CROWDS MARCH STREETS OF TOKIO ALL NIGHT DEMANDING TROOPS BE SENT TO CHINA; CALLING ON MAKINO TO RESIGN

Assassination of Director Abe Inflames Populace; Diplomacy Denounced by Thousands Who Call for Military Action and Erasure of Insults Committed at Nanking

Delegation Served With Tea by Foreign Minister's Wife While People Stand in Rain; Tramways Suspended, Windows and Gates Smashed by Angry Mob

Tokio, Sept. 8.—The assassination of Moriarty Abe, director of the official bureau of the Japanese foreign office, has inflamed the masses, and a dramatic chapter in the history of the new Japan was written yesterday.

Fifteen thousand persons gathered in a mass meeting in Hibiyu park, calling for military action against China. A majority of these marched to the foreign office and clamored for admission. They demanded the dispatch of troops to China to take measures as were necessary to obtain satisfaction for the killing of Japanese at Nanking, or, failing this, the resignation of the minister of foreign affairs, Baron Nobuaki Makino.

The speakers denounced the emptiness of Japanese diplomacy in connection with California and China, and insisted that the insult to the Japanese flag at Nanking should be wiped out. The manifestation clearly was an explosion of popular resentment against the ministry in its treatment of the California and Chinese questions.

Police Are Withheld. Profiting by the lessons of the riots which followed the conclusion of peace between Russia and Japan, the government reduced the risk of violence to-day by refusing to allow a single soldier or policeman at the scene. The demonstrators, many of whom were students, were orderly during the early part of the proceedings.

A score of agitators, including a girl, seized Japanese diplomacy, and demanded that it be erased. The agitators, always had ended in failure. The incidents in China were unbearable.

Suddenly the cry to march on the foreign office was raised, and there was a general stampede, many persons barely escaping being crushed. The crowds surged through the streets, headed by the gesticulating leaders, and reached the foreign office to find that the high iron gates were locked.

Delegation Climbs Gates. Scores of the demonstrators pounded on the gates and called for them to be opened, but in vain. The under-officials refused. A delegation was appointed, the members of which climbed the gates, and then ensued a long parley. Meanwhile the crowd was cheering but determined. It showered compliments on the beautiful geisha girl, struggling by in a richshaw, but angrily stoned a photographer seeking to take snapshots of the chief delegate, who, having returned, mounted the portals to report progress.

Perched unsteadily on the pickets, he made a fantastic picture and in a harsh harangue, declared that the committee demanded either the dispatch of troops or the retirement of the foreign minister. "We told the officials," he shouted, "that the voice of the people speaks, that the agitation will never end until our demands are granted."

Baroness Provides Tea. The extraordinary situation continued for five hours, the delegates merging periodically to pacify the crowd. Finally, when the discussion ended, they reported that Baron Makino had promised to receive them September 15. This was greeted with howls and cheers, and many marched to the foreign minister's house, three miles distant. Police, however, prevented their near approach.

The delegation which visited the home of Baron Makino at night was received by the baroness, who regretted the absence of her husband. She served tea and food to the delegates. Outside the crowd built fires for warmth.

At midnight they marched to the heavily-guarded residence of the premier, Count Yamamoto, and spent the night in the rain. A second mass meeting was held, as arranged, and at its conclusion a good crowd proceeded to the foreign office.

Windows were smashed, and the gates of the foreign office, the tramcars and many automobiles were stoned. Part of the tramway service had to suspend operations.

The house of Vice-Minister Keishiro Matsui also was visited. The police arrested the agitators, and the streets were patrolled by troops from the church of St. John Lateran, where the Catholic athletes heard mass, to St. Peter's, to which edifice they marched to be received by the Pope.

A great parade that had been planned was prohibited by the police, on account of threatened reprisals by the anti-clericals. Notwithstanding the strictest measures to ensure order, a few scuffles occurred amid cries from the Catholics of "Long live the Pope," to which the anti-clericals responded by shouting "Long live free thinking."

DEATH TAKES ONE OF POPE PIUS' FRIENDS

Cardinal Vives y Tuto Dies; Recent Operation for Appendicitis

PROBABLE CANDIDATE FOR THE SUCCESSION

Catholic Athletes Marched to St. Peter's and Kneel Before His Holiness

EIGHT THOUSAND WERE GATHERED IN ASSEMBLY

Rome, Sept. 8.—Cardinal Jose Calasanz Vives y Tuto, prefect of the congregation for religious affairs, died yesterday. Recently he had undergone an operation for appendicitis.

Cardinal Vives y Tuto was born at San Andrea de Llevaneras, diocese of Barcelona, in 1854. Early in the summer it was reported that he had become insane, but later physicians diagnosed his case as neurasthenia, and he retired to a monastery.

The cardinal acquired a prominent position at the Vatican after the election of Pope Pius X., and had ever been considered as a probable candidate for the succession.

The Pope was deeply affected when told of the cardinal's death and exclaimed: "I have lost one of my best friends, the church one of its greatest supports."

The streets of Rome were guarded yesterday by police, carabinieri and troops from the church of St. John Lateran, where the Catholic athletes heard mass, to St. Peter's, to which edifice they marched to be received by the Pope.

Four hours were occupied by the athletes in reaching St. Peter's, where they unfurled flags and passed into the court of San Damaso. They knelt when the Pope appeared on the balcony surrounded by the pontifical court.

The athletes, pilgrims and others in the assembly numbered 8,000, and after the apostolic benediction had been imparted they arose and gave a triphurrah. The pontiff enquired regarding the obstacles which had been placed in the way of the demonstration and urged extreme prudence.

The Osservatore Romano publishes an article inspired by the Vatican protesting against the prohibition of the parade, which it considers an offense to the liberty of Catholics, and urges the athletes to describe at home the species of liberty and independence which the Italian laws give the Holy See.

GREED WAS CAUSE OF WEST VIRGINIA STRIKE

Bishop Donahue Found Exorbitant Prices Ruled in Company Stores.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—Greed of coal operators as well as the miners, Bishop J. P. Donahue, of the Catholic church, told the senate investigating committee to-day, was the fundamental cause of the West Virginia strike.

At the end of the first stage of the Palma trophy match on the 800-yard range, the United States and Canada were tied for first place each with a score of 53 out of a possible 600.

The bishop was on a commission which investigated conditions of Paint and Cabin crews. He was agreeable surprised by the living conditions of the miners.

"Of course we found no Turkish rugs but we did find fairly comfortable workmen's homes," said he. "Were the men contented?" asked Senator Kenyon.

FREIGHT AND PASSENGER TRAFFIC TIED UP ON MOUNTAIN DIVISION

Twenty-Four Trains Containing Nearly Seven Thousand Travellers Held by Slide in Kicking Horse Canyon and Washout of Bridge on Canadian Pacific Railway

AMERICAN WARSHIP ORDERED TO PROCEED

Commander Will Tell Belligerents to Conduct Fighting Outside City Limits

RAILROAD CONTROL IS CAUSE OF THE STRIFE

Revelstoke, Sept. 8.—Both passenger and freight traffic on the mountain division of the C. P. R. are badly congested as a result of the railway bridge at Albert canyon being washed out on Thursday last, while a rock slide near Glenogle, in the Kicking Horse canyon, which occurred Saturday night, complicates matters still further.

The slide which occurred in the Kicking Horse canyon at a point ten miles east of Golden was one of the worst in the history of the road, while the traffic blockade which resulted has never been equalled. Twenty-four passenger trains containing nearly seven thousand travellers, were delayed from five to one hundred hours, while the number of freight cars standing on the various sidetracks and in the yards of this division totals over thirty-five hundred.

A number of the eastbound trains have been diverted to the Arrow Lakes branch and Crow's Nest, while others have been consigned to allow the return to Vancouver of sufficient equipment to keep the terminal clear.

Five eastbound trains which were held at this station Saturday afternoon, as it was expected the line would be cleared, but it may be necessary to bring them back here to feed the passengers or transfer them south over the lakes.

