TOLEDO, OHIO:
DAILY COMMERCIAL STEAM BOOK AND JOB PRINTING HOUSE.

THE COMPILER presents his Patrons and the Public with the Third number of his ANNUAL TOLEDO DIRECTORY with the utmost confidence that it will be accepted as the best Directory of the City that has been issued. It is printed on new type, and the whole typographical appearance of the book is creditable to the house that published it. No pains has been spared to make it correct and reliable; yet the many changes occurring among our business firms, and the rapid accessions of new residents makes it extremely difficult to get up a book entirely satisfactory to the public, or to the compiler. The continued neglect of the city authorities to the enforcing of the ordinances requiring the numbering of houses is a great drawback and adds very materially to the labor of compiling.

The advertising columns furnish a tolerable index of the business of the town, but by no means a full one, as many important branches of industry are not represented at all. To those who have rendered him material aid the publisher returns his thanks, trusting that the small expenditures made will be returned with interest.

TOLEDO—LIST OF MUNICIPAL OFFICERS.

The compiler of this work had prepared for publication an abstract of the proceedings of the Council of the City from its first organization in 1837 to the present year, but is compelled to leave it out on account of its length and the delay in issuing the Directory for this year. A list of the officers of the City elected each year will, however, be furnished, giving the names in most cases of the opposition candidates for Mayor.

The City was incorporated at the session of the General Assembly of 1836-7, and the first charter election held in pursuance of a call made by E. B. *Mr. HUNT died of disease in April, 1868, the seeds of which were doubtless contracted by the severe hardships he underwent during the war of the rebellion, in which he enlisted in the fall of 1862 as Captain in the 67th Regiment O. V. I. He continued in the service until some months after the last shot was fired at Appomatox Court House. He, with his regiment participated in the terrible charge on Fort Wagner, on Morris Island, S. C., in July, 1863, and he also led his command in the charge upon Fort Gregg near Petersburg, in April, 1865, following up the fleeing rebels until he witnessed the last surrender and the close of the war. For gallantry he was promoted from Captain up to Brigadier General, when the Government accepted his resignation in the fall of 1865.

Personally he was brave, generous and genial, and all who knew him mourn his early loss. The Fire Department of the City, of which he was once the head, followed him with appropriate honor to his final resting place, making one of the most imposing funeral processions ever witnessed in the city.

TOLEDO, O.

A GLANCE AT TOLEDO--THEN AND NOW.

From a perusal of a few copies of the Toledo Blade, published during the winter of 1836-7, we are enabled to glean a few items which may be of interest at the present time. Then the spirit of speculation was rife along the River; numerous sites for the future great city of the Maumee Valley had been selected and their advantages extolled through the public press. The Toledo Gazette, established before the Blade, was urging in connection with the latter paper, the superior location of this city. The Manhattan Advertiser, a spirited sheet, upheld the pretensions of Manhattan, just fixed upon as the terminus of the great lines of canal which were to connect the waters of the Ohio and the Wabash with those of Lake Erie. The Maumee City Express and the Perrysburg Miami of the Lake were magnifying the claims of their respective towns. For a number of years the contest was carried on, with the result, in the estimation of many, quite uncertain, until finally the superior claims of TOLEDO were universally acknowledged. Perrysburg and Maumee City are growing towns at the present time, with fair populations, engaged in commercial and mechanical enterprises, while Manhattan is a mere suburb of our own city, valuable only as it feels the impulse of our extending industry. Marengo, Gilead and other points, then asserting their claims, have long since yielded up the contest, and are no longer seen upon the maps, and are known only in the memory of a few.

In the fall of 1836, S. M. Young was elected Auditor of Lucas County, S. L. Collins, Treasurer, M. H. Daniels, Sheriff, Junius Flagg, Recorder. H. Conant was the Clerk of the Court, the first officers elected after the settlement of the boundary line between Ohio and Michigan. The first official record of the County is that of the County Commissioners, who met in this city on the 14th day of September, 1835, John Baldwin, (shortly afterwards appointed Associate Judge,) and Robert Gower present, Cyrus Holloway noted as absent, and not appearing to have taken any part in the proceedings. Mr. Young, at that time a resident of Maumee City, is now a resident of this city, in active business. Mr. Conant, an octogenarian, still resides at the foot of the Rapids. Mr. Collins is passing the balance of his days in the suburbs of Toledo, at Collingwood, having a goodly interest in the County he first made his residence.

Francis

The 43d number of the Blade was printed on the 16th of November, 1836, George Mortimer Schipper, the author of a pretentious work entitled "Pharaoh, or the Prodigal," being the editor. In January following G. B. Way & Co. became the editors and proprietors, and were succeeded in the spring by A. W. Fairbanks and L. B. Willard, in the proprietorship of the paper. Under various management it has survived to the present time, and is now a popular and successful journal. The Gazette was established at an earlier period, by Samuel Allen, but was not of long duration.

