

LIVELY MEETING OF CHAMBER OF COM.

WILL GIVE RECEPTION TO TEACHERS.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 12

Chamber Endorses Proposition to Renew the Activities of South Coast Improvement Association.

There was a lively meeting of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce in the library building, Friday evening of last week, it being the regular monthly meeting of the organization.

President E. E. French was out of the city and Vice-President Dr. F. E. Wilson did not arrive until late in the session, so Trustee Joseph Vavra was chosen as temporary presiding officer.

On motion of Alex. P. Nelson, the secretary was directed to make mention in the minutes of the special meeting September 24th in the Princess theatre.

Judge C. W. Warner, chairman of the committee appointed at the last meeting to confer with the school trustees relative to improving the grounds at the Grammar and High schools, reported that the matter had not yet been taken up with the school boards. Mr. Vavra stated that the question was discussed at the last meeting of the Grammar school board, and that about all that could be done this year would be the installation of a sprinkling system, and this would be done.

Mr. Nelson reported that the United States Supreme Court decision concerning bill boards was not as far-reaching as he had supposed it was, and he had not yet had time to get the ordinance in shape for the city trustees.

J. A. Armitage of Sunset Beach recited some of the good work done by the South Coast Improvement Association when it was active three years ago, and he was satisfied that if the good work was renewed that the beneficial effects would be felt among all of the coast towns. He did not advocate any thing big at this time, but suggested that membership dues be placed at $25 per year, and that the city of Huntington Beach subscribe, as would the other incorporated municipalities along the south coast. The Huntington Beach Company, he said, would be a member, as would other land companies and big real estate dealers.

Mr. Nelson endorsed what Mr. Armitage said about the South Coast Improvement Association, and moved that a committee be appointed to take up the matter with the city trustees, which prevailed after having been seconded by M. E. Helme. President Vavra appointed Mr. Helme as the committee, saying that a committee of one was as good as one of three members.

The secretary was directed to write the board of supervisors about the 5 per cent fund that was intended for the coast boulevard, as Mr. Armitage said it was placed in the general fund and could be used for any other purpose that a majority of the supervisors might decide upon.

Teachers To Be Banqueted.
Ralph C. Turner stated that the idea had come to some that it would be a good thing to have more co-operation between the business and educational interests. He believed there were some teachers who did not fully realize what they owed the community in which they were teaching. Mr. Turner felt they owed more than just the time they were in the school room, and should feel that they were interested in the progress and welfare of the community. However, he said, there was a fine spirit this year among the teachers, and he believed that the Chamber of Commerce should take up the matter of tendering a reception to the faculties of the schools, which, he was sure, would be of great benefit. He suggested a banquet.

The idea was endorsed by Mr. Armitage, Mr. Nelson, President Vavra, Judge Louis A. Copeland and Dr. Wilson, Dr. Wilson saying that nothing would emphasize the spirit of co-operation more than a love feast.

Mrs. Nelson suggested that the Woman's Club might be glad to furnish the banquet in the clubhouse, which would be a good place to improve the spirit of co-operation.

Dr. Wilson said he believed in standing by the industries we have established, and he thought all such affairs should be held at the Huntington Inn, as we wanted it to remain open the year 'round, and it should therefore be patronized on all such occasions.

The matter was disposed of by the chair appointing Mr. Turner to assist R. L. Obarr, chairman of the entertainment committee, and the committee having full power to act as to the time and place of holding the reception. It was understood, however, that the date would be next Friday evening, October 12.

Judge Copeland thought the Chamber should take some action to assist in making up a big delegation to hear Billy Sunday. There was talk of a special committee, but on the suggestion of Dr. Wilson the matter was referred to the advertising committee, of which President of the Board of Trustees Will Tarbox is chairman, and Judge Copeland and Judge Warner were added to assist him.

Judge Copeland called the members' attention to the Children's Home, which, he said, was a worthy institution and needed help, and Mrs. Nelson, Dr. Wilson and Judge Warner were designated as a committee to visit the Home.

The following bills were ordered paid: Huntington Beach Hardware Company, $11.55 for flag and three measures; Mrs. J. T. Reed, $1.25 for one jar; J. A. Armitage, $3.50, car fare calling on manufacturing firms looking for new locations.

SCHOOL BOOK IN ONE FAMILY FOR 121 YEARS.

ORIN A. GERRY HAS RARE OLD VOLUME.

Orin A. Gerry, residing on Garfield street near the Holly sugar factory, has a text book which was used by his grandfather when he attended school more than a century ago.

The volume contains the Constitution of the State of Massachusetts, Constitution of the United States, and Washington's Farewell Address.

The book was published by Isaac Adams of Portland, Maine. The publisher did not give the year the book was printed, but a notation in ink gives the date as 1796, the same year President Washington delivered his farewell address.

The elder Gerry used the book in the school at Dover, Maine. One might wonder why the Constitution of Maine was not used in place of that of the Old Bay State. At that time Maine was a territory, and did not join the Union of states until 1820.

The book has been in the Gerry family since its publication in 1796, being 121 years, it being presented to Mr. Gerry by his father, James Gerry, eight years ago. James Gerry passed away last year at the age of 92 years. The book is bound with the heavy leather that was used by the bookbinders of that time, and is in a good state of preservation.

ICE CREAM AND CAKE WILL BE SERVED.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC WILL ENTERTAIN.

The Valentine Conservatory of Music and Arts will hold a public reception Saturday, October 6th, from 2 to 5 and 8 to 10 p. m., and a cordial invitation is extended the public.

