

RED CROSS WORK

MASS MEETING TO-MORROW NIGHT—WHAT CAN WE DO FOR OUR COUNTRY?

A mass meeting will be held at the high school auditorium to-morrow, Thursday, evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a chapter of the American Red Cross in Glendale. Speakers from Los Angeles will take part in the program, among whom it is expected will be Miss Margaret F. Scott, secretary of the Los Angeles chapter of the Red Cross. The full program for the evening will be given to-morrow. Everyone interested is urged to be present.

Do you want to know just what you may do to serve the Stars and Stripes if you are a woman?

Here are the various services for which you may enlist with the American Red Cross or the Woman's Navy league:

Agriculture

This includes dairying, farming, fruit-raising, market gardening, poultry raising.

Domestic

This includes care of children, care of household, cooking, cutting out garments, knitting, mending and sewing.

Clerical

This includes bookkeeping, stenography, typewriting, auditing and accounting, general business training.

Mechanical

This means motor-car driving and repairing, telegraphy, wireless, telephone operating.

Professional

This means the work of dentist, pharmacist, physician, trained nurse, translator, candidate for legal training.

Work of all kinds in ammunition factories.

All of these services should be signed for under the Navy league, the headquarters of which are at 208 Wilcox building, Los Angeles. In registering there it is necessary to state whether the applicant is willing to serve anywhere she is sent; whether she will work anywhere she might be sent within the limits of the United States, and whether the service will be given only in Los Angeles.

Service for Red Cross

Under the banner of the Red Cross the following services may be rendered:

Registration for membership, which means $1 in cash and moral support without further obligations.

Joining a class in home-nursing.

Joining a class in first-aid to the injured.

Joining a class in dietetics.

Joining a class in surgical dressing.

Working with the hospital garments committee and making garments that will be required in the naval base hospital.

Working with the knitting classes, or securing material from the Red Cross and knitting socks for soldiers at home.

Becoming a member of the Red Cross membership campaign and making speeches and delivering literature for the cause.

Giving a certain amount of time each day, or on certain days, for office work at the Red Cross headquarters.

All of these latter services can be signed for at Red Cross headquarters, at 332 South Spring street, Los Angeles.

Comforts for Sailors

Both the Woman's Navy league and the American Red Cross are in close touch with Washington. Both are issuing more and more urgent calls on every woman and girl in Los Angeles to enlist with either or both organizations, and to do her share toward preparing the United States for war.

Even little children, it is pointed out, can be learning to knit socks for soldiers, and both Navy league women and Red Cross leaders are endeavoring to impress on the public that there should not be one woman, young or old, who has not signified to these societies that she will serve the Stars and Stripes.

Announcement has been made by the Navy league that twelve ships of the Pacific fleet have been assigned to this part of the western coast, and that it is the league's duty to supply these with all possible comforts, which the government does not furnish, but which will be made under government specifications.

The Thursday Afternoon club will meet Thursday afternoon as usual at the Tropic city hall. Following the business session Mrs. M. E. Johnson, president of the Wednesday Morning club of Los Angeles, will give an address on the subject, "The Tenderfoot in Politics."

WORLD MASONRY

THE DEPUTY GRAND MASTER OF CALIFORNIA IS GUEST OF UNITY LODGE

Judge Wm. Rhodes Hervey, Deputy Grand Master of Masons of California, was the guest of Unity Lodge No. 368 last evening and delivered a wonderful address on World Masonry. Judge Hervey is a fascinating speaker and as he told of his experiences in visiting Masonic Lodges in various parts of the world and interpreted Masonry as found in other countries, his hearers almost believed they were sitting in these Lodges and hearing and seeing for themselves.

So interested did the crowd become that they almost forgot the banquet that had been prepared downstairs. Once in the banquet hall one could not help but admire the work of the refreshment committee, and many ate the creations of this committee with undeniably relish. Judging from the superiority of a certain delightful delicacy, Mrs. Fred Deal and Mrs. Geo. Peterson were permitted to be in the cooking laboratory for a few minutes.

Each stated meeting sets a new attendance record and for this too much credit can not be given. Worshipful Master, Wm. F. Nash, Jr., and his able assistants, Frederick Baker of the Education Committee and Frederick Deal of the Culinary Committee.

VOTERS ATTENTION!

The regular annual school election, which is fixed by state law for the first Friday in April, will be held on Friday, April 6th, in the west building of the high school. The polls will be open between the hours of 8:00 a. m. and 6:00 p. m. To be eligible to vote at this election the elector must be a qualified voter and registered in the same manner as for any other election.

One trustee for the Glendale Union High school and one Grammar school trustee are to be elected. The present incumbents, Daniel Campbell, of the High school board, and John Todd, of the Grammar school board, have consented to become candidates for re-election and are the only candidates in the field. Both of these men have proved themselves worthy and are thoroughly qualified by experience for the positions they seek, being residents and taxpayers of Glendale and having children in the public schools. Their interests have been manifold. They have given freely of their time, while their policies have never been questioned. Their candidacy has been endorsed by the committee appointed by the Glendale Parent-Teacher Federation, composed of the following ladies: Miss Eva Daniels, chairman, Mrs. George E. Adams, Mrs. D. A. McPherson, Mrs. Charles Grist and Mrs. R. A. Puffer, together with the hearty co-operation of the president, Mrs. Chas. E. Hutchinson.

The citizens of Glendale are urged to show their interest in the public schools by casting their votes on Friday.

ENTERTAINED AT EL MONTE

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, and Mrs. William S. Nash represented the Glendale club at the Reciprocity meeting of the Mountain View Shakespeare club of El Monte Tuesday. Very elaborate and delightful entertainment had been provided for the guests and the Glendale ladies say it was one of the most charming reciprocity affairs they ever attended. Purple iris, California poppies and long sprays of yellow Japanese roses were used in decoration. After a nice luncheon a splendid program was enjoyed. One of the members of the club gave several piano selections, Mrs. Gude of Los Angeles entertained with readings, among her selections being a scene from Romeo and Juliet, and Horatio Cogswell, well-known tenor, delighted the ladies in several songs.

