TO THE FANS

You now have in your possession one of the most up-todate and interesting publications that has ever been issued in connection with our National game. The "Bull" Durham Baseball Guide is hereby offered to the baseball public, and we ask you to look it over and see for yourself if it is not all that we claim.

We have made a radical departure from the make-up of the ordinary "cut and dried" guide that the public has been accustomed to reading, and we feel sure that the innovations will make a "big hit" with the fans at large.

For instance, in the "Bull" Durham Guide, you will find the complete schedules of every league of any importance, a feature which will in itself make a place for the "Bull" Durham Guide in the hearts of all the fans. We did not stop with one feature of this nature, however, but tried to see how many such novelties we could crowd into our pages.

We could take up several pages, in this manner enumerating the features of this guide, but will let the people decide for themselves that the "Bull" Durham Baseball Guide is THE BEST, and we know that this will be their decision.

The "Bull" Durham Guide is not by any means one of the vagrant publications that appears from time to time, but it is an annual production of interesting and up-to-date baseball "dope." In this, our first number, we feel that we have omitted nothing of any importance, and present the essential happenings of the 1909 baseball season, together with all the actual records of the past that are necessary to the "dope fiend."

With these few remarks, we offer the "Bull" Durham Guide to you, knowing that it will meet with your approval, and trusting that you will appreciate the immense amount of labor that the compilation of this fund of useful information entails, we place the Guide in your hands.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

The world's series of 1909 was unique in many respects. It was the first series in which the full number of games was played, it was the first in which the opposing teams won alternate victories, and it was also the first in which both teams lost valuable men through accident. New records were made in both attendance and receipts and altogether it was the most remarkable series of games of any description, that has ever been played.

THOS. J. LYNCH, President of the National League

FALL MEETINGS

NATIONAL LEAGUE

It was on December 14th, 1909, that the heavy artillery of the National League came together in the first decisive engagement of the baseball war of '09. The struggle promised to be a long and bitter one, and the expectations of the fans were fully justified. The presidency was the objective point, over which the battle was to be waged. On the 14 th, the heavy artillery met in the St. Tames Hotel, New York, and a situation that demanded the most cautious handling was presented to them. The Dreyfuss banquet was scheduled for the following night, and at that affair, it was supposed that the spirit of harmony would wield its benign influence, and so remove some of the bitterness that had already characterized the unofficial meetings of the magnates. And so, at the first meeting, it was decided to stretch out the session until Thursday, so that the Dreyfuss dove of peace could get in some of its work.

The regular routine work was sent through in flying order, and it was voted to postpone the election until Thursday, owing to the absence of Mr. Brush. The meeting then adjourned to prepare for the banquet.

On Thursday, the meeting opened, and, soon after the appointment of a chairman, John $M$. Ward was nominated for president by C. H. Ebbetts, and the nomination was seconded by John T. Brush. M. S. Robison "presented the name of Robert M. Brown, of Louisville, and then the "grand crash" came. August Herrmann arose, presumably to nominate Mr. Heydler, and announced that the latter had withdrawn, and he would second Mr. Brown's nomination.

Then the bitterest election, that has ever characterized a National League meeting, was opened. The deadlock was evident on the first ballot. Ward was supported by the delegates of the New. York, Chicago, Brooklyn and Philadelphia clubs, the other four voting for Brown. The League then decided not to ballot again until the following day, so the meeting adjourned. On Friday three ballots were taken, with no change in the results, and after a great deal of argument, adjournment was taken until Saturday, when, the result being the same after three ballots, Mr. Ward's name was withdrawn, Mr. Brown also retiring.

John T. Brush then offered the name of Thomas T. Lynch, the "umpire king." He had hardly been seated, when every man present jumped to his feet to second the nomination, and Mr. Lynch was declared unanimously elected President of the National League for the year 1910.

The spirit of harmony still prevailed and John A. Heydler was chosen Secretary-Treasurer for the year, but on his refusal to accept the office for a short term, the time was extended to three years.

Dreyfuss, Ebbetts, Herrmann, Murphy and Brush were then chosen for the 1910 Board of Directors.

The next matter taken up was a resolve in regard to the player limit. It provides that, between May 10 and August 20, no manager may carry over 25 balltossers on his list. After the latter date, however, the number may be increased to 35 men, who may be held up to May 10.

Then ensued a lengthy discussion on the schedule, some advocating the 154 game list, while the majority stood in favor of the longer schedule of 168 games, which was finally adopted.

Pittsburg was then officially declared Champion of the National League for the year 1909.

After trying in vain, for some time, to think of more business for the meeting, it was decided to adjourn, subject to the call of the president.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

On the same day that the National League warfare started, the American League magnates came together for a bloodless battle. The city of New York was likewise the battlefield. The Highlanders seemed to be "in wrong" when the meeting opened, as there was a charge against them of using a signal-tipping system on their home grounds, but after the case had been thoroughly "threshed out" by both sides, the defendants were declared blameless.

On the following day, the formal meeting of the League was held, and to save all argument, the 1909 Championship was awarded to Hughey Jennings' Detroit team.

Now, the "bush" league managers had been "kicking" for some time against the scarcity of available players, owing to the manner in which the magnates had strings on the majority of the men, and a resolution was adopted, whereby the major league managers may carry on their visiting list only 25 men between May 1 st and August $20 t h$, and from the latter date until May 1st, the number is restricted to 35 .

For fear that the players would be troubled with "pernicious inactivity" if the long schedule were seriously considered, the customary 154 game list was adopted.

Owing to the wild talk of some of the narrow-minded baseball men, there was considerable discussion on the question of spikes, which finally resulted in the appointment of a committee to look into the matter. Ban Johnson and Charlie Comiskey made up the committee.

The 1910 Board of Directors which was then chosen, comprises the representatives of the Chicago, Cleveland, New York and Boston clubs.

