THE ARMY OF THE JAMES.

By William J. Ricker, Surgeon, U. S. Army.

There has been some talk of the Army of the James being reorganized. It is reported that the Army of the James is to be reorganized into three divisions. The first division is to be commanded by General Sherman, the second by General Meade, and the third by General Grant.

THE PRESS DISPATCH.

By William J. Ricker, Surgeon, U. S. Army.

The press dispatches from the front are full of interest. They tell us that the Army of the James is making great progress. The Rebels are being driven back and their lines are being broken. The Union forces are showing great courage and determination.

REBEL ACCOUNTS.

By William J. Ricker, Surgeon, U. S. Army.

The Rebel accounts of the recent operations are very interesting. They claim that the Union forces have suffered a heavy defeat. They say that the Rebels have captured many guns and a large amount of ammunition. They also claim that the Union forces are in a state of confusion and are being driven back towards the rear.
