SETTLEMENT OF RAILWAY STRIKE

SUCCESSFUL OUTCOME OF NEGOTIATIONS

Joint Committee to Investigate Working of Conciliation Agreement

London, Aug. 21.—A great wave of relief went over the country Saturday night, when shortly after 11 o'clock, the announcement was made from the board of trade offices that the railway strike had been settled and that the men would return to work immediately.

Most of the credit for the ultimate success of the efforts toward peace appears to rest with David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, who worked for conciliation when all others of the interested parties seemed to have given it up.

A joint committee of five members, composed of two representatives of the railway companies, two of the men, and a non-partisan chairman, will be appointed on Tuesday to investigate the workings of the conciliation agreement of 1907, which the men claim is the root of all their grievances. This device overcomes the men's objections to a royal commission, which they contend always had been the practice as an excuse for delay.

So far as technical advantage in the compromise goes, it appears to be in the men's favor, particularly as the managers consent to meet their representatives. The official statement concerning the agreement says the managers consented to this scheme, in view of certain representations made by the government, including a promise of legislation to permit of an increase in railway rates. The men claim a victory for unionism on the point of recognition of unions, which was one of the most vital principles at stake.

Messages were sent to more than a hundred branches of labor unions, saying: "The joint commission has settled the strike. It is a victory for trades unionism. All men must return to work immediately."

As a result of the settlement troops will be withdrawn as fast as arrangements for their transportation can be made.

At the conclusion of the conference between Lloyd George and the executive of the men's societies, the following statement was issued:

"Acting on representations made to the railway companies by the government, they empowered G. H. Clouston, a director of the London North-western railway, and Sir Guy Granet, general manager of the Midland railway, to confer on their behalf with the representatives selected by the executives of the trade unions and railway employers with a view to discussing with them the suggested terms of settlement drafted by the board of trade.

"Mr. Clouston stated that upon certain representations by the government, he and Sir Guy had the authority of the railway companies to meet the representatives of the men with a view of discussing the terms of an agreement. The terms had been discussed and agreed to. Mr. Clouston and Sir Guy Granet stated that the recommendations of the commission would be loyally accepted by the railway companies, even though they were adverse to the companies' contentions, and should the settlement be effected, any traces of ill-feeling which might have arisen certainly would be effaced.

"The terms of the agreement follow: 1. The strike to be terminated forthwith and the men's leaders to use their best endeavors to induce the men to return to work at once.

"2. All the men involved in the present dispute, either by strike or lock-out, including casuals who present themselves for work within a reasonable time, to be reinstated by the companies, at the earliest possible moment, and no one to be subjected to proceedings for breach of contract, or otherwise penalized.

"3. Conciliation boards to be convened for the purpose of settling forthwith all questions at present in dispute, as far as they are within the scope of such boards, provided notice of such questions be given not later than fourteen days from the date of this agreement. If the sectional boards fail to arrive at a settlement the central board is to meet at once. Any decisions arrived at are to be retroactive, as from the date of this agreement. It is agreed for the purpose of this, and the following clause that rates of wages include remuneration whether by time or piece work.

"4. Steps are to be taken forthwith to effect a settlement of questions now in dispute between the companies and classes of their employees not included within the conciliation scheme of 1907, by means of conferences between representatives of the companies and representatives of the employees, who, themselves, are employed by the same companies, and failing an agreement by arbitration, they are to be arbitrated mutually or by the board of trade. The above is to be a temporary arrangement, pending a report of the commission as to the best means of settling disputes.

"5. Both parties are to give every assistance to the special commission of inquiry, the immediate appointment of which the government has announced.

"6. Any questions which may arise as to the interpretation of this agreement are to be referred to the board of trade.

"The agreement was signed by all present at the conference. The special commission will consist of five members, including representatives of the companies and workmen in equal number, and an impartial chairman. The names of the commission will be announced next Tuesday, and the commission will proceed immediately with the inquiry.

Assurances have been given by both parties to the agreement that they ac-

THINKING THEMES

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

The pen is mightier than the sword, but the axe and the foot-rule are mightier still.

The final decision of all issues, social, educational, commercial and religious, rests with the working class. Universities grind out their theories, parliaments make laws, courts hand down decisions, churches establish creeds, philosophers form their systems, and poets utter their visions, but the slow old world never knows whether they are true or false until the bricklayer and the plumber get through with them. Theories, laws, court-decisions, creeds, philosophic systems, and poems must all pass in between the hammer and the anvil.

Nature is all facts. She has no laws save those she awakens in the thinker. There is no theory of Life: Life is just one thing after another, as the saying goes. The sun has no particular message save what we may draw from its habit of getting up in the morning and attending to business; also going to bed when its day's work is done.

In proportion as we translate this element of Nature into our lives, we become sane and healthy, and have inward peace. Nature's gospel is—Do! Out of Doing arises wisdom and joy.

That which saves the world is work. It is not the army nor the policeman; it is not courts and jails that prevent universal riot and rebellion and crime; it is the fact that most people have to hustle to make a living. If the entire population of the nation were suddenly endowed and had to work no more, the last house would be blown up or burned down inside of a month.

The findings of the commission and the government has assured the railway companies that it will propose to parliament at the next session legislation providing that an increase in the cost of labor, due to improvement of conditions of the railways will be valid justification for a reasonable increase in charges within the legal maximum.

