

MORE ROOM NEEDED

GROWTH OF CITY MAKES NECESSARY ADDITION TO THE CITY HALL

If there are those who think the addition to the city hall which is now being constructed is unnecessary, they might be converted by a visit to that place during business hours. Work cannot be done to the best advantage where four or five persons are crowded in a ten-by-ten room or where books must be carried back and forth from one room to another. Glendale people are proud of the rapid growth of the city and necessarily the city's business increases as the city grows. The public service department, embracing both the municipal electric lighting system and the water system, is a concern of considerable magnitude. Several persons are required to do the work and they should have enough office space to transact the business of the department to the best advantage. This department pays its own way and will pay office rent to the city when the addition is completed.

Glendale had a commodious city hall at the time it was built, but developments have since made it inadequate to the needs of the city government.

One of the best ways to learn about the needs of public offices is to visit that office in person and notice carefully its workings and its requirements.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Mertens of 1109 North Louise street, with Mrs. Mertens' mother, Mrs. A. L. Rankin, and their little son, Master Carl Weldon Mertens, were guests of Mr. Mertens' mother, Mrs. Madeline Mertens of Los Angeles, last Sunday at a dinner party in honor of the birthdays of Mrs. Rankin and Master Carl. Other guests were Mr. Chas. Duclous and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lockwood of Hawthorne street, Glendale, and Miss Lucile Nevins of Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Whitten of Kenneth road entertained with a beautifully appointed family dinner party Wednesday in honor of the forty-sixth wedding anniversary of Mr. Whitten's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Whitten of Los Angeles. Among the guests who enjoyed the happy occasion were Mr. Harold Sanders of Salt Lake City, Mrs. Mary J. Sanders of New York, Mrs. Ella W. Baker of Michigan and Mr. J. Stuart Whitten of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fairchild of 1321 Arden avenue entertained at a beautifully appointed full-course dinner party last Tuesday evening. Fragrant pink and white carnations were used to decorate the attractive home and also the daintily set table, where covers were laid for the eight guests, among whom were Dr. DeMey and Mr. H. B. Birchby of Los Angeles, DeLloyd Thompson, Ralph Newcomb, Reginald Thompson and C. C. Bancroft.

Mrs. Lawrence Farnum and daughter, Miss Marguerite Koepke, of the Hotel Waldo, Los Angeles, spent last Sunday in North Glendale calling upon former neighbors while here.

Mrs. Lawrence Williams of Burdett street and Mrs. Allan Fairchild of 1321 Arden avenue will enjoy the matinee at the Burbank theater this afternoon, witnessing "The Lady We Love."

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mertens of 1109 North Louise street will entertain as their house guests for the week Miss Hazel Clarice Vallarngoure of Boston and Mr. Ernest Gagnon of Vancouver, B. C.

KEEP EYE OUT FOR THIS MAN

It has come to our attention that the bulb swindler who has been so busy in Pasadena and Santa Ana recently, has arrived in Glendale and Tropic, but it is hoped that the people of these cities will not stand for him and will report his appearance to the police at once.

This man, who brings to the door a handful of bulbs, claims that they are sacred bulbs of Mexico and that they are very rare and beautiful, with great fragrant blossoms. Now it so happens that they are merely the common calladium or elephant ear bulbs, on which he has plentifully sprinkled some bargain counter perfume. He charges the handsome price of $7.50 a dozen for these precious things and claims to have sold about five dozen in Glendale and Tropic. It seems incredible that women would believe such a story, when everyone knows that no matter how fragrant the flowers, bulbs never have any perfume. He has been run out of Tropic and it is feared he is now in Glendale, so look out, ladies, for the bulb man!

WINGS VS. WHEELS

AVIATOR THOMPSON AND BARNEY OLDFIELD TO THRILL PASADENA CROWDS

A brand new motor, rushed expressly from Washington at the insistence of the Pasadena Elks, has reached Aviator Delloyd Thompson and will be used by the young aviator when he appears at the big entertainment fund show which the antlered ones of the Crown City will stage at Tournament park, Pasadena, Saturday. The aerial wonder has promised the Elks that when he and Barney Oldfield appear on the field they will show some thrills that will be nothing short of wonderful.

Thompson and Oldfield form the strongest possible attraction that could be secured, and the Elks are confident that the big grandstand at Tournament park, which seats 12,000 persons, will be filled to overflowing. Parties from all over Southern California have been made up to visit the great show, and it is freely predicted, in view of the big advance sale of seats, that records for attendance will be easily broken.