C. P. R. officials claimed that the mud and rock slide on the main line would be cleared away early to-day, and the tie-up of traffic which has existed since Thursday last will be at an end.

GERMANY CREATES NEW NORTH SEA ISLAND

HELIGOLAND IS NOW GREAT NAVAL FORTRESS

London, Sept. 8.—Germany has created a new island in the North sea. It lies off the lower part of Heligoland and is half as big as that island. The materials for creating the new island are being sent from Germany.

Heligoland is very seldom visited, as it is devoted entirely to military works, and every arrival is watched with suspicion. A correspondent of the Daily Mail, on revisiting Heligoland after two years, records the discovery of the new island which, he says, shelters small cruisers, destroyers, submarines and torpedo boats.

He describes Heligoland as having been changed in an astonishing manner. It has become a great naval fortress with huge Krupp guns which command all approaches from the sea.

SPECULATE ON PLANS OF GENERAL HUERTA

JEROME PRESENT ON CHARGE OF GAMBLING

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—Charge O'Shaughnessy's public declaration at the Mexico City embassy that no assurances had been given him that Huerta would not be a candidate at the coming elections and authoritative declarations here that such assurance had been given aroused a disposition in some quarters to question whether Mr. O'Shaughnessy and the state department were working in accord, but officials denied flatly that there was any friction.

Diplomats regarded Mr. O'Shaughnessy's denial as being required by the political situation in the Mexican capital, and the administration view is that Huerta will not be a candidate.

The understanding is that Mexico City alone prevents Huerta becoming a candidate to succeed himself, and thus avoid appearances of having acceded to the American proposal.

Havana, Sept. 8.—Manuel de Zamacona, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, arrived here to-day on the steamship Esperanza from Vera Cruz. He immediately transferred to the steamer Prince George, bound for Key West.

Senator Zamacona said that the report that he was going to Washington as the special representative of President Huerta is untrue.

"I am going to the capital on purely private business," he said. Further than this, he declined to talk.

Vera Cruz, Sept. 8.—Provisional President Huerta apparently meant all he said when he declared on Tuesday last that the Mexican government would furnish first-class transportation for American refugees. It was announced to-day at the customs house here that Americans may obtain money sufficient to pay the difference between the first-class passage and that provided by the United States government through W. W. Canada, the American consul at Vera Cruz.

THAW CASE MAY TAKE TWO YEARS TO DECIDE

Ottawa, Sept. 8.—Dominion officials here foresee a delay of possibly two years before final decision of the Thaw case. The litigation, in their opinion, undoubtedly will be carried through the Dominion courts to the privy council in England, where the final verdict will be written. Only this verdict is given, the immigration officials believe the courts will not permit the deportation of Thaw, and he will remain on Canadian soil.

AUSTRALIA BUILDING ON SOUND PRINCIPLE

Admiral Patey Says Naval Policy of Commonwealth is Right One

INDEPENDENCE NEED NOT CLASH WITH UNITY

Antipodean Commander Considers Admiral Henderson's Statement Excellent

IS GIVEN ROUSING SEND-OFF AT DURBAN

London, Sept. 8.—Admiral Patey, commanding H. M. A. S. Australia, was given a rousing send-off at Durban, South Africa, yesterday. The admiral, in an interview, was emphatic in declaring that the naval policy adopted by Australia was undoubtedly the right one. It was based, he said, on a sound principle, that of the growth and size of the Commonwealth. Of course, Admiral Patey said, the Dominions have to decide for themselves the best way in which they can contribute to the Empire's defence and what is suitable for one Dominion may not suit another.

The distance from the motherland, the length and character of the coasting and strategic position and population, all have to be considered as factors in deciding what is to be done, but he considered Admiral Henderson's statement excellent and most soundly built up.

The individual independence of the Dominions overseas need never clash with the unity of the Empire as a whole. Admiral Patey scouted the idea that the British sailors would be more favorably treated than the Australians.

"I said when the ship was commissioned," he pointed out, "that there should be no line drawn between the Australians and the Englishmen, and no comparison has been made so far as I could insure it."

"There are officers and men of the Royal Australian navy, and when I arrive in Australian waters I shall have a certain number of ships under my command and most of them newly-commissioned. I shall treat them in the same way as I should a similar squadron under my command in England."

LADY SHAUGHNESSY ILL, C. P. R. PARTY RETURNS

President of Railroad Takes Special Back From Moose Jaw, Others Continue West.

Vancouver, Sept. 8.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., was due to arrive here to-night by the 11:30 train, accompanied by several directors of the railway. At Moose Jaw on Saturday, however, Sir Thomas received a wire apprising him of the serious illness in Montreal of Lady Shaughnessy. The president immediately ordered another special train, and returned east. The directors, headed by R. B. Angus, president of the Bank of Montreal, continued their journey westward.

Montreal, Sept. 8.—Lady Shaughnessy underwent an operation Saturday at the Royal Victoria hospital following illness which developed suddenly last week. To-day she was reported doing well, and progressing satisfactorily. Doctors Armstrong, Roddick and Keenan operated.

MRS. PANKHURST'S VISIT IMMIGRATION MATTER

United States Officials Gathering Information About Militant Career of Suffragette.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 8.—Before Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the British militant suffragettes, can be admitted to the United States in October, the time set for her coming, the immigration authorities will decide whether any of the acts for which she has been imprisoned in England constitute moral turpitude within the meaning of the law and make her an undesirable alien.

She will be detained at whatever port she lands, but whether eventually she may be permitted to enter cannot be foretold. To the immigration authorities, Mrs. Pankhurst's visit presents at this time purely a hypothetical question, and they decline to pass on it in advance. Officials of the department of labor now are seeking all obtainable information concerning the British suffragette's militant activities that may have a legal bearing on her right to admission to the United States.

ALL FARMING HELP IS NOW THROUGH WINNIPEG

Fifty Thousand Men Distributed Yet Farmers Still Call for Aid to Gather Crop.

Winnipeg, Sept. 8.—All the eastern farm help for the harvest fields for the prairie provinces is now through the city and passed on to the points at which the men are to work.

With over fifty thousand men, according to a careful estimate of the floating population from all sources now at work, the farmers of the three provinces, but particularly Saskatchewan, are still calling for aid, and the immigration authorities as well as the special representatives of the different governments, are considering if anything can be done to produce a further supply of men.

The C. P. R. ticket offices in the distribution shed on Maple street, have sent over 1,300 men for points in the west between Saturday and this morning, and the Grand Trunk Pacific officials state that approximately five hundred have been dealt with by them, while the C. N. R. have issued over 300 tickets, on the special 1-cent rate applicable to passengers on the excursions from eastern Canada.

AUTO SAFETY COUNCIL APPOINTED AT CHICAGO

One Hundred and Ten Killed in Accidents This Year; Mayor Hoffman Starts Remedy.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Coroner Hoffman's campaign to remedy conditions which have been responsible for 110 persons being killed by automobiles in this city this year already is meeting with results. Despite the fact that Sunday was fair and warm and thousands of automobiles sped over the boulevards, the casualty list was the lightest of any Sabbath during the summer. Only four persons were injured and none seriously.

The coroner asserted he believed pedestrians were more careful in crossing streets and that automobilists were showing more regard for the rights of those who walk.

The coroner to-day announced the personnel of his "safety council" of twenty-four representative citizens. This committee is expected to supervise and educate out of the increasing number of local automobile owners carelessness and the mania for high speed. It will extend its influence over street car and railroad traffic, especially the unprotected grade crossings.

STEPHANOVE DEFENDS ACTIONS OF BULGARIA

Professor of English Literature at Sofia Writes Explanation of Events in Balkans

New York, Sept. 6.—Constantine Stephanove, professor of English literature in the university of Sofia, Bulgaria, has written a letter to friends in New York in which he defends Bulgaria from the allegations freely made against her that she was the aggressor in the latest Balkan war, and that Bulgarian troops have committed a series of atrocities in southeastern Europe.

