RUSSIAN ARMY DELIVERS A GREAT BLOW

CANADIANS GO AHEAD NEAR LENS; TRENCHES RETAKEN BY FRENCH

Gains by Currie's Troops East of Reservoir Hill; Germans Driven From Captured Trenches on Aisne Front

Canadian Headquarters in France, July 1, via London, July 2.—(By Stewart Lyon, the Canadian Overseas Press Correspondent.)—The drive south and west of Lens continues with unabated vigor. During the night Canadian troops, operating in the region east of Reservoir Hill, supported by a cannonade of great intensity, pushed forward 700 yards beyond the point reached Thursday. They encountered strong opposition, especially on the left flank to the north of the city, and were unable to maintain the extreme point of their advance.

German counter-attacks continued this morning. Fighting proceeded amid the ruins of houses and the front under a bombardment of heavy guns, making the line difficult to locate and maintain. The battle was really one in which the valor of small groups of men using bombs and bayonets decided the issue. The British troops in their advance northwest of Lens, have maintained the finest traditions of the army.

Where the Canadian troops are battling forward on the southwest, the floods along the Souchez River resulting from the debris of blown-up bridges slightly retards the advance. Nevertheless our patrols now are well into the upper part of Avion and in close contact with the enemy's rear-guard. In the lower end of Avion the destruction wrought is indescribable. There is not a habitable house left in this formerly populous suburb of Lens, and in some places the streets have been so ploughed up that it is difficult to trace where they were located. The enemy's trenches, which were provided as usual with deep dugouts, are almost entirely obliterated and the entrance to the dugouts have been blown in.

A reminder that victory is not to be had save by paying the price in the lives of brave men, was supplied by the unburied dead, the bodies of men who formed part of our first assaulting columns two months ago. Some of these heroic soldiers fell amid the enemy wire close to the trenches which defend Avion.

Huge Cellar.
Others were to enter La Coulotte but never emerged on the farther side, though the ruins appeared to afford no shelter for any large number of the enemy. That mystery now has been solved. A huge cellar with a vaulted roof has been discovered, virtually intact, in which the enemy sheltered himself during the shelling and from which he emerged only when our infantry penetrated the village. This cellar is large enough to accommodate at least two battalions. The enemy was not without the means of amusement in this subterranean home, for a harp and piano were among the things he left behind. Much furniture from a neighboring chateau also was found.

Dominion Day. was celebrated at noon to-day by a triple salvo from all the guns of the Canadian corps. Just before noon the guns ceased to fire. Simultaneously at 12 o'clock and again at two minutes and four minutes past the hour, hundreds of guns, from 15-pounders to the great siege pieces, the shells, from which fell miles behind the German front, broke forth in a mighty clamor.

The enemy, for the third time on Canada's natal day since the war began, must have realized that the Dominion is in this fight for liberty and democracy until the last gun is fired.

French Report.
Paris, July 2.—French troops made a counter-attack last night and ejected the Germans from trenches captured by them in the offensive last week on the Aisne front along the Ailles-Vaisy road. The War Office announced this afternoon.

The following official report was issued yesterday afternoon:
"To the east of Cerny, notwithstanding a recrudescence of artillery fire, only light fighting was reported in the sector from Cerny to Ailles. Attempts of the enemy to advance at various points on this front were repulsed with grenades.

"In the region east of Rhims our first line were subjected to a violent bombardment in the early part of the night. Strong surprise attacks directed by German troops in the region east of La Pompeille, north and northeast of Prunay, caused the attackers serious losses and gained them nothing.

Points Taken From Turks by Russian Forces; Offensive

Petrograd, July 2.—Russian forces yesterday continued their offensive against the Turks and occupied the village of Engidja, north of Lake Deribar, and also occupied the Turkish stronghold of Kalamirvan, southeast of the lake.

DUSSELDORF SCENE OF RIOTS; STORES WERE PLUNDERED

Amsterdam, July 2.—The Dusseldorf General Anzeiger says riots occurred in Dusseldorf last Thursday in which workmen of enemy nationality participated. Shops were damaged and plundered alcoholic liquors especially being stolen. The police, who were reinforced by troops, made many arrests. It was decreed that all saloons and amusement places should be closed at 9 o'clock at night, except the municipal theatre and opera house. Street gatherings were forbidden.

CHIEF OF STAFF OF FORCES OF RUSSIA; GENERAL BRUSILOFF

LAUNCHING OF RUSSIAN ATTACK IS FULFILLMENT OF PLAN M. KERENSKY TOLD STATES OF THREE WEEKS AGO

Washington, July 2.—Russian War Minister Kerensky informed the United States three weeks ago that a big Russian offensive would take place in the first part of July.

Secretary Lansing stated this morning that the Russian successes were very pleasing and indicated that M. Kerensky had succeeded in his big task of reorganizing the Russian army.

London, July 2.—(By Arthur S. Draper.)—The Russian offensive which the Austro-Germans have been expecting has started in earnest. Gen. Brusiloff's reorganized armies have launched an attack over an eighteen-and-a-half-mile front with a drive of tremendous force. The Russians, driving the foe before them, advanced from the upper Stripa River toward Lemberg, the capital of Galicia, from which they are only about 45 miles distant, capturing the town of Koniuchy and more than 10,000 prisoners in that and other sectors and some heavy guns.

The German War Office to-day admitted the loss of Koniuchy. The artillery fire is heavy over the whole front from the Pripet Marshes to the Carpathians. The Russians evidently are expecting the Austro-Germans to leave their trenches and come forward at their own peril.

Will Grow.
The drive in its initial phases promises to be on a scale equal to Gen. Brusiloff's great offensive of last year and is the first important action launched by the Russian forces since the revolution. Berlin reported last night that the Russian infantrymen had left their trenches under cover of a violent bombardment on the whole front from the upper reaches of the Stripa River to the Carpathians, a small tributary of the Zlota Lipa, but Gen. Brusiloff's artillery is maintaining an intensive fire from almost south of the Pripet Marshes to Stanislaw, a front of more than 200 miles. Berlin said last night that there had been no infantry assaults except in the southern centre of this line "up to the present," which suggests a Teutonic extension over a wider area.

Another claimant that the Russians had been driven back everywhere with heavy losses, but it was admitted that there had been night attacks in force on both sides of Brzezany and near Zwysyn, and that further Russian attacks had developed yesterday near Koniuchy and between the Zlota Lipa and Narayuvka.

German Statement.
The opening sentence of the Berlin day report yesterday, while of no great military value, is highly interesting in view of the general situation and the rumors of Hindenburg's overtures for a separate armistice with Russia. It reads: "The Russian Government having been constrained to yield to the pressure of the leading Entente Powers, part of the army has been induced to fight."

One of the main objects of a Russian campaign in the field of the present action is to separate the German and Austro-German and thrust in a great wedge around which they must lengthen their lines of vital communication. It has been the experience of the war that the Austrians can not resist the Slav forces without liberal support from the Germans. Last year, before they could be stiffened by German divisions, Gen. Brusiloff captured them by the tens of thousands and succeeded in so seriously crippling the fighting machine of the Dual Monarchy that it has never fully recovered.

Lemberg, which the troops of Russia formerly held, also would be an important prize for the armies of new Russia. It is a large and prosperous

PROVINCE HONORS CONFEDERATION DAY

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper,
Son of a Father of Canadian
Union, Speaks

THOUSANDS ASSEMBLE ON THE PARLIAMENT LAWNS

British Columbia's celebration of the jubilee of Confederation to-day, so far as official cognizance of the occasion is concerned, took place in front of the Provincial Parliament Buildings this forenoon. There was nothing formal about it, but there was a simple dignity marking the proceedings which was far more impressive and much more in keeping with the democratic spirit of the people.

In honoring the day British Columbia also honored the men who had gone from this province to fight the battles of the Empire and some of whom have returned. It honored, likewise, those living within its borders who fought for the Motherland by sea and land longer ago than the fifty years of Canadian Confederation.

It was, as Premier Brewster remarked, a unique honor for this far western province that it had as the orator of the day the distinguished son of one of the leaders of the Confederation movement, himself a native of one of the provinces by the other ocean which washes Canadian shores and now a resident in this.

Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper delivered a very fine address on the event which is being celebrated to-day, concise, eloquent and breathing the true spirit of Canadianism and Imperial unity. Sir Hibbert said:

"Countrymen, I keenly appreciate the tribute of respect to the memory of one of the fathers of Confederation in permitting me to address you on this occasion. We meet to celebrate a great day in history. We meet to consider the work of the fathers, a galaxy of British North American statesmen, but we cannot dissociate from their names just as glorious, if not more glorious, the defenders of the Canada these fathers created, the men who fought for us and for our country; the men who have died for us and for our country; and the men who are ready to sacrifice their lives now to maintain that great Dominion, the work of the fathers (applause).

British Institutions.
"A printer, poet and statesman in British North America there was who long ago, before Confederation, spoke and wrote of the workers who had done so much to carry over this continent British institutions, and these lines of which I wish to read to you that must possess you in regard not only to the men who have created Confederation but the men who have fought to maintain it. Says Joseph Howe:

"If these Jewels
The spirit here our country's fame to spread,
While every breast reverberates to our
measured tread,
Banners and wreaths will own our
reverence for the dead,
The Roman gathered in a stately urn
The dust he honored—while the sacred fire,
Nourished by vestal hands, was made to burn
From age to age, if fitly you'd aspire,
Honor the dead, and let the sounding lyre
Recount their virtues in your festive hours,
Gather their ashes—higher still and higher
Nourish the patriot flame that history
dowers,
And o'er their graves go strow your choicest flowers."

Fitting Place For Celebration.
"Fitting is the day, fitting is the place for this celebration. The city of flowers, the city beautiful and gladdening to the eye, the city named after Victoria the Good, the queen who put her sign manual to the charter of our land; the home of fair and brave women, the home of gallant sons, the home of the General commanding the Canadian boys at the front (cheers). This is a place fitting indeed for such a celebration as we have to-day."

Reorganized Russian Army Launches Of- fensive Successfully Southeast of Lem- berg; Town of Koniuchy Captured

Petrograd, July 2.—Russian troops have captured Koniuchy, on the Galician front, about 45 miles southeast of Lemberg, with 164 officers and 8,400 men, the War Office announced to-day.

The official announcement says Russian forces have advanced to the Koniuchy stream and also have captured seven heavy guns. Teuton prisoners continue to be brought in.

The number of prisoners taken in the various sectors on Sunday is more than 10,000. Southwest of Brzezany Russian troops occupied strongly-fortified positions of the enemy.

Petrograd, July 2.—M. Kerensky, the Minister of War, telegraphed Premier Lvoff to-day that the Russian revolutionary army had resumed the offensive on July 1.

GERMANS IN POOR CONDITION IN WEST

Often Unable to Retreat Suc- cessfully, Says Australian Flying-Officer

An American, Port, July 2.—Cowed into a horrible fear of annihilation after the recent victorious attacks by the British, and becoming weary and disheartened with the stubborn struggle for existence, the German soldiers have become slow in making attacks and so utterly exhausted from the strain of three years of trench life that often they are unable to retreat with sufficient haste to save their lives.

Such are the conditions along the German front in France and Belgium in the present phase of the war, according to Lieut. Arnold Edwards, a member of the British Royal Flying Corps, who arrived at this port to-day on board a liner from England. He is credited with having brought down from the 25 Coynote had been shot and has been 50 miles behind the German lines.

During his experience he has observed that the German soldiers will not make an attack unless their forces are far superior in strength to those of their opponents. Never would one German aeroplane attack him as he flew over the German lines. It was always three or four.

Lieut. Edwards is on his way to Sydney, Australia, on furlough. He is an Australian, and is said to be one of the most daring airmen in the British army. His aeroplane had been shot from under him twice, he said. Twice he narrowly escaped being dashed to death when he was hurled through the air after an attack. But he always went back for more, he said. Though he is physically unable to fight now he hopes to return to the fray.

