

SINCLAIR TO FIGHT U. S. IN TEAPOT SUIT

Coolidge Already Has Nearly 200 Delegates

STEADY GAIN IN VARIOUS STATES IS CLAIMED

Campaign Managers Secure Strength for Candidate Quietly, Efficiently

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
For International News-Service
WASHINGTON, March 10.—While public attention has been centered on the naval oil investigation, the campaign managers of Calvin Coolidge have been working with a quiet efficiency that has resulted to date in the acquisition of nearly 200 delegates to the Cleveland convention in advance of the primary ballots. Up to today six states have instructed their delegates for Coolidge—Virginia, Kentucky, Iowa, South Carolina, Louisiana and Minnesota.

Steady Gains

By the end of this week four more states will have joined this list, the Coolidge managers claimed today. These are New Hampshire, Kansas, Colorado and Mississippi. The grand total of delegates' strength from these ten states is 184.

Fighting Ground

The Coolidge managers are somewhat doubtful of South Dakota, where the primary comes March 25. Senator Johnson has been concentrating on the South Dakota fight and has been aided to a large extent by Senator Peter Norbeck.

Battle Dates

The next twelve weeks are to be filled with political battle. New Hampshire leads off in the primary list tomorrow. North Dakota follows March 18. South Dakota on the 25th; Wisconsin votes on April 1, Michigan on April 7, Illinois and Nebraska on the eighth, Oregon on the 18th, Pennsylvania and New Jersey on the 22nd and Ohio and Massachusetts on the 29th.

Western Union Wins Damage Suit Appeal

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The Western Union Telegraph company won in the supreme court of the United States today its appeal to prevent payment to J. A. Ciznek, Oakland, Cal., of $41,500 damages awarded for failure to deliver a telegram filed at Boise, Idaho. Lower courts held there was negligence by the company because the telegram was never started from Boise and provisions and stipulations for sent messages protecting the company carried on the blanks did not relieve liability. The supreme court reversed these decisions.

MAY SHIFT BASE OF BRITISH NAVY

Proposed Site Planned to Protect Waterways of Vast Importance

LONDON, March 10.—Admiralty officials admitted to International News Service today that plans to shift the base of the British fleet from the North sea to the Mediterranean, keeping the bulk of England's powerful sea fighting machine in southern waters.

Officials pointed out that the Mediterranean has become the center of British trade and is the most important naval area from a strategic viewpoint. Present conditions, they say, made it advisable for Britain to rearrange her naval policy.

Launch Battle For Right To Wear Bobbed Tresses

SPOKANE, Wash., March 10.—The "bobs" opened a counter offense against the "anti-bobs" here today. The "bobbed club," composed of 117 bobbed haired women, plan to fight the edict of certain Spokane business firms, which are alleged to have issued orders prohibiting the wearing of bobbed hair by their employes.

LIVES IN CHINA, WANTS THE NEWS

Former Glendale Resident Welcomes Paper In Far East Country

The Glendale Evening News readers and boosters now include a resident of China, C. E. Ranck of Kuling, China, who writes praise and pleasure of the New Year's edition of The News, and encloses a check for subscription. He writes:

"Thanks to a loyal friend, your New Year's edition of The News was sent to us 'way back East,' farther east than you may have expected it to go.

"You may have forgotten the writer as one of your subscribers and boosters for The News, when he lived in Glendale during 1920. Since our return to China our thoughts have often reverted to the pleasant months spent in Glendale and we feel now that when our work in the world would please us more than to have a home in Glendale.

News by Cable

"The general news from China you receive by telegram. We notice that some telegraphic news published in U. S. A. is quite accurate, while other telegrams are badly twisted. Some of these are twisted by Chinese political twisters, in order that Americans may get a twisted opinion of the present twisted up condition of the government of China.

"China is now about in the same fix as Pat was when he tried on a pair of new boots. He said 'I'll never get these on until I have worn them awhile.' Well, it seems to me that China will never be able to put on her own boots of republican government until she has worn them for fifty years or more.

"Nevertheless, she seems to be trying hard to fit on comfortably her democracy boots, and she needs America's encouragement. But until she does get herself properly fitted out Americans in China are better off under the laws from Washington rather than those from Peking."

Lauderdale to Head Advertising Committee

President C. J. Hatz of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, at the weekly meeting in the Egyptian Village at noon today, appointed W. G. Lauderdale head of the Irish Linen Store, 117 North Brand boulevard, to succeed Mr. Hatz as chairman of the permanent publicity committee of the organization.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 10.—Mustafa Kemal Pasha today sent a letter to the Moslems in India saying the Turkish parliament will administer the duties previously performed by the Caliph.

COUNTY JAIL TERM FOR WOMAN

Gets 120 Day Sentence for Punishment Accorded to Her Young Niece

Mrs. Marguerite Lackey, 1007 South Mariposa street, was sentenced to 120 days in the Los Angeles county jail by Judge H. F. Lowe this morning after being convicted by a jury on a charge of mistreating her 8-year-old niece, Lenore Miller.

Notice of Appeal

The case was concluded Saturday afternoon and following arguments by Leslie R. Tarr, prosecuting attorney, and Albert D. Pearce, counsel for the defense, the case was given to the jury at 6 o'clock. They were out one hour and ten minutes.

Mrs. Lackey was charged with two counts, alleging the same offense, but committed on different dates. The verdict of the jury was that she was not guilty on the first count, but guilty on the second, which specified that on February 16 she "did wilfully inflict bodily punishment on the person of Lenore Miller in such a manner as to endanger the health of the child." The examination of the child's body by the authorities, which led to the charges, was made on February 18.

After judgment had been passed, notice of appeal to the superior court was filed by Pearce. He was allowed ten days in which to file his motion. Bail was fixed at $300 cash, which she furnished.

Attracts Women

Mrs. Lackey's trial, which occupied two days, attracted large crowds to the courtroom. Prominent Glendale clubwomen had interested themselves in the case of the little girl, whose mistreatment formed the basis of the charges.

According to the testimony, Miss Rich, the little girl's teacher, had noticed black and blue marks on the little girl's face and body, and complaint was finally made to Mrs. Annie E. Yard, welfare worker. Dr. G. Kaemmerling, health officer, was called in to examine the child, and he testified on the stand that her body was covered with marks from the roots of the hair on her head to her feet, with the exception of her abdomen.

Arrest Results

Mrs. Lackey's arrest followed, and the child was given into the custody of Mrs. Root, state probation officer of Los Angeles. Her defense took the line that she was compelled to use harsh measures with the child to endeavor to break her of certain habits she was forming which would be injurious to her in later years, if continued.

Judge Lowe review the case at great length before passing sentence. Mrs. Lackey's facial expression did not change in the idea.

STAGE MAN HUNT FOR 5 CRIMINALS

Convicts Overpower Guards At Joliet In Daring Break from Jail

BULLETIN
JOLIET, Ill., March 10.—Three of five convicts who late last night escaped from the Joliet penitentiary were captured today by Captain C. A. Bigford and two other penitentiary guards in a corn field near Homer, Ill., 16 miles from here. There was no resistance. Those captured were Joseph (Big Joe) Moran, Clarence Langford and William McKinley James.

Those still at large are Frank Brady and Yman Shokell.

JOLIET, Ill., March 10.—Five dangerous criminals, three of them murderers serving life sentences, today were caught in a manhunt which reached north to Chicago and over the state line into Indiana and Iowa. They escaped last night by overpowering two guards and scaling the penitentiary walls. The five are:

Frank Brady, Chicago, sentenced to life for a saloon holdup and murder, four years ago; William James, sentenced to life for murder two years ago; Clarence Langford, sentenced to life for murder five years ago; Joseph (Big Joe) Moran, professional safe-blower, serving from one year to life, and Lyman Shokell, serving from one year to life for burglary. Moran and James were trustee at the penitentiary. Brady, Langford and Shokell all were in the prison hospital, using pleas of illness recently in gaining admission.

One guard was on duty in the ward last night. Moran also was in the ward. Moran attacked the guard and was assisted in binding him by James, who apparently had been waiting for the move. The three "sick" convicts leaped from their cots and the quintet ran to the prison yard.

Contrary to prison regulations, carpenters at work on an outer building had left a ladder there. The men used it to scale the wall. Before the armed guard on the wall was aware of their approach, the men were upon him. His rifle went sailing and an arm circled his throat. The bandits dropped him and went over the wall. Within five minutes the guard succeeded in giving the alarm and the big siren was wailing its warning and appeal to the countryside.

BELIEVE ALL OF MINE MEN KILLED

Rescue Teams Bring Forth Bodies of Those Caught In Utah Tragedy

CASTLE GATE, Utah, March 10.—With nine bodies actually removed from the mine, all of them identified, the work of rescue in mine No. 2 of the Utah Fuel company, where 173 coal miners were entombed by a series of terrific explosions from an undetermined cause, was speeding up this afternoon.

It was reported earlier in the day that thirty-one bodies had been removed from the mine, but officials later corrected this by announcing that twelve of these bodies had been located and were being brought out as fast as rescuers could accomplish the task.

All Dead, Is Belief
It was believed, however, that a score or more bodies would be brought out of the underground sepulchre before nightfall.

While some mine officials still clung to the belief that some of the imprisoned men may be rescued alive, veteran mine experts declared that the terrific blasts and poisonous gases had probably snuffed out the life of every one of the 173 victims.

It was learned this afternoon that there would be about fifteen pack animals killed in the disaster.

Despite the mangled and mutilated condition of the covered bodies, work of identification was facilitated by tags attached to the men's bodies.

SOLON ARRESTED, BAIL IS REFUSED

Minnesota Congressman and Companion Are Held On Grave Charge

BULLETIN
CLARENDON, Va., March 10.—After spending eighteen hours locked up in the Arlington county jail, Representative Harold Knutson, Republican member of Congress from the Sixth Minnesota district, was released this afternoon under bond of $5,000.

Leroy M. Hull, a government clerk, with whom the congressman was arrested last night on a statutory charge, also was released on $5,000 bond. Their case was set for trial March 18.

CLARENDON, Va., March 10.—Representative Harold Knutson, member of Congress from Minnesota, was held in jail here today and temporarily refused bail, following his arrest last night on a lonely road in company with Leroy M. Hull, 29, said to be an employe of the department of justice. They are charged with a grave moral offense.

Knutson and Hull were arrested this morning before Judge Thomas, after spending the night in jail, and pleaded not guilty to the charge. Knutson asked time declared they found Knutson's automobile parked along the Alexandria road last night, and turned their flashlights into the car. They made the arrests on what they saw within the car.

Representative Knutson is one of the best known Republican congressmen in Washington. He is serving his fourth term from the sixth Minnesota district, and last term was Republican whip of the house. He was formerly president of the Northern Minnesota editorial association.

The Arlington county officers declared Knutson was greatly agitated by the arrest, and offered them his automobile and a large sum in cash, if they would let him and his companion go and "keep this out of the newspapers."

LEGAL CORPS PREPARES TO HOLD HOT CONTEST

E. L. Doheny Makes Reply To Sensational Charges Of Senator Wheeler

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, March 10.—President Coolidge this afternoon received an offer from E. L. Doheny, one of the central figures in the Senate oil investigation, to complete the oil storage facilities in Hawaii for the navy, in accordance with his contract with the government, despite the suit to be filed against him in California for the cancellation of the contract entered into with Secretary of the Navy Denby.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 10.—Harry F. Sinclair will contest the legal action of the government to annul the Teapot Dome lease. He announced this intention today just before he and a corps of six attorneys boarded Sinclair's private car for a trip to Cheyenne, where the action will be opened by the government this week.

Sinclair, holder of the Teapot dome naval reserve lease, under investigation by the Senate, today held conferences with Colonel J. W. Zevely, his personal attorney, and a corps of other legal talent at the Drake hotel here.

Sinclair, with his attorney, augmented, it is said by representatives of a Chicago law firm, will leave at once for Cheyenne, Wyo., where hearings on the leases will open in federal court Thursday.

Go to Battlegrounds

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The machinery through which the government hopes to recover the naval oil lands that were leased to Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny began to move today.

Atlee Pomerene nod Owen J. Roberts, the government's special counsel, left Washington for the west where suits will be filed this week to recover the lands and stop Doheny and Sinclair from further extracting oil from Teapot dome and Elk Hills.

Loans Oregon $5,000,000

NEW YORK, March 10.—"I have not only never aided revolutionists in Mexico, but have loaned the Oregon government $5,000,000 to aid it in putting down rebellions."

This announcement was made by E. L. Doheny, president of the Pan-American Petroleum company, in the charges of Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, that Doheny, Harry F. Sinclair and other oil magnates, with the aid of the United States department.

Cronkhite will File Brief In Son's Death

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The United States supreme court today granted leave to General Adelbert Cronkhite to file a brief in the case of Sergeant Roland R. Pothier, who is held as confessed slayer of Major A. P. Cronkhite, son of General Cronkhite, but over whose trial there is conflict in federal and state jurisdiction.

General Cronkhite is making a fight to bring to court Captain Robert Rosenbluth and Pothier, who were indicted for the death of Major Cronkhite.

Trade Body Refuses To Probe Bread Cost

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The Federal Trade commission today notified the Senate it was too busy to conduct an investigation of flour and bread prices, as requested in a Senate resolution.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Family Dinner

Mrs. Richardson D. White was hostess at a delightful family dinner party at her home on East Maple avenue Sunday night, in honor of her husband, R. D. White, who has just returned from a two weeks' trip to Chicago.

The table was centered with red and white carnations. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. A. Houston Jones, Mrs. Fannie Jones, Marion and Richey Jones, Mrs. Margaret Longley, Misses Murray and Margaret Longley, Mrs. John W. Sharpe, Miss Heien White and the host and hostess.