The letter is dated Sofia, where Professor Stephanove resides, and was written in August, shortly after the conclusion of peace at Bucharest. The writer begins by describing the isolation in which Bulgaria had found herself for several weeks past. Her enemies, Serbia, Roumania, Greece and Montenegro conspired to make it practically impossible for Bulgaria to communicate with the outside world during the first months of the fighting, taking advantage of this condition to circulate abroad a number of misleading and even mendacious statements concerning the progress of the war, all reflecting on Bulgaria. He then outlines the secret treaty concluded last May between Turkey and Greece, by which Greece guaranteed Turkey armed assistance for the reoccupation of Adrianople, Turkey in return pledging her support to Greece for the seizure of Thrace. The conspiracy of Serbia, Roumania, Greece, Montenegro and Turkey against Bulgaria is characterized as one of the most complete recorded in history, and a distinct and notable phase of this concerted action was the circulation of baseless and lying reports, all destined to injure Bulgaria in the eyes of the world, and which Bulgaria was at the time powerless to refute or deny. Continuing his interesting presentation of Bulgaria's side of the case, Professor Stephanove writes as follows:

"The charge that Bulgaria was the aggressor in this warfare, in which her former allies were arrayed against her, is unjust and untrue. Bulgaria did her utmost to persuade Serbia to fulfill the stipulations of the Serbo-Bulgarian treaty for the protection of Macedonia, but without success. It was for the freedom of Macedonia that Bulgaria engaged in the Balkan war. With her army still at Thessalonica and Gallipoli, she was thinking that Bulgaria should declare war upon her former allies.

"Serbia and Greece inaugurated a series of cruel attacks, meanwhile, upon the Bulgarian population of Macedonia. Thousands were imprisoned, maltreated, and many even suffered death. Other thousands escaped into Bulgaria. Then followed the Greek riots at Serres, Angista, Negritta, etc., in which many Bulgarian soldiers were killed from ambush by Greek bands. The Bulgarian outpost at Angista resisted, and in revenge the Greek general staff planned the attack on the small Bulgarian garrison at Salonica.

"There were other similar skirmishes on the border. What could Bulgaria do? She appealed to Russia, the arbiter of the Serbo-Bulgarian treaty, but Russia refused to act. She appealed also to the powers, but her cry was ignored. Serbia and Greece, fortified by their secret understandings with Roumania and Turkey, rapidly became unbearable in their attitude.

"Part of the Bulgarian troops at Adrianople and Tchataldja had been brought across the border into Macedonia by June 20. The burning and looting of the village of Zleto, by the Serbians, was the first serious incident to provoke war. A Macedonian leader named Arbez retaliated on the Serbians for this attack, and the following day the Serbians advanced against the regular Bulgarian army. The Bulgarian troops retaliated and drove their enemies back for a distance of twenty miles.

"The same day the fighting became general all along the border. Bulgaria was attacked by Serbians, Greeks and Montenegrins. Against the entire Greek army of 200,000 men Bulgaria had scarcely 30,000 men under General Ivanoff. Nevertheless, on the first and second days of the fighting, Bulgaria routed her enemies, inflicting tremendous losses.

"The defeat of the Serbians and the Greeks was complete, when to the consternation of the Bulgarian soldiers there came orders to stop fighting and return to their original positions. The order was a fatal one. The army cried bitterly when called upon to obey it. But Russia, who had promised to settle the differences between Serbs and Bulgarians, had to be obeyed. Bulgaria did obey, but not so Serbia. The Bulgarian envoys sent to tell the Serbians of the order were murdered.

"Then came a furious attack upon the Serbians, but Macedonia volunteers saved the day. This was followed by general fighting, with no decisive results. General Ivanoff made a successful retreat, inflicting awful losses on the Greeks. The Bulgarians opposed to the Serbians held their own, and even captured 3,000 Serbians. Bulgaria crossed the Serbian border and seized Knajevats, Zaitchar, etc., and cut the railroad which connected Belgrade and Macedonia.

SUITS, COATS AND EVENING DRESSES

Nemo

On Thursday next, September 11, at 8 p.m., Dr. Maude L. Dunne, Director Nemo Hygienic Fashion Institute, will give a free corset lecture, with charts and living models. It will not be a corset demonstration, but an instructive lecture which every woman should take advantage of.

For Autumn and Winter

This week gives every promise of being one of the eventful weeks of the year to those who would study style, and indeed nowhere can it be studied better than at "Campbell's"

Most Authentic Styles

Our Exclusive Display

Art of Tailoring

Evening Gowns and Dresses

The never-ceasing call for correct Tailored Suits and Coats is even greater than ever. Anticipating that unusual demand we lost no time in procuring hundreds of Fashion's most authoritative models—models that were purchased in person by our Mr. and Mrs. Campbell while in Europe and Eastern centres.

Our showing is undoubtedly the best we have ever made—best in point of style, best in quality and best in exclusiveness and value. Of course it has to be so to maintain our reputation of always being ahead with the smartest of ready-to-wear.

Perhaps no line of merchandise in the store shows so plainly our standard of excellence as do our Tailored Suits. Whether you buy the most modestly-priced, or most elaborate model we have, the true EXCLUSIVE style distinction is apparent in both, and then, too, the high-class tailoring is observed at a glance. Of course you expect to see such garments at Campbell's.

While perhaps it's a trifle early to elaborate upon Evening and Dinner Gowns we are nevertheless displaying some extremely beautiful European models—models upon which we will go into more details later. The influence of Paris is cleverly shown on several of them, and the new decorative ideas are so very charming.

This Season, as in Others, Campbell's Values Lead.

SWAM FROM SHIP IN ICE COLD WATER
Woman Passenger From Fairbanks Lay Fifty Hours on Beach Helpless.

Dawson, Sept. 5.—Mary Graham, the passenger on the steamer Alaska from Fairbanks to Dawson, who attempted suicide three nights ago by jumping overboard, swam ashore despite the swift current, in her night clothes. For over fifty hours the half-brazed woman lay cold and dying on the beach, until sighted and picked up by the steamer Schwatka, which is due here to-day. It is believed that the woman will live.

Arrivals from Donjek report that the steamers Pauline and Videtta were on Saturday discharging cargo twenty miles below Donjek and that the steamer Nasutlin is slowly ascending the stream thirty-eight miles further down.

Navigation is becoming more difficult, but stampedes are still leaving, although many are preparing heavy outfits to go to Chisana after the freeze-up.

HORSE RACING.

"The sport of kings" does not seem to be very high in favor just now judging from the criticism that is directed against it from all quarters outside of the circles directly interested in the game. Despite the plain intent of the Miller bill, whose provisions ostensibly are designed to limit the length of racing meets to seven days twice a year, a season of practically continuous riding extending over seventy days has been held in Vancouver. The Board of Trade of the Terminal City, estimating the effects of that saturnalia of horse racing, has reached the conclusion that the results are wholly evil. Of course the board deals with the matter entirely from a business point of view. That is the aspect with which its members are directly concerned. Some twenty-five years ago we had a sixty-day meet in Victoria, and our recollection of the matter is that our business men reached practically the same conclusion as the Board of Trade of Vancouver in regard to the effects upon business of the prolonged racing season. So we may reasonably conclude that from the point of view of pure business—excepting of course the business of all those directly connected with the so-called "sport of kings"—horse racing as it is carried on in this part of the world is not greatly to be desired. Our conclusion is, of course, based upon the assumption that if a long period of racing, with its attendant evils of betting, etc., is deleterious in its effects upon business, then a shorter period of the sport must also be undesirable, although the opportunities for working the demoralization complained of are limited to a shorter space of time. So much for horse racing from the standpoint of its effects upon business. There is no question whatever that a considerable proportion of our population, notwithstanding the experience they have undergone and what has been made public respecting the methods of conducting meets, still cherish the delusion that it is "the sport of kings." If they had eyes to see they would perceive, we believe, that the racing on this coast is the very tawdriest circus imitation imaginable of imperial sport. The same strings of horses swing around the circuit and perform the same "stunts," with such variations as serve to keep up appearances, from day to day. That was the reason nearly every state in the American union put a ban on horse racing. They considered it merely an instrument in the hands of gamblers, like a pack of cards in possession of a deft manipulator, for first stimulating the appetite of the public in the betting game and then fleecing it. One reason why we have prolonged racing seasons on this side is that they have been killed on the other side. Under the circumstances, if it is possible to stop evasion of the obvious intent of the law and to limit the duration of meets to the statutory period, we hope the authorities will act and succeed in their action.

