THE ELECTION OF LYNCH.
His Success Was Anticipated, Says a London Correspondent.
(Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 22.—The London correspondent of the Tribune cables concerning the Galway elections as follows: "A victory for Col. Lynch was generally anticipated, but the plurality is greater than his supporters had expected. No much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Plunkett, the defeated candidate, in this morning's papers. His attitude in Galway was not sufficiently anti-Nationalist to secure for him the full Unionist vote. The government may not have sufficient evidence to show that Col. Lynch fought for the Boers, so that if he decides to disavow the testimony of his backers he may after all be able to act as a member of parliament."
The Figures.
Dublin, Nov. 22.—The result of the voting in Galway was as follows: Lynch, 1,247; Plunkett, 473.
Will Take His Seat.
(Special to the Times.)
Ottawa, Nov. 22.—John Redmond, M. P., was shown a dispatch this morning announcing the election of Col. Lynch in Galway. Col. Lynch was Redmond's candidate. The colonel fought on the Boer side in the war. Mr. Redmond does not see any reason why he should not take his seat.

MUST PAY TAX.
United States Coeffers Will Receive Over $361,000 From Heirs of the Late C. Vanderbilt.
(Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 22.—According to the World, heirs of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt must pay $361,833.43 in the coffers of the United States. This is the total of the inheritance tax fixed by the Federal government against the estate. The heirs have already been compelled to pay a state tax of $520,000. The legal expenses of fighting the tax, which has been carried into the higher courts of the state and nation, will bring the grand total up to $1,000,000.

ANOTHER VICTIM.
Conductor Injured in Santa Fe Railway Wreck in Dead.
(Associated Press.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 22.—Conductor R. H. Higgins, the eighth victim of the Santa Fe wreck in Arizona, is dead at the hospital. Those injured in the wreck are progressing favorably, and no more fatalities among them are expected. Concerning the probable loss to the road as a result of the smash up, a railroad man in this city gave it as his opinion that it would amount to $250,000.

THREATENING FIRES.
Packing House and Office of Armour & Co. at Huntington Destroyed.
(Associated Press.)
Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 22.—The packing house and office of Armour & Co. were totally destroyed by fire today. Over a score of box cars and the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad depot were badly damaged by the flames. The total loss is $500,000. The Armour plant is located along the river front in the center part of the city, and for a time the entire business district was threatened.

TELEGRAPH INVENTION.
(Associated Press.)
Boulder, Colo., Nov. 22.—Dr. Wm. Duane, professor of physics at the state university, has just been granted a patent for an invention by which a large number of telegraph messages can be sent over one wire at the same time. In the physical laboratory at the university it is said that he has had as many as 18 circuits working on the same wire. On any of these circuits the Morse instruments can be placed and read distinctly as with the single wire now in use. Dr. Duane's invention is based on the principle of synchronizing motors.

MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE.
(Associated Press.)
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 22.—A special to the Free Press from Ithaca, Mich., says: "Elmer Quimby, who was charged with the murder of Mrs. Quimby's children on the night of May 19th last, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by the jury last night. Mrs. Quimby's trial is now in progress."

Papers Relating to the Scheme Are Known to Exist in Skagway—Messages From North.

(Special to the Times.)
Ottawa, Nov. 22.—In connection with the alleged conspiracy to capture the Yukon, it is learned at the interior department that on the 21st of September last Comptroller Fred White was advised by Supt. Primrose, Dawson, of a report from Seattle that there was some scheme being concocted to seize Canadian territory in the Yukon. On the 25th Mr. White again received a message from Supt. Primrose saying that he was unable to confirm the report, although it was serious. On the 27th of September Supt. Primrose again wired that his previous cipher message referred to the disputed territory, Dalton trail, and that he was writing.

On October 7th Mr. White received again from Supt. Primrose the promised letter, in which he stated that he had been unable to confirm previous reports, which reminded him very much of some of the threats which were made in the earlier years in the Yukon. It appears that a man named H. Grehl had told another man at Dawson that he knew of a conspiracy that was going on to take place against the government, that Grehl had been shadowed by the police, and it was discovered that he had told several stories about himself, that he had been in Dawson about a month, that his conversation was to the effect that he belonged to a secret organization which intended to take possession of the Yukon territory, their plans being to run to White Horse, take the smaller detachments along the river, and then it would be an easy matter to capture the barracks at Dawson, that the organization had representatives at both Seattle and Skagway, that they expected to be assisted by men from Circle City and Eagle City, and that Grehl was known by a member of the Mounted Police as having been in the grocery business in Butte, Montana.

Nothing more was heard of the matter until November 4th, when Comptroller Fred White received the following telegram from Supt. Wood, Dawson: "Snider reports discovered whereabouts in Skagway of papers relating to conspiracy to seize territory. United States refuse to secure unless Snyder makes affidavits as to conspirators. This, of course, he can't. Am satisfied such conspiracy exists."
The police were also trying to locate a man named "Shorty," who had been mentioned as having knowledge of the conspiracy, but was thought to be somewhat crazy.

Cronje's Brother is Enlisting Men to Assist the British.
(Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 22.—According to the London correspondent of the Tribune, the Standard's South African correspondent is authority for the statement that General Andries Cronje, a brother of the famous Boer leader, now a prisoner in St. Helena, is among the ex-burghers who are enlisting men against the Boers, and who are taking up arms in favor of the British.

DISHONEST BOOKKEEPER.
Bank of Liverpool Will Probably Lose Over Eight Hundred Thousand Dollars.
(Associated Press.)
Liverpool, Nov. 22.—Great excitement was caused here today by the announcement that the Bank of Liverpool had been victimized by a trusted bookkeeper to the extent of hundreds of thousands of dollars. What the losses amount to is not yet known, but an official statement issued by the bank says that through the dishonesty and betting transactions of a bookkeeper they may lose $170,000 ($850,000).
Bank of Liverpool shares fell 1/2 on the stock exchange today. The defaulter has not yet been arrested.

PAUPERISM IN LONDON.
(Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 22.—According to the London correspondent of the Times, the industrial problems of the British metropolis are complicated by the increase of pauperism, the numbers of paupers in London, according to the report just issued, being 115 more than recorded in any report issued in the last eight years. The increase last year was nearly 4,500. The paupers thus enumerated are only those who have been relieved in the workhouse or by other means.

ACTORS AND AUDIENCES.

London Paper On Evils Resulting From Visits to America.
(Associated Press.)
London, Nov. 22.—The St. James's Gazette this afternoon repeats its assertion that English actors are "coarsened" in America and that "visits there are artistically detrimental to English actresses." The paper also says: "We fear there is no doubt about the matter. In the United States a less subtle and a more accentuated style of acting is necessary in order that a player may make his effects. The audiences like a less delicate and a noisier method. They are less quick to catch and appreciate the nuances of the actor's art. Violence of gesture and intonation do not offend them. They do not detect or resent what is crude or shoddy, as a West End audience would. They are easier taken in by clapnet."
"We shall still feel some slight anxiety to see the condition in which Mr. Chas. Hawtrey and Mrs. Patrick Campbell return from their tour in the United States. If Mr. Hawtrey returns with a style approximating that of Wilson Barrett, and Mrs. Campbell becomes undistinguishable in her method from Miss Nethercole, to name two players who have had immense success in America, we shall not consider the result particularly gratifying."

EXPERIMENTS BROUGHT TO A SUDDEN CLOSE
Cow Inoculated by Dr. Barney, Who Combats Dr. Koch's Theory, Has Been Seized.
(Associated Press.)
New York, Nov. 22.—Tuberculosis experiments by Dr. George D. Barney, of Brooklyn, which aroused considerable indignation when he announced recently that he had inoculated a young woman with the disease, were brought to a sudden close by Dr. Robert A. Black, head of the board of health in that borough, who seized the cow on which he had founded his work.
Dr. Barney combats the theory of Dr. Koch, the eminent German medical authority, that consumption could not be communicated from a lower animal to a human being, and with that end in view he inoculated the cow with the disease and kept it in his stable to watch the progress of the disease. The cow has become very sick, and he was preparing soon to hold an autopsy on her when the agents of Dr. Black pounced upon the creature and carried her away to the public pound, where, it is said, she will be destroyed.

PROVINCE CAN PASS A PROHIBITION ACT
Judgment of Privy Council in the Manitoba Liquor Case—Decision of Courts Overruled.
(Special to the Times.)
Ottawa, Nov. 22.—The department of justice received a cable to-day from London, stating that a judicial committee of the Privy Council had given a decision in the Manitoba liquor case. The cable said that the judgment of the Manitoba courts, declaring the prohibition act of the province ultra vires, was overruled, and that the act has now been held intra vires, or within the powers of the province to pass it.
It will be remembered that Hugh John Macdonald passed this act, and that the Manitoba courts upset it. The court of last resort now holds the act good.

Old Man Found Dead in the Woods—The Death of a Girl From Lockjaw Caused by Vaccination.
(Associated Press.)
Toronto, Nov. 22.—Thirty thousand children attending Toronto public schools will be set free to run the streets, unless the public school board is furnished with sufficient money to run the schools by December 1st. This is announced by the school board.
The Woolsen Industry.
The tailors' section of the Retail Merchants' Association at a meeting held here last night, opposed the action of woolen manufacturers in urging for higher protection. It is claimed a remedy for the alleged stagnation in the woolen industry was not to be found in more protection, but in the manufacture of a better class of goods.
Guilty of Manslaughter.
Amherst, N. S., Nov. 22.—J. A. McCarthy was this morning found guilty of manslaughter in connection with the death of Chas. McAnay at Pugwash on October 31st. Sentence was reserved for a week.
Impure Vaccine.
St. John, N. B., Nov. 22.—The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Lily Causton, 6 years old, died of lockjaw due to impure vaccine which was used by the druggist who vaccinated her.
Found Dead.
Patrick Sinnott, 65 years old, left his home in Hampton on Tuesday, and yesterday his lifeless body was found in the woods.