The chief object of the meeting was then taken into consideration, namely, the drawing up of a new agreement, for the present one expires this year. Ban Johnson, Noyes and Navin were chosen a committee to attend to the drawing up of a ten-year agreement, and make some necessary revisions in the constitution.

There was much disappointment, when the player deals were pulled off, as the fans were expecting many changes of great interest, but the only important transfer was that of Elberfeld, from New York to Washington for a sum said to be in the neighborhood of $$ 5,000$.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION MEETING

The "powers that be" in the Minor Leagues held their annual session during the week of November 8, Memphis, Tennessee, being graced with their presence.

To insure a continuance of the excellent government, that has been characteristic of the minor leagues, playing under the National Agreement, the same agreement was adopted for ten more years.

The presidency was again unanimously tendered to M. H. Sexton of Rock Island.

It was decided to hold the next meeting in Chicago. Several slight changes were made in the constitution, and a resolution in regard to a flat draft price being made constitutional, was referred to a committee. All players who break their contracts will hereafter be "in wrong" for a term of five years, and those who violate their reserve will be consigned to the list of probationers for a three-year spell.

The California League was then taken into the true fold, thus absorbing the last of the big outlaw leagues. All the contractjumpers who were with the California League were allotted to the same league for a four-year term, and the reservation-breakers were put down for two years.

The regular business having been accomplished, after sad farewells the magnates separated until next year.

Four days were consumed by the Spring Meeting of the National League magnates, who met at the Waldori Astoria, New York, on February 15th. Before the League meeting had been called, the Board of Directors held an interesting session. The request of the New York club for indemnity for the game, forfeited by the Phillies at the Polo Grounds, at the last of the season, was one of the main objects of discussion. After both sides of the matter had been heard the Board decided to fine the Philadelphia club $$ 250$, and Captain Doolan was relieved of $$ 100$ in addition to the fine levied on him last year. The Murray contract case was then taken up, and the Philadelphia club owners were given 15 days in which to make an answer to the claims of Billy. Their report must then be sent to President Lynch, who will call another meeting of the Board to decide what Murray should receive.

The League went into session on the 15 th, and the first thing called for was the report of the Schedule Committee. Charley Ebbetts straightaway offered his pet, the 168 game schedule, and Barney Dreyfuss submitted the 154 game list. The National League deadlock was again in evidence, and continued to be very prominent for two days, when the schedule matter was dropped for the time being, and the other business of the meeting was taken under consideration.

The Rules Committee made their report, which was accepted. The League then went on record as strongly opposed to syndicate ball, and made a constitutional resolution to that effect.

The schedule matter was again taken from the table, and for many weary hours the supporters of each schedule vigorously defended their sentiment in regard to the matter. The 154 game schedule had for its champions John T. Brush, Garry Herrmann, John Dovey and Barney Dreyfuss, while the longer list was upheld by Robison, Fogei, Ebbetts and Murphy. Matters came to a head on the 18 th, when it was finally deciued to adopt the 154 game schedule, with the proviso that the playing season be extended to October 15 th. Up to the present Cincinnati and Pittsburg, Boston and Brooklyn have agreed to close their season by the 12 th . The National League then adjourned.

American League.

Congress Hall, Chicago, was highly honored on the 15 th and 16 th of February, 1910, with the presence of Ban Johnson's magnates, who held one of the harmonious meetings that are becoming characteristic of the junior major league.

The first and foremost piece of business to be taken into consideration was in regard to the adoption of a new agreement. At the fall meeting there was a little discussion on the matter, some advocating a perpetual franchise, while others wanted a ten-year agreement. A compromise was effected, by which the clubs are bound together for a period of twenty years. The only change from the old agreement was in regard to syndicate baseball, against which the league took a decided stand.

After the agreement and the new schedule had been adopted, the magnates decided that under the able leadership of Ban Johnson, the league had been most prosperous, and to show Ban just what they thought, they elected him President, Secretary and Treasurer for a twenty-year term at a salary of $$ 25,000$ a year, with a liberal expense allowance. Ban was somewhat surprised at the liberal salary offer, but refused to discuss it at all, saying that it was merely a personal matter and therefore was no topic for paper talk.

The remaining business of the meeting consisted of nodding approval on the work of the Rules Committee, and when this had been done the magnates adjourned with a feeling of intense satisfaction over gocd wo:l.: well dune.

Official Playing Rules Professional Baseball Clubs

As adopted at the meeting of the Joint Playing Rules Committee of the National League and the American League, held at National League Headquarters, New York City, March 2, 1904. Amended February 14, 1906; February 25, 1907 ; February 27,1908 , February 17, 1909, and January 24, 1910 . Amendments indicated by black face type.

These Rules have also been adopted by
The National Association of Professional Base Ball Leagues

The Ball Ground.

RULE 1. The ball ground must be enclosed. To obviate the necessity for ground rules, the shortest distance from a fence or stand on fair territory to the home base should be 235 feet and from home base to the grand stand 90 feet.

To Lay Off the Field.

RULE 2. To lay off the lines defining the location of the several bases, the catcher's and the pitcher's position and to establish the boundaries required in playing the game of base ball, proceed as follows:

Diamond or Infield.

From a point A, within the grounds, project a straight line out into the field, and at a point, $\mathrm{B}, 154$ feet from point A, lay off lines $B C$ and $B D$ at right angles to the line A B ; then, with B as a center and 63.63945 feet as a radius, describe arcs cutting the lines $B A$ at $F$ and $B C$ at $G, B D$ at $H$ and $B$ E at I. Draw lines F G, G E, E H, and H F, which said lines shall be the containing lines of the Diamond or Infield.

The Catcher's Lines.

RULE 3. With $F$ as a center and 10 feet radius, describe an arc cutting line $F A$ at $L$, and draw lines $L$ M and $L_{1} O$ at right angles to $F A$, and continue same out from F A not less than 10 feet.