Frederick N. Gray, his wife and daughter, and Maurice Pate, the last members of the American relief society to leave Belgium, were other passengers on the vessel. Mr. Gray was the first assistant director under Herbert C. Hoover.

GERMANS CONTINUE BARBAROUS METHODS AGAINST BELGIANS

Amsterdam, July 2.—News received from Germany says that an extraordinary war tribunal has been instituted and has started work by sentencing two Belgian laborers to five and three years' penal servitude for treason. Among workmen received six years and several male and female workers imprisonment for from two to eight months.

RIOT IN AMSTERDAM CAUSED BY POTATOES; CROWD DRIVEN AWAY

Amsterdam, July 2.—The Handelsblad prints a report of disturbances over the supply of potatoes in Amsterdam. Thousands of women and children besieged a pier where a small barge with potatoes for hospitals had been tied up. The crowd was driven off by mounted police. Several policemen were severely injured by stones.

SALONICA TO ATHENS.

Salonica, July 2.—The Provisional Government, which was established here nine months ago by M. Venizelos and his followers, was merged on Saturday with the legal Government of united Greece. The officials of the Provisional Government have left Salonica for Athens.

MANCHUS BACK IS DEMAND IN CHINA

Chang Hsun and His Associ- ates Make Demand for Restoration

CIVIL WAR FEARED IN ORIENTAL LAND

Washington, July 2.—The restoration of the Manchu dynasty in China has been demanded of President Li by General Chang Hsun and other military leaders, according to State Department advice from American Minister Reisch to-day. Civil war in China is feared if the militarists have the power behind them they seem to have.

The monarchial coup d'etat came just at the time when peace was being restored in China. The militarists, who had set up a separate government at Tientsin in order to force President Li to dissolve Parliament, and the southern provinces, which had threatened armed resistance to such action, had finally come together, modified their demands and united behind President Li in a coalition Cabinet.

Suddenly Withdrew.
Minister Reisch's dispatch, dated noon yesterday, says General Chang Hsun, military governor of Anhui Province and leader of the militarist party, has suddenly withdrawn from the compact and sent an ultimatum to President Li demanding the immediate restoration of Emperor Hsuan Tung, whose abdication of the Manchu throne on February 12, 1912, ushered in the Chinese Republic. Chang Hsun was supported by Shun Shi Chang, guardian of the boy Emperor and former member of the Council of State under the Manchus, and by Kan Yen Wei and other old type statesmen.

No indication has been received of President Li's attitude, but as he is a strong republican and constitutionalist, it is expected he will resist the ultimatum as long as any chance of success remains.

All the southern provinces south of the Yangtze River are expected to revolt in case of a Manchu restoration. China's entry into the war is felt here now to be practically out of the question. It is assumed that the militarists are strong enough at least to split up the country.

San Francisco, July 2.—According to cable advice received here to-day by the Chinese Nationalist League, China is on the verge of civil war, with the north ready to fight for the return of the Manchu dynasty and the southern provinces united for the republic.

HARDEN KNOWS WHY ALLIES FIGHTING

If Germany Can Perceive Sign She Can Have Peace, He Writes

London, July 2.—A dispatch to the Chronicle from Amsterdam says that in the latest number of his paper, Die Zukunft, Maxmillian Harden expresses himself in an extremely pessimistic tone with regard to the general situation, especially concerning Russia. He writes:

"Only a miracle can bestow an early peace upon us. Either our enemies must be smashed up or Germany's aspirations must find unity with those of a majority of the world. Only the second miracle can be accomplished by human strength.

"The goal of our enemies is democracy and independence for every race ripe for freedom, a real and a sham reduction of armaments, and a court of justice before which all who are suspected of being responsible in greater or less degree for the outbreak of war must present themselves. They aim at a condition which will give weapons of right against the arrogance of force, a state of affairs which will threaten with peril any enterprise of attack and which will remove from one mortal man the decision whether peace shall prevail or war shall come and deprive him of the power to impose the death decision on the people. They aim at preserving the prerogatives of all countries as jealously as Socialism, already recognized by the state, protects the prerogatives of individuals.

"If Germany sees, blinding over that goal the great celestial sign of the times, then peace is reachable tomorrow. Over all other questions agreement will be achieved easily, but if that condition of things for which millions of people sigh appears to her to be ignominious then she must fight on until one group conquers and the other falls in exhaustion. The people alone can be responsible for what is to come, but the spirit of statesmanship before they make their choice must light the path for them."

GERMAN AGENTS IN GREECE OUT OF WAY

Venizelos Cabinet Acts Promptly to Remove Constantinian's Influence

Athens, July 2.—The first day of the Venizelos Ministry was occupied with the removal of German agents from the public services of those who were adherents of the Germanophile regime. A number of prefects—removed, four admirals, retired and ten officials of the Foreign Office were informed by the new Minister of Foreign Affairs that he would prefer not to find them there.

Notable was the action taken against the Holy Synod, which was told that pending a decision of the Government concerning the Metropolitan at Athens and others of the higher clergy, relations must remain in suspense. The Metropolitan, who conducted the anathema ceremony against M. Venizelos in December, certainly will resign. The Government of the country is to remain only in trusted hands.

About 50 arrests of officers of the army and navy took place yesterday. Most of these arrests were largely of a preventive character. The majority probably will be released later. Half a dozen more serious arrests were made by the French command, including two officers concerned in the treacherous attack on the Entente troops in Athens on December 1.

The situation is becoming so stable that M. Jonnart is leaving Athens shortly, and M. Venizelos has ordered all the generals and commanding officers of the Peloponnese to appear before him immediately at Athens with the double object of ensuring the fidelity of the troops in the peninsula and settling the details of their transfer to the mainland. Most of the officers already have replied that they are coming at once. M. Venizelos has ordered all the officers and men to take the oath of allegiance at once. By this act the hitherto divided army will be considered unified.

COMPULSION PLAN AND GENERAL STRIKE

Montreal, July 2.—Approval of the position taken in the conscription debate in Parliament by Alphonse Verreille, Labor member of the Commons for Maisonneuve, Que., who intimated that a general strike probably would ensue if the compulsory service bill was not submitted to the people through a referendum, has been expressed in an interview by John T. Foster, president of the Montreal Trades and Labor Council. Mr. Foster said there unquestionably was a feeling in favor of a general strike throughout the Dominion and that he personally had received a number of communications of this nature from Moncton, Halifax and Victoria.

The sentiment seems to be, he said, that the Government is trying to force the issue unilaterally with the consent of the people.

On the other hand, the "ex-president of one of the strongest unions in Canada and the United States" has been quoted by local papers as "positively repudiating the words and actions of Mr. Verreille." This writer said that Mr. Verreille did not represent labor in general.

WINNIPEG OBSERVES CONFEDERATION DAY

Winnipeg, July 2.—"Standing on the engine of to-day as on a Rocky Mountain peak of clearness, let us look gratefully over the past and hopefully into the illimitable future, mourning not the one, dreading not the other. It shall dawn with a brighter and safer glory."

So spoke Lieut.-Governor Sir James Aikins in the course of an address delivered before 6,000 citizens gathered in the auditorium of the Industrial Bureau yesterday for an official celebration, by invocation and thanksgiving, of the fiftieth anniversary of Confederation. Premier T. C. Norris occupied the chair.

GREAT RAINSTORM IN SECTION OF ONTARIO

London, Ont., July 2.—What is said to have been the most terrific rainstorm in 24 years passed over this district yesterday morning about 3 o'clock, entailing damage to crops and livestock of many thousands of dollars. Farms throughout the township of Elma and Mayborough were completely inundated.

Montreal, July 2.—"Now that the Canadian army in France has been placed under command of Lieut.-General Sir Arthur Currie, it appears that Major-General Sir Richard Turner, V.C., as general officer commanding the Canadian forces in the British Isles, will keep more in touch with the Canadian forces in London cables. "For this purpose he will visit British headquarters more frequently. General Turner is actually senior officer of the overseas forces and as such he will deal with the various questions of policy and administration without encroaching on the corps commander's jurisdiction.

"The organization and the training of the Canadian forces in England are being carried on smoothly, and under the new conditions entire co-ordin-

FEAR HAS CAUSED GERMANS TO ATTACK

Efforts Near Verdun Due to Apprehension About French Plans

Paris, July 2.—There has begun what appears to be a military offensive of some importance on the historic battlefield of Verdun, on the left bank of the Meuse, the charnel house of a year ago, in the Deadman's Hill-Avocourt sector.

Details of the fresh effort leave the German intentions in doubt. It appears that the battlefield is five miles long, with the centre at Esnes. The German attacks have been most violent west of Deadman's Hill, along the valley through which the enemy might hope to turn the famous Hill 304. That the fighting is desperate is shown by the fact that one small post was lost and recaptured five times and finally became untenable by either army.

It would seem at present as though the recrudescence of the German offensive is due more to apprehension with regard to the French intentions than to any wide or general scheme of attack.

AFTER-WAR PROBLEMS IN UNITED KINGDOM

Special Committee Recommends Changes Between Employers and Employed

London, July 2.—The Ministry of Labor has forwarded to Mr. Lloyd George a report which was submitted to the War Cabinet by the reconstruction committee dealing with after-war questions.

To this end the committee proposes to establish a representative organization for each industry for the reconstruction of matters affecting the well-being of the trade from the viewpoint of those engaged in it.

The object of this organization as a whole would be to obtain co-operation by granting the working people a greater share in the consideration of matters affecting their industry.

The councils would utilize the practical knowledge and experience of the workmen and allow the workers a voice in the settlement of wage readjustments, securing to them a share in increased prosperity.

DEMONSTRATION WAS WITHOUT DISORDER

Banners in Petrograd Bore Mottoes Against Wealthy and Bourgeois Classes

Petrograd, July 2.—The great demonstration by workers and soldiers' delegates and the revolutionary democracy, which had been discussed for some days past with considerable anxiety owing to the declared intention of anarchists to make counter-revolutionary outbreaks and to carry arms, passed off without disorder.

None of the latter bore martial or patriotic inscriptions—only declarations of hostility against the wealthy and bourgeoisie classes. "Down with the Duma and Council of Empire," "Down with the capitalist Ministers" and "The people's fight for peace" were among conspicuous mottoes.

TWENTY-EIGHT LOST LIVES WHEN FRENCH VESSEL WENT DOWN

Paris, July 2.—The French steamship Himalaya, of the Messageries Maritimes, with 204 passengers and crew, has been sunk as the result of an explosion in the Mediterranean. One hundred and seventy-six persons were saved.

CHURCH UNION.

Montreal, July 2.—The Presbyterian Church Association at a special meeting of its members called to discuss the resolution of the General Assembly of that church in connection with church union and to deal with other less important matters, decided that all active propaganda of the association against any fulfillment of the projected uniting of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational Churches should cease.

ELECTRIC CAR FELL INTO NIAGARA RIVER

Ten Persons Known to Be Dead and About Eight Missing

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 2.—A belt line electric car on the Great Gorge route left the rails, plunged down a two-foot embankment and turned over, ten feet of water on the edge of the Whirlpool rapids at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Ten persons are known to be dead, two persons known to have been on the car have not been seen since the accident and probably are dead, about six others are missing and more than a score are in hospitals suffering from injuries received in the accident.

A washout due to recent heavy rains was the cause of the disaster, which occurred just below the cantilever bridge and sixty feet below the point where the smooth water of the upper reaches of the Niagara River breaks into the turbulent waters of the Whirlpool rapids.

When the heavily loaded car struck the rock spot a rail on the river side, the car turned on its side, slid down into the water and, as it struck the rocky bottom of the river, turned completely over, the top of the car resting on the bottom of the river.

It more than half a minute elapsed between the time the car left the rails and the time it came to a standstill in the river. Bodies were recovered from the car when it was taken from the river by derrick shortly after 8 o'clock last night.