THE PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

Mr. Borden: Now that we are starting out on the election campaign, we must decide upon what we are to say to the electors. No doubt we must begin with reciprocity.

Mr. Bourassa: Forget it!

Mr. Borden: Just so. Well, then, we might begin by reminding our friends of the records of our glorious leaders of other days, of Sir John Macdonald.

All: Forget it!

Mr. Borden: Of Sir Charles Tupper.

All: Forget it!

Mr. Borden: Of Sir John Thompson.

All: Forget it!

Mr. Borden: I see. Then we must dwell upon the policy under which our manufacturers have grown strong.

Mr. Haultain: Forget it!

Mr. Borden: Under which our makers of agricultural implements—

Mr. Rogers: Forget it!

Mr. Borden: Then shall we say that among our opponents are men of the most desperate?

Mr. Sifton: Forget it!

Mr. Borden: Really, gentlemen, it is very difficult. Then let us say we are most devoted to our Mother Country and ready at her call.

Mr. Monk: Forget it!

Mr. Borden: Of course. How could I have forgotten? Well, then, there is the danger to our institutions, threatened by our powerful neighbor—

Mr. Monk: Forget it!

Mr. Ames: At this rate we shall not get on. We must keep the manufacturer from being set upon by those ravenous farmers.

Mr. Borden: Forget it!

Mr. Borden: At least I hope we shall all pull together. Can I then personally count upon the assurance of your cordial support for my humble endeavors?

Mr. Foster: Forget it!

Mr. Northrup: Forget it!

Mr. Borden: Forget it!

Mr. Bourassa: Please forget it!

Mr. Rogers: Oh, how could you doubt it?

Mr. McBride: You're perfectly lovely!

Mr. Borden: Very well, then, we must just be content.

Mr. Borden: Down with Laurier!

Mr. Borden: Precisely the observation I had intended to offer for your considerate approval. Then we are perfectly in harmony and we must win.

The People: Forget it! — Montreal Herald.

FOUND DEAD.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 21.—Capt. Frank T. Thornton, commanding 3rd company, United States Coast Artillery, was found dead in his quarters at Fort Worden, on Saturday. Death had apparently been due to an overdose of bromidia. On a dresser in his room was found a partly emptied bottle of the drug, which officers say Thornton had used to check an attack of seasickness.

Captain Thornton was under arrest in his quarters at the time of his death, for some alleged infraction of military discipline. When he failed to appear for breakfast Saturday morning, his quarters were searched and the body was found.

Captain Thornton, who was only recently promoted to a captaincy, was transferred here from the Presidio, San Francisco, six months ago. He was born in Indiana 33 years ago and saw service in the Philippines.

Vancouver, Aug. 21.—The body of Mrs. Mary Hill King, of 1822 Fourth street, was found at Kitsilano beach floating in the water near the shore.

Mrs. King had been in the habit of going to the bay for a dip nearly every morning and was a good swimmer. It is believed that she took cramps while some distance out from the shore and was unable to return. Coroners Jeffs was notified and will make an investigation. The deceased was a widow and lived with her son at the above address.

the Colonist has opposed this on the ground that the result would be the raising of the wages of Chinese. It means that if the wages of Chinese are raised to the same level as the wages of white men there will be no longer any excuse for people to employ them in preference to white servants.

BARNARD AND THE NAVY.

The Colonist, not being on trial, has washed its hands of the defence of Mr. Borden and Mr. Barnard on the navy question and is off on a tangent of its own. The situation is peculiar, as the Colonist is not a candidate for parliamentary honors and is therefore not open to much attention.

THINKING THEMES.

Yesterday our morning contemporary dignified itself by informing the public that it does its own thinking. We have never doubted this, though we have tried hard at times to do so.

Yesterday the Colonist homilized its readers on the Chinese question, which for some reason, quite apparent to everyone, it is endeavoring to project into the arena of political discussion.

"The influx of Hindus and Japanese into Canada has fallen to a very low ebb. During three years only 1,457 Japanese have entered the country, which is less than 500 a year.

That these plans will involve the construction of a breakwater on Brothie ledge has been known from the beginning; that such a scheme must involve the expenditure of a vast sum of money has also been understood, but it may be questioned if yet the people of Victoria realize what the consummation of such an undertaking will mean to the city.

Such a gigantic enterprise must, in the nature of things, require some years for its completion, and it is because of this that an early commencement upon the preliminary stages of the work has been announced, but it is to the future fruitfulness in the prosperity of Victoria that we think the attention of the public should be directed.

The Rlordan Paper Company of Quebec stands to gain $90,000 per annum in trade with the United States should reciprocity carry. The manager of the company recently wrote a letter to the government stating this.

Another forlorn hope of the Tory standpaters "busted." We were told that if the government had only had patience all the benefits of reciprocity (something of an admission) would have been achieved by Congress making a general reduction in the tariff.

HAS TRAPPED WORLD FOR FOURTEEN YEARS

Louis Rath, St. Louis News-boy, Now in Victoria, Has Traversed 400,000 Miles

Fourteen years ago Julius Rath, a newsboy of St. Louis, started out to walk 500,000 miles. Equipped with a suit of overall material, hat, pair of shoes, and a small leather pouch, he undertook to visit every city of importance on the globe and to return in 18 years with $1,000 in cash and a dog.

He was then a lad of 14. To-day as a young man of 28 he walked into the Times office and a queer-looking customer one could hardly wish to see.