VANCOUVER NOTES.
New Methodist Church—Contract Let For Steamer.
(Special to the Times.)
Vancouver, Nov. 22.—Construction work began to-day on the new Methodist church for Princess street congregation.
J. A. McNair has purchased the interest of his brother Robert in Hastings Shingle Mill Company, for $10,000. A new mill, the largest shingle plant on the coast, will be erected here.
The contract was let to-day to Chas. Cates for the construction of a new Coast steamer for Evans, Coleman & Evans, and John Cates. The vessel will be 110 feet long. She will be ready by May 1st and will cost $45,000.

RENEWED DISORDERS.
Military Have Difficulty in Controlling Riots in Athens.
(Associated Press.)
Athens, Nov. 22.—The turbulent demonstrations here growing out of the proposal to translate the Gospels into modern Greek were continued to-day in the streets, especially in front of the chamber of deputies and before the university. There were many ugly rushes. The military are finding difficulty in controlling the rioters. The meeting of the chamber of deputies this morning was marked by a series of violent altercations.

GOVERNMENT CONDEMNED.
John Oliver Says He Is Ready to Enter Opposition Caucus.
(Special to the Times.)
New Westminster, Nov. 22.—A large public political meeting was held at Ladner last night. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. McBride, Smith, Curtis, Tatlow and John Oliver, member for the Delta.
A resolution was unanimously adopted condemning the Dunsmuir government. This was followed by another endorsing Mr. Oliver's stand. Mr. Oliver declared his readiness to enter the opposition caucus.

TICKET SCALPING.
Prohibitory Law Declared by Courts of Appeals to Be Unconstitutional.
(Associated Press.)
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 22.—The law passed by the last legislature prohibiting ticket scalping was to-day declared to be unconstitutional by the Court of Appeals. The decision was rendered in the case of Clarence Fleischman, a ticket broker of Buffalo, vs. Sheriff Samuel Caldwell, of Erie county. The Court of Appeals affirms the judgment of the lower courts, holding that the law which prohibits any person other than the authorized agent of a transportation company from selling its tickets violates the constitutional rights of citizens of the state.
All mills in Japan run day and night and change hands at noon and midnight. The vast majority of mill workers are children, who work 11 hours at low wages. In one mill at Osaka, 2,000 workers are under 15 years of age and operate only 5,700 spindles. In this country 300 persons operate the same number. Take an American mill of 4,000 looms, and 122,000 spindles, which are operated by 700 males and 1,500 females. In Japan it would take 12,000 persons to do this work.

Important to Shippers.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—The Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk to-day issued circulars notifying shippers to the Pacific coast that after December 31st next the practice of allowing two or more shippers to make shipments in one car, so as to secure carload rates, will be discontinued. Rule No. 2 of the Canadian Joint Freight Classification and No. 6 in Western Classification are to be enforced.

Cattle Shipped.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 21.—Eight carloads of cattle selected by G. H. Hall, secretary of the British Columbia Dairyman's Association in Ontario, were shipped West to-day. The cost is $4,700.

Laborer's Death.

Thos. Allen, laborer, was smothered to death in a grain bin in Sylvester's elevator on the waterfront last night. Allen was leading the bin from which the chute led and fell asleep on a heap of barley. The chute was open, his legs were caught in the section of falling grain, and 1,500 bushels of barley fell on him.

Action Dismissed.

Hamilton, Nov. 21.—In the High court yesterday Rev. Dr. Joseph Wild, formerly pastor of Bond street Congregational church, Toronto, and one of the best known preachers and writers in Canada, was sued by his late wife's sister, Miss Nina Hixon, for $2,500 on a promissory note, also for $587.50 wages, and $400 damages for alleged breach of contract. The action was dismissed by Judge Britton with costs.

CHAMBERLAIN'S SPEECH.

Germany Take Office at Colonial Secretary's Reference to "So-called" Agitation.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—Fresh allusion against Mr. Chamberlain, the British colonial secretary, has been taken in Germany over an open letter reproduced here, in which he alludes to the "so-called" agitation in Germany, evidently artfully and entirely based on misapprehension of my speech, and says that he does not propose to notice it, but that "no sensible German could be affronted by my words justifying British action in the Transvaal."

The North German Gazette, semi-official, hitherto silent on the subject, today denounces Mr. Chamberlain's original utterances at Edinburgh as insouciant and offensive, but considers them to have been modified by the letter. The paper exhorts the army not to be affected or perturbed into joining in the agitation, and deprecates official notice being taken of the unofficial utterances of a foreign cabinet minister.

Defends Chamberlain.

London, Nov. 21.—The Times, defending Mr. Chamberlain against a German attack, says: "We must be to remind the Germans that we claim an equal right to guard our own honor and to resent accusations founded upon the most hateful and poisonous calumnies disseminated with a deliberate persistence impossible in a friendly country."

KILLED DURING RIOT.

Proposal to Translate the Gospels Has Led to Serious Disturbances at Athens.

Athens, Nov. 21.—The agitation against the proposal to translate the Gospels into modern Greek was continued today. Twenty thousand persons assembled around the ruins of the Temple of Jupiter and Olympus, and took part in the demonstration organized by the Holy Synod to excommunicate any person who translated the Gospels into Greek as now spoken.

Eight hundred miners were landed to patrol the city. Several collisions occurred and occasional shots were fired. The students still hold the university building. During the demonstration following the assembly several shots were fired at M. Theotakis, the Greek premier, but without effect.

During the encounters between the military and the crowd, seven persons were killed, thirty severely injured, and many others were slightly wounded.

Great excitement prevails to-night. Strong military detachments guard the palace and the residence of the premier. Everywhere anxious groups are gathered, and many others were slightly wounded.

The Belgian and British miners who have been consulted have refused to consent to reduce their output, although they have promised to strike if these demands are not withdrawn.

This far complete order prevails, but an imposing force of gendarmes, infantry and cavalry has been billeted in every coal field to cope with any disorder.

John Cosindine Acquitted After Trial Lasting Sixteen Days.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 21.—The trial of John Cosindine for the killing of William L. Meredith is ended. After deliberating for two hours, the jury this evening brought in a verdict of "Not Guilty."

The trial has occupied 16 days. Beginning Monday, November 4th, the first two days were consumed in securing the jury, which is composed of three men from the city and nine from the country.

The German colonial council has decided that while the emancipation of the children of slaves might be practised in Togoland and the Cameroons, the time had not arrived to declare them free in German East Africa.

According to a dispatch to the London Daily Express, the London Chamber of Commerce, suggesting co-operation in the fight against the railway merger, and asking the state executives to suggest plans for concerted action.

Advices received from South Africa state that a mutiny occurred among the South African troops on the transport ship Stirling, which sailed from Montreal on October 13th for South Africa.

COL. LYNCH ELECTED.

Fought on Side of Boers and Has Been Returned as Member for Galway.

Dublin, Nov. 21.—Col. Lynch, who fought on the side of the Boers, has been elected in Galway. On the whole polling was conducted with comparative orderliness. The large additional force of police prevented numerous street disturbances, which were a source of drunkenness. Women were conspicuous in the streets and many of them were arrested. In the event of Col. Lynch's election being quashed on the ground that he is a traitor, Mr. Plunkett will not take the seat thus reverting to him.

FAIR AND DARK PEOPLE.

A very interesting and acute psychological study of the fair and dark populations of Norway has lately been made by Dr. A. M. Hansen. This investigation has revealed differences even more marked between the fair and the dark than may easily be discovered in our own islands, and this is not surprising since our racial elements have been more thoroughly mixed. The fair population is the dark population is reserved and suspicious, very conservative, and lacking in initiative, caring little for freedom, but with a passion for equality. The fair people are warlike, quarrelsome when drunk, and furnish, in proportion to numbers, the greatest number of soldiers for the volunteer force; the dark people; the latter, though brave sailors, abhor war, and are very religious, subscribing to foreign missions nearly three times as much per head as is furnished by the fair people, who are inclined to be irreligious. The fair people value money and all the means of a good life, while the dark people are indifferent to money. The reality of the mental distinction is shown by the fact that a map of the proportion of Conservative voters in elections to the Storting exactly corresponds to an anthropological map of the country, the Conservative majority being in the dark and the Liberal majority in the fair population. While, however, the fair population is the most irreligious and progressive, the dark population is by no means behind in the production of intellect, and the region it inhabits has produced many eminent men. MINERS MAY STRIKE.

Paris, Nov. 21.—The situation in the mining centres of France is again approaching a climax. The next day or two will see a definite decision upon the question of a general strike.

The results of the referendum which, while it gave a majority in favor of the actual number who voted, actually indicated that a very considerable number of the miners were either opposed to a strike or not enthusiastic. It was advisable to await the decisions of the commission of the Chamber of Deputies engaged in studying the demands of the miners. It now appears unlikely that the commission will satisfy these demands and the extreme party is endeavoring to force the hand of the federation officials in favor of a strike.

Already a partial strike has broken out in a coal field in the department of Nord. In the meantime the committee of the important Pas-de-Calais district published a manifesto arguing a declaration of a strike until the commission of the Chamber of Deputies shall have concluded its labors, and a similar feeling is evidenced in other districts.

The Belgian and British miners who have been consulted have refused to consent to reduce their output, although they have promised to strike if these demands are not withdrawn.

This far complete order prevails, but an imposing force of gendarmes, infantry and cavalry has been billeted in every coal field to cope with any disorder.

RIP VAN WINKLE.

Clever Work of Thomas Jefferson at the Victoria Last Night—Coming Plays.

It was with more or less misgiving that the audience which filled the Victoria theatre last night awaited the appearance on the stage of Thomas Jefferson, who has taken up the role of his father, Joseph Jefferson, made famous in "Rip Van Winkle." But before the first act was concluded misgiving had given way to enthusiasm, and the talented actor had gained the complete confidence of his audience.