The big fort, which will form a feature of the exhibition, and which will be destroyed by Thompson when he drops high powered bombs from aloft, is being erected at the park, and promises to present a most realistic appearance. Because of the great interest prevalent in the European war, the depiction of the part that aeroplanes are playing in the conflict will be highly educational and instructive, as Thompson is a past master at the art of dropping bombs, and the scenic part of the exhibition is well arranged.

Both Oldfield and Thompson have promised to give two of Pasadena's fairest society maids a real thrill. The speed master will take one young lady with him on one of his record trials around the track, and Thompson is ready to give another one an even greater nerve tingler by having her as passenger when he does his famous loop-the-loop, high above the ground.

DIVIDING THE STATE

The plan of dividing the state is very simple, not in the commendable sense. The simplicity is that associated with the milder type of imbecile. The division is to be brought about by a popular vote so changing the boundaries of California as to reduce the part south of the Tehachapi to territorial status. Of course, the South would have to furnish a large share of this popular vote. The spectacle of Southern California solemnly crawling out on a limb and then sawing the limb off would be novel.

A manifest fault of the scheme is that it refrains from going to the proper length. Why a mere division into two, where there is area here for scores of Rhode Islands? There are single counties big enough each to make several states. Lop 'em just as soon as they have sufficient population. Soon the present California would be an imposing array of sovereign commonwealths, holding the balance of power, and running the country about as they pleased.

Seriously, though, the plan even of simple division cannot be put through. Feeling kindly toward the proponents the people would be glad to do something for them, perhaps enlarging the asylums for their benefit, but they won't consent to be cut-ups. It would be cruel to the North. With a state line between, the North no longer could watch the South piling up money and remark with its present sangfroid, "come across."—Pasadena News.

HERE'S REAL DELIVERY SERVICE

The fame of California's products and Johnson & Lyons' delivery service has sure traveled some, said Riley Lyons of the above well-known grocery firm the other day. "For we've just shipped a large order to Mrs. L. J. Stark, of 129 West Second street, Cedar Rapids, Iowa." He further stated that they couldn't be stumped on deliveries, providing that their patrons didn't ask that they ship anything to the European war zone.

FREAK FIRE ACTION

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—A deceptive fire locked itself in the attic and top-most floor of the old section of the Kaiserhof hotel, 316 South Clark street, today, and for three hours defied firemen with batteries of apparatus to stamp it out. Approximately 350 guests, some of them of national distinction, were compelled to leave hurriedly.

Among those driven from the building was Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He was engaged in an important conference with union chiefs.

HUGE TABERNACLE IS NOW NEARLY COMPLETE

DRIVERS IN THE GLENDALE ROAD RACES HAVE RIVALS IN THE PREACHERS AND CARPENTERS WHO HAVE ESTABLISHED WORLD'S RECORDS IN ERECTION OF THE HUGE BUILDING TO HOUSE SPECIAL MEETINGS

Mr. C. P. Curry, Evangelistic Singer

Many visitors are flocking to inspect the Brown and Curry tabernacle, which is now completed excepting the seats, platform and other interior furnishings, a credit to the Glendale, Casa Verdugo and Tropic workmen.

Brotherly co-operation and speed rivaling the Glendale auto race have been shown in the work on the big edifice, seconded by the effort of the ladies in refreshing noon lunches served with hot coffee. Surely the churches are dead earnest about this revival campaign and it is safely prophesied that in a few days there will be one big interest in Glendale and the surrounding towns and that will be the Brown and Curry tabernacle meetings.

Seats will be provided for over

15,000, including the large chorus, and it is quite possible to crowd in almost 500 more. The First Baptist church is next door, where will be established headquarters for the several committees and if necessary an auditorium for overflow meetings.

The building committee will soon have a splendid report in the way of substantial results, despite rain and races, a strong body of workers and preachers being always steadily on the job. That still foreman is a marvel of quiet, orderly and harmonious management and is very much at home on religious edifices, having erected among other temples, the Baptist and Presbyterian churches of Glendale. Come around and see him and don't forget to ask for something to do.

HENDRICKS NOW AT HOME IN "THE BROADWAY"

R. L. Hendricks, one of Glendale's pioneer merchants, has been a busy man the past few days moving his large stock of dry goods and men's furnishings from his old location at 1102 West Broadway to his new location on the corner of Broadway and Maryland, where he has the much needed room for the display of his stock, as well as better windows and lights.

CHECK RACE RECEIPTS

Officials of the Elks' road race pulled off in Glendale Wednesday are busy checking over receipts today and figuring the exact amount of the prizes to be paid to the winning drivers.

While no phenomenal speed was made Wednesday, the verdict of all is a very successful race from every standpoint. There were no serious accidents and considering the four sharp corners of the course, good time was made.