HARRISON FRANK INJURED

Harrison Frank, son of Mrs. E. C. Frank of E. Broadway, was the victim of a serious accident early Wednesday morning when he was closing the vault in the California Savings Bank, where he was employed, when the index finger of his left hand was caught by the heavy door and severed from his hand. Mr. Frank managed to reach the sidewalk by a side door before he fainted. Passing motorists found Mr. Frank and rushed him to the receiving hospital, where his wound was attended to. Later he was taken to the California hospital.

WAR PLANS NEAR COMPLETION

METHODS OF ASSEMBLING THE NATION'S FORCES WILL BE READY FOR PRESENTATION AT ONCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 4.—All plans for the assembling of the nation's forces for service will be ready for presentation as soon as Congress acts on the war resolution. Army legislation based on selective conscription as rapidly as men are equipped and trained is the most important plan outlined. All except the exempted class, married men, experts and scientists will be expected to come to the colors. No men will be sent to Europe for at least six months and in case forces are sent, the first to go will probably be the present regular army. It is expected that men between the ages of 18 and 23 will be the first to be called. Pending the raising of an army the government is preparing to ship unlimited supplies to the Allies. The president to-day called for 20,000 artisans to fill the quartermaster's reserve corps for immediate training. The pay in this department is from $75 to $90 a month.

FATE OF WAR RESOLUTION

REPORTED FAVORABLY BY FOREIGN COMMITTEE—WILL COME BEFORE HOUSE TO-MORROW

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The House Foreign committee reported favorably on the War Resolution with Congressman Shackelford and Cooper dissenting. The House will be asked to act on the resolution to-morrow morning. In the Senate, Senators Hitchcock and Lodge opened the debate with stirring patriotic addresses, Senators Stone and Vardaman decried the war move, but declared they were personally ready to go the limit to make war with Germany successful. Stone will vote against the resolution. Senator McComber introduced a substitute resolution designed to postpone the war and give Germany a chance to change her methods.

WILSON'S SPEECH WILL BE READ IN GERMANY

ALLIES TO DISTRIBUTE COPIES OF PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS FROM AIRSHIPS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, April 4.—Owing to the extreme improbability of the German press being permitted to print Wilson's speech, the Allies are planning to distribute copies of it over Germany from aeroplanes.

RUSH BUILDING OF VESSELS

WORK OF CONSTRUCTING DESTROYERS AND SUBMARINES WILL BE HASTENED AT SAN FRANCISCO

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Work will be commenced immediately at the Union Iron Works on 16 destroyers, 8 submarines and 2 scout cruisers. It is expected these vessels will be completed in half the allotted time.

AVIATION STUDENTS MAKE FLIGHT

THIRTEEN PLANES FROM ARMY SCHOOL FLY TO LOS ANGELES FOR DIPLOMAS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—Thirteen army aeroplanes arrived here from San Diego this morning, averaging 1 hour and 45 minutes for the flight. They will return to San Diego late to-day. The aviators are students at the army aviation school and upon completion of this flight will be graduated.

FOUR DEAD AT HANFORD

L. F. DENNY WHILE DERANGED KILLS THREE AND IS SHOT WHILE ATTEMPTING ESCAPE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

HANFORD, Cal., April 4.—Judge Meadows, justice of the peace here, Attorney Coster of this city and W. G. Wiley of Los Angeles were shot and killed here this morning when L. F. Denny, a prominent ranchman, ran amuck with a revolver. Denny himself was shot and killed by Marshal Heines as he tried to escape. It is believed Denny was temporarily deranged owing to trouble over financial losses.

GERMANY CHALLENGES WILSON'S STATEMENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Germany in a communication through the Swiss minister has challenged the assertion that she has violated her treaties with the United States. She also says all Americans are at liberty to leave Germany.

AVIATORS WOULD SHOW COUNTRY'S COLORS

PARIS, April 4.—Leading American aviators in the armies of the Allies have asked permission to fly the American flag when in action.

FAREWELL PICNIC

MRS. GLENN SOON TO LEAVE FOR ASHLAND, OREGON IS COMPLIMENTED

A delightful reunion of Ashland, Oregon, people was held in Brookside park, Pasadena, Tuesday. The picnic was planned in honor of Mrs. D. L. Glenn, who has been spending the winter in Glendale, making her home while here at 1532 West Colorado street, and who will leave for her home in Oregon next week. With two or three exceptions all present were Ashland, Oregon, people who are visiting in Southern California and who came from Los Angeles, Long Beach, Alhambra, Pasadena, Hollywood and Glendale to bid farewell to Mrs. Glenn and spend a pleasant afternoon with former townspeople. The beautiful grounds of Brookside park made an ideal setting for the happy gathering and a long table was laden with good things contained in the well-filled lunch baskets. The afternoon was spent in chatting of Ashland and of California and enjoying the beauty of the day and the loveliness of their surroundings. Those in the picnic party included Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Turner, Miss N. L. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Hew Hunt-singer, and son, Harvey Joe Hunt-singer, Mrs. Mitchell, Miss Carrie Mitchell, S. F. Mitchell, Mrs. M. E. Squire, Mrs. D. H. Imler, Mrs. F. Janness, Mrs. B. E. Whitmore, Mrs. R. P. Hipsley and son, Roy P. Hipsley, Jr., Mr. Tom Bunker, Mr. S. S. Johnson, Mrs. J. Lee, Mrs. W. E. Chamberlain and Mrs. Robert Beckford.

PASS THE WORD ALONG

The membership of the Glendale Garden Society is so rapidly increasing that it has become impossible to call up each member by 'phone to remind them of the meetings. And there are so many people interested in the society and who attend the meetings from time to time, that the 'phone is no longer a suitable means of communicating with our many friends and well-wishers. Therefore, we ask the numerous readers of the Glendale Evening News to pass along to their friends and neighbors any items of interest connected with the work of the Garden Society. And we ask the actual members to keep in touch with the dates of meetings and with the various civic and educational enterprises of the society by watching the columns of the local daily paper for all information. Pass the word along. Boost your own town. Boost and help the society which does everything for the sake of others and offers such an extraordinary sequence of programs, lectures and exhibits absolutely and always free to the public. Everything for the good of the people of Glendale. When you have finished reading this notice, don't fail to invite your neighbor to accompany you to-morrow, Thursday, evening to the regular meeting of the Garden Society, at which a noted traveler will tell tales of the Indian jungles—at which five prizes will be awarded—at which you can obtain your selection of young plants for nothing—at which you will hear about the proposed juvenile vegetable market—and at which you will become so enthused over the work of the society that you will want to take a part yourself in the good work being accomplished.

