

SERIOUS ASPECT

GRAVE DANGERS TO NEUTRAL FORSEEN BY GERMAN PROCLAMATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—By far the gravest danger of embroilment of the United States in the European conflict that has yet confronted the nation is perceived in the announcements of the German admiralty delineating war zones in the waters surrounding Great Britain, Ireland, the French coast and neutral Holland.

The illegality of this procedure, the complete disregard of all public law and of the usages of nations which it entails is scarcely questioned in Washington. Yet it is not upon this phase of the matter that attention centers.

Those threats to neutral shipping which the admiralty's announcement makes, and which possess no warrant in law, give ground for a protest from the United States.

This protest may be made. It probably will be, but such a course has not been definitely decided upon. Neither is this the phase of the matter upon which attention centers. The one consideration which fixed attention here today is the likelihood of such violation of vital American interests resulting from the German policy that the United States will, despite itself, be drawn into the vortex.

"The waters around Great Britain and Ireland," says the German announcement, "are declared a war zone. Every enemy merchant ship found in this war zone will be destroyed. Also neutral ships in the war zone are in danger."

Thus American ships on the route to England, Holland and France, even to Germany, are to be in danger of destruction by German submarines. Moreover, American passengers on board any merchant ship taking this route are to be in danger of death.

The German government has decreed this. If it can accomplish it, there is obviously imminent danger of loss of innocent American lives and of neutral American property on the free high seas, for such work of destruction, the Germans declare, is to be carried on, "even if it is impossible to avert dangers which may threaten the crew and passengers."

Officials here admit privately that a loss of American life and the destruction of American ships under such circumstances would force the most drastic action from the United States. In this situation, it is considered that the legal and diplomatic phases of the matter become secondary considerations. The issue is merely, can the Germans carry out this threat, and to what extent?

Slight Effect on Dutch Ships

THE HAGUE, Feb. 5, via London.—In shipping circles here it is understood that Germany's notice concerning danger to merchant shipping in British waters will have only the slightest effect on Dutch vessels, most of which are expected to continue their voyages according to schedule, although some ships may choose the northerly routes.

The Dutch government thus far has declined to express an opinion.

Germany's Threat Arouses London

LONDON, Feb. 6, 1:59 a. m.—The Daily Telegraph, in an editorial today, considers Germany's declaration of the waters around Great Britain and Ireland and the coast of France and The Netherlands as naval war zones to be proof of the economical pressure the British fleet is exercising and that "the German ship of state is on its mean ends."

"We could, of course," says the Daily Telegraph, "make reprisals, for we possess twice as many underwater craft as Germany; but we could not descend to such a depth of infamy. The German proclamation consists of empty words, but it is self-revealing, and Germany must be punished for this threat of frightfulness. We are convinced that any action in this direction the British government, for and on behalf of the allies, may take, will receive the support of the civilized world."

Sink Transports German Threat

BERLIN, Feb. 5 (via Sayville).—The chief admiral of the staff of the German navy has issued the following official communication:

"England is on the eve of shipping numerous troops and large quantities of war materials to France. Against these English transports we will proceed with all the means of warfare at our disposal.

"Neutral shipping is earnestly cautioned against approaching the northern or the western coast of France, as in these waters such vessels would run the serious danger of being confounded with ships whose purposes are warlike.

FAIR A BIG SUCCESS

WELL PATRONIZED LAST NIGHT AND LARGER CROWD IS EXPECTED TONIGHT

A record-breaking crowd attended the "county fair" held at the Glendale high school Friday night and all who were there testify that they got their money's worth. There was nothing lacking to make the affair one true to its name, all the features of a county fair being in evidence as well as a number of others.

As the patrons of the show entered between the domestic science and administration buildings, they were greeted with all the popular airs played by a band of fifteen pieces. In the main building the farce-comedy, "Chums," was the first attraction. Miss Terry directed an exceptional cast in the production of this sketch.

Passing into the gymnasium the first attraction was the "Chocolate Drop." Mr. Howe is reported to have spent $2 trying to duck Eddie Wood before he accomplished his purpose.

The merry-go-round invited many and did a rushing business during the evening. In the gymnasium was the entrance to Hades and those who followed this path say it was most spectacular and realistic. The exit was in the cafeteria in the domestic science building. In this building also were the "nigger baby rack," side shows of various kinds and the museum. The fat lady and the tall lady were very fascinating and drew large crowds to gaze upon their grace and beauty. Their singing was an added attraction.

Jason Kilgore's electrical show was "adjacent," as was also the animal show. On the second floor were more side shows, a fortune telling booth attracted many, and there were all kinds of throwing stunts. Many were placed under arrest in the police court.