Toledo was made a distributing point for the mails in the year 1837, (E. D. Potter, Post Master,) in place of Detroit, much to the chagrin of the people of that goodly city. The Legislature of Michigan even made the change a subject of their resolves, excoriating the P. M. General for preferring "the incommodious village on the Maumee" to their own City of the Straits.

The Erie & Kalamazoo Rail Road, the first Railroad built in the Western States, was completed in 1836 to Adrian; the design of extending it to Kalamazoo, 180 miles from this City, never having been carried out. Other rail road projects were rife at this time. The Stillwater & Maumee R. R. Coompany had been incorporated, (March 14, 1836,) books opened, and meetings held at Coshocton and Mt. Vernon. Surveys were made in 1837 for a road to Sandusky City. In the Blade of May 16, 1837, is an advertisement of R. Stewart, President of the Buffalo & Mississippi R. R. Co. for proposals for grading a double track between Michigan City and Laporte, Toledo subsequently aided the surveys of this road, employing Mr. Elisha Whittlesey and others to secure the interest of the towns, along the route in its early construction. The road was built, name changed to Michigan Southern & Northern Indiana R. R., which, in connection with the Erie & Kalamazoo road to Adrian, united in iron bonds the two great commercial cities, Chicago and Toledo.

On the 1st of January, 1837, fifty-three miles of the Miami & Erie Canal, leading into Cincinnati, were in use, and thirty more in an advanced state of completion. In February Leander Ransom, Acting Commissioner, advertised for letting thirty miles of its eastern terminus. The completion of this noble enterprise was celebrated in this City in June, 1843.

Toledo, being the county seat, many of the legal profession were attracted hither. John Fitch, C. F. Abbott, Tilden & Osborn, L. S. Lownsbury, C. M. Dorr, Way & Cook, D. McBain, and James M. Whitney, were practicing lawyers in 1837. Mr. C. W. Hill was here but was not admitted to the bar until 1838 or '9. Mr. H. Bennett came in 1838 and became associated with D. O. Morton. The firm of Swayne & Brown appears in the papers, but Judge Swayne was never a resident. His name, however, will be long associated with Toledo, as being the owner of the fine tract of land on which the State Fair is to be held. Mr. M. R. Waite became associated with Samuel M. Young at Maumee City in 1838—now both honored residents of Toledo.

Dr. Jacob Clark, still in practice, Dr. John Mosher, Dr. Chas. McLean, Dr. Horace A. Ackley and George R. Perkins, were practising physicians. * * * *

What a change between the Toledo of 1837 and 1868! Then a small village, struggling for life, with a feverish, uncertain population, not to exceed twelve hundred. Now, become a City of the first class, with over thirty thousand inhabitants, busy, enterprising and confident of its future greatness. Then, with scarcely a sidewalk, and not a graded street. Now, commodious walks line every settled avenue, and besides well graded streets, over ten miles of pavement are laid, more than half of which is the beautiful Nicholson. Then, two or three small warehouses at the foot of Lagrange street, and one or two at Monroe street, sufficed for the grain and goods received and shipped. Now, numerous warehouses and grain elevators accommodate the commerce of thirteen hundred miles of railroad and seven hundred of canal communication, besides the trade of the Lakes. Hills have been cut down and waste places filled up, and an air of prosperity pervades the whole town. Palatial stores and residences have sprung up, vieing in architectural beauty with those of wealthier towns; while the numerous and beautiful school houses, and places of religious worship, attest the moral character of the citizens, and present strong inducements for the selection of Toledo as a home.

Our citizens are ready and anxious to adopt every public improvement which experience and science suggest, and a long stride was made by the introduction of steam fire engines and the fire alarm telegraph; and it will not be long before the town will have plentiful supplies of good water, for the accommodation of every family and the extinguishment of fires; although we have now, for most purposes, a sufficiency of pure water from our numerous artesian wells.

Will Toledo continue to increase and prosper as it has for the last few years? is on the lips of many. The solution of this question rests with our citizens. If they rely altogether upon its great natural advantages as a receiving and distributing point, without putting forth energetic and continuous efforts to increase its manufacturing facilities, it will not reach the high destiny that has been predicted for it. Cheap coal must be rendered accessible, that the Briarean arms of steam may be employed to multiply our industries and resources, and great care taken to prevent other interests diverting the great lines of travel and commerce from their natural courses.

It is intended to encourage the industrious and prudent, and to induce those who have not hitherto been such, to lessen their unnecessary expenses, and to save and lay by something for a period of life when they will be less able to earn a support.

Its further object is to encourage the acquisition of freehold property and the funds of the Institution, so far as practicable, will be loaned to laboring men, women, clerks and others who deposit with the Institution, and who desire to borrow money from the Institution to purchase or secure homes.