During Mr. White's trip east he attended a convention in Chicago and in addition visited his former home city of St. Louis, and other points in the middle west, making stops with relatives and friends in Denver and Salt Lake City on the return trip.

His recounting of the many pleasant incidents of the meeting with relatives and old friends made a most entertaining after-dinner talk.

Club Tomorrow

Music will be the entertaining feature tomorrow at the meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club at 2:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the clubhouse. Miss Gertrude Cleophas of 337 North Central avenue, artist pianist, and Max Donner, violinist, will present the program.

Mrs. Daniel Campbell, club president, will preside over the meeting, to be preceded by a cooked food sale in the palm room in charge of Mrs. Homer Itywood, chairman of hospitality.

Home Wedding

The marriage of Mrs. Lucille La Brea to William Siemsen took place Saturday night, March 8, 1924, at the home of Mrs. Rouse's aunt, Mrs. H. C. Smith at 1027 Florence place, Glendale.

Rev. C. R. Norton was the officiant, reading the ceremony before a company of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Margaret Heustis attended the bride, and Glenn Wilson, brother of the bride, served as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Siemsen are to reside in Glendale.

At Temple Home

Chapter L. P. E. O. will hold their annual business meeting and election of officers at the home of Mrs. Chas. H. Temple, 145 North Orange street, Wednesday morning, at 10:30 o'clock. The business meeting will be followed by a luncheon at the Egyptian Village. Mrs. H. D. Goss is the chapter president.

Musical Evening

ROJANS DEFEAT TIGER ATHLETES

U. S. C. Scores 81-50 Victory In Spectacular Meet On Oxy Field

The U. S. C. varsity track team scored an 81-to-50 victory over their ancient rivals from Occidental Saturday afternoon in a spectacular meet held on Patterson field. The Trojans managed to make a clean sweep on the hurdles, shot put and discus. Coach Hall's warriors pulled a big surprise and copped first and second in the 100-yard dash and took first in the 220-yard dash. Dave Riddell came to the front and won the javelin throw for the Trojans. All three of these events were conceded to be U. S. C. property.

Iron Man Cliff Argue was high point man of the meet with a total of thirteen markers. Argue thrilled the fans by defeating Fartz, Spangler and Clarke in both sprints and then taking a record in the high jump. Bud Louser of Coach Cromwell's crew established a new U. S. C. mark in the short put by a heave of 46 feet 10 inches. The former record was held by Norm Anderson, who won the N. C. A. A. meet last year with a toss of 46 feet 10 inches. Houser also won the 100-yard dash.

The best race of the day was the 880. It was a bitter duel between Percy Niersbach and Phil Ellsworth, Oxy captain, with the former winning after Ellsworth had made several desperate attempts to get out of the box formed around him by the Trojan runners. The relay was won by the Trojans with ease, Oxy failing to live up to expectations in this event.

The Summary: Mile run—Won by Carter (O.) second, Griffen (O.) third. Time—4:55. 500-yard dash—Won by Argue (O.) second, Griffen (O.) third. Time—1:10. 100-yard dash—Won by Argue (O.) second, Griffen (O.) third. Time—1:10. 120-yard high hurdles—Won by Dye (U.S.C.) second, Griffen (O.) third. Marquard Trains For 17th Year As 'Lemon'; Thanks Sport World For Dubbing Him That

This is the first of a series of interesting stories from the spring training camps by Norman E. Brown, the sport authority of The Glendale Evening News. All of the camps will be visited, and the chances of the various teams gone into in detail. Watch for the stories, illustrated with photos by a staff photographer, regularly in The Glendale Evening News.

By NORMAN E. BROWN ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 10.—Rube Marquard has started training for his seventeenth season as a "Lemon."

And as he unlimbers his left arm he says, "The world did me a favor when it dubbed me that." "When the Indianapolis club sold me to the Giants in 1908 the public knew that John McGraw paid $11,000 for me. Everywhere I went I was called 'The $11,000 Beauty.'"

"The fans expected me to stand every batter in the National League on his head. I knew this, I pitched with it in mind that I judged along with all-end clubs some of those campaigns. Last year the Braves finished last in just about everything. Rube managed to win eleven games while dropping but fourteen."

But Marquard is still referred to as the "$11,000 Lemon." "And the world'll have a change to call me that a year or two more," opines Rube.

"I never will forget the first chance I got. McGraw sent me to Cincinnati. The Reds knocked me out of the box in the second inning. The official attendance that day was something like 38,000. It seemed to me as though I was pitching in front of 733,000 folks."

"You can imagine what the Red boosters said when I went in. And you can imagine what everybody said when I was slammed all over the lot. I got 11,000 hoots and the title 'Lemon' as I walked back to the dugout."

"I worked in two games before the season ended and didn't get credit for winning or losing either. The next year I managed to win five games and lose thirteen. The next season that was 1910. I won four and lost four. By that time the public held no illusions regarding me. I was no longer classed as being worth $11,000. I was 'The $11,000 Lemon' to the whole world. People ceased to watch every move I made. The only persons expecting Rube Marquard to do anything or become anything were Rube and John McGraw. And in those two years, with the help of McGraw, I found myself."

"When I joined the Giants I was a side-arm pitcher. I had wound that left-handed elbow around the A. A. batters to the tune of 28 wins and 19 defeats before I went up. When I reported for practice the first day with the Giants, McGraw told me to get well warmed up and then pitch to the regulars."

"When I took the box McGraw sent Sammy Strang, Larry Doyle, Cy Seymour, George Brown and Art Bridwell, all left-handed hitters, to hit against me. They took one look at my stuff and then refused to hit."

"When McGraw asked what the trouble was they said: 'He's too wild. He'll kill somebody with that side-arm delivery of his.' McGraw set Matty, Wilse, McNulty and the others to teach

Beat Shell Oil Sluggers In Deciding Battle by Score of 6-3

For the second year in succession Larry Arnold's Sawtelle Merchants are semi-pro champions of Southern California. In the third and deciding game of the series with Shell Oil yesterday they again routed Fred Fairbanks and came out with the long end of a 6-3 score.

Opposed to Fairbanks was Guy Cooper, former Seattle hurler, who beat the Oilers a week ago. He was touched for nine hits. With the exception of the eighth inning Fairbanks' spit ball was working beautifully, but four runs registered in that frame proved the downfall of Josh Clarke's combination.

Walter Hood, Angel hold out and captain of Sawtelle, Charley Barnabe and Frank Snyder were the hitting stars of the day.

STAGE ALL SET FOR DAUGHERTY TO FACE TRIAL

Attorney General's Case to Steal Spotlight From Oil Lease Quiz

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Plans for the public trial of Attorney-General Daugherty on charges of neglect of duty were completed today by a special committee.

The first public session, scheduled for tomorrow, will be devoted to evidence linking the department of justice with an alleged conspiracy to foment revolution in Mexico, according to Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, acting "prosecutor."

Sensational Evidence Its sponsors were known to have in their possession evidence of a sensational nature. Friends of the attorney-general, however, maintained that it did not involve him personally, though it may seriously reflect upon persons in his department.

Three phases of the investigation were known today. These were: First—Summoning of seven former department of justice agents to tell of an alleged conspiracy involving E. L. Doheny, Harry F. Sinclair and other oil interests to foment the unsuccessful Esteban Cantu revolution in Lower California in 1921 and 1922.

Second—Investigation of a story that General Leonard Wood was offered the support of Jake Hamon, late oil king, at the 1920 Chicago convention, if he would name Hamon secretary of the interior if elected.

Third—Investigation of the charges that high government officials gambled on the stock market on the strength of "leaks" from the White House. This phase was promoted by a Chicago grand jury, which investigated the veterans' bureau but reported it had found no evidence of speculation by one or more officials of the government using official information.

Fourth—Alleged sale of paroles also charged by the Chicago grand jury and said to have involved members of congress. Charge Tampering In addition, the investigating committee has summoned Gus Jones, chief of the department of justice agents on the Mexican border, to inquire into reports that he interviewed John Camp, a man secret service operative, after the latter was called as a committee witness. The committee looked upon Camp as one of its "star" witnesses in the alleged revolt conspiracy and were anxious to learn whether any effort was made to prevent him testifying.

Sweeping victories for Calvin Coolidge in Iowa, Kansas and Minnesota point the way to a first ballot victory in the national Republican convention to be held in Cleveland on June 10, according to members of the campaign committee of five in California. The action of these middle western states indicates that the agriculture policy of Calvin Coolidge has met the necessity of the middle west, the committee declares. In the Iowa state Republican convention Tuesday, March 4, twenty-nine delegates were instructed to support the president on June 10. On Wednesday, March 5, Kansas lined up for Calvin Coolidge. The majority of county conventions in Minnesota have decided on the president in his candidate, indicating, it is said, the attitude of the great agriculture state. On March 5, all Republican delegates to the national convention from Louisiana were instructed to stand solidly behind Calvin Coolidge.

Members of the committee of five have predicted that the decisions of these states will be followed by all others before the national convention.

Dean Of Women Advocates State Wide Universities In Address To Alumnae

By KATHERINE V. SINKS Of The Evening News Staff.

That from the University of California a system of state-wide universities will develop instead of a competitive system of higher institutions of learning, is the hope of Mrs. Helen Mathewson Laughlin, dean of women of the University of California, Southern Branch, who spoke Saturday afternoon at the "University of California Day," celebrated by the Glendale College Women's club with a tea at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

"Times have changed," said Dean Laughlin, "and no longer can the state university be confined to one location. There is no city in California that is more conscious of modern progress than Glendale. When I was 18 years old I taught my first school in Glendale. There was then but one street in the little town, and behold the thriving city that is here now."

Dean Laughlin represents that class of educated, vivacious, cultured women who are popular as women members of university and college faculties throughout the country. She is a most capable speaker and the club members and guests were interested Saturday in her account of the Southern Branch of the state university.

4000 Students Enroll Some interesting data given by the speaker showed the need and growth of the Southern Branch. She stated that, with the opening of the current year last fall, 2000 freshmen were admitted, and at Berkeley there were 2200 freshmen admitted. The total entrance figures at the Southern Branch were 4000 students, of which 2700 were women.

These figures, after five years of existence, show something of the success of the University of California branch in the southland and probably predict other branches elsewhere in the state. Ambitions of the Southern Branch in scholarship, athletics and other activities were told by Dean Laughlin. Of course the college women were particularly interested in the women's activities. The speaker stated that one-third of the women at Southern Branch are supporting themselves while obtaining an education.

"The women of Southern Branch," said Dean Laughlin, "are actively engaged in governing themselves and are earnest in their aim of keeping high standards. Let us make this the friendly university," they declared some time ago.

"To have freshmen women arrive with the right spirit they send prospective students certain suggestions as to dress and actions and this has had a splendid effect on campus styles and behavior.

"One of their outstanding suggestions is, 'We do not condemn the use of cosmetics, but condemn their abuse.' "Right at present faculty and students of Southern Branch are busy and interested in their privilege of taking part in developing the University of California into the greatest and largest higher institution of learning in the world."

Alumnae Hostesses University of California students, past and present, were hostesses Saturday and they are to be congratulated on the spirit and artistry of the affair.

Members of the club were given little golden bear cards bearing their names to wear in place of the usual name cards and the U. C. members and guests wore, instead of the cards, yellow chrysanthemums with a small blue C in the heart of the blooms.

Blue corn flowers and yellow jonquils were used in the palm and tea rooms and cakes in the form of little bears and yellow and blue mints were served with the tea.

Mrs. George U. Moyle presided most graciously over the program, which opened with the singing of the U. C. song, "Our Sturdy Golden Bear."

Tells U. C. History Mrs. James Mullen gave an interesting historical sketch of the university and sketches of campus activities. Later, Miss Aileen Renshaw sang "Elegy" (Massenet) and "The March and the Butterfly," and after Dean Laughlin's talk the university alma mater song, "All Hail, Blue and Gold," was sung.

R. W. Blair of the university at Berkeley was the accompanist. Hostesses for the afternoon were: Mrs. George U. Moyle, general chairman; Miss Ruth Schindler, chairman; Mrs. Sarah Mullen, Mrs. W. T. Burton, Miss Helen Goldthwaite, Miss Mary Corry, Mrs. Evelyn Labadie, Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, program.

Miss Beulah Woods, chairman; Mrs. H. James Wittmeyer, Miss Mary Creath, Mrs. O. H. Spradling, decoration.

Mrs. F. W. Line, chairman; Miss Bessie Field, Miss Helen Wallace, Mrs. Fred Sheard, Jr., Miss Emma Saxton, Mrs. R. L. Holland, reception.

Miss Helen Hairgrove, chairman; Miss Mary Hairgrove, Miss Hazel White.

During the business hour Saturday a budget committee was appointed by Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, club president, to outline club finances for next year. Mrs. Frank Parr heads the committee and her co-workers will be Mrs. J. S. Hayward, Katherine V. Sinks, Mrs. William Hunter and Mrs. Evelyn Labadie.

In the suggestion of the board of directors, orange and white have been adopted as the club colors and will be used on all future occasions in decorations and emblems.

Aid Scholarship Fund In order to swell the scholarship fund a benefit card party is to be given late in April. Mrs. E. B. Sutton has kindly offered the use of her beautiful home at 727 East Windsor road. The exact date and plans for the affair will be made known at an early date.

