To borrow any of the films listed on the following pages:

1. Note the method of distribution and the name and address of the distributor under which the film is listed. Write directly to that organization.
2. Note that rental costs or free availability is listed under each Government agency.
3. In practically all cases, exhibitors are asked to pay transportation charges to and from points of exhibition.
4. It is best to give an alternate choice of films if possible, and an alternate date. Definite dates must be given. Be sure that your first choice and alternate films are both from the same agency or distributor.
5. Try to make your requests for films at least three weeks in advance.
6. Specify whether you need 16mm or 35mm films. All of the films listed are sound productions. Do not attempt to run a 16mm sound picture on a silent projector.
7. If there is no express office in your town, please indicate the nearest town which does have express service.
8. Please return films promptly. Borrowers are held responsible for any damages.

Illustrates how the National Youth Administration's production training program is preparing thousands of women for war industries in such occupations as machine tool operation, mechanical inspection, assembly work, radio, as well as in health and hospital work.

WORK CENTERS FOR VICTORY (1 reel, 12 minutes) 16mm, sound, color (1941)

Shows the many work experience opportunities afforded boys and girls, white and negro, by the National Youth Administration. Shows scenes of "experience on the job" which enables thousands of youth to obtain work in private industry.

YOUTH, JOBS AND DEFENSE (1 reel, 12 minutes) 16mm, sound, color (1941)

Depicts briefly how the NYA is providing young people with practical experience and training for jobs in war industries--some of the 400,000 NYA youth who have gone into private employment in the last 12 months are shown at work in a large aircraft plant. Melvyn Douglas provides the commentary.

The following film was produced by the Illinois National Youth Administration, and may be borrowed by writing to the Regional Youth Administrator, Civic Opera Building, 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois:

YOUTH ON THE INDUSTRIAL FRONT (2½ reels, 25 minutes) 16mm, sound (1941)

Shows boys in training in radio, machine shops, and automotive experience. Also boys actually on the job in the production of war materials.

ABOUT FACES (1 reel, 15 minutes) 16mm, sound, color; 16 and 35mm, sound, black-and-white (1941)
(Free)

Entertaining subject on dental health. Follows "Danny" from the cradle to his induction in the Army, stressing importance of dental care.

Prints of the following film have been made available to all State Health Offices from which they may be borrowed. It will be shown exclusively under the supervision and authority of local health departments.

KNOW FOR SURE (Venereal Disease) (1 reel, 10 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942) (Free)

A very frank treatment FOR MALE AUDIENCES ONLY, particularly for men in camps and war industries. Deals with prophylaxis, diagnosis, and clinical treatment. Also gives attention to follow-up treatment, sources of infection, and community control. Made in Hollywood, produced by Darryl Zanuck, directed by Lewis Milestone, for the Public Health Service.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Mines

The Bureau of Mines has many films, both sound and silent, in both 16 and 35mm widths, depicting mining operations and related manufacturing processes. They show where minerals are found and how they are extracted from the earth, manufactured or refined into useful everyday products, utilized, and conserved. The films deal with such minerals and mineral products as aluminum, asbestos, abrasives, acetylene, coal, concrete, copper, glass, iron, steel, lead, gasoline, petroleum, nickel, sulphur, and related subjects. They are available to Governmental agencies, educational institutions, engineering and scientific societies, civic and business associations, clubs, churches, and other responsible organizations.

These films are produced and circulated under the direction of Allan Sherman, Chief, Information Division, Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C. The cost of production is paid by cooperating industrial concerns. The pictures are free from trade-marks, trade names, or other direct advertising material. Production is in charge of M. F. Leopold, Supervising Engineer, Motion Picture Production Section, Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C. Address inquiries concerning production and revision to him.

Distribution of the films is in charge of:

Louis F. Perry, Supervising Engineer
Graphic Services Section
Bureau of Mines Experiment Station
4800 Forbes Street
Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

A complete library of all pictures is maintained at the above address. For the convenience of borrowers distant from Pittsburgh, copies of certain films are deposited at sub-distributing centers, selected with regard to accessibility.

OBTAIN FILMS FROM YOUR NEAREST DISTRIBUTOR.

The following films are available from the distributors listed below. Distributors are permitted to make a service charge to the user not to exceed 50¢ for the first subject and 25¢ for each additional subject included in a single shipment. Transportation costs are additional. An attendance report card, stamped with your distributor's name, will be enclosed with each film shipment. Please fill them out and return them promptly to the Bureau of Motion Pictures, Office of War Information, Washington, D. C. No postage is necessary. 35mm sound prints are obtainable from the Office of War Information Film Unit, 35 West 45th Street, New York City.

*ALUMINUM (1 reel, 9 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1941)

This is the story of the "fateful metal"; importation of bauxite; transmutation into alumina and thence into aluminum sheeting and subsequently into fighting planes. This behind-the-scenes story of our most strategic metal is told in striking photography and eloquent commentary. Photographed on the Gulf Coast and at leading reduction and sheet-rolling plants, chiefly in the South.

BOMBER (1 reel, 10 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1941)

This subject shows the manufacture of the Martin B-26 medium bomber and suggests its speed and power as a combat plane. "As a production it ranks with the finest documentary films ever made. The camera work is excellent, with each frame a perfect photograph. A special commentary, written by Carl Sandburg, stresses power and certainty in its poetic composition."--The Hollywood Reporter.