DAUGHTERS TO MEET

Mrs. Mary H. Gridley-Braly will be hostess Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock to the members of the General Richard Gridley chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. An interesting program has been prepared and a lovely time is anticipated by those who are eligible to attend. Mrs. Braly especially invites those who anticipate becoming members of the chapter.

All who are assisting in collecting the mille of pennies are asked to bring their contributions. Mrs. Addison, the treasurer, will be present and is desirous of knowing just how much has been collected up to this time. This fund is for the Children's hospital and Maternity home and the ladies feel that while it is proper to send relief to the suffering of other nations, we should not neglect our own babies. There are many pitiful cases right at our own doors and the institutions which the General Richard Gridley Chapter are assisting are greatly hampered in their good work by lack of funds.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Thursday. Westerly winds.

C. H. TOLL HEADS LIST

FIRST TO RESPOND TO CALL FOR LIFE MEMBERS OF C. OF C.

Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Walt. LeNoir Church, has addressed the following letter to the people of Glendale:

To Each and Every Resident of Glendale, Greeting.

The Chamber of Commerce is organized to promote the common weal of Glendale.

In the broad sense, Commerce means "Exchange of Products"; Material; Mental; Moral.

The Chamber of Commerce should be the embodied Civic Spirit of the Community; to promote its material welfare through established Trade; its mental progress through its Educational facilities; its Moral development through its Associations for such purpose.

All in a non-partisan, non-sectarian, non-sectional, impartial way, with charity for all, and discrimination against none.

Recognizing the good lying at the heart of all citizens lawfully so engaged; and of all things lawful, waiting for expression, all in its own good time and way, whatever approved by the community.

Almost every cause dear to a reasonable percentage of reputable citizens has its influence in city betterment; and so deserves fair consideration.

Every improvement in civic conditions aids in bettering social conditions. Just so do improved social conditions simplify civic problems. Within the limits of its authority, ability and opportunity, the Chamber of Commerce should promote all interests of trade, banking, transportation, mechanics, professions; all lawful vocations not hurtful to the community, and all legitimate, constructive employment. That would foster a loyal civic and home spirit, and promote prosperity.

Co-operation is the master key to civic prosperity.

It would safely, surely and permanently enhance all property values, and develop civic content.

It is the best, if not the only, cure for that civic apathy whose destructive slogan is: "WHY DO WHAT YOU DON'T WANT TO, WHEN YOU DON'T HAVE TO?" One object of a live Chamber of Commerce is to guard the city from paying the penalty of its previous prosperity by lapsing into apathy, and losing much of its gains.

In each city are special problems needing definite solution.

A rightly conducted Chamber of Commerce is the best place for the fair consideration and for initiating required ways and means. Perhaps the time may come when Glendale will have a Chamber of Commerce building in which or around which may be grouped a central Civic Center, a great Auditorium, Public Baths, and other cognate auxiliaries, all working in harmony, co-operating for the public good, which insures continuous public betterment.

The Glendale Chamber of Commerce is making organized, continuous effort to do all that the people want done, if they will give it their co-operation.

If we give our beautiful city the best we have, the best will come back to us. Since progress is likely to be in streaks, not in a widely extended line of battle, we do well to play the game directly before us, making use of the good within reach, till we can get to something better.

Will you not give the Glendale Chamber of Commerce your moral support, at least till it has a fighting chance to make good its present pledge to work for the benefit of the whole city, fairly and without favoritisms?

There are so many things to be done for the benefit of all. Why not let personal differences which affect the public welfare, be held in abeyance till the people's preference may be again expressed at the polls?

The Secretary and General Manager asks your support and counsel for the benefit of the whole city.

You can help make Glendale what you wish it to become, if you are willing to do your individual part.

SEE BOY SCOUTS' CIRCUS

Mr. and Mrs. John Hyde Braly attended the Boy Scouts circus on Boulevard field, Los Angeles, Tuesday, and greatly enjoyed the demonstration staged by 1500 scouts. About $3000 was realized by the boys, the entire sum being raised by tickets sold by the scouts. The boys worked earnestly to make a success of the show and their efforts were well rewarded. The beautiful flag drill was especially enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Braly.

A WORD ABOUT THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The management of the Evening News will take a few inches of space to say a few words about the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. Thus far "Church of Glendale" has been doing all the saying concerning this very enterprising organization.

Glendale is at present getting much valuable publicity through the various newspaper exchanges of Southern California, all on account of Mr. Church, the secretary, who devotes all of his time to building up the Chamber, having been in attendance at the meetings of the secretaries and of the Chambers of this section of the state. In February Mr. Church attended a meeting of the secretaries at Rialto, and his part in the program at that meeting was such that Glendale was brought pointedly before every secretary present.

Last Saturday a meeting of the Secretaries of the Chambers was held at Fullerton, Orange County, and Glendale was again in the limelight. On the large printed program was a paragraph devoted to the success of the Glendale Chamber, and now extracts from that program are being printed in many of the newspaper exchanges. The good work has just commenced, and citizens of Glendale are recognizing the value of having a secretary of a Chamber of Commerce who devotes all of his time to the work in hand.

SCHOOL LAND GRANT TO STATE OF CALIFORNIA

The most important decision affecting the school land grant to the State of California that has been rendered by the courts in many years was decided by the United States supreme court March 26, 1917, reversing the decision of the supreme court of the State of California in the action brought by the Deseret Water, Oil and Irrigation Company against the State of California and sustaining the contentions of the state in all particulars concerning lieu lands that were involved in that case, thereby rewarding with victory the earnest efforts made by Attorney General Webb and Surveyor General Kingsbury to protect the interest of 2100 holders of certificates of purchase for state lieu lands aggregating about 320,000 acres. This decision is of great interest and advantage to the State of California and will no doubt enable those holding certificates of purchase for lieu lands to obtain titles which have been unfortunately held up since 1914 because of the decision of the State supreme court. In addition to this the decision will put at rest the status of the title to approximately 800,000 acres which had been exchanged by the federal government for state school lands prior to the decision of the State supreme court questioning the validity of such transfers.