Further plans for the club's offering a student prize have been

LECTURER TALKS ON MODERN ART AT GATHERING

Present-Day Tendencies Is Schrader's Theme at Association Meet

"Modern Art" was the subject of a delightful talk by E. Roscoe Schrader before the Glendale Art association which met yesterday afternoon at the public library. As dean of the Otis Art Institute, the speaker has had wide opportunity to observe the development of the trend toward modern art, the individualist, extremist and modernist, whose productions are the center of more or less discussion at this period. He spoke of the influence that modern illustration has had on modern painting, stating that the modern painter must stand the test of reproduction.

Speaking of the influence of photography on modern painting the comparison of the machine-made picture with the product of the artist's hand, he said: "There is no competition between the machine-made picture and the artist's painting. Just as there is nothing else made by machine that can surpass that made by hand. This is true in the sense that no machine can truthfully produce Caruso's voice or a Kreisler tone."

He spoke at some length on the early works by Gauguin, and the later pieces of the same man, which are extremely modern, and strange in comparison. He touched upon the wider divergence of opinion, concerning Modern Art and stated as his own opinion that he believed that art is in a good way and that we were going to leave something distinctive behind; just what will be brought about by the passage of time.

Defines Color Scales He spoke of the importance of color, and defined color scales and color harmony, and the vision of the artist, who paints the color as he feels it. "This vision," said the speaker, "is brought to the accuracy that is obtained by the photographer."

Mr. Schrader also displayed some books containing reproductions of paintings from English, French and Belgian schools of art, and a magazine from a Russian school that is published in Berlin.

Mrs. Roy A. Ballagh, president of the Art club, presided at the meeting. At the close of the talk she announced that a collection of pictures by John W. Cotton is on display this month at the Tuesday Afternoon club. At the request of Mrs. Ballagh, the members stood a moment with heads bowed as an expression of sympathy for the vice-president, Miss McIntyre, whose mother passed away a few days ago.

The next meeting will be held the third Friday evening in March.

Term In County Jail Is Given to Woman

(Continued from page 1) least when Judge Lowe pronounced the words which give her one of the heaviest sentences ever handed down in a Glendale court for a misdemeanor. She came in court promptly at 10 o'clock, accompanied by her husband and her attorney.

The jury was composed of ten men and two women, as follows: Stanton A. Bruner, 601 North Louise, foreman; Mrs. Ruby Culver Henry, 315 West Harvard; Mrs. George Melvin, 432 Ivy; Joseph L. Howard, 1148 San Rafael; Benjamin J. King, 459 West Dryden; Tell M. Telandier, 609 North Jackson; David Simon, 1115 North San Rafael; Grover C. Slate, 1157 North Columbia; Victor G. Dry, 2011 Verdugo Road; E. L. McMahon, Elks' club; Warren W. Stevenson, 330 West Broadway; Henry D. Douglas, 337 North Belmont. All were married with the exception of Mr. Stevenson.

During the trial Mrs. Lackey's husband complained to Chief Fraser that she had received an anonymous letter stating "that if the Ku Klux didn't look after her probably somebody would."

THE GLENDALE THEATRE

"Judgment of the Storm," the Palmer prize-scenario photoplay, now showing at the Glendale Theatre, has been hailed by critics as "the film that has everything." It was directed by Del Andrews, from an original screen story by Ethel Stiles Middleton, a Pittsburg housewife.

There's heart interest aplenty, thrills, dramatic moments and best of all a cast so well chosen that each particular character makes a decided impression—and the director is to be commended for the mastery with the story develops—going from climax to climax—until you forget that it's only a motion picture after all.

Lucille Rickson, petite, sixteen-year-old star, is some one to rave about. Here is a player who can act as well as look pretty. She is probably well known to many audience members as you remember (it seemed just yesterday) she played the leading roles in Goldwyn's Edgar comedies.

DOHENY MAKES WARM REPLY TO WHEELER STORY

Oil Magnate Denies Giving Aid to Revolutionists; Admits Obregon Loan

Called "Sensational Lie" Doheny called Wheeler "a sensational liar" and "a political mistake far more fit to sit in the soviet parliament of Moscow than in the senate of the United States." He continued:

"Senator Wheeler's statement that he expects to show that I, in connection with others, furthered revolution against the Obregon government is just as false as his previous statement that Harry Sinclair, Edward B. McLean and I had meetings in the apartment of Attorney-General Daugherty.

"On February 19 Wheeler made on the floor of the senate a statement that there had been meetings between the three of us.

"The Walsh-Lenroot committee was called upon to subpoena Wheeler and make him either prove the statement or retract it as he would have done in the case of any private citizen.

Course Open, Claim "Three courses were open to Senator Wheeler. "One—If he were truthful and honorable, to come before the committee and prove his assertions. "Two—If he were mistaken and a man of any courage, to come before the committee and retract his falsehood.

"Three—If he were a liar and a coward to let his falsehood stand." Wheeler chose the "latter course," Doheny said. "I call him a sensational liar and he accepts the imputation," he declared. The charges that he aided revolution in Mexico were made by Wheeler "with like reckless disregard of truth," Doheny said. "I denounce this ridiculous charge as equally, unqualifiedly false," declared Doheny. They are obviously false for three reasons:

"One—I would have been a fool to finance gunners in Mexico. "Two—I have actually loaned the Obregon government $5,000,000 which enabled it to put down the revolution.

"Three—Wheeler has said it."

DR. EVANS OPENS LOCAL SERVICES

First of Series of Sermons Given at Presbyterian Church Sunday

After an inspirational preliminary song service at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, Dr. William Evans spoke on "Prayer" from the only fully recorded prayer of Jesus. Herbert G. Tovey, the Australian tenor soloist and song leader, was introduced to the several Christian Endeavor societies of the church and made an appeal for a large chorus choir with which to lead the congregational singing. The young people responded to such an extent that there was not room to seat them all.

These popular addresses which were begun Sunday will continue every afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and every evening at 7:30 o'clock. The following are excerpts from Dr. Evans' address Sunday evening.

"The life and character of the founder of religious cults or parties are something quite independent of and separate from the systems that bear their names. But this is not true of Christianity. Christianity is Christ. You cannot separate Him from His religion without striking a fatal blow to Christianity.

Religion of World
"Christianity is not one of the religions of the world—a history of the struggle of man after God, an evolution in the realm of man's religious struggle. No, the religion of Jesus Christ is the final, complete, authoritative revelation from God to the hearts of men. Christianity among the religions of the world is what man is among the animals—different in both quality and degree.

"After Jesus Christ, therefore, it is His religion—or none. There is a religious advancement from Christ. It is for this reason that the Apostle John says, 'If any man goeth onward—that is, desireth the pre-eminence, to be known as a modern advanced scholar—and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, he hath not God.' There is an advancement in scholarship that is not progress but apostasy. There is no real advancement that leads away from Christ. Progress in Him there may be; away from Him there is none, nothing but apostasy.

Proud Wills Refuse
"How can any honest, sane, intelligent man say that Jesus never made any claims to deity? Men may say that Jesus was deceived that He was an impostor, deluded, the victim of hallucination, but surely they cannot say in the light of this evidence that He never claimed to be equal with God.

"The difficulties men have with regard to the acceptance of Christ as deity are not to be traced to the intellect, but to the heart. It is the sinful, stubborn, proud will that refuses to bend and yield to the divine claims. It is the human will that lies at the basis of all trouble. The moment we bend that will and say with the poet, 'Our wills are ours, we know not how; our wills are ours to make them Thine.' When the truth dawns and breaks into the splendor of the soul it is not more evidence that men need; it is a humble and contrite heart."

MOST TEMPERATE TOWN

LONDON, March 10.—Although there is a saloon to every 201 inhabitants, the Town Council of Little Bowden, Northamptonshire claim that this is the most temperate town in the world, there having been only one case of drunkenness in ten years.

BOON FOR DEBBIES

LONDON, March 10.—Modern youth is in a fair way of receiving recognition from the king and the queen. It is probable that a Court order will soon reduce the minimum age of debutantes who may be presented at Court to the age of sixteen.

LOSES IN SUIT AGAINST CANDLER

Son of Coca-Cola King Victorious in Court

Mrs. Clyde K. Byfield, and inserts of Walter Candler and Mrs. Walter Candler

DECATUR, Ga., March 10.—Once again the Candler clan has returned victorious from the courts of the land.

Despite the fact that the millions reputed to be the possession of the Coca-Cola king and his kin have been partly responsible for the unhappiness that has befallen the family, victory and vindication perch upon their banner. A jury sitting in a local court today returned a verdict in favor of Walter Candler, son of the millionaire soft drink manufacturer, in the suit brought against him by Mrs. Clyde Byfield.

Sought $100,000
Mrs. Byfield sought $100,000 for asserted injuries and indignities she claimed to have suffered by reason of an alleged attack by Candler in a stateroom of the S. S. Berengaria, bound for Paris in 1922. The plaintiff is adjudged one of the leading Georgia beauties, and a prominent society matron of Decatur.

Upon hearing the verdict, Mrs. Byfield broke into tears and refused to be consoled. She, sitting with her father and mother, and Candler were present when the decision was read.

The jurors reached their verdict after a very brief deliberation following a re-charge by Judge John Hutcheson. The case was turned over to them late Saturday and they asked for the re-charge after several hours.

Judge Hutcheson then requested they postpone further consideration until today.

Will Appeal Case
Immediately after the report was made, ex-Governor John M. Slaton announced that he would enter an appeal for a superior court decision. His grounds for the appeal, he said, would be that Judge Hutcheson failed to charge the grand jury on points specially requested by the plaintiff's counsel and because he had charged on the matter of "consent" which Slaton had declared was no issue in the case.

Last June Asa G. Candler, the "Coca-Cola King," married his stenographer.

He was sued for $500,000 for breach of promise by another woman. He won, but not until he was a broken man physically, broken on the wheel of notoriety.

It wasn't his first bitter experience. A half dozen years ago he was made a victim of a blackmail plot. He didn't pay; he took the case to court, and a man and a woman were sentenced to a year in jail.

A few days ago the youthful wife of the Coca-Cola King was arrested with two prominent Atlanta men in a room in which there was a bottle of liquor. The arrest has become a political issue in Atlanta.

News Classified Ad Swamps C. C. Official

E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, ran a little two or three line advertisement in the classified columns of The Glendale Evening News Saturday, seeking solicitors to undertake the task of getting additional members for the organization. He thought, he says, that he might have a few answers, but this morning he has been doing nothing but interview candidates for the positions and has been simply swamped with inquiries. One man was camped on the stairs at the Chamber of Commerce before 8 o'clock this morning, and Secretary Sanders has put three solicitors at work rounding up the new members for the Chamber of Commerce.

ENTHUSIASM AT SCOUT INSTITUTE

Every Glendale Boy to Have Chance to Join, Says Local Executive

Every boy in Glendale, who wants to be a Scout, is to have the chance, is the enthusiastic report given by Harvey R. Cheesman, local Scout executive, on the Scout leaders' training institute which closed Saturday night and which brought to light a group of Glendale men well qualified to become Scout leaders.

It was most fitting that, with wonderful weather prevailing, the final event of the institute should be devoted to the outdoor activities of Scouting. A site under the big trees in Griffith park, on the river bottom just west of Los Feliz road, was picked as camp location and there forty prospective leaders met in the afternoon and remained until after the camp fire after the supper hour.

Thomas Sloan, chief ranger of the western division of the Angeles National forest, and Mr. Cheesman were the speakers of the afternoon gathering, the former speaking on "Camping in the National Forests" and the latter giving an illustrated talk on "Local Birds."

Hike Through Hills
Later the men were taken on a hike on the park hills, where there were demonstrations of how to line up on a hiking party of boys, and lessons on trees and shrubbery and nature games.

Just before the supper hour methods of how to cook over a camp fire without utensils were described and then each man cooked his own supper. The menu was most tempting and proved equally as tasty. There were roast potatoes, baked squash, pork chops, kabob, which includes slices of potatoes, meat and onions roasted on a stick over the fire; and roasted bananas and baked apples.

Gathering around the camp fire after supper the men listened to Fred Meyer, Scout executive of Ventura county, tell "How to Tell a Story," illustrated with a fine story. Later stunts were given by the various patrols.

Amateurs Blamed for Burglaries by Police

Several burglaries were reported to the police this morning, and, according to Detective Lieutenant W. J. Royle, who investigated, they had evidently been committed by amateurs.

The following homes were entered: F. L. Gillham, 203 West Maple avenue; Mrs. Smith, 313 Hawthorne street, and Miss McClintock, 334 West Oak street. In the first two reported the thieves were apparently frightened away before finishing, as nothing was missing. At Miss McClintock's, small change was taken.

Bible Class Discuss Conquest of Canaan

The Men's Bible Study class of the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday resumed the weekly sessions after the month of evangelistic services by the Kerr brothers in their Kingdom Campaign, Rev. Edward Hoskins, teacher, took up the study of Jewish history where he had left off, and the study of the day had to do with the conquest of Canaan. The discussion turned on the subject of qualification for leadership, with special reference to Joshua, who was commissioned by Jehovah to succeed Moses as the leader of Israel into the promised land.

people for a period of forty years in the wilderness—a period apparently essential to preparation for the responsibilities of national government—was graphically portrayed by the teacher and members of the class. Comparisons were made with present conditions in our own country, the need for better training in the schools of politics and business were freely discussed.

The lack of religious instruction in the schools of this state was emphasized as one of the crying needs of the time, but there was no suggestion of making an effort to secure a return of the Bible to the curriculum of the public schools. The day's teachings were summed up in the thought that men do not take seriously the Christ life in their daily relations with one another.

will be held Friday evening of this week, at which time plans for an aggressive campaign to assist the efforts of the Kerr brothers and Rev. Rasmus in a follow-up of the start toward evangelization of Glendale will be made.

