Wikidata:GLAM/Koninklijke Bibliotheek Nederland

< Wikidata:GLAM

This page gives an overview of current, upcoming and possible future Wikidata and Wikibase activities, projects, ideas, experiments and opportunities for the KB, the national library of the Netherlands.

Maintained by User:OlafJanssen // Last update: 11 March 2020

Contents [\[show\]](#)

Current projects [\[edit\]](#)

Wikidata:WikiProject Alba amicorum/Jacob Heyblocc [\[edit\]](#)

This project shows the huge added values of putting combined images + metadata of digitised KB collection highlights into the Wikimedia ecosystem (Wikidata, Wikimedia Commons, Wikipedia), using the album amicorum of Jacob Heyblocc as a demonstrator.

Wikidata:WikiProject Netherlands Public Libraries [\[edit\]](#)

This project aims to create Wikidata items for Dutch public libraries, both for the pm. 1500 library branches and for the pm. 160 library organisations. See this presentation \(pdf\) for the rationale of the project.

A spin-off from this project is the Map making workshop – from Wikidata to interactive off-Wiki maps in three steps

Wikidata:WikiProject Dutch Literary Awards [\[edit\]](#)

This project aims to create Wikidata items for some 400 Dutch literary awards, their editions, nominees, winners and jurymembers

Overview of other activities so far [\[edit\]](#)

Besides the current projects above, the KB is currently involved in a number of other Wikidata related activities:

Experiments with semantic image tagging on Wikimedia Commons [\[edit\]](#)

The KB is undertaking some small scale experiments on Stedenboek de Wit and catchpenny prints to add P180 'Depicts' fields to selected images in those categories. In other words: the KB is exploring the added

Overview of other activities so far [ edit ]

Besides the current projects above, the KB is currently involved in a number of other Wikidata related activities:

Experiments with semantic image tagging on Wikimedia Commons [ edit ]

The KB is undertaking some small scale experiments on Stedenboek de Wit and catchpenny prints to add P180 'Depicts' fields to selected images in those categories. These Wikidata tags enable semantic searching for KB images in Wikidata the months ahead.

Example queries: Images in Stedenboek de Wit depicting 'De Burcht' in Leiden or cities on the Zuiderzee

Tools used for tagging:

1. Direct tagging in the Commons image interface (tab 'Structured data')
2. ISA tool, with running campaigns for Stedenboek de Wit and catchpenny prints
3. Bulk tagging via sdc_tool.js. This user script lets you quickly add statements for Structured Data on Commons (SDC) to (selected) files on galleries, category pages, and so on

You can see more about this in:

- Academic heritage symposium, 26 September 2019, Utrecht, slide 60 onwards.
- KNVI annual conference, 14 November 2019, Amsterdam, slide 92 onwards
- Dutch Digital Heritage Week, 26 November 2019, Leiden, slide 19 onwards.
- KB internal knowledge sharing event, 23 January 2020, The Hague, slide 38 onwards.

KB thesauri in Wikidata, and vice versa [ edit ]

The KB hosts the Dutch Thesaurus of Author Names (NTA) and the Thesaurus of Authors in the Digital Library of Dutch Literature (DBNLA).

These thesauri are directly linked to two distinct Wikidata properties: P1006 for the NTA and P723 for the DBNLA.

The KB periodically synchronizes both thesauri with Wikidata, and reversely the Wikidata community periodically synchronizes Wikidata against these two

Examples:

- Usage of Wikidata in NTA: Mulisch, Harry (1927-2010) (see owl:sameAs)
- Usage of NTA in Wikidata: Harry Mulisch (see NTA ID / P1006)

The Wikidata community runs a campaign to manually and automatically add more DBNL authors identifiers to Wikidata items using the Mix'n'Match tool.