He has still four years to complete the half-million miles and has covered something over 475,000 miles to date, being two years ahead of his schedule.

His work is not aimless. Every day he forwards to the department of education at Washington, D. C., a detailed account of his travels and impressions.

Rath was selected by the St. Louis club out of 100 newsboys for the undertaking, which he has so well under way. His only method of paying expenses and accumulating the $1,000 required at the completion of his contract is by lecturing and selling papers and photos of himself.

His fifth dog is now following him. It is a half wolf and half husky, a present from a little Eskimo boy at Nome, Alaska. Rath has worn out 434 pairs of shoes and is contemplating selling his present pair.

While crossing the water Rath is compelled to walk 12 hours every day around the deck, carrying his sixty pounds of paraphernalia.

Rath has had hair-breadth escapes from robbers in Mexico and from lions, tigers and snakes in European and Asiatic climes. He was captured by slave-dealers in Morocco and held up repeatedly by red-tape officials in Russia and Turkey.

Seven years ago, when he came through Canada last there was a boundless prairie where now there are thriving towns, and he says that the development and up-building of the western part of this country is the greatest wonder he has seen in all his travels.

He came over from Vancouver today and will remain in Victoria until to-morrow night, when he will leave for Seattle. To-night and to-morrow he will sell the Times on the street corners and to-morrow night will lecture in the Majestic theatre on his travels.

CRICKET

HEADQUARTERS, ROOM 207, TIMES BLOCK.

The opening gun of the tournament has boomed. On the four grounds daily cricketers will be dispersing themselves to their own enjoyment and the entertainment of visitors. Never before has public interest been so general nor competition among the players so keen. Arrangements have been made possible, by the Hon. Mr. Templeman's liberality, for headquarters at room 207 Times Building. A free telephone is there installed, making it a general cricketering bureau of information during the week. Scorebooks must be left here after the games and called for the following morning. Records of the standing of the clubs and the averages will be here recorded. The local papers will be on file, also a copy of the M. C. C. Laws of Cricket for 1911. All are welcome. The rooms will be open from 8.30 a. m. to 11 p. m.

To-night the smoker in honor of the visiting teams will be held at the Work Point barracks at 8.30 p. m. Take the Equilmait car. No special invitation or cards of admission necessary. This auspicious occasion is for the purpose of welcoming our visitors with the hand of good-fellowship while the muses regale the senses of taste, sight and hearing. No flowers is requested. If you wish your electric broom leave a call for one with your chiffonier at the guard house.

RESULTS OF SATURDAY'S GAMES.
Seattle C. C. 211 vs. Albion C. C. 142 for 4 wickets.
United Service 54 vs. Victoria C. C. 187 for 6 wickets.

UMPIRES FOR TUESDAY.
Jubilee Hospital grounds, Messrs. Cooper and Donaldson.
Beacon Hill grounds, Messrs. Warden and Hallam.
Canteen grounds, Messrs. Knoeshaw and Boyson.
Work Point grounds, Messrs. Self and Irwin.
Umpires are very much in demand, as these gentlemen cannot stand every day in the week. Volunteers can leave their names at headquarters any time between 8.30 a. m. and 11 p. m.
The Fifth Regiment band has been secured for the afternoon of the final game on the Victoria Cricket Club grounds, Saturday, August 26.

VICTORIA C. C. VS. UNITED SERVICE.

Although showers were frequent they did not dampen the ardor of a surprisingly large attendance nor detract from the charm of the afternoon tea. Moreover, the moisture made the pitch a batsman's wicket and greatly aided to the fieldman's ability to judge ground ball. This result all seemed possible to one accustomed to turf pitches, but is nevertheless a fact. As was predicted, United Service took the bat, and from the result, with the exception of Lt. Halifax 16 and Q. M. E. Roberson 10, possibly the less said the better. Only three boundary hits were made by the side. L. York bowled extremely well, even better than his analysis shows; the same may be said of Gallier, who seems to have gotten his length and control of the ball. Gallier disposed of the last three batsmen by clean bowling them on successive balls.

Partly on account of the condition of the ball, the United Service bowling department was decidedly off color. 187 for 6 wickets with the two Yorks and A. Martin to bat does not look dangerous. Interest generally was centred around the big hitters, S. Gillespie and Rev. Collison. S. Gillespie combines a good defence with his hitting abilities, which makes a consistent scorer instead of an unreliable bat. Collison is a powerful punisher. When he lands on one you feel like jumping to your feet and exclaiming "look! look! look!" These two batsmen monopolized the six hits—C. Coates 34 and J. H. Gillespie 22 not out were next highest scorers. A study of the bowling analysis reveals, among other subtle points, that only two maidens were bowled out of 52. The score:

great game this year, and the condition of this game leaves the outcome very much in doubt, though from appearances Albion should have won handily. This prelude leads up to the likelihood of Seattle being the winners of Division A. Those who have played in Seattle know what an advantage Seattle will have—through practice—in playing on Victoria pitches. To-day and all through the week valuable reinforcements for their side will arrive. They have a decided variety of better than the average bowling, with Waddell a good wicket keep, and who, by looking over their full batting strength, can question their ability. But to the game.