Defective Wiring Is Cause of $100 Blaze

Fire of an unknown origin, but probably due to defective wiring according to Fire Chief Lankford this morning damaged the residence of L. C. Conners, 622 West Lomita street, to the extent of $100.

The alarm was received at 11:15 o'clock and the blaze was soon placed under control by the fire department.

TAX REDUCTION ON INCOME NOT YET IN EFFECT

Adjustment to Follow Final Passage of Measure, Says Collector

"There has been no reduction of taxes on 1923 income," stated Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell. "Innumerable calls are coming into our office relative to the proposed 25 per cent reduction." He continued, "and I wish to invite particular attention to the fact that such reduction is not to be deducted from the computed tax for the calendar year 1923.

"Inasmuch as the law now being drafted provides for a credit or refund of tax for the year 1923, I would suggest that taxpayers file their return showing the full amount of tax due, and to pay not less than one-fourth of the amount due thereon, but in any case not to pay more than three-fourths of the tax shown to be due.

"When the law is finally passed, the credit will be handled as an abatement of tax in the department, in cases where the taxes have not been paid in full, and as credit or refund in cases wherein full payment has been made," said Collector Goodcell.

At the present time it is no advantage for the taxpayer to deduct this 25 per cent from his return, as, under the existing law it would simply mean more work for the office of the collector in re-assessing the full amount of the tax due under the present requirements, and the taxpayers, their assistance and co-operation in reducing the amount of necessary labor is to the general interest.

Filing Period to End

With only six days more in which to file income returns, Collector Goodcell again warns taxpayers that the final day of the filing period ends with midnight of March 15.

"This means," said Collector Goodcell, "that approximately 200,000 taxpayers in this district have yet to file their returns. During the past year," he continued, "some 32,000 taxpayers were subjected to penalties on account of failure to file their returns within the time prescribed by law. In the majority of cases, his delinquency was due to a misunderstanding of the requirements.

The collector particularly invited attention to the fact that persons are required to file their income tax returns even though no tax is due, provided their income is within the following classes:

Single individuals must file if their net income is $1000 or more, regardless of the personal exemption to which they may be entitled.

Married persons must file if their joint net income is $2000 or more, regardless of the amount of personal exemption to which they may be entitled or the number of their dependents.

All persons receiving a gross income of $5000 or more must file a return regardless of the amount of their net income.

All partnerships must file regardless of the length of time the partnership existed during the calendar year 1913, and regardless of the amount of income.

Deputies on Duty

Estates, trusts and fiduciaries must file as in the case of single individuals.

Corporations must file regardless of the amount of income received.

Information slips showing payments of $1,000 or more to any individual must be filed by the person making the payment.

Collector Goodcell further suggests that all taxpayers prepare their forms, insofar as is possible, before presenting them to deputies, and thus assist in the filing of returns without undue loss of time to any taxpayer.

Deputies, however, are located throughout the district and will render aid to filers in the preparation and filing of their returns.

In the city of Los Angeles, deputies are located in the federal building, at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, in the Chamber of Commerce building, at the Chamber of Commerce at Hollywood, and at the headquarters of the Western Avenue Department association at Third and Western avenue.

Deputies will accept income tax returns from taxpayers where postoffice money order or personal check. Taxpayers desiring to pay by cash must call at the federal building in Los Angeles.

W.C.T.U. President Thanks News for Jubilee Publicity

Recognition and appreciation for publicity and courtesies extended by The Glendale Evening News to the Glendale W. C. T. U. are voiced in a note from Mrs. Ruby J. Smart, president of that organization, to A. T. Cowan, owner and publisher of the News. Mrs. Smart writes:

"The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Glendale wishes to extend to you a grateful appreciation for the generous publicity given through the columns of your paper to our jubilee conference recently held in Glendale. Also for the courtesy of space given for notices of our regular bi-monthly meetings, which are valuable in keeping our work before the public and a helpful aid in notifying our members.

"For these and all past favors we heartily thank you."

COSMETICS EDICT STIRS TEACHERS

Physical Exercise Given As Better Substitute for Rouge, Lip Stick

SACRAMENTO, March 10.—A ruling by a Sacramento valley school board that teachers who wish to retain their positions must forego the application of cosmetics, today elicited a reply from Mrs. Grace C. Stanley, state commissioner of elementary schools, that the question of using cosmetics is a matter of art and has nothing to do with morals.

Protests received by the state board of education indicate that the country board demands a signed agreement from young women teaching under their jurisdiction that they will not use cosmetics for the purpose of enhancing their personal appearance.

The state commissioner has instructed the board that a teacher cannot be discharged for using cosmetics, and hints that the trustees are wasting their time "in dealing with trivial matters when there are so many serious problems that need consideration."

Dr. Herbert R. Stolz, state supervisor of physical education, however, advises teachers to "paint your faces from the inside."

Cosmetic "addicts" among the teachers do not violate any moral code, but "they are usually unhealthy," said the physician, "and beauty preparations give the appearance of a healthy condition which does not exist. Physical exercise, regular hours and normal living will supply natural color in the majority of cases."

More Coffee Drinking In United States

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The United States continues to be the world's greatest coffee consumer, according to figures just made public by the department of commerce, which show that in 1923 the amazing total of 1,407,855,966 pounds of coffee was imported into this country, an increase of 13 per cent over 1922, and the highest figure during any year in the past decade.

These figures indicate that the average consumption per capita for 1923 was 14.4 pounds, a marked increase over 1922, 12.4 pounds, and the highest figure quoted by the statistical abstract for 1922.

Continue Probe into Dolley's Activities

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—While the federal grand jury planned to resume its probe into the asserted irregularities in the office of Chief Prohibition agent Harold H. Dolley, Alf Otford, internal revenue intelligence officer, continued his independent investigation of Dolley's activities here and in San Francisco.

Following several conferences with Otford, State Prohibition Director Samuel Rutter was expected to return to San Francisco, but he will return to testify before the grand jury next Friday, it was said.

Cowboys Will Have Own Olympic Games

NEW YORK, March 10.—Articles have just been signed here for the holding of the first international championship cowboy and cowgirl contests. They will be staged during the British Empire Exposition at the Imperial Stadium in London, England, June 14 to 28, under the auspices of the British government.

The British committee on contests has just completed arrangements with Tex Austin, of Las Vegas, New Mexico, to manage and direct the cowboy competitive events.

WILL WELCOME LOUIS HEACOCK TO SUNSET CLUB

Ohioan, 86, to Attend Next Meeting Held at Home of 'Aunt Addie'

Louis A. Heacock, eighty-six-year-old Glendale resident of 709 East Windsor road, is to be one of the new members welcomed next Saturday at the meeting of The Glendale Evening News Sun-Set club, with "Aunt Addie" Harter and her sister Mrs. C. M. Sparr at their home, 234 South Jackson street.

Mr. Heacock was brought to The News office the other day by Dominic Minnie of 332 West Harvard street, also eighty-six years old and one of the most enthusiastic club members.

Native of Ohio

Ohio is Mr. Heacock's native state, and it was on June 12, 1837 that he first saw the light of day in Smith township, Mahoning county, Ohio.

For forty years Mr. Heacock lived in Ohio and then moved to Harper county, Kansas, where he lived until coming to California seven years ago. He now resides at the home of his son, A. B. Heacock on East Windsor road.

That he has three fine sons and a daughter is a fact for just pride, but no one will question Mr. Heacock's happiness in his family when he adds that he has twenty grand-children and eight great grand-children.

Son in Glendale

The daughter is Mrs. H. M. Vernier living in Ohio; and the sons, A. B. Heacock of Glendale; J. E. Heacock of Cleveland, Ohio; and D. B. Heacock of Harper, Kansas.

Farming has been the chief business of Mr. Heacock's life and he has been most courageous and successful in all his undertakings for when he was fifteen years old he lost his right arm in an accident with a threshing machine. But he did not let this misfortune handicap him and today he is just as active and interested in life as he has been through all the years since his boyhood.

Holds World's Record on Unique Operations

LOS ANGELES, March 10.—Mrs. Ann Libby holds the world's record for successful Caesarian operations, having undergone her fifth at the White Memorial hospital.

Dr. H. W. Amyes of Huntington park performed the operation. Word was received from the hospital that Mrs. Libby was "doing splendidly" and that the baby was a fine son.

Mrs. Libby underwent her fifth operation in a period of nine years. Four of the five children thus delivered are alive. New York claimed the record not long ago when Mrs. Margaret O'Grady underwent her third Caesarian operation. Mrs. Libby goes her two better.

Villard Raps France, Praises MacDonald

BERLIN, O., March 10.—Declaration that the French occupation of the Ruhr is leading directly to a new war in Europe was made in an address here by Oswald Garrison Villard, editor and owner of The Nation, New York.

Villard appealed for American intervention in Europe "to save France from her own folly." He said Ramsay MacDonald, new British premier, is the greatest hope of Europe of the present day.

Last Marriageable Girl Weds in County

TONOPAH, Nev., March 10.—With the marriage of Miss Alice Brotherton and Ray Lorigan today, there are no marriageable girls left in the old county seat of Belmont, it is announced.

The occasion was celebrated by an old-time dance at which nothing but the quadrille, polka, waltz and schottische were in order and a fiddler of the old type was in charge of the music. Rev. Frank A. Manderson officiated at the ceremony.

'Denizens Of The Desert' By Noted Savant, Reveal Charms Of Waste Spaces

Alfred Cookman of 336 West Pioneer drive, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Cookman of 638 North Louise street, is a naturalist of note. Formerly a teacher in the science department of the Glendale Union High school, he is now a member of the faculty of the Polytechnic High school, Los Angeles, in the biological department. The following article, which he calls "Denizens of the Desert," depicts some of the impressions of the naturalist, gathered from rambles in the purple sage country.

By ALFRED COOKMAN, M. S.

The love of nature is after all, an acquired taste. Some folks go to the seashore to commune with nature's God. Some enter our canyons and ravines and climb the high Sierras to the snow-capped summits. Others prefer country scenes with wide, fertile fields, blossoming orchards and farm lands. Then there are those who like to rest at the edge of some placid lake or inland body of water; or, possibly, just to follow a silver-braided stream to its natural source. But what of the desert? One begins by admiring our beautiful mountains that stand like mighty monarchs of old towering into the sky, presenting a picture unparalleled in the realm of nature. One begins by admiring our beautiful mountains that stand like mighty monarchs of old towering into the sky, presenting a picture unparalleled in the realm of nature.

Tells of Road Runner

Wrens and linnets are building nests in the shrubbery. The cactus wren and the pigmy owl are nesting in the cholla cactus. The desert horned-lark and the sage sparrow are singing a carol at the top of the yucca. There are plenty of reptiles—venomous snakes, rabbits, ground squirrels, chipmunks, kangaroo rats and mice; and now that the sun is up you can see a few herds of cattle moving slowly at the edge of the vast oasis. Yes, we often encounter coyotes and antelopes and road-runners in the mesas. I like the road-runner; he will dart out in front of you with surprising quickness and race down the trail and turn abruptly and vanish in the sage. He is the most peculiar looking bird in the west, but grace personified; the fastest running bird in the world. You can never hope to catch him. The road runner is one of the most original and entertaining of western birds. The tourist is amazed when the long-tailed creature darts out of the brush and races the horses down the road; when tired he takes to wing or turn out into the brush, and throws his tail over his back to stop him. He is strictly a westerner—a lover of the cactus and sage—a desert denizen.

Migration Channel

The "Death Valley" oasis is a north-and-south trough between high mountain ranges; the Amargosa Range on the east, 4000 to 6000 feet high; and the Panamint Range on the west is 5000 to 11,500 feet high. The valley forms a natural channel for through migration of birds.

In Dr. Grinnell's late report, he says "Death Valley affords a rare problem in animal distribution; that it suggests, zonally, a desert mountain range inverted. A low zone in the bottom of the trough is surrounded by a higher zone instead of the reverse. While the bottom of Death Valley is below sea-level 280 feet, the highest place in the territory surrounding (Continued on page 3)

Don Webb's Residence Is Visited by Burglars

The residence of Don Webb, manager of the Glendale Hardware company at 604 North Kenwood street, was burglarized yesterday during the absence of the family. Entrance was gained by prying off a rear screen and forcing the window.

Mr. Webb discovered the burglary when he returned home at 8 o'clock. As far as is known now, the loot consists of several pieces of jewelry.

Watson to Speak on Widening Broadway

Thomas W. Watson, former city manager, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the West Broadway Improvement association on Tuesday evening, March 11. The meeting will be held at 105 1/2 South Central avenue. Included in the important topics announced for discussion will be the proposed widening of West Broadway. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock.

Association Furthers Voters' Registration

Charles H. Toll of 415 Kenneth road was made treasurer of a non-partisan organization to encourage registration of voters, at a luncheon meeting held March 7 in the Hotel Clark, Los Angeles, with representatives present from all parties, many clubs and other organizations.

The association has for its object the adoption of the Walt Le Noir Church "American Franchise" plan, which proposes levying a $25 franchise tax against every citizen of voting age, said tax to be paid either in money or with a franchise certificate showing that the bearer had voted at the last election.

Edward Owen of Los Angeles, elected secretary-manager of the organization, declares that this is the only simple, certain plan for inducing citizens to register and vote. "When it is realized that only 49 per cent of the qualified voters turned in a ballot at the last election," says Mr. Church, author of the plan, "one sees that 26,000,000 votes were silent."

Many political leaders are understood to have endorsed the Walt Le Noir Church plan, among them the late George W. Perkins.