Mrs. Cunningham announces that ice cream and cake will be served. Mrs. Cunningham also states that Miss Conway, sister of Mrs. H. C. Decker, will have charge of the art department, and those calling Saturday will be given a souvenir. Miss Conway will also be a special teacher for the guitar.

BEANS FROM NINE-ACRE TRACT SELL FOR $1,280.

D. O. Stewart and W. E. Wells recently sold 160 sacks of lima beans, grown on a nine-acre tract north of the city, for $1,280, being $122.22 per acre, and the crop was hauled to the warehouse on one truck.

THIRD DEGREE WORK WILL BE GIVEN NEXT WEEK.

The Odd Fellows lodge will confer the third degree Tuesday evening of next week.

REGULAR SESSION OF CITY TRUSTEES

BARBERS' PETITION FOR SUNDAY ORDINANCE.

STREET WORK IS DEFERRED

City Will Pay $25.00 Per Month Toward the Support of the South Coast Improvement Association.

The city trustees met in regular session, Monday night, and the meeting would have been a short one had it not been for a representative of the American-LaFrance Fire Apparatus Company, who would probably have been talking yet had Trustee Vavra not ventured to interrupt him by moving that the matter be referred to the committee which has been considering the matter for some time.

This salesman stated he did not have any car to make a demonstration—in fact, he did not think any such preliminaries necessary. All he wanted was a contract with the signatures of President Tarbox and City Clerk Nutt, and he would do the rest. He did not sell a fire engine on the spot, but he came closer to the mark than any other man who has ever appeared before the board.

After the matter was referred to the committee he wanted to know the personnel of that committee, and arranged for a meeting with them at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The committee is composed of Trustees Huston and Decker and City Manager Spencer.

M. E. Helme appeared before the trustees as a representative of the Chamber of Commerce to ask the Board to join the South Coast Improvement Association, and contribute the sum of $25 per month for a period of six months, to enable that organization to look after the coast road.

On motion of Trustee Chapin, seconded by Trustee Vavra, a motion to that effect prevailed.

Ernest Probert tendered his resignation as city electrician, and City Clerk Nutt was named for the place, to serve without pay, being allowed for gasoline while looking after the work, when necessary to use his car.

A petition signed by all the barbers of the city was presented, asking that an ordinance be passed making it a misdemeanor to keep a barber shop open on Sunday. The petition was referred to City Attorney Nelson, who will draw an ordinance covering the Sunday closing. George O. Franklin and Ned N. Brown were present when the petition was acted upon.

The improvement of First, Second and Third streets was again laid over until next Monday night at 7:30.

No objections have been made to any of the trustees, President Tarbox and Trustee Chapin saying all the talk they had heard about the matter had been in favor of the work done. The objections filed protested against the work on First street.

President Tarbox suggested that the trustees go over the district and make a thorough inspection before the next meeting.

BAND CONCERT APPRECIATED.

The band concert Sunday afternoon was highly appreciated by a fair-sized audience.

One can notice an improvement in the work of the band boys on each occasion that they appear in public, and Director Chas. H. Endicott is certainly to be congratulated upon the splendid showing made since the organization of the Huntington Beach Municipal Band.

WINTERSBURG FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION.

The first loan through the Wintersburg Farm Loan Association was closed Thursday, when the application of David F. Strain for $3,000 was approved. A. W. Schone is secretary of the association.

FINISHED THRESHING BEANS.

Bean threshing was completed on the Huntington Beach Company's ranch Monday, the crop totalling 4604 bags.

NEW TIME CARD OVER P. E. LINES.

LITTLE CHANGE FROM THAT OF LAST WINTER.

There is a new time card in effect today over the Pacific Electric lines, and it will be well for you to clip out the new schedule and destroy the old one, so that you will not run a block or two to catch a train that is no longer running.

Under the summer time card 16 trains have been in operation each way over the Los Angeles line, and the new card calls for 12, being a reduction of 25 per cent of the service. However, the service provided is no doubt all that the light winter traffic warrants, and, as the trains are arranged, it is believed that but little inconvenience will follow the change.

The same number of cars will continue over the Santa Ana line, but with slight changes in time.

SOLDIER BOY IS GRATEFUL TO RED CROSS.

JAMES GIVEN WRITES FROM CAMP LEWIS.

364th Reg. Inf., Hdqrs. Co., Camp Lewis, Washington.

Dear Sir and Editor:—

I take the liberty of writing to you on behalf of myself and the boys of the 40 per cent quota that left Huntington Beach on the 19th of September. I first want to thank the ladies of the Red Cross of Huntington Beach for the many kindnesses shown to us that day, and we will carry that feeling with us wherever we go and as long as we go. I also wish to thank the Red Cross of Fullerton for the splendid spirit shown to us over there before the departure of the train; and, believe me, whenever we see a Red Cross insignia it brings back the kindness of Huntington Beach and Fullerton units to us.

We are very well treated up here—good food, good beds, comfortable quarters all round; the officers are a very gentlemanly bunch of fellows.

If you would please print this little appreciation, I would consider it a great favor.

JAMES GIVEN.

"TALE OF TWO CITIES" SHOWN NEXT TUESDAY

CHARLES DICKENS' GREAT STORY ON SCREEN.

BIG ATTENDANCE EXPECTED

"The Rescue" and "Hair-Trigger Burke" Will Be the Attractions For Saturday and Sunday Nights.

