

FAREWELL ADDRESS

TO GLENDALE SOLDIERS, BY
REV. MCREA, FOR RED
CROSS CHAPTER

Young men of the American Army! It seems a far cry from this sunny paradise of Southern California to the free cities of ancient Greece six centuries before Christ, whether the distance be measured in miles or whether it be measured in years. But to understand the issues involved in the present great world war we must go in thought to that distant land in those days of 2500 years ago. For within the walls of those old cities there was born in the hearts of the Greek people the ideal of political freedom—the ideal of democracy, a Greek word which means the rule of the people, government, not by an autocracy, the rule of one, nor by an aristocracy, the rule of the few, but government expressing the will of all the people.

Imperfectly realized as it was, the birth of this ideal was the dawn of a new day for humanity. But scarcely had it begun to shape the civilization of the Greek peoples when a mighty military assault was made upon it by the autocratic and despotic power of Persia. Angered by the independent spirit of the Greek cities of Asia Minor and Greece, Darius, the Persian emperor, determined to destroy the political power of the Greeks and bring them under his rule, knowing that the principle of autocracy, which he represented, was menaced by the ideal of democracy for which the Greek people stood.

On the famous field of Marathon the issue was joined, in the year 490 B. C., and the armed hosts of Darius were defeated by the brave soldiers of free Athens and were driven back into Asia. A second attempt to destroy the freedom of Greece was made ten years later by Xerxes. At Thermopylae, the heroic Spartan army under Leonidas was destroyed and the cause of freedom seemed to be lost. But the Athenians took refuge within the "wooden walls" of their fleet and a few months later destroyed the Persian fleet at the decisive battle of Salamis. The Persian army retreated into Asia to return no more and Greece was left free to develop her wonderful civilization which has been the marvel and the example of the world to this day, a culture which only a free people could realize.

Centuries later under the iron rule of the Roman Empire, the principal of political freedom was apparently destroyed. But at the very height of Rome's power, just outside the walls of the distant city of Jerusalem the capital of a small Roman province, a strong, earnest young man was crucified because of the ideals which he held and preached to the common people, an attempt this time by an ecclesiastical autocracy to keep the principles of truth and freedom from the masses. One of the richest gifts which Christ gave to the world by his life and death was the ideal of religious liberty, the worth of every human soul in the eyes of God, and the right of each one to worship God freely without interference by political or ecclesiastical despotism.

The mighty life-giving forces of Christianity set in motion by Jesus Christ gave a new birth of freedom to an enslaved and hopeless world. Very soon this new life was at death grips with the decadent but still powerful Roman despotism. Multitudes of martyrs, in Roman arenas, were torn by wild beasts, burned at the stake, and tortured in every conceivable manner as the Roman emperors tried to destroy the new-found freedom of the world. It was a long and bloody contest, a battle of iron against the flesh of men and women a struggle of military power with the free spirits of redeemed men. In the end Rome died but Christianity lived.

The history of Europe from that day to this is the story of the struggle of humanity to maintain these two ideals of political and religious liberty, implanted in every human breast by God Almighty himself, against the attacks of military and ecclesiastical despotisms. Again and again it has seemed that the cause of humanity was hopeless and the two torches of freedom have been quenched by one autocracy or another. But always there has been a new birth of freedom, the long weary strife has begun again, multitudes of precious lives have been given on bloody battlefields, or in the prisons and on the scaffolds of tyrants, that freedom might live and "that government of the people, by the people, for the people might not perish from the earth," as Lincoln has expressed it.

Within the last century and a half out of the welter and the strife, we

G. B. HOFFMAN

GLENDALE CITY TREASURER,
PASSED AWAY WEDNES-DAY EVENING

G. B. Hoffman, city treasurer, assessor and tax collector of the city of Glendale, passed away at his home, 214 Stanley avenue, Wednesday, August 8, at 6:45 p. m. Mr. Hoffman had suffered for some years with a severe affection of the throat that caused him much suffering and resulted in his death.

Mr. Hoffman, who was born July 31, 1859, in Germany, near Nordhausen, province of Saxony, came to the United States in 1884, landing at Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He was unable to speak a word of English, but had been well educated in his native tongue. The ambition to become an English student was one of the aims of this young man and ere long he was attending one of the largest and most noted schools in Indianapolis, Indiana, where he made rapid progress.

After three years' course in law Mr. Hoffman was graduated and later accepted a position in the legal department of a large manufacturing concern in Milwaukee, which position he held until coming to Los Angeles in 1903.

In 1904 Mr. Hoffman came to Glendale. During his leisure moments he was an ardent student, delving into the natural sciences with much enthusiasm.

He served three years in the German army before coming to the land of his adoption.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Elmer C. Hoffman of Glendale, and one daughter, Mrs. Walter Wright of Oakland.

The remains are at the parlors of the Pullian Undertaking Company, awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Wright, who is expected here this evening. Funeral arrangements will be made after her arrival.

LES MEYER IN AVIATION
SERVICE

Lester Meyer, of the local Overland agency, has returned from the north where he went to take examinations for a commission in the aviation corps. Mr. Meyer put his application in at Washington in the latter part of June and recently received word to appear at Berkeley for examinations. He has taken these tests and passed them and is now an enlisted member of this hazardous branch of the service.

Since he has returned, Lester has been busy answering the questions regarding the qualifications necessary, the physical and medical examinations, etc., and since he has joined there are several young fellows among his acquaintances who will possibly follow his example and apply for a commission in the service. Lester would make an excellent recruiting officer of this branch of the service as he is very enthusiastic.