We periodically monitor the usage of these properties (page in Dutch) because we want to

- Understand how often the KB (via the NTA and DBNLA thesauri) is acting as an authority for persons/authors in Wikidata (and via proxy also in Wikipedia)
- Understand how often Wikidata is used as an authority for persons/authors in the two KB thesauri
- Correct mismatches in Wikidata and our two thesauri, see the Single value violations and Unique value violations in the latest monitoring report from February 2020 (page in Dutch)

KB xportal [ edit ]

The KB xportal is a web application for accessing metadata and content of KB collections. It is used for testing and demonstrating new developments for example historical newspapers are linked to resource descriptions in Wikidata and other sources. The xportal also supports direct Wikidata SPARQL queries

Live demo and further instructions: <https://lab.kb.nl/tool/xportal>

Presentations about or referring to the xportal: Wikidata as universal library thesaurus by Theo van Veen (2018, from slide 16) and Verbinden van bibliotheken

Meetings, conferences, events, workshops etc. [ edit ]

Upcoming projects [\[ edit \]](#)

Wikidata:WikiProject Collection highlights National Library of the Netherlands [\[ edit \]](#)

This project aims to

- 1) improve the Wikidata descriptions for all digitised KB collection highlights,
- 2) upload their public domain images to Wikimedia Commons, reusing fields from Wikidata as much as possible to create image metadata
- 3) create and improve the Wikipedia articles about them on Dutch and English Wikipedia

following best practices and lessons learned during the Alba amicorum Jacob Heybloq project

Future project ideas, prototyping, experiments [\[ edit \]](#)

In no particular order:

All alba amicorum of KB [\[ edit \]](#)

This project is the follow-up / scaling-up of the Alba amicorum Jacob Heybloq project. Drawing from its best practices and lessons learned, this

- 1) create Wikidata items for the 100s of alba amicorum in the KB collection using automated bulk data extraction and conversion into Wikidata
- 2) create links between all these alba, as well as visualize these links and connections across space and time.

Project code name: "Linked<sup>2</sup> alba")

Medieval Illuminated Manuscripts [\[ edit \]](#)

This project aims to

- 1) Create Wikidata descriptions for 400 illuminated medieval manuscripts from the collections of KB and Museum Meermanno, including their
- 2) Upload some 11.400 images and miniatures of these manuscripts to Commons, and link them to Wikidata (and w)

In other words: bring the BYVANCK and ByvanckB datasets into the Wikimedia LOD cloud (and possibly replacing the 20 year old site <http://www.byanck.nl>)

Add structured data fields to KB images on Commons [\[ edit \]](#)

This project aims to expand the small scale semantic image tagging experiments made so far on eg. Stedenboek de Wit and catchpenny prints

The goal is to add more structured data fields and bounding boxes to more KB images on Wikimedia Commons.

Overview of other activities so far [ edit ]

Besides the current projects above, the KB is currently involved in a number of other Wikidata-related activities:

Upcoming projects [ edit ]

KB children's picture books [ edit ]

This project aims to

- 1) create Wikidata items for all the picture books in https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/Category:Picture\_books\_from\_Koninklijke\_Bibliotheek
- 2) bulk extract 381 KB children's books from the Europeana Rise of Literacy project and upload them to Wikimedia Commons and Wikidata (as far as they are not

Middel nederlandse handschriften [ edit ]

This project aims to upload 100s of digitized Middle-Dutch (?) manuscripts to Wikimedia Commons and Wikidata.

The KB has no suitable image platform to publish these scans on. (KB contact: Jeroen van D.)

Experimental KB Wikibase [ edit ]

This project aims to expand the experimental Wikibase instance of the KB to play with and learn from.

A suitable dataset to ingest into this Wikibase could be <https://www.bibliotheekinzicht.nl/databank>.

