEN THIS EVENING
All who love music are invited to attend the benefit musical to be given this evening in the new La Crescenta Community Church on West Montrose avenue. A very entertaining program has been arranged for the evening, consisting of numbers by several local musicians. Mrs. Alice Reed, soprano, will sing. Those who heard Mrs. Reed at the recent Montrose Chamber of Commerce meeting will be delighted to have the opportunity of hearing her lovely voice again. In addition, Mr. Reed will play the violin, Miss Margaret Bowen will give several readings and Mrs. Ethelwynn C. Weaver will play the piano. The concert is being given to raise funds to help defray building expenses.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DIRECTORS TO MEET
Directors of the Montrose Chamber of Commerce will meet Tuesday evening, November 27, in the office of the Carson Realty Company on Honolulu avenue. Special matters of importance will come up for discussion. Plans for the next open meeting, which occurs on the fourth of December, will be made. The hour of meeting for Tuesday is 8 o'clock and every director is urged to attend.

LOCAL ITEMS OF INTEREST
Mrs. Leach, mother of Mrs. Frank Turner of Montrose, will leave Friday evening for San Francisco to be with her daughter, Mrs. Turner, who is under an operation at the Hanhama Hospital in the Northern city some days ago and is recovering so rapidly that she will be able to make the return journey within a week or 10 days. Mrs. Leach will accompany her back to Montrose.

AMERICAN LEGION POST SOON TO BE ORGANIZED
That an American Legion Post will soon be established in Montrose is the welcome news received by legion men of the district recently. For some time the number from Montrose, who have been attending the Glendale post meetings, has increased rapidly. It now seems that there are sufficient legion men in this district to organize and maintain an independent post, and arrangements are being made to that end.

WORTH-WHILE BUYS
IF YOU WANT A BEAUTIFUL HOME FOR A LARGE FAMILY—HERE IT IS—IF YOU WANT A SURE INCOME PROPERTY—HERE IT IS—Close to High and Grammar School—Let us tell you about it.
Just 250 feet off of East Broadway. There are four LARGE Bed Rooms, two up and two downstairs, with sufficiently roomy extra closets attached to make kitchenettes, should one wish to rent apartments—In addition to this, there is a sun room that would make another bed room. Upstairs there are, besides the furnished rooms mentioned above, two more unfurnished that would make good apartments also.—There is the living room with real Bachelor Tile Fire Place—cheerful dining room—breakfast room—kitchen with every known convenience for convenient housekeeping—Large screened porch—two other separate entrances, 2 bathrooms, 1 up, 1 down—the clear hardwood floors are 13-16 in thickness—the sides of house are completely lined with heavy tar paper under the siding, which is over twice the thickness and much better quality than that generally used—house fronts east.—A four room California House in rear—Lot 50x120 on 20 foot alley—JUST A YEAR OLD—Priced at $15,000—Cash to handle, $7500.

RIGHT IN THE VERY CENTER OF GLENDALE—2 blocks from Brand and Broadway—3 room, YEAR OLD HOME on lot 54x150—Four bed rooms.—This house is well built and furnished, and is a real bargain at $13,000.—NO STREET BONDS—Cash to handle, $5,000.

FOUR BLOCKS FROM BRAND—A little home of four rooms—Corner lot—everything neat as a pin—completely furnished excepting silverware—A steal at $4900.—Terms are $1,000 cash—$344 in 6 months—$344 in 12 months and $50 per month.—SEE US TODAY.

Ancient City of David Really Discovered

[By Associated Press] LONDON, Nov. 23.—Discovery of traces of the ancient city of David, reported from Jerusalem some time ago, is confirmed in a dispatch from Professor Robert A. MacAlister, leader of the joint expedition sent to the Holy Land by the Palestine exploration fund and the Daily Telegraph. Professor MacAlister says he has every reason to believe that by coincidence the expedition has discovered the remains of the mysterious "Millo" mentioned in the Biblical description of David's fortifications in Jebusite citadel he captured. The statement that the king built "roundabout from Millo" has always puzzled commentators. It has been conjectured that Millo was a tower or dam, but it has been agreed that only excavation could reveal its true identity.