No doubt Lester will soon learn to handle an aeroplane as well as he does an auto and then the Kaiser should beware. He will be here but a short time before reporting for service. We know we will hear good reports of Lester when he gets into active service.

Mrs. J. E. Rockhold, 1430 Burchett street, hears encouraging news from her husband and son, who are members of Company B, Engineers Corps, now at American Lake, 14 miles from Tacoma, Wash. Mr. Rockhold is Senior Lieutenant in Company B, while Howard is a private in the same company. Capt. Irvine is chief engineer while Company B is in full charge of the construction work. Lieut. Rockhold writes that a marvelous amount of construction work is being done at that place.

HOOVER WAITS PRESIDENT'S WORD

WILL BEGIN WORK AS FOOD CONTROLLER AS SOON AS FORMAL APPOINTMENT IS MADE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 9.—Herbert Hoover is waiting only the work of President Wilson formally designating him Food Controller under the new bill before beginning his work. Hoover plans to seek a general reduction of prices on necessities and a tremendous saving in waste.

Hoover's appointment is expected momentarily following the passage of the food control bill yesterday. The passage of the bill concludes the work of Congress on the administration food legislation program initiated last May. It puts into the president's hands the most unusual and comprehensive powers.

MODIFY PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS

STEPS ARE BEING TAKEN BY THE GOVERNMENT TO IN-CREASE NUMBER OF MEN AVAILABLE FOR SERVICE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 9.—Further steps have been taken by the government to increase the number of men available for service in the new National army. A new ruling by Provost Marshal General Crowder greatly modifies the physical requirements of the men for duty. Bad teeth will not constitute an exemption if dental work will restore the teeth to meet the demands of proper mastication of food. A reduction in the weight and chest measure has also been made and eye and ear restrictions have been modified.

CONGRESS RESTS TODAY

WILL BEGIN CONSIDERATION OF $2,600,970,000 WAR TAX BILL TO-MORROW

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 9.—Both houses of Congress rested today, following the passage of the Food Control bill, preparatory to swinging in Friday on the final lap of the war session. Leaders hope to adjourn September 15. The Senate to-morrow begins the consideration of the $2,600,970,000 war tax bill. Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee, believes the bill will pass without much change.

ROOKIE FORGOT TO SALT BREAD

DESTRUCTION OF ENTIRE BAKING OF BREAD LED TO "AT-TEMPT TO POISON THE ARMY" STORY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 9.—A "rookie" baker at Washington failed to salt the bread dough and spoiled the bread with the result that it was destroyed. This furnished the foundation for the "attempt to poison the army" story which was printed in many papers.

JAPAN PLANNING TO FILL WAR CHEST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TOKIO, August 9.—Japan to date has spent $164,500,000 on war expenses, although 71 million of this sum is for the current fiscal year. Most of the war expenditure has been met with surplus of revenue which the government held in August, 1914, but this is now exhausted and the authorities are considering other measures to cover Nippon's fighting bill.

WAR HITS WASHINGTON'S RUBBERNECK WAGONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, August 9.—The war has hit Washington's rubberneck wagons an awful wallop. The closing of the treasury, White House, State, War & Navy and all other public buildings to visitors has shorn the sightseeing kings of about half their star program.

ANTI-ANNEXATIONISTS

TROPICO PEOPLE HELD ENTHU-SIASTIC MEETING AT K. P.
HALL LAST NIGHT

The first mass meeting in opposition to the consolidation of the cities of Tropic and Los Angeles was held on Monday evening at the K. P. hall, Tropic.

Speakers from the latter city, Eagle Rock and Owensmouth addressed the assemblage and were more than grateful with the appreciation shown by their auditors who roundly applauded their efforts.

The meeting opened with the singing of America, by Mr. F. Booth, after which Chairman Owen Rhodes in a few brief remarks, stated the object of the meeting and introduced as the first speaker, Mr. Jos. V. Griffin, of Tropic.

Mr. Griffin took the platform amid applause and although at a disadvantage by reason of having had but a few minutes notice he plunged into his subject in his usual forceful and convincing manner and drove home point after point with a sureness that held the audience throughout his remarks. Mr. Griffin touched on an even dozen of the vital issues of the campaign, paying particular attention to the high school question, the Los Angeles Basket Factory matter and the proportion of Los Angeles' bonded debt for which Tropic would become liable in event of annexation. Quoting as his authority, a letter written by Mr. Mark Keppel, County Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Griffin declared that in annexing to Los Angeles, the students of the Glendale Union High School residing in Tropic would be compelled to attend the Los Angeles High Schools unless they could procure conditional permits from the Glendale High School authorities which would no doubt include tuition fees and that Tropic would lose all financial interest in the Glendale institution. The speaker paid a high tribute to the Glendale Union High School, its record, its work, its pupils and its faculty.

Following this speaker, Attorney McNitt of Eagle Rock, outlined in a clear, concise manner the problems confronting Tropic and described the recent campaign to annex Eagle Rock to Los Angeles. His statements were made dispassionately as an interested outsider and were calculated to throw light on some of the obstacles and arguments that would no doubt be put forth to accomplish the consolidation.

Mr. McNitt was followed by Mrs. Gallup of Owensmouth, who set forth what she termed the unfair tactics of Los Angeles in governing the city of Owensmouth after its annexation to Los Angeles.

Attorney Dwight W. Stevenson of Tropic spoke briefly, mainly to brand as wholly false a statement that he was in the employ of the annexationists, and to declare his opposition to the consolidation.

Dr. A. M. Duncan of Tropic, made an appeal to the voters to refrain from rushing in to the proposed alliance and painted a word picture of the Glendale valley.