The Elks are indebted to Sergeant Heath of the Los Angeles police force and Officers Gara, Lawrence, Brown, Creason, Critchfield, Lewis, Sanders, Penrice, Isackson and Haffner for their services as special officers along the course.

ANNIVERSARY NUMBERS

The kind of anniversary numbers we have are such that the more of them we sell, the more of them we have on hand. There are about seven hundred of them in stock yet. They are being sold for five cents per copy, and including mailing, eight cents per copy. The Chamber of Commerce has received flattering letters from prospective Glendale citizens. Aid in the good work of advertising Glendale by mailing out several dozen of these numbers.

One great sin of this world is backbiting.

C. H. MUNSON WEDS

MISS VERA ATKINSON OF LOS ANGELES THE BRIDE OF LOCAL MAN

A social event of much interest to Glendale people occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Atkinson, 1903 Harvard boulevard, Los Angeles, Wednesday evening, February 3, when their daughter, Miss Vera Atkinson, became the bride of Mr. Chas. H. Munson, Glendale's popular druggist. The wedding was an elaborate and beautiful affair. The decorations were very appropriately of white, lilies, carnations, smilax and ferns being used to charming effect. In this beautiful setting, surrounded by a hundred and fifty of their friends, the young people spoke the marriage vows.

The bridal party took their places at 8:30. Two little girls with silken ribbons formed an aisle for the bride and her sister who attended her. At the improvised altar they met the groom and Dr. Miller, an Episcopalian rector, who joined them, using the ring ceremony. Following the ceremony a wedding repast was served and the guests were entertained with music.

Mr. and Mrs. Munson left Thursday morning for San Diego, where they will visit the exposition for a week before returning to Glendale.

JUSTICE TO LETTER CARRIERS

The man that hands you your mail every morning is looking for justice—and he's going to get it if the concerted action of 33,000 men can so achieve it.

The letter carriers of the country have a national association that is working hard for the passage in congress of the Hamill bill, the object of which is to retire superannuated civil service employees' particularly letter carriers, on half pay. In California the work is being pushed with extra vigor, and already the endorsement of two hundred civic bodies, fraternal organizations and unions has been secured, and these represent more than 1,000,000 persons.

At present, when a mail carrier becomes too old, even after thirty or more years of service, to pack the mail bag, he is discharged and that ends it. Under the Hamill bill, these faithful servants of the public, whose pay is the lowest in the scale of responsible work among government employees, will receive from 40 to 50 per cent of their salaries, according to term of service.

C. F. Lewis, an Oakland carrier, is chairman of the Hamill bill publicity committee of the California state association of letter carriers, and he declares that within a few weeks an active campaign will be started all through the state to bring pressure to bear on congress to see that this bill is passed.

MEXICO HAS NEW PRESIDENT

EL PASO, Feb. 3.—Francisco Villa has proclaimed himself in charge of the presidency of Mexico. This was announced in a telegram from Gen. Villa received tonight by his agents here. Villa appointed these ministers to take charge of the civil government.

Gen. Villa by this act becomes the tenth man to assume the provisional presidency of Mexico since the downfall of the Diaz dictatorship in 1911. He gave as his reason for assuming the office that his force had been separated from the convention government headed by Roque Gonzales Garza, as provisional president, who left with the Zapata forces when they departed south from Mexico City at its occupation recently by Obregon's Carranza troops. Villa telegraphed from Aguascalientes under date of today the following:

"Telegraphic communication having been cut off between the convention government and the division under my command, and as public service cannot be interrupted in the extensive zone which I control, I have found myself compelled to assume the political authority, creating three political administrative departments; the foreign affairs and justice department in charge of Attorney M. Diaz Lombardo; state and communications, Gen. Luis de la Garza Cardenas; treasury and industry, Attorney Francisco Escudero."

We should not always strive to be on the popular side. Some times it is the wrong side.

A SOCIAL GATHERING

MONTHLY MEETING OF SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS HELD ON WEDNESDAY

Forty-five of the sixty-five members of the Loyal Women's Sunday school class of the Christian church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. H. Jackson of 1416 Milford street. It was their regular monthly social gathering, but there was also a surprise in store for two of the members. It was the fifty-ninth wedding anniversary of Mrs. H. J. Hartley and the birthday of Mrs. S. J. Mosher. After prayer, the good old hymn, "How Firm a Foundation, Ye Saints of the Lord," was sung, and then the two elderly ladies were seated side by side, as nearly as possible facing everybody, and each was presented with a cake, one decorated with violets and the other with sixteen lighted candles. Violets and other gifts were handed the astonished pair. The presentation speech was made by Mrs. Daugherty in most appropriate and touching original verses, followed by the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Mrs. Mosher's youngest daughter sang two beautiful solos. Delicious refreshments were then served by the charming hostess, Mrs. Jackson, and members of her section of the class.