The Foul Lines.

RULE 4. From the intersecting point, $F$, continue the straight lines $F$ G and $F$ H until they intersect the lines $L$ M and $L, O$, and then from the points $G$ and $H$ in the opposite direction until they reach the boundary lines of the ground, and said lines shall be clearly visible from any part of the diamond, and no wood or other hard substance shall be used in the construction of said lines.

The Players' Lines.

RULE 5. With $F$ as a center and 50 feet radius, describe arcs cutting lines $F O$ and $F M$ at $P$ and $Q$, then with $F$ as center again and 75 feet radius, describe arcs cutting $F$ G and $F H$ at $R$ and $S$; then, from the points $P, Q, R$ and $S$ draw lines at right angles to the lines $F O$, $F M, F G$ and $F H$, and continue the same until they intersect at the points T and W .

The Coacher's Lines.

RULE 6. With R and S as centers and 15 feet radius, describe arcs cutting the lines $R \mathrm{~W}$ and $\mathrm{S} T$ at X and Y and from the points X and Y draw lines parallel with the lines $F H$ and $F G$ and continue same out to the boundary lines of the ground.

The Three-Foot Line.

RULE 7. With $F$ as a center and 45 feet radius, describe an arc cutting the line $F$ G at 1 , and from 1 to the distance of three feet draw a line at right angles to $F G$, and marked point 2; then from point 2 draw a line parallel with the line $F G$ to a point three feet beyond the point G, marked 3 ; then from the point 3 draw a line at right angles to line 2, 3, back to and intersecting with F G, and from thence back along the line $G F$ to point 1.

The Batsman's Lines.

RULE 8. On either side of the line A F B describe two parallelograms six feet long and four feet wide (marked 8 and 9), their longest side being parallel with the line A F $B$, their distance apart being six inches, added to each end of the length of the diagonal of the square within the angle $F$, and the center of their length being on said diagonal.

The Pitcher's Plate.

RULE 9. Section 1. With point $F$ as center and 60.5 feet as radius, describe an arc cutting the line $F B$ at line 4 , and draw a line 5,6 , passing through point 4 and extending 12 inches on either side of line $F B$; then with line 5, 6, as a side, describe a parallelogram 24 inches by 6 inches, in which shall be located the pitcher's plate.

Section 2. The pitcher's plate shall not be more than 15 inches higher than the base lines or the home plate, which shall be level with the surface of the field, and the slope from the pitcher's plate to every base line and the home plate shall be gradual.

The Bases.

RULE 10. Section 1. Within the angle $F$, describe a five-sided figure, two of the sides of which shall coincide with the lines $F G$ and $F H$ to the extent of 12 inches each, thence parallel with the line F B $81 / 2$ inches to the points X and Y , a straight line between which, 17 inches, will form the front of the home base or plate.

Section 2. Within the angles at G, I and $H$ describe squares, whose sides are 15 inches in length, two of such sides of which squares shall lie along the lines $F G$ and $G$ I, G I and I H, I H and H F, which squares shall be the location of the first, second and third bases respectively.

RULE 11. The Home Base at $F$ and the Pitcher's Plate at 4 must each be of whitened rubber, and so fixed in the ground as to be even with its surface.

RULE 12. The First Base, at G, the Second Base at E, and the Third Base at H must each be a white canvas bag filled with soft material and securely fastened in place at the points specified in Rule 10.

RULE 13. The lines described in Rules 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 must be marked with lime, chalk or other white material, easily distinguishable from the ground or grass.

The Bail.

RULE 14. Section 1. The ball must weigh not less than five nor more than five and one-quarter ounces avoirdupois, and measure not less than nine nor more than nine and one-quarter inches in circamference. The Reach American League Ball, or the Spalding National League Ball must be used in all games played under these rules.

Section 2. Two regulation balls of the make adopted by the league of which the contesting clubs are members, shall be delivered by the home club to the umpire at or before the hour for the commencement of a championship game. If the ball placed in play be batted or thrown out of the grounds or into one of the stands for spectators, or in the judgment of the umpire becomes unfit for play from any cause, the umpire shall at once deliver the alternate ball to the pitcher and another legal ball shall be supplied to him so that he shall at all times have in his control one or more alternate balls. Provided, however, that all balls, batted or thrown out of the ground or into a stand shall, when returned to the field, be given into the custody of the umpire immediately, and become alternate balls and so long as he has in his possession two or more alternate balls he shall not call for a new ball to replace one that has gone out of play. The alternate balls shall become the ball in play in the order in which they were delivered to the umpire.

Section 3. Immediately upon the delivery to him of the alternate ball by the umpire, the pitcher shall take his position and on the call of "Play" by the umpire, it shall become the ball in play. Provided, however, that play shall not be resumed with the alternate ball, when a fair batted ball or a ball thrown by a fielder, goes out of the ground, or into a stand fo rspectators, until the baserunners have completed the circuit of the bases unless compelled to stop in compliance with a ground rule.

Discolored or Damaged Balls.

Section 4. In the event of a ball being intentionally discolored by rubbing it with the soil or otherwise by any player, or otherwise damaged by any player, the umpire shall forthwith demand the return of that ball and substitute for it another legal ball, as hereinbefore described, and impose a fine of $$ 5.00$ on the offending player.

Home Club to Provide Balls.

Section 5. In every game the balls played with shall be furnished by the home club, and the last in play shall become the property of the winning club. Each ball shall be enclosed in a paper box, which must be sealed with the seal of the President of the League and bear his certificate that he has examined, measured and weighed the ball contained therein and that it is of the required standard in all respects. The seal shall not be broken by the umpire except in the presence of the captains of the contesting teams after "Play" has been called.

Reserve Balls on Field.