CASUALTIES AMONG CANADIAN SOLDIERS

Ottawa, July 2.—The following casualties have been announced: Infantry. Killed in action—Pte. W. Colquhoun, Kerrisdale. Wounded—Cpl. P. Somerville, Port Hood, B. C.; Cpl. O. W. Brown, Oyma, B. C.; Pte. T. S. Powbottom, Kamloops; Pte. L. V. Nevin, Rosedale, B. C.; Pte. G. L. Fyfe, Nelson.

ADVANCE BY BRITISH DESPITE BAD WEATHER

London, July 2.—The correspondent of the Times at British Headquarters in France, telegraphing Sunday, reported that the weather had been very bad during the previous 48 hours. A heavy rain fell without cessation, and on Sunday the air was very thick. The commanders precluded observation and movement difficult, necessarily hampering the operations, the correspondent said, "but we continue to make a methodical advance south and southwest of Lens. We have now won our way almost through Avion. The flooded areas everywhere south of the river."

PAIN AND SUBMARINES.

Madrid, July 2.—King Alfonso has signed a decree dealing with submarines with a view to avoiding a repetition of incidents such as that at Cadix where a German submarine took refuge and later was escorted out of the port by Spanish torpedo boats. "Article I.—The submarines of all belligerent powers are forbidden to navigate within Spanish territorial waters, to enter Spanish ports."

Amsterdam, July 2.—The Frankfurter Zeitung, reporting the death of the German aviator Rensingger, says that during his last flight he succeeded in setting fire to his British opponent's machine, but the latter, seeing he was unable to escape death, rammed Rensingger's machine and both airmen fell to ground. If a man's self-control might break down excusably it would be that of Vincent Gray in the burning of Faldo, to which he was passionately attached. There is a story that after one particularly wearisome session he travelled straight down to Faldo and sat the night on the roof of his house, the sea drinking in the calm and refreshment of his own country.—The London Chronicle.

CANADA'S ANNIVERSARY.

Confederation, the fiftieth anniversary of which is being celebrated today, was the only solution of the internal and external problems which confronted the provinces of Canada up to that time. It was dictated by a sense of self-preservation born of the necessity of standardizing the conflicting interests at home and presenting a united front on the different aspects of international policy.

Confederation crowned the new colonial system which emerged from the vision of Lord Durham nearly thirty years before. That wise man saw that as surely as the sun rose the attenuated connection between the colonies and Great Britain would be snapped unless the former received self-government.

Reactionaries both in Canada and across the Atlantic saw in Confederation the confirmation of their worst forebodings. In their eyes the granting of self-government to the British American colonies had been a ghastly mistake; the unification of those colonies in one Dominion was an irreparable disaster.

became the stronger it grew. And their school flourish still. Even the marvellous lesson taught by the great war has been lost upon some of its disciples. Even the meaning of the action of South Africa escapes them.

The confederation of Canada was an epoch-making experiment in its imperial significance which has been strikingly justified by time. The foundation was well and truly laid, but the structure erected upon it is not without flaws which sooner or later must be corrected.

Canadians to-day have a specially great and moving reason for remembering that national unity was the keynote of the far-reaching achievement of fifty years ago. In France thousands of their gallant sons are fighting that the splendid structure erected by their great countrymen fifty years ago upon that unity might not be laid in ruins by the most ruthless tyranny that ever besmirched the pages of history.

RUSSIA STRIKES.

The scene of the first phase of the Russian offensive, which began yesterday in the district in Galicia between the Strypa and Zlota Lipa rivers, about forty-five miles southeast of Lemberg, there, on a front of eighteen miles.

Russia's two objectives on her southwestern front are Kovel and Lemberg. These points were the ultimate targets of the great offensive which Brusiloff launched last summer. Then he made enormous gains on his whole front, capturing more than 450,000 prisoners and reconquering large areas of Volhynia and Galicia, as well as the whole of Bukovina, before his advance came to an end.

So far there has been no news of a Russian attack in Volhynia, but it may be expected any moment. The Russians there, pressing towards Kovel, were held up last year on the Stockhod River, twenty-five miles from their objective, but were able to cross it at one place. Two months ago the Germans, taking advantage of the temporary disorganization of the Russian troops following the revolution, made a surprise attack and drove them to the eastern bank of the river, capturing some 42,000 prisoners in the process.

There is another sector on the East Front in which sensational developments may be looked for. This is Roumania, where a reorganized Russo-Roumanian army of 400,000 men is believed to be awaiting the signal for an attack across the Sereth, which in all probability will be begun in co-ordination with a smash by Sarrail along the Vardar and the Struma.

The renewal of the Russian offensive must be quite a shock to those of little faith who accepted at their face value the grotesque stories of Russia's military demoralization which have been flooding the world in recent months.

The majority of those little-remembered reports, making the most of local disturbances which were bound to follow so titanic a political upheaval as the Russian revolution, emanated from German sources or sources sympathetic with the Romanoffs and suspicious of democracy. We never have regarded them as accurately depicting conditions in Russia, and have frequently said so, notwithstanding the cocksure assurances of Col. Repington of the London Times and certain other illiberal military commentators that Russia was done for the period of the war.

During the early days of the Provisional Government the Times invited its readers to watch closely the career of M. Kerensky, the ardent Socialist leader and pacifist whose utterances caused no little apprehension among the other Entente powers.

When he became Minister of War and Marine we predicted that responsibility would change his view point and that being the head of Russia's army his ambition would be to make the most of it and to do his utmost to save New Russia from disintegration.

Colonel Repington, of The London Times, certainly has a well-founded grievance against Russia. She has falsified his predictions three times. One of the reasons we anticipated an early Russian offensive was the colonel's dogmatic assertion that the thing was impossible and that Russia was out of business for the remainder of the war.

very easily. And the Russian infantryman has no superior, as Napoleon, who knew something about Ivan Ivanoff, used to remark. Now, then, Italy, give Austria another dose on the Carso and in the Trentino, while Russia lays a heavy paw upon her in Galicia, Roumania takes a smash at her from the Sereth and Sarrail strikes hard in Macedonia.

The United States Government is squeezing war extortions with an iron hand. The Canadian Government is going after them with a silk glove, and there is no iron hand within it.

Canadians seem to be everywhere these days, when there is fighting to be done. Some of them were involved in Socialist riots in Boston, U. S. A., yesterday.

The harder the Hun is hit the heavier his hand falls upon stricken Belgium. But probably the day is not far distant when the Belgian people will be released from the house of bondage.

Now we suppose the vials of Hun wrath will be poured upon the head of treacherous Russia, "Gott strafe her!" German diplomacy or intrigue has scored many a failure since the beginning of the war.

"Eat less and smoke more" is the latest war-time economic slogan. Little use of dining it into the ears of the "scribes and Pharisees" of the press, who have diligently cultivated the habit of appraising "the hungry wren" with an extra pipeful.

Alexander of Greece is not going to follow very closely in the footsteps of his revered father if Venizelos knows anything about it.

and Deadman's Hill. An enemy attack on the Avocourt fortified position broke down our fire. West of Deadman's Hill lively fighting took place around one of the advanced positions, which was lost and retaken on five different occasions and finally abandoned by both sides. The position was completely destroyed by artillery fire.

British Front. London, July 2.—"We made a successful raid last night east of Hargicourt and captured seven prisoners," the War Office announced to-day. "A number of Germans were killed."

London, July 2.—The following official report was issued last night: "The enemy's artillery has shown considerable activity during the day in the Scarpe valley, in the neighborhood of Lens and north of the Lys River."

"Seventeen prisoners were captured as a result of our attack last night on the north bank of the Souchez River. During the month of June we took in the course of our successful operations against Messines and the Wytschaete ridge and on other parts of our front, 8,886 German prisoners, including 175 officers, and also captured 67 guns, including two heavy guns, 12 trench mortars and 345 machine guns, besides great quantities of other war materials."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY
Victoria Times, July 2, 1892.

Hon. C. E. Pooley and Hon. J. H. Turner having failed to form a government, the Lieutenant-Governor has sent for Mr. Theodore Davis, in succession to late Hon. John Robson.

Dr. Watt has declared his intention of contesting Cariboo in the election of a successor to the Hon. John Robson.

News has reached the city that the sealers' supply steamer Coquitlam, flying Canadian colors, was seized on June 22 at Port Eches by the United States revenue cutter Corwin, in command of Capt. Hooper, for an alleged violation of the American revenue laws.

RED CROSS EVENT
WELL ORGANIZED

From Five to Seven Hundred Dollars Added to Funds as Result

The tireless, indefatigable Red Cross, to the fore in practically every undertaking of the past two years where it has been possible to turn over an honest penny to their funds, was again active on Saturday afternoon in connection with the sports day at the Royal Athletic Park. Preparations were made to cater to ten thousand people. The number actually present was far short of this, however. All the money had not been turned in up to closing time on Saturday night, and it was possible to make only an approximate estimate of the total returns, viz., between $500 and $700.

Pupils Successful.—At the examinations of the Associated Board of the Royal Academy and the Royal College of Music, London, England, the following candidates, who are the pupils of Mrs. Boulton, A. R. C. M., were successful: Vivian Mossey, Intermediate division; local center; Ruth Curtis, lower division; Beatrice Porter, Lillian Billard, elementary division; Dorothy Greenwood, Elsie Billard, primary division.

Patriotic Aid.—The following are among the recent subscriptions recently received by the Victoria Patriotic Aid Society: Victoria-Phoenix Brewing Co., $11.40; employees B. C. Electric, $42.88; employees V. I. Power Co., $11.51; employees Victoria Gas Co., $4.31; The Riggers, Navy Yard, $16.50; Chief Engineer's Department, Navy Yard (per A. Knight), $18.50; Times employees, $14.75; employees Metropolitan Garage, $3; Messrs. Gordon Drysdale and employees, $23.50; employees B. C. Land & Invest. Agency, $21.10; staff and employees Brackman-Ker, Milling Co., $9.50; City Hall officials, $61.65.

Making Good Progress.—Reference was made in these columns recently to the wounding of Lieut. Bruce Macdonald, son of Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald. The judge received a letter on Saturday last from Lieut. Colonel Doherty, of the medical service to the effect that the young officer was now approaching the period of convalescence. Lieut. Macdonald was a member of the Royal Flying Corps and while in a raid over the enemy lines was severely wounded. He was shot through the bridge of the nose and through his leg and arm, and at one time it was problematical as to whether he would recover. He is now in the L. O. D. E. hospital in Hyde Park, London.

Rotarians Will Celebrate.—At the regular weekly luncheon of the Victoria Rotary Club on Thursday a special celebration of the Jubilee of Confederation will be held. The addresses will be devoted to the general Dominion theme and Premier Brewster will deliver the speech of the day. R. B. Mosher, the United States consul, will be the guest of the club. In keeping with the special spirit of the gathering Mayor Todd will move a resolution calling upon the club to lend its utmost support to the newly appointed Dominion Food Controller in his task of conserving the food resources of the country. A programme of patriotic music will also be a feature of the occasion.

Bernstein Out of Jail.—N. Bernstein, whose conviction as a white slave for four months ago, and subsequent temporary release from custody through the activities of Mr. Andrew Bligh, J. P., caused quite a flutter in political circles, is said to be again "out on tick-of-leave," this being learned through a related police court case in which Mrs. E. Walters was charged with damaging property at the Cordova Rooms, owned by Bernstein. The woman, who says that Bernstein held her in bondage for several years, was fined $15 and costs, the evidence tending to show she had only acted after considerable provocation on the part of Bernstein's son, who had attempted to forcibly eject her from the premises.

MANY LEAVE THE CITY FOR HOLIDAY SEASON

The Transportation Companies Carry Many Victorians to Points of Interest

The past three days have been all that could be expected from the standpoint of encouraging holidaymaking on the part of Victorians, and in spite of the many events that have been and are being held over the week-end a large number of people have taken the opportunity of spending a few days at the camping resorts and picnic grounds outside the city.