Search For Bodies In Refinery Disaster

[By Associated Press] NEW IBERIA, La., Nov. 23.—Search continued today for additional bodies in the ruins of the Veda Sugar refinery at Loreauville, ten miles east of here, which was razed late yesterday by a terrific boiler explosion, killing at least nine persons and injuring 15 others, five of them probably fatally. A check up of the refinery's payroll disclosed that three employees were unaccounted for and it was feared they had been buried under the debris.

BUILDING METHODS OF TWO LANDS COMPARED

"Has Europe anything on us when it comes to building?" Architects, contractors and scores of laymen have asked that question. Only one answer can be given without drawing fine lines of technical distinction. But this one answer describes the patent, defines the cause and offers a cure for the most infectious ailment of modern American building. It is summed up in the fact that the average prospective American home builder allows himself to believe he's an architect, a contractor and a skilled craftsman all in one. He gets his idea just before he starts to build. He finds out differently only when it's too late, after his head has been bumped and the damage is done. The European, while no better in business and perhaps less critical in the matter of homes, developed his present good judgment in construction from bitter experience. He has learned to appreciate the inflexible rule of economic human endeavor that it is "every man to his own game."

When the European gets ready to build, he consults an architect and contractor. The American home builder invariably wants to do it himself. He looks upon the architect merely as a maker of penciled lines and a contractor as a taker of fat profits. The fact that architects and contractors are still doing business in America proves the error of the "do it yourself" plan of building. The architect and contractor are as essential in building a home as a designer and tailor in producing a well-fitting suit. No man buys a bolt of cloth and makes his own clothes. Why then should he attempt to build a home where thousands of dollars are involved, where the finished product must "fit" and remain in style through every season of a lifetime? One of the outstanding points that manifested itself on every turn during the months which I recently spent in architectural and building materials research work throughout Europe was the practically accepted duty of everyone to go to experts when they wanted something out of their own line. Europeans have found, through hundreds of years of costly experiments, that it pays in the long run to have things done by people who know their business; by people who

California Will Take Part in Conference

[By Associated Press] SACRAMENTO, Nov. 23.—The part California will take in the proposed tri-state conference between Arizona, Nevada and California for the purpose of discussing problems relating to the development of the resources of the Colorado river in the lower basing states will depend largely upon the recommendations of W. F. McClure, director of the states department of public works. This was indicated today at the office of Governor Richardson when it was announced that a telegram from Governor Hunt of Arizona regarding a date agreeable for the conference had been referred to McClure. Nevada, through Governor Scrugham, has already notified the Arizona executive of its willingness to send representatives when the conference is held. At the governor's office here it was said that the telegram has been referred to McClure for the reason that McClure's office was familiar with the subject and had handled the matter all along.

Planning Wholesale Arrest of Bootleggers

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Local federal prosecutors disclosed today that they were planning the arrest of several prominent Englishmen and Americans as members of the international bootlegging combine in which 126 persons indicted yesterday at Savannah, Ga., are said to have been involved. The combine, according to officials, invested large sums in the transfer of liquor from England to this country where it was bootlegged wholesale through a well organized system, in principal cities of eastern states. When diling a maple floor, heat linseed oil lukewarm, remove from fire and add half as much turpentine as linseed oil. The turpentine keeps the oil from turning the floor dark. are spending their lives in mastering an art, a profession or a trade. It is not my purpose to discourage the prospective home builder from reflecting his own individuality, ideas and ideals into his new home. The object is merely to point out the false economy without the services of experts.

MABEL NORMAND

In Mack Sennett's Latest Success
"THE EXTRA GIRL"

Following is What the Newspaper Critics Think of the picture:

Guy Price in Los Angeles Evening Herald: "You are going to thrill over Miss Normand as 'The Extra Girl' It is one of Mabel's greatest efforts in one of the greatest stories Mack Sennett has written for her. Mabel is more a star than ever. Her acting plays on the heartstrings—bringing tears one moment, laughter the next." Edwin Schallert in Los Angeles Times: "Mabel is at her very best." Florence Lawrence in Los Angeles Examiner: "Miss Normand devotes herself almost entirely to making you laugh."