McKillop scored one off the first ball. Laurence played four others, but was bowled on the last ball of the over. Churchley and McKillop, by patient batting, raised the total to 37 for 2. Nicholson continued the wearing down process, but at the same time scoring by singles constantly. McKillop lined matters with a beautiful six by the club house. The third wicket fell for 75. The fifth showed 125-5-15. McKillop did the bulk of the scoring, and when finally taken by Trimen the score board read 202-8-113. Only one chance did he give in the forties. His innings was painstaking, including only 6 fours and 2 sixes. E. Parson took 8 wickets for 59 runs, which is an excellent demonstration against such a side.

Albion followed the example set in regard to the first wicket, which produced only 2 runs. With the advent of Trimen, H. A. Ismay found a worthy associate, they two compiling 95 runs before Trimen succumbed to McKillop for a lurry up 40 without a chance. In fact when H. A. Ismay was caught on a long shot for 66, Albion had added 142 runs in 75 minutes. This is the kind of cricket worth watching, and wherever this team plays spectators can be assured of a display worth seeing. With good reason they believe the calculations of the know-alls are destined to serious reverses on their account. The score:

ALBION 2ND XI. VS. STRAWBERRY VALE.

At Burnside road cricket field, under the same difficulties, the teams experienced in regard to the weather, the home team defeated the visitors by 45 runs. Strawberry Vale made a poor start, losing the first wicket for 2 runs, bringing in C. Schwengers, who gave an excellent display of batting for 37, not out. McNamara aided materially in bringing the total to 94.

For Albion, Spain and Ashby made 35 of the sides 49 and again the efficacy of job bowling was demonstrated by K. Thomas. The fielding of Strawberry Vale supported the bowling in first class style. Shepperson and Vickery in particular distinguishing themselves. The score:

APPOINT DELEGATES.

South Saanich Conservatives Who Will Go to Duncan Convention.
On Saturday evening South Saanich Conservatives held a meeting at Royal Oak to elect delegates to attend their convention at Duncan on Wednesday.

Reeve Nicholson presided, and amongst the speakers who addressed the meeting was Hon. Mr. Eberts, who harped on the string that the United States, having depleted their own natural resources, were now artfully seeking, by the bait of reciprocity, to secure the exploitation of the natural resources of Canada. He said that Sir Wilfrid Laurier, when he came into power, continued the national policy brought in by Sir John A. Macdonald, who had strenuously advocated reciprocity.

Hon. Mr. Eberts stated that, in his opinion, the reciprocity pact was unwise, as he considered it dangerous from the national point of view, and he did not think it would benefit Canadians. The people of the United States could buy what they wanted from Canada without reciprocity, which he considered ridiculous. Other speakers who addressed the meeting were Mr. Freeman, of Colquitz, who thought reciprocity would unsettle business and lead to the absorption of the country; and H. Dunn, who seriously questioned the Imperialism of the Dominion premier, because he "seemed to fear Hourassa."

tions pending a reference of the difficulty to the union executives. Great numbers of guards, engineers, firemen and signalmen returned to work at Manchester but the porters, carters and freight handlers remained out. Additional troops were sent to Manchester to assist in relieving the congestion of freight at the railway stations. Of the 100,000 strikers at Liverpool, more than one-third reported for work early to-day and the number increased hourly.

No Promotion Shares

No Delay

British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., has its own building department and does not ask you to make payments for one, two or three years before building your house for you, but on agreement as to plans will commence work immediately.

Where Profits are Derived

The profits of the Company will be derived from building its own houses, dealing in real estate, paying cash for everything, insurance on all houses it builds, buying for cash, and selling on easy payments, and the interest on deferred payments.

Is It Safe?

A company that pays cash for everything and enters into no heavy obligations cannot be anything but safe. Your money will be used in building houses after they are sold, and a cash payment of 10 per cent has been received, when a first mortgage will be taken on the house and lot. Home builders will not hypothecate or otherwise encumber its contracts of sale thus retaining absolute control over its assets.

How to Purchase Shares

Shares of British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., fully paid and non-assessable, may be purchased at $1 per share cash, or on easy payments, 10 per cent cash and 5 per cent monthly. For example, $10 cash and $5 monthly purchases 100 shares.

Plan of Operation

Anyone familiar with conditions in Victoria must admit that there is a wonderful field for a home building company run on a strictly cash basis, and British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., with an authorized capital of $500,000, has been organized to reap the benefit of the opportunity offered and at the same time help in building up the city.

British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., plan of operation is based upon the sound principle of no dangerous speculation and no costly debts. It sells its capital stock at steadily advancing prices based upon surplus earnings and profits, and utilizes the money received therefrom in building homes for its customers, which it sells either for cash, or on the easy payment plan.

In case of customer owning lot, and wishing to build, British Canadian Home Builders, Ltd., will build on payment down of 10 per cent of the cash value of the house, and one per cent per month. For example, party wishing a $2,000 house built, would be required to pay down $200 cash, and $20 per month, this includes interest at 7 per cent. Arrangements can also be made where the lot is only partly paid for.

J. B. A. A. SPORTS RUN OFF SUCCESSFULLY

Despite a Heavy Track Some of the Races Were Very Exciting

Despite the unpropitious weather conditions the James Bay Athletic Association's track and field meet at Oak Bay on Saturday was a success.

The feature of the events was the relay race between J. B. A. A. and Oak Bay teams. Dickson, Oak Bay, and Gallon, J. B. A. A., finished the third quarter of the race in a dead heat.