The ice cream parlor on the second floor did a rushing business and the rest room proved a great convenience. Returning to the main building, the crowds wended their way through the maze, a feature of the fair which proved especially attractive to the young men who were escorting their particular lady friend. In the auditorium the vaudeville performance, consisting of many excellent attractions, was in full swing. There were lemonade, popcorn, peanut and candy stands at every convenient corner, so that none were allowed to go hungry or want for refreshment.

The students of the high school and Prof. A. L. Ferguson, who was general manager of the affair, are highly elated over their success of last evening and they are making preparations for at least 1500 people this evening.

CITY MANAGER FOR ALHAMBRA

City Attorney Munger has received a copy of the Alhambra city charter, which is now before the state legislature for its consideration. The charter provides for a city manager and commission form of government. Under its provisions there will be five commissioners, handling public affairs, works, finance, safety and supplies. The manager will be the administrative head of the city and will be appointed by the commission. His salary is to be not less than $2000 a year.—Daily Advocate.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Elizabeth Head of 124 North Louise street will give a box party this evening at the Palace Grand theater for eight little girl friends, the occasion being her thirteenth birthday. After attending the first performance at the theater, the girls will return to Elizabeth's home, where dancing and refreshments will be enjoyed. The guests invited are Ruth Anderson, Harriet Barnes, Jessie Gregg, Frances Cline, Myrleen Bryant, Helen Beach, Laura Davis and Edytha Bryant.

is around Scotland."

Von Bordenen Forced to Leave GENEVA, Switzerland (via Paris), Feb. 5.—Gen. Von Bordenen, staff commander of the German operations in Lower Alsace, with headquarters near Altkirch, has been forced by allied aviators, who bombed the headquarters, to return to Muelhausen, from which place state papers and valuables are being removed to Freiburg.

A German aeroplane fell at Murof, near the Swiss frontier at Basel, yesterday. The two officers in the aeroplane were seriously injured and the machine was smashed. As a result of the new German regulations for the making of bread several hundred bakers in Southern Germany, along the Swiss frontier, have been compelled to close their shops.

EVANG'LISTS HERE SOON

MEETINGS IN HUGE TABERNACLE TO BEGIN WEEK FROM TOMORROW

Tomorrow will be the last full Sunday before the opening of the Brown and Curry tabernacle meetings, it being understood that all of the churches co-operating will abandon their services, with the exception of the first Sunday morning, while the revival is in progress. The pastors will have a splendid opportunity to drive home the importance of the coming campaign and the necessity of union revivals in these days at their services of the morrow. The gratifying results of the building committee, backed up by the workers in wood, during the current week has given a decided stimulus to the cause, showing how all denominations can work harmoniously and secure definite results.

The notices appearing daily in the columns of the Glendale Evening News announcing cottage prayer meetings throughout the community are of vital importance and all consecrated Christians will strive to attend the meeting nearest to their place of residence. Dr. Willisford of the First Congregational church is chairman of the prayer meeting committee and all notices bearing on the pre-prayer services should be sent promptly to him.

All who have voices and are willing to join the big chorus under the able leadership of Mr. Curry will report without fail to the member of the music committee in their respective churches, as the time is drawing near and there is much to be done.

Rev. Edmonds of the Presbyterian church is chairman of the executive committee and all matters of importance should be referred to him in case they cannot be adjusted in the several committees. Let each committee strive for results, so that when reports are in order there will be cause for thanksgiving to God. Take the building committee, for example of work well done. Congratulations to Mr. Banker and all who served with him and to the noble men who worked so well and gladly in erecting the huge tabernacle for the campaign commencing Feb. 14th.

"THE TIGRESS" AT THE PALACE GRAND

The attraction which will be offered to the patrons of the Palace Grand for Saturday matinee and evening will be the first episode of what is conceded to be the greatest serial photo-play ever produced, entitled "Runaway June." In addition to this feature the bill includes a high-class selection of dramas, Royal and Keystone comedies.

The attraction for Sunday matinee and evening will be the world renowned Mme. Olga Petrova in "The Tigress." The Tigress is a photoplay of a wife whose sole thoughts were for her home, her husband and her child, but in the latter part of the photoplay, the plot of which is laid in New York, the actress enacts a woman embittered by the loss of all she loves, one who preys on society in order to gain the wealth and power necessary to take vengeance on those who have wronged her.

This production is based upon Ramsay Morris' absorbing drama of Russia and America. Mme. Petrova is known throughout the civilized world as one of the greatest actresses of the present age and in "The Tigress" she lives up to the reputation gained by many years of hard work.

COMMON SENSE THE QUALIFICATION

The best way to understand the workings of nation, state, county, city and village is to keep in close touch with what is going on, and it is a good plan for heads of all forms of government to encourage sensible investigation. Citizens as a rule are slow to avail themselves of a right that is theirs, and that is to familiarize themselves with public affairs.