Mrs. Hartley said her blessings in life had been many, and her two fine daughters and daughter-in-law and grandchild, present, were certainly some of the blessings she could count. Talk about heroes! Mrs. Mosher in middle life was left a widow with thirteen children and everyone has reached years of maturity, not one but has a sterling worth of which any community may be proud, and certainly bespeaks the excellent character of the mother.

STORMY VOYAGE

Mr. J. L. Dean arrived in Glendale Wednesday from Tacoma after a very stormy voyage. Mr. Dean is fond of telling Pacific coast people about what the Atlantic ocean can do on the shores of Maine, but after this trip on the Harvard he has promised to keep still and acknowledges that the Pacific wave story may be put down with the tree, mountain, orange and other stories of these parts. He and his daughters, Gertrude and Inez; his grandchild, Marion Hooper, and a friend, Mr. Governor, will make 1526 Ivy street their home. Mr. Dean is to have charge of the high school cafeteria until June. He is a man whose influence among students will be of great value, for he comes with sympathy for young life. It is to be hoped the parents will co-operate with Mr. Dean in this work.

COTTAGE MEETINGS

A number of interesting prayer meetings were held this morning. Tomorrow meetings are announced as follows:

- Mrs. Sangford, 415 West Ninth.
- Mrs. Pinford, 117 N. Maryland.
- Mrs. W. D. MacRae, 1436 Salem.
- Mrs. W. J. Clendenin, 246 Orange.
- Mrs. J. H. Volvin, 235 East First.
- Rev. C. R. Norton, 373 W. Third.
- L. E. Brockman, 452 East Second.
- Mrs. Schumacker, 358 Orange Grove avenue.

Mrs. T. W. Preston, 725 Adams. Meetings will be held in Casa Verdugo under the direction of Dr. Soper and in Tropic under the charge of Rev. R. T. Smith.

SOCIETY MEETING

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the West Glendale Methodist church met on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Ward of 1509 Hawthorne street. Mrs. J. E. Henderson, president, called the meeting to order and roll call was answered by each with some fact or anecdote concerning some Indian tribe. A number of interesting facts were thus brought out and then Mrs. Flora Pixley read from the study book. This year's study is about the Redman and is a very broad subject for consideration.

A. A. A. HAPPY BUNCH

Wednesday's road races in Glendale, which were conducted under the rules of the American Automobile association, demonstrated that the members of that body and their followers are a happy bunch and would commonly be called "good fellows." They have but little use for the man or men who do not line up with them. Just about so it is with every organization—you must be one of them if you wish recognition.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Booth, who have been visiting in Victorville and also in Salt Lake City, returned home Wednesday evening.

LIFE'S LOVELINESS

Think lovely thoughts, that every day be blest;
 Look thou for God, nor fancy Him concealed;
 Along earth's common way the flowers and grass
 Will breathe His name to thee when thou shalt pass.
 To thy divinest self He stands revealed,
 His conquering power through love made manifest.
 Speak lovely words, to fall like sunlight rays
 That youth may be so long, and age but brief,
 To add to joy in life a little more,
 And take some misery out of earth's vast store.
 So shalt thou walk with gladness and not grief,
 Planting a hope in all the thorny ways.

Do lovely deeds, of brotherhood the bond:
 Each burden nobly lifted and each task,
 Each day's plain duty teaches thee to bless
 The friendless lives brave in their loneliness,
 Ere yet they near the shadows and the mask
 And those untrodden paths that stretch beyond.

Thoughts, words and deeds! To stand for truth in all!
 This is the creed that counts. Unflinching toil,
 Staunch fortitude and strength of patience born;
 Securely treading though the way be worn.
 Fronting the light, nor fearing to recoil,
 Facing the right, nor looking back to fall. —Chamber's Journal.

REASONS FOR POOR BUSINESS

A few business men in Glendale are constantly complaining about dull times in business, and yet they can afford to be absent from their place of business until after 8 o'clock in the morning. It was only this morning a business house on Broadway had locked doors at 8:10 o'clock, and customers were waiting for the arrival of the proprietor.

The average business man in Glendale is a hustler, and the after-eight o'clock plan does not go with them. It is true, a man has a right to open up his place of business at any hour he may choose, but if he is not on his job at a time to accommodate the public, the public will go elsewhere, and then the howl goes up—"hard times, no patronage." Be on your job if you want business.