Surveyor General Kingsbury is in Washington, D. C., and for the past year has been endeavoring to secure the passage of a bill by congress making provisions for the necessary remedial legislation concerning these lieu lands and largely through his efforts the bill passed the House of Representatives in August last without a vote against it. It then went to the United States Senate but was unfortunately caught in the filibuster at the closing hours of the session and could not be taken up for consideration. However, the litigation involved in the Deseret case having finally terminated favorably to the State of California, makes a sweeping victory for these officers of the state and clears the way for the prompt adjustment of the pending state selections embracing 320,000 acres of lieu land when followed by the remedial legislation which, in view of this decision of the United States supreme court, congress will, in all probability pass at the next session.

THE HOUSE APRON

No longer is there the vestige of an excuse for a woman's not looking neat and pretty about her work. Today convenience is combined with daintiness in fabric and grace in pattern, in even the house apron, to say nothing of the afternoon apron, the dinner apron, and the maid's serving apron. The apron dress has come to stay. This season these are dainty and bright, and withal so practical and inexpensive that every woman can have one. They are full enough to take the place of the house dress, and yet short enough to be practical for work. Many of them open in front, like a dress, have the short, kimona sleeves and are plain, yet touched with bright bands of contrasting material on the gay stripes of the calico and gingham, they are most attractive and becoming.

The serving apron is especially dainty. It is three-quarter length, has the tailored shoulder strap, long, broad ties and pointed front. Voile, dimity, and net seem to be the favorite materials. The old-fashioned, long full apron has returned in dotted Swiss muslin. The neat collars and cuffs match the aprons, and some of the net aprons are accompanied by dainty little net bows or bands for the hair. The afternoon aprons are smaller, more like slightly attenuated pocket handkerchiefs than aprons; yet they are so decorative over the afternoon or dinner frock that one would not deery them. In these days the article has sufficient reason for being if it is bright and adds a line of grace or a dash of color to make home daintier or more artistic.

MYSTERY LIGHTS SHINE

For more than two hours Wednesday night, while residents of the valley telephoned far and wide to discover their cause, mysterious lights flashed and glowed, danced and winked into the darkness from high up on the side of Mt. Wilson. Just what the eerie flares were, or for what reason they were lighted, nobody seems to know, though plenty of explanations from German or Japanese signal fires, to searching parties lost in the hills, were offered.

Sierra Madre, Alhambra, Lamanda Park and Pasadena joined with Monrovia in attempting to unravel the riddle, but without success. Even the physical characteristics of the glowing points seemed to change, for one observer reported the lights two in number, another three and still another four. Their color ran from white through yellow to red, according to watchers, who said flames danced, did not dance, were steady, were dancing, winked and shone with a steady beam.

It was all very confusing.—Monrovia News.

Facts and Comment

About 100 Alhambra citizens have signed a petition volunteering their services and calling for the organization of a company of Home Guards. A call for a meeting to organize will be issued this week.

San Marino, which was recently granted a school district, held an election last week and voted bonds in the sum of $60,000 for a new school building. The new district was formed out of portions of Pasadena, Alhambra, San Gabriel and Chapman districts.

The maximum cost for the graduation gowns of the girls of the Long Beach Polytechnic high school is to be $7, the economy committee has decided. At a special meeting called for the adoption of a graduating suit, it was decided that white trousers, white shoes and a dark coat will comprise the costume of the senior boys upon the same occasion.

The "new location" of the University of Southern California is the old one plus a frontage of four more blocks connecting the present site up with Exposition Park, the adjoining property having been bought at a cost of approximately $100,000. The frontage purchased is on Exposition avenue and gives the university a total frontage of nearly 2000 feet.

Trout fishing in the San Gabriel will be better than ever this year, according to a Los Angeles sportsman who recently made a scouting trip up the stream. At the lower end of the river, near the mouth of the San Gabriel canyon, the river is simply swarming with fish from four to twelve inches long, he said. Trout fishing opens May 1 in this district.

The assembly committee on agriculture has agreed on the orange maturity test to go into the new fruit standardization bill. The agreement as to the test was made by General Manager Powell of the California Fruit Exchange and a large delegation of independent growers to the effect that fruit shall not be shipped from the state unless it meets the eight to one standard or be substantially colored on the trees. Orange growers throughout the state have been watching the progress of legislation on the eight to one test. Last fall several Southern California counties adopted eight to one tests but abandoned enforcement when it became evident that cities, over which the county has no jurisdiction, would not adopt the same regulation.

"FOLKS IN RUTS"

The' world is full o' ruts my boy, some shaller an' some deep;
An' ev'ry rut is full o' folks, as high as they can heap.
Each one that's grovelin' in th' ditch is growlin' at his fate,
An' wishin' he had got his chance before it was too late.
They lay it on some one else or say 'twas just their luck—
They never onct consider that 'twas caused by lack o' pluck.
But here's th' word of one that's lived clean though, from soup to nuts:
Th' Lord don't send no derricks 'round t' h'ist folks out o' ruts.
But only them that helps themselves an' tries for better things,
Will ever see th' helpin' hand t' which each climber clings.
This here's th' hard, plain common facts without no ifs or buts,
The' Lord don't send no derricks 'round t' h'ist folks out o' ruts.
—Strickland W. Gillilan.

Mrs. Owens (pausing in her writing)—Henry, what is the name for the people who come after us?

Ray Smedley arrived at home yesterday morning after traveling three days and nights to look once more and for the last time on his dying father, Frank C. Smedley, of 1543 Riverdale. Stern duty calls him back at once and he leaves to-day in order to be back by Saturday morning. So in obedience to his country's call, for he is a sailor on the U. S. warship South Dakota, he goes back to his post.

The J. O. C. class of the Tropic M. E. church gave an April Fool cafeteria dinner at the home of Mrs. Francis E. Moore, 507 Virginia place, Tropic, Tuesday evening, the proceeds of which will go to the building fund of the new institutional church for the Mexicans in Los Angeles. Quite a number of Los Angeles friends came out for the dinner and a delightful social evening was spent in games and other pastimes at the conclusion of the dinner.

