ANDO, Kyoshiro

1. The subject person was an official of the Ministry of Home Affairs for 24 years, but he was engaged in special police affairs for only two years of that period and in other affairs than special police for the remainder of that period.
2. Being appointed to be the Chief of the Police Bureau in the Hiranuma Cabinet in Janjary, 1939, the subject person resisted to the military pressure at the time and tried to make the police affairs normal and for it not to be utilized for the revolutionary movement or for the attainment of ambition of the army. That is, when there arose the anti-Britain movement in connection with Tientsin incident, the Ministry of Home Affairs assumed a firm attitude towards the control thereof and endeavored not to make the people raise the disturbance before it got serious.
3. On the other hand, with respect to the control by the special police and for the maintenance of public safety, no question of infringement upon people's rights appeared to him during his incumbency, because he took the measures minding so that the above control might not become severe oppression.
4. In short, the subject person is recognized as a serious-minded, honest, fair and just, and democratic person.

1. The subject person held the post of the chief of Police Division in the prefectures of Yamanashi, Nagano, Kanagawa and Osaka successively during the period from July, 1932 to January, 1939 and in that period he was concerned in an arrest of communists, however, there is no fact that he played an important part or infringed people's rights in the course of that event.

2. The subject person was the chief of Fukushima Prefectural Branch of the Imperial Rule Assistance Association for about one year in the capacity of the governor of Fukushima Prefecture, however, the fact is that the organization of the Branch was formal and he was not active. In 1943, at the time of the Tojo Cabinet he tendered his resignment at last and retired from office.

1. There is a fact that the subject person did not give way at all to the naked interference of the commander of Mie army M.P. corps in the police when he was in office of the Chief of the Police Bureau of Mie Prefecture, and the opposition of the military department to the police, which became the object of people's criticism, ended in the change of the commander of the said M.P. corps.

HASHIMOTO, Seikichi

1. The subject person was engaged in the special police service for 8 months from January, 1939 to September, 1939 as the Chief of Public Safety Section, Police Bureau and for 10 months from December, 1940 to October, 1941 as the Chief of Police Bureau, the total term of office is only 1 year and 6 months.

2. And moreover, in spite of the objective attitude of the major part of Japanese people to the U.S. Japanese negotiations at the time, the subject person tried to maintain the internal public safety by supporting its success. Under the critical circumstances that in relation to this event the nationalists organization insisted on the rejection of pro-Anglo-American group and on the immediate declaration of war against U.S., and behaved in a disorderly manner positively, the subject person checked the activities of these radicals and was absorbed in the maintenance of public safety at the risk of his life. Accordingly he was blamed by military and civilian jingoists as one of the pro-Anglo-American members and retired from his office at the time of establishment of the Tojo Cabinet.

3. As a matter of fact, during the service in Shizuoka Prefecture, on the occasion of 2.26 event he helped Duke Saionji to refuge in his official residence, guarded the Duke sacrificially, and engaged himself in the communication of accurate information with Tokyo in the midst of the complexed correspondence as well as rejected various requests of radicals.

4. In short, the subject person had a fundamental attitude to the duty, which rooted in justice and humanitarianism, prevented the disgraceful affairs, disorderly plans, etc. ,casting a gloom over the international relations as far as possible, and therefore became the object of blame by jingoists organizations as a pro-American person.

HIROSE, Eizo

While the subject person was in the post of Chief of Police Department, Hyogo Prefecture, Major Ito and some others attacked and burned down the British Consulate General in Kobe, trying to start terrorizing the Anti-British Movement. The Military Police were very negative in controlling the above terrorists, nay, they were about to have the general tendency of conniving at the terrorists, when the subject person sprang to his feet with resolution to meet face to face with Major Ito and convinced him of his error, taking at the same time a resolute step to arrest the confederates of the Major and preventing the rise of such disgraceful affair.

HOMMA, Sei

1. As police official, the subject person made efforts from first to last towards maintaining the welfare and order of social public.

The subject person insisted that the office of police official should lie solely in maintaining the welfare and order of society, and

(1) In the 2.26 Case, the subject person made a frontal attack upon a part of the militarists about their disturbance of order in consequence of rebellion, continued to visit the brain part of the militarists for the purpose of expecting the maintenance of peace in Tokyo-to, thus playing an important part in settling the said Case.