Presentations, conferences, hackathons, workshops and other meetings [ edit ]

Up next [ edit ]

- Overview of Wikidata activities of the KB, Dutch GLAMwiki coordinators meeting, 17 March 2020, Wikimedia Netherlands Office, Utrecht

In preparation or ideation [ edit ]

- Presentation/publications about the Album amicorum Jacob Heyblocq project - showing the huge added values of putting combined images + metadata of digitised KB collection highlights in a demonstrator.
- Presentations/publications about Leveraging KB collection highlights using Wikidata & Wikimedia Commons - scaling up from the Heyblocq project above, now for all KB collection highlights

Rondleidingen

Het album amicorum ('vriendenboek') van Jacob Heybloccq is het rijkste vriendenboek uit de collectie van de Koninklijke Bibliotheek. Heybloccq verzamelde hierin tussen 1645 en 1678 bijna 200 bijdragen van beroemde en minder beroemde personen uit onze gouden eeuw. Via drie rondleidingen maakt u kennis met Heybloccq zelf en met een aantal dichters en beeldende kunstenaars die hem hun vriendschap betuigen met een gedicht of een tekening.

Anno 1645.
Reverendis, nobilibus, doctissimis, clarissimisque d.d.
qui autographum suum huic albo inserere non dedignantur.
Scribite magnificas (petitur sublime) libello
Audaci prodire manus, radiantia saeculi
Lumina, sceptriferae diademata regia terrae.
Pascitur indigni, quia munera tanta, voluptas
Intuitu solo manuum. Si postea scriptor
Non erit, exincti saltem scriptura manebit.

Jacobus Heyblocq.

To the reverend, noble, most learned and illustrious gentlemen who have been good enough to contribute
their autographs to this album.

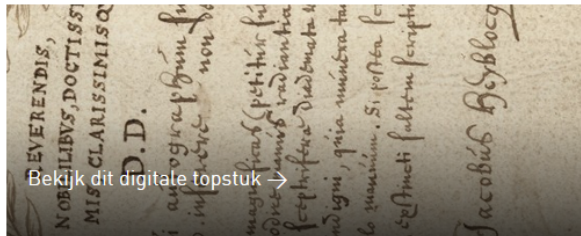

Write brilliant inscriptions (my aspiration is lofty) in this audacious booklet, O thou dazzling lights [= great minds]
of this century, and thou royal crowns of the sceptrebearing earth. The pleasure of this unworthy one consists, because his obligations are many, only of looking at [album]inscriptions. If a writer is later no more, then after his death at least what he has written will remain.

- Farrago p. 194.
- Heyblocq erroneously wrote 'nobilibus'.
- In Farrago Heyblocq replaced the cryptic 'sceptriferae
terrae' [sceptre-bearing earth] with 'Battavicae terrae'
[Batavian soil].

Heyblocqs beroemde Amsterdamse 'vrienden'

Heyblocq maakt werk van zijn ambitie. Na zijn studie gaat hij lesgeven aan de Latijnse school aan de Nieuwe Zijds in Amsterdam. Amsterdam is in de 'gouden' zeventiende eeuw een wereldstad waar wetenschap, kunst en cultuur tot grote bloei komen. Rond 1660 wordt Heyblocq hoofd van zijn Latijnse school en door deze positie komt hij in aanraking met de culturele elite van Amsterdam. Bij de aflevering van zijn vriendenboek aan zijn leerlingen, een bijdrage aan het album amicorum, schrijft hij de volgende woorden op de voorpagina: zien.

Bijzondere bijdragen in Heyblocqs album

De meeste bijdragen zijn een stuk uitgebreider dan de gebruikelijke vriendschapsbetuigingen. Veel gedichten zijn voor de gelegenheid gemaakt. Ze zijn over het algemeen in het Nederlands of het Latijn.