The role of Rip is always a difficult one to play, and calls for peculiar qualities in its exponent, which often fail to materialize. Evidently Jefferson has not studied his father's work in vain, for he presents as perfect a type of the shiftless, light hearted vagabond as could be desired. His scene with Gretchen preceding his banishment to the mountains and his adventure in the Catskills, where he falls in love with Hendrick Hudson and his crew playing nineties in the hills, were particularly strong.

Margaret Hayward, as Gretchen, was excellent and gave the star-spangled support. The rest of the adults in the company had little demand made upon their talents, but acquitted themselves creditably in what they had to do.

One of the noteworthy features of the performance was the really clever work of little Maenie and little Hendrick, whose childish love scenes and general antics made them great favorites with the audience. Their turn in act two, in which Hendrick tells Maenie the ghost story of the Catskills, was as clever a piece of work as was seen during the evening outside perhaps of that of the star.

The settings were good, especially in act three. The manner in which Mr. Jefferson sustained his part, in this scene, where he was the sole speaker, was perhaps the severest test to which he was put, and in which he acquitted himself excellently.

Eugenie Blair.

Miss Eugenie Blair opened a four nights' engagement at the Grand opera house last night to a crowded house. Miss Blair is remembered in Seattle principally for her portrayal of "A Lady of Quality" last season, which made a lasting impression on her audience, but the exhibition of emotional acting as she gave last night in "Camille." There was a dignity, a simplicity, an indefinable something about her work that carried her audience completely away. She was followed from act to act by eyes that pressed the sympathy and pity felt for her in her love and sacrifice for the man she loved, until, in the last act, when she dies in her lover's arms, those eyes overflowed, and even men cried. She was cheered repeatedly and time and again was compelled to come before the curtain. In addition to her own remarkable talent, she has the support of a talented troupe. Seattle Times.

Miss Blair performs here Saturday afternoon and evening.

Royal Italian Band.

The Royal Italian band has been giving two concerts and two street parades in the city each day for the past week and its work elicited comments the most favorable and flattering from all true lovers of music.

The greatest credit is due to their leader, Signor Creatore, who in the short space of half a year has developed a concerted precision on the part of his musicians that is nothing short of marvelous.

Creatore has shown during the short time that he has been here that he is a promising candidate for leading honors among the great band leaders of the country. His intense feeling and appreciation of the fine points of his art is reflected in the shading, emotional character and wonderful precision which characterize every number played by his men. Their responses to the leader's slightest signal is a feature of the work of the Royal Italian band, and their work in this city thus far has certainly endeared them to every lover of music.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

The band is at the Victoria on Monday and Tuesday.

Officer of Smuggler Union Mine Says Twenty-Five Men Were Killed.

Denver, Nov. 21.—At a late hour today 23 bodies all told have been recovered from the Smuggler Union mine. An attempt was made today to enter the ninth level north, but on account of the density of smoke it was impossible to do so. It is stated by one of the officers of the company that only three or four men are missing, and that the total number of dead will not exceed 25.

JAPANESE VIEW OF DEATH.

When a few weeks ago, Hoshi Toru, the Japanese minister of public instruction, was assailed in a street in Yokohama, a great deal of horror of the deed was expressed in the European and American papers. Very little, however, was expressed in Japan, even by Hoshi's most intimate friends.

And yet the minister was one of the ablest of Japan's statesmen, a man who had earned through many popular reforms, who was well liked except by a few enemies such as every public man must expect to have. How, then, can the apparent indifference about his death be explained?

The answer to this question is to be found in the Japanese way of looking at the physical changes which are called death. A Japanese of good family is trained from infancy to regard his own death or that of another human being with absolute unconcern, as an event which deprives him, of course, of the means of continuing his work for the good of his country, but which is merely a detail in his real life in a multitude of reincarnations. Many of the educated Japanese of today do not believe in reincarnation, but the old way of looking at death remains to them. To express concern in regard to it would be a disgrace to a man descended from the old nobles or Samurai.

It is a queer circumstance that, along with this calm manner of looking at Hoshi's assassination, one finds in the detailed reports now to hand from Japan an absolute admiration for the skill with which he was dispatched. The man was killed in a masterly swordsman's fashion, a descendant of one of the famous Samurai families of Yedo. Not only was this the case, but Iba, the assassin, particularly honored Hoshi by slaying him with a magnificent weapon of immense value and antiquity. In all that has been written about the murder one finds an underlying idea that Hoshi was really very lucky to be sent out of the world so beautifully.

Six cuts with the sword, a stab in the back and they were delivered so rapidly that everything was over before those near the minister realized what had happened.

It is amusing to Occidentals—though, when one comes to think of it, one does not see why it should be so—to read the newspaper accounts of the prominent men who assembled around Hoshi's bier the night after the assassination. Count Tagawa made the very first speech. He dilated on the skill of Mr. Iba, and then went on to tell how different such an exhibition was from the pitiful attempts made to kill him at various times twenty years ago. This attempt was made by a man named Arakura, who ought to have been ashamed to be seen with a sword.

"When Arakura tried to kill me," went on the Count, "I saw at once that he was a mere greenhorn at the work. His conduct was really disgusting, more like that of a bad actor in a country theatre than that of a man who meant business. He tried to make his execution more like the mistake of leaving too much space between himself and me. Then, too, he did not know how to handle his weapon right."

There seems a note of absolute envy in this, as though Itagaki really could not see why he should have had such hard luck and Hoshi should have had it. Iba, the murderer, is a teacher. He will suffer death, but no disgrace attaches to him. Before committing the deed, he had been thinking of the same thing.

"I pray you to think of me as a dream. Desiring not to bring any trouble upon you, I hereby divorce you from all the other things that have been in our life-long companions," said Father Stanton, of St. Alban's, Holborn, who asked his children if the slums tabs to their summer outings in the country.

"Then, too, they are afraid of the 'dark' night, and do not in the very time in the country," continued the kindly-faced, great-hearted friend of thousands of street Arabs and gutter-gaming.

They have all sorts of reasons for preferring the city to the country, and some of them are perfectly inescapable. One little boy wrote to me after his outing last year and said he didn't like the country because while there was a wisp had stung him.

Another youngster took a day at Brighton with me in preference to two weeks in the country, and could give no reason for his choice. It never entered the modest mind of this favorite of the slum children why it was.

"They like going out in vans best of all," the Father went on, "and then they eat green fruit and thoroughly enjoy themselves."

"But though they like the hubbub of the city best, and are really glad to get back to it, their brown cheeks and bright eyes tell a merry tale when they return. Then you should hear the amusing stories they tell, and you would see how their cramped, warped and stunted little minds have been opened out by a glimpse of the green woodland that they know so painfully little about. Never mind what they say about it, it's the good the outing does them that we're after."

NO PLACE LIKE THE SLUMS.

London Gains Preference Town Excitement to Rural Peace.

The children of London's slums think there is no place like home, be it ever so small and poverty-stricken, says a recent London paper.

"They miss the flaming naphtha lamps, the winkle barrows, the hokey-pokey music and all the other things that have been their life-long companions," said Father Stanton, of St. Alban's, Holborn, who asked his children if the slums tabs to their summer outings in the country.

Dizziness

Is a very common consequence of indigestion and torpid liver. Sometimes there are spots before the eyes and hot flashes. At other times a sensation of vertigo occurs, at once suffocating and debilitating. It is a waste of time to attempt to cure this condition by ordinary means or medicines. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition must be restored to healthy activity, the blood must be purified, the liver cleansed and strengthened before a cure can be hoped for. This is the work done by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a medicine specially beneficial in diseases of the stomach, blood and liver. It cleanses the liver, purifies the blood, cleanses the clogged liver, and promotes the health of every organ of the body.

"My wife was greatly troubled with indigestion, torpid liver, dizziness, and also irregular periods," writes Mr. W. A. Preston, of Bangor, Me., Nov. 1901. "We tried many different remedies, but none of them gave perfect relief until we were induced by a lady to try your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Favorite Prescription and Pleasant Pellets." These medicines did more good than anything we ever tried for those complaints. We have used four bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' one of 'Favorite Prescription,' and two vials of your 'Pellets.' These medicines have done the work we desired, and I do heartily recommend them to all similar sufferers."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets assist the action of the "Discovery."

CONFERRED WITH THE CITY COUNCIL

FOR BETTER DRAINAGE AT JUBILEE HOSPITAL

Board of Directors Explain Comprehensive Plan Prepared by Them—They Want Assistance in Project.

A conference was held yesterday afternoon at the city hall between a special committee of the board of directors of the Provincial Royal Jubilee hospital and the city council, to discuss the subject of improved drainage facilities for the institution. The committee were armed with a very comprehensive plan which was explained in detail by Vice-President R. S. Day, H. D. Helmcken and others. During the conference the discussion broadened considerably, and the efficiency of the septic tank system was questioned by Dr. Fagan, of the provincial board of health, who was present. The doctor contended that its establishment in this city was unnecessary in view of the almost perfect sewerage system Victoria already possessed, which only required elaboration and improvement.

There were present His Worship the Mayor in the chair, and Aldermen Brydon, Yates, Hall, Kinsman, Cooley, Williams and City Clerk W. J. Bowler, and Messrs. H. S. Day, C. A. Holland, H. D. Helmcken, P. Pemberton, Thomas Shotbolt, Jas. Foreman and Secretary Elworthy, representing the board of directors, Dr. Fagan, secretary of the provincial board of health, and Dr. Hermann Robertson, municipal health officer. After explaining the details of the comprehensive plan, the mayor invited the committee to explain their mission.

Vice-President R. S. Day explained that a few months ago Dr. Fagan directed the board's attention to the fact that residents in the vicinity of the hospital had complained of the unsanitary condition of the box drain on Cadboro Bay road, which received the drainage from the hospital. It was pointed out that the drain in question was the city's, and unless better facilities for drainage were afforded the hospital the nuisance could not be abated. The city was confronted by two alternatives—it must either provide adequate drainage or Dr. Fagan would prohibit the use of the box drain by the hospital, in which contingency dump carts would have to be utilized by the institution.

