order of political inchols was passing away, and with it was going the system of party government which the Angio-Saxon people had erected.

With these changes what we wanted was evolution and not revolution. Drastic changes, though in the end they might do good, did harm in the meantime, and what was wanted was a gradual rise from the lower to the higher after nature's own plan.

The Christian man should qualify himself for public life by studying public matters. How many men in public life could give a clear expression of for damages against the notion for damages against the nation for damages against the national for damages against the nation for damages against the na

Mr. Brown gave a very thoughtful address, starting out with a definition of the Christian man as one who was anxious to mould his life on the precepts laid down in the Bible. Speaking of governments he said that in this

John Pease Babcock, fisheries commissioner for the province of British Columbia, has written to the Canadian Gazette with regard to misleading statements made in the press, and copied into the Canadian Gazette as to the results of the past season's operations at the British Columbia salmon hatchery at Seton Lake. Mr. Babcock

Says:

"The facts are these: We collected at the provincial government hatchery at the grant of the sporting fraternity both fighters are connected, he was asked.

"The facts are these: We collected at the provincial government hatchery at Seton Lake last fall, 44,150,000 eggs of the sockeye salmon (O. nerka), and 1,465,000 eggs of the spring salmon (O. tschawytscha), a total of 45,650,000 eggs. To obtain these eggs we spawned over 18,000 female salmon and almost double that number of males. The eggs were hatched and the fry raised in the hatchery building, or in the nursery, with loss of little more than 15 per cent. Werplanted 27,000,000 sockeye fry in the nursery, and reared 10,625,000 sockeye fry and 1,376,000 spring salmon fry in the building, making a total plant for season of 1995-6 of 39,000,000.

workmen, this is certainly a good showing for the season. At many of the hatcheries on the Pacific Coast the dead eggs picked from the hatchery baskets the first few days are not shown in the table of collection or loss. At the Seton Lake hatchery we measure in every egg collected—good or bad—and credit them as eggs taken; we then charge the hatchery with the loss of every dead egg picked out. Our first picking of dead eggs this year was over 5 per cent. Had we followed the practice of other stations, we would have made a showing of less than 10 per cent. loss. The total collection of salmon at the five hatcheries located on the Fraser was 109,000,000, of which had appeared in the ring on October 3rd, upon which date he is accused of not having a permit.

Round four was a gruelling one. E.

Round four was a gruening one. Ea-C. Smith, assistant collector to the city, proved a hard customer to tackle. Eberts handed him out first with a statement that Belyea should have got his permit, but that gentleman re-turned him with interest. In fact the smith upper-cut proved damaging for the deliverer. Belyea got in his fine work immediately, and elicited from Smith the fact he didn't know any reason why clergymen, civil engineers and others should not pay their footing the same as barristers, doctors and dentists. A slight attack by Belyea, who made one or two strikes in his own defence, ended this part of the The final was fast and furious. Ac-

ording to the rules of the game Beiyea was given the first show with the privilege of banging away at Eberts until the judge called "time." This he did, and he swatted in some case of Victoria against Belya and so anfractuous were the channels of thought to which attention was directed that His Honor was compelled to reserve decision.

The case in itself is a simple one. Yesterday's rehearing was the result of an appeal by the city against a decision. The case in itself is a simple one. Yesterday's rehearing was the result of an appeal by the city against a decision by two justices of the peace. The information was laid under by-law 321, as amended in 1992 by by-law 383, which purports to license various trades and professions in the city. The amending clause was copied holus bolus from the act of 1992, siso and the main contention by the defence is that no clear definition is made of who, or what shalf be taxed. It is urged that the definition of trades and professions is left in the hands of city officials instead of being decided by the council as it should be. These officials have included barristers, to which A. L. Belyea, K. C., makes objection.

To return to the story. As before stated the city was knocked out in the first battle at the justices court, but on the advice of C. D. Mason decided to appeal. This was heard yesterday, and D. M. Eberts, K. C., appeared for the city, while A. L. Belyea, K. C., the decity while A. L. Belyea, K. C., the decity while A. L. Belyea, K. C., the decity while A. L. Belyea by the same opin-practiced at the bar. Another line of defence was that if he had fought without a license who preached from 'pulpits advocates and said if they were taxed those who preached from 'pulpits advocates and said if they be readed those who preached from 'pulpits advocates and said if they preached from 'pulpits advocates and said if they said if the bar. Another line of defence was that if he had fought without a license it was only, on one occasion. One swallow didn't make a Collins, anyway, so he asked for the decision. The council, who dished out the permits should decids who ought to alternate up and not the collector of this subordinates. He retired in comparing the principle of the anternation of the principle of the principle of the principle of the principle of the part of the part of the principle of the part of the part of the principle of the part of the p and fighters of Belyea's class came within that description. If Belyea butted into the ring he should cash up for his pastboard and Eberts thought the judge would be of the same opinion. This closed the scrap and His Honor asked time to decide.

This is a short story about a fight over ten dollafs. Which goes to show make a that a colossal cranium can make a mountain out of a mole hill. Victoria against Belyea is, however, important in one direction. If the attack on the by-law is successful the collection of by-law is successful the collection of licences for many trades and profes-sions is rendered hazardous. Citizens, therefore, have a greater interest in the case than appears on the surface.

THE GREAT SKIN-CURE

HE old Greek custom of anointing wounds and sores with healing balms had its foundation in sound scientific principles. To rub a wound is instinctive; and in Zam-Buk is found the ideal preparation with which to rub or anoint all injured or sore places.

