c. The Japanese Red Cross Society will be required, upon direction of prefectural officials, to furnish medical teams to the prefectural health department for use in time of disaster and to coordinate all voluntary agency participation in disaster relief operations.

d. Public Welfare Officer, TMGT will be responsible for coordinating Japanese prefectural disaster plans with the disaster plans of Occupation Forces, and will maintain an up-to-date copy of the Prefectural Disaster Plan.

e. Legal and Government Officer, Toyama Military Government Team will act as liaison agency between local commanders and the Japanese governmental relief agencies in providing relief to other than occupation personnel except when communications failure prevents.

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 775 013

f. (1) Item

(2) Quantity

(3) Source

(4) Amount needed in addition to that received

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 775 013

CHEMICAL

1. In any case of disaster where large quantities of industrial chemicals have been released, the Chemical Officer, 25th Infantry Division, Osaka, telephone Lightning 223, or Chemical Officer, I Corps, telephone Kyoto 26295 will be contacted for technical advice and assistance.

2. Economics Officer will maintain up-to-date list of all plants within Toyama Prefecture falling within any of the categories listed below:

Chemical Plants
Pharmaceutical Plants
Petroleum Products Storage Areas
Coke Plants (illuminating gas, benzol, etc.)
Paint Factories
Refrigeration Plants and Ice Factories
Sewerage Treatment Plants

The listing of each plant will include the raw materials used in its processes, its finished products, storage methods used, and noxious gasses likely to be evolved by combustion of such materials.

3. CAUTION: In very high concentrations of any gas, as may be encountered in a contaminated enclosed place or close to a gas source, the capacity of the service canister may be exceeded in a short time. Although very efficient against all war gases under field conditions, the service mask will provide no protection for certain industrial gases, among which are: ammonia, carbon monoxide, and gasoline fumes. Personnel should vacate the contaminated areas immediately to the upwind side, and such areas should be marked under the supervision of a chemical officer. Decontaminating procedure will be determined by the nature of contamination.

4. The all purpose canister affords protection against:

a. Organic oil vapors such as Acetone, Alcohols, Aniline, Benzene, Carbon Bisulfide, Carbon Tetrachloride, Chloroform, Ether, Ethylene Dichloride, Formaldehyde, Gasoline and other Petroleum distillates and Toluene. Reference: Section IV, TB3-205.

b. Numerous acid gases such as Acetic Acid, Formic Acid, Hydrogen Sulfide, Hydrocyanic Acid Gas, Sulfur Dioxide, Chlorine, Hydrochloric Acid Gas, Oxides of Nitrogen, and Phosgene.

c. Carbon Monoxide. However, since carbon monoxide is tasteless and odorless, the wearer of the mask cannot tell when the gas has penetrated the mask. For this reason the canister must not be used for a total period of time in excess of two hours. The label on the canister includes a blank form for recording the periods of use and for keeping a running total of the time of usage. Each period of use must be recorded immediately to insure the safety of subsequent users of the canister.

d. Ammonia also will be restrained by the all-purpose canister. If the concentration of ammonia is great enough to break down the canister, the user will be given warning by the characteristic odor of the gas. Since ammonia is very soluble in water, heavy concentrations of the gas can be quickly reduced by spraying the contaminated air with water.

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 775 013

ANNEX 3 TO OPERATIONS MEMORANDUM NUMBER 1, DATED 7 JUNE 1949

LIAISON AIRCRAFT

1. There is no suitable landing strip or field in Toyama Prefecture for aircraft larger than "L-5".

2. The airstrip for L-5 type aircraft consists of a portion of concrete highway between Toyama and Takaoka Cities as described below:

LOCATION: About 6,000 yards NE of Toyama City between Kureha and Kosugi

COORDINATES: From (1207.570 - 1542.850) (Yards)
To (1208.750 - 1542.950) (Yards)

MAP: 1/50,000 Central Honshu, Sheet 5557 III (TOYAMA)

NOTE: There is a power line marked on the map as bisecting the airstrip. Only the poles of this line exist, there is no wire. Poles are several yards from the highway on either side and will not endanger landing aircraft.

A "wind sock" will be flying on the pole just north of the highway.

DESCRIPTION: Strip consists of about 1,200 yards of double lane concrete highway, free of chuck holes or obstruction of any kind. There is a clear view for two thousand yards in either direction to stop oncoming traffic.

3. By direction of the area commander, aircraft drop and pick-up stations will be established when landing fields or other means of communication are not available. All officers and key NCO's will be instructed in the proper method of operation of a pick-up station as described in FM 24-17, paragraph 64.