The Milford street card club were entertained at the home of Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, 1457 Milford street, Tuesday afternoon, when a few hours were pleasantly spent playing "500." Mrs. Brummel won the first prize and Mrs. Thomas was awarded the consolation prize. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, concluding a very enjoyable afternoon. The substitutes were Mrs. Saul Frank, Mrs. Hellyer and Mrs. H. C. Peet of Berkeley. The members present were Mrs. G. J. Blech, Mrs. Wm. Blakemore, Mrs. W. M. Humans, Mrs. C. H. Thompson, Mrs. D. O. Peet, Mrs. R. L. Thomas, Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, Mrs. H. V. Brummel, Mrs. W. Rathbun, and the hostess, Mrs. Leppelman.

PROGRAM FOR THURSDAY EVENING

The following matters of interest will be presented on Thursday evening at the Glendale Garden Society meeting. Public cordially invited. No charge ever made by the Garden Society for any of its programs.

Silver cup to be presented to Miss Olive Williams by the donor, Mrs. Walter Ross.

Wild flower prizes to be presented to four children.

Talk by Edward Scoville, traveler and artist, upon the birds, butterflies, orchids and snakes of the Indian jungles.

Discussion upon proposed juvenile vegetable markets as a means of encouraging home-grown produce.

Reports will also be made of the Curry stereopticon lecture, the six free evening agricultural classes, the free floral exhibit, and the Grubb stereopticon lecture, all given during the past six weeks by the Glendale Garden Society. Distribution will be made of beautiful little bulletins specially gotten up by Mrs. Danford of the Public Library for the members and friends of the Garden Society. Also free sample copies of the Rural World will be given to all present.

In addition to all these matters of interest, the plant party will prove an important feature. Everybody is invited to bring seedlings or young plants of anything—flowers or vegetables. These plants will be all placed in one spot, and everybody present may help him or herself to whatever they want. So everybody will bring something and everybody will take away something. Free exchange, they say, is no robbery. So come and get something belonging to somebody else.

CALIFORNIA'S FOOD SUPPLIES

We complain in California, as everywhere else, of the high cost of food. But when we observe that the New York food commission looks to the Pacific coast as the source of many of its supplies to reduce the cost of living in New York, we appreciate by comparison how well off we are. For these things which will bear the cost of fast freight across the continent to be sold in New York cheaper than the food already there, are of course still cheaper in California. But in many cases the things sent from the Pacific coast are things to which we have ourselves not sufficiently resorted. The New York food commission has imported no meat, because Pacific coast fish are cheaper. Cheese is also not cheap in California, but it is much cheaper than meat. We have already been learning to use rice as a substitute for potatoes, with the result that the price of potatoes has gone down and the price of rice has gone up. Even after these changes of price, however, rice is still the cheaper. If people would study food equivalents, if they would recognize the division of all foods into two great groups—roughly, the meat class and the rice or potato class—and would seek for equivalents within these classes, much of the extravagance of mere thoughtlessness or ignorance would disappear. There is no equivalent in food value for members of one of these classes for members of the other. The equivalent is entirely within the group. Rice, for instance, is an adequate substitute for potatoes, but neither rice nor potatoes is a substitute for meat. But cheese and fish are substitutes for meat. The things which the New York food commission buys from California or Oregon to help out New York may serve as a useful hint to us for the things we ought to buy for our own use.—South Pasadena Record.

TROPICO TRUSTEES

OFFICERS FILE MONTHLY REPORTS—BUILDING ORDINANCE ADOPTED

The Trustees of the city of Tropic met in regular session at the City Hall Tuesday evening at 7:30 with all members and city officers present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and with a few additions were approved.

A communication was received from the secretary of the League of Municipalities urging the board to send a telegram at once to the governor asking that he withhold his signature from Assembly bill No. 697, which had recently passed both houses of the legislature, which would require cities to publish all notices and ordinances three times in a paper of general circulation. This bill if it becomes a law would work a hardship on cities of this class, as such notices are now required one publication. The city clerk was instructed to forward a communication at once to the governor objecting to the bill becoming a law.

The clerk was instructed to communicate with the assemblymen of this district and urge them to vote against a bill now before the legislature which would require all cities maintaining a fire department to employ a double force so as to use the two platoon system.

Jas H. Proctor appeared before the board and asked for a permit to erect a garage at his residence at 145 West Tropic avenue. The matter was referred to the building inspector.

The city health officer reported that he had examined the new garbage contract and asked that the board make a few minor changes. After the changes were made the board authorized the president of the board and the city clerk to sign the contract with Mr. Edwards for the handling of the city's garbage for the ensuing year.

The president reported that large letters spelling the name "Tropico" had been completed and placed on the City Hall at an expense of $8.25. Same was approved.

The subject of establishing certain fire districts within the city was discussed and laid over until next meeting, at which time the board wishes all who are interested within the proposed fire districts to be present and voice their protests if any there be.

Ordinance No. 125 being read for the second time, on motion of Trustee Henry the ordinance was adopted. Ordinance No. 125 is an ordinance amending certain parts of the building ordinance which prohibits certain kinds of buildings, such as tent buildings, California houses and lath or lattice structures, etc.

The city marshal asked permission to purchase three deputy marshal's badges at a cost of $1.75 each. So ordered.

The city fire chief was instructed to purchase some necessary bedding for his department.

The city attorney was instructed to prepare the necessary resolution for the commencement of proceedings to compel residents to keep their property clear of weeds and have the same ready for the board's adoption at their next meeting.

The building inspector's report showed the following permits for the month of March, 1917: Building permits 5, value $16,660.00, fees $12.50. Plumbing permits 6, fees $6.50. Electrical permits 4, fees $4.28.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH MEETINGS

A "Lesson in Values" was the subject last night and it was eagerly listened to by the large audience. Mary's anointing of the Savior was the incident referred to and the speaker depicted the scene most clearly, then drew valuable lessons from the two attitudes—that of Jesus and the opposing one of Judas. With unsparing words he scored the Judas spirit in the church—faultfinding, grasping, hypocritical solicitude for the poor, "whom we have with us always," and condemnation of true loving service. Br. Cole spoke feelingly of the enduring love which should obtain between husband and wife finding expression in gifts and loving words.