In the last speaker of the evening the anti-annexationists presented one who is not in the least timid about calling a spade by its right name. Mr. Emil Fram of Tropic, systematically exploded the claims of the annexationists and was interrupted several times by vociferous applause. Mr. Fram dwelt principally upon the question of water, taxes, lights, etc., and apparently has a fund of information that he has not yet disclosed.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, by the audience, led by Mr. Booth.

Other meetings of a like nature are planned for each week in the campaign, which closes August 29th.

SMITH MOVES TO GLENDALE

J. Herbert Smith, who for a number of years resided in Tropic and managed the Tropic Mercantile Co.'s business at the corner of San Fernando Boulevard and Central avenue, has become a resident of Glendale and is occupying the beautiful residence at 114 South Brand Boulevard. Mr. Smith is at present conducting what is known as the Groceria, at 336 South Brand Boulevard, Glendale.

R. T. PHILP IN AVIATION
SERVICE

R. T. Philp, who has been connected with the Glendale Hardware company for some years has enlisted in the United States Signal Corps of the Aviation service. Mr. Philp leaves Friday for San Francisco to enter the service. It is very probable that he will be stationed at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

EXEMPTION BOARD

DRAFTED MEN IN 7TH DISTRICT
BEING EXAMINED TODAY
AT C. OF C.

The Board of Exemption for the Seventh District, Los Angeles county, met at 9 o'clock this morning in the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. A large crowd of the young men summoned to appear today was in waiting. Long before 8 o'clock preparations were being made to get the Chamber of Commerce rooms ready. Needless furniture was removed and "the decks stripped for action." Electric fans were installed by the Newton Electric company and tables were furnished by Stoddard's real estate office, the Grose Auto Supply shop and Mr. Moore of the People's Store. Screens were needed to shut off the rear 30 feet of the big room for the physical examination and these were brought from Merrill's furniture store, Glenn Porter's store, the Glendale Housefurnishing Company and the Glendale Sanitarium, while the Bosserman Hardware Company loaned the big standard scales from in front of their store.

By 9 o'clock all was ready and the Board proceeded with their work. All three members were present, John T. Wilson of San Fernando, chairman; Mattison B. Jones of Glendale, clerk, and F. D. Lanterman of La Canada. Examining physicians are: Dr. A. J. Scott, Jr., Dr. Harold H. Smith and Dr. C. A. Brietling all of Los Angeles. Robert L. Frazier of San Fernando, is acting as clerk of the Board and A. E. Bottell and T. R. Wilson are clerks for the doctors.

Secretary Mattison B. Jones read from the official order from General Crowder, and gave brief instructions to the group of men gathered about the door. In substance he said the names on the "B" list posted in the Chamber of Commerce window would be called first in order. If any called failed to answer he must wait until the second call. If not present then, he must wait until the next call. Soldiers get at least $30 per month with clothes and housing and food which would amount to $50 per month or more. For this reason a man with small earnings might give better support to his family as a soldier than as a civilian, so considerable discretion is given the exemption board in passing upon exemption claims. Much discussion is not welcomed by the board but it is thrust upon the board who are drafted by the government and must serve or be considered slackers. Mr. Jones said the board will endeavor to act with fairness and justice to all.

The men were admitted in the order in which their names and numbers appeared on the list of drafted men. Each registrant was furnished with a blank in duplicate form, on which he wrote his name and serial number. He was requested to answer the following questions:

- 1 "Have you found that your health and habits in any way interfere with your success in life?"
- 2 "Do you consider that you are now sound and well?"
- 3 "Have you ever been under treatment in a hospital or asylum?"

Details are required for each answer explaining the conditions, and the applicant is required to certify that his answers are true and correct.

The "applicant" is then passed on to the examining physicians, who make a thorough physical examination, to which they certify.

The information is then passed on to the Examining Board and their final findings recorded.

Up to 2 o'clock today thirty men had been examined. The following seventeen passed the physical examination, those marked with stars, claiming no exemption.

GAS OFF TWO HOURS

Gas being off for nearly two hours delayed our going to press to-day. While the gas company made haste to make corrections, yet it was impossible to go to press on time. Gas trouble always comes when we most need the gas.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1917

THE WORK OF THE Y. M. C. A.

"There should be an organized effort made by all the upright citizens of a community, to instill into the minds of the men called under the draft, the magnificence of a clean, upright manhood, and the determination to fight against anything that would destroy it," asserts Dr. James Naismith, originator of the game of basketball and just now on the Pacific Coast speaking under the auspices of the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. to the enlisted men at the army and navy training camps.

"The loss of limbs or eyes, and other disabling wounds made by the challenged foe, are honorable scars," Dr. Naismith declares, "and the effect dies with the individual, but the wounds made by immorality affect the family and leave future generations to reap the harvest sowed by the sins of the fathers. I believe that we should remove every immoral temptation from his surroundings with as much vigor and faithfulness as his surgeon removes flies, mosquitoes, parasites and death-dealing germs of every other kind."

It is this work which the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. is doing by furnishing equipment for recreation and entertainment to the soldiers, places where they may find reading material and note paper so they can write to the folks at home. Its importance is realized when it is considered that some boy or boys are taken from every community to be sent to the front. "If we can help the soldier in times of homesickness and nerve fatigue," said F. A. McCarl, executive secretary of the National War Work Council, Western Department, "and keep his mind occupied with helpful recreation, we will be able to do a great work in his behalf. Our every effort is to keep him pure in mind and body. That is the work of the Y. M. C. A."