DELIVERIES OF LOW VALUE

This is indeed an age for the free delivery of articles. It would seem that the free delivery contagion is in the air, floating about everywhere. It is deliver large articles, it is deliver small articles, it is deliver what you sell, and it is deliver what you give away.

A few days ago a notice was published in the Evening News that U. S. government seeds would be given out free at The News office. To our surprise, it was not many hours until a lady called the office by phone and asked that we deliver packages of seeds to her home.

To be truthful, merchants are losing out on the free delivery plan in instances where only articles of little value are ordered. Five and ten cent orders are delivered only with a hope that larger orders will follow.

SANITATION IN GREAT ARMIES

Ruthless and appalling as the great war is, viewed even in its least horrible aspects, there is one ray of light—"mid the encircling gloom"—that is, the excellent sanitation on the firing line. It is little short of miraculous that such vast bodies of men should be so exposed to the elements in the dead of winter, under constant nervous tension, without fearful epidemics breaking out and decimating the armies. In former great wars the mortality from disease has been frightful. But in this conflict, even under the most adverse conditions, the death record from disease has been kept very low, thanks to the most scientific system of sanitation that ever has been adopted upon battlefields and in the trenches and camps, where great armies are quartered. Had it not been for this triumph of sanitary skill, the death rate from scourgeful diseases must needs have been frightful ere this. Let us be thankful for anything that minimizes the horror of the struggle.

Announcements

EPISCOPAL AUXILIARY

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church will meet with Mrs. Martha Morris, 336 Everett street, at half past two o'clock on Friday afternoon.

NOTICE

A report is being circulated that I have sold out and this is to advise my friends and patrons that nothing could be farther from the truth. On the contrary, I expect to continue indefinitely to supply you with the purest, richest and most sanitary milk that has ever been sold in this city.

W. L. TRUITT, Prop. of Glendale Purity Dairy. 14544

W. C. T. U. TONIGHT

Mrs. C. O. Pulliam of 148 South Kenwood street will entertain the W. C. T. U. and their husbands and friends this evening in a social affair to which any tourists interested are also invited. A short program of readings and musical numbers will be given and the state president of the organization, Mrs. Lucy S. Blanchard of Los Angeles, will give a short address. New members will be formally received and refreshments will be served. Come and have a good time.

PHILANTHROPIC MEETING

The philanthropic committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club will have charge of the club meeting on February 9th. The chief speaker of the afternoon is Miss Sue Barnwell of the International Institute for Young Women. Her subject is "Emigration." Miss Barnwell was formerly a teacher in the Glendale Union high school. There will be vocal solos by Mrs. Cunningham of the Glendale Choral club and by Miss Burlingame of Pasadena, also a cornet solo by Miss Ethel Baker of Tropic. Refreshments will be served. This is an open meeting and guest cards will not be required.

C. E. BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

On Sunday evening at 6 o'clock at the First Congregational church, corner of Third street and Central avenue, will be held a Christian Endeavor rally. The First Presbyterian society with speakers and singers from the county union will furnish the program.

February 7th is known as Christian Endeavor day, since it marks the thirty-fourth anniversary of the organization. The rally is a boost for the Endeavor in Glendale, for Los Angeles county, and for the coming convention at Pasadena. A helpful, inspiring service is planned. Be sure to come and get your share. BESSIE L. FIELD.

PRICE CUTTING

As everybody should know, the practice of cutting prices of standard goods is done for the purpose of deceiving unwary buyers into believing that because a few goods well-known and nationally advertised are being sold below the regular price, that everything in the store is being sold much cheaper than they can be procured elsewhere. The claim that price-cutting is in the interest of the consumer is wholly unfounded since the loss on standard goods must be, and always is, made up by higher prices charged for unknown goods of doubtful quality.

The price-cutting retail merchant sells certain standard articles at ruinously low prices. He takes a loss on the sale, but of course he benefits in some other way, else he would not have made the sale. So also do the few customers who get the bargain receive temporary benefit, but on the other hand the whole community suffers, as for instance:

First: Price-cutting shakes public confidence in the value of the articles cut. If people have once bought a can of paint for 89 cents, it is hard to make them believe that it is worth a dollar the next time, so if price-cutting continues it becomes more and more difficult to sell the article for what it is really worth. Something else without a known value and therefore not attractive as a bargain takes its place.

Second: Price-cutting cuts down the established standard of values. It makes it hard for the public to know what merchandise is really worth and thus opens a way to a general over-charging by unscrupulous merchants.

Third: Price-cutting undermines the small store, which maintains an honest, steady level of prices on all goods, the year 'round. The small store thus threatened is one of the important economic factors of community life.