De naam Heiblocq wordt vaak als inspiratie gebruikt. Een heiblok is het zware blok van de heimachine waarmee palen in de grond worden

Jacob Heybloccs vriendenboek

In de zeventiende eeuw is een 'vriendenboek' geen liefhebberij van meisjes, maar een serieuze Linked-In voor studenten en mannen uit kunst en cultuur. Jacob Heyblocc verzamelt in zijn album bijdragen van bijna alle belangrijke figuren uit de Gouden Eeuw: Rembrandt, Joost van den Vondel, Jacob Cats, Constantijn Huygens, en nog veel meer.

Op deze pagina vindt u een algemene inleiding bij Jacob Heybloccs naar het gedigitaliseerde boek? Klik dan op de link

En iets verstopt....

Het album amicorum (vriendenboek) van Jacob Heyblocc is het rijkste vriendenboek uit de collectie van de Koninklijke Bibliotheek. Heyblocc verzamelde hierin tussen 1645 en 1678 bijna 200 bijdragen van beroemde en minder beroemde personen uit onze gouden eeuw. Via drie rondleidingen maakt u kennis met Heyblocc zelf en met een aantal dichters en beeldende kunstenaars die hem hun vriendschap betuigen met een gedicht of een tekening.

The image shows a digital interface for viewing a manuscript page. The manuscript page is the central focus, featuring a decorative border of leaves and berries. The text on the page is handwritten in Latin. A red rectangular overlay is positioned in the center of the page, containing two bullet points: "• Niet doorzoekbaar" and "• Niet exporteerbaar". The interface includes a top navigation bar with a "KB" logo, a search bar, and a list of icons. On the right side, there are three text boxes containing transcriptions and annotations.

Anno 1645.
Reverendis, nobilibus, doctissimis, clarissimisque d.d.
qui autographum suum huic albo inserere non
dedignantur.
Scribite magnificas (petitur sublime) libello
Audaci prodire manus, radiantia saecli
Lumina, sceptriferae diademata regia terrae.
Pascitur indigni, quia munera tanta, voluptas
Intuitu solo manuum. Si postea scriptor
Non erit, extincti saltem scriptura manebit.

Jacobus Heyblocq.

To the reverend, noble, most learned and illustrious
gentlemen who have been good enough to contribute
their autographs to this album.

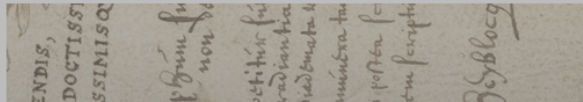

Write brilliant inscriptions (my aspiration is lofty) in this
audacious booklet, O thou dazzling lights [= great minds]
of this century, and thou royal crowns of the sceptrebearing earth. The pleasure of this unworthy one consists, because his obligations are many, only of looking at [album]inscriptions. If a writer is later no more, then after his death at least what he has written
will remain.

- Farrago p. 194.
- Heyblocq erroneously wrote 'nobilibus'.
- In Farrago Heyblocq replaced the cryptic 'sceptriferae
terrae' [sceptre-bearing earth] with 'Battavicae terrae'
(Batavian soil).

Jacob Heyblocqs vriendenboek

In de zeventiende eeuw is een 'vriendenboek' geen liefhebberij van meisjes, maar een serieuze Linked-In voor studenten en mannen uit kunst en cultuur. Jacob Heyblocq verzamelt in zijn album bijdragen van bijna alle belangrijke figuren uit de Gouden Eeuw: Rembrandt, Joost van den Vondel, Jacob Cats, Constantijn Huygens, en nog veel meer.

Op deze pagina vindt u een algemene inleiding bij Jacob Heyblocqs vriendenboek. Wilt u direct naar het gedigitaliseerde boek? Klik dan op de link in dit plaatje:

Heyblocqs beroemde Amsterdamse 'vrienden'

Heyblocq maakt werk van zijn ambitie. Na zijn studie gaat hij lesgeven aan de Latijnse school aan de Nieuwe Zijds in Amsterdam. Amsterdam is in de 'gouden' zeventiende eeuw een wereldstad waar wetenschap, kunst en cultuur tot grote bloei komen. Rond 1660 wordt Heyblocq rector van zijn Latijnse school en door deze positie komt hij in aanraking met de culturele elite van Amsterdam. Dichters, professoren, tekenaars en schilders vraagt hij om een bijdrage. Wie er allemaal positief reageren laat de index onderaan deze pagina zien.