About back in 1902 a Y. M. C. A. secretary named Z. C. Collins struggled through rough jungle trails in the Philippines with a graphophone, literature, stationery, books and a traveling library. It was in Mindanao, where the climate, earthquake, weeks of straining, sneaking jungle fighting with the Moros had gotten on the nerves of the soldiers way up into the interior of Lake Laalla. Regarding this achievement Gen. Pershing said: "The first our men knew that the Y. M. C. A. men were along was on hearing on a quiet twilight evening, with strange distinctiveness, appealing cathedral chimes from headquarters tent, by a graphophone. Some thought they had gone 'off their nut' with the heat. In no time there were a thousand men packed about that blessed tent on the parade ground. The spell was broken. Most wonderful was the charming effect of the music, the books and the new spirit of brotherliness brought in by that association man." That is the work that the National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. is doing to-day. "We aim to reach the soldier that Uncle Sam called into service," asserts F. A. McCarl, executive secretary for the Western department. "We are going to make it as pleasant and decent for him as we possibly can."

WHAT HAS HE DONE?

Just now there is a deal of agitation in a western state, not far beyond the Mississippi river, because of the alleged indifference of the Governor toward legislation outlawing all forms of the liquor traffic. A newspaper, in defending the Chief Executive, insists that he has not brought the saloon back to the state. A contemporary admits the assertion, but asks, with some sarcasm, what he has done? The question seems pertinent and timely just now, and might be passed on, even to those in Congress who, although they may not have brought back the saloon, perhaps would find it embarrassing were they to be asked to designate some actual thing accomplished.—C. S. Monitor.

THE DRAFTED MEN

The following list of registered men in the Seventh Exemption District have been summoned to appear for examination at the Glendale Chamber of Commerce rooms August 10 as designated below. The first number given is the draft number, the second the serial number.

FOOD RHYMES

High diddle diddle, this life is a riddle,
For prices have jumped o'er the moon.
But plant a food garden on some vacant lot
And prices will tumble down soon.

Rock-a-bye baby in the tree top,
Father is hoeing his home garden crop.
Soon he will harvest enough for us all,
And High Cost of Living will have a bad fall.

If Old Mother Hubbard should go to the cupboard
She'd find all the food she'd desire,
For stored away there is foodstuff to spare,
The product of canner and dryer.

Old King Food in his merriest mood
Sat a-watching his garden plot.
He counted his Beets and he reckoned his Beans
And he said "Will we starve? We will not."

Mary, Mary, no longer contrary,
Has made a home garden grow,
With turnips and beans to feed the marines
And the soldiers and sailors, you know.

President Päck, come blow our horn,
Our allies are calling for wheat and corn,
Set the nation to work to grow turnips and squash,
And we'll feed the whole world with our food, by gosh.

Pat-a-cake, pat-a-cake, baker's man,
Look at the things we're going to can;
Can 'em and dry 'em and store 'em away
To give us our food for the cold winter's day.

Dickery, dickery, dock,
The back-yards in our block
Are full enough of garden stuff
Our pantry shelves to stock.

"A dollar, a dollar, a ten o'clock scholar,
Why do you come so late?"
"I've stayed at home to dig the weeds;
This gardening stunt is great."

Taffy was a Welshman, Taffy was a thief,
Taffy will not work, so he must come to grief.
The neighbors planted seeds in their yards and vacant lots
And spent the summer raising things on thrifty garden plots.
They're canning 'em and drying 'em and storing 'em away,
If Taffy cannot steal 'em he'll have grocer's bills to pay.

There was an old man and he had a wooden leg
And he couldn't steal a ride, not a ride could he beg,
So he bought a back yard and he planted some beans
And raised enough cash to buy a dozen machines.

CURB TICKET-SCALPERS

Under the terms of a new Anti-Ticket-Scalping bill which became effective July 27, 1917, the activities of those who make a business of re-selling transportation will be considerably curbed. Attorneys point out that the new law will apply to the newsboys at the Ferry Station in San Francisco who have been accustomed to selling newspapers and commutation tickets for the single price. The bill provides:

"Any person, firm, corporation, partnership, or association, that shall sell to another any ticket, pass, scrip, mileage or commutation book, coupon, or other instrument for passage on a common carrier, for the use of any person not entitled to the use of the same according to the terms thereof, or of the book or portion thereof from which it was detached, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor."

THE YORK PIGEON RANCH

One of the most interesting industries in the vicinity of Glendale is the York Pigeon Ranch of Casa Verdugo. This ranch is owned and operated by Mrs. D. A. York, who started the business some five years ago. It is an example of what industry and business skill will do in any undeveloped line. Mrs. York now has about 2000 birds, mostly Carneaux, and a finer lot of pigeons cannot be found anywhere in the country. Not only does Mrs. York manage her own industry but she has such a large demand for her squabs that she buys from a great many other reliable squab raisers in the vicinity of Glendale and elsewhere, and ships to hotels, cafes, etc. Last winter she also shipped a great many to Chicago and eastern points. The prices for the birds are fine. Young squabs three weeks old bring from $4.00 to $6.00 per dozen. No business in the poultry line is so profitable as raising squabs. The market is always good. If prices of feed go up the prices of squabs can be raised more easily than that of chickens. A pair of birds lay two eggs, hatch them out in three weeks, and by double nesting another pair of eggs, are ready for sitting before the birds are three weeks old. Thus in six weeks you may have birds ready for the market. It is not an unusual occurrence to find a pair of eggs in a nest with a pair of young birds by the time they are ready for the market. The care of the pigeons is simple; keep before them plenty of fresh water for bathing and drinking purposes, see that the grain does not mould, and furnish oyster shells, charcoal and granite, with a lump of stock salt. This is much more simple than the care of chickens.