Fourth: Price-cutting hurts the trade of reputable manufacturers by creating an unfair doubt as to the real worth of their goods.

A San Pedro youth, worried over debts of $1.75, perpetrated a hold-up that netted $7.75, thus permitting him to settle his accounts, be clear of conscience and $6 to the good. Doubtless he had begun to think this a happy world, when the police had to interfere and spoil it all.

SOME POLISH NAMES

The Polish campaign suffers under the disadvantage of abounding in names of places which cannot easily be pronounced and remembered. This disadvantage is not remedied by the fact that in the bulletins transmitted from Russia the Polish way of spelling is very often discarded in favor of the Russian, which, being based on an alphabet different from the Polish, proceeds on purely phonetic principles. For instance, the Polish "Kalisz" becomes the Russian "Kalish," and the Polish "Szczerkow" becomes the Russian "Shtcherkov." Thus the reader often meets with what appear to be two different names, which, however, denote in reality the same place.

In the above example "Szczerkow" will appeal to most readers as an almost grotesque succession of consonants hardly to be attempted by a mortal tongue. What they represent, however, is this: "Sz" is pronounced "Sh" and "Cz" is the equivalent of "Tch" (as in Tchaykovsky). In addition the letter "w" is pronounced as "v." Hence that formidable name reads, "Sh-tcher-kov." The reader will also understand why "Kalisz" is phonetically equivalent to "Kalish," and "Czenstochow" to "Tchenstochov." But in this latter name it is also necessary to bear in mind that the Polish "ch" (like the corresponding German) is pronounced as in the Scottish "Loch." Hence, "Czenstochow" will be pronounced "Tchenstokhov."

Again, a stumbling block for the common reader is the Polish "c," this letter is always pronounced "ts" whether it stands before a soft or a hard vowel or even a consonant. Thus "Kielce," "Pillca" and "Plock" are respectively pronounced "Kielts" "Pilltsa" and "Ploctsk." On the other hand, the letter "z" when no associated with another letter, as in "Sz" or "Cz," is invariably pronounced like the English "z."

Along with the "s" or "c" the Polish "z" is often associated with "r" in which case it is curiously enough turned into "sh" while the "z" disappears. Hence "Przemysl" is pronounced simply "Pshemysl." Lastly, the final "e" is always pronounced as in "Kielce."—London Daily News.

HOW SHOPKEEPERS WASH THEIR WINDOWS

Housekeepers ought to know how shopkeepers have their windows washed. The latter would laugh at the soap and water used by the former and call them waste of energy and time. Their method is this:

Mix one part of alcohol with three times its bulk of water and stir in enough whiting to thicken it to the consistency of thin cream. Apply it to the glass with waste or a cotton cloth. Leave it to dry, which it will do in fifteen or twenty minutes.

Then rub it off with a clean cloth. The window is not only cleaned, but polished, the woodwork is in no way injured and much time and labor have been saved.

SILK-WORM EGGS NOT SUPPLIED BY GOVERNMENT

For some years the bureau of entomology of this department has been overwhelmed every spring with requests for silk-worm eggs received from people in different sections of the country, who have been misled by unauthorized statements to the effect that silk-worm eggs could be obtained from this bureau upon application. The silk-worm investigations of the department were discontinued a number of years ago.

LONGING FOR THE COUNTRY

I am longing for the country where they still eat mush and milk. And where the socks have not yet changed from wool to lustrous silk; Where the good wife still wears calico and 'bout style never frets, Where girls still smell of wood smoke —not of talc and cigarets. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

I'm longing for the country where I used to have cold feet; Where the winters are a terror and the summers are a treat; Where the women and the children do not fear the outdoor air. And a fellow's private business is no neighborhood affair. —Nebraska Journal.

Congressman Bowdle has the distinction of having delivered an address so vulgar that it had to be expurgated before appearing in the Record. Even this process failed to rid it of the evidences of ignorance. Perhaps Bowdle has other distinctions, but the country at large does not know about them. It would not be surprising, indeed, if in telling a story to a bar-room crowd he would be found to excel.

FOUNDATION STONES FOR SUCCESS IN FORESTRY

The following article is one of a series answering the question, "What are the fundamental principles of successful agriculture?" This is by Walter Mulford, professor of forestry in the University of California, and sets forth the basic principles of his specialty:

Forestry, man's dare of the forest, means the management of permanent crops of timber and the best means of utilizing those crops.

Large forests on the mountains mean more water in the irrigation ditches.

Small forests in the valleys mean local supplies of fuel and posts, and often mean more moisture in the fields because of checking hot winds.