No author has ever written in any language who was possessed of the ability to combine real humor with the blindest pathos as was Charles Dickens, the immortal novelist of all ages and languages. As long as literature shall endure, so long will "A Tale of Two Cities" stand as one of the world's masterpieces of historical fiction. Who of us who are old enough to read understandingly have not wept at the true devotion and noble sacrifice of Sidney Carton, and at the next page laughed at the grotesque characters of Jerry Cruncher and Miss Pross? The theatre goers of Huntington Beach will on Tuesday night have living representatives of all the various characters in action upon the screen, when Mrs. Nelson presents to the patrons of the Princess Wm. Fox's world-famous screen production of this immortal novel, with the great Wm. Farnum in the role of Sidney Carton. As a historical representation of the troublesome times of the French Revolution, the picture is true to life, as are the London scenes, all being accurately reproduced and created at an unheard-of cost. Nothing has been spared, either in effort or expense, to make this picture a true interpretation of the London and Paris of 1790; so, as an educational feature, the picture is entitled to the highest consideration. As a wonderful story of pathos, sacrifice, love and all the higher and better emotions of human nature, it is needless to comment on to those who have read the novel. The tense scenes of the story are relieved throughout by quaint conceptions of humor, that bring laughter in the wake of tears. The supporting company throughout is composed of the finest artists available, which means as good as filmdom affords. Owing to the high price of this great film, the price on this date will be advanced to 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. The same picture has been shown the country over at 25, 50 and 75 cents.

On Saturday night, the Bluebird attraction will be "The Rescue," featuring Dorothy Phillips, supported by the entire cast of "Hell Morgan's Girl." Popular stories make popular photoplays, a fact that has so often been proven that motion picture magnates are using up adaptable novels as fast as they can be found. "The Rescue" was one of the popular stories of the season, by Hugh Kahler, and the screen version was prepared and directed by I. May Park, who has such marked successes to her credit as "The Fires of Rebellion," "The Flashlight," "Hell Morgan's Girl," and other "top-notchers." The story is unique in conception, the theme is the "eternal triangle," only in this case the "other woman" unites, instead of separating, the husband and wife.

On Sunday night, Harry Carey will be seen in a strong Western drama, full of "punch" and action, and our old friend, Billy Ritchie, will serve up a dish of "Scrambled Hearts" that is simply a scream, in two reels, with a whirlwind of laughter in every foot of film. A one-reel comedy, by Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran, will complete the five-reel program.

Altogether, the week's program is a well-balanced and strong one.

SOME BIG CARROTS.

J. A. Flaws, ranch foreman for the Huntington Beach Company, delivered a white Belgian carrot at the News office Wednesday which weighed 8½ pounds. This carrot was taken from a field the company has on the Wesley Heights tract, near the Children's Home. The feature about these carrots is that they were grown on mesa land without irrigation. They are fed to the mules at work on the big ranch.

The News Office prints calling cards, business cards, wedding and birth announcements, invitations, etc.

LETTER FROM ATTORNEY LEWIS W. BLODGET.

PRaises DANCING OF MARIA MASLOVA.

The following letter is from Attorney Lewis W. Blodget, who is now at the officers' training camp at the Presidio, and did not know that Miss Conrad was on the Orpheum circuit:

J. J. Conrad, Editor Huntington Beach News, Huntington Beach, Cal.

My Dear Mr. Conrad:—

Today gave me a very pleasant surprise. I attended the Orpheum this afternoon, and recognized on the stage a "Chinese Butterfly," or some other fantastical name, as your daughter. Her dancing is wonderful. She received the greatest applause of anyone in her troupe.

This is a great life. We have no time to ourselves except Saturday afternoon and Sunday, and we do not always get them. Tomorrow is Sunday, and we must be present at 9:30 a. m. for vaccination and inoculation with typhoid and paratyphoid "A" and "B" prophylaxis.

We get up every morning at 5:30 and are kept on the jump from that time until 9:30 p. m., when the lights must be out and we must be in bed.

All the magazine articles about these camps are about right. We are here to learn a very serious game; a game in which there can be no errors. Regulations are very strict, and one violation is usually sufficient for discharging a man. We never know when we may unwittingly violate some rule. Two men from my company of 120 men were discharged today.

Tomorrow is "muster." If we are not present at muster we get no pay. I'll be there.

Next week we go across the bay to the rifle range for a week's shooting.

Once again let me reiterate that Maria Maslova received, deservedly, the greatest applause for her dances, and is easily a favorite with the troupe and public.

Sincerely,
LEWIS W. BLODGET.

RURAL ROUTE NO. 1 TO HAVE NEW CARRIER.

DENNIS T. HALLICY HAS TENDERED HIS RESIGNATION.

It has been generally supposed that there were two fixtures in this vicinity—the ebbing and flowing of the tides of the Pacific ocean and the delivery of mail on rural route No. 1 from the Huntington Beach post office by Dennis T. Hallicy, who has had charge of the work since the establishment of the route, July 1st, 1909.

Mr. Hallicy has surprised his many friends by tendering his resignation, which was placed in the hands of Postmaster DeLapp Tuesday.

The vacancy will be filled from the eligible list on file in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Hallicy states he is resigning because he does not want the job any longer.

The route is now 32 miles long, and the carrier begins work at 6 a. m. and finishes about 2 p. m. The salary is $87.33 per month, carrier furnishing car. Dennis has given the patrons of his route more than eight years of faithful service, and there will be general regret over his resignation.

HIGH SCHOOL POINTERS.

[By V. B. Brown, Principal.]

High school opened Monday with a larger attendance than was expected, 121 being enrolled.