*BUILDING A BOMBER (2 reels, 20 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1941)

This is an educational exposition on the building of the B-26 U. S. Army medium bomber, and is of considerable interest to engineering schools, vocational groups, and educational organizations eager to learn how our skyfighters are made.

*BUILDING A TANK (2 reels, 20 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942)

The speed-up of the tank production program is shown, giving technical detail regarding construction and processes involved in the manufacture of the M-3 medium tank.

*DEFENSE REVIEW NO. 3 (1 reel, 9 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942)

This film includes three 3-minute stories: RIVERBOAT, showing inland waterway transportation of defense products and raw materials; YOUNG EAGLES, showing air pilot training with emphasis on the Link trainer; FOOD FOR FREEDOM on the agricultural food supply for the United States and Great Britain.

DEMOCRACY IN ACTION (1 reel, 11 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942)

Shows the vast agricultural resources of this country; the democratic procedures followed by farmers in carrying out the AAA farm program; how these procedures are helping farmers to produce more of the foods needed in the war program.

LAKE CARRIER (1 reel, 9 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942)

This film shows the part played by lake freighters on the inland waterways carrying iron ore 1,000 miles to the steel mills of midwest industrial cities. Narration by Frederic March.

*MEN AND SHIPS (2 reels, 22 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1940)

This is a picturization of training officers and seamen in our growing merchant marine. Magnificent photography, a special score played by musicians from New York Philharmonic Symphony.

*POWER FOR DEFENSE (1 reel, 10 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942)

This film shows the variety of interesting uses of hydroelectric power in the Tennessee Valley. Production of munitions, shells, army shoes, aluminum, airplanes, uniforms, textiles, and other materials is shown. Photographed in the Tennessee Valley. Produced by the National Defense Advisory Commission in cooperation with the Tennessee Valley Authority.

RING OF STEEL (1 reel, 10 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942)

This dramatic subject pictures the American soldiers as they are now, carrying on the traditions of past accomplishment, and outlines the part of the American soldier in the growth of the nation. Narration by Spencer Tracy. Many scenes of battlegrounds famous in American history.

SAFEGUARDING MILITARY INFORMATION (1 reel, 10 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942)

This film was originally made by the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences as a training film for the U. S. Army, and is now being shown generally throughout the country. It stresses the importance of secrecy on the part of military personnel and workers engaged in defense activities, and shows the results of careless talk, dramatic scenes of ship explosion, sabotage, and disastrous events resulting from thoughtless revelation of information to the enemy.

SONG SHORTS (1/3 reel, 3 minutes, each) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942)

ANCHORS AWEIGH - Splendid background scenes of the Navy at sea stir the audience while Conrad Thibault sings the Navy song in a rousing manner. The audience joins in the last chorus.

KEEP 'EM ROLLING - A rousing, patriotic subject, with production scenes as a kaleidoscopic background for the song. The Rogers and Hart song is sung by Jan Peerce "off screen," and the audience is asked to join in the last chorus, with guiding words superimposed upon the film scenes of industry in action to "keep 'em rolling."

THE CAISSONS GO ROLLING ALONG - Robert Weede sings this well-known song of the Field Artillery, "off screen." Scenes of the Field Artillery in action make a stirring background. The audience is asked to join in the chorus.

TANKS (1 reel, 10 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942)

Graphically describes the manufacture of the M-3 medium tank. Photographed at the Chrysler Detroit Arsenal, Fort Knox, Kentucky, and an unnamed Eastern seaport. "The photography is magnificent, the musical score by Jack Schaindlin forms a meaningful background to the film; and Orson Welles reads a fine script with dramatic excellence. In telling the tale of how the M-medium tank is assembled, tested and shipped overseas, all the component factors are fused into an outstanding reel. Exhibitors will find the subject an exciting way of showing how our production plants are forging the 'armament of victory'. "--Film Daily.

*TARGET FOR TONIGHT (4 reels, 48 minutes) 16mm, sound

An account of an actual air raid by the Bomber Command of the Royal British Air Force. The picture begins with new aerial photographs of enemy territory brought back by reconnaissance planes. These disclose the objective to be raided. Then comes the staff planning, routine of preparing the bombers, getting weather reports, instructing the crews, and the tension of the evening take-off. From this point, the camera stays with the big Wellington bomber, named "F for Freddie," and its crew of six. "F for Freddie" reaches its destination, descends to bomb the target amidst a barrage of enemy anti-aircraft fire, and there is a spectacular explosion as the bombs find their mark. Its engine in trouble, its wireless operator wounded, the plane heads for home. The picture ends with the crew's report back to headquarters.

*THE NEW SPIRIT (1 reel, 7 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942)

A Walt Disney production for the Treasury Department, picturing Donald Duck learning how to help the war effort by paying his income tax.

*WOMEN IN DEFENSE (1 reel, 10 minutes) 16 and 35mm, sound (1942)

This is a topical exposition of the various roles women are assuming in the war effort. Principal sequences show women of science, women in industry, and women in the voluntary services. Commentary written by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and narrated by Katharine Hepburn.