We hear many complaints made against the plan of conducting affairs at the national capital. Many of the criticisms are unjust. So on down to the lowest government in existence, there is always someone ready to complain without having a well-grounded cause for the complaint. Why not agreeably keep in touch with what is going on in the government in which we have a voice? You will not be considered a knacker if you make your inquiries in an intelligent and kindly manner. If inquiries are made in the right spirit, and then the one in office refuses to be civil to you, that person should not be allowed to continue as a servant of the public. All around common sense on the part of all concerned is the only requirement.

LITTLE ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST FROM OUR SISTER CITY

NORTH GLENDALE

Mrs. William Alston of 1652 Ruth street, with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Vradenburgh of North Central avenue, enjoyed witnessing "The Goose Girl" at Tally's last Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Joseph of 122 Central avenue are spending several days in Pomona, where they are the house guests of Mrs. Joseph's sister, Mrs. Roy Blackburn of that place.

Mr. Frank Olmstead of 1431 North Pacific avenue has had the old ranch house on his property moved to a new location on the ranch and is putting it in condition for renting.

Mr. A. E. Wilbur of San Gabriel motored to North Glendale Friday and was the guest of his daughter, Mrs. George H. Marsh, of 1645 Ruth street, while here.

Mr. Mike of Pasadena was in North Glendale recently looking after his extensive property interests on Dryden street, having had several of his houses repainted and put in excellent condition.

Mrs. J. W. Cousins of 1501 Loraine street spent the mid-week with her friend, Mrs. Frank Schrader of 2830 Budlong avenue, Los Angeles, during the great sorrow of Mrs. Schrader's in the death of her husband, who passed away last Tuesday and was buried Thursday in Rosedale cemetery.

Mrs. S. C. Bierbower of 922 Fairview avenue entertained at a prettily appointed luncheon last Thursday Mrs. Elizabeth Favorite of Cheyenne, Wyoming, who is spending the winter in Southern California.

Mrs. Lucius F. Drake of 1657 Ruth street spent Thursday in Los Angeles, where she was the guest of friends.

TROPICO

The New Year's work of the Parent-Teacher association was most auspiciously launched at the meeting held in the Tropic school on Friday. Mrs. H. W. Creveling addressed a large audience on the subject of "What Shall Be the Ideal of Our Boys and Girls and Training Them for Efficiency?" Mrs. McNaughton and Miss Wetherby gave two enjoyable musical numbers and little Erma Hollice Lucas contributed some recitations, making the afternoon thoroughly enjoyable, as well as instructive.

Mrs. D. H. Imler and her sister, Miss Cora Hickman of Palm Villa, returned Friday after a visit of several weeks at Mrs. Imler's Imperial valley ranch. Miss Hickman left today for Whittier, where she will be guest at a luncheon given by the officers of the Eastern Star lodge.

Miss Mary Rieckman, who has been visiting friends in Los Angeles for several days, returned Friday.

MRS. MORRIS HOSTESS

On Friday afternoon a large and enthusiastic meeting was held at 336 Everett street, with Mrs. Robt. Morris of the Woman's Auxiliary for Missions members of St. Mark's Episcopal church.

After the important business meeting, Mrs. Morris read an excellent paper on "Current Events in Missions," and this world at large was reviewed.

Mrs. Archie Parker read a fine paper on the work done by Bishop Tuttle when missionary bishop of Montana and Utah, giving interesting facts regarding the Mormons.

Dainty refreshments were served and the meeting proved interesting and beneficial to all present.

GLENDALE IS TO MEET DELHI'S TEAM

Delhi will seek revenge on the Glendale ball tossers next Sunday on the Santa Monica diamond, says the Venice Vanguard. One month ago Glendale passed the afternoon here and left Delhi with a 4-to-0 bad taste in his mouth. His arm has become so obedient recently that the manager may take the mound again himself Sunday and help his men in the attempt to feed defeat to the visitors. When the Glendale nine dropped in on Santa Monica they brought with them a pitcher that left a well defined impression on the Santa Monica batters. Nobody recalls his name, but the way he served up deceivers to the waiting hitters and the way these hitters swung in vain at them fingers like a bad dream. It is the high ambition of the local sluggers to bat the offerings of this pitcher to 26 points of the compass.

BRYANT FUNERAL

LAST RITES HELD TODAY OVER BODY OF PIONEER RANCHER

John L. Bryant, who died on Tuesday of this week at his home in the Big Tejuunga canyon, was one of the Big Tejuunga fame, his father being a first cousin to the poet, William Cullen Bryant. His mother was a Breed and members of her family own Breed's hill in which the famous Bunker Hill is located. Both the Breed and Bryant families came over in the Mayflower.

Mr. Bryant had lived in California for forty-three years and lived on his ranch up in the Big Tejuunga for twenty-five years. On account of the high water in the canyon, Mr. Bryant's body had to be brought down to Sunland on the shoulders of some of his friends. The funeral services were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Pullman undertaking parlors. The remains were cremated.