SPARE TIRES STOLEN

Saturday night was a bad time for spare tires. C. B. Boynton, 214 North Belmont street, and C. F. Smith, 344 North Isabel street, reported to the police that their spares had been stolen from their machines. Smith's was taken while his car was parked on Wilson avenue between Broadway and Maryland.

EVENTS OF TEN YEARS AGO ARE RECALLED DAILY

Record of Glendale's Pioneer Times Unique Feature Of The News

By GIL A. COWAN
 Of The Evening News Staff

"Ten Years Ago Today"—a little feature found on the magazine page of The Glendale Evening News each day—teems with interest for the older residents of this city who remember when...

This writer well remembers many of the incidents, having reported them, and let it be said that Glendale had almost as much excitement in "them good old days" as it has now. There were mysteries, murders, civic problems and social events much the same as those today.

Ten years ago this week, for instance, according to file of The Glendale Evening News, the mysterious disappearance of one William Smith had been solved. He was found wandering in the streets of Los Angeles. And the murderer George Nash, a Calabasas rancher, had just been revealed in the finding of his bones after a six-year search.

The fight for an independent postoffice was in its first flush ten years ago—petitions being signed and sent to Postmaster General Burleson at that early date. State Railroad Commissioner J. M. Eshelman, now deceased, was in the city hearing the proceedings prior to the purchase of the local water system by the municipality, one of the most stirring problems of the day.

Held Spellings Bee

The Tuesday Afternoon club was sponsoring a spelling bee, Mrs. J. Herbert Smith entertaining the occasion. Bridge Luncheon club, Miss Gary E. Foy, speaking before the Parent-Teacher association and so on.

Roy Knabenshue, who had been piloting a passenger balloon from Pasadena to Griffith Park over Glendale, announced that he was giving up the experiment. J. P. MacGowan, motion picture director for the Kalem hazard serials, had just purchased a racing car. In addition to the picture industry many poultry ranches were located in Glendale vicinity, according to the classified ads. The fire and police departments had been reorganized with volunteers staying at fire station No. 1, and the only one then—all night.

Such was life in 1914.

WILL LECTURE ON HOLY LAND TRIP

Bible Student Will Speak at Public Meeting in Club Auditorium

Tuesday Afternoon club women are going to share their privileges of knowing and hearing Miss Winifred Rouzee, Bible student and lecturer, with all of Glendale tomorrow night, when Miss Rouzee will speak in the auditorium of the clubhouse under the auspices of the Bible department.

Mrs. Charles H. Temple, curator of the department, announces that there will be no admission charge, and that everyone in Glendale will be welcome.

Miss Rouzee will speak at 8 o'clock on her recent trip to the Holy Land, a lecture she gave early in the club year before the entire club. She is a forceful speaker and has a happy way of combining accounts of her travels with Bible teachings.

Viola Yorba, New Film Star, Sings on Radio

Miss Viola Yorba, noted Spanish singer and dancer, who is a daughter of the domo and restaurateur company at 604 North Kenwood street, was burglarized yesterday during the absence of the family. Entrance was gained by prying off a rear screen and forcing the window.

Mr. Webb discovered the burglary when he returned home at 8 o'clock. As far as is known now, the loot consists of several pieces of jewelry.

Foil Mutiny Threat Among Irish Forces

DUBLIN, March 10.—A threatened mutiny in Free State army was broken up by the government following search of the homes of a number of army officers.

The threats of mutiny were followed by government plans to reduce the size of the army.

INDEX TO CO-OPERATIVE DEPARTMENT

PAGE 3, SECTION 2 OF THIS ISSUE OF THE EVENING NEWS

Of course when you want to buy merchandise of any kind you are anxious to patronize a Glendale dealer. When you wish to employ professional skill it is your desire to secure a local man. When repair work is needed it is to your advantage to have the work done by mechanics near home.

The object of this index column is to refer you to the CO-OPERATIVE DEPARTMENT on Page 4, Section 1, of this issue, where you will find listed a large number of merchants, tradesmen and professional men who are real boosters for Glendale. While the Community Loyalty Section will appear in The Evening News one day every week, yet readers are advised to cut it out and hold it for reference for the purpose of ascertaining names and locations of business firms in Glendale.

Oakmont Club Will Stage Its Formal Opening Mar. 15

Members have received announcements that the formal opening of the Oakmont Country Club will be Saturday night, March 15, from 7 to 12 o'clock. The clubhouse will be open to the public on Sunday afternoon, March 16, from 11 to 5 o'clock, states H. M. Parker, general manager.

The Saturday night affair will be semi-formal, for members only, with a dinner, dance and entertainment. Owing to the belief that the majority of members will wish to attend, reservations have been limited to two for each member, Mr. Parker states. No reservations will be accepted after March 12. Checks for the same should be forwarded at once to A. R. Eastman, secretary of the club, at the rate of $3.50 per cover.

Elmer Holland, formerly of the Hillcrest Country Club, has been employed as golf professional at the Oakmont Country Club and will be available to members after March 15, Mr. Parker announces.

OUTLINES PLAN TO AID SERVICE MEN AND WOMEN

Central Legion Headquarters to Cut Duplication in Relief Work

The very praiseworthy project being worked out by the Los Angeles County Council of the American Legion, whereby ex-service men and women will be served by the various county post and auxiliaries from a central headquarters in Los Angeles, is outlined by Mrs. Margaret Kaeding, president of the Glendale American Legion Women's Auxiliary, treasurer of the Los Angeles county council, and appointed at the council meeting recently as a committee to work with a legion committee on establishing such headquarters.

Avoid Duplication

Mrs. Kaeding states that such headquarters would put the work of the legion posts and auxiliaries on a sounder basis and absolutely do away with duplication of aid given ex-service men and women. It is the plan to have the headquarters located in Los Angeles with a general manager and secretary in charge. These officers will hear the pleas for aid and will give assistance as the cases merit.

The Glendale auxiliary has gone on record as favoring such a project, and according to Mrs. Kaeding, the greater number of legion organizations in the county have done likewise.

Name Budget Committee

To further the plan the men's county council appointed a budget committee, and Mrs. Anna Terhune, president of the women's standing at the curb, being committed to Mrs. M. J. Brown of Los Angeles, chairman; Mrs. Ruth Vedder of South Pasadena, chairman of hospitalization for the southern section of the state auxiliary; and Mrs. Margaret Kaeding, of Glendale.

That the county council is doing a wonderful work is shown by the pledge of $1200 a year, recently made by the federation of women's clubs. This is just one evidence of the great possibilities of the future if central headquarters are established and efficient officers put in charge, Mrs. Kaeding declared.

Crashes Into Auto Drunk Charge Filed

W. R. Powell of 5123 Alameda drive, Los Angeles, was arrested Saturday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock by Officer McLean on a charge of driving while intoxicated, following a collision at 1127 East Wilson avenue.

Powell drove his car into a machine standing at the curb, belonging to Ethel B. Land, 605 North Maryland street. At headquarters he was pronounced intoxicated by Dr. G. Kaemmerling.

Clyde Newman of 224 West Fourteenth street, Los Angeles, who was slightly injured in the mix-up, was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. Powell was later released on $500 bond for appearance before Judge F. H. Lowe today.

$10 FOR HIS TALK

The police were informed Saturday afternoon by the manager of Ralph's store on West Broadway that a short change artist had just "done" the cashier there out of $10. He was described as being about 170 pounds, wearing a dark suit and a grey hat. He was reported to be a very smooth talker.

PARIS, March 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Fritz have returned to Paris to do their shopping. After an absence of nearly ten years, that is since 1914, German buyers are coming back in great numbers to purchase pretty things in the rue de la Paix.

The German buyers are taking French textures of every kind and jewelry, besides placing important orders for France's famous wines. One clothing firm, so "Le Matin" affirms, recently sent one of its salesmen to Germany on a Friday and to recall him on the next Tuesday, or the entire firm would have been sold out.

Unable to kill himself with nine stabs of a knife, a poor laborer, of Huesca, tired of life, succeeded in drowning his sorrows in a great wine cask containing nearly 1,000 gallons of the sparkling fluid.

"Yes, We Have No Bananas Today" lulled Jules Tantot in his everlasting sleep in Amiens last week. Tantot was the director of two important cinema and a music hall and had specified in his last will and testament that the town band, to which he left a considerable sum, should play the latest and gayest hits of the season at his funeral. So the musicians struck up "Yes, We Have No Bananas Today" as the funeral procession marched through the streets. The deceased, who left a fortune of more than 3,000,000 francs, ordered a coffin of plain white wood and a third-class funeral, without flowers.

You may talk while you dance now and still be considered very correct. For the last few years conversational dancing has been taboo. First it was the rhythmic languor of the tango which made it well nigh impossible to have words with a partner. Then came the war, with so many foreigners dancing together that the only possible way to understand each other was not to say a word. The recent invasion of jazz brought the last blow. But recently things have changed. The Queen of Norway, who is one of the best dancers in Europe, passed her holidays in England, where she spent some little time doing the shimmy and the "Blues."

Dinner Stories

A certain Judge Smith sat on the circuit bench in Missouri many years ago. He was known far and wide as one of the most patient and long-suffering judges in the state. For one of his court was free and easy, and gross, indeed, was the offense if it called forth a rebuke from Judge Smith. On one case it is told that the opposing lawyers settled down to their arguments before the jury without any time limitations and with a bountiful supply of chewing tobacco. While one argued the other one chewed, and while the second one talked the first caught up with his chewing. Two lawyers talked from 8 o'clock one morning until past 6 o'clock that afternoon. The jury thought patiently and the judge alternately slept and read. At last, however, the lawyers announced that they were through with their pleadings.

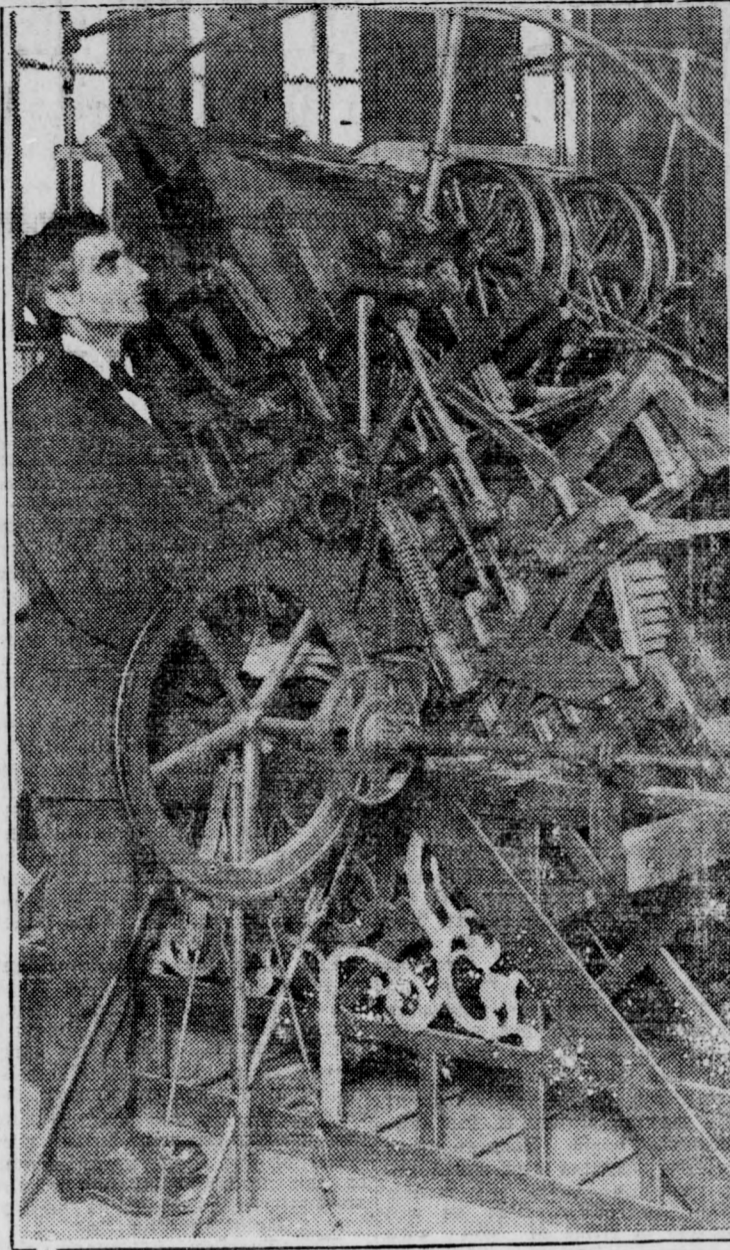

Harold was late for Sunday school and the well meaning minister kindly inquired the cause. "I was going fishing, but father wouldn't let me," explained the boy. "That's the right kind of father to have," replied the reverend gentleman. "Did he explain the reason why he would not let you go?" "Yes, sir. He said there wasn't bait enough for two."

"Dick proposed to me last night," Marjorie announced, excitedly. "Oh! Did he?" exclaimed Virginia. "Yes, and I just adore Dick! He's so handsome!" "And did you accept him?" Virginia queried. "Are you engaged?" Marjorie replied. "That's the sad part of it. Dick is just the most wonderful person on earth, but I had to tell him that I just couldn't be engaged to him right away. Why, it will take me at least a week to break off the engagement I have with Tom!"

Mrs. Jones is quite sure she has the most stubborn husband in the world. She told Mrs. Smith as much the other day. "He can't be any more stubborn than mine," Mrs. Smith replied. "Oh, yes, I'm sure he must be. Yesterday I had an engagement to meet him at 3 o'clock."