The board considered that the only remedy was to inaugurate the septic tank system of drainage for the hospital. It was costly, he knew, but he hoped that the council would assist them in their efforts to install a satisfactory system. In turn the board could assist the council to secure the passing of the law dealing with the septic tank system. What the board proposed was to revise and remodel the whole hospital drainage system and to install one thoroughly efficient.

They had prepared a plan which included the septic tank, flushing tank and filter beds, the cost of which would be $2,850. The septic tank could be constructed at Cadboro Bay road, where it could receive the drainage from the hospital. After passing through the tank there could be no objection to it being carried away in a box drain.

Mayor Hayward observed that the scheme which was recently submitted to the ratepayers provided for a septic tank to be placed about the spot mentioned by Mr. Day, while it also comprehended an improved system for the hospital in general.

Mr. Day said that the board's architect recommended that they construct their own septic tank, but such an undertaking would be an expensive one, and could not be accomplished without assistance.

Dr. Fagan remarked that he could not understand why Victoria and Vancouver desired a makeshift system, such as he believed the septic tank to be. Its efficiency was not fully established, and he felt assured that it was unnecessary in consideration of the fine drainage facilities possessed by this city. Before being adopted the septic tank proposal must be approved by the provincial board of health.

There was a great deal of uncertainty about the tank system. Filter beds may not give satisfaction, and he thought it needless expenditure to install them here. The city had a sewerage system almost perfect, and the speaker was of the opinion that the main sewer leading to Clover Point was sufficient for a city larger than Victoria.

IN THE KLONDIKE

SCHEME PUBLISHED

Fenians Lacked Nerve and Wilted When
They Found the Authorities
Were Watching Them.

The Seattle Times of yesterday gives what purports to be the facts in connection with the threatened uprising in the Yukon.

Proof that such a conspiracy existed is furnished in documents now claimed to be in the possession of the Times, and which were obtained from one of the ringleaders in the plot. Copies of these documents and papers are reproduced, as well as the facsimiles of the seal of the organization which was formed for the confessed purpose of wresting the gold-bearing country of the Far North from the control of the Canadians.

The organization was formed in December, 1900, at Dawson. Its headquarters for months past were at Skagway. It was called the Order of the Midnight Sun. Its members took a hair-raising oath to reveal none of its secrets. Death was the penalty for violation of this oath. It might have succeeded temporarily, as did Riel when he invaded the Northwest Territory with a band of half-breeds. But the leaders of the conspiracy lacked the requisite nerve. Some are "leaked," and the organization, it is believed, will disappear as quietly and completely as do the snowbanks along the reaches of the Upper Yukon with the first warm rays of the sun in May.

From the nebulous gathering in Dawson in the winter of 1900 the Order of the Midnight Sun, as it was termed by its charter members, was spread along the length of the Upper Yukon, with branches reaching east to Atlin and Skagway on the other. It is even hinted that men friendly to the purposes of the would-be rebels came to Seattle for the purpose of soliciting funds for the rebellion. White Horse, the terminus of the White Pass & Yukon route, boasted of a camp early in the present year, and smaller lodges were organized at Hootalinqua, Circle City and Atlin, B. C. The headquarters of the organization were located at Dawson, but the leaders spent their time for the first few months of the year along the Upper Yukon, and only recently returned to the city.

Mr. Holland suggested the construction of a drain from the hospital around the south side of Government castle hill, and by that route to connect with the Cook street main.

The mayor here reminded the meeting that in a short time the septic by-law would be again presented to the ratepayers, and if the citizens would take sufficient interest in it he had no doubt as to its passage.

After a vote of thanks to the mayor, aldermen and Dr. Fagan the conference was terminated.

THIBETAN SKULL DRUMS.

A drum of an extreme repulsiveness of nature is one used by the Lamas of Tibet at some of their church ceremonies. For this the craniums of two skulls, preferably children's, are taken, and over the concave side of each is stretched the skin of a snake. The two skulls are then cemented at their vertices to either side of a wooden disk covered with a cotton cloth, the stretched skins being outermost. These drums are often ornamented by having the heads of devils and such like horrors, the more repulsive the better, painted upon them in red and blue colors. The method employed in playing them is rather curious. They are struck alternately on either side of the drum by means of a mallet, and thus produce a regular "tum, tum," "Grod Words."

FIXED THE MINISTER.
And He Needed Looking After.

"In a minister's family in Los Angeles where I was visiting sometime ago, the wife complained of serious indigestion and dyspepsia. She admitted that she had been eating and drinking more than her usual amount, and she more than half believed that was the trouble. I told her that I knew it was the trouble, for I had gone through with the experience myself and had only been cured when I left off coffee and took up Postum Food Coffee.

She said she had tried the Postum, both for herself and her husband, but they did not like it. With her permission, I made Postum next morning myself, and boiled it full fifteen minutes after the real boiling of the pot began. Then when it was served, it was a rich, deep brown color, and had the true flavor and food value that every Postum maker knows. It is all folly to talk about trying to make Postum with one or two minutes' boiling.

You can't get something good for nothing. It must be boiled, boiled, boiled, and to keep it frothy, boil over, use small lump of butter, perhaps twice the size of a pea. That morning the minister and his wife liked Postum so well that their whole lives were changed on the question of diet and they abandoned coffee at once and for all time.

Now after a hard day's work, they are comforted, refreshed, and rested by a cup of well-made Postum for supper. They are both enthusiastic in its praise. The wife has entirely recovered from her dyspepsia. I will not go into the details of my own case, except to say that I was a desperate sufferer with dyspepsia, and discovered by leaving off coffee that coffee was the cause of it. I quickly got well when I took up Postum Food Coffee. I earnestly hope many more coffee drinkers may get their eyes open. Name and address given by Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

STATES AUTHORITIES, HOWEVER, REFUSED TO GIVE THEM UP, AS THEY WERE SEIZED IN UNITED STATES TERRITORY, BUT THE SAFE
ORDER OF THE MIDNIGHT SUN IS PLACED AT THE ORDER OF THE OFFICIALS UNTIL THE MATTER
CAN BE ADJUSTED BETWEEN THE TWO GOVERNMENTS. THESE PAPERS DISCLOSE THE WHOLE PLOT.

The Times says that no arms were bought. The total membership of the Order of the Midnight Sun is placed at 1,000, although the members confidently expected outside assistance that would bring the total of the army of the insurgents to almost 5,000. The Times said that in the early days of the organization a circular was issued and secretly distributed to disaffected miners on the Upper Yukon, on which 19 different clauses were given as being the reasons for an uprising. These dealt with defective mining law, corruption of officials, royalty, liquor traffic and gambling, delays in the court, British Columbia Alien Act, "the miners' and loggers' license, recording fees and boundary disputes.

A similar circular was handed to business men of Skagway in which they were solicited to support the enterprise, and for a time Clark made his headquarters at that place, conducting a junta in the order.

Publication of the plans of the would-be revolutionists has, it is believed, entirely killed whatever germs of rebellion and riot there may have been generated by the leaders in the past. It is now believed that anything more will be heard from them. Undoubtedly the United States authorities at Skagway will prevent further attempts at filibustering, while the Mounted Police will rigidly hunt down the would-be revolutionists, and the Canadian authorities have already taken cognizance of the matter and it is believed they will act quickly.

TO HAVE TEN CLASS ROOMS.

New High School Will Be Larger Than Originally Contemplated.

Work on the new high school building is progressing rapidly, and there is every indication that the structure when completed will be a credit to the city. It may not be generally known, but the building will be considerably larger than provision has been made for. The original plans called for six class rooms and an assembly room beside the necessary apartments, such as cloak rooms, etc.

Four of the apartments were to be on the ground floor, and the assembly and two remaining rooms on the second floor. The chief contractor, however, made it possible to increase the size of the building by four additional ten class rooms and an assembly apartment—six on the first floor and the others on the second.

The principal room will be on the ground floor, while there will be a teachers' room upstairs. The cloak room will be in the basement.

As originally contemplated the building would not provide for very great increase in the attendance, while now provision has been made for years to come. When the institution is completed the rooms additional to those required by the high school pupils will probably be occupied by children from the schools where the attendance overtaxes the accommodation.

PROVINCIAL GAZETTE.

Few Announcements Contained in Last Evening's Issue.

The Provincial Gazette issued yesterday contains the following announcements: The chief commissioner invites tenders up to December 2nd for the construction of two miles of road between Ladner's Landing and New Westminster.

The following companies are incorporated: Board of Baptist Missions of British Columbia; Shingle Manufacturing Company, Limited; Italian Mutual Relief Society, of Extension; Mallery Drug Company, Limited, to take over the business of G. T. Mallery, of Kamloops; Portland Mining Company, Limited, and W. T. Stein & Co., Limited; The Maple Lumber Company has been registered as an extra-provincial company.

The following appointments are announced: Henry Hills, of Beaver Creek, Alberni, to be a justice of the peace in and for the province; George Goldwyn Smith Lindley, of Toronto, K. C., to be a commissioner for taking affidavits in and for the courts of British Columbia; T. Bryner Marshall, of Victoria, D. S. P. C. S., and J. Cuthbert Welch, of Trail, P. C. S., to be special examiners at an examination of candidates for efficiency in the practice of assaying, now being held at Victoria.

With but one exception, the glaciers of Switzerland are diminishing steadily. Since 1876 the Rhone glacier has decreased in length at the rate of over thirty-one yards.

Pupils in the schools of Saxony are required to commit to memory 291 biblical verses and 198 verses of hymns in addition to the catechism.

BOXING CONTEST
RESULTS IN DRAW

TO-MORROW BIG DAY FOR FOOTBALL LOVERS

Large Number of Games to Be Played—
Victoria and Vancouver Teams Will Battle for Supremacy.