Mr. Bryant was nearly seventy-three years of age. He leaves a family, one son residing in Los Angeles.

BROTHERHOOD BANQUET

The Federated Brotherhood of Glendale will hold a banquet Monday evening, February 8th, in Masonic temple on Brand boulevard, at seven o'clock. The ladies of the West Glendale M. E. church will serve the banquet. This is the annual meeting and election of officers will be held. This is the last opportunity for the men to get together before the special union meetings. Mr. Henry J. Allen, editor, politician and religious worker of national reputation, will address a preliminary meeting at the Christian church at 6 o'clock sharp. All men are cordially invited. This meeting will adjourn in ample time for the banquet.

TO VISIT PACIFIC COAST

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 6.—When the first infantry Illinois National Guard leaves Chicago on July 16, there will go on the special trains with the 1000 citizen soldiers a delegation of Chicago business men to tell what the city by Lake Michigan has to offer in the way of co-operation with the Pacific coast. The trip will last seventeen days and every Pacific coast city from Seattle to San Diego will be visited by the men from the Middle West, while the two expositions, one at San Diego and the other at San Francisco, will of course attract great attention.

SUCCESS

"Success is the most interesting thing in the world. It is what we are all striving for. And who are the successful ones?"

"Well, I think that man is a success who does his own work well, whatever that work may be; who strives all the while to do better work; who is honest; who is loyal to his house and his own best standards; who lives a clean life; who supports his family and educates his children; who proves himself a good citizen by taking an intelligent interest in the affairs of his city, state and country, and who votes only for honest and able men for positions of trust and in the commonwealth."

"The man who measures up to these simple and possible standards is in my opinion a success, even though at death he may not leave an 'estate.' It is qualities that make genuine success, not goods and chattels. Honest work is the greatest boon of mankind. Sometimes we think we must work to live. This is hardly true. Savages do little or no work. Yet they live. It is profound truth, however, that we live to work. By work we grow, we evolve, we become. The noblest truth of life is that he who gives most, gets most."

SPRAY THE ROSE APHIS

Careful spraying of rose plants with a solution of nicotine will prevent the flowers being destroyed from the ravages of the rose aphid, says a report issued by the United States department of agriculture.

The rose aphid is a small insect, the color of which varies from green to pink, and has a slender beak with which it sucks the juice from the plant. The insect propagates rapidly, but is destroyed to a great extent by heavy rains and birds.

When there are but a few bushes to be treated, a teaspoonful of 40 per cent nicotine to two gallons of water and one-half ounce of whale oil soap is effective.

Southern California climate is a happy surprise to all newcomers who have never before visited the state.

PLEASANT GATHERING

EVENING AT FRED THOMPSON'S—BIRTHDAY AND FAREWELL PARTY

There was a pleasant gathering at the home of Fred Thompson, 1314 West Fifth street, Thursday evening in honor of Fred's birthday, and as a sort of farewell to him on the eve of his business trip to Chicago and Indianapolis. There were present thirty members of the big men's class of the First Christian church, of which Fred is vice-president. His good wife had notice of the invasion and with the assistance of some lady friends prepared and served an appetizing lunch. The evening was spent in pleasant conversation and in planning for the "big brother" banquet of the class, which is to be held next Friday evening in the church bungalow. This little gathering emphasized the splendid good fellowship that prevails in this great class of men. Fred was reverently commended to the care of the Almighty in an earnest farewell prayer by Elder Francis, the consecrated pastor of the church and teacher of the class, and all then gave him a hearty handshake and Godspeed. He expects to be absent a month on business for his firm, the Peninsula Stove company of Detroit, Mich., with headquarters at Chicago.

PLEASANT AFTERNOON

Miss Emilie Zeese of Atwater avenue, Tropic, gave a party on Friday to a number of friends. Luncheon was served at one long table, violets being used in decoration, and the afternoon was pleasantly passed with needlework and conversation. The guests of the occasion were Mrs. O. S. Richardson, Miss Grace Richardson, Mrs. Frank Richardson, Mrs. S. S. Street, Mrs. Leigh Bancroft, Mrs. D. W. Richardson, Mrs. Will Richardson and Mrs. Zeese, mother of the hostess. Mrs. Hixon of San Francisco and Miss Theodora Chaffee of Chicago were also guests.