A SOLUTION FOR RECLAIMING OVER-EXPOSED PRINTS

When washing blue prints, if 10 drops of peroxide are added to each gallon of water a solution will be made that will produce even blue prints. The blue print is washed as usual in clear running water, after which it is placed in the peroxide solution and is finally washed in clear water to remove all traces of the salt. A blue print of correct exposure will not be affected by it, but in over exposure the chemical will restore it to the true color. Where old blue prints have become faded this solution will restore them.—Popular Science.

JAPANESE RAISE PRICE

The Tropic-Glendale Japanese Day Work association from this date will charge $2.40 per day of 8 hours and $1.25 for half day, or 35 cents per hour for shorter time. This raise has been made necessary on account of the increase in price of food products. 278t24*

RED CROSS FRENCH CLASS

The French class in aid of the Red Cross, held its first meeting yesterday, Wednesday afternoon, at the residence of Mrs. Nanno Woods, 1222 Milford street. Seated around a long table, armed with notebooks and pencils, Glendale women started in earnest a study of the French language. Very far from dry was the instruction given. A few simple rules, a dozen or so of nouns, three or four everyday phrases, and within half an hour the interested pupils actually began to form sentences and to ask each other questions. Some of the later French words, now important on account of the war, were commented upon—such as camouflage, pollu and barrage. The latter portion of the lesson consisted in playing a game called En Ville, into which the pupils heartily entered, and which afforded them ample opportunity to use the French words already learned. The following simple verse is to be committed to memory for the next lesson: Je suis un petit poupon De belle figure, Qui aime bien les bonbons Et les confitures.

A tiny prize will be awarded to the pupil who brings next Wednesday the largest collection of French words and phrases gleaned from current magazines, newspapers, etc. The words of Gounod's celebrated French song, Berceuse, will be studied at the next lesson.

Those present were Mrs. John Howsey, Mrs. L. Rochester, Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mrs. Chas. Winsel, Mrs. H. S. Duffield, Mrs. E. Bode, Mrs. L. G. Shermann, Mrs. H. R. Gibbs, Mrs. Chas. Williams.

HEALTH STUDIES

Seventh-day Adventists, at their annual camp meeting at West Washington street and Orchard, formerly Pacific avenue, are giving daily studies on health at 4:30. These studies are being conducted by Dr. A. W. Truman, of Loma Linda College of Medical Evangelists. Yesterday afternoon he conducted a round table talk. The numerous questions on health subjects are proving both popular and helpful and are open to the public.

"Regularity in eating is of vital importance to health," said Dr. Truman yesterday. "There should be a specified time for each meal. At that time each should partake of what the system requires, and eat no more until the next meal. Many children, and older people, also, take just one meal a day, and that is all day.

"Pacing between meals lays the foundation for chronic dyspepsia. Many foods require five hours for digestion. The stomach has no pockets. It cannot segregate one food from another. Men think if they work six or eight hours a day, they should quit. But some people think the stomach should work continually throughout their waking hours, and far into the night. So they have stomach catarrh, Bright's disease and tuberculosis.

"One of the best character developers is to go to the table at meal-time, and after eating a sufficient quantity, to eat absolutely nothing until the next meal. Disease does not drop down from the blue. Definite physical laws govern our health. It is well to spend time in definite, careful study of these principles."

Sugar and milk are a poor combination, according to Dr. Truman. He said eating such coarse vegetables as turnips, cabbage, rutabagas and celery in combination with fruits, is not the best, because, he added, the ripening process makes the fruits nearly ready to enter the blood, while it takes vegetables about five or six hours to digest. When fruit is retained in the stomach until the vegetables are digested, he said, the fruit is in danger of fermentation. He said fruits and grains, however, are a perfect combination.

AUTHORIZED TO O. K. LIGHTS

That there are many automobiles in Glendale and vicinity has been verified by the great number that have reported to Mr. Butts of the Monarch Company, 421 South Brand Boulevard for adjustment of headlights. The making of these adjustments as required by law was commenced a week ago last Monday by Mr. Butts under the authority of the Glendale Police who had been authorized by headquarters to O. K. headlight adjustments of motor cars. Chief Herald of the Glendale Police Department, has now authorized Mr. Butts to O. K. all lamp adjustments he makes.

Mrs. Frank Zerr, 141 Cedar street, entertained the members of the Carnation Thimble Club on Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in piecing comforts which the club is making for the Odd Fellows Orphan Home at Gilroy, California. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Zerr, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Donald MacBain and Mrs. Robert P. Knocke, at a table prettily decorated in pink and green. About fifteen members enjoyed Mrs. Zerr's hospitality on this pleasant occasion.

"You raise the food and we'll raise you know," will be the parting greeting of United States soldiers to the ones they leave behind as they start on their European tour.

Have seen one great democracy after another arise triumphant over the forces of tyranny and autocracy within and without. The greatest of these, we believe, is America. Weary of the long, bitter struggle for political and religious liberty in Europe, the strongest, the noblest souls, those most impatient of the age long oppression there, braved the perils of the ocean and the dangers of a new land and came to this newly discovered continent to seek the freedom for which their hearts so sorely yearned. Upon these shores our brave ancestors established the great American Republic and left us the rich heritage we enjoy today. As some one has expressed it, "America is God's last stand for the freedom of the world." These two precious principles of human freedom have come to their fullest fruition in the institutions of this government. In our Declaration of Independence we have the clearest exposition of the principle of political liberty the world has known. Our Revolutionary fathers risked all that they might win this freedom for themselves and their children. In the first amendment to our Constitution, for the first time in the history of the world, a great government gives absolute and unconditional liberty of conscience to all its people.