In the bicycle races G. W. Griffin, practically an unknown entry, furnished a sensation by beating Tommy Peden in both the 1 and 3 miles with little trouble.

John P. Sweeney showed that his days as a runner are by no means over or even of the wane by winning the mile and half mile events easily.

The field events were, in a large measure, spoiled by the mucky condition of the turf.

At the conclusion of the sports Aid. W. F. Fullerton awarded the prizes, accompanying each presentation with a few suitable remarks.

The officials were: Starter, Leonard Tait; Judges, George Okell, F. W. Thomas, P. Austin and H. Dallas Helmer; K. C.; clerks of the course, A. Jeffa and E. Harrison; stewards, C. E. Straker, C. Brown and R. Hiscock; timekeepers, W. Wilkerson, H. E. Beasley and W. Short; recorder of winners,

A. J. Brace, of the Y. M. C. A., and Secretary Harry Skuce. The results of the races follow: 100 yards, Junior—E. McCallum, unattached; 2, W. Ross, J. B. A. A. Time, 19.45.

100 yards, senior—Hal Beasley, J. B. A. A.; 2, T. Gallon, J. B. A. A. Time, 30.01. One mile, Junior—Percy Beasley, J. B. A. A.; 2, W. Ross, J. B. A. A. Time, 8.22.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

"Let us not care too much for what happens. Let us not leave our peace of mind at the mercy of events."
Charles G. Ames.
How many slaves would be set free if all men could adopt that suggestion! Slaves to unhappiness, I mean. The only man who can be sure of happiness is he who has something of that spirit.
The wealthiest, the most fortunate of mankind without it, is in constant danger of black despair.
The poorest, the least apparently blessed of men, can always be cheerful if he has learned that lesson.
A little friend of mine came up on my verandah the other morning to tell me what a beautiful time she was going to have that afternoon. Some friends of hers had invited her to ride horseback with them. She is passionately fond of riding, but seldom has an opportunity to indulge her fondness.
That afternoon I was surprised to see her setting forth on foot and called out to ask what the matter was.
She came up on my verandah all smiles and explained that one of the horses had gone lame and the ride had to be given up.
"You are very cheerful about it," I said.
"Oh, yes," said she, "we are going to take a long walk and come back on the trolley by moonlight and it is such a beautiful day I know I shall have a fine time."
"But that isn't riding and you love to ride so."
"Well, I'll tell you, Miss Cameron," she answered, more soberly, "what I always say to myself when I do happen like this, I say, 'If I can't have what I want, I'll want what I can have,' and I try to do it, too, and you don't know how it helps."
Of course, I don't know what that girl's life will be; whether it is destined to be full of heart's desires fulfilled or of longings thwarted, but I do know one thing, and that is that she will always be a blessing to herself and those about her because she will always be happy.
Not to "care too much for what happens"; not to "leave our peace of mind at the mercy of events."
To learn to say, "If I cannot have what I want I'll want what I can have."
If we cannot realize our ideal to try to idealize our real.
Surely all these are signboards on the footpath to happiness and serenity.
No, none of them are the easiest things in the world to accomplish. In fact, they are some of the hardest.
But tell me this. Did ever the "easiest way" lead to the Journey's End of Peace and Happiness?
Ruth Cameron

PINK AND WHITE ROBE.
What could be daintier for a young girl than a frock of white dotted swiss with embroidered designs in pink? Above model shows the way of construction with the girle and rosette of pink satin ribbon. These daintily embroidered robe frocks come in all the pretty light colors and are surprisingly reasonable in price.

PASSING SHOW
Princess Theatre.
The fourth week of the Williams Stock Company's engagement opens in the Princess theatre this evening, when "King's Evidence" will be presented. This is a sterling comedy-drama and in the hands of the capable members of Mr. Williams' company should be given a pleasing interpretation. The scenic and other accessories of the play are all new.
Majestic Theatre.
"Proving His Love" is one of the big features on the Monday-Tuesday bill at the Majestic. A famous young actress puts her admirer's love to a test; all but one withdraw, but he proves a loyal to his truth. "Captain Nell" is an Edison film, telling a story in an interesting way how a Salvation Army lassie saves a wayward young man, marries him and eventually makes a man of him. "There is a Woman in Town" is a comedy extremely well acted. The heroine makes the cow-boys crazy. The things they buy and what they do are sufficient to supply ten minutes of amusement. "A Hippopotamus Hunt" is a short film, but interesting while it lasts. It reproduces a hippopotamus hunt, showing exactly what the hunters do. "The Delayed Proposal" is a biograph, showing the compelling power of love. "Bearded Youth" is a great big comedy novelty.
Empress Theatre.
The Sullivan and Considine five-act vaudeville bill to open at the Empress theatre to-day is headed by the famous Russell and Smith minstrel combination in a tabloid minstrel show. There are five performers who have been with Field's, Primrose's, Leonard's, Coban & Harris', or other famous minstrel shows. The men are Fred Russell, Joe MacCee, Harry W. Smith, George Martin and William McKenna. The act is staged with special scenery on the real minstrel plan.
Lew and Lilian Orth, in an Egyptian satire; Franz Meisel, the Austrian violinist; Mabel Howard and her two dancing boys; and those celebrated hand-balancers, Welda and Serano, are the other performers.