The travel on the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway has been most satisfactory. Both Saturday and Sunday witnessed the trains leave the city crowded to their capacity with holidaymakers of all ages. This morning two trains left the local E. & N. depot, an arrangement made by the company to facilitate the transporting of the large number of travelers. It is estimated that in the past two days several thousand persons have left the city by this route.

The principal destinations appear to have been Colwood where the golf links are a great attraction, Goldstream that has always been a popular spot for picnics, and Shawanigan Lake, which is yearly becoming more important as a summer resort. Fishing at the last mentioned place has greatly improved recently and quite a number of anglers have taken the opportunity to avail themselves of the attraction.

Brentwood and Bagan Bay districts are also reaping their full share of holiday travel. The trains which left by the E. C. Electric Line this morning carried with them a merry crowd of children and parents all expectant of the good time in store for them on reaching their destination. One of the principal attractions at Brentwood will be, of course, the fishing. Many Victorians left the city on Saturday afternoon for the purpose of making a stay of the entire week-end and the results of their efforts will doubtless be most interesting as fishing has become very popular of late.

A factor that has added greatly to the local travel on the Island is the strike that has affected the steamer service to Vancouver and other points of interest. This has diverted many of the holiday-makers from their accustomed routes and has considerably increased the volume of Island travel.

SUGARLESS CANNING

Sugarless canned fruit is a welcome change in fruit canning, as well as a distinct economy. Sugar adds nothing to the keeping qualities of a properly sterilized and properly-sealed product. Sugar may be added when serving as is done with raw fruit. Less sugar will be required than for preserving, and the outlay will be scattered over a period of time and will not interfere with the purchase of fruit and jars in the preserving season.

Any fruits which may be used raw as desserts are deliciously canned by the sugarless method and retain their original fresh flavor better than when preserved with sugar. The fruits must be prepared in the usual way. Soft berry fruits should be washed and hulled, cherries, peaches and apricots pitted, rhubarb cut into cubes and large fruits sliced, quartered or halved. If skins are to be removed, blanch first in boiling water.

Pack into glass jars, being careful not to bruise or crush, but have jars as full as possible, and then pour in boiling water to fill the jars completely.

Proceed with the "cold-pack" method. If fruits have shrunk, do not let that space open the jars to re-fill. The space left by the shrinkage is for that reason sterile and will not injure the product.

Berry Picking.—The pickers in the local berry plantations were reinforced by a number of additional pickers to-day, who left at 6.30 a. m. by the Lake Hill bus, and by the white touring car. The season is not so far advanced at Keating as at Gordon Head, and the Y. W. C. A. bureau does not expect to send many people out till the middle of the week to the Saanich plantations. In addition to those who are going out daily, a number of persons are camping in the vicinity of the plantations. Pickers are particularly requested to attend promptly, so that picking may start at an early hour.

The forty-second annual convention of the High Court of British Columbia of the Ancient Order of Foresters will be held in Vancouver next month during exhibition week.

At Seattle the wedding took place on Thursday last of Miss Margaret Halley, of 1515 Belcher Avenue, Victoria, and Arthur James McGrath, of Vancouver.

A junior chapter of the Daughters of the Empire has been formed at Nanaimo. Miss Duff Peto was unanimously elected as regent. A meeting will be held Tuesday evening to complete organization.

W. J. McKelvie, of the photo engraving staff of The Colonist, has accepted a position on the Cleland, Dibble Co. photo engraving staff, and is leaving this afternoon for Vancouver. Last Wednesday he was tendered a farewell by the local Foresters' lodge (of which he is a member) and the auxiliary of the same, and the following evening himself entertained a number of his friends at his home, 342 Arnold Street.

At the home of Dr. and Mrs. Brown, Macleary Street, Nanaimo, last week, the members of the Nanaimo Women's Liberal Association gathered to say good-bye to one of their number, Miss McLean, of the Nanaimo Business College, who is removing to Vancouver. S. Helmcken, Mr. Noah Shakespeare, and Mr. Edgar Pawcett. Among the messages of congratulation and good wishes were those from His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Barnard, Premier H. C. Brewster and

Rev. Robert Wilkinson, president of the Methodist Conference of British Columbia, The Victoria and Vancouver staffs of David Spencer, Ltd., sent handsome gift souvenirs of their high regard that from the Victoria store keeps an engraved gold shield, from Vancouver engraved gold vases. The lovely home, where several hundred people called during the afternoon to bring greetings and felicitations, was beautiful with flowers, both within-doors and in the nice old gardens. The big family gathering assembled for the occasion, including twelve of the thirteen children and twenty-two of the twenty-three grandchildren, in itself provided the nucleus of the big celebration in honor of the fifty-years' bride and bridegroom, the absentees from the family reunion being one daughter, Lieut. Sarah Spencer, now with the Canadian Field Comforts' Commission, Shorncliffe, and a grandson, Lieut. Evan Spencer, also on active service overseas.

MISS ADA WARD BUSY

Lecturer Finds American Audiences Interested but Not Knitting.

"It was a great joy to me to know that my visit had given such pleasure to you all, and that people were interested not only in the message but in the messenger as well. I have the happiest of memories of Victoria. My work went especially well there, my audiences were uniformly good and wonderfully appreciative, and the happy climax at Government House gave the keystone to the whole visit."

This is Miss Ada Ward's tribute to Victoria in a letter which she writes from Mount Vernon, Washington, U. S. A., under date of June 28.

Miss Ward has been working in Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Oregon and Washington since leaving here. She remarks: "Can you realize it when I tell you I have never seen a woman knitting since I left Canada? War is far away to them. Long distances of land and water, barriers of mighty mountains shut off the noise of conflict, of the flaming madness that is raging in Europe. They have not yet sacrificed. There are no casualty lists yet, no wounded, no dead, no missing—yet. Their land is peaceful, their prosperity wonderful."

"Yet they have listened with keen interest, and everywhere I have watched their awakening sympathy as they realize the noble sacrifices of our Canadian and English boys, the unselfish aims of the Allies, and the threat to their own liberty. Their devotion to their flag is wonderful, and when I told them of it floating over their own Red Cross Hospitals in France and of the great work being done by their own doctors and nurses, their enthusiasm was wonderful. Their Red Cross work was splendid. I spoke at one little mining town for ten minutes, and they responded with $100. At another little place they gave me a beautiful little luncheon. I gave them half-an-hour's talk, and the collection realized $215. So you see they have great hearts and great pockets, and we may be thankful this great country has joined us in our struggle for liberty."

"I am greatly enjoying my new experiences. Our Chataqua visits country places chiefly, not big towns. Next week I return to Canada, where we skirt the southern border, and I am looking forward to coming. We return early in August to Montana and Wyoming, finishing our tour by a week's visit to Yellowstone Park. My plans for the fall and winter are uncertain at present."

WAR PICTURES ARE PANTAGES FEATURE

Films Showing Victoria Boys at Front Lead This Week's Splendid Vaudeville Bill

While men and women reading the war dispatches thrill at the magnificent work done by the infantry in the trenches, the sailors on the sea, and the aviators in the air, few stop to think of the marvellous work being accomplished by a little-advertised branch of the army, the Medical Corps.

METROPOLIS BASEBALL BOYS WERE WINNERS

Five Inning Game Resulted in Victory for Hotel Nine Against the Bapcos

From time to time it has been rumored throughout baseball circles in the province that Uncle Sam's national game was forever dead so far as Victoria was concerned.

It is now several seasons since Victoria has been the home town for a professional club and during that period the game has only been played in a purely amateur manner by local teams that have been organized by enterprising sportsmen of the city.

The feature of the Saturday game was seen in the second inning when Shakespeare, of the Metropolis, batted the ball clean over the fence, thus registering a home run for his team.

a lad of fourteen years. Goward, the Victoria captain, deserves better support—he works like a "Trojan" himself for his team, and it is sincerely to be hoped that Victorians will not again pick up the paper only to observe four or five gentlemen absent from the Jubilee Hospital Club's score sheet.

shots, whilst the latter batted in his old time free style. Victoria had too big a task set them to force a win, although York and Booth both scored at a very brisk rate, York remaining unbeaten when time was called.

men out of forty-four reached double figures. Lack of practice is undoubtedly the explanation of the present state of affairs. Sergt. Welch, of the E. M. C. H., seems to be in excellent form—even although quite a number of his victims are far from first class cricketers. I remember Welch some five seasons ago being looked upon as above the average trundler, and I hope 1918 will see him on a Victoria representative team.

At present Welch is bound to take things quietly—on account of his harrowing experiences at the front. I am looking forward with any amount of pleasure to to-day's match at the Jubilee Hospital grounds. The committee in charge of the game have gone to no small trouble, and with fine weather I hope to see a bumper crowd, and the Red Cross Society benefiting by a goodly sum.

Outside of the sporting side of the match, the social element has been considered, and I feel sure Victorians will not be backward in putting in an appearance. That the inter-city fixture will prove a success in every way is the sincerest wish of "COVER UP."

CONVENTION CALL ISSUED TO COUNCILS

Union of Canadian Municipalities Gathering Will Be Held at London

The convention call has been issued for the annual gathering of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, to be held at the City Hall, London, Ontario, commencing August 27.

The gathering has a standing invitation to Victoria dating back to 1914, but each year the Eastern men who control its destinies have made postponements on account of the war.

The executive of the Union, says the call, "realizing the responsibility of the municipal councils in the crisis through which Canada was and is passing, so arranged the programme of the last convention as to show the way in which each council could best fulfill its duties to the community and the nation."

One subject which has received much attention in the Old Country is to occupy the notice of the convention, and that is to transfer a large measure of the activities of the ever-lapping local committees doing patriotic war work to the municipal councils. The convention leaders think that the well-equipped corporation machinery could be used far more effectively than it is at present, and that a "get together" policy cannot but be of value.

The second part of the programme is to study the problem of preparedness, so that when war comes Canada may forge ahead. The councils had to shoulder the problem of unemployment three years ago when the governments were remiss in their duties, and the inevitable prospect of infinitely worse conditions after the war in finding work for the returned men will tax the ability of all municipal leaders.

Of late years Victoria has not been represented at the annual gatherings, on account of the distance, however the lobby maintained at Ottawa by the Union in the interests of the municipalities against excessive franchises for public service companies has done some useful work for this city.

TAKE NOTICE that I intend to apply to the Board of Licensing Commissioners of the City of Victoria at the next sitting thereof for a transfer of the license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors at the Pandora Hotel, situated on the corner of Pandora and Blanshard Streets, in the City of Victoria, to Paolo Montic, and to change the name from the Pandora Hotel to the Allies Hotel.

N.Y.K. TAKING CARE OF PACIFIC TRADE

Advent of New Steamer Calcutta Maru Will Give Company 12 Carriers

With the forthcoming advent of the new steamer Calcutta Maru to the transpacific service of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, the premier Japanese steamship concern will have twelve carriers plying on this route. As previously reported in these columns, the Calcutta Maru, 5150 tons, was launched at the Mitsui Bishi shipyards at Nagasaki on June 5, and will be ready to take her place in the North Pacific service sometime this month.

In an effort to take care of its increasing business on this ocean, the N. Y. K. recently chartered four extra freighters to augment the regular fleet of steamships, and some of these vessels are now en route to this coast. The addition of this tonnage will go a long way toward relieving the great congestion of freight, not only in the Orient, but also on the North Pacific seaboard.

Recent arrivals from the Far East stated that at Kobe and Yokohama alone there were stored in the waterfront warehouses no less than 20,000 tons of cargo awaiting shipment across the Pacific. This tonnage added by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha will materially assist in solving the freight problem.

Apart from the extra ships which have been added to the fleet, the N. Y. K. has in operation here seven large freight and passenger liners, four of which ply between Hongkong and Victoria and Puget Sound, while three others make their terminus at Kobe. Every ship carries its capacity load of freight both inward and outward. Similar conditions prevail with regard to transpacific passenger travel by this line.

It is stated by the company's agents that practically all cabin passenger space has been booked several sailings ahead.