As we have seen these principles triumphant here in our own land, as we have seen them victorious in the life of the French, of the British, of the Italians and the Swiss, as we have seen China and Russia waking to new life and throwing off their ancient shackles, we had been led to think that the long battle for freedom, begun in Greece half a millenium before Christ was born, was ended, that the peoples of the world were free to live their life—each one, great and small, to develop its own civilization without fear of hindrance from any source.

But now we have been rudely wakened to the fact that the mightiest military assault the world has ever known is being made upon the liberties of all the free peoples of the earth. The Persian hordes who tried to destroy the liberties of Greece, were poorly organized, illy-equipped slaves driven into battles with whips held in the hands of their officers. Not so is the attack being made by Prussian militarism today. For half a century the philosophers of Germany in her great universities have been instilling into the minds of the thinking men of that mighty empire the damnable doctrines of a materialistic evolution that might makes right, that only the strong have a right to exist, that the weak have no rights which the strong must respect. With their souls obsessed by this philosophy, and with a military machine organized to the highest pitch of perfection to which modern military and industrial science can bring it, the German people, led by their military masters, are making by far the most dangerous onslaught upon the principles of freedom the world has yet known.

We have seen Belgium, Servia, Rumania and large parts of the territory of France overrun by the almost resistless onrush of this wonderful organization. The whole world has stood aghast at its ruthlessness and power. Great Britain and her colonies have thrown all their mighty resources against Germany's attempt to enslave the world and still the issue hangs in the balance. Standing aloof for nearly three years, hoping against hope that she would not be drawn into the awful maelstrom of destruction, America at last has come to realize that the freedom of the democracies of Europe is in mortal peril and that if we selfishly refuse to go to their aid our own freedom will be imperilled after our sister republics are crushed by the relentless ambition of Prussian militarism.

Realizing the peril, our President and our Congress are calling upon you and millions of young men like you to go to the bloody trenches of France, there to risk limb and life to help save the endangered liberties of the whole world, to do your part in the great campaign, as President Wilson has expressed it, "to make the world safe for democracy."

Is it right that you should heed this call? Is it right that the best and bravest of our young men should be sent to France, that mothers and fathers and wives and children should be called upon to make this supreme sacrifice in the lives of their loved ones? Is it right that our future and the future of unborn generations should be mortgaged by the imposition of taxes amounting to sums that men heretofore have never dreamed?

Was it right for the brave little army of Athenians to stem the onrush of the Asiatic hordes with their living bodies at Marathon? Was it right for Leonidas and his Spartan band to die to a man at Thermopylae to save the liberties of Greece? Was it right for the Son of God to die upon the cross to save a world? Was it right for the martyrs to yield their lives on the blood soaked sands of Roman arenas? Was it right for the millions who have died on the battlefields and in the prisons of Europe in this age long strife to thus shed their blood that the world might be free? Was the Protestant Reformation and all the bloodshed that followed it justified? Was the French Revolution right? Was the slow struggle for political and religious liberty in England right? Was the dauhtless Washington right in leading the American colonies through the weary seven years of the Revolution? Was Lincoln right in asking the boys of the 60's to die by the tens of thousands upon the bloody fields of the civil war that the union might be preserved and human slavery destroyed? Has history justified all these bloody, heartbreaking sacrifices which won for us the freedom which we enjoy in this fair land today?

If these things were right then it must be right for you to hear the call of your country today and go forth to fight for the imperilled liberties of a world. The knights of old went forth in shining armor and with waving plumes, consecrated to the sanctity of religion, the purity of woman and the chivalry of man, to rescue the empty tomb of a risen Lord and the world loves those true and unselfish heroes who dedicated their lives to a noble ideal. But to my mind as you go out into the horrors of the world war to save the freedom of this generation and unborn generations that shall succeed us on this earth, your cause is a nobler and more chivalrous one than was theirs. And so the call of freedom comes to you today as it did to the men of the 60's through the inspired pen of Julia Ward Howe:

"In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea,
With a glory in his bosom that transfigures you and me,
As he died to make men holy, let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on."

As you are to leave in a few days to enter the army of our Republic, the Glendale Chapter of the Red Cross Society has invited you to be the guests of honor tonight that they might present to each of you as a small token of our love and admiration a comfort bag made by the sympathetic and devoted ladies of our society. As you go to fight our battles and to keep the world a safe place for all of us to live we want to assure you of our deepest admiration and that we shall do all in our power to aid you in your great and glorious task. In the words of the poet we say to you:

"Our hearts, our hopes are all for you,
Our hearts, our prayers, our tears,
Our faith, triumphant o'er our fears,
Are all for you, are all for you."

A TWO-MILLION DOLLAR HOSPITAL SHIP FOR OUR NAVY

Plans for a hospital ship for the United States Navy have been completed by the naval constructors and officials of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, and work on the new ship, which will be a model of its kind, will soon begin at the Philadelphia Navy Yard. Congress has allowed $2,350,000 for its construction. Although the exact dimensions of the ship have not been determined, it is known that she is to use oil as fuel and that a special gyroscopic engine will be installed, to reduce pitch and roll to a minimum.

The ship will be equipped with the best surgical instruments and paraphernalia known to medical science. The several hospital departments will consist of an operating room, the outpatient department, dental operating room and laboratory, X-ray room, chemical and biological laboratory, several wards for the treatment of acute and venereal diseases, and a contagious disease department. There will be the usual wards and special accessory rooms for linen, wash rooms, pantries and kitchens. The main operating room will be located amidships, extending the height of two decks and provided with every lighting facility. Special rooms for the examination of eye, ear, nose, throat and kindred ailments will be provided in the outpatient department, where patients may receive the most expert care.