Although undoubtedly discouraged by a very small attendance, Dal Hawkins, formerly champion lightweight, and Martin Denny, the clever little man from Australia, gave an admirable exhibition of scientific boxing in their ten-round glove contest in the Philharmonic hall last night.

The event was lively, proportionately exciting and free from the slightest objectionable feature. At its conclusion both men were quite strong, and capable of giving another ten. The number of rounds boxed last night was hardly sufficient to test the mettle of the men on this side of the line, but nevertheless from the moment they entered the ring until they left it both entered into the contest with a vim which left no room for the suspicion that they would regret enjoying a relaxation in accordance with the size of the attendance.

Hawkins appeared to score the greater number of material points, although Denny showed himself to be remarkably quick in eluding the heavy punches of his adversary, while his foot work was splendid. The other side, however, the warier general, more thoroughly conversant with the tricks of the ring, and took little that he did not return with interest. Denny was palpably in the better condition. In fact he is ready to enter the ring at any time. Hawkins has been enjoying a relaxation from the ring of late, and lacked the elastic movement which characterized his clever opponent. The contest was on the whole a very even one. Hawkins appeared to score most in the last few rounds, but it could hardly be said that he was superior to the other when the timekeeper called them off at the end of the tenth. Referee Morton therefore declared the bout a draw.

The men agreed not to strike in the breakaways, but on several occasions in their ardor, forgot their agreement, but the referee's intervention quickly refreshed their memories.

The slim attendance may be attributed to several reasons. There were several counter attractions, and the weather was very inclement. Another circumstance was the price of admission, which might have been cut in two. It is true that men like Hawkins and Denny are rarely seen in a glove contest in Victoria, if ever, but in these days even love for sport must be subordinated to financial considerations.

Before the event of the evening a preliminary bout took place between Mellor and Colin Hill.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.
BIG DAY TO-MORROW.

To-morrow will be a big day for football enthusiasts. Between Rugby and Association football the spectators will be bused that they have been for a long while. Naturally the greatest interest centres in the Rugby match between the Victoria and Vancouver senior teams.

The last game between the two teams resulted in a rather easy victory for the Territorial City men. True, the Victorias did not have their strong team with them, but the defeat is registered against them, and the stern duty devolves upon them of wiping out the record. With this object in view they have been training and practicing diligently, and as their team will include the pick of Rugby exponents in the city they should put up such a fight as will make Vancouver gasp with dismay.

There is more in the balance than inter-city rivalry. It is Victoria versus Vancouver, and each team evidently appreciates its responsibility. The match will be played at the Oak Bay park, and will commence at 2 o'clock. A special car will be provided for the convenience of the spectators. The Victoria team will be as follows: H. Pettigrew, MeLeod, K. Schofield, W. Lorimer, H. Gillespie, A. Gillespie, Benbow, Blandy, Grandy, C. Galbraith, G. J. Macdonald, Little, Pemberton, Goodwin and McLean.

INTERMEDIATES AND JUNIORS.

The Intermediates and Junior games are expected to be well contested, and such a bring out the very best that is in the boys. The Junior match will take place in the morning at Oak Bay, and the Intermediates in the afternoon, commencing at 1:30 o'clock. Victoria will be represented in the Junior-Collegiate School; W. Todd, H. Marshall, D. D. Kerfoot, W. Newcombe, A. Pils, P. Stebbins, A. Newcombe, A. Kay, V. Harrison, J. Keefer, C. Pitts, G. Armitage, J. Belyea, A. Jaulen, E. Clark, substitute, E. Todd.

THE VANCOUVERITES.

Of the Vancouver senior team the Vancouver Province says: The three Vancouver Rugby football teams to play in Victoria on Saturday have been picked, and they all look strong. The seniors are about as good as Vancouver can get together, and are particularly safe in the back division. The whole team is about the same as at Victoria's collection against Victoria at Brockton Point a few Saturdays ago, and unless the Capital City club has strengthened its line, the local men should win again on the 22nd. The seniors will line up as follows: Full back, D. Marpole; three-quarter backs, Flood, F. Wing, Tait (captain), F. Wing; C. Marpole, T. centre; Marshall, L. wing; half backs, G. Woodward, R. C. Sparks; forwards, Jenkinson, Grubbe, Lafferty, Worsnop, R. Woodward, Springer, Watson, Burdell, Purvis.

The other Vancouver teams are: Intermediates—Full back, H. Johnston; three-quarter backs, A. Duchesneau, W. Payne, F. Ellis, W. Bouchard; half backs, G. Crawford (captain), H. N. Springer; forwards, T. Foster, E. G. Boulé, G.

ENCOURAGING HOME INDUSTRIES. To the Editor:—As one keenly alive to the possibilities of this province, and our city in particular, I feel greatly interested in matters political. With a man who fought for the Boers elected to the Imperial parliament and a brother of General Cronje fighting for the British in South Africa, it must be confessed that a great deal depends upon the point of view. Ours is a "cosmopolitan" Empire. We would not be a bit surprised if the British allowed Col. Lynch to take his seat. What would any other country in the world do under similar circumstances?

Wolley has a forceful and original style in dealing with public questions, which will enhance the interest of his remarks. The lecture is the first of a series to be given this winter in connection with the free reading-room in Victoria West. The admission fee is a nominal one, and the public are urged to patronize the course and thus indicate their sympathy in the commendable efforts now being put forth by the reading-room promoters.

—Despite the inclemency of the weather the Institute hall was well filled last evening on the occasion of the benefit concert given by the Black Diamond Minstrels, of H. M. S. Warspite, in aid of the widowed mother of the late Edward Lankenshear, of H. M. S. Sparrowhawk. A splendid programme was given, and the roars of laughter which greeted the jokes and frolics of the sailors showed very forcibly the appreciation of those present. The comic song, "Baden-Powell's Scout," by E. Higgins, created quite an impression, as did also the comic selection, "Ringtaild Coon," by W. Selk. Al. Stenhouse danced the sailors' hornpipe, while the sketch, "Caught in His Own Trap," was most amusing. The performance was an undoubted success.

FIRST SESSION OF ANNUAL CONVENTION

Enthusiastic Meeting of Sunday School Delegates Held Last Evening in the First Presbyterian Church.

There was a large attendance, despite the inclemency of the weather, last evening at the second annual convention of the British Columbia branch of the International Sunday School Association. The success of the first session of the convention, which was held in the school room of the First Presbyterian church, augurs well for that of the remaining meetings.

A service of song, led by E. A. Lewis, opened the meeting. N. Shakespeare then gave the opening exercises, after which the delegates were joyfully welcomed in a nicely worded speech by John Weston. The Rev. H. B. Birch in a splendid address replied. Noah Shakespeare then gave a review of the work done during the past year, outlining the splendid progress made in the Sunday schools not only in the city, but at other points within the province. He pointed out that since the annual convention of last year the Sunday school workers had not been asleep, but in their endeavors to carry out the desires and opinions expressed by the last convention had made great progress. He then went on to mention some of the results of the work. One was that three district branches of the association had been formed in the province. These were located in Victoria, Nanaimo and Vancouver, all of which were doing splendidly. In addition the cradle roll system had been inaugurated. This, he said, was a system whose object was to get all babies up to three years of age enrolled in a Sunday school. This was done by obtaining the name, age, and residence of the child enrolling its name, and through the superintendent of the department sending it on its birthday to the superintendent. This would result in the cultivation of an interest in the Sunday school in the child from its babyhood, and could not fail to be of immense benefit to the schools. A normal class had also been organized, and was progressing favorably, besides which a home department had been inaugurated, and a few days would see the city thoroughly canvassed in the interests of the Sunday schools of the city. All this work, he concluded, was brought about by the introduction into Victoria of the Victoria branch of the International Sunday School Association.

Mr. Shakespeare's remarks caused considerable discussion, and needless to say, made a very favorable impression. Wm. Marchant next read a paper dealing with "Teachers and Their Responsibility" in a very interesting and comprehensive manner. He mentioned particularly the advantage of having trained teachers in the work. In this connection he pointed out that back East there was at present a great deal of talk of having teachers in the Sunday school paid for their work. Although not himself in favor of this he pointed out that it was a question if, if teachers are paid a large salary for their services, teachers in the Sunday schools should not be dealt with in the same way. This would do away entirely with the complaint so prevalent at present regarding the incompetency of some teachers who occupied positions of responsibility in the schools, being paid a salary, they of course would have to qualify themselves by passing examinations. This paper also caused a considerable amount of discussion, and was very favorably commented upon.

The Rev. W. C. Merritt in an address spoke in the same strain. He referred to the time in the United States when the present system of public schools was not in vogue, and said that the students turned out then had not anything like the education they had by going through the schools now. Since the government had taken hold, the work had improved greatly, and was now a credit to the country. This could also be applied to the Sunday school teachers. As long as there was no system in educating them up to their work the results would not be satisfactory.

A paper on the subject "That Class in the Corner and How to Manage It," was read by R. B. McMeekin. The writer dealt with the subject in a most able manner, and the delegates discussed the views expressed most enthusiastically and favorably. The session closed with a hymn.

To-day's programme is as follows: 7.45-8.00—Service of song led by Mr. Haggart.

8.00-8.10—Opening exercise by President N. Shakespeare.

8.10-8.30—Paper, "Cradle Roll," Mr. N. Shakespeare.

8.30—Discussion of paper, Address, "Some Forces That Win," Rev. C. Merritt, secretary Washington State Sunday School Association.

Collecting.

9.10—Paper, "Systematic Giving," Mr. J. McQueen, Vancouver.

Discussion and closing hymn.

Coming to the fact that the First Presbyterian church will be in use this evening to-night's session will be held in the Temperance hall.