Section 6. The home club shall have at least a dozen regulation balls on the field during each championship game, ready for use on the call of the umpire.

The Bat.

RULE 15. The bat must be round, not over two and three-fourths inches in diameter at the thickest part, nor more than 42 inches in length and entirely of hardwood, except that for a distance of 18 inches from the end, twine may be wound around or a granulated substance applied to the handle.

Number of Players in a Game.

RULE 16. The players of each club, actively engaged in a game at one time, shall be nine in number, one of whom shall act as captain: and in no case shall more or less than nine men be allowed to play on a side in a game.

Positions of the Players.

RULE 17. The players of the team not at bat may be stationed at any points of the field, on fair ground, their captain may elect, regardless of their respective positions, except that the pitcher. while in the act of delivering the ball to the bat, must take his position as defined in Rules 9 and 30; and the catcher must be within the lines of his position as defined in Rule 3 and within 10 feet of home base whenever the pitcher delivers the ball to the bat.

Must Not Mingle With Spectators.

RULE 18. Players in uniform shall not be permitted to occupy seats in the stands, or to mingle with the spectators.

Uniforms of Players.

RULE 19. Every club shall adopt two uniforms for its players, one to be worn in games at home, and the other in games abroad, and the suits of each of the uniforms of a team shall conform in color and style. No player who shall attach anything to the sole or heel of his shoe other than the ordinary base ball shoe plate, or who shall appear in a uniform not conforming to the suits of the other members of his team, shall be permitted to take part in a game.

Size and Weight of Gloves.

RULE 20. The catcher or first baseman may wear a glove or mitt of any size, shape or weight. Every other player is restricted to the use of a glove or mitt weighing not over 10 ounces and measuring not over 14 inches around the palm.

Players' Benches.

RULE 21. Section 1. Players' benches must be furnished by the home club and placed upon a portion of the ground not less than twenty-five (25) feet outside of the players' lines. One such bench shall be for the exclusive use of the visiting team and the other for the exclusive use of the home team. Each bench must be covered with a roof and closed at the back and each end; a space, however, not more than six (6) inches wide may be left under the roof for ventilation. Under no circumstances shall the umpire permit any person except the players and substitutes in uniform and the manager of the team entitled to its exclusive use to be seated on the bench.

Penalty for Violation.

Section 2. Whenever the umpire observes a violation of the preceding section, he shall immediately order such player or players as have disregarded it to be seated. If the order be not obeyed within one minute the offending player or players shall be fined $$ 5.00$ each by the umpire. If the order be not then obeyed within one minute, the offiending player or players shall be debarred from further participation in the game, and shall be obliged to forthwith leave the playing field.

A Regulation Game.

RULE 22. Every championship game must be commenced not later than two hours before sunset and shall continue until each team has had nine innings, provided, however, that the game shall terminate:

Section 1. If the side first at bat scores less runs in nine innings than the other side has scored in eight innings.

Section 2. If the side last at bat in the ninth inning scores the winning run before the third man is out.

Section 3. If the game be called by the umpire on account of darkness, rain, fire, panic, or for other cause which puts patrons or players in peril.

Extra-Inning Games.

RULE 23. If the score be a tie at the end of nine (9) innings for each team, play shall be continued until one side has scored more runs than the other in an equal number of innings, provided, that if the side last at bat score the winning run before the third man is out in any inning after the ninth, the game shall terminate.

Drawn Games.

RULE 24. A drawn game shall be declared by the umpire if the score is equal on the last even inning played when he terminates play in accordance with Rule 22, Section 3, after five or more equal innings have been played by each team. But if the side that went second to bat is at the bat when the game is terminated, and has scored the same number of runs as the other side, the umpire shall declare the game drawn without regard to the score of the last equal inning.

RULE 25. If the umpire calls a game in accordance with Rule 22, Section 3, at any time after five innings have been completed, the score shall be that of the last equal innings played, except that if the side second at the bat shall have scored in an unequal number of innings, or before the completion of the unfinished inning, at least one run more than the side first at bat, the score of the game shall be the total number of runs each team has made.

Forfeited Games.

Rule 26. A forfeited game shall be declared by the umpire in favor of the club not in fault, in the following cases:

Section 1. If the team of a club fail to appear upon the field, or being upon the field, refuse to begin a game for which it is scheduled or assigned, within five minutes after the umpire has called "Play" at the hour for the beginning of the game, unless such delay in appearing or in commencing the game be unavoidable.

Section 2. If, after the game has begun, one side refuse to continue to play, unless the game has been suspended or terminated by the umpire.

Section 3. If, after play has been suspended by the umpire one side fails to resume playing in one minute after the umpire has called "Play."

Section 9. If, when two games are scheduled to be played in one afternoon, the second game be not commenced within ten minutes of the time of the completion of the first game. The umpire of the first game shall be the timekeeper.

Section 10. In case the umpire declare the game forfeited, he shall transmit a written report thereof to the president of the League within twenty-four hours thereafter. However, a failure on the part of the umpire to so notify the president shall not affect the validity of his award of the game by forfeiture.

No Game.

RULE 27. "No game" shall be declared by the umpire if he terminates play in accordance with Rule 22, Section 3 , before five innings are completed by each team. Provided, however, that if the club second at bat shall have made more runs at the end of its fourth inning than the club first at bat has made in five completed innings of a game so terminated, the umpire shall award the game to the club having made the greater number of runs, and it shall count as a legal game in the championship record.

Substitutes.

RULE 28. Section 1. Each side shall be required to have present on the field during a championship game a sufficient number of substitute players in uniform, conforming to the suits worn by their team-mates, to carry out the provisions of this code which requires that not less than nine players shall occupy tine field in any inning of the game.

