f. Remarks:

The legal and government section, conducted a personal surveillance of all ten polling places in this prefecture (excluding Yokosuka). These were widely scattered so that three teams operated headed by the legal officer, assistant legal officer and Sgt. Duvall.

Voting was quiet and orderly. No violations were seen nor reported. Abstention was probably the lowest in all Japan running to a mere 1%.

Attention is respectfully called to the fact that the CP party garnered exactly five (5) votes prefecture-wide. Moreover the Social Democrats show mounting strength with 208 votes out of a possible 1491.

1. In compliance with letter Headquarters Eighth Army, ACMGL 091, dated 7 July 1949, subject; "Reports Required for Agricultural Land Commission Election," subject report is submitted.

2. General Account of Prefectural Land Commission Election:

a. In the above mentioned election Kagawa prefecture was divided into two electoral districts, with four polling places in the 1st district and three in the 2d district. The number of candidates totalled twenty; nine in the 1st district and eleven in the second district. The only place that there was no voting was for the 1st class in the 1st district.

The polling score in each district was as follows:

Eligible Number of voters	Actual Number of voters	Percentage to eligible voters
1st district
1st class 157	No voting	No voting
2d class 159	138	86.7 %
3d class 486	450	92.5 %
2d district
1st class 175	162	92.5 %
2d class 176	164	90.1 %
3d class 538	525	93.8 %

b. Publicity for the election was carried out by the joint efforts of the Prefectural Election Administration Commission and the Farmland Section of the Prefectural Government. They held a meeting of all the eligible voters in each locality, dividing this prefecture into six blocks, starting on 1 September 1949, and interpreted the Land Law and explained the function of the Prefectural Agricultural Commission. They also used the press and radio. Furthermore on election day, they had lectures at the local offices on the Revised Land Law and Owner Farming Law in order to encourage the people to vote. The voting percentage shows how effective the publicity was.

c. The campaign issues and political strategy of both candidates and political parties were not seen in this election.

Campaigning by the candidates was limited to letters and postcards, but the Socialist Party and the Communist Party are said to have been a little more active than the conservative.

The Communist had one candidate. He, being in the first district and of the 3d class. He received 42 votes out of a possible 450 votes cast. He took 5th place and was not elected.

d. There were no violations noted at present time.