The marriage of Mr. Christopher Gabriel Hitt, bookkeeper of the Albion Iron Works, to Miss Jeannette Keaton Gabriel, was solemnized by Rev. Canon Beauland, at Christ Church cathedral at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Thos. Hitt, and Mr. J. H. Johnston, and the bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. W. W. Gabriel, was attended by Miss Hitt, sister of the groom, and Miss Kate Lovell, the two little nieces of the bride, Misses Elsie and Margaret Redding, acting as flower girls. A reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. Redding, on "Crutched" road, where the many friends of the happy couple offered their congratulations. The many handsome presents showed the popularity of the bride and groom. They left by the Charmer for Vancouver and other cities on the Mainland, where their honeymoon will be spent, after which they will make this city their home.

There was a good attendance at the meeting last night of those interested in kennel matters, held at the Oriental hotel. The session was really a meeting of the members of the Vancouver Island Kennel Club, in conjunction with local dog fanciers, for the purpose of making arrangements by which a greater interest can be created in matters pertaining to the club. The principal business discussed was the membership fee. It seemed to be the opinion of the greater number of those present that a smaller membership fee and a larger membership would be to the advantage of the club. With this object in view, it was decided that a committee, which was appointed, should be given the power to endeavor to get a membership of one hundred at a $2 a head fee. This is a considerable reduction over the present entrance charge, which is $25. If the committee is successful in their efforts before the next meeting, to be held in two weeks' time, this plan will be adopted; if not, other means will be devised.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

The department of marine and fisheries gives notice that: The following information has been received from Capt. C. H. Simpson, R.N., H. M. surveying ship Egeria: The 4-fathom patch in Broughton strait lying midway between Haddington island and Comorant island, with Dickinson point bearing S. 78 deg. W., distant 18 miles, and south extreme of Haddington island, bearing S. 51 deg. W., has 24 fathoms least water over it. Approximate position: Lat. N. 50 deg. 50 min., long. W. 129 deg. 30 min., 30 sec.

The 3-fathom patch in Broughton strait, lying 5 cables N. 55 deg. W. from the north extreme of the northernmost Pease island, dries 4 feet. Approximate position: Lat. N. 50 deg. 35 min., 45 sec., long. W. 129 deg. 32 min.

A rocky patch in Queen Charlotte sound, marked by kelp, and having 5 1/2 fathoms least water over it, lies 4 cables N. 30 deg. E. from north extreme of Foster island. Approximate position: Lat. N. 50 deg. 42 min., 39 sec., long. W. 129 deg. 42 min., 42 sec.

A rocky patch in Blackfish sound, having 6 fathoms least water over it, lies in entrance to Parson bay, west side of Harbledown island, 3 1/2 cables off shore, with Burnt point bearing S. 67 deg. W., distant 1 1/2 cables, and south-west extreme of Parson bay bearing S. 34 deg. W., approximate position: Lat. N. 50 deg. 34 min., 42 sec., long. W. 129 deg. 40 min., 42 sec.

The rock lying one-third of a cable S. of jet in Boat harbor, Johnstone strait, and shown as awash at low water, is awash at high water. Approximate position: Lat. N. 50 deg. 30 min., 48 sec., long. W. 129 deg. 33 min., 24 sec.

A shoal exists in Johnstone strait in the position of the 3-fathom patch shown midway between Crockett point and Sophia island, with two rocky heads. The eastern one has 1 1/2 fathoms least water over it and lies 2 1/2 cables off shore, with the south point of Sophia island bearing S. 74 deg. E., distant 6 1/2 cables, and S. 66 deg. W. 2 1/2 cables from it, is another head with 2 fathoms least water over it. Approximate position: Lat. N. 50 deg. 32 min., 18 sec., long. W. 129 deg. 39 min., 44 sec.

This notice affects admiralty charts Nos. 681 and 1,017, and British Columbia pilot, 1868, pages 201, 202, 204, 205, 270 and 282. Discovery Passage. The hydrographer of the British admiralty, London, England, gives notice of the existence of a rocky patch in Discovery passages, 2 cables, in extent, northwest and southeast, with a least depth of 4 1/2 fathoms over it, from which the centre of Yacuta village bears N. 62 deg. E., distant 12 cables, and Cape Mudge light bears S. 72 deg. E., approximate position: Lat. 50 deg. 1 min., N., long 125 deg. 15 min. W.

Barkley Sound. The hydrographer of the British admiralty, London, England, gives notice of the existence of a rocky patch in Barkley sound, Vancouver island: A rock, about 25 feet high, situated with Lookout island summit, bearing N. 71 deg. W., distant 3 1/2 cables, and northeast extreme of Shelter islands N. 47 deg. W., approximate position: Lat. 48 deg. 54 min. N., long. 125 deg. 30 min. W.

A rock, about 12 feet high, situated with the western extreme of large Double island, bearing N. 11 deg. W., distant 3 cables, and eastern extreme of the same island N. 50 deg. E. Haddington rock is situated about half a mile to the eastward of its position as shown on the charts; on its eastern edge are two heads which dry 6 and 10 feet respectively, the 10 feet head is situated with Black rock bearing south, distant 8 cables, and the 6 feet head is 14 cables N. 24 deg. W. from it.

A rocky patch of 5 fathoms south-westward of Storm island, situated with western extreme of Combe rock, bearing N. 28 deg. E., distant 1 mile, and Redonda island summit N. 70 deg. E., approximate position: Lat. 48 deg. 51 min., long. 125 deg. 24 min. W. Two rocks about 6 and 7 feet high respectively, to the southwestward of Howell island; the 6 feet rock is situated with Redonda island summit, bearing N. 63 deg. E., distant 9 1/2 cables, and Combe rock N. 58 deg. W.; the 7 feet rock is situated about 3 1/2 cables N. 48 deg. E. from it. A shoal apparently extends for about 2 cables to the southward of the 6 feet rock.

The leading line into Clevelet arm (Channel island open between the sides of the inlet N.W. by W. 1/2 W.) is dangerous, and should be crossed from the charts.

Alaska Coast. The hydrographer of the United States navy gives notice that the Sherman rock bell buoy, a red nun shaped lattice work body, surmounted by a bell, was replaced 30th July, 1901, by a red second-class nun buoy, No. 2, without change in position.

OFFENCES IN THE NAVY.

Only Thirteen Cases of Drunkenness Reported in a Year.

The "handy man" apparently never quarrels or fights, for the column devoted to this offence in a return for 1900 just printed by the Admiralty is blank. Out of the 57,080 petty officers and seamen, boys and marines on the books of His Majesty's ships there were only 13 cases of drunkenness last year. There were only three charges of using bad language, but in other respects the return is not so favorable. Among the 97,680 men afloat there were 109,323 offences summarily dealt with, and 307 court-martial cases.

Many of these offences were of a trivial nature, but 2,618 summary cases and 281 court-martial. There were only nine cases of acquittal in the whole of the courts-martial in the service, and nine boys were punished with the birch of theft and embezzlement. The main character. There were 102 cases—Glasgow Weekly Herald.

THE SOLDIER'S KIT. Some Changes Which Are Likely to Be Introduced. There is nothing perhaps in which the stern experience of war does more to overthrow the nicest calculations of theory than in respect to the nature of the kit which is most convenient for use on active service. It is not surprising, says Navy and Army illustrations, that many things which soldiers are taught to require in peace time should be very soon discarded when they are on active service. A long peace gives faddists their opportunity. They theorise in their arm chairs and at their official desks as to the articles which their fighting men ought to be equipped, little thinking how useless and burdensome most of these articles will be in the field. The consequence of unchecked theorising was that the private soldier not very long ago bid fair to carry an equipment something like that of the White Knight in "Through the Looking Glass."

The ordinary type of ammunition pouch, for example, resembled closely the White Knight's famous little box. It was admirably adapted for letting things out. In fact, it came open so regularly that, early in the war, the Boers, whenever they were short of ammunition, had only to follow in the track of a British column to pick up as many cartridges as they wanted. The consequence was that the men threw away their pouches at the earliest opportunity (or perhaps they hung them up on trees for bees to nest in) and provided themselves with Boer bandoliers. So it was with many other articles of the Slade-Wallace equipment; they were found to be quite unsuitable for use or wear in the field. The American soldiers in Cuba had exactly the same experience. In fact, they threw away nearly everything in their kit except their tooth-brushes, which they wore in their hat-bands.

The articles which would really have been useful in South Africa, such as spades and wire-nippers, the private soldier was not provided with. However, the company which supplies the Slade-Wallace Equipment has set to work to revise its pattern, and a new kind of kit has been on view recently at the Royal United Services Institution. This does away altogether with the heavy leather valise, and supplies in its place a light waterproof canvas bag. Everyone who has tramped it about the country on a walking tour knows how irksome is the old form of knapsack carried on the shoulders, and how much more sensible the loose bag which is worn at the side—slung under the left arm. The new soldier's kit-bag can either be hooped up on the shoulders or carried at the side—on the opposite side, of course, from the haversack, the white linen bag in which Tommy carries his rations. There are no tire-some buckles on the straps, which are fitted instead with hooks. The cartridge cases are of a good size, and really keep the cartridges in. The new equipment is 1 1/2 lbs. lighter than the old; in fact, it seems to be an improvement in every way.

The same company have on sale a new kind of trenching tool—a small spade that does not look as if it could stand much heavy work. It would surely be better for Full-Sized Spades to be provided, not necessarily to be carried by the men all the time, but to be stacked in light carts, except in cases in which all transport had to be abandoned. Spades come next to rifles among the absolute necessities of the private soldier in warfare, and no one who has broken up hard ground with a spade would admit that you can get anything like full value for your labor out of a small size. The question of officers' equipment seems to have settled itself. Swords, we are told, are still in great demand, but this is only for parade purposes. In the field it has been found essential that officers should reveal themselves to the enemy by no distinguishing marks at all. Even with cavalry the sword seems likely to drop out of use on active service. The lance is a weapon at once more alarming and actually more effective.