Section 2. Any such substitute may at any stage of the game take the place of a player whose name is in his team's batting order, but the player whom he succeeds shall not thereafter participate in that game.

to the spectators. A fine of $$ 5.00$ shall be assessed by the umpire against the captain for each violation of this rule, and the President of the League shall impose a similar fine against the umpire who, after having been notified of a change, fails to make proper announcement. Play shall be suspended while announcement is being made, and the player substituted shall become actively engaged in the game immediately upon his captain's notice of the change to the umpire.

Choice of Innings-Fitness of Field for Play.
RULE 29. The choice of innings shall be given to the captain of the home club, who shall be the sole judge of the fitness of the ground for beginning a game after a rain, but, after play has been called by the umpire, he alone shall be the judge as to the fitness of the ground for resuming play after the game has been suspended on account of rain, and when time is so called the groundkeeper and sufficient assistants shall be under the control of the umpire for the purpose of putting the ground in proper shape for play, under penalty of forfeiture of the game by the home team.

Section 2. The umpire shall call a ball on the pitcher each time he delays a game by failing to deliver the ball to the batsman for a longer period than 20 seconds, excepting that at the commencement of each inning, or when a pitcher relieves another, that pitcher may occupy one minute in delivering not to exceed five balls to the catcher or an infielder during which time play shall be suspended.

Section 3. In event of the pitcher being taken from his position by either manager or captain, the player substituted for him shall continue to pitch until the batsman then at bat has either been put out or has reached first base.

Block Balls.

RULE 37. Section 1. A block is a batted or thrown ball that is touched, stopped or handled by a person not engaged in the game.

Section 2. Whenever a block occurs the umpire shall declare it, and base-runners may run the bases without liability to be put out until the ball has been returned to and held by the pitcher in his position.

Section 3. If the person not engaged in the game should retain possession of a blocked ball, or throw or kick it beyond the reach of the fielders, the umpire shall call "Time" and require each base-runner to stop at the base last touched by him until the ball be returned to the pitcher in his position and the umpire shall have called "Play."

The triangular space back of the home base is reserved for the exclusive use of the umpire, catcher and batsman, and the umpire must prohibit any player of the side "at bat" from crossing the same at any time while the ball is in the hands of the pitcher or catcher, or passing between them while standing in their positions.

Fielder Has Right of Way.

But only the proper batsman shall be declared out, and no runs shall be scored or bases run because of any act of the improper batsman. Provided, this rule shall not be enforced unless the out be declared before the ball be delivered to the succeeding batsman. But in case a fielder be occupying a base-runner's proper path in attempting to field a batted ball, then the base-runner shall run out of direct line to the next base and behind said fielder and shall not be declared out for so doing.

Section 8. If he fail to avoid a fielder attempting to field a batted ball, in the manner described in Sections 6 and 7 of this rule, or in any way obstruct a fielder in attempting to field a batted ball, or intentionally interfere with a thrown ball. Provided, that if two or more fielders attempt to field a batted ball, and the base-runner come in contact with one or more of them, the umpire shall determine which fielder is entitled to the benefit of this rule, and shall not decide the base-runner out for coming in contact with a fielder other than the one the umpire determines to be entitled to field such batted ball.

Section 11. If, when the batsman becomes a base-runner, the first base, or the first and second bases, or the first, second and third bases be occupied, any base-runner so occupying a base shall cease to be entitled to hold it, and may be put out at the next base in the same manner as in running to first base, or by being touched with the ball in the hands of a fielder at any time before any base-runner following him in the batting order be put out, unless the umpire should decide the hit of the batsman to be an infield fly.

a fly ball is caught; (3) in case of a runner being caught between third and home, when more than one base is occupied, he shall make the decision on the runner nearest the home plate.

Section 4. The Umpire-in-chief alone shall have authority to declare a game forfeited.

RULE 62. Section 1. The Field Umpire shall take such positions on the field of play as in his judgment are best suited for the rendering of base decisions. He shall render all decisions at first base and second base, and all decisions at third base except those to be made by the Umpire-inchief in accordance with Rule 61, Section 3.

Section 2. He shall aid the Umpire-in-chief in every manner in enforcing the rules of the game and, with the exception of declaring a forfeiture, shall have equal authority with the Umpire-in-chief in fining or removing from the game players who violate these rules.
No Appeal from Decisions Based on Umpire's Judgment.
RULE 63. There shall be no appeal from any decision of either umpire on the ground that he was not correct in his conclusion as to whether a batted ball was fair or foul, a base-runner safe or out, a pitched ball a strike or a ball, or on any other play involving accuracy of judgment, and no decision rendered by him shall be reversed, except that he be convinced that it is in violation of one of these rules. In all cases where there are no spectators on the playing field, and where a thrown ball goes into a stand of spectators, or over or through any fence surrounding the playing field or into the players' bench (whether the ball rebounds into the field or not), the runner or runners shall be entitled to two bases. The umpire in awarding such bases shall be governed by the position of the runner or runners at the time the throw is made.

Section 4. Section 3. In the third column shall be placed the first base hits, if any, made by each player.

The Scoring of Base Hits.

Section 4. A base hit shall be scored in the following cases:

When the ball from the bat strikes the ground on or within the foul lines and out of the reach of the fielders.

When a fair hit ball is partially or wholly stopped by a fielder in motion, but such player cannot recover himself in time to field the ball to first before the striker reaches that base or to force out another base-runner.

When the ball be hit with such force to an infielder or pitcher that he cannot handle it in time to put out the batsman or force out a base-runner. In a case of doubt over this class of hits, a base hit should be scored and the fielder exempted from the charge of an error.

When the ball is hit so slowly toward a fielder that he cannot handle it in time to put out the batsman or force out a base-runner.

In cases where a base-runner is retired by being hit by a batted ball, unless batted by himself, the batsman should be credited with a base hit.

When a batted ball hits the person or clothing of the umpire, as defined in Rule 53, Section 6.