The next N. Y. K. passenger liner reports by wireless that she will reach Victoria to-morrow. She has 268 passengers all told, including 60 who will disembark at this port.

Her local cargo amounts to 325 tons. The steamer has approximately 6,000 tons for Puget Sound.

PRINCESS MARY ON WEST COAST ROUTE

With the substitution of the steamer Princess Mary for the steamer Tees on the West Coast of Vancouver Island and run, last night, there was a marked impetus in travel over this route. The strike among the foremen and deckhands is directly responsible for the fast steamer service that the people of the West Coast are now getting. But for the fact that the Tees is a coal burner, and consequently more difficult to operate under the existing conditions, it is doubtful whether the Princess Mary would have been taken off her regular route this season.

The Princess Maquinn, which equals the Princess Mary in every respect in accommodation and speed, will be out of commission for another two weeks, owing to the injuries she sustained recently when she located an uncharted reef at the entrance to Kyquout Sound, and pending her return to the service, it is likely that the Mary will continue to operate to the West Coast.

DISMANTLED BARQUE IS AGAIN IN SERVICE

After lying in Callao harbor, Peru, for ten years, and serving at different times as a steam laundry and a store-ship, the four-masted Peruvian barque Elizabeth has been called back to service by a scarcity of tonnage and high charter rates.

The Elizabeth has reached Puget Sound from Callao and will be loaded in the service of W. R. Grace & Co. She was towed from Callao to San Francisco by the Grace steamer Santa Alicia, and the tug Tatosoh brought her north to Seattle. When the Elizabeth arrived at Callao ten years ago she was under the German flag. She had been ashore on the west coast of South America. The vessel's owners were deeply involved and in a very short time the Elizabeth was sold to pay the debts she owed, being purchased by the Peruvian Steamship Company.

During the early part of her career the vessel was the British barque Sir Robert Fernie, of Liverpool.

MARINE REGULATIONS ARE NOW MODIFIED

United States Lets Down Bars in Effort to Keep Its Merchant Fleet Manned

Seattle, July 2.—In an effort to keep the American merchant marine in full operation, Uncle Sam has let down the bars and will allow the following men to take the examination for third assistant engineer of ocean-going ships: Journeymen machinists who have been employed in constructing and repairing marine engines; assistant engineers who have served one year on river vessels or six months on lake, bay or Sound vessels, oilers and water-tenders of two years' experience, and firemen of three years' experience.

Official advice to the foregoing effect have been received by telegram from Washington, D. C., by Prof. E. O. Eastwood, head of the mechanical engineering department of the University of Washington. Professor Eastwood will conduct the Government's special marine engineering school at the university. The school convenes to-day and will continue in session for 30 days. The Government will pay the tuition, expenses of those taking the special course. The course will give applicants the necessary theoretical knowledge of marine engines.

The school at the university is the only one to be established by the Government on the Pacific Coast and applicants for marine engineer licenses are expected from all the principal ports of Washington, Oregon and California.

By the Government's new regulation, services as engineer in charge of a 100-horse-power stationary plant or service for one year as a locomotive engineer with six months' marine experience, will qualify applicants to take the examination for the higher grades of ocean marine engineer. The same regulation allows the local United States inspectors to use their own discretion as regards the substitution of practical experience for the usual government requirements.

The advice received by Professor Eastwood give the first definite outline of the modifications made by the Government in the requirements for third assistant marine engineer licenses on ocean ships.

The Government expects employers to grant 30 days' leave of absence to those who will attend the school.

As indicated by the modifications in the regulations, Uncle Sam is making a strong effort to draw landmen into the merchant marine service. The opportunity now given landmen for entering the merchant marine on an attractive basis is almost unparalleled since the foundation of the modern steamboat inspection service.

It is explained that such employment does not carry any idea of enlistment. Acceptance of marine berths by the successful applicants will be purely voluntary. The letting down of the inspection service bars is only a temporary affair, but the license to be issued will be held permanently.

SEATTLE PLANT TURNS OUT SHIPS IN TWO MONTHS

Seattle, July 2.—Saturday afternoon Mrs. James G. Eddy, of Everett, broke a bottle of champagne over the prow of hull No. 7 at the ship-building plant of the Skinner & Eddy Corporation, whereupon the big craft slid gracefully down the ways into the waters of Elliott Bay and became the Norwegian steamship Jeannette Skinner, named in honor of the wife of D. E. Skinner, president of the constructing corporation.

The launching, which was the seventh successful affair of the kind held by the Skinner & Eddy Corporation since the keel of its first ship was laid, May 2, 1916, was witnessed by a throng of over 5,000 persons, 500 of whom received special invitations and graced the christening platform. The big vessel was built for the Knute Knudsen Company, of Bergen, Norway, and is of 8,800 tons dead weight capacity. She is 423 feet 9 inches long, 54 feet beam and 29 feet 9 inches depth of hold. She will be equipped with Curtiss turbine engines of 2,500-horse power, which are required to develop a load speed of eleven and a half knots per hour.

STRIKES AND RUMORS

Mates of American Coastwise Ships Now Said to Be Disgruntled.

Tacoma, July 2.—That a walk-out is imminent among the mates of the coastwise vessels plying out of the Sound to California and Northern ports, is the declaration of waterfront men in Tacoma. It is declared that the walk-out might come as the result of steamship operators refusing to recognize the association to which the mates are affiliated. It is stated that it is not a question of wages concerned, as a recent increase has been made to the officers of the vessels.

RAN INTO CALMS

Schooner William E. Burnham Put Into Acapulco to Replenish Supplies.

The four-masted schooner William E. Burnham, which left Balboa on April 1 to enter the Pacific Line Company's service between Blubber Bay and San Francisco, is now 92 days out. Shipping men began to fear that something had happened to her, but the owners of the schooner have received word that she ran into calms off Acapulco. When a breeze did spring up the Burnham put into the Mexican port to replenish her water and food supply. She is reported to have sailed from Acapulco about three weeks ago.

MACHINERY EXPERTS ARRIVE ON COAST

R. R. Gray Chisholm and T. H. Russell Vested With Authority to Place Contracts

R. R. Gray Chisholm, special representative of the British Ministry of Shipping, and T. H. Russell, of the Imperial Munitions Board, mechanical and technical experts on machinery, have arrived on the coast from the east, and are hourly expected in Victoria to confer with the British Columbia heads of the Munitions Board. The arrival of these two gentlemen is of especial interest to the metal trade interests of Victoria, Vancouver, New Westminster and Prince Rupert, for the reason that upon them depends whether British Columbia shops will be awarded certain contracts for the main engines and auxiliary machinery to equip the wooden steamers being built on the Pacific Coast for the Munitions Board.

Messrs. Chisholm and Russell are looking into the facilities offered by the machine shops of this Province and if they consider that the British Columbia firms are fully capable of carrying out the work, and not the slightest doubt exists among the operators of the various plants regarding the capacity of the shops to handle any orders that may be placed with them, authority is vested with these experts to place contracts on behalf of the Board for the building of a certain proportion of the machinery for the vessels, which are about to be laid down.

The machine shops and foundries of British Columbia are already figuring on winches and main engines for these vessels.

RUPERT'S TRIP TO SEATTLE CANCELLED

Leaves for Skagway To-day With Heavy List of Tourist Passengers

Arriving in port early this morning from Anox and Prince Rupert, the G. T. P. steamer Prince Rupert remained at her berth until 2 o'clock this afternoon, the usual trip to Seattle being cancelled on account of delay in reaching here from the North. The movements of the Prince Rupert were not interfered with by the strike of firemen and deckhands, according to her officers.

The trip to Prince Rupert and Anox was made on schedule time, but delay was experienced at Ocean Falls on the southbound voyage. Additional firemen were secured at Vancouver, and the engineers are doing their share in keeping the boats running. Several men are also carried in the ship, for the purpose of doing longshoring work, and this forenoon the freight was handled in a satisfactory manner.

On her first trip in the Skagway service this season, the Prince Rupert left this afternoon for the North via Vancouver. Over one hundred tourists, looked at Seattle for the Alaska trip, came over from the Puget Sound port on the G. T. P. steamer to-day and transferred to the Prince Rupert here. The Rupert will have a full list of passengers when she gets away from Vancouver to-night for Alaska.

The steamer Prince George is due to reach Vancouver to-morrow afternoon, completing her initial round voyage to Skagway, and it is expected that the entire fire-room and deck crew will walk ashore as soon as she makes fast at the dock.

Apparently the steamship companies affected by the walk-out have no intention of granting the men's demands for a 20 per cent. raise in wages, and on the other hand the men state that they will not return to work until their demands are complied with. A number of men have already sought and secured employment at engineering shops in the city and district. It is said, however, that the fact of marked concentration of travel and the posting of notices at prominent corners, no one but those immediately concerned would be aware that a strike existed.

The notices posted by strikers are as follows: "It is unfair to boycott, but firemen and deckhands are advised that someone is unfair to union labor." Someone had the audacity to post some of these notices at the steamer Princess Ena, but at the suggestion of a faithful employee, noted for muscular power and determination of purpose, the notices in question were removed from the company's property in record time.

All C. P. K. boats are carrying record lists of passengers, and not the slightest difficulty is being experienced by the operating department in maintaining the curtailed service. The Princess Alice, following her arrival from Skagway, will take the night sailing from Vancouver for Victoria, arriving here to-morrow morning. The Alice will now assist in maintaining the Vancouver daylight service, alternating with the Adelaide.

COLLISION INQUIRY

Wreck Commissioner Goes to Vancouver to Investigate.

Capt. J. D. Macpherson, wreck commissioner for B. C., has left for Vancouver to hold an inquiry into a collision which occurred recently between the Germania and one of the Government rock-drills.

BARQUENTINE STOPS TO EFFECT REPAIRS

Jane L. Stanford, Put in Here During Night With Anchor Winch Disabled

With her port anchor which out of commission, the American barquentine Jane L. Stanford, Capt. Petersen, outbound from Vancouver with a full cargo of lumber for South Africa, put in here during the night to effect repairs. The vessel came down the Gulf in tow of the Sea Gull, it being Capt. Petersen's intention to anchor in the Royal Roads until his crew had been rounded out to its full complement, but when it was found that the anchor winch was not working properly it was decided to tie-up at the outer docks.

During the early hours of the morning there was a strong breeze and the heavily-loaded wind-jammer proved hard to manage. She got so close inshore that at one time she was practically aground, and bumped into the east side of the wharf with such force that the structure was slightly damaged. About noon to-day the vessel was towed around to the inside berth at the outer docks, where she will remain until repairs to her anchor winch have been completed and a full crew shipped.

The Jane L. Stanford carries 1,112,055 feet of lumber shipped at Hastings Mills for Port Natal, South Africa.

The auxiliary schooner Mabel Brown, which sailed from Chemainus April 15 with 1,500,000 feet of lumber for Sydney, Australia, is making a longer passage than was anticipated. She is now 77 days out, and it was expected that the trip would be completed in 50 or 60 days. However, it is known that the schooner was at Honolulu for ten days tuning up engines and taking on stores. Much interest is attached to her passage, as she was the first of the British Columbia fleet to put to sea.

STEAMER NORTHLAND DOGGED BY MISFORTUNE

Misfortune is still following the steamer Northland, of the Border Line Transportation Company, which turned over on her side and sank while lying at Kake, Alaska, about a year ago. After being floated and beached near Kake, the vessel slipped from her moorings ashore and plunged into deep water, requiring even more difficult salvage operations than after her first mishap. The Northland was raised again, however, and now comes word that she has been afloat and had a narrow escape from being seriously damaged.

After the vessel had been pumped free of water and was lying at the pier at Kake, a workman entered the hold of the steamer with a lighted lantern. There was a terrific explosion of gas formed from crude oil and soon the ill-fated craft was on fire from stern to stern. The wrecking crew was forced to fill the vessel with water to extinguish the flames, which threatened to reduce the freighter to a blackened hulk.