On the mountain and in the valley the forest should be a wholesome recreation ground.

Nature's methods of maintaining forests are wasteful and shiftless; without help from man nature is unable to meet the demands which are made upon the forest by civilized man.

The forest crop will respond to man's care by greatly increased quantity and much higher quality of the product.

The control of forest fires is the first step in forestry.

Forest fires can be controlled when public sentiment insists upon it.

A leaf mulch on the forest soil serves as the fertilizer, the cultivator and irrigator of the forest; without a leaf mulch, the forest suffers severely.

Proper thinning increases the rate of growth of timber.

The axe and saw are frequently the only planting tools needed in the forest; skillful cutting of the ripe timber is often all that is necessary for starting a desirable young crop.

The forest must pay for itself, either directly or indirectly; forestry is a business proposition.

SWITZERLAND'S PRESIDENT

There is one highly civilized country in which not one person in four could give their ruler's name. That country is Switzerland. One reason why the president is almost unknown either by name or by sight is that he is not a public figure at all. He has no privileges as president and no official uniform—not even of the army. Switzerland has a fresh president every year. He has no personal authority as president and is practically only the speaker of Switzerland's unassuming little parliament. It is recorded that at a meeting of Swiss business men no one could recall the name of the president. The waiter was asked. He happened to know, because the president was his uncle. —Philadelphia Times.

Granville Thompson of Los Angeles and Arizona is visiting his sister, Mrs. S. E. Munn, 1615 West Colorado boulevard.

The many patrons of the Roberts & Echols drug store noticed the absence of Frank Echols Thursday on account of illness at his home. His name will be crossed from the sick list shortly.

Hon. John W. Mason, a well-known attorney, and wife and John Lauritsen, a prominent contractor, and his wife, all of Fergus Falls, Minn., who are spending the winter in Southern California, were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Salo Desky on Kenwood street Wednesday. They enjoyed the auto races and an auto ride about this city, and were very favorably impressed with the Jewel City.

H. J. ALLEN TO SPEAK AT KANSAS' OUTING

The members of the Kansas society are not down-hearted because it rained last Saturday and spoiled their annual picnic at Long Beach.

The postponement of the affair to Saturday, February 6, has enabled the Long Beach Jayhawkers, who will be the hosts of the occasion, to secure as a speaker Henry J. Allen, noted Kansas journalist, orator and church worker.

The rest of the program as previously arranged will be carried out. Rev. C. I. Coulter of Long Beach, Judge C. E. Benton and C. H. Parsons, secretary of the Federation of State Societies, will speak, and a pleasing social program has been arranged.

AMITY BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND JAPAN

In few lands and among few peoples is the educator rated so highly as a civic adviser as he is in the United States. Lord Bryce stressed this aspect of the matter when he first brought forth "The American Commonwealth," and when he sent out a revised and supplementary edition years later he found no reason to modify his original statement.

From the days when John Witherspoon of the College of New Jersey signed the Declaration of Independence to the hour when a whilom president of the same institution, known as Princeton university became the president of the United States, heads of colleges and universities have had the ear of the public and have been trusted counselors in times of peace and of war. As for the future, few signs of any alteration of this situation are visible. Indeed, if the universities and colleges, as seems likely, avow a distinctly positive program of community, state and national service, and become influential in molding laws and administrative acts, through expert advice as well as by training individuals to be lawmakers and executives, their presidents are likely to be even weightier factors in shaping the democratic evolution.

As indicating what educators in high places may do collectively to shape events in right ways when duty calls for declaration of their opinions and convictions, a statement just issued by eleven presidents and deans of colleges in Southern California may be cited. For themselves as individuals, for the institutions they represent and, as they believe, for "the thoughtful citizenship of the state," they go on record as opposing any additional anti-alien legislation, both as a matter of policy and of theory. Their purpose as citizens and as teachers of society is to oppose anti-alien legislation of whatever sort which is discriminatory in character, desiring only to preserve to each country in friendliest fashion those best elements of national personality which shall ultimately be of the largest mutual advantage.

Not the least important part of their joint declaration is their reminder to Japan and the Japanese that the latter must discriminate between reports coming to them from the United States, since "it is always the bitter word and the aggressive act with its sinister interpretation, that find the quickest and most manifold speeding upon their way; that whereas there exist in our several countries laws against slander, there are as yet no international defenses against the far greater and more insidious crime of malicious and inflammatory international misrepresentation; that the deliberate and pacific counsels of society are characteristically slow to find expression." Seldom have certain serious aspects of sensational and bellicose journalism in its relations to statecraft of a devious sort been as concisely and tellingly put as in this document, which for this and other reasons deserves praise.