The following teachers of last year's force are to be with us this year: Miss Jean Wilson, English; Miss Frances L. Douthit, music; Mrs. Harriet A. Edmiston, domestic science; Miss Martha J. Ritchey, languages; C. W. Sproutte, mathematics and physical training; Claude W. Swift, science. Several of these teachers have been taking special summer school work. Their courses are all popular and are being elected generally by students.

The new teachers are: Miss Ruth Munro, history and physical training for girls. Miss Munro comes from Berkeley, where she has just put in a year of graduate work. Miss Susan Miller, commercial, comes to us after four years' teaching in the Isaac Woodbury Business College of Los Angeles. She is familiar with the business college method. This, combined with the method necessitated by the more extensive courses of the High school, will enable our students to get the very best training possible in the commercial branches. Ray Walker, drawing and manual training, is a graduate of Santa Barbara Normal. He has had much practical work along constructive lines. He will assist in physical training work. He has an excellent record as a High school athlete and will prove a practical and valuable factor in our faculty. Mrs. E. L. Payne, daughter of C. D. Heartwell, will have charge of the office. Mrs. Payne is a graduate of Hastings College, Nebraska.

Today, in accordance with the proclamation of the Governor for special services this week, Patriotic Week, a general assembly will be called for patriotic readings and the singing of some national songs.

REPORT OF THE ANNUAL METHODIST CONFERENCE.

[Mrs. O. N. Oleson.]

The forty-second annual session of the Southern California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church opened Wednesday morning in the First M. E. church, Long Beach. According to the custom of previous years, a reception to the presiding bishop was announced for Tuesday evening, preceded by a dinner served by the women of the host church. But, as Bishop Leonard was not present, he could not well be received, and the gathering was merged into the service of the evening, the anniversary of the Board of Foreign Missions, addressed by Dr. E. R. Fulkerson. At 8 o'clock, Wednesday, an audience of four hundred and fifty greeted Dr. Harry F. Ward, and well repaid it was for promptness. Dr. Ward gives

We don't have to mention names, but if you will ask the editor of this paper he probably will tell you who it was, or, at least, verify our statement.

a series of lectures at the early morning hour on "Principles of Social Reconstruction," this one being "Supremacy of Personality." Is not a man worth more than a sheep? Jesus put the teaching of the supremacy of personality first. "I am come that they might have life." The whole difference between the Orient and the Occident is the value they put upon human life. People, not material things, are the fundamentals. This was Jesus' teaching on earth. At 9 o'clock, Bishop Adna B. Leonard called the meeting to order and proceeded to organize the conference. A very pleasant part of the opening was a neat speech by Rev. F. G. Watson of Richland avenue church, Santa Ana, and the presentation to the conference of a gavel made from the famous Stranbridge walnut tree, where the Methodism of America was born. Rev. Watson also presented to Bishop Leonard a paperweight made from the Stranbridge oak, carved in fac simile of the stump of that historic tree. Bishop Leonard and Rev. Watson were schoolmates in their boyhood days.

Rev. R. J. Coyne was elected chorister for the conference; Rev. O. W. Reinus of Garden Grove, the statistician, a position he has held for a number of years.

In the anniversary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, the treasurer reported that $56,427 had been raised this year, besides $20,000 in annuities, totaling $76,427, a gain of $6,674 over last year, despite war conditions.

The report of Dr. H. I. Rasmus, superintendent of the San Diego district, sounded an advance all along the line. Two thousand members this year were given by this district when the new Long Beach district was formed. Huntington Beach has paid $1,000 in debts; Santa Ana Richland Ave., $875; Santa Ana First Church increased its benevolences $2,300; Wintersburg made a substantial increase in its benevolences this year.

A fine spirit prevails at the conference these opening days. Everybody is happy, and a very good week of fellowship together is anticipated by the preachers. It is expected the session will close about Tuesday noon. Sunday will be a great day. Sermon by the bishop in the morning and ordination of deacons and elders in the afternoon; also the consecration of deaconesses.

Rev. Wilfred Kent of Oceanside drove up to Wintersburg Wednesday afternoon and brought the two lay delegates, Mrs. G. M. Roberson and Mrs. B. A. Farrar, to Long Beach.

Rev. and Mrs. O. N. Oleson drove down Tuesday afternoon in time for the reception. All four have apartments at the Gaines Apts., on 3rd street. Rev. BIG SAVING IN LOADING CARS TO CAPACITY.

6402 CARS SAVED IN MONTH OF JULY.

J. M. Kinsey, local agent of the Southern Pacific Company, has been notified by W. R. Scott, vice-president and general manager, that, as a result of the car loading competition in which he and other agents of that company are participating, 6,402 cars were saved during the month of July, 1917, as compared with loading in July of last year.

Commodities in which the greatest saving of cars is shown follow:

Barley	424 cars
Lumber	509 cars
Salt	40 cars
Merchandise	1,626 cars
Rice	94 cars
Canned Goods	96 cars
Mill Stuffs	109 cars
Brick	21 cars
Perishables	929 cars
Sugar	88 cars
Corn and Oats	28 cars
Paper	78 cars
Cement and Plaster	159 cars
Miscellaneous	2,191 cars

Of particular note is the company's accomplishment in the loading of merchandise. By increasing the load 1,400 pounds a car, a saving of 1,626 cars was affected.

It is not always fully appreciated by the public that a saving in cars means also a saving in locomotives, by heavier loaded and fewer trains. Thus, the 6,402 cars saved is equivalent to 142 trains of 45 cars each.

Two hundred and forty-seven miles is the average haul of a carload of freight, and it would require 142 locomotives running a distance of 35,074 miles to move this number of trains. This remarkable showing has been

WEEKLY GREETING.