Four men who were at work in the Northland's holds were slightly burned by the explosion.

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT PROBABLY WILL TAKE OVER MANY VESSELS

Washington, July 2.—Secretary Redfield is preparing to warn business that the Government may find it necessary to requisition shipping tonnage within a short time. Industrial concerns will be told they should adjust their affairs accordingly.

HOW SALARY INCREASE WOULD AFFECT CITY

Question to Come Up To-morrow at the City Council Meeting

The cost of raising the salaries of the portion of the civic officials who are affected in the application to be heard to-morrow evening is from $22,000 to $23,000 per annum.

The Victoria Trades and Labor Council is uniting with the Firemen's Association, and the Laborers' Protective Union in supporting the increase.

As already reported by the City Engineer, the cost of making the minimum wage $3 to all outside workers would add another $10,400, and it is understood no provision has been made for the small raise given to outside workers earlier in the year after the estimates were considered.

The restoration of the firemen's wages to the old scale would add $5,000 to the present annual appropriation.

The police not being unionized, are not participating in the application for an advance, which will be presented at a special committee meeting at 8.30 to-morrow evening. The City Council session to be adjourned for that purpose. The restoration of salaries in the police department represents a total of $7,000, irrespective of the automatic increases for constables according to years of service which is also sought in the petition to the commissioners. The police, of course, will have to be considered in the general situation, whether participating in the conference or otherwise.

Seattle and Vancouver have both recently dealt with the problem of making ends meet with the greatly advanced cost of living, in regard to municipal employees, and the Nanaimo Council is also wrestling with the same problem.

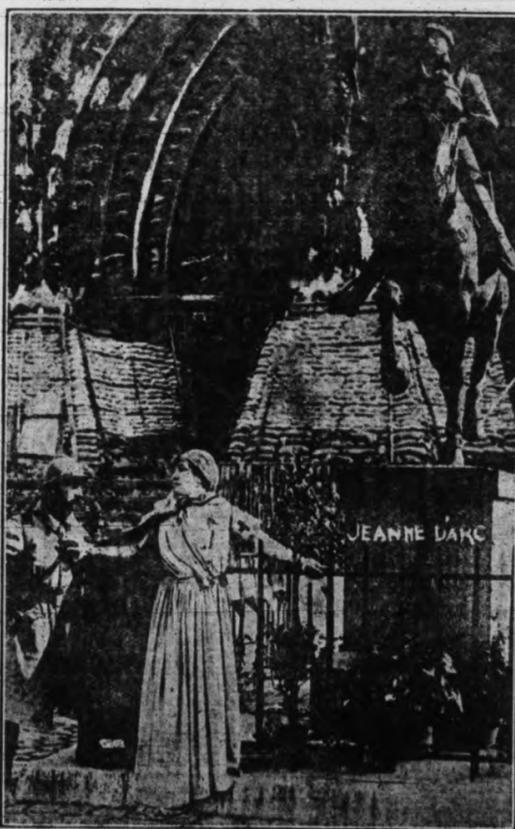

The policemen and firemen are both exceedingly aggrieved by the policy of stopping the advances given to men as an encouragement to stay in the service and become efficient, a man now after three years in the department getting no better return for his experience than the novice in his first year.

AMERICAN DETECTIVE THREATENED IN ITALY

Bologna, Italy, July 2.—James W. Grigg, the New York detective who came here in connection with the case of Alfredo Coschi, the murderer of Ruth Cruger in New York, has been warned that he will meet the same fate as Lieut. Petrosino.

Lieut. Petrosino was chief of the Italian bureau of the New York detective force. He was sent to Italy by the New York police department in the spring of 1909 and in March of that year was assassinated at Palermo, Sicily. The murderers of Petrosino were never brought to justice.

BEFORE THE GREAT CATHEDRAL AT RHEIMS

JEANNE D'ARC

LIFE LOST AT MOUNTAIN NEAR VANCOUVER CITY

Vancouver, July 2.—The Dominion Day celebration here to-day was marred by a sad fatality on the north shore. Yesterday a party of mountain climbers started the ascent of Crown Mountain, which is still heavily covered in the winter's snow. One of the party, Oscar Appleby, of Georgia Street, in making the ascent slipped on the hard surface of the snow and, rolling over a precipice, met his death in Crown Creek. Intimation of the fatality was communicated to District Chief of Police Liffon, and that official, accompanied by a party of assistants, left this morning to bring back the body of the unfortunate man to North Vancouver, where it is likely an inquest will be held. The deceased was about 35 years of age and is said to have been unmarried.

Sometimes it would be very painful after a hard day's work. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and tried it and it has helped me wonderfully, so the soreness is all gone now. I believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the remedy for female troubles." - Mrs. ELIZABETH JOHN, R. F. D. No. 4, Toledo, Ohio.

COAL SITUATION TO BE DISCUSSED TO-MORROW

Nanaimo Herald Deprecates Hasty Assumptions, and Trusts Minister of Mines

The Daily Herald, Nanaimo, as an addendum to the published news from Victoria of the conference between Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, and the Vancouver Island coal operators, to be held in this city to-morrow, says: "It is just as well that the whole question should be cleared up. The recent rise in the price of coal has raised a big storm in Vancouver. It has always been easy to begin an agitation in Vancouver against anything on the island, and in this case the Mayor and two of the daily newspapers have beaten all previous records. 'The operators of the island coal mines have raised the price of coal at the mines a dollar a ton. They may have been right; or they may have been wrong in doing this. The Mayor of Vancouver and the press of Vancouver did not take kindly to this action of the operators, and they would have been within their rights in seeking to get a show-down.' 'However, they have gone a whole lot further. Without trying to get any information on the subject they are making and backing proposals which would ruin the whole industry. Some interested party started a famine scare and the scare has been accepted by the Mayor and press at its face value. The press would see it that the operators supplied the coal needs of the province first, and Mayor McEwen in order to assure this would have an export duty imposed of a dollar a ton. The News-Advertiser would absolutely refuse to pay the present price, and both it and The Province would have the Government take over the operation of the mines. 'The most noticeable thing in the agitation is that the operators have not got a single right on earth! It isn't even considered necessary to investigate any of the premises on which the Government has been asked to take action. 'Inquiry would have revealed that there is no famine, nor any likelihood of there being one. The mines are producing more to-day than for years past, and the operators all realize and recognize that the needs of the province come first. But they have also to keep the mines running steadily, and the consumption in the province amounts to less than half their output. They have therefore to enter into export contracts, and it is necessary that these contracts should be cared for. 'The bulk of them are for summer delivery, so as to leave a bigger supply for local demand in the winter. Thus it may come that there is no surplus supply of coal on hand to supply the speculative orders of dealers, but all legitimate orders can be promptly filled. There is no famine, and the province is not being starved, nor will be starved; in order to fill a more profitable market in California. 'But at the same time all the mines can find employment for more men. There is no way of meeting this condition, but at least it should be taken into account in considering the general situation. 'Then, again, there is the reason for raising the price of coal. All that is known in Vancouver is that the price of supplies and equipment for the mines has gone up, and that the miners have been granted a ten per cent. advance in wages. The Herald knows no more than the Vancouver contemporaries, just exactly the additional cost per ton of coal caused by the increased prices of supplies. But this apart, it is not a matter of only ten per cent. advance in wages, but of twenty-five per cent. Since the price of coal at the mines was touched wages have been advanced twenty-five per cent. above the old standard. 'This makes a big difference, and the action of the Hon. Wm. Sloan, Minister of Mines, in asking for a conference of the operators will be greatly commended. Nobody wants trouble, which would almost inevitably result from an ill-informed agitation, and the Minister of Mines can be trusted to do what is right as between the consumers, the mining communities, and the operators."

RED CROSS CARNIVAL ATTENDED BY MANY

Army and Navy Enter Events With Great Enthusiasm; Other Features Good

Success from every standpoint was characteristic of the Red Cross Carnival held at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday afternoon. Many factors entered into the day's event that did much to contribute to the realization of the hopes that the various committees had entertained. Not the least important of these was the fact that the weather was most kind in favoring the city with a bright, warm, almost a hot day. It was a pleasure to witness the enthusiasm on every hand. From the smallest child who entered the kiddies' races to the fittest tar that the Lancaster could produce, there was a general feeling of interest and co-operation, and the net result of the work of the committees, the contestants, and the spectators themselves, of whom there was a large number, was to mark the day as a most successful one in the history of Victoria's Red Cross sports. The army and navy units of the city, and district are greatly to be commended on the manner in which they worked to make the event fruitful. Their acts were many and very diversified, never lacking in interest from the standpoint of the spectator. Possibly the most spectacular of their acts was that performed by the 5th Regiment Artillery Overseas Draft, which gave a demonstration of field guns coming into action. The scene was most realistic, as the section dashed across the field, coming to a complete standstill amid a blinding cloud of dust. The firing was well carried out and the guns and gunners again retired from the field of action, meriting the applause that was freely given by the enthusiastic spectators. The bayonet fighting as carried out by a section of men of the 85th draft now stationed at the Willows was also most entertaining, as was also the mounted wrestling contested by teams from the army and navy. This sport was productive of some very humorous situations. The sailors not accustomed to riding horseflesh were in spite of this fact very eager to compete against their brothers of the land service. One thing was evident, that the horses in several instances strongly objected to being mounted by the jolly tars. One animal in particular took special pleasure in repeatedly tossing his burden to the ground as often as that personage thought fit to mount, to not too comfortable, saddleless position on his back. The wrestling itself was productive of some humorous situations in spite of the fact that the sailors were by no means a match for their opponents who were thoroughly accustomed to the feat of riding. The Japanese fencing as performed by Messrs. Ishio and Kano was the most novel feature of the day. These two sturdy sons of Nippon, garbed in the fighting dress peculiar to their country, met in a ring prepared for them and engaged in a combat in which the sharp crack of their fencing sticks and the weird cries uttered by the contestants mingled to produce an extraordinary effect on the spectator. Following this demonstration, an act was presented that was thoroughly enjoyed by all and in which the children took special interest. Jumbo and Albie Davies, aged 4 1/2 and 6 years, gave a brief but rattling good boxing bout in which the skill of the principals was demonstrated by the scientific methods which they adopted. These youthful sons of W. H. Davies, the local promoter, have now appeared before Victorians and on each occasion have captivated their audience by the cleverness of their performance. The tug-of-war was undoubtedly the best that has been seen in the city for many years. The final victors were R. C. G. A., the 5th Regiment Overseas Draft coming second. Not by any means least, however, a point of interest was the exhibiting by Miss McCleave, of the McCleave riding school, who gave an excellent demonstration of jumping her pony over three ropes held in line by six little people. The baby show, the results of which appear in another column, was also entirely successful, and it was no easy task for the judges to single out from amongst the many kiddies who were entered those who were deserving of special honor. Due appreciation must also be given to the hands of the city that by their presence and the number of selections which they rendered enhanced the proceedings during the entire afternoon. The 5th Regiment, the R. C. G. A., the Lancaster and the 50th Pipers' musical organizations are all deserving of the thanks of Victorians for the part which they played in making the carnival a success.

Jumbo and Albie Davies, aged 4 1/2 and 6 years, gave a brief but rattling good boxing bout in which the skill of the principals was demonstrated by the scientific methods which they adopted. These youthful sons of W. H. Davies, the local promoter, have now appeared before Victorians and on each occasion have captivated their audience by the cleverness of their performance. The tug-of-war was undoubtedly the best that has been seen in the city for many years. The final victors were R. C. G. A., the 5th Regiment Overseas Draft coming second. Not by any means least, however, a point of interest was the exhibiting by Miss McCleave, of the McCleave riding school, who gave an excellent demonstration of jumping her pony over three ropes held in line by six little people. The baby show, the results of which appear in another column, was also entirely successful, and it was no easy task for the judges to single out from amongst the many kiddies who were entered those who were deserving of special honor. Due appreciation must also be given to the hands of the city that by their presence and the number of selections which they rendered enhanced the proceedings during the entire afternoon. The 5th Regiment, the R. C. G. A., the Lancaster and the 50th Pipers' musical organizations are all deserving of the thanks of Victorians for the part which they played in making the carnival a success.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS ARE CELEBRATING TO-DAY

Several Picnics Were Held on Saturday Last; Others Taking Place
The past few days have been happy times for many of the Sunday School children of the city and district. Several picnics were held Saturday and others are taking place to-day.