MRS. KELEHER ENTERTAINS

One of the daintiest affairs of the week was the 1 o'clock luncheon on Thursday given by Mrs. T. J. Keleher of 228 North Louise street, assisted by Miss Ida Jordan and Mrs. C. B. Wilde. The luncheon was for ten elderly lady pioneers of Jackson county, Iowa, and the decorations were violet and white, dainty violet blossoms being everywhere. The afternoon was very delightfully spent by the ladies, most of whom had been schoolmates, in talking over old times in Jackson county. Covers were laid for Mrs. J. H. Dunn, Mrs. W. Dalzell, Mrs. J. W. Bolton, Mrs. A. Summich, Mrs. A. Mienhart, Mrs. J. Meinhart, Mrs. Dunn, Jr., Mrs. Anna Regan, Mrs. A. Servatius and Mrs. G. Bacon.

TWO-COURSE LUNCHEON

On Friday afternoon Mrs. E. O. Von Oven of 830 Columbus avenue entertained a few friends in honor of Mrs. Lena English and Mrs. Ethel Oliver, who are soon to return to New Jersey, having spent the better part of a year in Glendale. A two-course luncheon was enjoyed by the guests and the afternoon passed in conversation and needlework. Besides the honoree and the hostess those present were Mrs. A. S. Chase, Mrs. S. C. Packer, Mrs. J. J. Fraser, Mrs. E. H. Willisford, Mrs. M. C. Patterson and Mrs. Sara Beals.

VALENTINE PARTY

A very pretty and enjoyable affair was the Valentine and birthday party given for Miss Ethel Oliver at the home of Mrs. M. C. Patterson on Riverdale drive on Friday afternoon, it being her tenth birthday. The decorations were of red hearts and flowers. Games were played and refreshments served and a good time enjoyed by all. Those at the party were Alexander Chase, Stillman Chase, Cecil Chase, Ordear Chase, Doris Packer, Miss Augusta Otto, Miss Erma and Miss Alice Patterson.

MISS SPRINKLE SHOWERED

On Thursday evening of this week the Sunday school class of Mrs. M. P. Harrison met at the home of Mrs. W. J. Smith, 143 South Maryland avenue, where they gave a miscellaneous shower for Miss Zada Sprinkle, a young bride-to-be. A very pleasant evening was spent and Miss Sprinkle was the recipient of many pretty gifts. Those present were Miss Zada Sprinkle, Mrs. M. P. Harrison, Mrs. Claire Van Etten, Mrs. MacMillan, Mrs. James Newton, Mrs. Misses Cecelia Wilson, Lauriel Randall, Harriet Nichols, Elsie Campbell, Mazie Black, Clara Ginn and Monica Smith.

BLUE LAWS

The name "blue laws" was given to the first collection of laws that were framed for the government of the New Haven colony. They were published in collective form in 1650, the volume bound in a blue cover, which gave rise to the name that has clung to the laws ever since.

by its banks. If they are located in modern buildings, well equipped to give first-class service to their depositors and well organized to insure safety, people speak of such a city as a rich and prosperous one.

The First National Bank of Glendale has had a most successful growth and offers its depositors every advantage and convenience of a metropolitan bank, but could be a still greater factor in the upbuilding of Glendale, if every Glendale citizen transacted his or her banking business in Glendale, for the reason that the funds of this bank are loaned to Home People on Home Securities and are at all times engaged in the upbuilding of local interests.

BROADER AND MORE LOGICAL

It is pretty hard to find an extreme, hide-bound, bigoted political partisan these days. Men are to be found who prefer one party above all others, but who do not hold that all the virtue and wisdom are in their party, and all the error and tendency to wrong is in the party they oppose. Men are becoming broader, more reasonable, more logical and more tolerant in their political thinking.—Pasadena Star.

A WHALE OF A SCRAP

A teacher in one of the public schools located not far from this city, in answer to a question the other day by one of her pupils, stated that Germany is often called the Fatherland and England the Mother Country. A little ten-year-old boy spoke up and said: "Jimmie, teacher! Pa and Ma are having a whale of a scrap, aren't they?"

EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL GREAT SUCCESS

The union Epworth League social at the West Glendale Methodist church Friday evening was largely attended by all the Methodist congregations of the valley, and those who attended will not soon forget the good time they had at the hands of the good people who entertained them. The event was for the purpose of getting the young people of the various Epworth Leagues acquainted and to line up their forces for the Brown and Curry evangelistic campaign. The response was thrilling and we are expecting that no stone will be left unturned, but that all will join full handed to the work of the Lord. A splendid musical program introduced the evening. Then an hour of songs and games followed. Refreshments were served and the guests went happily to their homes to Eagle Rock, Burbank, Casa Verdugo and Glendale. About one hundred delegates were present. The affair was under the direction of Miss Zella Keim, who is the fourth vice-president of the league of the West Glendale church, having charge of the social department of the league.

NOTICE

A report is being circulated that I have sold out and this is to advise my friends and patrons that nothing could be farther from the truth. On the contrary, I expect to continue indefinitely to supply you with the purest, richest and most sanitary milk that has ever been sold in this city.