De naam Heiblocq wordt vaak als inspiratie gebruikt. Een heiblok is het zware blok van de heimachine waarmee palen in de grond worden

Wikidata:WikiProject Alba amicorum/Jacob Heybloq

< Wikidata:WikiProject Alba amicorum

This project is part of the Wikidata efforts of the Koninklijke Bibliotheek Nederland

Contents [\[show\]](#)

Project description/rationale [\[edit\]](#)

This project shows the huge added values of putting combined images + metadata of digitised KB collection highlights into the Wikimedia ecosystem (Wikidata, Wikimedia Commons, Wikipedia), using the album amicorum of Jacob Heybloq [\[edit\]](#) as a demonstrator.

By comparing how visible, searchable, discoverable, sharable, reusable and linkable the digitised album was before the project against those criteria after the project, it will become very clear that using the Wikimedia services and communities is both a very effective and efficient way to amplify the impact of cultural heritage. It will show innovative ways to search, discover, curate, describe, interact, share, link, download and build upon the album, not possible before.

About Jacobus Heibloq and the album [\[edit\]](#)

Jacobus Heibloq (1623-1690) was a poet and rector of the Latin grammar school in Amsterdam. He is best known for the Album amicorum [\[edit\]](#) that he put together during his lifetime.

In this album Heybloq collected contributions from many important figures from the Dutch Golden Age, including the painters Rembrandt, Govert Flinck and Jan de Bray, poets such as Joost van den Vondel, Jacob Cats and Constantijn Huygens, and scholars including Gerardus Vossius and Anna Maria van Schurman, and many others, as further detailed below.

Available building blocks before the project [\[edit\]](#)

Offline [\[edit\]](#)

- Obviously, there is the original album itself, shelfnumber 131 H 26 in the collection of the KB
- A facsimile + catalogue, The Album Amicorum of Jacob Heybloq, Introduction, Transcriptions, Paraphrases and Notes to the Facsimile [\[edit\]](#), Edited by Kees Thomassen and J.A. Gruys, Zwolle: Waanders, 1998, ISBN 13: 9789040092046. For each page of the album the catalog provides the text of the inscription(s), their translation into English and typically some annotations. See the image to get a proper impression. This publication is available from the KB [\[edit\]](#) or antiquarian booksellers [\[edit\]](#).

Online [\[edit\]](#)

At the start of this project the album's images, texts (album inscriptions, their translations & annotations) and metadata descriptions were available online

Via KB services [\[edit\]](#)

- On the KB website
  - Full album presentation [\[edit\]](#). This is the best online way to get a good impression of the album. This viewer allows for leafing through the album and provides all inscriptions, their translations & annotations in the collapsible sidebar on the right.
  - Context to this presentation is available on this page [\[edit\]](#), with at the bottom a
  - Page index of contributors. Very nice to have, but only browsing, no search functionalities are provided.

Testing: For ease of testing API requests, see Special:ApiSandbox.

Etching caption:

You need the blessing of Apollo in order to write poetry. The Muses may beckon from Parnassus but the mountain is high and steep. If you succeed in reaching the top then the crown of laurels awaits you but you will first have to work hard for it.

- Salomon Savery [c. 1594-after 21 December 1678], etcher, engraver and bookseller. In Hollstein XXIV (compiled by G.S. Keyes) the etching in question cannot be found. Very recently Dr J. Giltaij of the Amsterdam Rijksmuseum made the discovery that the etching was made after a drawing by Jan de Braij, dated 1660, and now in the FitzWilliam Museum in Cambridge.