OUR LANGUAGE?

It sounds very much comme il faut to say "I was sitting in the tonneau in the garage," but if you should say you were sitting in a barrel in your stable your friends would elevate their eyebrows—Colonel. We think so too. It certainly would not sound comme il faut to say you were sitting in a barrel in your stable. Worse than that, it would be a damaging admission. No sober person sits in a barrel in a stable. Such a thing in a respectable citizen would be tres gauche et outre. There are many phrases composed entirely of Anglo-Saxon words which do not seem—ah—quite comme il faut. But pourquoi soit-il? Evidently it is the use of the French words in the first part of the sentence we quoted that makes it sound so comme il faut. Still, for ourselves, we prefer the use of plain Anglo-Saxon under all circumstances, even if it manquer l'aisance de la belle langue française.

POOR BUSINESS.

After reading a full page advertisement in a London newspaper of the glorious opportunities in the way of real estate investment at one of our thriving prairie towns, we are convinced that the easiest thing in the world is the making of a fortune. We know this to be true, because the advertisement in glaring type assures us of the fact. Of course, the assurance is not intended for us but for the readers of the London paper, but we do not see any valid reason why Canadians should be excluded from this Eldorado; why they should not be permitted to pick up some of the "wonderful fortunes" lying in a glittering heap on the prairie. The beauty of the opportunity is its spacioussness. It has room for everybody from the humble wage-earner to the bloated capitalist. There you have the spirit of real western democracy and intolerance of class distinctions.

There is a provision for the small saver, another for the small investor, and another for the capitalist. And all this is in the "most wonderful city in the world." The figures show a growth "almost like Aladdin's palace." The town is "The Pittsburg of Canada." It is "the greatest milling centre in the British Empire." The population is "increasing so rapidly that hundreds of people have to live in tents, as it is impossible to build houses fast enough." As showing the possibilities of the offer of the promoters, the public are reminded that at another place a few days since a block of land which twenty-one years ago was sold for $25 recently changed hands for $500,000. We have no doubt as to the real progress and true prospects of the growing city honored with such an abundance of superlatives, but it is flashy advertisements of this character which do the country an inconceivable amount of damage. It is suicidal to lure money to this country from the Old Country under false pretences, and the unfortunate feature of the situation is that substantial, bona fide propositions suffer in common with the fakes. The tendency of these promotion shrieks also is to attract workmen to Canada as at a time when there is no guarantee of work for them even in the most extraordinary cities in the world, and the result is deplorable. "Canada has reached a stage in her growth when she should pray to be delivered from the operations of unscrupulous boomsters.

SOUND AND WISE.

Admiral Patey, commander-in-chief of His Majesty's Australian navy, declares that Australia has adopted the right naval policy. Time will show that when the Commonwealth abandoned the policy of contributions in favor of an organization of her own she took the only course a growing, self-respecting British dominion could take. Not only is she developing an effective fighting imperial arm in the southern Pacific but, what is more important, she is stimulating the national spirit, pride and enthusiasm of her people.

The development of the means of self-defence is a manifestation of a nation's progress. It is part of its growth just as are the development of the various public services. They all flourish in the same soil, and each must be considered as an integral part of the whole. This is the light in which military defence is viewed. Each dominion is organizing its defences on land, and maintaining control over them. But we know that in time of imperial need these land forces are freely placed at the disposal of the motherland, and there is not the slightest doubt that the same would be done with the dominion navies. Otherwise Anglo-Saxons would not be true to the traditions of their race.

Australian statesmen in their naval policy have not overlooked the economic aspect. Shipbuilding is one of the direct results of that policy, and this industry already has had a fair start. Before many years the Pacific will be the scene of immense activity in the mercantile marine. We predict that it will not be long before the Australian yards will be constructing large vessels to ply on this ocean. This will cause the opening up of the immense iron deposits known to exist in different parts of the country, to be accompanied by the establishment of those industries which always follow the development of shipbuilding. So it will be seen that in organizing her own defence at sea Australia is furnishing a big impulse to industrial activity. Besides arousing national spirit and patriotism she is doing something that will contribute very substantially to her material progress. She is not inviting immigrants from the Old Country, and then taxing them to send millions abroad for the construction of ships they will never see.

WHAT THE ACT SAYS.

Section 3 of the Canadian Immigration Act says: "No immigrant passenger, or other person, unless he is a Canadian citizen, or has Canadian domicile, shall be permitted to land in Canada, or in case of having landed in or entered Canada, shall be permitted to remain therein, who belongs to any of the following classes:

(a) Idiots, imbeciles, feeble-minded persons, epileptics, insane persons and persons who have been insane within five years previous."

Harry Thaw has been adjudged insane and committed to the Mattewan insane asylum. It was his only avenue of escape from the electric chair. He comes clearly within the scope of the act aimed directly at people of his class. And yet the offices of the Canadian government must mark time while batteries of lawyers multiply legal technicalities and endeavor to tangle up the machinery of our immigration service. The judges who issued the order restraining the deportation of Thaw did so in deference to the following argument as telegraphed over the wires:

In their argument the lawyers attacked the constitutionality of the colonial immigration act on the ground that it was a contravention of the natural law granting to every one the right of free locomotion; that it was abusive in character, as it tended to take away the remedies under common law—remedies which were secured under the Magna Charta; and because in the Thaw case it had been abusively made use of by the immigration officials in that they had seen fit to get on a board of enquiry without any complaint having been lodged with the minister of the Interior, in accordance with the prescriptions of law."

Obviously it is the intention of Judge Stone, of Pennsylvania, who is directing the case of Thaw through his corps of highly-paid Montreal legal luminaries, to attack the constitutionality of the immigration law and drag it through its devious way to the Privy Council. The judge who issued the latest writ need not have exercised himself over the fact that W. J. Jerome has come to Canada to watch the proceedings in the interests of his state. He has engaged Canadian counsel, as he perforce had to do, which is precisely what the Thaw family adviser has done, the difference being that Thaw once thoroughly subscribes to the dictum that "in a multitude of counsellors there is wisdom."

Nearly six million dollars' worth of Toronto securities were sold in New York in one month. Sounds incredible, to be sure. But apparently the capitalists of the American city were willing to pay higher prices than the market of London, hence our desperately loyal city of Toronto decided to have "some truck and trade with the Yankees." But if a farmer wanted to sell a sack of potatoes or a barrel of apples in the same place, the foundations of the Empire would be shaken.

No one after reading the arguments of Canadian lawyers engaged in the Thaw case and following in a general way the proceedings of the Quebec courts will have a higher opinion of the law. One luminary in the firmament of legal lore is reported to have remarked, "Well, we have got the better of Jerome!"

BITS OF WISDOM.

There is no substitute for thoroughgoing, ardent, sincere earnestness.—Dickens.

Trust not too much to an enchanting face.—Virgil.

Truth is as impossible to be sold by any outward touch as the sunbeam.—Emerson.

Within one's self must be the source of strength, the basis of consolation.—Marcus Aurelius.

You cannot dream yourself into a character; you must hammer and forge one yourself.—James Anthony Froude.

You will find it a safe rule to take a thing just as quick as it is offered, especially a job.—George Horace Lorimer.

MINDING YOUR OWN BUSINESS.

From the St. John Telegraph. Lincoln once said: "A nation should control what concerns it; a state of any minor political community should control what exclusively concerns it; an individual should control what exclusively concerns him." No one will doubt the political sagacity of this dictum, but many practical politicians are far enough from acting upon its wisdom.

MODERATE DRINKING.