The truth is, the notion that an intellectual recognition of certain dogmas is the essential condition of salvation lies at the bottom of all intolerance in matters of religion.

ORANGE COUNTY HARBOR.

The subject of most importance now being considered with the several Chambers of Commerce throughout the county, as well as with the Associated Chambers of Commerce, has to do with county improvement of a commercial harbor at Newport Bay.

The discussions are being entered into with more than common interest, and are calculated to result in educational measures that will still further identify the people of Orange county with the progressive element of other communities.

When the law was made effective establishing Orange county as a harbor district, within thirty days after the petition was opened for signatures the franchised freeholders had affixed their names in more than the number required, expressing the request that the Board of Supervisors at once appoint a Harbor Board.

The Commission at once employed its efforts in investigation of conditions physical and material, and find the development of a commercial harbor feasible, and when their report is completed and returned to the Board of Supervisors, it will so advise.

Since the subject was first presented, developments have obtained in rapid succession until estimated possibilities have become established results.

The expressed intention of the City of Newport Beach, to improve the bay as a pleasure harbor, has long been held in contemplation, while today the active work of this improvement is being definitely prosecuted.

The City of Newport Beach has qualified. By almost unanimous ballot it voted bonds in the sum of $125,000 for the construction of a jetty at the mouth of the bay, and has passed the third reading of intention to vote $50,000 for dredging channels from the intake to the western limits of the harbor lines.

The spirit of preparedness is fast being adopted by the people of the West, as it is already adopted in the East, and the requirements of expansion in business, in farming, in home management, in shipping, in finance, in production, in management of civic affairs, in progress of community interest, and in the political economy of the city, the county, the state and the nation, are fast compelling an enlargement of ideals that can only be satisfied through the result of greater achievement.

THE WAR SITUATION.

The prospects for an early termination of the great war are not improving as rapidly as the citizens of the belligerent nations would like. That hostilities will be prolonged through another winter appears at this time to be a reasonable certainty, providing the economic conditions in the German empire are as stable as the Imperial Government claims they are.

Germany has the manpower to remain in the conflict for many months, and perhaps several years to come, if the army and civilian population are provided with sufficient food to subsist upon. There is no reason to doubt that the population of the Central Powers has food enough to sustain life, as the war has been carried on almost entirely on foreign soil, which provides large additional land areas for cultivation, mostly by prisoners.

There is little chance for a revolution in Germany, and if an adequate food supply is conceded, then the war will be a battle of extermination, and how many years will be required to annihilate the powers fighting on the inside of the circle no man can foretell.

yield any of his authority until he is forced to do so, because he realizes that any concession on his part is a partial acknowledgment of defeat and would lead to his overthrow. Consequently, he is no doubt fully determined to hold the reigns of government absolutely in his hands as long as there is any possibility of doing so.

A regrettable feature about the war situation is that the American public is not given the real news of the war zones, and therefore has but little reliable data upon which to base any intelligent view of the international struggle.

As long as the German lines remain intact there is no occasion for anyone believing an early termination of the war probable.

THE POISON KISS.

[Los Angeles Times.]

Even the lowest savages concede that some things demand privacy. There are many acts in human life that are perfectly normal as performed in private, which are abnormal and revolting, done in public. We are all agreed upon that point.

And The Times raises its voice in protest against the voluptuous, poisoned kiss of the stage and the film, which is an outrage upon public decency, but which seems to be an essential feature of the modern drama. Whether it is a trite little bromidic scenario shown at the cheaper picture theaters, or a rampant vampire drama gorgeous with luxurious and thinly veiled indecency, the poisoned kiss seems to be the main stock-in-trade of the profession.

And it is to these shows that our young girls and boyhood go; it is these films that form the main recreation for a large part of the population. These films go all over the country, nay, all over the world. They are shown in the law-abiding small towns, the clean little villages; they are shown in the quiet residential suburbs and the university and college towns of every country in the world.

One has but to watch the effect of these long-drawn-out, unclean kisses on an audience to appreciate their debasing effect. An embarrassed snigger inevitably goes through the audience, there is a breathless self-consciousness evident in all parts of the house, and if one is so unfortunate as to have young girls and boys in their company, there is no room for doubt as to the effect these precious displays have upon them.

And The Times reiterates, as it always has done, that the masses of the public are normal, decent, wholesome. We do not believe that this form of neurotic hyper-sexed entertainment is to their taste. We do not believe that the great American public prefers smut in any form. The obvious embarrassment of the audiences in these theaters is evidence of that.

Not only the cinemas, but the magazine covers on the book stalls are crowded with this type of picture. Artists seem to vie with each other for the distinction of evolving the most lascivious type of kiss for portrayal. There would seem to be no possible justification for this modern excrement. It cannot be defended on the score of realism, for that would open the door to the public portrayal of every human act.

The poison kiss is obscene. It is revolting and low. No conscientious parents can allow the minds of their children to be impregnated with this view of life. It soils their very souls; it effectively removes the bloom of wholesome innocence. And the sooner the cinema realizes that the public taste is inherently decent, that public forbearance of their suggestive experimentation is nearly at an end, that this particular form of daring is objectionable and contaminating, the better for producers.

The Times would like to see our leading actors and actresses decline to lend themselves to this sort of exploited smut. We are assured that they are normal and wholesome people themselves in private life, that they would scorn to lead the lives they portray on the screen. Very well then. Why insult our tastes by presuming that we prefer that sort of thing for our entertainment? We can assure them very positively that our tastes are as wholesome as theirs.