W. L. TRUITT, Prop. of Glendale Purity Dairy. 145t4

NOTICE TO PUBLIC

The Board of Trustees of the Glendale City School District will receive sealed bids until Feb. 11, 1915, for the purchase of buildings on lot at 224 South Kenwood St., and on lot at 217 South Jackson St., all in the City of Glendale, California, said buildings to be removed from the lots by March 11, 1915.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. By order of the Board of Trustees of Glendale City School District, Jan. 21, 1915. 135t4Sat JOHN TODD, Clerk.

SOME EXCUSE FOR THE SUN

Artist—There, sir, is my latest picture. Ingenious Friend—Well, you have not economized paint on it, have you? What title have you given to it? Artist—What do I call it? Why, sir, that is an autumn sunset. Ingenious Friend—You don't say so! Well, I don't blame the sun at all for setting!

KILL MANY LIONS

Two thousand ninety-nine mountain lions have been killed in California since 1907, according to a statement by the state fish and game commission. Of this number, 118 have been killed in the state for the six months ended June 30. The state pays a bounty of $20 for each lion killed. The cost of killing lions has been $41,980. The Humboldt is the banner county for this year and for every year. In the six months ending with June, Mendocino, Trinity and Siskiyou are next in the order named. Los Angeles county claimed bounty on fifteen lions in seven years. —San Francisco Chronicle.

MECHANISM OF THE CARP

People marvel at the mechanism of the human body, with its 492 bones and sixty arteries, but man is simple in this respect compared with the carp. That remarkable fish moves no fewer than 4386 bones and muscles every time it breathes. It has 4320 veins and ninety-nine muscles.

LADIES MUCH INTERESTED

Dr. Jessie A. Russell spoke before a large meeting of women in Long Beach on Friday, her subject being "Proposed Legislation Affecting the Women and Children." Much interest has been displayed by women throughout Southern California on this subject, Dr. Russell having already accepted nineteen engagements to speak at various places. A conference of the southern legislators will be held in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce some time during this month, when all those interested in the proposed legislation are invited to hear the discussions.

"The TYRANNY OF TEARS"

On Wednesday evening, Feb. 10th, the Colonial Players will present Lancelot Ornsby in "The Tyranny of Tears" at the Palace Grand.

Mr. Ornsby is supported by a notable cast of well-known players, and the tour is being made under the direction of the world-famous director, Sedley Brown, who until recently directed the many successful productions given New York by Chas. Frohman; and the discriminating public will recognize the fact that this great director's name attached to a play is a guarantee of its sterling worth and spells success for that particular attraction.

IRRIGATION

The application of more water than the soil will retain or than the crop irrigated requires is injurious to the soil and wasteful for both the individual and the state.

The purpose of irrigation is to get adequate moisture into the rooting zone of the crop irrigated and not merely to apply water to the soil surface. (Buy and use a six-foot soil auger and know what becomes of the water applied.)

Long irrigation furrows and long checks make even application of the water impossible.

In orchard irrigation it is as important to irrigate directly in the tree rows as to irrigate between them.

Basin and flooding irrigation of orchards result in unnecessary puddling and excessive evaporation and may double the cost of cultivation after irrigation.

Orchards should be irrigated by means of furrows if you can get the water where you want it with furrows. (Use your soil auger to find out.)

The principal wastes in irrigation come through leaky farm ditches, run-off at the lower ends of furrows and checks, excessive application, resulting in too deep percolation, and surface evaporation due to too little or too shallow cultivation. (Look out for them!)

Plants require most water when they are making the most rapid growth.

Crops should be irrigated before they begin to suffer for lack of moisture. The ideal in irrigation is, in general, to maintain uniform moisture content of the soil throughout the growing season.

Beyond a certain point the application of additional water does not increase yields and may decrease them.

Every heavy rainstorm that sweeps over California does far more good than harm.

STATE DIVISION OR COUNTY DIVORCEMENT?

Many times during the past decade of which the editor has personal knowledge, by reason of the privilege enjoyed during that time of residing in Southern California, he has heard the question broached of state division. The question is one which arises in the minds of most every newcomer when in the course of his investigations of the business possibilities of Los Angeles and the extent of its zone of commercial competition into contiguous territory, he ultimately encounters the bitterness of the jealousy so frequently in evidence from the sister city of the north, our rival in every sort of development. San Francisco, once dominant on the coast in point of population, commercially, industrially, financially, in culture and art, seems unable to see with composure Los Angeles outstrip her in population, wealth or influence, and furthermore cannot suppress her chagrin at seeing Los Angeles come into her own in the business control of that portion of the central part of the state naturally hers, but so long practically owned by the north through unfair discrimination in freight rates.