One of the important features of the proposed ship is the contagious disease compartment. This will be so designed as to be completely separated from the remainder of the ship and the latest methods of disinfection will be employed.—Popular Science Monthly.

DOCTOR JOHNSON'S WOOING

Here is one of the old ones which is good enough to repeat: Doctor Johnson's offer of hand and heart to his second wife was thus: "My dear woman," said Johnson, "I am a hard-working man, and, withal, something of a philosopher. I am, as you know, very poor. I have always been respectable myself, but I grieve to tell you that one of my uncles was hung." "I have less money than you, Doctor," demurely answered the lady. "but I shall try to be philosophical, too. None of my relatives have ever been hung, but I have several who ought to be." "Providence and philosophy have evidently mated us, my good woman," said the doctor, as he pressed a chaste salute on the lady's brow.

SOME PEOPLE

Times are a trifle hard in the Cotton Belt just now, and money is a little scarce. Evidently Uncle Ephriam thinks so, for he came up to his supply merchant the other day and said: "Marse John, times is tighter than I is ever seed 'em before. Do you know, Marse John, I can't get no money at all? No, sir, I can't get nuthin'! I can't even get hold of a nickel! Do you know, Marse John, hit actually looks like I'll have to go to preachin' in order to make a livin'. I done it once and I ain't too good to do it again!"—Saturday Evening Post.

BIRTH OF OLD GLORY

When Freedom from her mountain height
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the azure robe of night,
And set the stars of glory there!
She mingled with its gorgeous dyes
The milky baldric of the skies,
And striped its pure, celestial white
With streakings of the morning light;
Then from his mansion in the sun
She called her eagle-bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand
The symbol of her chosen land!
—Drake.

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

The new teacher, addressing the children, said: "Now my little boys and girls, I want you to be very still—so still that you can hear a pin drop."
They were all silent for a moment when one cried out at the top of her little voice, "Let her drop!"

BUILDING ROADS IN RUSSIA

Extensive railroad construction in Russia during the next ten years aggregating almost 60,000 miles, recommended by a special commission, has been approved by the Russian council of ministers. A report to the department of commerce says about $300,000,000 will be the cost of 51 projected lines, aggregating 20,779 miles, recommended for construction during the period 1917-1922.

The schooner Poonhook left St. John, N. B., for the Azores, loaded with dry codfish. There was a storm and the boat shipped a good deal of water. The dry fish absorbed water like a sponge, and within a few days the seams of the vessel's planking were actually forced open by the swelling codfish. The water ran in through these cracks and the ship had to be abandoned.

Still, Germany is not losing as much by the birth rate as she is by the death rate.

LA CANADA

An intensely interested and thoroughly enraptured audience witnessed a talk given by Mr. Edward H. Brooks last Sunday morning in Blanchard Hall, Los Angeles. Mr. Brooks had been invited to talk before the Church of the People in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Blythe. "A Defective Religion, the Real Cause of the War," was the topic discussed by Mr. Brooks. His careful logic as he progressed from one point to another was a revelation. Through out the talk, the audience showed earnest approval. As Mr. Brooks depicted the conditions of the civilized world and contrasted them with what Christianity might have accomplished, it grew evident that a world war was inevitable. Upon the close of Mr. Brooks' talk he was effusively congratulated and invited to return again by the patrons of the church.

Seventeen weeks in a hospital, caused by a broken leg, has been the situation of Mr. Theo. Pickens, resident of the Arroyo Seco, former pioneer of La Canada. While working around his home Mr. Pickens was struck by a limb falling from a tree. A broken leg was the result. Friends took Mr. Pickens to the Marengo avenue hospital, Pasadena, where he is slowly recovering. Mr. Pickens came to La Canada years ago, in the Jack-rabbit and sage-brush days, and took up a claim. His entire holdings are now sold. The Pickens Canyon or La Canada Water Canyon was at one time owned by him and still bears his name. For the past ten years Mr. Pickens has been living in the Arroyo Seco. He has a small bee ranch. Those who knew Mr. Pickens in La Canada remember him as a picturesque type of the western pioneer. He was and still is an adept for prize horses and dogs.

A complete concise analysis of the Red Cross organization was given Tuesday afternoon in the La Canada Red Cross room before twenty women and the "Busy Fingers," by Miss Alma Wrigley, Red Cross Secretary of Pasadena. Miss Wrigley took each department and explained its express purpose in maintaining an adequate Red Cross organization. "The great work of the Red Cross is to invite accuracy and system. The organization is so extensive that it is absolutely necessary to be under systematic management. For this reason the best business men in the country have been put at the head of the Red Cross. By means of a perfect system it is possible for the Red Cross headquarters to call at any time for a complete report from each chapter, branch or auxiliary," said Miss Wrigley. She also spoke of the fact that each branch should be self-supporting. If the fees do not cover the expenses the finance committee should devise a plan whereby to raise sufficient funds. Miss Wrigley spoke of the plan Pasadena had used to raise money. They secured different men and women to pledge themselves to give a certain amount to the Red Cross during the period of the war. This has given the Pasadena chapter a permanent income. Miss Wrigley encouraged sending a representative from La Canada to the Pasadena open meeting in October. After her talk Miss Wrigley made an official inspection of the stock room. She found the La Canada Red Cross Branch flourishing.