To-night the children are especially invited and there will be a place for them in front to help in the singing, which, by the way, is quite a feature of these meetings, as a splendid choir is devoting its best efforts to furnishing inspiring music. The subject to-night is "The Value of the Soul," as Christ delineates it in Matthew's gospel. Bro. Cole has spent much time and thought in preparing these sermons and they are rich in spiritual food for both believer and unbeliever.

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Services during Holy Week: To-night, Evening Prayer at 8:00 p. m. Thursday morning at 10:00 a. m., Holy Communion. Friday at 10:00 a. m., Morning Prayer and Meditation. Sunday, the great Easter services. Glendale Commandery of Knights Templar are to attend the 11:00 o'clock services in a body. The music will be excellent. Mr. Edmund S. Shank is to assist the regular choir. Everybody welcome to all the services.

Kilborn's Grocery and Market yesterday installed a big, fine, up-to-the-minute refrigerator for the fresh meat department.

"Look at this letter," said the exasperated man to his blond typewriter. "Every word in it that should have two 'p's' you've only put one." "Well, sir," said the girl timidly, "there's only one 'p' on the keyboard."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

Of The Glendale Evening News, published daily except Sunday, at Glendale, Los Angeles Postoffice, Cal., for April 1, 1917.

State of California,)
County of Los Angeles ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared A. T. Cowan, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the owner of the Glendale Evening News and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse side of this form, to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager are:

Name of Publisher, A. T. Cowan,
920 W. Broadway, Glendale, Cal.
Editor, A. T. Cowan,
920 W. Broadway, Glendale, Cal.
Managing Editor, A. T. Cowan,
920 W. Broadway, Glendale, Cal.
Business Manager, A. T. Cowan,
920 W. Broadway, Glendale, Cal.

2. That the owner is: A. T. Cowan, Glendale, Cal.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgages, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent. or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: Mergenthaler Linotype Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., on linotype machine only.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the six months preceding the date above shown is 1100.

A. T. COWAN.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 3rd day of April, 1917.

OUT AMONG THE BIG THINGS

Out among the big things—
The mountains and the plains—
An hour ain't important,
Nor are the hour's gains;
The feller in the city
Is hurried night and day,
But out among the big things
He learns the calmer way.

Out among the big things—
The skies that never end—
To lose a day ain't nothin',
The days are here to spend;
So why not give 'em freely,
Enjoyin' as we go?
I somehow can't help thinkin'
The good Lord means life so.
—Arthur Chapman.

GARDENING ON THE VELD

"Here on the veld it seems irrational, on the surface of things, that after a strenuous day we should choose to grub about in a little patch of earth in order that it should bring forth a few little flowers when one could so easily step beyond one's garden gate and bring in armfuls of lilies and ferns and all sorts of nameless and gorgeous veld flowers. But we prefer to leave them where they are. Our object is not to concentrate the wonders of the veld within our garden walls, but to surround ourselves with a bit of home, and so we plant the English flowers and, by the grace of the South African sun, most of them grow too," writes Madeline Alston in "From the Heart of the Veld."

"There are great possibilities in a veld garden, for, side by side with roses and pansies, one can grow the brilliant, sub-tropical plants, and particularly the flowering shrubs which grow so luxuriantly in Africa. White azaleas and pink camellias never fail us. The bougainvillea, too, is a large hearted creature. Is there anything to equal the richness and abundance of its blossom, and the gracious way in which it persists in flourishing? Poinsettias and the hibiscus, too, in their scarlet glory, and moon flowers, are also generous enough-not to sulk in the driest of weather. There are also pomegranate and Judas trees with scarlet flowers, and the purple pride of India waves its proud arms beside the yellow jasmine and the white flowering shrub which in Africa we call the 'Christmas rose.'

"There is another joyous white thing, coming early, which we call 'May'; and there is a wonderful shrub with pink bunches of blossom like a gaulther rose, smelling as sweet as honey, that must have come straight from heaven, for no one, not the most botanical or the most traveled of men that I have met, knows its name. Then there is a delicately purple creeper that was meant in ages past to be the home of some small creature of the sea, but the sea fairies in caprice cast it on an island where it took root and grew, and so we call it the shell creeper, for it is as plain as day that those purple clusters were once meant to be shells. There is also a scented verbena, and a hedge of macrocarpa, and, behind the hedge, grow pines and eucalyptus laden with the hanging nests of weaving birds which swing and dance and dance and swing, all day in the sun and wind. Had ever young things such a feast of perpetual fun as those baby birds swinging the day away on those slender branches?"

"Those trees and shrubs no longer flaunt their youth in our eyes, reminding us that we are but strangers in a new land; in a few years they have assumed the dignified bearing of maturity, so wonderful is the South African climate. When I first came to live on the veld I was reproached for my lack of sympathetic interest in the trees. 'But where are they?' I asked and I was led about from patch to patch of plowed virgin land, with great naked roots like huge turnips everywhere, and, on my hands and knees I discovered some little green things coming up. 'I'm very penitent,' I said, 'but I always thought they were weeds.' And now, in ten years' time some of them are sixty feet high, and there are woods and avenues and plantations on every side."

RICHMOND AND WRITERS

Richmond may be likened to Boston as a literary center. In an article published some years ago in Book News Alice M. Tyler refers to Colonel William Byrd, who founded in Richmond in 1733, as "the sprightliest and most genial native American writer before Franklin."

In the time of Chief Justice Marshall Richmond had a considerable group of novelists, historians and essayists, but the great literary name connected with the place is that of Edgar Allan Poe, who spent much of his boyhood in the city and later edited the Southern Literary Messenger. Matthew Fontaine Maury, the great scientist, was at another time editor of the same periodical, as was also John Reuben Thompson, "Poet of the Confederacy," who wrote among other poems, "Music in Camp," and who translated Gustave Nadaud's poem, "Carcassonne."

Thomas Nelson Page made his home in Richmond for thirty years. Amelie Rives was born there and still maintains her residence in Albemarle county, Va., while among other writers of the present time whose names are connected with the city are: Mary Johnston, Ellen Glasgow, Marion Harland, Kate Langley Boshier, James Branch Cabell, Edward Peple, dramatist; J. H. Whitely, biographer of Poe, and Colonel W. Gordon McCabe, soldier, historian, essayist and local character.—Julian Street in Collier's Weekly.