The objection to ointments and embrocations in the past has been that they are imperfect in their action—partly because they generally contain mineral poisons, and partly because they contain quantities of rancid animal fats and oils. A simple theory led to the discovery of a substance free from both these fatal objections. This theory was that nature having implanted the instinct to rub, must certainly have provided in some form the proper substances to rub with. Experiments and investigation led to the discovery and combination of vegetable juices and essences, which, when properly compounded, provided a combination of healing, soothing and antiseptic properties. Zam-Buk, the great natural healer, was the result.

Zam-Buk is entirely vegetable in its composition absolutely free from all trace of animal fat or mineral poison. In color it is nature's own "green." In operation it is soothing, healing and antiseptic. Applied to burns, cuts or wounds, or to diseases of the skin, such as eczema, etc., it is equally effective Whoever watches the healing of a wound, chronic sore, or diseased surface with Zam-Buk, is face to face with one of nature's greatest wonders. The healing process thus set in motion is nothing but a phenomenon of regeneration-a natural process of replacing destroyed tissues by new ones. The antiseptic substances contained in Zam-Buk first attack and kill off the microbes or germs that are the cause of the inflammation or disease, and then the healing ingredients proceed to build up new tissue to replace that which has become damaged or diseased. New cells appear like a builder extending a new row of houses; the whole of the wounded area is gradually over lapped: and soon it is difficult to tell where the injury or sores have been, so perfect and complete is the growth of the new skin. Write for free sample of Zam-Buk and try it before buying a supply. Note free sample coupon in this article.

Zam-Buk and the Woman in the Home.

In all the many countries to which Zam Buk has so far been introduced it has invariably become the "house-wife's friend." When one considers its many uses and its handy nature this is not surprising. To the wife Zam Buk is a veritable good fairy, are ber hands rough from the wash tub, or raw and chapped—she rubs in Zam Buk and it restores their natural softness. Are her feet sore with being on them all day, she finds relief in Zam Buk. Baby's skin is chaing and hot—a purer or more wholesome emollient than Zam Buk she could not have. Her little boy cuts his finger, or her daughter burns her hand while ironing—Zam Buk again is the healer. Do you wondow then that with these and her many other needs so easily catered for by Zam Buk, the methodical house-wife should never allow herself to be without a box in the house? There is nothing so healing as Zam Buk; it is most readily absorbed by the skin (a very valuable property for a sulve); it soother and softens the skin, cleaness the pores, stimulates the tissues, and acts as a powerful antiseptic when there is dirt in a wound. Now that Canadjan women are effected an opportunity of obtaining Zam Buk without writing to England for it—as many of them have done hitherto—they will doubtless welcome the privilege.

What Zam-Buk Is Used For.

Am-Buk possesses a wide range of usefulness, being especially recommended for cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, sprains, stiffness, weak ankles, swollen joints, bad legs, blind and bleeding piles, running sores, eczema, ulcers, pimples, boils, rash, raw chapped hands, scalp irritation, sore heads, barber's rash, raw chin after shaving, sore throat and cheat, sore and aching feet, chilblains, cold sores, featering sores, poisoned wounds, and other diseased, injured, and inflamed or irritated conditions of the skin, Rubbed well into the parts affected, Zam-Buk gives great relief for neuralgia, toothache, recatics, lumbago, rheumatism, chest and back pains, and colds, used as an embrecation it ends stiffness after cycling, football, hockey, etc. A BOX MAY BE OBTAINED of any druggist for 50 cents, or post free- for the same price direct from the Zam-Buk Co., Colborne Street, Toronto.

Depositors in Defunct Bank Will Be Paid Twenty Per Cent. Next Thursday.

This is only the second paid since the institution went out of existence in 1892. A first divisend of five per cent. was paid on 225d April, 1895, but since that time it has been merely a case of walt. The recent sale of part of the property abutting on Trousce avenue property abutting on Trousce avenue and Government street is the source from which the coming dividend have been derived, and the depositors will have a comfortable sum to spend during the Victoria Day celebration.

In order to provide for the rush that will doubtless occur the trustee has conted the new premises of the North-rented the new premises of the Northern bank, adjoining the Bank of Mon-treal for Taursday, Friday and Satur-day next, and it is from this place the dividend will be paid.

Prof. Alexander addressed a full house in the A. O. U. W. hall last evening off the subject, "Success in Life." He took the ground that in order to succeed in any line a person-must throw himself heartily into the-work. In making a success of any vo-cation it was necessary for a man to have the natural inclination for it—to be adapted for the business he follow-ed. In addition to this there must be application to the work-and third, the application to the work-and third, the practical knowledge gained by experi-

This event, it will be remembered, was inaugurated principally through the efforts of R. H. Swinerton when secretary of the B. C. Agricultural Association. It was bisught off in connection with the fall fair. Mr. Swinerton offered a cup for the school whose representatives obtained the largest number of points, the latter being awarded to those securing the first, second and third places in the and a full cargo-handling equipment at each hatch, so that the stowing and discharging of cargo can be accomplished mest expeditiously.

The engines of the Themis are of the triple-expansion type, cylinders 20½ by 35 by 57 by 39-inch stroke.

This proved a splendid success, a keen, friendly rivalry being aroused, and since then it has become an annual affair.

CROWING FORBIDDEN.

Rooster That Disturbed Resident's Court Case.

There was an amusing case in the the complaint made by Mr. Green, a neighbor, was that the cock crowed every morning at 4 o'clock accentuating the offence by flying up on the fence just outside his bed room window and repeating his proud note until Mr. Green's patience was exasperated. In court to-day both complainant and defengiant conducted their own cases, and there was a good deal of concealed mirth. Mr. Williams finally consented to kill the bird when Constable Palmer, who had been an attentive listener came to the fowl's rescue and offered to buy it at half price. The offer was accepted, and the rooster will accordingly be sent to another part of the city. The bird happens to be an imported brown leghorn.