Now comes a petition into circulation somewhere in the northern part of the state proposing a constitutional amendment seeking to divorce the eight southern counties from California. This amendment would slice off into the cold, cold world the counties of Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange, San Diego and Imperial, about as one would trim one's fingernails. By thus kicking us out would these dispirited rivals—whom out of justness to the better element of the north we hope are a minority in that section—seek to forestall our further influence in the mid-county section and thus save to the north the business of Kern, Tulare, Kings, San Luis Obispo, Fresno, Inyo and Mono counties. The latter are however in too many ways identified with the southern counties and our interests there are already too great for such a proposal to be considered. Should the divorcement petition find enough signers in the north to get before the legislature, it cannot hope to carry at a state election on the referendum, for while the eight counties of the south contribute only thirty-six per cent of the total votes cast in the state, the loyalty of the other seven counties named will leave no question as to its defeat.

San Francisco is known all over the world and merits its unique fame as a city. But California is equally famous, and California's reputation as a state has been made by its southern half. Visitors wish to see San Francisco, but when they want to see California, they make Los Angeles their headquarters. We suggest that if the disgruntled element in the north is really tired of associating with us, that they pare the state's fingernails the other way and lop off into a territory all that portion lying north of San Luis Obispo, San Benito, Merced, Mariposa and Mono counties.—From the Southwest Contractor.

LET 'EM KNOW

When a store offers a real buying opportunity to its patrons, such an offer has what is called "advertising value"—it is an advertisement for the store. But it loses its force and value to the store if it is not made known—if it is only half proclaimed. A "bargain" makes a good ad only if it is told in a good ad.—Exchange.

NO HURRY

A lecturer one exceedingly rainy night addressed an audience which might have been much larger without taxing the seating capacity of the hall. Naturally he was willing to curtail his address, and, having about reached what he considered the physiological moment, he said:

"I'm afraid I've kept you too long."
Whereupon a voice replied: "No, go on; it's still raining."

FLOWERS

"Lilies fair, the flower of virgin light."
Lotus flowers, with sunken heads, await the coming night.
Morning glories blossoming amidst a field of green,
A wreath of snow-white roses that well befit a queen;
Chrysanthemums, so royal, in their grand array—
This bouquet we have offered for your wedding day.

LIKE A CAT ON A WALL

A Scotch highland minister was very fond of commenting on each verse as he read it out. On reading the precept, "Walk circumspectly," he said:

"Ye've all seen a cat, my brethren, walking on the top o' a wall covered wi' broken bottles and bits of glass. See hoo it lifts ae fit and then anither fit and hoo slowly and carefully it puts it doon to keep clear of the sharp bits of glass. And so, my brethren, in this world o' snares and pitfalls, we should be like the cat on the wall; we should walk circumspectly."

Moving pictures are the reel thing!

LIKE OWNER, LIKE STOCK

An old farmer went to the show to exhibit a favorite cow, with which he had high hopes of winning the first prize. On learning the result, and that his cow had been placed fifth, his anger knew no bounds, and rushing into the ring, he attacked the judges.

"Why is my cow not first? What are her faults, I'd like to know?"
At this point one of the judges approached him and answered:
"Her faults, my good man, are somewhat akin to your own. She lacks good breeding."—Catholic Advocate.

OLIVE GROWING IN CALIFORNIA

Olive varieties should bear good crops of large fruit, easy to pickle and ripening before heavy frosts. Winter temperatures below 15 degrees Fahrenheit, spring frosts after April 15, and fall frosts before December 1 are dangerous. Very hot or cold weather, during blossoming, especially with wind, may reduce or prevent bearing.

Mean temperatures from blossoming to ripening should average at least 66 degrees F.

The best soils require at least two acre feet of water; shallow or less retentive soils more.

Localities subject to frequent summer fogs are unsuitable for olives owing to the difficulty of controlling black scale.

Deep preparation of the soil is necessary for vigor and early bearing and promotes deep rooting.

Deep annual plowing in winter aerates and improves the soil. Frequent cultivation during the growing season conserves moisture.

Irrigation must supply deficiency of rain or of retentiveness of soil. Except in the best soils it should be frequent toward the end of summer.

Cover crops or stable manure, or both, are essential for building up and maintaining the humus of the soil. Suitable commercial fertilizers increase the productiveness of deficient soils.

Material for propagation should be selected from trees known to be good regular bearers of choice fruit.

The richer the soil and the more vigorous the variety, the larger space needed by each tree, about 900 square feet is the minimum.

Young trees should be pruned so as to give the mature tree a low, strong, open frame-work, to facilitate cultivation and harvesting.

Bearing trees should be pruned so as to admit air and sunlight to every part, to promote an annual growth of fruit wood and maintain the form of the frame-work.

The only serious diseases and pests of the olive tree in California are the olive knot and scale insects. Where the former exists the more susceptible varieties should be avoided.

Against the latter, regular open pruning is usually sufficient protection.