- The etching shows, in the foreground, the poet writing the text 'The school of the alert minds 1661' and, in the background, his mission: to climb Parnassus with, at the top, the nine Muses and Apollo, the god of poetry, who is holding aloft a crown of laurels. Pegasus, the winged horse of the Muses, causes the Hippocrene spring to rise up.

You call this book a begging book because you have asked poets, painters and scholars to make a contribution. If I should ever publish my poems then the content would be symbolised by a frontispiece showing the 'The rhyme school of the goddesses of song'. Now that I look at your book, I see that such a print would also be suitable here and that is why I have pasted it in. (English)

You need the blessing of Apollo in order to write poetry. The Muses may beckon from Parnassus but the mountain is high and steep. If you succeed in reaching the top then the crown of laurels awaits you but you will first have to work hard for it. (English)

Jacobus Heiblocq

Jacobus Hei(j)blocq (of Heyblocq) (19 juni 1623-Amsterdam, 28 september 1690) was een dichter en rector van de Latijnse School te Amsterdam. Hij is vooral bekend vanwege het Album Amicorum dat hij gedurende zijn leven samenstelde.

Biografie [bewerken | brontekst bewerken]

Heiblocq kwam uit een gezin van de negen kinderen. Zijn vader was pedel van het Athenaeum Illustre. In 1641 liet hij zich officieel inschrijven aan de Universiteit van Leiden en studeerde theologie en filosofie.<sup>[1]</sup> In 1646 sloot hij zijn studie af; het jaar daarop wilde hij naar Oost-Indië vertrekken, maar dat werd hem afgeraden. In 1648 werd hij leraar aan de Latijnse school. In 1650 trouwde hij met Maria de Lange; er werd een feest gegeven op het Huis te Manpad in Heemstede. Zijn schoonvader Hendrik Zeegersz. van de Camp, eigenaar van de Hartekamp<sup>[2]</sup>, trouwde op dezelfde dag met Hester du Pire.

In 1666 verhuisde de Latijnse school van de Gravenstraat naar het Singel.<sup>[3]</sup> In juni 1670 werd Heiblocq hoofd van de school, maar in zijn managementkwaliteiten schoot hij te kort. Wallerant Vaillant tekende zijn portret in mezzotint.

Heiblocq kocht de Hartekamp in 1680 van zijn zwager Gillis, die niet in staat bleek af te lossen. In 1683 stierf zijn vrouw. Heiblocq hertrouwde Debora Schoonhoven in 1684. In 1685 werd hem ontslag verleend. In 1687 verkocht hij zijn buiten aan een inwoner van Heemstede. Heiblocq werd begraven vanuit een huis, in het verleden toebehorend aan zijn "schoonvader", op de Bloemgracht.<sup>[4]</sup>

Album Amicorum [bewerken | brontekst bewerken]

Heiblocq begon aan zijn album in 1645 <sup>[5]</sup>. Omdat hij er niet in slaagde een predikantplaats te verwerven werd hij leraar. Dankzij deze functie en zijn actieve bemoeienis met het toenmalig letterkundig leven kon zijn album uitgroeien tot het rijkste specimen in dit genre. Onder meer de dichters Joost van den Vondel, Jacob Cats, Jacob Westerbaen Thomas Asselijn, Joan Leonardsz Blasius, Jan Zoet en Willem Godschalck van Focquenbroch, eminente geleerden als Daniël Heinsius, Johannes Polyander à Kerckhoven, Revius, Voetius, Barlaeus, Gronovius, Vossius, Anna Maria van Schurman, Jan Amos Comenius, en de schilders Rembrandt, Salomon Savery, Aart van der Neer, Govert Flinck, Jan de Bray, Emanuel Murant, Jan van de Cappelle, Gerbrand van den Eeckhout en Jan Gerritsz. van Bronckhorst leverden een bijdrage aan deze uitgave met prachtige teksten en voorstellingen.<sup>[6]</sup>