FARMERS TALK BACK AT MANUFACTURERS

Fall Orders Contingent on Passing of Reciprocity Pact

An interesting feature of the political situation is the news which comes from industrial centres that the manufacturers are being told that their future prosperity depends on the ratification of the reciprocity agreement. It is said by commercial travellers who have been west, and are now in the west, that the farmers are telling the country storekeepers that they will not make their fall purchases, save such as are absolutely necessary, until after the elections. They promise that if the Liberals are sustained and reciprocity is ratified they will spend more money than before, because they will have more money to spend, and they also intimate that if reciprocity is not ratified they will get along as best they can without things which they would otherwise purchase. This message is being passed along by the storekeepers to the commercial travellers, and to the wholesalers, and they in turn are sending it on to the manufacturers.

Indeed, it can be asserted without fear of contradiction that many Ontario and Quebec manufacturers and some in Nova Scotia, have received orders which are conditional upon a Liberal victory. If the manufacturers care to take the orders on this condition for delivery after September 21, they can go ahead with them, otherwise they can do the other thing. It is a sort of endless chain from the western farmer to the manufacturer, which may have important effect before polling day.

The western man knows that his welfare is bound up with that of the east, but he also knows that the east needs his money, and he intends to drive the lesson home. And it may be added that this movement is not confined to the west. There are scores, if not hundreds, of farmers in Ontario and elsewhere, who are looking to the result of the elections before they decide what they will purchase for the winter, and they do not hesitate to tell the country storekeepers so.

One well-known commercial traveller for a Montreal house who was here this week stated that he had been through Ontario from Sarnia to Brockville, and though he himself was a Conservative, he had been compelled to report to his house that the farmers of Ontario were never so united in anything as they are in their desire to have reciprocity, and they too are using this endless chain of so notifying the manufacturers.—Ottawa dispatch in Toronto Globe.

MANUFACTURER AND RECIPROCIDITY

Conservative Secundo Nomination of Liberal Candidate.

Mr. James Maxwell, St. Mary's, president and general manager of David Maxwell & Sons, manufacturers of agricultural implements, is one of many manufacturers who are not afraid of the reciprocity pact. He declares that the improvement of conditions for the farmers of Canada will mean larger markets for his products, and better times for all concerned. He unequivocally stated his position at the Liberal convention at Mitchell, when he seconded the nomination of Mr. Gilbert H. McIntyre.

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I rise to second the nomination of Mr. McIntyre," he stated. "I have known him for many years, and I cannot say too much concerning the many brilliant traits of Mr. McIntyre."

"It is time now that all the manufacturers of this country who are in favor of this agreement should come forward and state the facts. There is only one question before the people of Canada—that of reciprocity. There is a great difference of opinion on this subject, even among the manufacturers, in spite of the fact that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association have placed themselves on record against it. I consider that the agricultural interests are the basic industry of this country. On top of this foundation rests the fabric of all business. Anything that benefits the farmers of the country benefits all. In this agreement great benefit has been or will be bestowed on the farmers, while at the same time the interests of the manufacturers have been scarcely touched. It is a matter of the smallest extent, and I cannot see how any manufacturer can oppose it. I am strongly in favor of it, and as such it affords me the greatest pleasure to second the nomination of Mr. G. H. McIntyre."

FISH AND THE FLAG.

Reciprocity Will Remove Disability of Canadian Shippers.

There is another aspect of the present trade relations with the United States in fish, and that is the effect of the American duty on fish caught by Canadian fishermen and taken to American ports in Canadian vessels. Canadian fishing vessels and Canadian fishermen are transferred to the American flag. Mr. Carvell, M.P. for Carleton, put the matter very clearly in a speech recently delivered in the House of Commons:

"I refer to the sardine fishery in the county of Charlotte. I am told, and I am satisfied from my own research that it is a fact, that there are about $25,000 worth of small herring caught in the waters of the county of Charlotte alone and exported to the neighboring county in the state of Maine to be manufactured into sardines. Under the general United States tariff there is a duty of three-quarters of a cent per pound on fresh fish, but in some way, by means of their tariff regulations, this particular kind of fresh fish are allowed to go into the United States free of duty provided they go in an American vessel commanded by an American master. In that way they go in as American fish. As a matter of fact, the Canadian fisherman catches the fish, puts them in hogheads, and then they are transferred from his vessel to an American vessel commanded by an American skipper, in which they are taken to the packing establishment, distant not more than three or four hours' sail. The result has been that hundreds of our vessels have been transferred from the Canadian register to the United States register, and hundreds of our citizens, who are the owners and managers of these vessels, have been compelled to become United States citizens, and in fact, to reside in the United States before being allowed to man these small vessels in which the fish is carried away. If this arrangement goes into effect the result will be practically this: Our fisherman will be able to catch his fish, as he has always done; he will register his vessel in a Canadian port, so that it will again become a Canadian vessel; he comes back and becomes naturalized as a British subject; he is able to live at home; he increases our population, and he can carry on a legitimate business, catching these fish with his own labor and that of his sons, and taking them to the United States and getting the same price that he gets to-day.

NEW AVIATION RECORD.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—W. G. Beatty, in a Wright biplane, beat the world's record for duration while carrying a passenger at the international aviation meet here Saturday. Beatty and his passenger were in the air at the opening gun at 2.30 o'clock and remained up until 2.08 p. m., a total of 3 hours 33 minutes. The former record was made by Amerigo, at Mulhausen, Germany, December 11, 1910, when he carried a passenger 3 hours 19 minutes and 37 seconds. Beatty's actual elapsed time in the air as computed by the official timers was 3 hours 42 minutes 24 seconds. He arose at 5.30 and descended at 7.08.23.