In no case shall a base-hit be scored when a base-runner is forced out by the play.

Section 5. Sacrifice hits shall be placed in the summary.
A sacrifice shall be credited to the batsman who, when no one is out or when one man is out advances a runner a base by a bunt hit, which results in the batsman being put out before reaching first or would so result if it were handled without an error.

A sacrifice hit shall also be credited to a batsman, who, when no one is out, or when but one man is out, hits a fly ball that is caught, but results in a run being scored, or would, in the judgment of the scorer so result if caught.

Fielding Records.

Section 6. The number of opponents, if any, put out by each player shall be set down in the fourth column. Where the batsman is given out by the umpire for a foul strike, or fails to bat in proper order, or is declared out on third bunt strike, the put-out shall be scored to the catcher. In cases of a base-runner being declared "out" for interference, running out of line, or on an infield fly, the "out" should be credited to the player who would have made the play but for the action of the base-runner or the announcement of the umpires.

Section 7. The number of times, if any, each player assists in putting out an opponent shall be set down in the fifth column. An assist should be given to each player who handles the ball in aiding in a run out or any other play of the kind, except the one who completes it.

An assist should be given to a player who makes a play in time to put a runner out, even if the player who could complete the play fail, through no fault of the assisting player.

And generally an assist should be given to each player who handles or assists in any manner in handling the ball from the time it leares the bat until it reaches the player who makes the put-out, or in case of a thrown ball, to each player who throws or handles it cleanly and in such a way that a put-out results, or would result if no error were made by a team-mate.

Assists should be credited to every player who handles the ball in the play which results in a base-runner being called "out" for interference or for running out of line.

A double play shall mean any two continuous put-outs that take place between the time the ball leaves the pitcher's hands until it is returned to him again standing in the pitcher's box.

Errors.

Section 8. An error shall be given in the sixth column for each misplay which prolongs the time at bat of the batsman or allows a base-runner to make one or more bases when perfect play would have insured his being put out. But a base on balls, a base awarded to a batsman by being struck by a pitched ball, a balk, a passed ball or wild pitch, shall not be included in the sixth column.

An error shall not be charged against the catcater for a wild throw in an attempt to prevent a stole.. Dase, unless the base-runner advance an extra base because of the error.

An error shall not be scored against the catcher or an infielder who attempts to complete a double play, unless the throw be so wild that an additional base be gained.

In case a base-runner advance a base through the failure of a baseman to stop or try to stop a ball accurately thrown to his base, the latter shall be charged with an error and not the player who made such throw, provided there was occasion for it. If such throw be made to second base, the scorer shall determine whether the second baseman or shortstop shall be charged with an error.

In the event of a fielder dropping a fly but recovering the ball in time to force a batter at another base, he shall be exempted from an error, the play being scored as a "force-out."

Stolen Bases.

Section 9. A stolen base shall be credited to the baserunner whenever he advances a base unaided by a base-hit, a put-out, a fielding or a battery error, subject to the following exceptions:

In event of a double or triple steal being attempted where either runner is thrown out, the other or others shall not be credited with a stolen base.

In event of a base-runner being touched out after sliding over a base, he shall not be regarded as having stolen the base in question.

In event of a base-runner making his start to steal a base prior to a battery error, he shall be credited with a stolen base.

In event of a palpable muff of a ball thrown by the catcher, when the base-runner is clearly blocked, the infielder making the muff shall be charged with an error and the base-runner shall not be credited with a stolen base.

Definition of Wild Pitch and Passed Ball.

Section 10. A wild pitch is a legally delivered ball, so high, low or wide of the plate that the catcher cannot or does not stop and control it with ordinary effort, and as a result the batsman, who becomes a base-runner on such pitched ball, reaches first base or a base-runner advances.

A passed ball is a legally delivered ball that the catcher should hold or control with ordinary effort, but his failure to do so enables the batsman, who becomes a base-runner on such pitched ball, to reach first base or a base-runner to advance.

HIT THE "BULL"

From the cry of "play ball" at the first game of the season of 1909, up to the last inning of the very last scheduled game of both the major and the "bush" leagues, there was one cry, besides that of "kill the umpire," that echoed throughout the country, and, unlike that murderous slogan, will continue to reverberate through every city and town that supports a league team whose park contains one of those masterpieces of the sign-painter's art which caused so much comment during the season just past.

This cry was brought about by the introduction of the now famous "Bull" signs into over one hundred and fifty ball parks scattered throughout the country. These "Bulls," as every fan knows, are cut-out reproductions of the "Bull" trade-mark of Blackwell's Durham Smoking Tobacco. The sign is a sample of the excellence, that has been attained in the art of outdoor advertising. The "Bull" sign stands twenty-six feet high and is over thirtyfive feet in length, and is a most lifelike representation of a lively bull. The artists, who paint these signs are the very best men that can be obtained in this country, and the results of their work are most gratifying.

But it was not a desire to undo the artists' work that incited the ball tossers and the fans to perpetually shout what has now become almost a baseball idiom,-"Hit the Bull." The glitter of gold was the incentive that kept the fans yelling, and urged the big-stickers to put an extra heave into the "willow" every time they stepped to the plate. Blackwell's Durham Tobacco Company offered a CASH PRIZE OF FIFTY DOLLARS to any player who hit the "Bull" sign with a fairly batted fly ball during a regular scheduled league game. In addition to this generous offer the company gave FIVE POUNDS OF BULL DURHAM SMOKING TOBACCO to every player who made a home run on the grounds where these cut-out "Bulls" were located. This offer still stands, and will continue to cause the big batsmen in the various leagues to make an extra heavy swing at the ball whenever the opportunity presents itself.

The "Bull" has been the topic of more live discussion in the baseball world than, perhaps, any other subject. The players themselves,-that is the lucky ones who have been able to hit the "Bull"-are loud in their praises of the sign, as a money-making proposition, as an artistic addition to the parks, and as an excellent advertisement.