MARMONT IS VERSATILE STAR AT THE GATEWAY

When Percy Marmont arrived in Hollywood on his first visit on a world tour, he decided to stay there a few days and said goodbye to his friends, expecting to meet them in London within a month. That was in 1917. He remained in the film colony, appearing in many important productions. He plays the role of Dick Heidar in George Melford's Paramount production of "The Light That Failed," from the novel by Rudyard Kipling, which comes to the Gateway theater again today.

Marmont's first Paramount picture appearance was in "Rose of the World." He is married and lives in Hollywood.

"IS DIVORCE A FAILURE" TODAY AT THE GLENDALE

In this age of many divorces the many homes ruined thereby present a ghastly spectacle of mental misery. Young couples who enter the married state with highest hopes oftentimes allow a slight quarrel to develop into a final breach. Others get married after a very slight acquaintance and the divorce court comes next. This whole question is presented in many phases in the film play, "Is Divorce a Failure?" It is now showing at the Glendale theater.

"THE EXTRA GIRL" IS ATTRACTION AT THE T. D. & L.

Magnetic Mabel Normand in "The Extra Girl" is the attraction again tomorrow at the T. D. and L. theater, also a new series of H. C. Witwer's "Fighting Blood." Critics say Miss Normand is at her best in "The Extra Girl." Her acting plays on the heart strings, bringing laughter one moment and tears the next. All the admirers of this popular actress will surely be out in force tomorrow.

HESCHE SHOE SHOP IS CLOSING OUT

The lease on the Hesche Shoe shop, in the Palace Grand building, has been sold and Mr. Hesche is forced to sell out before the first of December, when the Lewis Jewelry company, now located just adjoining the store, will take over the lease, expanding from the present quarters. This means that the entire stock of high-grade ladies' and men's shoes must be sold during the coming week.

His already low prices are very materially reduced for this closing out sale, and the people of Glendale should take advantage of this offer. His stock is of the best, consisting of a line of only high-grade shoes. Ladies will find several new effects in strap pumps and slippers, some imported from Paris. Sport-shoes and dressy Oxfords will please the gentleman buyer and the saving is very much worth while. A full line of bedroom slippers is carried, also.

Some men hurry through life as if widows were chasing them.

H. LOEFFLER WILL STARTS BAKERY AT 210 S. CENTRAL

Friends and patrons of H. Loeffler, who has been a resident of Glendale for 12 years and connected with the best bakeries in the city, will be interested in the announcement he is broadcasting on Saturday, November 24, at 210 South Central avenue, in the Keystone building, he will open a first-class bakery with a full line of bread, cake and pastry of the finest quality. The record he has established should insure him an excellent business from the start.

W. E. HEALD HAS NEW, EFFICIENT CLOCK REPAIRER

R. J. Satterthwaite, Jr., a clock repairer of long experience, has connected himself with the jewelry firm of W. E. Heald, 125 West Broadway, where he will repair clocks exclusively. Mr. Satterthwaite comes to this firm highly recommended and is now ready to repair all makes of clock, from the famous old Westminster chimes, to the present day alarm clocks. He was connected with a large jewelry firm in the east before coming to this city and his experience in this line should net him a large business. A separate department has been provided for him, where he will meet all clock repair needs which come to him.

Being a Glendale resident, Mr. Satterthwaite is, of course, a strong booster for this town, having lived here several months. Work will be called for and delivered by phoning to the store.

To remove red ink stains from table linen, spread freshly made mustard over the stain and leave for half an hour. Then sponge off and all trace of the ink will have disappeared.

S. G. FULLERTON IS NEW SHOE MAN AT 223 N. BRAND

S. G. Fullerton, a shoe man of nine years' experience, has opened the shoe department at the Brand Department store, 223 North Brand, with a good line of high-grade shoes.

Being out of the high rent district, Mr. Fullerton says he will sell good shoes at very close prices, and extends an invitation to the people of Glendale to give him a trial. He will carry the latest novelties in shoes. See his advertisement elsewhere in this paper.