We all like sentiment; we all like love scenes; we all like tales of daring and adventure, romance, chivalry, valor. Give us as much of them as you like. But we Americans don't like glorified vulgarity; we don't like lascivious suggestiveness. The Times utters this protest not because of any Puritanical squeamishness or pharisaical pretense, but simply because the public is sick of dramatized nuxvomica and really years to see shows that are entirely clean from beginning to end and do not call for either an emetic or an antiseptic.

LIBRARY FUND FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

WOMEN HAD ENTIRE CHARGE OF CAMPAIGN.

The women of Huntington Beach have shown the men that they are capable of taking entire charge of a campaign for raising money for a good cause.

When Miss Bertha Proctor received word that she was expected to contribute $75 of the $1,000,000 fund, to be raised in this country for the purpose of purchasing books for American soldiers and sailors, she called a meeting of the prominent women of the vicinity in the basement of the library building, and a plan of campaign was outlined, with the result that $78.52 will be contributed from this district, the contributions ranging from one cent to $5.00.

The women of Huntington Beach deserve much credit for the energetic manner in which they took charge of the work, and the achievement shows that the men are not the only ones who can handle such affairs.

The women who solicited the funds, and the amount each of them collected, follows: Mrs. H. L. Heffner, $5; Mrs. S. A. Moore, $2.35; Mrs. Ed Manning, $3.00; Mrs. T. B. Talbert, $7.20; Mrs. Reuben Catching, $3.00; Mrs. C. E. Kutzner, $9.00; Mrs. H. T. Dunning, $4.25; Mrs. Verne Cooper and Miss Theresa Halley, $9.05; Miss Proctor, $8.00; Mrs. C. R. Sanford and Miss Maude Swarth, $10.75; Mrs. M. A. McCreery, $2.50.

The following amounts were collected from the Grammar school: Kindergarten, 38 cents; first grade, 78 cents; second grade, 75 cents; third grade, $1.19; fourth grade, $1.06; fifth grade, $1.00; sixth grade, 75 cents; seventh grade, $1.66; eighth grade, $1.10. Total, $8.62.

BETTER GET YOUR HAIR CUT BEFORE OCTOBER 15TH.

On and after the fifteenth day of October the barbers of this city will charge 35 cents for hair cutting, so there will probably be a grand rush before that date.

MRS. JOSEPH G. PARSONS KILLED IN AUTO WRECK.

Mrs. Joseph G. Parsons, wife of the well-known merchant at Talbert, was killed in an automobile wreck on the Long Beach boulevard, near Westminster, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Parsons and two other women were in the machine at the time of the wreck, and the other two were seriously injured that they were unable to give any account of the unfortunate affair.

The car was a big Cadillac, and one, who was following closely, is inclined to believe that it was crowded off the road by a big machine that was being driven at a high rate of speed.

Mr. Parsons has been in business in Talbert for more than ten years, and has the deep sympathy of this entire section of the country.

RED CROSS INSTRUCTORS WERE HERE THURSDAY.

Mrs. J. E. Liebig, Mrs. W. E. Winslow and Mrs. W. L. Tubbs of Santa Ana were at the Red Cross headquarters, Thursday afternoon, and instructed the women present how to knit scarfs, sweaters, wristlets and socks.

The following have charge of the work: Mrs. Louis A. Copeland, scarfs; Mrs. Harry V. Anderson, sweaters; Mrs. Rose Rafferty, wristlets; Mrs. S. A. Moore, socks. Those desiring information about any of this work can call on the ladies indicated.

In the future the Red Cross room, next to Kutzner's confectionery store, will be open only from 2 to 4 each Thursday afternoon.

THE KAISER ONCE A PRINTER.

It may be interesting to know that William Hohenzollern, the German Kaiser, is a printer by trade, and once worked in the same shop with Max Oppenheim, editor of the Staats-Zeitung, published at Atlanta.

The princes of the royal house in Germany are each required to learn some useful trade, and when Emperor William was a boy he decided he would like to be a printer. So they sent him to a print shop in Berlin. Max Oppenheim was then a boy of about the same age as the future war lord of the German Empire, and says he worked side by side with William at the old-fashioned type case. The prince called his fellow-apprentice Max, and the latter addressed him as William.

Oppenheim has been in the United States for forty years, and his German language paper has a large circulation. He says he believes the German population in this country will be loyal to America.—Editor & Publisher, New York.

HONG KONG.

Speaking of the harbor of Hong Kong, which is, of course, famous throughout the East, a well-known traveler has described it as "one of the few harbors in the world which may be called perfect." However this may be, it presents a scene of great animation, on almost any day in the year. Whole fleets of junks and fishing boats are constantly coming in or going out, and merchant vessels come to Hong Kong from all parts of the world. The harbor, indeed, is one of the most notable features of the city, which, for more than four miles, runs along its southern rim, or climbs quaintly into the hills beyond. The official name of the city is, of course, Victoria; but most people allude to the island or the city indifferently as Hong Kong. It is a place of beautiful buildings, and many trees, and the way it has of mounting the hillside, terrace by terrace, at first closely compact, but, ultimately, spreading out as it reaches higher ground, with country houses and bungalows, gives it a peculiarly striking appearance, as viewed from the sea.

Hong Kong, in fact, is divided into three layers, extending up the hillside one above another. First comes the "Praya," or esplanade, some fifty feet wide, given over to shipping. The main commercial street runs inland, parallel to the Praya, and beyond this, on either side, lies the Chinese quarter, with a population of almost incredible density. The second stratum of the town lies ten minutes' climb "up the side of the island," and this is the beautiful part. Government House and other well-known public buildings are here, and everywhere are to be seen well-laid-out gardens, both public and private; whilst many of the roads are bordered with bamboos and other delicately fringed trees, and are fringed with the luxuriant growth of semi-tropical vegetation. Finally, there is the third layer, known as the "Peak," and it is here that the hill-sides, as already noted, are dotted with summer houses, with the Governor's summer residence occupying the highest point.