The "Bull" has also proven itself a factor in the temperance cause in at least one instance. A prominent citizen of the National capital was on his way home one evening, after "going a few rounds" with Bacchus. His gait was abnormal, in keeping with his mental condition, and as he was passing the Washington ball park, there was a huge bull glaring ferociously at him over the fence. He did not wait to look into the matter, but hastily collected his befuddled wits, and hied for home. Within twenty-four hours he had taken a ticket for the water wagon, after stating that, "pink elephants and rainbowtinted snakes, and divers other animals, vari-colored and multi-formed, are on the 'D. T.'s' regular visiting list, but when a thirty-foot bull introduces himself, it's time to quit." And that man has lived up to his good resolutions to the present day.

This story could be followed up with many others, both humorous and pathetic, were it not for lack of space, owing to the demand for the "business" record of the "Bull," which may be found on the following pages.

The first man to deplete the treasury of the Tobacco Company was "Bob" Messenger, the heavy hitting outfielder of John O'Brien's Fall River team in the New England League. "Bob" christened the "Bull" at the Fall River park on May 17 th, and within a week he was presented with a check for fifty dollars. In writing of the incident he says: "Although I liked the looks of that fifty dollar prize for hitting the 'Bull,' I thought it was more or less of a fake advertising scheme, so you can imagine the way I felt when the umpire handed me that check on our next appearance at the home park. I tried my best all through the season to break another board in that 'Bull,' and although I came pretty close to it on several occasions, I could not succeed in repeating the feat. The 'Bull' is a great idea."

Three weeks had not elapsed when the Trenton "Bull" received its baptism of fire, and Curt Weigand of the Johnstown club officiated. Curt, although not of a demonstrative manner, was wildly jubilant over his "Bull" luck, as he aptly called it, and for many weeks he was "crowing" over his team mates, who vainly tried to emulate his feat. When the Johnstown team returned to the home grounds, Curt was there "with bells on,"'and so also was a check for fifty dollars, which brought joy unutterable to the heart of the Johnstown slugger.

Pete Lister, first baseman for Williamsport in the Tri-State League, was the next man to put a dent in the "Bull." The victim of his drive was the "Bull" at the Trenton, N. J., park. Says Pete: "You may talk about happy sensations, but the happiest that I ever experienced was on June 17th, '09, when I finally succeeded in landing on that 'Bull.' At the time I made that hit, there were men on second and third, and both of them scored on the drive. Of course the thoughts of winning the game were pretty good, but when on our next game on our home grounds, I was presented with a fifty dollar check, that old 'Bull' sure looked good to me. I also received ten pounds of 'Bull' Durham Tobacco for making two home runs on the Williamsport grounds."

On the following day, Wirt Cannell decided that he was not going to be out-batted by his team mate, Pete Lister, so when a favorable opportunity presented itself, he made an approved Casey wallop at the horsehide, and succeeded in disfiguring the 'Bull,' with a terrific line drive, which struck the unfortunate animal on the head. At the time that Wirt made his drive, there was a man on third and one on first and both scored on the hit, and the game was won for Williamsport. The fans were wildly jubilant over the success of Cannell and cheered him to the echo. But their joy was as nothing compared to the feeling of the Williamsport fans the following week, when the team came home, and at the opening of the first game of the series both Cannell and Pete Lister were presented with fifty dollar checks.

Tom Connery, the manager and first baseman of the Hartford team in the Connecticut League, was the lucky man on June 19, when he managed to "hand one" to the "Bull," which had taken up its abode on the grounds of the New Britain club. Tom had been hitting the ball pretty hard for a week or two, but there was no objective point at which he might direct his Herculean wallops, until the "Bull". came to the grounds of the New Britain club. "Ha, ha," quoth Tom, "here is where we have some fun." And on his first appearance at bat on the New Britain field, he leaned on the ball, which naturally the ball objected to, and as a relief from Tom's weight, it sped toward the outfield and brought up against the "Bull." A few days later, Tom was presented with his fifty dollar check, and he was so overcome by his good fortune that he was unable to reach the "Bull"'again during the season.

Eddie Havel, of the New Haven team, then thought it was "up to him" to become famous, so, on June 23, he "took a drive" at the New Britain "Bull," and when the smoke cleared away, Eddie was richer by fifty dollars, and his batting average was considerably fattened. Eddie was highly elated on account of his stick work and when he appeared at the New Haven grounds on the following week, he was presented with a segment of the Tobacco Company's "roll" that was good for fifty strips of legal tender. Eddie is now with the Springfield team, but he still has his weather eye on that New Britain "Bull."

Just to provide a little variety from his daily task of catching baseballs for the Hartford champions of the Connecticut League, catcher Arbogast went out on July 5, and caught one of the fifty dollar checks that were being sprinkled around to the "Bull" hitters throughout the country. Mr. Arbogast, in writing of the incident, says: "I was catching for Hartford against New Britain, at the New Britain Park. The score was 2-1 in their favor, and there were men on second and third when I came to bat. With one ball and two strikes called on me, I managed somehow to connect with the next ball, and when I was through running, I realized that I had hit the 'Bull.' Both men had scored on the hit, and the game was won for Hartford. I surely did feel pretty good over winning that game, and about that check-well, I got it about a week later, and then I didn't care whether I ever made a hit or not."