(Montreal Telegraph.) Drink much or little, does affect a man. That is what he takes it for. And that is why our railway companies insist that all men having anything to do with operating trains shall be total abstainers. Moderate drinking has its dangers—altogether apart from the danger of its leading to immoderate drinking—for a man is drunk, more or less, when he has been drinking.

DARK DAYS.

PRESIDENT NOT COMING

Moore Jaw Will Be the Limit of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy's Tour.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will not come to the Coast on his present trip. According to information received this morning, Moore Jaw will be the limit of his Western trip. According to schedule, Sir Thomas was to arrive in Vancouver this week and come over to Victoria on the Empress of Asia, which he was thoroughly to inspect on the voyage over. The cause of the sudden change of plans was the illness of Lady Shaughnessy in Montreal. Sir Thomas also accepted an invitation from W. A. Blair, of the Vancouver Board of Trade, to deliver an address relative to cartage charges in Vancouver. His message, therefore, comes as a great surprise to both cities. Sir Thomas had with him a very influential party of officials, including George J. Bury, vice-president of the road. They are to visit the coast.

TO TALK OF BOOKS

Sir Gilbert Parker, M.P., is to Address Canadian Club To-morrow.

Sir Gilbert Parker, M.P., the well-known novelist and British parliamentarian, will address the Canadian Club of Victoria at 1 o'clock to-morrow in Alexandra Club. When asked by F. J. Sehl, secretary of the local organization as to the nature of the subject he would deal with in his speech, Sir Gilbert wired in reply that he was too engrossed to prepare a regular lecture, but he promised to give an informal talk on "Books and Kindred Subjects." Observations of such a nature by a litterateur of Sir Gilbert's calibre ought to be worth going many miles to hear, and it is pretty safe to assume that every available space will be occupied to hear the famous novelist.

SEE ACTING PREMIER.

Member for Delta and Dominion Official Bring Deputation to Victoria.

F. J. Mackenzie, M.P.P. in the Legislature for the constituency of Delta, arrived in the city this morning accompanied by Mr. Maber, Dominion superintendent of government lands in railroad zones, and a small delegation of settlers from Derby townsite, who are here to interview the acting premier with regard to some concessions. Mr. Mackenzie reports excellent condition of all crops on the Lower Mainland. The most prominent crop farmed in his constituency is oats, and these are now being rapidly harvested. The member for Delta reports also that the hay crops of the district have all been safely gathered in and comprise a better than average harvest.

TOOK FIVE FIRSTS.

The Royal Dairy of Victoria has been exceedingly successful with its equine entries in the Vancouver show. During last week a string of four horses were sent over from here to the Mainland and were entered in five classes, with excellent results to the company, for five first prizes were secured by them.

In the delivery wagon class, the local dairy company had three entries which carried off three firsts. Glowing Rose, an Irish pedigree mare, won a first prize; so also did Fallon, another splendid horse owned by the company, and the two together won the first prize in the team class.

Gold Dust, a thoroughbred pony owned by the Royal Dairy of this city, took first prize in two classes, coming out with premier honors in the high-stepping class, and also in the competition for the best pony in harness.

Our Formal Opening of the New Season in

FALL MILLINERY, COSTUMES AND COATS

Opening Exposition of Exquisite Fall Millinery

ALL women who are interested in smart Millinery should make a point of visiting our showrooms to-morrow, because it reveals all the latest approved models that the leading Parisian, London and other European artists have designed for Fall and Winter wear. You will find our assortment very wide and authoritative, and while we do not attempt at giving descriptions of the many shapes and styles here, a visit to the showroom will reveal much that will greatly interest and please you. Our experienced staff will be in attendance and at your service

New Fall Coats and Suits

There are so many interesting features about the new styles for Fall and Winter wear that nothing short of seeing the garments can give you any idea of their handsome appearance and beauty. We therefore extend to you a hearty invitation to come and see the special opening display of new and exclusive models which we have gathered from the leading fashion centres of the world.

Novelty Suits

The new Fall Suits are very handsome and the many novelty styles will appeal to all lovers of fashion. One of the most noticeable changes is seen in the length of coats. Thirty-six inches is the length most favored, but the real length is determined by the style of the suit. The cutaway effects are in the lead and much of the smartness lies in the graceful shaping of the cutaway lines and the slope given to the trimmed blunt point at the back. Many models show the blouse effect in front and are cut in one long panel at the back. The materials are unusually handsome and include broadened silk weaves, plain and fancy eponges, velours, two-tone cotels, Bedfords and ratines. The trimmings are of velvets, plushes, fur, braids and buttons.

New Fall Coats

Three-quarter and seven-eighth lengths in cutaway effects are in the lead and the tendency is for large, loose, comfortable styles. The materials are very handsome and come in rough tweed mixtures, curl cloths, chinchillas, eponges, broadened eponges, astrachan and blanket cloths. All colors in plain, two-tone and mixed tweed effects are to be had and in the higher-priced qualities the new Futurist and Cubist patterns are well represented. This season much attention has been given to the neck finish, most of the models showing are made to fasten well up to the neck but can be worn open if desired to form reverses. Very little trimmings are used and the collars in some models are finished with fur-plush or fancy velvet. Huge but handsome buttons in two-tone effects are mostly used.

Afternoon and Reception Dresses

We shall also show a very choice range of exclusive models in stylish Afternoon and Reception Dresses. These are in all the newest shades and patterns in crepe de chine, broadened silks and satins. They are mostly in the draped effects or with draped sides and full fronts to hip-line and plain skirt effects. Some are trimmed with very handsome hand-embroidered collars and cuffs and others with silk applique and lace. There are absolutely no two alike and the prices range from $40.00 to $65.00.

Elaborate Evening Gowns

We are also showing a very handsome range of elaborate Evening Gowns shipped direct from Paris. There are no two gowns alike and they come in broadened silks in Futurist patterns, and others in floral designs. All are lined with silk or satin and are in the three-quarter draped effects. The exquisite colorings, materials and patterns can only be appreciated by seeing.

Act is Sustained.—In order to test the definition of the timber manufacture clauses of the Forest Act the Excelsior Lumber Company entered an action against the province in regard to some single bolts which the company contended were manufactured lumber, while the forest department held that they were unmanufactured and therefore could not be exported from the province. Mr. Justice Clement heard the case and he has decided in line with the contention of the government. He says the lumber in its present form is not a finished product in the sense that it can be put in any permanent use without further process.

Successful Fair Held.—The two days' exhibition of fruit and vegetables held last week at Cobble Hill proved a most successful undertaking, according to W. P. Robertson, of the department of agriculture, who returned on Saturday after acting as judge of the fruit and vegetables. The poultry display was particularly fine, although, owing to the early season, it was impossible to show a full line of vegetables and large fruit.

Case Dismissed.—In Saanich police court James B. Peacock was acquitted of the charge of theft of some pieces of packing-cases which Isaac Culross said he had taken from his property while complainant was with the troops at Nanaimo. Peacock said he found the lumber on the roadside. The case was dismissed but he was advised to be more careful about what he picked up. Chief Constable Little conducted the prosecution.

More Books Arrive.—The following books have just been added to the Booklovers' Library: The Embassy, Wm. Wriothley; Conflict Between Love and Morality, McCarthy; More; Eldorado, Baroness Orczy; Honor of the Clintons, Rex Beach; Isle of Thorns, Sheila Kaye-Smith; Laddie, Gene Stratton Porter; Passion Fruit, Charles Vivian; Round the Corner, Gilbert Cannan; So It is With the Damsel, Nora Wynne; Story of Mary Dunne, M. Band Concert.—Many citizens took advantage of the fine weather yesterday to hear the band of the Fifth Regiment play at Beacon Hill. A pleasant and popular feature of the summer Sunday afternoons is the playing of this fine musical organ in the park. Under the guidance of Bandmaster Rogers it is maintaining a high standard of excellence. At yesterday's concert a varied programme was rendered, including selections from "Aida" and "The Arcadians," and works of Paderewski, Ganne, Adam and Clement.