On Saturday the First Presbyterians went to Cordova Bay in a boat about three hundred strong. These holiday-makers left the city by the Canadian Northern Pacific line. The affair was in the form of a basket picnic and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The sports, which were under the direction of George Straith, were most successful, and many useful prizes were awarded.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian congregation and Sunday school also celebrated Dominion Day on Saturday. This school spent the day at Deep Cove, to which spot the scholars and their teachers were carried by a special train on the B. C. Electric line. Two cars full of jolly, happy children left the station in the early morning and the latter, after spending a day of real gaiety indulging in the usual sports that characterize events of this nature, returned to the city at intervals during the evening.

To-day the Metropolitan Church school is holding its picnic at the Dominion government Experimental Farm at Bagan Bay. The number who attended by the special train provided for the school was very large, some 600 in all being present.

Other schools that are also enjoying their annual summer outing to-day are the Congregational, the Emmanuel Baptists and Shelburne Street School. The Congregational are spending the day at Macaulay Plains, where they will have every opportunity to indulge in their sports. The Baptists are also going to this popular resort which will be large enough to accommodate the two schools with comfort. The Shelburne Street pupils are meeting at the Dallas Road.

MUST PLAY THE GAME WITH MEN IN FRANCE
Gen. Leckie Says Deciding Point Has Been Passed, but Reinforcements Needed
In his address to the Canadian Club at the Terminal City during the week-end Brigadier-General Leckie, C. M. G., of the G. O. C. of Military District No. 1, told his audience that when he was over at the front prior to his return to Canada he had seen the Canadians at the Somme and at Vimy.

The Canadian generals with whom he had spoken on that occasion, believed that the war was going to end this year. He, however, was of the opinion that they were only taking into consideration the spirit and confidence of their troops. Personally, said the general, he believed the determining factor would be a winter campaign, and that the Germans would be able to hold out for another winter quite easily.

"But there is no question at all that we have the Germans over the divide and on the down grade," added the general. "It is only a matter of keeping it up and not letting up in our work at all. We have got them going and must keep them going. Of course the advent of the United States will accelerate that. But at the same time it must be understood that we have reached that point ourselves; that we have really gone beyond the deciding point."

"Assuming on the need of a continual supply of men the general continued: "It is up to us to see that troops at the front are properly supplied with reinforcements. Some way or other, we must see to that; we must play the game with the men at the front. They are looking to us to help them. They feel they have the country behind them and Canada must not fail."

General Leckie gave an interesting sketch of the gallant work of the 16th Battalion during the gas attack in April two years ago. He took pride in the fact that the famous battalion still had a British Columbian at its head in the person of Lieut.-Col. Peck, reinforcements, however, have been provided by Manitoba in view of the many battalions raised in British Columbia.

GRASS FIRES—The warm weather yesterday brought the usual crop of grass fires, one in Oak Bay, at the corner of Oak Bay Avenue and Burns Street, and another at Haultain Street, near Victor. This morning there was a fire at 1029 Burdett Avenue, a small amount of damage being done to the roof. The house is occupied by Joseph Ward.

DIED.
MITCHELL—On July 1, 1917, at Jubilee Hospital, Benjamin Mitchell, late of 431 Vancouver Street, aged 21 years; born in Armaah, Ireland. Three survivors a widow and one child in Victoria, two brothers and two sisters in New York, one brother at the front on active service, and a brother in South Africa.
The funeral will take place on Wednesday, July 4, 1917, at 2:30 p. m., from the chapel of the B. C. Funeral Co., 124 Broughton Street, where service will be held. Interment in Ross Bay Cemetery.

BODY OF PTE. PATON RECOVERED SATURDAY

Second Victim of Tragic Drowning Fatality Accounted for; Leitch Still Missing
The body recovered in the neighborhood of Royal Bay on Saturday evening has now been definitely identified as that of Private Paton, one of the returned warriors who lost his life on May 21 last. Still unidentified with Resthaven Hospital footswear on the unfortunate man's feet, his clothing and effects were the only clue to identify the features being quite unrecognizable from the long period in the water.

It will be recalled that on the evening of May 21, Privates Paton, Leitch, Duffy and Holland set out for a sail from Resthaven and on the return journey Paton was changing seats for the purpose of taking a hand in the sculling. As he stood up to take his new position the boat overbalanced and the occupants were precipitated into the water. Duffy succeeded in getting to shore, Paton and Holland being to the up-turned boat, when Leitch, who was a strong swimmer, returned to their aid. Heroic as his efforts were, however, they were unavailing and the three sank about one hundred yards from Lowndes Point.

Holland's body was recovered the following day and with the finding of Paton, there still remains Leitch unaccounted for. It is understood that there will be no necessity for an inquest and funeral arrangements are now in the hands of the Hospital authorities.

OBITUARY RECORD

The funeral of Pte. Paton, one of the soldiers who lost his life in the boating accident at Resthaven, Sidney, some weeks ago, will take place at 2:30 on Wednesday afternoon from the Thomson Funeral Parlors, and will be with full military honors.

The death occurred yesterday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital of Benjamin Mitchell. The deceased, who was a teamster by occupation, was 21 years of age, and a native of Armaah, Ireland. He is survived by a widow and one little child, also by two brothers and two sisters living in New York, by a brother who is on active service at the front, and by a fourth brother who is in South Africa. He had lived for five years in Victoria. The funeral has been arranged for Wednesday at 2:30 from the B. C. Funeral Chapel, where services will be held.

Baby Betty Barton, the four-months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Barton, 313 Gorge Road, died yesterday evening at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. She was born in Victoria. The funeral will be to-morrow morning from the B. C. Funeral Chapel at 10:30, Rev. Robert Connell officiating.

The party from the British Campaigners' Association, of which body the veteran soldier is a member, was composed of Fleet Surgeon Rolston, George Ed. Smith, George Miller, E. C. B. Bagshaw, First-Class Petty Officer S. J. Pomeroy, Secretary W. J. Edwards and several other members of the Association.

Fleet Surgeon Rolston conveyed the heartiest good wishes from the captain officers and men of H. M. S. Lancaster, and acted as spokesman for the party.

Captain Curtis was visibly moved by the kindness which prompted the visit of his fellow campaigners, all of whom were bedecked with many medals as testimony of parts played in the wars of the last half century.

THERE IS NO 'FALSE TEETH' LOOK ABOUT THE TEETH I SUPPLY

The teeth I provide are so made and fitted that they do not produce sagging cheeks and sunken lips—the familiar 'false teeth' look which betrays the wearer of hastily or unskillfully made plates.

Teeth made by me restore the youthful contour to cheeks and lips, the 'bite' is absolutely accurate and true, thus assuring perfect comfort and lasting service.

In the fitting—at every stage—my work is painless. Every operation, large or small, receives the most careful attention I am capable of giving.

My prices are unusually low for quality so unusually high.

VICTORIANS JOIN IN CELEBRATING JUBILEE OF CANADIAN UNION

Provincial Capital Unites With All Dominion in Honoring Fiftieth Anniversary

PREMIER CHAIRMAN AT TO-DAY'S CEREMONIES

As is told in other columns, the people of British Columbia to-day celebrated the jubilee of Confederation at an open-air meeting held on the Parliament Buildings lawns this forenoon.

Planking the representatives of King and Province on the steps of the main entrance of the buildings were, to the one side, a gallant group of returned soldiers, all of them bearing mute signs of the grim realities of war, and at the other, the splendid old boys of both arms of the service, whose medals tell of wars of another century.

Along the driveway stood members of the permanent and militia forces, crews of warships now on the coast, and cadet corps, with the band of the Fifth C. G. A. on a stand erected at the edge of the lawns, while the lawns were gay with the holiday garb of the two thousand people who had gathered to listen and to take part in the celebration.

March Past. The naval and military units had gathered at the new drill hall on Bay Street, and marched through the city by way of Douglas, Fort and Government Streets to Belleville Street, from which they proceeded around the driveway to pass in review before His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, who stood on the landing of the main entrance just beneath the arched doorway.

All were in service uniform and marched past in review order, headed by the Fifth Regiment Band, which had been playing in front of the Buildings while the crowd was awaiting the arrival of the column, and by Lt.-Col. Angus, officer commanding the Fifth Regiment, and staff.

The units parading, in order as they passed, were the sailors and marines of H. M. S. Lancaster; the men of the Pacific division of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve; the Ammunition Column, under Lieut. G. W. H. Woolson; Military Hospital Detachment, under Captain Compton; 88th Victoria Fusiliers, under Capt. Major; 50th Gordon Highlanders of Canada, with pipers, under Major Peter Riddell; the Army Service Corps, under Major Small; the Army Medical Corps, under Major Magpherson; the Esquimalt Cadet Corps; and the Central School Cadet Corps.

Premier's Address. When the men had marched off the parade ground they were brought back and formed up as close to the main entrance as possible for the further ceremonies, which commenced with a few words from Premier Brewster, as chairman.

"It is singularly fitting that we should commemorate the fact that our country has been a Confederation for fifty years," said Hon. Mr. Brewster. "Some few of us are here, today, who remember that first day of the month of the provinces, half a century ago. There are not a few here who, I trust, will live to remember this celebration on the occasion of the centenary of Confederation. It is but right that we should remember to-day that the unity existing between the provinces has enabled us to show our great strength in the making of a magnificent response to the call of the Motherland at this time of crisis, and that we have with us at this time some of the men who have been fighting for the Empire (cheers). It is peculiarly satisfying and gratifying that in British Columbia, of all the provinces of the Dominion which are celebrating this event to-day, we are to have the distinguished honor of a speech from a son of one of the Fathers of Confederation, a son of one of the men who led the way in the great movement which has resulted in the building up of a great nation on the northern portion of this continent" (renewed cheers).

The fine old hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," having been sung, the band leading, the Premier repeated the prayer, the great audience repeating the well-known words in unison, and the beautiful Canadian hymn, "O Canada," the words of which were written by Chief Justice Adolphe Beaudette and the music composed by the late Calixte Lavallee, followed, the glorious strains swelling out and being softly re-echoed as from the older Canada whence the hymn originated.

Presentation of Medals. A striking feature of the day, albeit it occupied very few moments, was the presentation of medals to two Victoria soldiers who have won them by conspicuous gallantry on the field. Company Sergeant-Major C. F. Dawson, of the Seventh Battalion, received the Distinguished Conduct Medal, and Private P. S. McKenzie, of the Tenth Battalion, the Military Medal.

His Honor pinned the medals on the breasts of the men amid the cheers and plaudits of their fellow-citizens, and as he shook hands with them congratulated them on their achievements. Mrs. Barnard also shook hands with each of them and added her words of appreciation of their record. Major Moore read aloud the details of the acts of gallantry of Sgt.-Major Dawson at Ypres and of Private McKenzie at Courcellette.

son at Ypres and of Private McKenzie at Courcellette. It was with a little of greater sense of what the words mean that every one joined in the stirring "Rule Britannia" after this.

Sir Hibbert Tupper's address and the singing of the National Anthem, with the addition of the verse of the women's National Anthem, closed the proceedings, and cheers for the King, the men at the front, Lieut.-Gen. Currie, and the United States allies were given with heartiness.