GOOD DISHES FOR THE FAMILY

A punch that you need not fear to give to the children is made as follows: Prepare a rich cranberry jelly, carefully straining, to remove all seeds. To a quart of the jelly add the juice of a lemon and a tablespoonful of gelatin softened in cold water, add enough cold water to make two quarts, freeze and serve as a frappe or punch.

HOW A BOY STARTED THE HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLE INDUSTRY

Before the United States acquired them the Hawaiian Islands were famous chiefly for their natives and their leper colony. There were no special cultivation of the soil, no trade, and no commercial industries of value. But since the annexation to the United States in 1900, American enthusiasm and American progressiveness have invaded the land. The pineapple industry is one of the best illustrations of the result of this Americanizing. It was started almost by chance, by a comparatively uneducated, inexperienced New England lad, the son of a clergyman. He chose to locate in Hawaii on account of its wonderful climate, and finding that the pineapples were especially luscious and that they grew quickly and abundantly, he persuaded his father to secure a few thousand dollars for him to start him in the pineapple-raising business. It was a veritable get-rich-quick scheme. It has netted fortunes to each one of those friendly parishioners who advanced money for the venture.

At first the fruit was sent to the United States fresh and was marketed along the Pacific coast. But now there is a cannery with a capacity of ten thousand cans an hour, from which the fruit is shipped to all parts of the world.—Popular Science Monthly.

LOBELIA

The erinus varieties (lobelias) are charming little plants that bloom very quickly from the seed and continue gay with flowers all through the season. For beds, edgings, baskets and pots there is nothing prettier; their clear colors and generous bloom make them welcome anywhere.

The seeds may be sown outdoors in early spring where the plants are to grow. As the plants appear they should be thinned moderately or transplanted several inches apart in rich, open soil. Liquid manure given while they are in bloom greatly improves the flowers. Many sorts are also good winter conservatory plants of trailing habit. The perennial or tall varieties are handsome, showy plants, found quite effective for backgrounds and grouping.

PREPARING TO PREPARE

California is to have a council of defense and a thorough survey of the state's resources, with a view to strengthening its defenses. The legislature is expected to act promptly upon the urgent recommendation of Government Stephens in this.

This state should be fortified fearfully and enduringly. The defenses should be established, to stay until such time as world conditions are changed so that California may feel secure against assault from any quarter.

Nature has done much to assist in fortifying this state. There are certain strategic points along the coast and on the southern border that should be given very strong defenses. There are natural barriers along much of the coast line—such that an enemy could not effectively make a landing in force. To safeguard these vulnerable spots—to make them impregnable—should be the first duty of state and nation.—Pasadena Star-News.

WHAT'S YOUR NUMBER

"There was one 'didn't know any better,'

And a second too lazy to care, One took a short cut in a hurry,

The fourth took a chance on a dare.

The first had a month long vacation With a steam scalded hand for his pay.

Number two broke the arm of his partner

When a poorly built scaffold gave 'way.

Number three was run down by a motor;

Lost a leg—now he's railing at Fate.

And the fourth—well, he begs for a living.

Meet him any pay day at the gate.

Number five had his brains where they should be,

Took no chances—warned other men, too;

Helped to save life and limb for his fellows.

Tell me, partner, which number are you?"

—From "Safety First."

THE STRANGLING FIG

Plants can be as cruel as animals, judged by mere human standards. Just as there are dastardly and cowardly birds and fishes, so are there murderous plants. That, briefly, is the way in which the strangling fig is regarded. It is not a parasite; it obtains its sustenance through its own roots.

This enables it to grow rapidly, destroying its victim inch by inch, until there is no visible sign of the original tree at all. The strangling fig belongs to the same genus as the common fig tree. It grows in the most tropical part of Florida and in portions of the torrid zone.—Popular Science Monthly.

"Life on the farm is not what it used to be."

"How is that?"

"When a farmer motors into town every night to attend a theater you can't expect him to get up at day-break."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

CITRUS ACREAGE

Latest figures on the Italian area devoted exclusively to the raising of citrus fruits place the total at 111,000 acres, while 154,000 additional acres produce not only citrus but other crops. Seventy per cent of the exclusive citrus territory is in Sicily. During the year 1913 Italian citrus property produced 12,651,000 boxes of lemons of an average weight of 75 pounds. 1914 shows a slight decrease, the total being 12,549,000 boxes of equal average weight. The orange production for 1913 was 14,165,000 boxes of average weight of 64 pounds and 11,798,000 boxes in 1914. Exports averaged about 857 million pounds annually between 1909-13.

Spain's total citrus area in 1910 was 117,457 acres which have produced during the period from 1909 to 1913 an average annual output of 27,376,000 boxes of average weight of 64 pounds. Three-fourths of the area devoted to the raising of oranges is in the Province of Valencia. The average annual exports for the years 1909 to 1913 have been 17,494,000 boxes, England receiving 46.5 per cent, France 21.2 per cent and Germany 18.7 per cent of this total. Spain is the largest orange exporting country in the world.—Sunlist Courier.

THINGS THAT ARE NEW

Electrically heated pads feature a new English cure for frostbitten feet. Celluloid letters to be set into grooves in plate glass form a recently invented transparent sign.

As a substitute for horsehair in upholstery the waste from cleaning Bahama sisal fiber is being used.

A recording meter has been invented to measure the amount of steam used in an industrial plant and check waste.

An Illinois inventor has built a life-size human figure of steel that draws a miniature wagon and is having one built that will be nine feet tall and correspondingly powerful.

A transparent, noninflammable material resembling celluloid has been developed by an Austrian inventor for airplane wings to make them almost invisible even near the ground.

A Pennsylvania inventor has invented a portable developing cabinet for photographers which folds flat for carrying and into which a man can insert his arms through light-tight sleeves.

Sanitary advantages are claimed for a new kitchen sink that has a strainer that can be removed for cleaning or replaced by a plug when it is desired to retain water in the sink.

A tunneling machine has been perfected that employs a number of pneumatic chisels to cut a bore eight feet in diameter through solid rock at a speed of nine feet in 24 hours.