While the official announcement from the contest committee was received we doubt here after it had been learned that O. A. Brisley, officially reported to be flown to a height of 11,725 feet, made had only reached 5,475 feet, there was little doubt that the Beatty figures were approximately correct.

The speed contest for biplanes was taken by Eugene Ely after a sharp brush with Lincoln Beachey. He made twelve miles in 12 minutes 47 seconds. Beachey's time being 14 minutes and seconds. The fastest mile and a third was made by Ely in 1.30.52.

Thomas Sopwith won the twelve-mile race for monoplane in 12.35.4, with Ed Simon second. Sopwith took the weigh carrying event without competition.

COAL AND OIL

THE CORNET COAL, MINERAL & OIL LANDS COMPANY, LIMITED (non-personal liability), has purchased the rights to FIVE COAL & PETROLEUM LEASES, containing about 3,200 acres of COAL AND OIL lands situated on LOUIS INLET, West Coast of Graham Island, which show excellent indications of large deposits of both Coal and Oil.

For a short time 25,000 shares are offered for public subscription at the par value of 25 cents per share; 1/4 cash on application and the balance in three equal monthly payments. Get in on the ground floor. This is going to be good.

Important Features

LOUIS INLET is a land locked harbor affording anchorage to any vessel on the Pacific seaboard.

THE LEASES front on deep water, thereby offering every advantage to the building of wharves, bunkers, etc.

THE CAPITAL is low, being only $500,000, 40,000 shares in the Treasury for development purposes.

NO PERSONAL LIABILITY.

The Oil indications are highly satisfactory and COAL has been found within half a mile of the property.

BORING is being done on the claims immediately behind our holdings. Oil is expected to be found at any moment.

Speaking of the opportunities of Graham Island, Mr. J. V. Covert, a Civil and Mining Engineer at Portland, who for the past two months has been inspecting various properties on the Island, says his views—very clearly before the public in an article in the Vancouver World under date of July 22nd, in which he says in part:

"I would like to have stayed a month longer, for, taken as a whole, Graham Island is the most wonderful undeveloped country I have ever seen."

"I found there a large area of coal lands, containing a bituminous product equal in quality to any coal mined on the Pacific Coast."

"Incidentally I visited the Oil fields on the northwestern portion of the Island, and found these conditions such as I had never before seen, and I have inspected most of the Oil fields on this continent. Never before have I seen surface showings so favorable, and you can say without reservation that if Oil is not found in that field all the knowledge gained in years of experience in this business by a critic engaged in it, might as well be set aside."

"Our property is only a few miles south of the fields referred to by Mr. Covert."

A complete description of the Company mailed on request.

ISLE OF BEAUTY AND OF TROUBLE

Distrust of Foreign Commercial Element and Color
Line Problems

Cuba is called the Pearl of the Antilles as a tribute to its beauty, but it is a pearl of trouble rather than of price. It is unnecessary to speak of Spain's troubles with Cuba. They spread themselves over the centuries and they ended with the Spanish-American war—only apparently to make way for a fresh crop to spring up. With a frequency characteristic of the republic of South and Central America it starts its neighbors with a periodical rising.

Canada in the national sense and constitutional sense has nothing to do with Cuba. But Montreal is very much interested in Cuba. In fact, from the capitalistic standpoint Cuba is a sort of far-flung Montreal annex.

That is why the present Cuban uprising is a matter that excites curiosity and causes some people here to want to know what there is behind it. It would seem as if there was not a great deal. It is easy to magnify a Cuban uprising and it must be admitted that it is equally easy to underestimate it. Because the insurgent army is only an irregular guerilla squad at the outset it does not follow that it cannot make trouble if it gets into the bush.

There is always more or less discontent in Cuba; there are drifting "floaters" in the rural districts who live by their wits in the quietest of times, who are ready to be brigands whenever disorder comes and who promptly realize that insurrection offers unequal facilities for brigandage.

In the towns, too, there are the politicians to whom picking and stealing is politics, and who await but the issue of the first combats to decide whether they shall cast their lot with the insurgents or rally to the forces of order. Taking the chronic conditions of Cuba into consideration, it is not safe to measure the chances of an insurrection by its initial proportions.

The Cubans are excitable people who take their parties, but their politics turn in reality on personalities rather than on principles. Just at present, and this is a condition that bids prophecy, the dominant Liberal party is divided into two elements by jarring personalities.

President Gomez is the head of the "Miguellistas," whose designation comes from his middle name, which is "Miguel." The irreverent Americans settled in Cuba call him "Joe Mike," which is their short and simple way of translating the sonorous Jose Miguel. Vice-President Zayas is the head of the Zayistas, the wing of the Liberals who, by coalescing with the "Miguellistas," made the election of Gomez possible. This coalition was formed because in no other could the triumph of the Conservatives in the first national elections after the intervention be averted.

Truce rather than peace was established by a division of honors in which the vice-presidency was allotted to Zayas, with the understanding that he should be Gomez's successor in the presidency. Now it is represented that the Zayistas fear that their turn will never come and that Gomez contemplates a dictatorship thinly veiled under constitutional forms. This apprehension may color Cuban advice and it should be the source of the suspicion of attacks on the integrity of the Gomez administration, in the face of which the president's private secretary and two or three others of his official entourage have been compelled to resign.