With Lance, Carbine and Revolver the horse soldier is very suitably armed. A sword would really be of little use in addition to these. Much else of the cavalry equipment will have to go. We cannot expect to get good work out of horses if their riders ride at 16st. or 17st. It is putting a certain amount of strain upon a horse even at a review. When you want him to gallop long distances in pursuit of a fleet enemy, or to undergo forced marches for several days, you must make your cavalryman ride as light as he possibly can.

Provincial News

GRAND FORKS. Owing to the condition of the roads, rendering haulage by wagons very expensive, the El Callih is the only regular trip through the Boundary. In an interview Mr. Carter stated that there was more building operations in progress in Grand Forks than all the towns of the Kootenays combined, excepting the coal towns on the line of the Crown's Nest railway.

NELSON. Frank Edward Tebo, C. P. R. agent at Cascade City, was married on Monday afternoon to Miss Bethama Kearney of Simcoe county, Ontario, who arrived from the East a few days ago. The ceremony took place at the residence of W. L. Tebo, of the C. P. R. telegraph service in this city, a brother of the groom, and was performed by Rev. J. H. White.

NEW WESTMINSTER. The first chrysanthemum show of the New Westminster Horticultural Society was opened on Wednesday afternoon by His Worship Mayor Scott, president of the society. There was a very good attendance of visitors. At the last meeting of the board of library commissioners, held on Monday night, consideration was given to the report of the city council regarding the proposed smoking room adjacent to the public library and reading room. The board discussed the matter thoroughly, and concluded it would not recede from the position previously taken, having no cause to change its views on the subject. Accordingly a resolution was passed according to the resolution of the city council that that body conduct the smoking room, independently of the library board.

ROSSLAND. W. L. MacKenzie King, deputy minister of labor, has left for the coast, says the Mjner. He will remain there a week or ten days with a view of familiarizing himself with conditions relating to labor. On the conclusion of his visit to the coast Mr. King goes almost direct to Ottawa to resume his departmental duties. While in Rossland a large number of matters appertaining to departmental business have been forwarded from Ottawa, so that the department of labor has been to some extent operated from Mr. King's apartments in the Hotel Allan for the past ten days, probably the first time in its history that Rossland has had a department of the Federal government located in its midst. Mr. King's mission in the Golden City was to investigate the conditions relating to labor matters. This he has done, and the result of his efforts is contained in a report already forwarded to Ottawa. Referring to his investigation, the deputy minister confines himself to remarking: "I may state that I went into the matter thoroughly with the employers and the men formerly engaged at the mines. Both were very frank in discussing the situation." Touching on his trip to the great West, Mr. King says: "I have found the journey through the Boundary, the time devoted to the visit has been well spent by reason of the knowledge gained from personal observation that I could not possibly have acquired had I remained in Ottawa. By personal inquiry I obtained a fund of information as to the obstacles and the aids to the development of British Columbia that should be of great value to the department, and this is dealt with at some length in the report I have forwarded to Ottawa. I have been impressed by the indications on every hand of the development of the West. In Rossland, for instance, I was pleasantly surprised with the size of the city and the evidence of business activity far in excess of what would be expected in a town of the same size in the East. Your public buildings, the court house, post office, the Bank of Montreal and others are such as might be expected in Eastern cities of several times the population of Rossland. These features have given me a grasp on the trend of affairs in the West that will be extremely useful."

TOILET OF LITTLE COALS. How They Are Washed and Dressed to Go Abroad. The typical British householder, as autumn comes around, sets his teeth determinedly, and announces to the coal merchant, with the air of a man about to do a deed, "that if any slate or small are sent with this winter's coal, he'll have every ounce delivered pitched out of the cellar, and will not pay a penny for it, under any conditions whatever." This may, or may not, be legitimate, according to circumstances, for sometimes Mr. Cobble, the coal merchant, is responsible for delivering inferior fuel for the sake of extra profit, and sometimes the foreign material is in the coal because nature put it there, and nature's intention has not yet sufficed to remove it therefrom in the form in which the householder insists upon having it for domestic consumption.

YANCOUVER. Mr. George Middleton, of the Dominion government assay office, and Mrs. Hasbrel, were united in marriage on Tuesday evening by the Rev. Dr. McLaren. Mr. and Mrs. Middleton have gone to Seattle to spend their honeymoon. The residence of Mr. Duthie, 2438 Westmain avenue, was on Wednesday evening the scene of an auspicious event and pleasant evening. The occasion was the solemnization of the marriage bond between Ada, daughter of Mr. William Woodman, of Central Park, and Mr. James Evans, bright foreman in the foundry of Messrs. Ross & Howard. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, of the Mount Pleasant Presbyterian church. On Tuesday, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mackinot, 7th avenue, Fairview, the marriage of Miss Edith Mackinot and Mr. Jas. A. MacDonald, a popular employee of the Canadian Pacific railway, was solemnized. Rev. R. G. MacBeth tying the nuptial knot. Only the immediate friends of the contracting parties were present.

Amur Returns From Skagway—Boiler-makers Refuse to Go to Work on the Topeka.

Few if any of the 70 passengers who came south on the steamer Amur which arrived here shortly after the Times went to press yesterday afternoon are from Dawson. The Amur left Skagway on Sunday. At that time slush ice was to be found on the lakes, but the waters were not completely frozen over. Navigation had closed, and for this reason there was little travel between White Horse and points beyond. The crews of a number of the steamers tied up came down on the Amur, and these with a number of the Atlin arrivals and a squad of provincial police under Superintendent Hussey made up the steamer's complement of passengers. E. S. Bushy, the Canadian customs agent at Skagway, and two sons came south as far as Vancouver. J. S. Harvey, who with H. Eric, is interested in Atlin property, and who has spent several months in the North; Capt. Smith of the steamer Prospector, and Capt. Bragg, a master of another of the Yukon fleet, were also passengers.

The Amur had a very rough trip going North. On account of rough weather it was necessary to anchor the steamer at the mouth of Skeena river from Thursday night until Friday morning. A quantity of coal was discharged at Ketchikan, and a severe snow storm was encountered at Taku on Friday night. The steamer took North the sleighs to be used in the winter service in a canoe. It brings news from the North of a supposed wreck of a schooner. According to the Juneau Dispatch the steamer Yukon, Capt. Kapp, which arrived at Juneau, November 4th, reports that while she was lying in Swanson's bay, waiting for the storm to subside, a canoe full of Hoonah Indians came alongside and reported that they had seen at a distance a schooner which looked like a complete wreck. They also saw a boy's jacket, a mess-bag and a jack-knife scattered along the beach, but no signs of life were seen around the craft. It is believed some terrible disaster has happened to a company of prospectors.

The officers of the Yukon report that Glacier bay is covered with a mass of ice, and that section of the country is now very stormy and dangerous to navigation.

HOW A STORY ORIGINATED.
"George Friar was brought to the city yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Jack Williams, charged with stealing the fishing sloop Emma and May on September 27th," says yesterday's Post-Intelligencer. His arrest is believed to clear up the report concerning the alleged wreck in Deception Pass which Friar put in circulation. He was taken into custody on a warrant sworn to before Justice Cann for the crime of larceny by embezzlement.

ADDRESS TO OFFICERS.
Captain Goss and officers of the steamer Amur were presented by the passengers on the trip ended last evening with the following address:

dry dock refused to go to work yesterday. The men were working nine hours a day. They demanded that the time be reduced by one hour a day, and their demands not being acceded to they went out on strike. The men's action, however, has not retarded work on the ship, for the helpers were immediately put in their places. The men had acted on the strength of a resolution passed at a meeting of the Boiler-makers' Union after the Garonne incident some months ago—providing that on all American steamers eight instead of nine hours should constitute a day's work. This alone, it is understood, was the cause of the strike, but the manager could not see why the City of Topeka, although an American vessel, should be discriminated against when the Hoola, which was recently repaired here, was not. He was presently installing steam hammers in the Albion plant, and when these have been secured the services of many boiler-makers will not be required.

HERB FOR A CREW.
British bark Santa, Capt. Strouman, loaded with many tons of Liverpool, was towed into Esquimaux by the tug Lorne last evening, the wind being so high that she could not anchor in the Royal Roads. The vessel received her cargo on the Fraser and is being given dispatch by Evans, Coleman & Evans. She has 40,000 tons, which is the smallest of the five cargoes shipped to date. The vessel called in here for complete her crew, and will probably be towed to sea to-morrow with the ship Senator.

MARINE NOTES.
Steamer Umattila was twelve hours late in reaching San Francisco last Tuesday. Capt. Cousins reported unusually heavy weather off the Columbia river. A number of vessels of the lumber fleet were sighted, but none of them could be made out. All were under short canvas and apparently riding out the gale in comfort.

Only the shafting is now being removed from the steamer Victoria. The contract for supplying and adjusting the new propeller and shaft has not yet been given. The well known ship C. F. Sargent, which started from Seattle for San Francisco, has returned to the Sound in a leaking condition. H. M. S. Egeria is expected down from Alert Bay this afternoon. She reached Nanaimo on her return yesterday. Charmer left Vancouver at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon, after connecting with the train for the East. Steamer Amur sails for Skagway on Monday night.

SHORT-PAULINE.
Pretty Wedding Last Night at Christ Church Cathedral.

The marriage took place last evening in Christ Church cathedral of Mr. Nugent Short to Miss Sarah Pauline, of Oak Bay. The event excited considerable interest among the friends of the contracting parties, and there was in consequence a large attendance of guests. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon Beaulieu. The groom was attended by Mr. W. Fraser, and the bride by Miss S. Short, sister of the groom. After the ceremony the bride party and guests drove to the residence of the bride's parents, where a beautiful supper was served. Afterwards the evening was given over to amusements, dancing being prolonged until an early hour this morning.