REDWOOD AND FIRE

Probably no other wood burns with more resistance than California redwood. It seems to have been made fire resistant by nature. In logging camps this is peculiarly noticeable, for no other wood could be so treated. Because of the enormous size of redwood trees the logs are very heavy—a sixteen foot butt log weighs from thirty to fifty tons—and it is very difficult to handle them when the ground is littered with bark, undergrowth and tops. To get rid of this waste, or "slash," as the lumberman calls it, he simply sets it on fire. The slash burns off, but the logs do not burn. They come through this test by fire, which lasts from eight to ten hours, with merely a slight char on the sapwood on their exterior.

PAY BILLS PROMPTLY

If you pay bills promptly the man you owe will be inclined to pay his debts at once. There's an old saying that "those who go borrowing go sorrowing." You'll never contract the habit of running into debt if you meet your obligations when they are due. Paying up makes for business efficiency. There are some men rated wealthy who find it hard to get credit. Other men with nothing often can borrow vast sums. Their credit is good. They always meet their obligations. You have heard it said, "I'd sooner take that man's word than another man's bond." Be one of these men with the word. Try paying your bills promptly and see how it works.

ESTHETIC

Two fair munition-workers were discussing their personal affairs. "Got a chap yet, Liz?" inquired one.

"Yes; and he's a regular toff. He's manager at—"

"You don't say so! Why, they tell me he's real refined."

"Rather! Why, he took me to a restaurant last week, and when we had coffee he poured it into a saucer to cool it, but he didn't blow it like common people would—he fanned it with his hat!"—Tit-Bits.

RECKLESSNESS

"Charley, dear," said young Mrs. Torkins, "the baby next door swallowed a quarter."

"It won't hurt the child."

"I know. But isn't it terrible how careless some people are with money?"—Washington Evening Star.

A NATIONAL PRAYER

Our country, God, we offer Thee, And plead her cause on bended knee; Her might we know lies in Thy will Whose voice the mighty waters still; In meek humility we pray God bless America to-day.

God bless her flag arrayed on high, Its silken folds against the sky; Her homes, her institutions dear, From gun-crowned fort to House of Prayer; Lord, hear her children when they say God bless America to-day.

Look down from Heaven in Thy love And shower Thy blessings from above On snow-capped heights, and sunny vales,

Her wave-washed strands, and flowery dales; Throughout her land shed Freedom's ray, God bless America to-day.

May she be just, at home, abroad, And merciful as Thee, O God, Grant that Thy word shall be her guide,

Let wisdom in her midst abide, That all the world may with us say God bless America to-day.

Can fondest hearts do more than bleed?

Can lives yield more than noble deed? Love, more than sacrifice present? Or souls give but their good intent? We lay these at Thy feet, and pray God bless America to-day.

—W. T. H. Salter in Boston Evening Transcript.

MR. RATTLESNAKE'S HABITS

The rattlesnake thrives best in a region where deep recesses and cavities in the rocks afford refuge from its implacable enemy, man, deer, road runner and peccary. Would it be sacrilege to suggest that Ireland's shortage of snakes may be due as well to her "longness" of hogs as to the beguilements of Saint Patrick? On many western ranches pigs are kept for the common protection of both biped and quadruped; for the knifelike hoof is as effective for tearing and cleaving flesh as an inquisitorial weapon, and at the sound of its approach Mr. Rattlesnake discreetly withdraws to a deep cleft in a hillside, or to the subterranean passages of the prairie dog or gopher. As to warfare, rattlesnakes are like the Mexicans and ourselves—they prefer not to fight until the situation becomes "intolerable." The best known species in the southwest is the red rattlesnake (crotalus atrox). These are most dangerous during July and August when shedding the skin. Being both blind and deaf at this time they sound no warning, and are more liable to be stepped upon than at other seasons.—Exchange.

ODD FACTS

* Freezing and drying eggs has become a new industry in the United States. Many eggs which could not survive long shipments may be preserved as wholesome food by an ingenious process.

Scientists are working upon a method whereby a commercially satisfactory paper pulp can be made from a flax straw. Hitherto the straw had to be burnt for want of proper methods of treatment.

Between the steel helmet used by the troops and its lining of felt and wadding are fixed a number of rubber studs, which take up the shock of a blow. The wadding comes next the head, so that in case of penetration and a resulting scalp wound it acts as a dressing.

The inhabitants of Bethlehem derive a large income from the manufacture of religious devotion and ornaments from mother of pearl. The material is known as "pearl waste."

THE SEVEN MISTAKES OF LIFE

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others down.

2. That tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.

3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we ourselves cannot accomplish it.

4. Attempting to compel other men to believe and live as we do.

5. Failure to refine the mind by acquiring the habit of reading good literature.

6. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences in order that important things may be accomplished.

7. The failure to establish the habit of saving money.

A TURKISH RIDDLE

Here is an old Turkish riddle which has been handed down for many centuries and yet has never been answered. "There was once a beggar who always dreamed he was a pasha, and there was a pasha who always dreamed he was a beggar. Which was the happier?"

"The man you see passing is a queer one. He makes only a bald pretense at earning a living."

"How's that?"

"He is a hair raising specialist."

The newspaper is the greatest educational institution in the country, according to a recent statement of Dr. Alfred Rockwell. Hospitals get second place and schools third.

HONORING HIS ALMA MATER
Herbert C. Hoover, mining engineer and graduate of the university of California, has so effectively managed the work of the commission for relief in Belgium as to become the focal point of every eye in Christendom. Through his hands have passed a quarter of a billion dollars for relief in Belgium and France. Before the war he practiced his profession of mining engineer and efficiency expert, establishing for himself an envied reputation.

PRACTICAL SAVING
To stop expenses is not the only way to save money. Stinting yourself may make you heartily tired of saving. Don't punish yourself. Live well, but don't buy anything you don't need. Don't buy things because your neighbors have them. Envy has wrecked many families. Put something in the bank every time you are paid. It is the habit of saving that counts.—Where Money Grows.

BELL NEVER STOPS RINGING
In the Clarendon laboratory at the Oxford (England) university museum is a little bell which has rung day and night for seventy-six years. It is a somewhat near approach to perpetual motion, yet its mechanism is very simple.
