Probably of old Dutch workmanship; there are 9 cards in each hand or set, viz. Heer, Vrouw, and Boer, as Courtcards; Ace, and then the six to the ten. There is a great deal of Ornamentation in the shape of Flowers, etc. worked in silk upon each card; and the courtcards are very curious and elaborate.
- 24 FRENCH CARDS, a Pack of 52, 18mo. size, curiously engraved by V. G. R., with subjects of Costume, grotesque figures, landscapes, of which the card-marks are made to form part, the Court cards in colours, in the original carton case, £2. 16s ca. 1770

- 28 MURNER (T.) Chartiludium Logicæ, seu Logica poetica vel memorativa, operâ, notis et conjecturis J. Balesdens, 12mo. with very curious and spirited woodcuts, vellum, very rare, 36s Paris, 1629

This book, like the other works of the author, is of the greatest rarity. Murner was the first inventor of this species of publication, but very many were afterwards published. They were received with much delight by the literary world at the time, and the council which acquitted him of witchcraft, expressed their opinion that he was rather a divinity than a magician, and worthy of all honour.

The woodcuts in this edition are copied from the first, and are of the same marvellous description. It is quite as rare as the first edition, and is called by Vogt "liber eximie raritatis, Morhofio nunquam visus." This copy cost £2. 18s.

 THE FIRST BOOK PRINTED IN ENGLAND,
WESTMINSTER, WILLIAM CAXTON, 1474.

- 32 CAXTON'S GAME AND PLAY OF CHESS MORALIZED,
(translated 1474) FIRST EDITION, folio, 65 LEAVES (of the 72), bound in old russia gilt, £400

Fynysht the last day of Marche the yer of our Lord God, a thousand foure hondred and lxxiiii. . .

An extremely large, though somewhat imperfect copy of THE FIRST BOOK PRINTED IN ENGLAND, from Caxton's press.

Mr. Blades quotes 9 copies (4 perfect, 5 imperfect), the present is the 10th known copy, and is TALLER than even the Grenville—hitherto the tallest known copy; my copy measures 11½ inch in height by 8 in width, whilst the Grenville copy (also imperfect) is only 11 inches high.

COLLATION of my copy :

This Booke conteyneth iiii tractees . . . . .	1 leaf.
This first chapiter of the first tractate . . . . .	1 leaf.
The trouthe for to do Justice right wysly, etc. to the end . . . . .	62 leaves.

The last leaf with the date :

In conquernge his rightfull inheritance, ending: fynysht, etc. 1474 1 leaf.

65 leaves.

My copy wants therefore 7 leaves, the two blank ones being out of question. The imperfections include the first leaf, and two leaves in the second chapitre of the fourth tractate, the end is all right. I should be glad to hear of any IMPERFECT COPY of this work, which would supply me with what I want. In the mean time this "RELIC" of the Infancy of Printing in England, can be seen by BUYERS of Rare books.

See Dibdin's Bibl. Spenc. IV. p. 189.

No copy of this edition has been sold for years; in 1813, Alchorne's copy, wanting first two leaves, the last two leaves and two leaves in the second chapter of the fourth tractate, fetched at Evans's, £54. 12s. The value of this class of books has much risen since then, and may now be considered, as ten times greater.

In comparing the first edition of "Caxton's Game of Chess" with the second, one perceives many variations in the spelling. I consider the first edition to be the most interesting, for a variety of reasons :

1. It is the first book printed in England.
2. It is the Editio princeps of the English version.
3. It shows the Art of Printing in its crudest form.
4. It has a Post-script not in the second edition.

Both editions run on together to the passage on the last page of the second edition :

And a mon that lyveth in thys world without vertues lyveth not as a man but as a beste.

The first edition ends thus :

And therefore my right redoubted Lord I pray almighty god to save the Kyng our soverain lord to gyve him grace to yssue as a Kyng tabounde in all vertues | to be assisted with all other his lordes in such wyse yn his noble royaume of Englonde may prospere | habounde in vertues and yn synne may be eschewid justice keppe | the royaume defended good men rewarded malefactours punnysshid the yble peple to be put to labour that he myth the nobles of the royaume may regne gloriously.

In conquerynge his rightfull inheritaunce | that verraypeas and charite may endure in both his royames and that marchandise may have his cours in such wyse that every man eschewe synne | and encrese in vertuous ocupacions | Praynge your good grace to resseyve this lityll and symple book made under the hope and shadow of your noble protection by hym that is your most humble servant in gree and thanke And I shall praye almighty god for your long lys & welfare | whiche he preserve And sende yow thaccomplishment of your hys noble joyous and vertuous desirs Amen : | :

Fynnysshid the last day of marche the yer of our lord god a. thousand four honderd and lxxiiii. . . . .

The second edition ends thus :

Thenne late every man of what condycion he be that redyth or herith this litel book redde. take therby ensauple to amende hym. Explicit per Caxton.

- 33 CAXTON'S (Wm.) Game and Playe of the Chesse, folio, woodcuts, hf. bound, £2. 2s
Explicit per Caxton, circa 1475

This is a most exact reprint of the SECOND EDITION of this work, as originally printed by Caxton, admirably reproduced from types expressly cast for the purpose by Messrs. Figgins, the woodcuts have also been copied with very great accuracy, and the whole is printed on a peculiar paper, made for the purpose.

Beckman, in his history of Inventions, mentions the illustrations of this book as being accurate, and the birds are drawn in very natural positions, the plumage being remarkably well delineated. “Bayle was a man of immense but desultory reading; of a subtle understanding, invincible patience, and not less indomitable industry. The notes are the grand field in which Bayle delighted to pour forth his knowledge; and I believe that his ‘Life of Nero’ furnished a Greek quotation at a late state trial. If sceptical, he was peaceably disposed, although constantly assailed. Even his ‘magnum opus’ the Dictionary, was criticised before it appeared. Jurieu, Saurin, and Le Clerc were unable to ruffle the calmness of his temper, or embitter the sweetness of his retirement. He told Des Maizeaux, that from twenty to forty he worked fourteen hours a day—and, in fact, he never knew what leisure was.”—Dibdin’s Library Companion.

(pub. at £5. 5s) hf. morocco, uncut, 20s Cantabrigiæ, 1861

A most important contribution to the Literature of Bibliography. Mr. Botfield's INTRODUCTION, pp. i.—lxxvi. written in English, conveys to the reader the clearest notion of the History and Uncertainty of the Early Manuscript Literature and its transition to the relatively speaking much more critical and certain Printed Literature.

The PREFACES extend from page 1—666; the INDEX editorum, from p. 667-674. Some of the Prefaces are in Greek: all have been reprinted with scrupulous accuracy.

Of each author the exact TITLE of the Editio Princeps is given, with a most accurate COLLATION, and the number of lines to the page, so important in editions issued without a date.

These prefaces were in almost all cases written by the first Scholars of the time, and contain a vast bulk of historical, paleographical and critical facts, which have hitherto been inaccessible to Scholars on account of the great rarity of these Editiones Princeps.

** Mr. B. Quaritch will be most happy to assist collectors in procuring any of the Authors they may desire to possess.

Jomini relates events in a striking manner, describes battles and military movements vividly, and lucidly describes the conduct of military enterprises."

Gilbart's name has often been quoted in both Houses of Parliament, on questions of Banking and Finance, as that of a Practical man, whose opinions on all questions connected with his trade (that of a banker) deserve the utmost attention. Whenever an unsuccessful company is wound up, it is invariably found that Gilbart's maxims have been sinned against.

Gilbart's works have been long out of print, and a new edition has been most urgently called for by demand from home and abroad.