"Well, it was nearly 4:30 when the singing in the Sistine Chapel. "Yes, We Have No Bananas Today" lulled Jules Tantot in his everlasting sleep in Amiens last week. SAYS DREAM INSPIRED MACHINE Another Perpetual Motion Machine Invented

Richard Uram and his new "perpetual motion" machine

Seventeen years ago his mother appeared to him in a dream and explained to him to be the inventor of a perpetual motion machine. The machine, which is now showing the result of his years of study and labor, it swings back and forth like a pendulum, resting on a strip of steel instead of an axle in a socket. The motion of the machine isn't perpetual yet. Uram avows it is "right in principle, but wrong mechanically."

GOVERNMENT TRYING TO CHECK EXPLOITATION OF INDIAN TRIBES, SAYS COMMISSIONER.

Commenting on revelations of wretched conditions among the nation's Indian wards in Oklahoma, Charles H. Burke, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, said recently that the government is trying to check exploitation of the Indians of the five civilized tribes. His bureau has been aware of conditions in Oklahoma for some time, and he said: "Legislation that will stop the wholesale mismanagement and prevent unconscionable attorney fees is contemplated."

"We have realized," the Commissioner continued, "that some change in existing law with reference to restricted estates in Oklahoma is needed and at the proper time we will bring the matter to the attention of Congress. Mr. Burke said the bureau had supervision over all Indian estates in Oklahoma except those of the Five Civilized Tribes, and in cases of large restricted Indian estates the owners are declared incompetent and guardians appointed by the state. "We feel," Mr. Burke declared, "that the department ought to have more control than at present and instead of turning over funds to guardians we believe they could better be disbursed through the instrumentality of the government. "Conditions complained of," he said, "do not meet the approval of the good people of the state and state bar." He called attention to a recent report of the state bar association, which stated:

"The general turmoil existing in the state and the constant plundering of public funds by those who consider their certificate of election a license to take everything in sight; the dissipation of estates by the appointment of one or more guardians or administrators without business experience and wholly incapable of handling business affairs. . . . and the appointment by the court of two or more attorneys on fat salaries to aid these guardians and administrators in the faithful, proficient performance of their duty" and to keep their clients at large while the widows orphans and wards go hungry and poorly clad causes one to wonder why he should die and leave an estate in Oklahoma. The depressing effect of these conditions in this state are apparent to all but the faithful and lucky ones.

"It is to be hoped that present conditions in our state may soon be regarded as unpleasant history to which none will care to refer, and that when we meet again we may point with pride to a state of prosperity and happiness."

CLOCKS NOT ALL AT 8:22 There is no real uniformity in picture clocks always showing the hands at 8:22, according to a New England addict of curious research, who has come forward with a tabulation to prove his statement. He studied, in all, 1516 different pictures of clocks in books of reading, in catalogues and from signs hung by jewelers. He found only two in that number with the hands at 8:22 and eighty-eight of them ranged from 8:15 to 8:35, while the remaining 1426 showed a great variety of time outside of that segment.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE MARSHMALLOWS Uncle Wiggily was hopping past a candy store one day when he happened to see in the window a shiny brass tray filled with white, soft, fluffy marshmallow candies. "Oh, ho!" laughed the rabbit gentleman to himself, at the same time slyly twinkling his pink nose. "Nurse Jane is very fond of marshmallow candies. I shall take some home to her and she will be so pleased that she will give me a fine supper of boiled carrots."

So Mr. Longears hopped into the candy store. A dear little old cat lady was waiting behind the counter. She was waiting for customers to come in. "Are those marshmallow candies fresh?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Oh, ho!" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Nurse Jane is very fond of marshmallow candies. I shall take some home to her and she will be so pleased that she will give me a fine supper of boiled carrots."

Greedy the Wolf chewed them.

"Indeed they have!" said the cat lady. She reached over with her paw and touched one of the candies on the brass tray. Then, with her paw she lightly tapped Uncle Wiggily on his pink nose. "Now look in the glass!" whispered the cat lady.

Uncle Wiggily glanced toward a mirror. Lo and behold! His nose was no longer pink—it was white. Then the bunny rabbit gentleman put his paw up to his white nose, and some powder came off on his paw. He tasted this powder on his pink tongue. The powder was sweet.

"Now, you know," said the cat lady, "that there is white, sweet, powdery sugar on my marshmallow candies."

"Yes, I know," laughed Uncle Wiggily. He wiped his pink nose on his coat sleeve until it was pink again—I mean until his nose was pink. Then he bought a pound of the marshmallow candies for Nurse Jane.

Hopping to his hollow stump bungalow with the sweets, Uncle Wiggily met Sammie Littletail, the rabbit boy.

"Hello, Sammie!" greeted Mr. Longears. "Do you like candy?" "Oh, don't I just, though!" said Sammie.

"Well, here are some marshmallows for you. But be sure to give your sister Susie some," spoke Uncle Wiggily. Opening the package he had bought for Nurse Jane he gave Sammie a pawful of the candies. For well Uncle Wiggily knew that his muskrat lady housekeeper would want him to be kind and generous.

"Oh, thank you!" cried Sammie, and he hopped along very quickly with the white, soft, fluffy marshmallows that looked like little snowballs.

"Don't forget to give some to Susie!" called Uncle Wiggily, who had to hop much more slowly on account of the rheumatism in his left hind leg.

"I'll remember," promised Sammie. A little while after this as he neared the home of the Littletail family, Uncle Wiggily was surprised to see Sammie and Susie standing near a snowbank. Susie was crying and Sammie looked rather ashamed of himself.

"What's the matter, Susie?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Did you freeze one of your ears?" "Oh, no Uncle Wiggily," sobbed Susie. "I'm not crying for that. But Sammie—he—he—now he made me eat a lot of snow."

"Sammie made you eat a lot of snow?" cried the bunny gentleman. "How did that happen, pray tell?"

"He had some white marshmallow candies," went on Susie. "He asked me if I wanted one and I said 'yes' and he gave me what I thought was a candy, but it was a little white snowball that looked just like a marshmallow, and I chewed on it and it made my tooth ache, and—boo-hoo, oh, boo-hoo!" Susie cried again.

"Aw, I didn't mean to do it!" said Sammie. "I wanted to see if I could fool her with a little snowball instead of a candy."

"Well, you did fool me!" cried Susie. "He won't do it again, I'm sure."

TUJUNGA PUSH PLANS FOR SCHOOL BUILDING

Parents of First and Second Grade Pupils Ask for New Structure

Acting upon the request incorporated in a petition, which was signed by the parents of thirty-four first and second grade children, the Tujunga district school trustees are making plans to establish a school building to accommodate the small children on property on Palm street. The district has owned this property for some time, in anticipation of the time when the increased population would demand more room for school children. That time seems to have arrived and the trustees hope to have the building ready for the opening of the school term.

This school will be for the smaller children of the west end of Tujunga, who find the trip to the El Centro street school each day too strenuous for them. In establishing the Palm street school the trustees are carrying out an agreement they made several months ago, to the effect that a branch would be placed here whenever a sufficient number of pupils needed it.

The second of a series of entertainments for the purpose of raising funds to buy seats for the Tujunga school auditorium was given at the school Friday night. Included in the program were a folk dance by boys of the fifth grade; vocal solo by A. H. Layton of the Gates street school, Los Angeles; Russian folk dance, by Clara Stolzenberger and Joyce Middleton; instrumental duet, Mrs. E. W. Schoch and Mrs. A. Adams; minuet, Jane Farrell and Tommy Greer; vocal duet, Frank, Bobby Farrell, Leo Wiggins, Louise Greer and Harold Harrison.

New Directory

A new telephone directory, which will include all the recent changes made in numbers, is just off the press and will be distributed this week by the Sunland telephone company. The number of subscribers has increased one hundred per cent in the last few months and with the new exchange and line improvements completed applications for instruments are being received readily. The company employs eight operators at the present time and maintains continuous service.

A committee of members of the Tujunga Woman's club, consisting of Mrs. Mark White, Mrs. Anthe Bell, Mrs. Dan Warnick, Mrs. Anna Kinder and Mrs. Nelson E. Jones, will proceed with the building plans for the club's new building to be erected on El Centro street north of the El Centro street school. The clubhouse will be built in units, the first to provide an assembly room and kitchen. The outside finish is planned so that the final finish can be of stucco.

Numerous offers of furniture were made by members and friends of the club. The building a permanent home for the club the objective toward which the members have been driving several years, since the club started with but a few members. Funds for the building have been raised mostly through cooked food sales held by the members.

Los Angeles street and Palm avenue are being graded and graded with crushed rock and oil by the county road crew. These streets are the first of several that will be improved during the next few weeks by the county, according to recommendations made by the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce ad hoc committee.

Singing Tunes

A party of Tujunga Kiwanis club members attended the charity presentation night at Huntington Park and participated in the ceremonies. The party included A. J. Scribner, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. McDonald, Leo Smith, J. V. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Over and M. E. Morgan. Two songs, written by Tujunga members, were sung, among others, at the banquet. A. J. Scribner and "Radio" Smith are the authors of the verses, which are being set to the tunes of "Turkey in the Straw" and "Hot Time in the Old Town." The songs are: "Sing to the tune of 'Hot Time in the Old Town.'" "Hail! Hail! Tujunga welcomes you." "Hail! Hail! Kiwanians tried and true." "Huntington Park, on this, your charter night." "It will be a hot time in the old town tonight, my baby." "I'll never want to go back to Huntington Park on this, your charter night." "There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight, my baby."

Refrain

Tujunga is the place, don't forget, it's the best little town in the U. S. A.

If you want to get a home, you'd like to settle down, take a look at our home town. It'll never want to go back to Huntington Park on this, your charter night. That's a fact.

BURBANK FIX C. C. BUDGET FOR FISCAL YEAR

Committee Reports $16,000 Needed to Carry on Civic Service

Not less than $16,000 will be required by the Burbank Chamber of Commerce to carry on its work for the coming fiscal year, according to the report of the budget committee, accepted at the last meeting.

Of this sum, $6,000 goes into the general fund, covering salaries, rent and supplies. The remaining $10,000 recommended will become a service fund, to carry on the chamber's advertising and cooperative work. Of this $10,000, a fund of $4,000 will be set aside to be expended in the effort to bring new industries to Burbank, it was brought out, and 10 per cent or $1,000 will be turned over to the Women's club for philanthropic purposes.

Advertising will be extensively engaged in during the year, says Manager J. W. Charleville of the C. C., "at least eight of the principal trade journals of the country being utilized, under the present plans.

Prayer For Missions

Friday, March 7, was a day of prayer for missions, the missionary societies of all churches in the city uniting. An all-day meeting was held at the Presbyterian church, with a lunch at noon.

The morning session was presided over by Mrs. G. H. Crafts, president of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church. Mrs. Helen Ehrhardt, president of the Presbyterian W. H. M. S., presided over the afternoon session.

Mrs. Fred E. Hagin of 634 North Howard street, Glendale, spoke at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon a returned Baptist missionary from China, Mrs. Bradshaw, delivered a message. John Bierma, a representative of the church, also spoke at the afternoon session.

SAVANT REVEALS DESERT'S CHARMS

Prof. Cookman Tells Lure of Studying Denizens of Barren Regions

It is at an elevation of at least 2500 feet. In other words, it is at the bottom of a basin, the lowest point in whose rim is at least 2500 feet above sea-level. Approximately 124 species of birds have been recorded as occurring within the confines of these two mountain chains. The valley is about 110 miles long and 30 miles wide. Many sad tales have come to us from prospectors who have ventured into Death Valley. They have discovered human bones in the sand, empty canteens, dead horses and mules.

Explains Mirage

The most common illusion of the desert is the water mirage that is caused by reflection, not refraction. An inexperienced wanderer through the desert would exclaim "Water over wonder—look, it is a lake!" "No, my young man, you do not see a lake. There is no water over there." Water lying in some selected area outside of the desert reflects its image in the thin strata of air over it; and what the eye actually sees in this desert picture is the reflection of the sky not from water but from strata of thick air. Every feature of the water mirage is attractive. A mirage is only an illusion. It is one of nature's veillings which she puts on or off. It is one of the desert's most charming features of its strange light and its soft glowing opaline color.

The desert's secrets of life and death and death are not to be read at a glance. The condition in which living things exist is a unique problem in biology. Life in the desert is no better or worse in the mountains or by the seashore, just different—that's all.

COMMENT That's All

'Business as Usual' Children and Schools 'The Better Classes' Cost of Education

By Gil A. Cowan

Few people realize, unless they have had similar experience, the task it is to rebuild a newspaper plant and maintain business as usual. The Glendale Evening News for the present is in the throes of growing pains.

Not only is the building in which the plant is housed being enlarged to give double the floor space, but additional equipment more valuable than the building is being installed. And in another month we will be able to invite you into the most modern and best equipped newspaper publishing plant to be found outside of the largest cities.

From a mechanical standpoint nothing is being left undone to make the Glendale Evening News equal to any and better than most suburban daily newspapers. Absolutely new equipment will be used by the manufacturers as models of efficiency is being installed. Even today many people are to be seen watching the additions being made in the spacious new press room at the rear. For instance, there is a 60-horsepower motor being installed; a tubular Duplex printing press in course of erection; the latest stereotype equipment being placed, but that is only part of the story.

In the basement the most model locker rooms for the employees and carrier boys' room are located. A built-in truck loading and unloading room, a special smelting room, a paper deck to accommodate two carloads of newsprint, as well as additional composing room space already are available. Another month will see many changes in the front where the business offices and editorial rooms will be located, but for the time being things are a bit torn up.

And, while we are in this unsettled state, we shall permit other writers to do some deep thinking for us. Children and schools are lively topics in this home city, so we take liberty of quoting the editor of the Fresno Republican on the subject of "Better Classes and Children":

"A professor of zoology extends his operations into the field of human eugenics by declaring that race is deteriorating by the fact that our 'better classes' do not produce children enough and our poorer classes produce too many children.