As for history, Hong Kong has very little, for, compared with immemorial China, of which it was, of course, once a part, it is very much a place of yesterday. It was in 1841 that it first came into the hands of the British. The war of 1840 had been brought to a hasty end, by the authorities at Peking, when Sir Hugh Gough, having occupied Amoy, Ming-Po, Shanghai, and other places of importance, threatened Nankin. Dreading to lose the "Southern capital," the Chinese Government proposed terms of peace, and, about a year later, a treaty was signed by Sir Henry Pottinger, at Nankin, one of the provisions of which was that Hong Kong, which the British had occupied two years before, should be ceded to the United Kingdom.

The whole history of modern Hong Kong, as the traveler sees it today, is comprised within these eighty years or so. They have, however, been years of enterprise and steady growth. Of late, the city has been specially engaged in spreading itself over the mainland at the other side of the narrow channel, known as the Lyemun, or Carpfish Pass. At first only four square miles on the mainland were leased from the Chinese, but this was ceded in perpetuity, by the Peking Convention of 1860, and in 1898, the British Government, feeling the need of more land to allow of development and adequate defense, secured from China, on a lease of ninety-nine years, the territory behind the Kowloon Peninsula, consisting, in all, of some 376 square miles. Hong Kong is today, of course, the great distributing port of the world for Southern China, as Shanghai is for the North, and, as China develops, the city surely has before it unlimited prospects of prosperity.—Editorial in Christian Science Monitor.

P. E. WILL BUILD 300 FREIGHT CARS AT ONCE.

WILL SPEND $1,200,000 FOR REPAIR PLANT.

With the temporary building 75 by 220 feet already constructed for the building of 300 freight cars required for immediate delivery, the Pacific Electric has set aside approximately $1,200,000 for the construction at Torrance of one of the biggest car construction and repair plants in the West. This will benefit all of Southern California.

Already the contracts for the steel work, for the traveling cranes and for the transfer tables have been let. The necessary trackage has been laid and the grading at the shop site has been completed.

Construction of this plant is leaving room at Seventh and Central for the construction of the Wholesale Terminal, while on the Northern, Southern and Western Divisions of the Pacific Electric, subsidiary plants are being constructed to permit of light repairs. The location of these plants are such as to greatly improve the service on all lines.

The Torrance plant, through its proximity to San Pedro, is in a particularly good location, and is being built on a plot of 125 acres, which meet all present needs, and allow for 100 per cent future expansion, besides permitting ample storage for heavy freight service.

The new shops are to have about 100 per cent more capacity than is now required for the company's equipment. Only heavy overhauling and new work will be regularly undertaken. All light repairs are expected to be handled in the various division carhouses, and the present plan is to run equipment for eighteen months or more between general overhauls. Owing to this plan, there are many unique features in the general layout of buildings.

The general layout is the result of months of careful study, and a car will be assembled or dismantled with all the precision claimed for the great Ford factory efficiency system.

The buildings have been laid out so as to require as few reverse movements and as little handling of material as possible.

An interesting feature of the shop is the basement for the driving belts, thus eliminating much confusion and danger to the men, while a clubhouse and athletic grounds will be provided for employees.

The principal buildings are to have steel frames, brick walls, reinforced concrete roof, steel sash and creosoted wood block floor. Large window openings will be provided in the side walls, which, together with three continuous runs of skylight 15 feet wide in the three main buildings, will give a maximum of daylight.

LETTER FROM CAMP SHERIDAN, MONTGOMERY, ALA.

After crossing the San Bernardino mountains we traveled on the sunbeaten desert for two days, and we were very glad when we left it. On the evening of the second day we started to cross a strip of land which was as level as any dance floor that I ever saw and not a spear of grass to be seen. We were rimmed in by mountains, but it took us an hour and thirty minutes to cross it, and just the same smooth, slick floor all the way. Our conductor told us that it was a dry salt lake.

The third day we were in Texas, and so we had a far different kind of scenery from there on. Texas has many kinds of scenery, starting with the desert, with its cactus and up to the very finest of moss and fern-grown woods. However, our first sight of Texas was somewhat different than you may expect to hear, for it was raining and the country was only rolling hills. About ten o'clock in the morning of the third day we entered a long ravine or valley, and the shades of color and the beautiful, mossy grass made one of the finest scenes which I have ever seen. Imagine coming out of the desert, where all that you have seen has been sage brush and cactus, and dropping into a valley where the rocks are every color of the rainbow and sticking out of the mossy grass in every shape which you can picture. That was but a touch of the beauty; but we went to bed again that night looking at rolling hills and a country which in many ways might make one think of the Dakotas.

It was very pleasant on the fourth day when we awoke to find that we were passing through numerous small towns and several larger ones, and the weather was ideal—the sun shining, birds singing, and all seemed to be well with the world.

San Antonio, Texas, was the first place of any importance, and we arrived there about seven-thirty in the morning. We all got off and strolled around the town until eight-thirty, when we were again on our way. All the way from there on the country seemed to grow in beauty, until we reached Houston, which, in my mind, was the prettiest sight of all. We were allowed to roam around here for forty minutes, and we made good use of the time. Out of Houston for miles and miles runs a fine, white, macadamized road which winds in and out of the most beautiful growth of evergreen, pine, spruce and hemlock trees that I have ever seen. The undergrowth is very dense, but very beautiful. It looks as though man had never as yet penetrated its depths. In it I saw trees and shrubs that I had never seen before and that I have not as yet been able to find the names of.