Intertid Given Jail.—John McCleave, an intertid, was arrested on Pandora avenue by License Inspector Scott for intoxication. McCleave was asked by the police magistrate where he had got the liquor and told the same old story he has asked the court to believe before, that a stranger had given him a drink out of a flask. Oddly enough, this particular stranger went "over the water" the night before just as all the others have. Magistrate Jay told the man that he had not believed him on former occasions and did not believe him now. McCleave was sent to jail for one month for refusing to disclose where he got the liquor.

Twisted His Ankle.—Robert Warm, during an altercation in a bar on Saturday afternoon, was pushed over by another man and in falling his right leg was twisted under him and two bones above the ankle fractured. First aid was given him by Driver Walton, of the police ambulance, and Jailer Brogan, and he was taken to the Royal Jubilee hospital. Warm's story was that the bartender had changed a bill for him and that while the money lay on the counter someone appropriated a dollar bill. He accused the man with whom the altercation arose and in trying to attack him he was knocked over. While the police officers were attending to his injuries he came to the conclusion that he had made a mistake.

They have some vacancies for trombones, Clarinets, cornets and drums. Ladies and gentlemen who are proficient are cordially invited. Object mutual improvement. No fees.

Probate Granted.—In chambers this morning before Chief Justice Hunter probate was granted of the wills of the late Mary Salmon and the late Mrs. McHugh.

Again Accused.—Edward Spilker, canvasser for a motor trolley, was again in the police court this morning on a charge of making an unnecessary noise while soliciting fares. A remand was granted until to-morrow.

Shot White Crow.—A fine snow-white crow was shot on Glenbrook ranch, Savona, B. C., by Leslie Leighton on September 4. It has been brought to Victoria to be mounted and exhibited in the public museum for a month or so.

Militia Case Proceeds.—The case laid against W. F. C. Pope, secretary of the school board, by Captain R. V. Harvey, who alleges that the school official dissuaded Lieut. Wilby from the performance of his militia duties, is proceeding in police court this afternoon.

Men Return From Nanaimo.—Two of the post office assistants who were sent to Nanaimo with the local regiments, returned last week, but five others are still absent, although it is hoped that these will be able to return to their usual occupation before the end of the present week.

New Post Offices Opened.—Four new post offices were opened in the province during the past month, and four closed. Those which opened are at Lakelse, Hilliers Crossing (with two deliveries daily), Avola and Frazer town, the latter with a fortnightly service. The offices closed were at Swanson Bay, Ocean Falls, Cahilly and Vancouver Sub. No. 3.

Mails Delayed.—None of the eastern mails have arrived in the city for the past three days owing to the landslide at Albert Canon, and the local post office anticipates a busy time when they arrive. This, it is rumored, will be this afternoon or this evening. As something like twenty-four trains have been held up by the landslide, the amount of mail which has been held back is great.

Ministers Condemn Gambling.—At their opening meeting of the fall term this morning at 10 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A., Rev. Robt. Connell presiding, the Ministerial Association noted with pleasure the tone of the discussion now going on regarding the suppression of gambling prevalent in connection with horse-racing meets. In view of the discussion which will take place at to-night's council meeting the members of the association expressed the hope that the members of their congregations would give their moral support to this movement to suppress gambling, and, where possible, would attend the council meeting.

Intertid's Story.—Another intertid in Magistrate Jay's court to-day. He was held over until the business of the morning was finished and then he was placed in the witness box and given a chance to tell where he got the liquor on which he became intoxicated. He had not taken warning by the fate of an intertid on Saturday, who is now in jail for a month for refusing to give a truthful account of the source of his supply. An unknown man on the street was again the generous giver of a drink from a mythical flask. The magistrate will give the man a further opportunity this afternoon to tell something more definite than this flimsy and too-common excuse.

Majestic Theatre.—One of the best comedies that has been seen for a long time in the two part special feature Vitagraph that will be exhibited at the Majestic to-day and Tuesday. The play is entitled "The Feudists," and is chock full of laughter from beginning to end. Two families get into a quarrel over chickens and the seedlings they scratch up. A spite fence is built between their respective yards and a feud is started that keeps every one at the highest pitch of excitement. The only moment of the families that do not help on the warfare are the eldest son of the one family and the eldest daughter of the other. These two young people are hopelessly in love with one another and have stolen many kisses over the top of the fence. A small incident causes the warfare to be suddenly redoubled and a free for all long time in the two part special feature Vitagraph that will be exhibited at the Majestic to-day and Tuesday. LIGHTNING FLASHES AND THUNDER ROLLS

Prince George in Brilliant Electrical Display on Way South From Rupert

One of the most brilliant electrical displays which ever flashed over any part of this coast was witnessed by the officers and passengers of the G. T. P. steamer Prince George, Capt. Donald, while she was steaming south from Prince Rupert last Friday night. Accompanying the grand display of lightning was a violent thunder-storm and the reverberations shook the ship itself. Heavy hail squalls were met during lulls in the storm which raged overhead.

The weather had been nasty throughout the trip and on leaving Prince Rupert on Friday morning it was raining heavily. At noon that day, soon after the steamer had entered Grenville Channel, the thunder commenced to roar. The day became very dark and the vivid flashes of lightning could be made out distinctly. Some of the peals of thunder were exceptionally heavy and the big three-stacker trembled and shivered. As night drew on the storm increased in fury. The wind commenced to howl, and combined with the thunder and lightning and hail squalls, the night was a very nasty one, especially for the men on watch.

As Light As Day. The great sheets of lightning flashed in the inside channels were made as light as day. At times the flashes were so strong that the eyes of the mariners were blinded. After the thunder had rent the air for some minutes heavy hail squalls assailed the ship. Not until early on Saturday morning, when the Prince George was nearing Queen Charlotte Sound, did the violent storm subside. Owing to the grandeur of the storm many of the passengers sat up late on Friday night in the observation room and watched the elements in their glory.

The Prince George brought south a fair list of passengers, including Hon. W. Ross, minister of lands, and the governor, of the Dominion Indian department, accompanied by his wife, and Greer Starrett, manager of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company.

This morning the Prince George proceeded north to Prince Rupert and Stewart, and among the passengers who left here on the steamer were the following: Rev. H. A. Collison, H. Thompson, Lee Fong, S. P. Jacques, Rev. T. E. Hennege, G. F. Pritchard, and N. Demers.

MOTHER! THE CHILD IS COSTIVE, BILIOUS

If Tongue is Coated, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour, Don't Hesitate!

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at once—a teaspoonful to-day often saves a sick child to-morrow.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste.

Mother can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for "California Syrup of Figs"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

TACOMA TO FOLLOW CANADA BY ONE DAY

Osaka Liner Meets With Further Delay; Will Be Given Only Eight Days on Sound

There will not be another Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner in from the Orient until the beginning of next month and then two ships will berth, separated by only a day. Advice was received this morning by R. P. Rithet & Co., agents for this line of steamships, stating that the Canada Maru, Capt. Hort, had met with still further delays and would not sail from Yokohama until September 15, which will bring her into port on October 1. The Tacoma Maru, Capt. Hamada, will clear from the Japanese port the following day and will follow the Canada across the Pacific. She will not be able to overhau the delayed vessel.

The cause of the serious delays to the Canada Maru has not been given out, but it is understood that she has been quarantined at Nagasaki owing to another outbreak of bubonic plague. About one year ago the Osaka company experienced a similar delay, when two of its ships were held up, the Tacoma Maru at Nagasaki and the Panama Maru at Kobe.

On Sound But Eight Days. In order that the Canada Maru may soon be back on her schedule the stevedores will rush the work of loading and unloading the ship. It is intended to keep the liner on the Sound eight days, instead of thirteen days, as is usually the case. According to the Canada's schedule she should arrive here on September 17 and sail outward on September 26. She will be two weeks late in arriving here, but will pick up five days through her early departure from the Sound.

With the two ships clearing so close to one another it is expected that they will interfere with each other's cargo. The ships generally carry outward 7,000 tons of cargo, but it is not likely that shippers will hold their breath for the delayed Canada, preferring to discontinue their business with the steamer.