Colonel George Goethals, like another George illustrious in American annals, couldn't tell a lie. The canal probably cannot be cleared of earth-slides in time for passing warships in March, the date set for formal opening of the canal. Truthful George told the president frankly that the ceremony would better be postponed. And postponed it is.

TROUBLE AHEAD

"That speech you made placing me in nomination was a splendid statement of the case," said the grateful candidate.

"Yes," replied the old campaigner, "it was a fine statement. But we're going to have a dickens of a time proving it."—Washington Star.

TROPICO

The home of Dr. and Mrs. P. O. Lucas of Brand boulevard was a charming scene Wednesday when twenty-seven of Tropico's belles and beaux gathered to celebrate the seventh birthday anniversary of little Erma Hollace Lucas. Little Miss Lucas, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Hattie Boring and Mrs. E. B. Moore, proved herself a delightful hostess, as was testified to by the bright faces and happy laughter of the little guests as they enjoyed the pleasures of the afternoon.

A dainty color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the cunning place cards, the icing and flowers which adorned the table and garlanded the house. A beautiful white cake was ornamented with pink roses holding the candles that told the number of years of the little hostess. Pink roses held the bonbons and were carried away by the little folks as favors of the delightful occasion. Erma Hollace was the recipient of many gifts from her little friends, among whom she is a favorite.

The guests included Dorothy Howe, Dorothy Dutton, Jane Richardson, Irene Wallace, Tessa Wilson, Ruth Bibble, Geraldine Meagher, Eleanor Topp, Violet Benner, Eleanor Bradford, Elizabeth Goodrich, Charles Boring, Eugene Muhleman, Francis Ormston, Lloyd Rich, Benton Moore, Wayland Chapman, David Welch, Audrey Haines, Lavinia Hutt, Florence Melrose, Lucile Cooke, Irene Ludlum, Frances Glasburn, Laura Haden, John Smith, Elizabeth Kenney, Elsie Gould and Oved Lucas.

The postponed meeting of the Missionary society of the Presbyterian church was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. S. A. McNutt. The president, Mrs. Chapman, in charge of the devotional part, gave a beautiful talk, which was followed by an excellent address on India by Mrs. Ashton.

Mrs. Fred Lang of Central avenue will entertain the Philathea class of the Methodist church Friday evening of this week.

The monthly business meeting of the Epworth League will be held at the Methodist church on Friday evening at 7:30.

"WILDFLOWER" AT THE PALACE GRAND

The attraction which will be offered at the Palace Grand Thursday and Friday evenings will be Marguerite Clark in "Wildflower." Miss Clark, one of the more useful idols of the contemporary stage, who has within an incredibly short time won a vast national following, makes her initial appearance in motion pictures in the Famous Players' Film company's four-part production of "Wildflower," an enchanting story by Mary Germaine.

Wildflower is a dewy characterization constructed for just such a star as Miss Clark. The story is a drama of the lights and shadows of the sun-kissed forest and the depths and shallows of human life. "Wildflower" is painted as a child of Nature who knows not the meaning of love until the one man waiting in all the world for her proves to her that it is something other than mere desire and selfishness. From the crucible of the world's many heart-aches emerges with a wonderful lesson learned and at last finds happiness in the true love of a good man.

There are many tender passages in the production, many humorous touches, and some tinged with the little sadnesses that creep into any true story of life. But "Wildflower" sheds her fragrance throughout the four reels of the subject, a thing of beauty always and always a symbol of Nature's purity.

Marguerite Clark is an important acquisition to the screen, and the memory of "Wildflower" will long bloom in the minds of her spectators.

Another special attraction for this evening will be the special two-reel Keystone comedy entitled "The Sea-Nymphs," featuring Mabel Normand, Roscoe Arbuckle and the other leading Keystone stars. The scene of this play is Catalina Island and many opportunities are furnished for these stars to produce many wholesome laughs.

SOMETHING WRONG

"Pa," queried little Tommy Toddles, "what's a parasite?"

"How long have you been going to school, young man?" asked Toddles' father.

"Four years," answered Tommy.

"Well," continued the old man, "there is something wrong with our educational system if your years of schooling haven't taught you that a parasite is a person who lives in Paris."—Stray Stories.

GOING SOME!

"I like this pattern well enough," said the customer who had dropped in to look at some gingham, "but I am afraid the colors will run."
"Run, ma'am!" indignantly answered the salesman. "Red, white and blue? They never run!"
Whereupon the woman with the flag pinned upon the lapel of her jacket rose patriotically to the occasion and bought forty-five yards.