Distinguished Company. Among those on the steps of the Jubilee were His Honor, Frank S. Barnard, who was accompanied by his private secretary, H. J. S. Muskoff, and Major, Monteith, A. D. C.; Mrs. Barnard and Mrs. Robin Dunsmuir; Hon. H. C. Brewster, Premier of B. C.; Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, K. C. M. G., K. C.; Hon. John Oliver, Minister of Agriculture; Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance; Hon. T. P. Pattullo, Minister of Lands; Hon. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works; Brigadier-General, R. G. E. Leckie, C. M. G., commanding M. D. No. 11; Capt. Sisman, A. D. C.; Right Rev. Alex. MacDonald, Bishop of Victoria; Commander James, R. C. N.; Hon. J. A. Macdonald, Chief Justice of the Court of Appeal; Mr. Justice Martin, Mr. Justice McPhillips, Mr. Justice Eberts, Mayor Todd, Aldermen Bennett and Dinsdale, T. W. Peterson, a former lieutenant-governor; George Bell, M. P. P.; H. C. Hart, M. P. P.; J. A. Mara, Rev. Dr. Leslie Clay, Rev. Charles Croucher, Rev. William Stevenson, Rev. H. S. Osborne, Lieut.-Col. E. R. Tooley, Lieut.-Col. Robert Cartwright, Lieut.-Col. Wilson, Major Moore, Major Seeley Smith, Major Harvey, Col. the Hon. E. G. Prior, Geo. Jay, R. H. Swinerton, E. C. S. Scheibler, provincial librarian and archivist; John Cochrane, president of the Canadian Club; Frank Sell, secretary of the Canadian Club; James Forman, president of the Board of Trade; Mrs. J. C. F. Hyndman, secretary of the Women's Canadian Club; Mrs. Margaret Jenkin, Mrs. J. H. King, the Misses Brewster, the Misses Oliver, and many others.

Special invitations had been extended by His Honor to attend as his guests to Hon. J. S. Helmcken, the first speaker of the old Legislative Assembly of Vancouver Island and Victoria's Grand Old Man; Hon. D. W. Higgins, the oldest newspaperman on the Pacific Coast; a former speaker of the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia; Hon. Robert Beaven, a former Premier of the province; and John A. Mara, former member and speaker of the Legislative Assembly and member of the House of Commons.

All these gentlemen took an active part in the entry of this province into Confederation and all are residents of the provincial capital-to-day. Owing to advancing years none of them felt equal to the strain of attending except Mr. Mara.

The arrangements on the grounds were admirable, and were under the directions of Supt. Colin Campbell, of the Provincial Police; Chief Langley, and Deputy Chief Palmer, of the City Force. The Boy Scouts also rendered invaluable assistance and the Girl Guides distributed programmes. Very good assistance was given to the provincial librarian and archivist, who acted as secretary to the committee.

ENGLAND IN MAY. Dr. W. E. Home Writes of Lively Spring: Interesting Impressions. "It is quite difficult to explain to anyone how beautiful England has been this May," writes Dr. W. E. Home, formerly pathologist at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, now serving overseas in a branch of the naval service. "Victoria got spring a month before we did. Some beautiful primroses were sent from Victoria on March 17 and they were few in England on the 21st of April. We had a long cold winter, cruel it must have been in the trenches, bitter I know it was at sea. Spring was late, and in May everything came with a rush. First of all the hedges and soon the lovely elms. I do think the fluffy great elms in the hedgerows are a most characteristic and beautiful English feature. I had a little trip to Droitwich ten days ago. Worcestershire looked as if no one could see anything further than the great lushy hedgerows and the green fields and the Severn under the great Cathedral at Worcester so bright in the sunshine. And then I had to leave it, the day before Whit Sunday. My train was 20 minutes late, and I got away on a 12 standing up in a draught carriage, for trains are now a-days, so many engines have gone to France.

"Opposite me was a man from Broadview, Man. he said, with two little gold wound stripes on his left cuff. He had come over with the first lot of the P. C. L. I. and was anxious to get back (though he had now got a job in Birmingham) for he was nearly well. "We ran past camp after camp to Andover, where the platform was crowded with Australians, and soon to Salisbury, dominated by the magnificent spire of the Cathedral, and as the train took one further south the grass got greener, the oaks now and the maples were putting out their yellow green leaves, the white roads were not yet very dusty, the apple blossom was just off, and the May blossom just beginning, and really, so long as you couldn't have mountains like Victoria, what could you want better than Hampshire in spring. Speaking of Hyde Park and its aspect in war time, Dr. Home says: "On Friday night there was a band playing there, and a thousand or so of people sprinkled about. Few men but soldiers. There was a Canadian in front of me, but he was so popular with the ladies in his company I could not interrupt to ask him his province. On Saturday the King and Queen drove up Constitution Hill, lined all the way by people eager to see them on their way as far as Knightsbridge, through the Park, to confer decorations. There were, I suppose, 50,000 people there to see them. "On Sunday I was at Kew. The elms and beeches were most magnificent. I saw the 214 ft. flagstaff which announced itself as a gift from British Columbia, but forgets to mention Albert."

CRICKET TEAMS ARE IN THICK OF FIGHT

Band of R. C. R. Enlivens Proceedings; Large Gathering Present at Jubilee

A gay scene of white is to-day presented at the Jubilee Hospital Cricket grounds where the Vancouver and Victoria representative teams are engaging in the inter-city match that will add a substantial sum to the funds of the local Red Cross Society.

The Vancouver eleven arrived in the city yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from their home city and were met at the wharf by R. P. Paton, vice-president and E. R. Lock, secretary-treasurer of the Victoria and District Cricket Association. They were taken to their headquarters where they met several of their local friends, after which the party dispersed to several of the parks, the majority of them wending their way to Beacon Hill, where they enjoyed the concert rendered by the 5th Regiment Band, and were unanimous in their praise of the beauty of the city and especially those sections which are at present made gorgeous by the bloom that is practically at its best.

This morning the team was entertained at breakfast by the Victoria players at the Pacific Club, following which they were taken to the Jubilee grounds in motors. The game commenced within a few minutes of the stated hour with quite a large number of spectators on the ground, and as the play proceeded others continued to arrive and to take their positions at the section of the field on which chairs and benches were provided.

From 1 o'clock until 2:30 luncheon was served under the large tent that was provided for the purpose. All arrangements for this part of the day's event were made and carried out in a most pleasant manner by the ladies of the Pleasant Nightingale Chapter of the I. O. D. E., assisted by some of the local girl guides and the boy scouts. At 2:30 the band of the R. C. R. arrived and commenced the programme of selections that they kindly promised to provide for the occasion.

ARTFUL DODGERS. To the Editor:—Will you oblige me with a little space in The Times (my old-neck will do) to give three checks for the "conscript" you ably advocate; and our gallant men in France who are fighting and falling for all of us, even for the slacker, slippery dodgers who hide amongst women and children, with ready excuses? I urgently ask you to let this letter be published, as a foreigner in your contemporary paper accuses our honest soldiers with having "enlisted for the sake of meat tickets." Remember that thousands of these fighting men attentively read every item of news in your paper, and in your contemporary.

THE MILK QUESTION. To the Editor:—I see in the Colonist that Ald. Andros is reported as saying: "If you lost a child through impure milk you wouldn't talk that way." In the year 1911 a child three weeks old was brought to Victoria for treatment under the late Dr. F. Hall. This child had two ruptures and never was known to sleep, crying night and day, stomach refusing to digest. Peptogenic milk powder was given. In fact, a wet nurse was engaged and proved fruitless. Being the last hope, Dr. Hall put this child on cow milk. A cow was bought from Mrs. Noble, Royal Oak, Saanich. The first week this child gained a half-pound, and this was kept up. In three months' time he was a fine, fleshy boy. This said child was raised on this cow milk.

But when this red-tape came out of testing cows for tuberculosis this cow failed in the test. This is nothing more or less than actual facts. The child is living in Victoria with both parents. I also quite agree that the best milk is to be got from the small dairymen, I have tried both. I get milk from a man who keeps four cows. This man spends all his time looking after these cows, keeping them clean, etc., although minus cement floor. Myself, being more or less of a farmer, I do not approve of cement floors. Would be very cold, I should think, during the winter months. In Wales and Sweden the stall floors are of wood with stone drain. The bedding of the cows are not changed until the cold winter days are over, only more clean straw put on top. In Wales tuberculosis would prove itself a stranger in a strange land.

My opinion is this: The cow has the milk inside of the udder, but the outside, and if the udder being washed clean before milking, and milk strained through a clean piece of cheesecloth put inside of a strainer, this fitted on top of milkcan, no matter where the cow goes or what she may lie in, show me where on earth this could affect the milk? Again, as the milk comes from the inside of the udder, it would be a pity to have the small dairy put out of business; it is where the good milk comes from. In passing this by-law it would simply mean the dairyman who runs on a small scale must get out and hunt a living elsewhere for himself and family. I am sorry for the small dairymen in this case.

Now Russia, Come! Your feast has become a debauch, Russia. And the sight makes your Allies quite sick. Inertia is touching your brain, Russia. You're growing groggy and very unfit. You give heart to the foe white you revel. For he mixes the dope which you drink, which impairs both your mind and your metal. You've had enough of that stuff, don't you think? Then turn from the thing right away, Russia. You stand on the precipice brink.

You impose on the faith of your friends, Russia. Every day you prolong this debauch; you still have honor and name, Russia. Beware lest both be lost. Can you imagine that deep detestation? That for you will fill the hearts of your friends? Should you yield to the enemy's persuasion? For that you could never make amends. Then lose no more time, act to-day, Russia. Now to duty—bring the revels to an end. And take up your task once again, Russia. Take it up with your old-time vim! Let Brusiloff's blade flash again, Russia. And the bells of victory will ring. Ring through a world from which peace was buried.

By the Hun and his blasphemous King; Then see the freedom's banners again unfurled. For the power of the Hun will be killed. Let strike to-day while you may, Russia. Show your Allies yours with them still. JOHN MULLRAY, Tillson, B. C., June 29.

RIGHTS OF RETAILERS. To the Editor:—No matter what any particular community may be noted for, such as Ottawa politically, Toronto commercially, Victoria for its climate and delightful residential environments, the backbone of every city, large or small, is the retail merchant. He is the institution that pays the city's upkeep, through rents, taxes and wages, and is the recognized source of real "ready money" circulation. Hence he should have every consideration and protection against unfair and transient competition.

I was pleased indeed, to observe Mayor Todd's resolution, as quoted in the press recently, regarding the public market and the Saturday half-holiday. The market, in the main, is transient. The stall-holders pay little to the great expense of our town's operation. Few of them even stay over night, and the continual demands on their time during the limited period of market activity makes it imperative that they touch on the job.

The original object of the proposition, I believe, was to lower the high cost of living, but I don't think it was ever made clear who's high cost was wished to reduce, the country gentleman's or our own, because really there is no perceptible difference in price between the market and our regular stores. I have seen eggs quoted in the market at 50 cents a dozen and a nearby merchant offering the same line "strictly fresh," for 45 cents. Meat is sold at practically the same price both places, the only distinction being service, in which the merchant easily excels.

Yet some people go into systems of cost-cutting over the market and come home with their "knit bags" bulging with purchases, passing many clean, marble-trimmed, sanitary institutions on their way that could have treated them just as well, and, in addition, delivered if desired.

However, I can find no fault with the market and many folk seem to prefer it; but I object most positively that it is allowed to operate when our real merchants, who handle the same commodities, are compelled to cease. We wish at least give our really reliable, every-day open, always-at-your-service business men the same privilege as the twice-a-week market, or else close all.

Our city's stores are open for the public's convenience, and of course their own profit, every legal business hour of every legal business day. If it were otherwise, even temporarily, we would kick like a steer. But the market opens on the two best selling days only. No one has suggested that they should be open on the quiet days like Monday and Tuesday. Oh, no, the stall-holders come in at the prime "psychological" moment and secure at a minimum of labor and expense the very cream of the business week.

Therefore to sum the matter into a nutshell, permitting the market to cater to the needs of the buying public when our merchants are legally closed, is absolutely unfair competition, and I am surprised that our city fathers has tolerated it so long. J. A. SHANKS, "Five Points," June 29.