Collides With Fishing Boat in Fog

Vancouver, Sept. 8.—Bringing word of a collision, the halibut fishing steamer Flamingo, Captain Freeman, reached port at midnight and is at the dock of the New England Fish company with damaged plates following a smash with the G. T. P. steamer Prince Albert in Johnstone Strait during a dense fog at 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

The collision was luckily not a serious one, and both vessels proceeded on their voyage, reporting only minor damage and all above the water line.

WILL SHIP GLAZED FISH TO THE EAST

G. T. P. Boats to Have Refrigerators Filled on Trips; Starrett Comes South

Glazed fish is to be shipped in large quantities from Prince Rupert to the eastern markets in a short time, according to information just to hand. Greer Starrett, manager of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company, which has its headquarters at the northern terminus of the G. T. P., came south on the last trip of the steamer Prince George, and is now on his way to Chicago, Toronto and other eastern points in connection with the shipping of the glazed fish.

As the steamers Prince George and Prince Rupert are the only ships which have refrigerating plants on board, they will handle all the fish which leaves the Prince Rupert plant. The glazing of fish is a comparatively new method of shipping the foodstuff. Experiments have been carried out with it and everything has been found to work satisfactorily. The halibut or salmon, or whatever fish it may be, is dipped into a certain preparation which coats it with a layer of ice. The fish is then wrapped in papers and the whole thing then dropped into the preparations.

Refrigerators Necessary. In order that the fish may not suffer while in transit they have to be carried in cold storage plants. The only practical substitute for the refrigerators in the storing of the fish in seawater. The Prince Rupert and Prince George are able to handle two carloads in their cold storage plants, which will mean that four cars will be brought south every week.

Halibut fishing in the north has not been as good during the past week owing to the heavy southeast gales which have been sweeping over Hecate Strait. The trawlers, however, are keeping the staff at the big Rupert cold storage plant working full days. The new method of shipping the fish will take a little more time than the former schemes employed. The salmon and halibut were frozen in some cases and shipped in that state to the eastern markets. The glazing of the fish has proved a better way of preserving the fish.

BLAME GOVERNMENT FOR LOSS OF CALIFORNIA

Seattle, Sept. 8.—Finding that the failure of the government to chart correctly a portion of Gambier Bay, Alaska, was the direct and only cause of the wreck of the steamship State of California in those waters Sunday, August 17, completely exonerating Capt. E. H. Cann, Jr., and his associates from any blame in connection with the disaster; and highly complimenting the performance of the officers and the equipment of the ill-fated vessel; the official report of the board of inquiry which in this city investigated the wreck was forwarded Saturday to the department of commerce at Washington, D. C.

The disaster, as well as the loss of thirty-four lives, was declared in their opinion to have been unavoidable under existing circumstances. Led by the chart to believe that there were seventy-two feet, or twelve fathoms, of water beneath his vessel, Capt. Cann was entirely justified in assuming that the course was safe, the inspectors decreed.

In addition to this the findings of the divers who went to the scene of the wreck afterwards were also included, showing that the real depth of the water where the vessel struck was not more than fifteen feet.

Captain Cann's bravery and coolness immediately after the vessel had struck, as well as the obedience to orders of his subordinates, were made the subject of special comment in the report. Everything that could be done to save the passengers and the ship was undertaken, the board found.

While it was not included in the matter sent on to Washington, it was pointed out that the disaster is one of the first, if not the first, in the history of the Northwest where no blame was attached to any member of the crew or officers either before or after an accident had taken place.

S. S. PRINCE ALBERT

Vancouver, Sept. 8.—Bringing word of a collision, the halibut fishing steamer Flamingo, Captain Freeman, reached port at midnight and is at the dock of the New England Fish company with damaged plates following a smash with the G. T. P. steamer Prince Albert in Johnstone Strait during a dense fog at 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

The collision was luckily not a serious one, and both vessels proceeded on their voyage, reporting only minor damage and all above the water line.

LEFT DAY LATE BUT WILL DOCK ON TIME

Shidzuoka Maru Will Probably Set New Record for Nippon Trans-Pacific Fleet

When the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Shidzuoka Maru, Capt. Iriawa, arrives here on Wednesday next from the Orient, it is expected she will have made a new record for that fleet for the trans-Pacific voyage. Although she was reported to have cleared from Yokohama one day late, she is berthing here on schedule time. A wireless message was received this morning by W. R. Dale, local agent for the Nippon line, stating that the Shidzuoka would reach William Head at noon on Wednesday.

Owing to delays being experienced in getting cargo aboard at Oriental ports the Shidzuoka had difficulty in making her sailing dates and finally when she came to clear from Yokohama it was found that she was one day behind time. With fine weather, however, the officials of the company hoped that the liner would be able to pick up her schedule. She has been plugging along at increased speed and will reach Victoria a little over 13 days from the Japanese port, which is a good performance for a ship of her class. The regular time for the passage in the summer time is fourteen days.

The Shidzuoka has 37 tons of general merchandise for Victoria. Five saloons and 35 staterooms passengers will disembark at this port, according to a wireless from Capt. Iriawa.

To-morrow afternoon at 6 o'clock the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Sanuki Maru, Capt. Noma, will leave Victoria for the Orient on her last voyage. Her place in the trans-Pacific service will be taken by the Inaba Maru, which was withdrawn about seven months ago to assist in handling the great rush of travel between the Orient and the Antipodes. The Sanuki is getting to be an obsolete ship for the trans-Pacific business, as her passenger accommodation is rather poor and her cargo-handling facilities are not of the best.

A Weak Heart

"An interesting British report suggests that science has prolonged the lives of very young city folks, but not of the middle-aged. A series of tables compiled from reports of the Registrar-General and covering seventy years shows that for males between five and ten years of age the death rate has declined sixty-four per cent, while for those between forty-five and fifty-five years of age it has declined only three per cent—mortality. For both men and women between the ages of forty-five and sixty-five there is no decrease in the death rate. Doctor Newsholme finds that for both men and women in this period of middle life disease of the heart and blood-vessels were registered as the causes of about one-third of the total deaths.

"Apparently, then, for those who reach middle life in fairly good physical condition the heart is the chief source of danger. Fortunately everybody knows that excessive use of intoxicants and tobacco and coffee weaken the heart.

"At this season, when New Year's vows are falling like leaves of autumn, we abstain from urging anybody to stop drinking or smoking or overindulgence in coffee. Go ahead—if you think your heart will stand it!"

Y. M. C. A. CAMPERS ONCE AGAIN BREAK CAMP

THE SUNDAY MID-DAY MEAL

One of the most successful camps ever held in or about Victoria came to a close on Saturday afternoon when the happy family of Y. M. C. A. campers rolled up their mattresses and blankets, packed their boxes, dropped their tents and returned to their homes in the city. There was a sad feeling in everyone's heart as once again he bade farewell to the old camp site at the Gorge, which for the past nine years has been the scene of the activities of the fresh-air seekers during the summer months.

The 30 campers pitched their tents on June 1, and had it not been for the rather disagreeable weather during the earlier part of the present week, they would probably have remained under canvas for some time longer. While the campers are all employed in town, the time in camp has been spent in a most profitable way. The open air has benefited all, good healthy tans being possessed by the whole family. Swimming has been indulged in to a great extent, canoeing has been one of the chief pastimes, and at intervals the campers went on "hikes" for the week-ends.

On Friday evening the last supper was held, and owing to the anticipation of an elaborate spread only a couple of campers were entered on the "pickers" list. The meal was a sumptuous one—at least sumptuous when compared with those on all preceding nights—and consisted of seven courses. A huge bon-fire, which is one of the specialties indulged in by the campers, was started after the banquet, and an effigy of one of the "pickers" was burned at the stake.

Early Saturday morning the camp was all a-bustle, everyone getting a start before heading off for the city, in order to lessen the arduous duties of the afternoon. Greatly the campers regretted to let go their ridge-poles with such fine weather prevailing. However, the happy family accepted their fate. During the three months the young men have been mentored together in a friendship which can only be gained through intimate contact with one another. Everyone has announced that he will be on hand for next year's camp, providing he does not leave town or enter the promising ranks of the benefactors. As the last embers of the great fire were dying on Friday evening the campers united in singing "Auld Lang Syne."