"We wish the means by which such gentlemen get attention would include, some figures to show that their opinions are well founded. We think they are in fact untrue.

"We do not hold that poverty can produce better men and women. But neither has there been any showing that better men and women are produced from the wealthier 'upper classes'.

"Better bodies and better minds go together, usually. But only if they are also reinforced with better 'souls.' And wealth too often does not produce better souls.

"And any observation that supposes that cultural advance produces the only capable leadership in communities or nations has been too often contradicted by permit of our glorifying our 'intelligent' classes as affording a dividing line between approved and unworthy producers of children.

LA CRESCENTA CAPACITY HOUSE GREET'S PLAYERS

'Standing Room Only' Sign At Community Show Last Night

It was most gratifying to those who had rehearsed for the past few weeks to make "Si Slocum's Country Store", a success, to know that seventy-five people were turned away at the gates the first night. Standing room was insisted on by a large number, and so they stood.

The "Kiddies" enjoyed every bit of the clean country comedy. The play was preceded by a play, let "Silent System" by Miss Marie Walsh and Edwin Murphy of Glendale.

Miss Walsh has given many evenings for the past few weeks training the cast so they could put on a finished play.

Dr. Renison of Eagle Rock held the first of the Lenten series of spiritual healing meetings at the home of Mrs. C. E. Culbertson. A large number were in attendance and were very much interested in the teachings. The next meeting will be held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Virna Walker, 136 Prospect avenue with the exception of the second Tuesday in the month, these meetings will be held on Wednesday of each week.

Mrs. J. S. Conlin, her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of Chicago, enjoyed a week end trip to Palma.

The county road workers are busy on the culverts preparatory to opening up and paving Monroe avenue from Ocean View to Pennsylvania avenue. This work was promised the Improvement association last fall, and the residents along the road have been anxiously awaiting the day the work would begin.

The sick members of the Pro family are reported to be progressing nicely. Mrs. Foy was unable to take her part in the play given last night on account of the illness of her family.

Mr. Blanford, principal of the local schools, has purchased a lot in the DeLuxe addition which adjoins the Los Angeles avenue school and is erecting a modern bungalow.

Loyal Citizens Support Local Business Concerns

When you buy merchandise in Glendale, Mr. Glendale Citizen, you get more for your money than the actual value of the goods you buy.

When you spend $10 in Glendale stores you get $10 worth of merchandise, $10 worth of civic pride, $10 in Community wealth and prosperity and maybe $100 or $1000 in civic improvements which add to the value of your own personal holdings in Glendale.

The man who is actually loyal to the Community considers it a sacred duty to keep as much of his money as possible at home; he takes a pride in being able to help advance the interests of the Community by supporting local business concerns. If he is ever so superficial an analyst he knows his money, when spent in Glendale, adds to the Community wealth and prosperity and advances its progress, and he is proud of the privilege and opportunity of helping in this way. He knows that when he spends his money out of town it goes out of circulation so far as Glendale is concerned, and the reverse is true when he spends it in the home Community.

Spent in Glendale, his money goes on day after day, aiding Community projects and interests for an unlimited period; it goes on making Glendale richer and a more desirable place in which to live.

That's one nice thing about this $10 bill spent in Glendale. It doesn't stop with the merchant with whom you spend it. It keeps on buying $10 worth of merchandise, $10 worth of civic pride and so on day after day, or until some disloyal person takes it out of town and it is lost to Glendale forever.

So there is something more than the old appeal to "help the home merchant," in this matter of buying in Glendale. It involves the question of Community Loyalty, Community Pride and Community Development.

The advertisers on this page are doing what they can to promote the growth of Glendale in all its phases, and they recognize the truth that Community Loyalty is one of the essentials in working for a Greater Glendale.

BALDNESS—No. 1

When I told a nude-headed friend recently that I was planning to write about baldness, he exclaimed: "Good heavens! If you can do as much for baldness as you are doing for the overweighters, you will have the world kneeling at your feet!"

But, alas, he was thinking of his own particular type of baldness, the baldness that comes with advancing years; and according to all my studies, after that is established no power on earth or heaven is able to remedy it.

However, there are certain types of baldness that are curable and I am going to tell you how to prevent it. I believe I can do that, and that is a whole lot, isn't it? So, please begin your knee bending.

Before I take up baldness, I want to tell you a little about the structure of the skin and I can best do that by a diagrammatic sketch:

The skin is composed of two parts—the outer, called the epidermis or cuticle, and under this the dermis or cutis vera (true skin). The epidermis is composed of four layers of cells. The top layer is a scaly or horny layer and is the thickest part of the epidermis. It is especially thick on the palms and the soles. The skin grows by the multiplication of the cells underneath the horny layer, and the new cells push towards the surface and grow horny and flattened as they do so. The epidermis has no blood vessels, but it does have many nerves.

The dermis, or true skin, is composed of dense fibrous tissue, which passes gradually into the fibrous and fat tissue, the subcutaneous tissue, below it. The upper layer of the dermis is filled

FOR RIDGY NAILS

One of the most unsightly things that can trouble the hand is a series of little flutes or ridges running down each nail. There is an excellent formula for treating this condition when it has become aggravated, which I find surprisingly few people know about. Even professional manicurists have rarely heard about it, and I only found one who kept this ointment in stock. It is so cheap and so easy to make that I am giving the formula.

Cream for Ridgy Nails

Table salt 30 grains
Powdered Resin 30 grains
Powdered Alum 30 grains
White wax 80 grains
Almond oil 1/2 ounce

Melt the wax and the resin, stirring gently, and heating only enough so the two blend. Add the oil which should be warm, the salt and the alum, stir together and pour off into a jar and let it cool. Apply to the nails three times a week, using a piece of absorbent cotton. And just one precaution: In making up this or any other beauty formula use absolutely clean porcelain lined saucers and stir with a glass, porcelain or silver spoon. Do not, of course, use a glass spoon for hot things. Ridgy or fluted nails are generally due to ill health or to the lack of something in the system. Brittle nails, for instance, are due to lack of lime. Your family doctor can always give you a simple tonic to supply this lack. Ridgy nails respond to treatment with all if the conditions are not very bad. Smearing the nails and fingers with cold cream when you massage the face is a quick and easy way of treating them. If the ridges are very bad, rub them down lightly once a week with a very fine bit of pumice stone. Polish till you have polished off the scratches, rub thoroughly with olive oil. Rub with oil every night.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

LOVE AT FIFTY

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a man fifty years of age. Having been married twice and in love again I would like a few pointers on how to keep a woman from leaving me.

My first wife went to dances and I objected. She told me if I gave her the furniture, she would not live with me another day, and she didn't. After our divorce I married again. This wife sued me for divorce and half of what I made. She got the divorce, but no money.

Now I am contemplating marriage again. I try to provide for a wife, stay home nights and take care of her the best I can.

Tell me what is wrong.

Perhaps you want to stay at home too much, and try to force your tastes on your wife. Neither your husband nor the wife ought to dominate after marriage. Each should give the other freedom of living. Of course if happiness results from the union each should love the other enough to make sacrifices and concessions. It is also well for the man to give his wife an allowance every pay day. Nothing is more humiliating to a woman than the necessity of asking for money. After giving

HE TOLD THE TRUTH

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My boy friend invited me to a dance and the night of the dance he didn't come after me. The next day he telephoned and said he had completely forgotten about the dance and only remembered when a friend of his asked him why he wasn't there. He said he was dreadfully sorry and asked me to forgive him. I was hurt naturally and I said I would have to think it over. He said he would call me later to find out what I decided, because he felt very badly and really wanted me for a friend. What would you advise me to do?

GERTRUDE.

DR. CAROLINE HEDGER, of the Elizabeth McCormick Foundation, Chicago, recently denounced the listless languor which she said is so apparent in the girl of today and which she termed the "debutante crouch."

She declared the girl of today is becoming "skinny because fashion has upset the center of gravity in their bodies."

"Such girls are not fashionable, although they imagine they are to the last detail," said Dr. Hedger. "They are simply deformed and are to a certain extent ruining their health by such antics."

"If a girl is inclined to plumpness why should she torture herself to attain this so-called willowy form? Fashions of today are not decreed with any thought of benefiting the present generation's health, but merely for the commercial gain."

She advised young girls to eat boiled cabbage, string beans, spinach and lettuce three times a day, use plenty of soap applied with lots of elbow grease and drink three pints of water a day.

AGE NO BARRIER

Vladimir de Pachmann, beloved by some to be even a greater pianist than Pederevsky, and certainly the greatest clown of the classic music stage, although seventy-five years of age, has within the last few years worked out a change of technique in playing. This change in his method of playing has to do with the style of fingering and he undertook it at the advanced age of more than seventy years, after having had a life of success. De Pachmann is a character in the classic music world because he interpolates his playing with clownish remarks.

when the bunch started to leave the courtroom he shook his fists under the old fellow's nose and snarled: "I'll law you to the circuit court."

"Do it," replied the gratified winner, "go ahead 'n' do it. I'll be thar!"

"An' I'll law you to the supreme court," shouted the incensed loser.

"All right," said the old chap, "I'll be thar!"

"An' if I don't get you in the supreme court, I'll law you to hell." The old boy came right back. "Do it," he retorted; "my attorney'll be thar!"

WAR RECORDS DO NOT SAVE GUILTY

Federal Judge Refuses to Give Probation in Bootlegging

SACRAMENTO, March 10.—Confronted with the cases of several hundred alleged bootleggers, Federal Judge John S. Partridge said today that "never in the history of the world has there been as widespread disregard for law as there is in the matter of prohibition. Not only disregard, but contempt."

Previous honorable war records of bootleggers will be given consideration no longer in passing sentence, the judge said.

"Heretofore I have always given consideration to the fact that a man had been in service in France," the court explained. "I believe the things they fought for are worth upholding the law for."

The pronouncement accompanied refusal by the federal judge to modify sentence in the case of Steve Skandalis of Marysville, who was fined $500 and sentenced to thirty days in jail. Counsel for Skandalis offered in evidence the honorable discharge of the prisoner showing that he had served faithfully at the front and had been gassed.

Judge Partridge further declared that he believed the large majority of former service men were upholding the law and that they agreed with him that it was worth upholding.

Bury Electric Chair Victims Alive, Claim

BERLIN, March 10.—"Electric shocks do not kill men."

"Numerous persons 'executed' in the electric chair have not actually been killed, but only brought into a state of death-like stiffness, with all the symptoms of death. Thus it has been assumed that several hundreds of criminals and others accidentally 'killed' by an electric shock have been buried alive."

This is the declaration of Professor Jellinek, director of the Vienna Electro-Pathological Institute, who asserts he proved it by restoring the life of several persons decreed dead by other doctors.

Vienna experts, professors of Vienna university, are at present investigating the sensational theory.

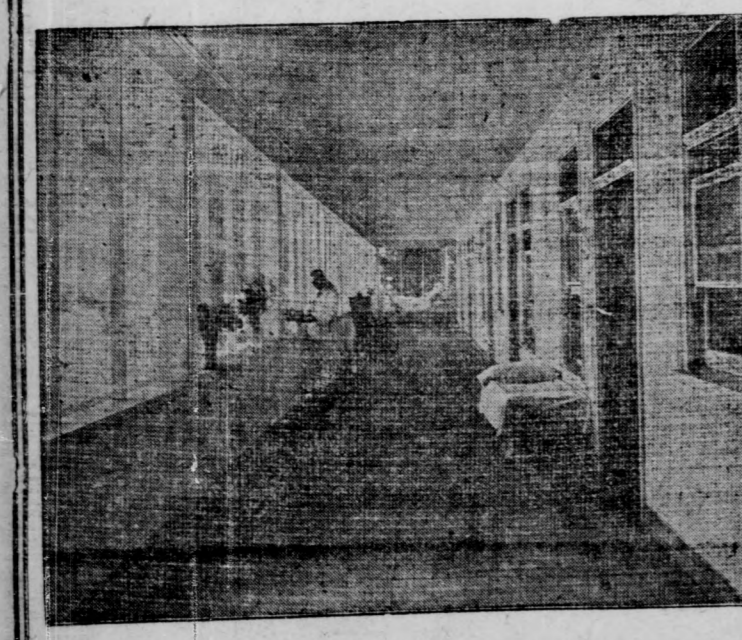

Irish Prison Ship Is Target of Criticism

DUBLIN, Mar. 10.—Revival of the prison ship in Ireland has evoked a bitter protest by Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, who charged political prisoners have been confined to a hulk in Belfast Lough under the most insanitary conditions.

"These men were held in conditions not far short of those inflicted on galley slaves," Cardinal Logue declared. "Their only crime was opposition to the partition of Ireland. If this justified internment, a fleet of hulks would not accommodate the culprits."

Hallowe'en observance is thought to be of pagan origin.

SAVIOR'S PASSION IS SERMON TOPIC

First Sunday in Lent Marked By Stirring Address By Rev. Kringle

A timely sermon in keeping with the spirit of the day, as yesterday was the first Sunday in Lent, was delivered by Rev. Henry C. Kringle pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, Sunday morning. Speaking on "Christ, Our High Priest," from Hebrews 4:15-16, he said:

"This first Sunday in Lent, the time which the Christian church has set aside for an earnest and prayerful contemplation of Christ's passion and death. The importance of Christ's passion is such that the time in which it is to be the constant subject of our thought has always been regarded by the church as holy ground. Today's sermon therefore centers our thoughts upon Christ's passion in advance. Not only does it do this, but it selects the most important point in regard to that passion, namely, Christ's intention, that is, His willingness, to suffer and die in our stead.