WHAT GASOLINE WILL DO

In every drop of gasoline there is written in letters of living fire the word "danger."

There is no fool-proof gasoline. Gasoline requires more watching than the proverbial kicking mule.

It harbors more destruction than a modern dreadnaught.

Just a chance and gasoline will do more damage than a forty-days' rain at harvest time.

Gasoline is not a toy. It is not a plaything. It can do more destruction in ten seconds, if the opportunity is presented, than 1000 men can repair in a year.

A MATTER OF ART

Ernest Shelling, the pianist, smiled the other evening when reference at a social affair was made of the appreciation of some people in the matter of art. He said he was reminded of an incident that happened in the East. Some time ago an eminent artist was showing a really fine picture that he had just finished to a number of visitors.

"I want you to notice the sky effect," proudly said the artist, pointing to the painting. "Also the blending of the foliage tints and the gathering clouds in the distance. Another striking feature is the figure in the foreground. Through—"

"It is wonderful!" interrupted an elderly gentleman, in an admiring voice. "A most wonderful conception, indeed! I don't know how you did it."

"Oh, Mr. Artist," impulsively exclaimed a pretty young woman at this point, "did you also make the frame?"—Philadelphia Telegraph.

FLOWER STORY

"Forget-Me-Not my Sweet William," the little Violet said.

"Lettuce Beet my Poppy and at Four O'Clock be wed.

The Canterbury Bells will chime, and that Heartease will give

For you Marigold and comfort—in Clover you will live.

May I not Kohl-Rabi who preaches to large Phlox?

He wear's a Joseph's Coat, also leather Stocks.

In Jacobean style, 'neath the Matrimony Vine, he will like the Clinging Ivy my Bleeding Heart entwine.

I shall wear my Lady Slippers, wreath Orange Blossoms round my head, a Lily and a Snow Drop in my bosom when we wed.

I shall wear no Golden Feathers, so when you Look At Me, you will see a Passion Flower, with Tulips but for thee.

My maids of honor, Daisy, Rose and Marguerite, with Golden Rods and Purple Bells our floral friends will greet.

We need no Chinese Lantern, but have Canary Birds, Wall Flowers for decorations that oft the Air Plant stirred.

Oleander shall be groomsman, Johnny-Jump-Up as the page; shall Cauliflower by its name though it be Pink with rage.

On her Angel Trumpet Pansy plays Love-in-a-Mist sublime.

It shall be our wedding march at this most festive Thyme."

"Touch-Me-Not," Sweet William answered, "for you know I Cantaloupe, were a Golden Mound now offered, I must marry Heliotrope.

You a Mourning Bride would be. Bitter Sweet they only share, then beneath the Weeping Willow 'midst the pretty Maiden Hair they would lay away Sweet Violet.

White Fringe would encircle you, cold Ice Plants be your tombstone, with a Privet Hedge in view."

Violet was angered—her cheeks of Radish hue—replied, "Take Heliotrope, a Snap Dragon fit for you.

With Turnip nose and Olive cheek besides a heart of Oak, no Peas for thee," I truly say, "'tis then your Artichoke."

Sweet William said, "A Monkey Flower Canna trouble me, with a Dutchman's Pipe, Cigar Plant, too, I'll rest 'neath Linden Tree.

A Bachelor's Button I shall wear—I shall not grieve or Pine;

No Honeysuckle could wind 'round Anchusa me to be thine."

The Elephant's Ear was startled, the Dandelion roared, the Rubber Plant just trembled, while the Onion Set and snored.

The Palm called Morning Glory, Aster who invited Fern, when the Bridal Wreath was missing—a Chestnut—as we learn.

Achilles, who was strongest, put Hedge Plants all around Sweet William and fair Violet, so they married on the ground.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY TO BE OBSERVED IN NOVEL MANNER

The Congregational Club of Southern California will depart from its usual plan of semi-annual meetings in the vicinity of the metropolis of the Southland to give outlying communities the benefit of a visit. On the 12th inst. the club will assemble at Claremont for celebration of Lincoln's birthday with Pomona college. Special trains will be run from Los Angeles and Pasadena and large delegations are expected from other cities.

A program has been arranged with a view to promoting fellowship and a better acquaintance with the spirit and purposes of Pomona college. Guests are to arrive for morning chapel at 11:30 o'clock. A basket lunch will be enjoyed in Blanchard park to be followed by a walk about the campus and through the college buildings.

At 2:45 p. m. Dr. R. R. Meredith of Pasadena will deliver his famous lecture on "Abraham Lincoln." Of special interest will be the singing of the Men's Glee club and the Women's chorus at the several gatherings of the day. The closing incident of the celebration will be a dinner served in the college commons at 6:30 p. m. to all guests. The Men's Union of Claremont will cooperate with the college in the entertaining of the club.