The "coo-hies," which have been heard across the waters at nights have been silenced for another year, the famous water-carrying craft, known as "Sloppy Lig," which has gained much notoriety on the Gorge Bay, has been taken to her winter moorings, and the camp site has once again resumed its natural appearance.

While in camp one of the campers was addressed by his Christian or surname. Every one had a cognomen. It is interesting to learn what appropriate nicknames the campers were given: Manager Thomas Webster, was not permitted to have one; Wallace McKell, "Wrinkle"; Stanley Young, "Umphas"; F. Denny, "Bunty"; G. Wilderspin, "Pinkie"; Clifford Robinson, "Curly"; J. Fuller, "Tippy"; W. Plumb, "Pep"; shortened from perpendicular; Archie Wilks, "Garibaldi"; E. Crompton, "Kettle"; T. Dines, "Two Nickels"; D. McDonald, "Coney"; A. Clarke, "Rastus"; Nat Harris, "Pop"; Al. Dowell, "Half-a-Mo"; G. Peachey and F. Peachey, "Peaches and Cream"; G. Elliott, "Burns-Cork"; W. S. M. Shadwell, "Shad"; F. Pollard, "Polly"; W. Shepherd, "Shephie"; N. Siminster, "Simmie"; Sid Hendra, "Goll Ding"; Dal Davies, "Duped"; Al. Hodges, "Saw-off"; W. Alcock, "Smiler"; Nat Collins, "Brutus"; H. Moody, "Sankey"; Wm. Mann, "Major," and W. Erickson, "Hayrick."

CAMPERS LISTENING TO A STORY

OLD HALL IS CLOSED

Equimait Methodist Congregation Holds Last Services Before Entering New Church.

Interesting addresses marked the occasion of the last services in the Equimait Methodist hall, corner of Constance avenue and Esquimalt road, which was used yesterday for the last time. With the opening on Thursday of the new church at the corner of Admiral and Loyal roads, the congregation will pass into its new quarters, and the interest taken in the closing of the old hall yesterday proved the need of the larger edifice, as the building could scarcely accommodate the people who came to the three services.

The pastor, Rev. Mr. Keyworth, conducted the morning services at 11 o'clock, and Mr. McAdam, the recording-steward of the church, gave an address on the church extension work. Mr. Keyworth's address was appropriate to the occasion, the minister speaking of the responsibility of the old members of the congregation to the new church, and pointing out that the mission of the church was to guard against the dangers of materialism, pseudo spirituality, etc., and to keep a distinct revelation of the highest Truth always before it. Mrs. Keyworth sang the morning solo.

In the afternoon an open session of the Sabbath school was addressed by W. J. McAdam, who spoke of the work of the school, following by giving a "forelook." Miss Allen sang a solo which was much appreciated.

Two addresses were given at the evening services, both F. R. Wright and J. F. McAdam referring to the value of the organization, the Equimait Methodist church, to the community, and the splendid work which it had accomplished since its inception two years ago. Mr. Keyworth concluded by adding that it was not the amount of members which counted so much as the contribution which the church made to a solution of the real problems of life; only by this measure could the church justify its presence in Esquimalt. Miss Ivy Miller gave a solo at the evening services, while Mr. Voyce and Mrs. Keyworth sang a duet, the services concluding with the singing of the Doxology.

PINPRICKS AND SKIRTS.

To the Editor: Hello, sir, wake up! They're shooting at you from the galling page of the paper you know so well. Well, I mean the one that always has a statesman or two in leading strings for exhibition, and the admiration of the readers. They (the statesmen) submitting to the indignity, for the good of the cause. I knew well that little thing about "Napoleon" would get you into trouble, such as it was, although it caused so much amusement in Victoria.

One person (a Conservative) stated with unnecessary profanity that it was "one of the best things he had ever read." Yet the paper referred to cannot see anything in it but a "miserable pinprick."

In there no one else who has had a "heavy responsibility resting upon him and who has discharged it in a manner that receives commendation from every law-abiding citizen?" I think I could mention at least one who is more deserving of all this eulogium in connection with the recent strike, than Mr. Bowser, and I am quite as good a Judge of such things as the person who has the job of firing on the Times from the galling page referred to. Your contemporary thinks such "pinpricks" are likely to prove very mischievous. But does not show in what way. Now take the most important of the so-called "pinpricks," as a test, viz: "that all Victoria and Nanaimo should not have been informed in the most public way possible of the contemptible movements of military and police, and always in the first person—"I will do this and I will do that."

In what way, may I ask the self-constituted dictator, will this particular "pinprick" prove mischievous? I should have thought it would have had quite the contrary tendency, for which every fair and reasonable man will thank the Victoria Times.

When writing in this way I would like it to be understood I completely dissociate myself from politics; never giving them a moment's consideration. This is a new departure, and almost as startling as the very latest in skirts, which might be called the "vanishings" or, as Punch will probably have it, "the climber's skirt." This arrangement appears at first sight to the uninitiated, to be a mechanical contrivance to gradually convert an ordinary skirt, during a walk, into the same dimensions, and with the same effect, as a Highlander's kilt. But lighter and cooler, there being only one garment of a thin material.

DRUG VENDOR JAILED.

On Lee Gets a Second Term for Having Cocaine in Possession.

City Analyst Birch gave the police magistrate the result of his analysis of the drug found on On Lee when the Chinese was arrested by Detective Turner in his shack in Theatre Alley on Thursday afternoon.

There was no doubt about the drug being cocaine. Mr. Birch said it was hydro-carbonate of cocaine, the usual form in which it was sold as being more solid than the alkaloid itself. There were five or six grains in the packet handed him by the detective, and this was sufficient for a great many doses.

Detective Turner told of finding both cocaine and opium on the accused.

On Lee had the usual excuse of the Chinese who are found with any of these drugs, that he had it for use as medicine. He got it from Lee Chung and Lee Chung got it from On Ow. Where the latter secured it he was not able to tell the court.

"I got the opium habit and the doctor gave me cocaine to cure it," pleaded the accused.

The magistrate remarked that he would have to get another drug to overcome the cocaine, and thought that one month in jail would be about the thing to do it. It will not be On's first term for the same offence.

Another scientist condemns the light bottle

We reprint an extract from his opinion rendered in the interest of science.

"The beer in the white glass bottle had taken on disagreeable odor and taste and was absolutely undrinkable. The beer in the dark bottles did not show this peculiar odor and taste." (G. Beck.)

Translation of Extract from Zeitschrift für das Gesamte Brauwesen, 1882—page 370.

Dr. Robert Wahl quotes Beck in corroboration of his own opinion, to the effect that beer in light bottles will become undrinkable when exposed to light.

ENTRIES TO CLOSE... A wire was received this morning by Secretary Sangster of the Agricultural Fair, to the effect that a well known Jersey breeder of Ontario had shipped yesterday 35 Jersey cattle for the Victoria fair. Inasmuch as all the exhibits have been signed up from the Vancouver fair and a host of other entries keep coming in every day it is now assured beyond a doubt that the livestock exhibits here will be twice as numerous as at the Terminal City. One entry of Holsteins received to-day was typewritten on a sheet of paper which was filled up for its full length of over 40 inches.

TEAMSTERS' EXTRA HOURS... A change in the method of handling the horses at the city stables is forecasted in an item of business which was discussed at the meeting this morning of the council committee appointed to deal with the minimum wage for civic employees. One of the members informed the committee that the city teamsters desire a half-holiday. This it was decided not to grant, as henceforth the men will be given eight hours pay for eight hours work. Under the present system the men have to attend to the stabling and feeding of their horses outside of working hours, and they feel that this extra work entitles them to a half-holiday. The committee decided, however, that it would be better to employ stablemen to care for the stables and horses, and they therefore propose to recommend against the half-holiday.