Feature films, interpreted by well known La Canada citizens, will be the entertainment for the Improvement Association, Saturday night, August 18. Under the scheduled line of programs, laid out by Mrs. F. Granger and committee, the August meeting included some form of movie entertainment. The idea has been worked out by Gladys Granger, Aldine Norton and Katherine Green. The various popular movie stars will be shown in well known roles. Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charlie Chaplin, Geraldine Farrar and numerous others. The idea of the evening's entertainment is to give a realistic demonstration of just how they take the movies. The stage in the auditorium will represent the interior of a typical moving picture studio. One corner of the stage to be arranged as a back ground for taking the scenes. The director, who takes charge of the production will assume entire control of the movie company and give his drastic orders to the players, in startling imitation of the professional movie producers. Mrs. R. Waterman, T. Fenton Knight, E. T. Metcalf, Mrs. Max Green, and Mr. Edward H. Brooks have been assigned the title roles.

The policy of giving clerks a half-holiday Saturdays during the summer has been adopted by many firms in the larger cities of the country, and it may be the time is coming when this will be the general rule. This is certainly an indication that business methods are growing more conservative, that mercantile houses are everywhere growing stronger and that American business life is less feverish than it was.

Any person who is devoted only to himself, and works only in his own little corner, be he a professional, a merchant, a mechanic, or a man-of-all-work, will sooner or later have his heart consumed by the dry-rot.

Before the war the United States was importing drugs and chemicals in large quantities. At the present time we are sending large quantities of these goods to other nations.

A REPUBLIC IN CHINA

Plato evolved a commonwealth without geographical boundaries, but esteemed as co-extensive with classic metaphysics. It had no tangible constituency, but has been the model, it is claimed, for all republics of the long eras which have followed. Almost as startling as the sudden rise of a democratic form of government from the ruins of the house of the Romanoffs, was the unexpected disappearance only a few years ago of the ancient and deeply rooted dynasty of the Manchus, and the organization by a council both commercial and princely of the republic of China.

Seemingly the most inert, most passive and least progressive of all races, China was held forth as adopting that form of government which most exacts moral courage and active enterprise in affairs of state. Here is a republic whose customary laws are said to be traceable to ethical sources anterior to the plan of Plato. Here is a republic where geographical frontiers are not today precisely discernible beyond the fields of diplomatic metaphysics—a constituency and electorate equally intangible.

Japan stands out in bold contrast as an embodiment of the concrete and compact, self-organized and subtly selective of the best. It may in a sense be called the imperial republic of Asia. Its statesmen and students all bear testimony to the upwardly exerted pressure of public opinion in ever increasing force for full participation in foreign as well as domestic policies.

If the loosely constructed and non-representative republic of China is to be held together, history may record with disdainful irony that the fatalistic but active stoicism of Nippon is vitally to serve that end, perhaps chiefly to aid its consummation.

The Republic of China is older than that of Russia; it may become a reality under the same commercial attrition and pressure of the rising and virile Japanese race to which both countries owe much of whatever progress they are now making. —Wall Street Journal.

Roman Shivicki, an immigrant who arrived in this country in 1888, went to work on a truck farm in the Connecticut Valley for eight dollars a month. Within a few years he owned a farm, and in 1901 his onion crop cleared him $7,000.

AROUND THE HOUSE

When you finish using a cooking utensil fill it with water, preferably hot, excepting for those in which a starchy substance has been cooked. Thus when you finish using the double boiler turn the hot water out of the bottom portion into the top. The task of washing will be reduced to a minimum.

When you empty any bottle or dish that has contained milk fill it to the brim with cold water; also fill dishes that have contained flour and water or raw egg with cold water. It is the stich in time so far as dishwashing is concerned.

After you have finished work in the kitchen at night pour at least a quart of boiling water down the sink drain. This is the stich in time that keeps away the plumber.

Soak all dishcloths and dish towels in water with a little ammonia before washing. This is a habit that will make it unnecessary for you to rub your knuckles bare over the dish towels.

If you cannot get new rubber rings for the fruit jars dip the old ones in melted paraffin or a mixture of paraffin and sealing wax, and when cool they will do duty as well as new ones.

THE VALUE OF BIRDS

Without birds successful agriculture would become impossible and the destruction of the greater part of all vegetation would take place. New York state now pays an annual insect tax of $10,000,000, and birds are the chief agents in keeping this tax from increasing yearly. As consumers of weed seed a single species of the tree sparrow, is estimated to consume about 900 tons in New York state each year. The ravages of field mice and other rodents are kept in check by hawks and owls, and the farmer upon whose land a hawk or owl stays is saved upon an average $20 a year by each owl or hawk.

The damage done by some few species of birds to growing crops is more than offset by the benefits of their work in destroying insects, rodents and weed seeds.—New York Sun.

A man can be firm, without having a head you could crack walnuts on.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

There is such a thing as personal responsibility which cannot be delegated to another. In the navy, for instance, we dock ships and the docking officer is held personally responsible. Disbursing officers in the navy are personally responsible for every payment made not only by themselves, but by their assistants. They cannot delegate responsibility to the pay clerks even for the petty cash.—F. C. Coburn in Industrial Management.

EFFECTS OF OIL AND GREASE ON RUBBER TIRES

It is pretty generally known that gasoline, grease, oil and other fatty substances are solvents of rubber. If garage floors are not kept clean and tires stand in a pool of oil, the treads soften and the traction strains in service stretch the rubber in a wavy outline, eventually causing it to separate from the fabric body underneath.—Popular Science.

Papa—"I'm surprised that you are at the foot of your class, Tommy. Why aren't you at the head sometimes, like little Willie Bigbee?" Tommy—"You see, papa, Willie's got an awful smart father, and I guess he takes after him."—London Telegraph.