(2) In 1938 when the times were hard and even a rice riot was about to take place on account of the scarcity of rice food, the subject person himself urged the Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry to cooperate with him in making immediate transportation of rice from the producing district, and then, while driving away "food unrest", prevented the activity of disquieting elements that might avail themselves of people's unrest at such a time.

2. The subject person prevented the activity of the militarists and ultra-nationalists.

(1) When in the post of the Director of the Police Bureau, a part of the militarists who were radical young soldiers sang the praises of the extreme militarism and then went so far as to practivally start political movement thereof, when the subject person concluded that the active servicemen's participation in politics was absolutely

absolutely in the wrong, and made a strong protest against the brain part of the militarists, while making severe control over them and mercilessly rejecting the servicemen's participation in politics.

(2) In 1939 when he was again appointed Director of the Police Bureau, the leading personages of ultra-nationalism, Amano-Tatsuo, Maeda-Torao, Yasuda-Tetsugoro and others secretly communicated with militarists and were about to attempt to assassinate those personages high in authority for the purpose of raising a internal revolution, when the subject person made the persons concerned superintend the activity of above revolutionists and rejected their obstinate objection, thus adopting a prudential policy in preventing the ultra-nationalistic movement.

Throughout his whole career, the subject person has hardly any part relating to the special police service. For a police career, the subject person was engaged in inspecting books as chief of Books Section, but being at that time ardently required by the militarists or Rightists to control such books as are imbued with liberalism, even if slightly, the subject person personally perused all individual books as Chief of Section and passed his own judgement upon them, and by inspecting those books on moderate principle, rejected the request of the militarists and the Rightists.

B,

IMAI, Hisashi

1. The career of special police service was extremely short.

The most part of his career of police service was related to police affairs, of which, he had been engaged mainly in the general police affairs, such as personnel affairs and equipment business, etc. while in special police affairs, as the Chief of Police Safety Section, Ministry of Home Affairs, for 2 years and 1 month.

2. Resistance to the Military department and ultra-nationalism.

(1) He lodged strong protests, as the Chief of Police Affairs Section, Osaka-fu, against the insolent and rude attitude of the Headquarter of the 4th Army Division, on the occasion of the so-called "Go-stop event" (i.e. An event concerning the violation of traffic order by commissioned soldier, at a crosspoint of the centre of Osaka City); and he made the military department find its fault and excluded the military interference from police right.

(2) When he was the Chief of Police Division, Saga Prefecture, he was engaged in the control of the extreme-rightests and maintained the public safety, as the said Prefecture is the home of extremists, such as participants in the so-called 5.15 event, 2.26 event, and there wriggled the extreme-rightests pretty vividly.

(3) When he was the governor of Ibaraki Prefecture, he changed the governing body of I.R.A.A. and broke out their ambition, the said Prefecture was the famous home of extreme-rightests there became remarkable the movement of ultra-nationalists and appeared the fascionising tendency of the I.R.A.A.

As shown in the abovementioned cases, Imai had the posts in the districts where the military department or ultra-nationalists rooted in deeply, endeavoured to prevent the extension of these powers and check the militaristic, and ultra-nationalistic movement.

3. Protection of foreigners in Japan.

When he was the Chief of Foreign Affairs Section, Ministry of Home Affairs, he thought much of the protection of life, body and property of foreigners in Japan and endeavoured to secure the houses and food rations in the safety zone, such as Karuizawa, Fuji Goko, Hakone, etc., for separation of foreigners, in connection with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and others ministries concerned, in order to secure the safety of foreigners in war time; many foreigners expressed their gratitude to him.

4. He made very fair and just measures in an arrest or cases. He arrested mainly the person involved in cases of disorderly plans of right-wing organization, such as Kodo Yokusan Seinen Remmei, Kinno Makoto Musubi, Kinno Doshi Kai, etc.

As for the Christ revival incident, as a religions case, it has been made clear by Mr. Nelson, the Chief of Religion Division, G.H.Q., since the surrender that he was very fair and just in the course and matters of control, and in measures concerning custody of property of religions ordar.