LEGAL NEWS.
Although there was a long list of cases set down for hearing at yesterday's sitting of the County court, only one was tried, the majority being stood over until the next sittings of the court. In the case of George vs. Babcock, after a protracted hearing, both the plaintiff's claim and the defendant's counter-claim were dismissed with costs. C. J. Prior, of Eberts & Taylor, for plaintiff; F. Gregory, of Fell & Gregory, for defendant. The following cases, viz: Houston vs. Appleby, Garvache vs. Keefer, B. C. Agricultural Society vs. Weidrick, Seward et al vs. Davies, Kwong Hing vs. Shaw, Jackson vs. Berkeley, Ahlers vs. Moody, and M. R. Smith & Co. vs. Vaselajo, were stood over until the next sitting. The actions of Shallock, Macaulay & Co. vs. Klondike M. F. & T. Co., Ltd., Rule vs. John, and Gelper vs. Sheret, were down on the list for hearing, but were withdrawn, having been settled out of court. The cases, B. C. Board of Trade Building Association, Ltd. vs. Tupper & Peters, and Dickinson & Co. vs. Clay, were also on the list, but were stood over by consent until a day of trial to be fixed. The usual number of garnishee applications, judgment summonses, and naturalization applications were disposed of. The next sittings of the County court is fixed for Thursday, December 12th, next.

In Chambers this morning Mr. Justice Drake granted an application made by Mr. W. H. Langley on behalf of the plaintiffs in Royal Bank vs. Lawrence, for a garnishee order prior to recovery of judgment. This application is the first of the kind that has been made in the local courts under the latest amendment to the Supreme Court Act, which provides for the attachment by a plaintiff of debts due a defendant before a judgment has been obtained against such defendant in the action. His Lordship also granted a foreclosure decree nisi in B. C. Corporation vs. Punch, on motion by A. P. Luxton for the plaintiffs. The reference commenced before the registrar yesterday in the partition suit, Roay vs. Roay et al, in which a large amount of farm lands in Saanich and several lots of city property are involved, will be continued on Monday next at 11 a. m.

Signal Canoes Warned the Rancherie of the Arrival of the Quadra—A Successful Expedition.

Last night Superintendent Hussey, of the provincial police, together with the little force of men whom he took north with him for the purpose of capturing if possible the troublesome braves at Kingcombe Inlet, returned to the city, having accomplished their object with marked success as told in the telegraphic columns of the Times last night. It was expeditionarily carried out, without any resort to firearms, and the whole moral effect was most beneficial to the tribe, and encouraging to the missionaries and white settlers. The latter have had to put up with a good deal of insolence from the braves, and they feel very grateful to the combined Dominion and provincial authorities for their prompt action. Intelligence of the projected expedition had reached the Indians long before the Quadra dropped anchor in Kingcombe Inlet, for the papers had reached the whites, and through them the redskins. The sequel demonstrated that the Indians had decided to circumvent the plans of the police, and had laid elaborate plans to that end. The Quadra dropped anchor at 1 o'clock on Saturday afternoon about five miles from the rancherie, and at a point where she could not be discerned from the shore. Fearing, however, that intelligence of her arrival might be conveyed to the Indians, Superintendent Hussey at once ordered out the steam launch, and with his officers proceeded up the bay to the settlement. As they drew away from the ship they saw a little canoe occupied by one or two Indians close to the shore, but paid little attention to it. Further up still, another canoe was passing, and then they were seen at intervals all the way up to the rancherie, the last being stationed just outside the village. The significance of it all was now clear. By means of this line of canoes, signals were passed in the village apprising the Indians of the arrival of the Quadra, whereupon all those who feared arrest had taken to the mountains. They had fully two hours' start of the police, so pursuit was out of the question. Superintendent Hussey had provided himself with a half-breed interpreter at Alert Bay, and through him passed the order for the head chief Kaote. He was conducted to his house and there met the chief, and his son Klachilas. Through the interpreter, Mr. Hussey intimated what his mission was, and asked the chief to believe over Frank and Leslie, at the same time reminding him of his obligations as chief, to assist the authorities. But the old man was obdurate, and gave Mr. Hussey to understand that he proposed to do no such thing. Finally he intimated that plenty of gentleness and plain talk was to be of no avail, and then this was had displayed a wonderful familiarity with Tammany politics. "I know all white men like money," he said, "I give you $200. You go away and don't bother us any more."

The superintendent saw that persuasion was to be of no avail, and he then plainly stated in the presence of the big crowd of gaping natives who surrounded the chief and officers, that the chief had been one of those who were a party to the assault on the constables, that if he delivered the men up quietly it would likely be regarded as something in his favor, but that otherwise he would be severely dealt with. He further stated that he would take the chief and his son on the Quadra, there to stand their trial. This made a profound impression on the natives, and there was big talk in Chinook and plenty of gesticulation. Meanwhile Constables Wolcott and Huson, who had been assaulted by the Indians, recognized in Jack and Billy two of their assailants and took them into custody. They were all hurried on to the Quadra, and the Indians, now thoroughly alarmed, told the superintendent where they would bring in Frank and Leslie before Sunday night. Just at sundown on Sunday evening they led Leslie into camp explaining that Frank would not come, as he did not steal the cheese. They were told that the Quadra would remain in port until 7 o'clock the next morning, and that if Frank was not delivered by that time they must take the consequences. This had the desired effect, for promptly at 7 o'clock the next morning he was brought in. They were all taken on board the Quadra, where Klachilas, Jack, Billy, Klachilias, Frank and Leslie were sentenced to six months' imprisonment, this being in addition to the original term for stealing to be served by Frank and Leslie. The old chief, considering the assistance he had given, was released with the payment of $100 in fines. These they seemed to accept. Nothing is known as to how they were taken to the Amur and brought down, the prisoners going on to Westminster jail.

ON DRESSING A PHEASANT.
Bread sauce is the natural accompaniment of the white-throated fowl that has chafed fattened upon wheat. It surpasses the necessity for potato chips, but delicately fried bread crumbs come better. Nothing is better than the natural gravy, which is to be abundant—with the squeeze of a lemon or some soupçon of orange juice. And the lemon is indispensable when the bird has been landed or barbe, which means being swathed in slices of fat bacon. The truffling of pheasants is somewhat of a mistake. Truffled pheasant roasts well in a pan, but the full bouquet of the bird and the excellent neutralise each other, or at least they do not blend harmoniously. Consequently one cannot approve of the faro, the sauce Perigeeux. But truffled pheasant with chestnuts is excellent; the pheasant when living delights in chestnuts; smashed to a pulp, they easily absorb the juices, and so they suit him admirably when sent to the table. By way of variety I can confidently recommend boiled pheasant; were it only that it gives occasion for the celery sauce, flavored with a delicate infusion of lemon, and made with abundance of rich cream. Pheasants sometimes carry the simplicity of the roe to an extreme, for they serve with merely a surmounting of watercress and occasionally with slices of lettuce. Be sure that simplicity is the safer side to err on, and use one said yesterday of the multiplicity of elaborate fashions in which artists have manipulated the pheasant. But one excellent dish should be mentioned, and in that the truffle can be used with effect and for obvious reasons. It was the impetuous genius of Brillat-Savarin that originated the fabled faro, a date when it became fashionable in Parisian restaurants. Make careful choice of the bird, and hang waterfully according to the weather. Take him down with a couple of cocks—salpe or pliver will do at a pinch—bone them and separate into two portions, the flesh in the one, the liver and trail in the other. Pound the flesh with bacon, spices, and fine herbs, and stuff the pheasant therewith, carefully sealing the incisions with truffles. The stuffing with a well-kept bird is to prevent bursting, but that is indispensable, for the essence must not escape. Roast over bread, spread with the woodcock trail, with pounded truffles, with garlic bacon and butter. After roasting at leisure, serve with speed, and, as Brillat-Savarin remarks, you may be easy as to results.—The Saturday Review.

PUBLIC NOTICE.
The B. C. Market Co., Ltd., beg leave to announce to their customers and the public generally, that on and after 1st December, 1901, their place of business will be closed each evening (excepting Saturday), at 6 o'clock sharp. This is in compliance with a regulation from their employees, asking for a slight reduction in their hours of labor, which has been from 5 a. m. till 10 p. m., out of all proportion with the hours worked by other trades or callings, as well as being longer hours than those in Portland, Seattle, Tacoma, Nanaimo or Vancouver markets. Trusting our patrons and the public generally may be as free to concede the justice of our action as we have been, and governing themselves accordingly, we remain,
Yours respectfully,
THE B. C. MARKET CO., LTD.,
E. W. WELCH, Mgr.

MARRIED.

THE RUSSIAN POLICE.
In Russia no meetings of private citizens for any purpose are permitted; the privilege of holding meetings is granted only to chartered corporations or associations. All crowds, except in places of amusement or worship, are dispersed by the police. No premises can be hired for the purpose of holding a meeting without a permit from the police. In St. Petersburg and some of the larger cities, one desiring to entertain a company of friends at his house must first procure a permit from the police; a most searching examination is made in every case, and permission is refused to persons of a suspicious character. Of course, no public ball, entertainment, theatrical performance, etc., is allowed without a permit, and the police have at all times free access to the hall. In all the above free seats are provided for police officers.
No society, club, or association for any purpose may be organized without a charter; the most rigid scrutiny is exercised before one is granted; as a result, very few clubs or associations of any kind have been authorized. Trades unions are prohibited. It goes without saying that the police have free access to all meetings of organized bodies.
No church or other place of worship may be founded without permission from the police; church meetings are subject to the same supervision as all other meetings.
No one is permitted to open a school for children or adults without permission from the minister of public instruction; the applicant must present a certificate of good moral character from the local police, and even then permission is often refused.—The Independent.

GABRIEL AND CHARACTER OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
An address by Joseph Choate, Ambassador to Great Britain, on the career and character of Abraham Lincoln—his early life—his early struggles with the world—his character as developed in the later years of his life and his administration, which placed his name so high on the world's roll of honor and fame, has been published by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, and may be had by sending six (6) cents in postage to F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.