On July 22nd, Frank Hafford, third baseman on the Troy team, in the New York State League, accomplished the feat in a game against Binghamton. Here is Mr. Hafford's own story. "In the 8th inning, the Binghamton club had us 3-2, when we came to bat in the opening of the inning. The third ball pitched to me was a fast one, on the outside corner, about shoulder high. I swung and met it squarely, driving it in a low arch to the 'Bull' sign, which it struck four feet from the ground. The ball bounded, and just as I reached '2nd,' the right-fielder got it, and just missed nailing me at third. I scored a little later on an outfield hit. This made the score $4-3$ in our favor, which was the final score of the game. The money was presented to me about a week later, in Troy, in the presence of fully 5,000 fans. The umpire made a short speech, explaining the facts of the case, and to say that I was delighted would be putting it mildly. I only hope that the same thing will happen to me again."

On August 7th, Ray V. Perkins, the heavyhitting 3rd baseman of the Holyoke team in the Connecticut League, after numberless close attempts throughout the season finally landed on the "Bull," in the 9th inning of a game with Springfield. Mr. Perkins writes: "I had been hitting the ball for fairly long drives throughout the season, and more than once I thought that I had earned the $$ 50$. On one occasion I missed the "Bull's" head by about a foot, and when I finally did hit him, you may be sure that I was highly pleased. At the time I made the lucky drive, the score was tie, 5-5 in the 9 th inning. McLean was pitching for Springfield, and I had already registered two safe hits against him, so I felt pretty confident. When I came romping home with the winning run, I was carried from the field by the fans. A few weeks later I received a check for $$ 50$ from the Tobacco Company, and you can judge for yourself just how I felt."

Within a week the "Bull" was again "touched" for $$ 50$, this time by C. C. Carr, the Indianapolis 1st baseman. In regard to his experience, Mr. Carr writes as follows: "It was on the 10th of August, our first day in Kansas City during the season, and the 'Bull' was a very recent arrival at the park. Naturally, the offer made by the tobacco people was the main topic of conversation among the players and the cans. My lucky hit occurred in the 6th inning and Flaherty was the twirler for Kansas City. The score stood $6-1$ in our favor, and I was first man to bat. It so happened that the first ball pitched was a swift high one, on the outside of the plate, and I stepped out for it and met it squarely, driving it directly to the center of the 'Bull' sign. The fans nearly went mad, and all the players congratulated me on my success, and to add to all this was a check for $$ 50$, which was presented to me at our first home game."

On August 15 the Erie "Bull" was tendered its first and only bump of the season. The gentleman in charge of the affair was Frank J. Beatty, and he felt justly proud of the fact that he was the only, player to connect with the Erie "Bull." On that memorable day, McKeesport was lined up against Erie for the last series of the season at the Erie Park. When Beatty came to bat in the seventh inning, the score was tie, 4-4, and there were men on first and second base. The third ball pitched was picked out by Beatty as the one which should make him famous, and it went almost on a line to the "Bull" sign, which it hit and then bounded back. Both men on base scored on the hit but Frank was put out as he tried to get home. The game was won for McKeesport, and fifty dollars was won for Frank. He received the check the following week when his team appeared at the home grounds, and so overjoyed was he at his good fortune that he was unable to make another hit for over two weeks.

It was just one week later that the Kansas City "Bull" was the victim of another attack, the assailant on this occasion being "Pat" Flaherty, the Kansas City twirler. But "Pat" did not feel any way sorry because he had hit the long-suffering animal, as may be seen from his letter which follows: "Every time I came to bat, I could see a fifty dollar check hanging from that 'Bull,' daring me to come and get it, and you may be sure that I tried my hardest to separate the check from that animal, but I was not successful until the 17 th of August, when, on my first appearance at bat I drove the ball almost over the 'Bull,' but in answer to my prayers it dropped sufficiently to nail the old fellow on the back. Although the hit did not have any direct bearing on the result of the game, I was just as happy as if it had won for us. And when I received that check-well, my feelings can be imagined much better than I could write."

The "Bull" at Syracuse was punished on August 26, '09, by W. H. Keister, the redoubtable second sacker for Wilkesbarre, the New York State League champions. In writing of the incident, Mr. Keister says: "I hit the 'Bull' on the hind leg, about six feet from the ground, but was unaware of the fact until outfielder Goode congratulated me on my good fortune. 'You are one lucky dog to hit that "Bull"' was the way he put it. Well, you can imagine my feelings knowing that I was richer by $$ 50$, without doing any extra work for it. On September 11th we were playing on the home grounds, and the Troy team was our victim. In the 6 th inning I hit a high fly directly at the 'Bull,' but 'Jack' Fox of the New Yorkers was there, and made a sensational one-hand catch right off the 'Bull's' foreleg. I felt pretty sore at him for robbing me of that fifty, but I guess that I got all that was coming to me."

The long season for the "Bull" was then almost closed as but one more man managed to get one of those fifty dollar checks. This finished up the list of "Bull" hitters who took from the Tobacco Company a grand total of $$ 700$. The story of "Bill" Donahue, the last of the "Bull" hitters of 1909, may be found on the next page.

The last man to score on the "Bull" was Wm. Donahue, who made his lucky drive on the thirtieth day of August, the "Bull" at the Wheeling, W. Va., ground being the victim of his hit. Will is an outfielder of the old school, whose long drives are a byword in Wheeling, on whose team he holds down the left garden, and when he finally landed on the "Bull," the fans were not at all surprised, as they had been expecting just such a thing from Bill throughout the season. But when, on the following week, the umpire presented the aforesaid Bill with fifty bills, the fans were really taken off their feet. and loud and long were their praises of the old "Bull."

In addition to these fourteen men who received fifty dollar checks for hitting the "Bull," there was a huge quantity of "Bull" Durham tobacco gratuitously distributed to ball-players who made home runs on the "Bull" parks. There were 487 mighty wallops made during the season of 1909, which netted the "men behind" 2,435 pounds of "Bull" Durham Tobacco.

The players all speak most highly of the fragrancy and absence of injurious after effects of this popular brand of the "seductive weed," and many of them have become addicted to the exclusive use of "Bull" Durham Tobacco in preference to any other.