We arrived in New Orleans the following morning at five-thirty, and had until nine-fifteen before we had to leave. My uncle had told me that if I ever got a chance to see New Orleans to see the old French settlement and the Italian, and so with a few friends I at once set off to see the city. I saw a good deal of it, and especially the French section, and it was indeed worth going to see. However, there is one thing which impresses me very much as they go through these Southern cities, and that is the dirtiness of them in comparison with our well-kept-up Western cities.

I don't know whether it is worth while describing the country from New Orleans to Montgomery or not, but I know one thing: I wouldn't give fifteen cents for all the land between New Orleans and Mobile. There are, however, some very pretty sights between Mobile and here.

Montgomery lies on the Alabama river, as you perhaps know. It is a quaint, old-fashioned town. There is very little of the very fine section, but most of the town is of a poor set of frame buildings. There are parks here, and one very fine one, but people seem to be so lazy in this country that they even begrudge spending effort enough to fix up places for amusement or taking the same. There is nothing in town for the soldier boy but the movies, and most of them are not fit to go to.

Camp Sheridan lies out about five miles from town, but there is a street car line runs out here and one can go or come for a five-cent fare, so the boys have no real kick coming.

Camp Sheridan, c/o M. C. Chauffeurs, No. 216, Montgomery, Ala.

HOW THE WAR HAS CHANGED NEWPORT.

"Like thousands of other places, Newport has been made over by the war. The very streets look different; the spirit of its people has undergone a sweeping transformation. Although this is true of every other city, yet I think it is most evident in Newport—for in the past the spirit of Newport has been social, its activities have been the activities of society, and in many ways it has been a social model for the rest of America."

Mrs. French Vanderbilt is the authority for this statement. She has written for the October issue of Harper's Bazar an article on the Red Cross and other war relief work in Newport.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

REMEMBER!

A Tire is no better than the tube you put in it.

If you are attempting to economize in your car up-keep, don't start with tubes.

When you put down good money for the casing you believe will give the best service, do not weaken it by making it work with an inferior tube.

Porous, cheap tubes frequently leak badly after short usage, are easily punctured and blowout unexpectedly. Be as sure of the tube as of the tire.

MANY AUTOMOBILISTS VISITED YOSEMITE VALLEY.

One of the greatest gathering places for motor cars in America is what the Yosemite Valley and the Yosemite National Park has become this season. Cars of 112 different makes, to a number over five thousand, have found their way here into the heart of the mountains. During May and the three summer months, according to the detailed reports of the government's rangers' office, just compiled, 4763 private automobiles entered the Park and Valley, bringing in over 16,600 people.

One car came into the Valley in March; one in April; 173 in May; 1288 in June; 1966 in July, and 1336 in August. Below is given a list of the forty cars having the greatest number of entrants this season.

Yosemite as the Mecca of Motorism is firmly established by this year's big increase, and with the completion of the new state highway between Mariposa and the border of the Park in the next two years travel will be doubled and perhaps quadrupled. With the high grade to be surmounted cut down to 2000 feet and a roadbed of nowhere more than six per cent grade, motoring into the Valley need involve no special skill or courage not needed for ordinary lowland travel. Already more than half the valley visitors come in their own cars, independent of railroads and stage lines.

Of the 4763 private cars entering, 1629 came to Camp Curry, which to date has entertained 12,510 of the 30,000 visitors to the Valley. Private campers, almost exclusively coming in their own cars, have numbered between 11,000 and 12,000.

The comparative number of cars of the different makes, and especially the cars which lead in the list will be of interest to all motorists. The Fords here, as elsewhere, confirm an inevitable lead with 1024 cars out of the 4763.

For the four main months travel, May to August inclusive, the leading higher-powered and higher-priced cars follow:

- Buick, 469; Dodge, 350; Overland, 314; Studebaker, 311; Cadillac, 278; Hudson, 175; Maxwell, 121; Hupmobile, 99; Reo, 96; Chandler, 92; Packard, 84; Chevrolet, 82; Oldsmobile, 81; Haynes, 80; Franklin, 79; Chalmers, 77; Oakland, 74; Saxon, 62; Pierce-Arrow, 61; Locomobile, 43; Marmon, 40; Mitchell, 37; Paige, 33; Winton, 32; Velle, 32; Kissel Kar, 31; Stutz, 26; National, 26; Cole, 25; Apperson, 23; Jeffery, 23; Willys-Knight, 21; Stevens-Duryea, 19; Premier, 14; Grant, 14; King, 13; Dort, 13; White, 13; Peerless, 12; and Pope-Hartford, 12.

AGREEMENT.

There is Money in Beach Acreage

There are only 8½ miles of high beach frontage now available close to Los Angeles, and 5 miles is occupied by the cities of Santa Monica, Redondo and Long Beach. Huntington Beach has the other 3½ miles.

If you price close-in acreage at the older and larger beach cities you will find it has reached a figure that is almost prohibitive, and that there is no longer a chance for quick increase and good profits, while at Huntington Beach you can buy good, close-in acreage for

$350 to $500 an Acre
Easy Terms

Full half-acre tracts inside city limits, on or near paved boulevards, with every city convenience.

Only $500

Terms—$50.00 cash, balance $25.00 every three months. Now is the time to buy, while prices are low.