Brings Blessing

"That this willingness on the part of Christ was a matter of the utmost importance, needs little reflection. Suppose He would not have been willing; would His suffering and death have been an atonement for our sins? On the contrary it would have been the most terrible crime ever committed by man. Never in all eternity could anything else have followed therefrom, but endless woe. It is the willingness of Christ to suffer and die in our stead, that has turned the curse into a blessing, that has made Him our Redeemer, our Savior, and our High Priest. He is such a High Priest, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens, who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins and then for the people's; for this He did once, when He offered up Himself.

"His high priestly office He performed by fulfilling the law of God and giving Himself a ransom for sinners, and making intercession for us with strong pleas. Daily He stands before the Father pleading our cause.

Seek Christ's Help

"Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace to help in time of need. Jesus Christ is our throne of grace; it is His office, the very purpose for which He is set forth as our throne of grace, to grant grace to those who desire and see it. To this throne of grace we have free access.

"Every believing Christian is now free to come boldly unto His throne; for He has swallowed death in victory, in order that we might praise God with the words: 'Thanks be unto God who giveth unto the believers victory over sin, death, and the devil through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.'

Announce Lodge Cost

SANTA BARBARA, March 10.—Definite steps have been taken toward the erection of the long planned Elks' lodge. The building and finance committee reports that the building will cost $235,000 and will be two stories high, of Spanish architecture, with a tile roof and open balcony. Carl Werner of San Francisco is the architect.

The Elks have been working steadily toward a fine new home since 1921 and they now feel confident that they will begin to raise the walls of their home this year. In 1922 under the leadership of Dr. H. L. Spinnery as exalted ruler, the lodge sought sites and finally purchased the Rogers property at Figueroa and Chapala streets for $35,000. The building committee was appointed in July of that year and includes Alfred Edwards, J. B. Rickard, John W. Heaney, Homer Duffey, E. P. Dunn, W. L. Logan, T. H. Sentell, E. G. Dodge and Sam Stanwood.

To Live in Arcadia

ARCADIA, March 10.—Prince Eric of Denmark and his Canadian bride will spend the summer here. The princess, who was formerly Miss Lois Frances Booth of Ottawa, spent last winter with her mother at the Vista del Arroyo hotel, Pasadena. Mrs. Booth will be here probably next week to look over the new house for her daughter and to settle details for decorating and furnishing it. One carload of furniture has already arrived from Denmark and one from Canada. A shipment of motor cars is expected soon and it is said the young couple will also maintain a stable of horses.

The eight-acre estate at Arcadia was purchased by Mrs. Booth and her daughter when they were here a year ago. Last summer, J. C. Barrington, a Pasadena building contractor, was placed in charge of the property and has designed and built the house which is now practically completed. The residence, although not a pretentious one, is a very attractive two-story house of twelve rooms in the Spanish-Italian style, erected at a cost of about $20,000. The grounds are being highly improved with gardens and a swimming pool.

Links Ready Soon

MONROVIA, March 10.—Local golf fans will be playing on the club links by June 1, according to Edwin Skedden, manager of Norumbega Town and Country club. The rains of the past few days have helped greatly in finishing the preliminary work, said Mr. Skedden, and plans are going ahead splendidly. Nearly 200 members have already joined the club, the list growing steadily, two or three a day. The fairways and greens will be sown as soon as possible and the clubhouse started within a short time, speed the growing of the greens. Every effort will be made to speed the growing of the greens as it is desirable to have the course playable at an early date.

OLD TIME FAITH IS TODAY'S NEED

Religion Points Out Way to Spiritual Normalcy, Is Rasmus' Claim

"The Old-Time Religion. What is it?" was Dr. Henry I. Rasmus' topic at the First Methodist church yesterday morning. The text was Jeremiah 6:16: "Thus saith the Lord, 'stand ye in the ways and ask for the old paths, where is the good way and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls.'"

"For variety of illustration," said Dr. Rasmus, "the Bible has no equal. It treats of things seen and unseen, living and dead, large and small. In my text it compares religion to the path, the road, the highway. The empire of Rome first made great highways, and by means of them maintained her military supremacy. She built twenty-nine military highways, of which the Appian way was the most celebrated. Over this celebrated Appian way the great apostle, Paul, made his famous journey to Jerusalem. But not until nineteen centuries later were highways generally appreciated and built to any marked degree.

"In Jeremiah's time there were no well regulated highways but only paths. These were the paths over which the caravans of camels journeyed bearing their burdens of costly spices and Oriental products.

"This appeal of Jeremiah's was made in a period of great spiritual barrenness and distress. It came with the high authority of 'Thus saith the Lord, stand ye in the ways and ask for the old paths.' But they said, 'We will not walk therein.' This answer is tragic. It is the tragedy of any nation thus to forget God. That's the trouble with Europe today.

"We have just closed four weeks of special services and the messages, night after night, from the evangelists has been 'stand ye in the ways and ask for the old paths.' Some have entered into the experience of old-time religion, have heard the music of heaven. Some would have us believe that we have outgrown the old-time religion. Not so. Have we outgrown the stars whose brilliance has lighted the heavens of past ages? Have we outgrown the flowers of the fields that blossomed when the earth was young and have lost none of their fragrance or beauty? Men point with pride to lineage of the past; they go to the ends of the earth to collect antiques, but they would discard the old-fashioned religion of the Bible, the outgrowth of God, the wisdom of the ages.

"Spiritual normalcy is found only as people turn from sin to God. The Prodigal Son is a splendid example. When he came to himself, he said: 'I will arise and go to my father! This old-time religion is a straight path. For straight is the way and narrow is the gate that leadeth unto eternal life. When John the Baptist came his message was: 'Make his paths straight.' Old-time religion is a way of piety, a highway of holiness, not an impossible life, for neither God nor the

GIVES HIS VIEWS ON SCHOOL BOOKS

Recounts Lessons to Prove Theory Oregon Pupils Taught to Lie

Editor The Evening News: I want to say that I support the statements which your paper quoted me as saying, that the Oregon text-book taught children to lie, cheat and scheme, in spite of the protest made by one of your women readers. Let me say that my children and grandchildren were and are now being taught in the public schools of Oregon. I want also to say that in the last few years I have heard many teachers say that the lessons assigned to be taught were of such character that they could not conscientiously teach them, though they took the chance of losing their positions.

Upon hearing such statements, I thought such teachers were too skeptical, but after reading the books myself I learn that they had some reason for taking such an attitude. When the bill to vote out all private and sectarian schools came up for consideration I decided to read the books, and as the result became a staunch opponent of such legislation.

I protested against the measure in private, and also in public. I have large holdings in Oregon. I pay heavy taxes there. Our school system was good, but the text-books are bad, in my estimation, and I am therefore taking part in an agitation to secure a better series of text-books up to the eighth grade.

Better Books Here

Soon after reaching Glendale I visited the public schools, where I was treated kindly, and I read through all the readers in your schools from the first to the eighth grade. I very frankly told the principal of one of your schools that the books were better than the ones we have in Oregon. I then went to the high school and compared the physical geography taught there with some of the pages of the physical geography taught in Oregon, which I had with me. A finer work on the subject I have never seen. Then I visited the academy in your city, and the histories taught there were similar to those taught in the high school.

Going to San Diego, I had a long talk with a Catholic priest in his home and he said his schools use the same books they use in the public schools of California. I thought that spoke pretty well for the schools of California.

Since I have been called into question for the good work I am trying to do for Oregon, I beg the space to give some details substantiating my charges that the school books in that state teach children to lie, cheat and scheme. I must rely on my memory as I do not have the books with me. In the third reader is a story that goes something like this:

"A fox went to take a walk one night, and met a wolf. The wolf said, 'I'll eat you.' 'No,' said the fox, 'don't eat me. There is some cheese in a farmer's well, eat that.' 'I will show you where it is.' So they walked together to the well. The moon shone in the water. The fox said, 'I will go down and get the cheese.' 'No, I've left some for you. Just get in the bucket and come down.' As the wolf went down the fox came up, stepped out of the bucket and went home."

Points Story's Moral

Where is the moral? Lie, cheat and scheme to get ahead of the other fellow? Is that a fairy story? I see no fairy in it. I have heard mothers lie to their little innocent children who believed all the mothers said. When they say the ragman will get, and a hundred more lies during the day, the little ones soon learn to lie, and begin to tell similar lies. When the children tell lies the whole attitude changes; the mothers get indignant, and the children generally get a spanking.

In another Oregon text-book is a story about a baboon that lost its tail. He ran and ran north until he got tired and then lay down by a pond to sleep. His tail lay in the water, and the water froze during the night. His tail was frozen off, and that is why the baboon has no tail now. Other such stories could be related, but these will be sufficient to show what kind of text-books we have in Oregon.

G. S. PARMELE,
Angelus Hotel, San Diego, Calif.

church ever called anyone to that which is impossible, but to a beautiful, symmetrical life, holy and pure in God's sight and above reproach. Men and women in evproage and condition have lived just such lives. Full of fragrance and beauty, not in ideals wrought in the clouds but in deeds here on the earth. Solomon has added his testimony to such a life, 'but the path of the just is as the shiny light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.'

"Old-time religion embraces conviction, repentance, forgiveness, imparting of the life of God in the soul, holiness and growth. Old-time religion is good for any race, nation, people or individual."

WATER, HIGHWAY TRAFFIC AIDS R. R. BACTERIA KILLED BY CARBONIC GAS

By Developing All Means Of Transportation More Business Is Done

By W. F. SULLIVAN
For International News Service.

KANSAS CITY, March 10.—Railroads, contrary to a general belief, favor "rather than oppose" improvement and development of highways and waterways.

From an economic standpoint, L. W. Baldwin, president of the Missouri Pacific system, informs the public it is essential to develop all methods of transportation to the fullest in keeping with the "development of the nation that railroads today can give the best service.

In the improvement of all methods of transportation, railroads would be relieved of unnecessary congestion, which now exists. Where many commodities must be handled by railroads to their discomfort, Baldwin points out, they could be diverted through other channels if such channels were available.

Development and improvement of our water systems and highways would be a panacea for transportation ills, Baldwin says.

Fast Freight Preferred

If many commodities were carried to the markets by slower routes, without financial loss to shippers, the railroads would be freer to handle perishable products, which necessarily must be transported by the fastest means possible.

Philanthropy has not influenced the encouragement of the development of other means of transportation, but in the solution of a problem that has troubled the nation for the last few years the railroads are urging improvement of other channels in the hope that it would work out to a common good.

The public may appear justified in attacking railroad rates at times when they really work a hardship in a depressed market, but during such times the railroads defend themselves by saying that rates at all times must be based upon the cost of the service, or the carriers themselves would be the sufferers, and no one could ever accuse them of harming themselves knowingly.

It is during such periods of depression that shippers could avail themselves of cheaper rates through new, though possibly slower, channels to get their products to market, and a common good would result.

Livingston Delivers Two Sunday Sermons

Rev. J. C. Livingston, pastor of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church, addressed his congregation at both morning and evening services. The subject of the sermon at the morning service was "Knowing and Trusting." Special music numbers were an anthem, "Give Ear to My Words," by the choir, with solo parts by Mrs. Robert D. Jones and Miss Beatrice Sasse; contralto solo by Mrs. John W. Cotton.

"Easily content" was the subject of the evening sermon. Music

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Have you any bacteria? Scientists say all of us have flocks of them. Some are good, but lots of them are bad. And when the are bad, they are like the little girl with the curl; when she was good, she was very very good; but when she was bad—well, you know the rest.

So scientists have been on the lookout for a good fighting enemy to these bad bacteria. Something to make them just curl up and die.

Of course, bacteria are living things, and like all other living things, they get exceptionally active in the spring. Did you ever notice the prevalence of all kinds of germ diseases in the spring? The balmy weather seems to stimulate the bacteria, just as it does a young man's fancy.

Enemy of Germs

Well, now the scientists say they have found the enemy that will take all the activity out of these pesky germs—and it's something nice and pleasant to take. It is just plain soda water, or bottled carbonated beverages, to use its correct name.

Carbonic gas—the gas which puts the bubbles in bottled carbonated beverages—also makes them the safest to drink when there is danger of disease through impure water or beverages. Such is the word conveyed to the public by a paper prepared for the American Journal of Public Health.

Children Are Reading Better Books Now

SYRACUSE, March 10.—Children's reading today is far more wholesome than it has ever been before, according to Miss Doris Wise, head of the Syracuse library's children's department.

"The modern boy from the age of 10 years is reading such excellent things as are written by Mark Twain, Dumas, Kipling and Booth Tarkington. They are keen for adventure stories, especially those founded on fact. Both boys and girls today are demanding facts, which, I suppose, goes with the age.

"Another interesting thing is that girls from the age of 12 years insist upon mystery stories, although some girls read almost anything. It seems to me that girls choose from a wider range of literature than boys.

"Fairy tales are read up to the age of 10 years. It is ridiculous to think fairy tales are bad for children.

"We are trying to get books that tell a story and at the same time have educational value."

Shopping with Your Wife

Ouch! Some fellow has a backache already. Why so? It is not altogether because your wife is spending your money but just that you are standing too long in a comparatively motionless position. Change your position slightly and, presto! your back-ache is gone.

Think now. What have you done? The weight of your body in a standing-still position compresses the pads of cartilage between your vertebrae, thus temporarily allowing the nerves to be pinched where they emerge. Moving around, even though slightly, removes this pressure and brings relief.

Chronic impingement means chronic back-ache, which only Chiropractic adjustments will put right.