The cry of "graft" comes even more trippingly off the tongues of politicians in Cuba than on the continent lying to the north of it, but we must, on the other hand, remember that in Latin-American countries there is a license to "monetize" opportunities that is an unwritten law, and that the accusation implies that the accused has exceeded the toleration or long established custom.

All elements of opposition to Gomez unite in swelling the chorus of charges of corruption, the Conservatives joining in on general principles, while it is characteristic of Cuban politics that each party holds the other responsible for the present uprising. The Liberals accuse the Conservatives of inciting it to impress Secretary of War Simpson, who is visiting Cuba, with conviction that there is no stability in the island government. The Conservatives retort by charging both elements of the Liberals with conniving at the revolt for their own purposes and the entire situation seems full of combustibles.

Back of the immediate causes of unrest in Cuba there are others which do not make for disorder, but which constitute a great body of doubt, with which the Republic has peacefully to contend. These are the distrust of the foreign commercial element of the capability of the Cubans for self-government, and the presence of the "color line." The foreigners, the majority of whom are Americans, have never ceased to regret the departure of the United States troops, though prudence counsels them not to talk much on the subject.

Among themselves it is the common expression of those who have made extensive commitments in real estate to say that if the investment now seems unprofitable, it will turn out right "when the Americans come back." The negroes have been organized by their racial leaders as the "balance of power" in politics. They are insistent in their demands for recognition, which the government cannot grant to the full measure of the applications, without arousing the antagonism of the whites. The days of the Cuban republic may not be destined to be few, but they certainly promise to be full of trouble. —Montreal Herald.

"It is clearly evident to public opinion that the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be sustained at the polls. Mr. McBride has promised a solid seven Conservatives from the province, without respect to whether you have votes or care to use them. I don't believe it. I do not believe that one will be returned for Nanaimo, and I am beginning to think that Victoria will not return one either. (Cheers.)

The Maritime provinces will return many Liberals as they have at present. That is a prophesy made by Templeman and you may take it as such. (Applause.) Quebec will stand solid for the premier, the greatest French Canadian statesman that Canada has ever produced. (Cheers.) Though the Conservative and Nationalist votes—and they are something alike down there—will be very great, the record of the habitant for integrity, honesty and patriotism, together with the marvelous ability of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, will counterbalance them. French Canadians love a hero and they will follow him in the coming election. (Applause.)

"Ontario we stand to win in. The cities may be against us. Let them stay against us. We shall gain some in the country. And as for Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Liberals have every reason to be confident given the government policy they have endorsed. British Columbia might then go the whole hog for the opposition, but I hope it will not do anything of the kind. ("No fear.") I don't want to see this magnificent province out in the cold. We ought to have more than two Liberals supporting the government from British Columbia. (Hear, hear.) It is not fair to expect continued representation in the cabinet under such circumstances. I therefore suggest to you to stand solidly behind Ralph Smith on this occasion and return him once again to the position of Liberalism from this western province." (Applause.)

Turning his attention for a moment to the direct question of Orientals, Mr. Templeman said it was a question which was as old as British Columbia, and went on:

"We have always had it with us and we will always have it with us so long as there is a great population on the other side of the Pacific wanting to emigrate. You know that the Conservative government fixed the head tax at $50. When the Liberal government came into power it was raised to $100, and then some four years later it was raised again to $500 at the request of the working men of this province. I need not tell you of the efforts of the McBride government to defeat the Dominion government's policy in regard to the Japanese by means of the Natal Act. In the past the great issue has been a white man's country, and we have had all kinds of misrepresentation about it. In my opinion the question has been made a political football of. Instead, however, of adopting a policy of total prohibition the Dominion government thought a diplomat's course the better one, and they conferred with the representatives of Japan in Ottawa as to the restriction of the number who might immigrate to this country in one year. That plan was adopted and it worked very successfully for a time.

"Then came the rush from Hawaii. The immigrants coming from there were not under control of Japan, and in consequence were not controlled by the treaty entered into by the governments of Canada and Japan. We sent Mr. Lemoine to Japan to see that not more than four hundred received passports to come to Canada in any one year. There has not been in four years more than the number, and there have been 338 more Japs left Canada and gone back to Japan, than have come into the country altogether in that period. The population of the Japs in this country to-day, as represented by those coming and going, is 338 less than it was four years ago. (Applause.)

"I claim, therefore, that the policy of the government has been successful in the highest sense. If the Natal Act had been adopted they would have been able to swarm in for the Natal Act requires them to answer but a few questions in English. Now under the government's policy there are actually no Japanese coming into the country at all. (Applause.) Our immigration regulations are so effective and perfect that not one single Hindu came into Canada last year. I think that that should be an absolutely satisfactory state of affairs in regard to these races. I have the approval of the Trades and Labor Council of Victoria for the government's action in regard to Japs and Hindus. (Hear, hear.)

"Of Chinamen there have been more. Last year nearly five thousand came in. The government collected $42,200,000 in head taxes, of which it paid one-half to British Columbia. Notwithstanding the $500 head tax there are more Chinamen coming in than is desirable. To combat this situation it is suggested that an arrangement similar to that governing the entrance of the Japanese should be entered into with the Chinese
