

BUTLER SAYS HE FIRED THE SHOTS

BUT STATES WITH NO INTENTION TO MURDER

Prisoner Accused With Attempt on Alma Haywood's Life Committed For Trial.

James Butler, ex-gunner in the Royal Artillery, and deserter, admitted in the provincial police court this morning that he fired two shots at Alma Haywood, servant at the residence of Hon. C. E. Pooley.

Butler was charged with intent to murder, as charged. He denied, however, that they were with intent to murder, as charged. He admitted, however, that they were with intent to murder, as charged.

Supt. Hussey, of the provincial police, conducted the case for the crown, accused being unrepresented by counsel.

The first witness was Edward P. Nathan, employed at Aaronson's pawnshop on Johnson street. He said, I remember June 7th. On that morning between 9 and 10 I sold accused a 22 calibre, rim fire, cylinder, nickel barrelled pistol made by the Hartford Arms Co., and marked No. 1. I charged him $10 for it.

John R. Collier, the next witness, said I am in partnership with James Barnsley in the gun business at 115 Government street. On the morning of June 7th, about 10 o'clock, accused came into the store and purchased a box of 20 rim fire cartridges for 40 cents. He showed me no pistol. The box produced is the same make and size as those I sold accused.

Miss Alma Haywood took the stand. She said I am employed at the house of C. E. Pooley, in Esquimalt district. I have known accused for about a year. When I first knew him he was an officer's servant in the Royal Artillery. I have been in his company some times since then. The last time was on the 17th March last. He has written me two letters, one of which I answered about May 14th. On the morning of June 7th, about 11 o'clock, a telephone message came and I went to Mrs. McCallum's to deliver a message.

HARBOR SOUNDINGS ARE BEING OBTAINED

Indications That Big Railway Corporation Intends Building an Important Terminal Point.

That the C. P. R. have their eyes upon Esquimalt is indicated in so many different ways that it may be taken for a fact. As usual when the plans of that company are in a nebulous condition they go about their investigations behind a veil of almost impenetrable secrecy and when the programme is complete and ready for execution spring in upon the public in its complete form.

Now comes a report, which is not a matter of fact, but a matter of opinion, that the C. P. R. intend to build a terminal point at Esquimalt.

Council Votes Five Hundred Dollars to Investigate Proposal for Farber Supply.

When Mr. Justice Duff handed down his decision in the waterworks case the Mayor felt like fleeing to the hills and he did. Asking advice of Ald. Stewart, the descendant of a long line of Scottish kings, which hills he preferred, the chairman of the water committee warbled: "My heart's in the Highlands," and to the Highland district they went.

But, with usual cannyness, an advance guard was sent out in the person of the city engineer, the Mayor preferring to take a little bit off the top before he took it out of the council. But the council went too, last Saturday, accompanied by a troupe of citizens whistling "We're on the water again now." They climbed the rocky fastnesses of Lone Tree mountain, and got very tired in the operation, so tired that Ald. Lewis Hall, resulting perspiration on a bunch of bracken, besought Ald. Fell to dispense with his proposed audit and spend the $500 that it would cost in securing a further expert opinion as to whether the watershed of the Highland district would provide water enough, cheaply enough and quickly enough for the parching people of Victoria.

There was a large turnout of the Fifth Regiment, C. A., last evening, the occasion being an inspection by Brigadier-General Lord Aylmer, Inspector-General. The corps marched to the parade grounds at 7:30 o'clock sharp, headed by the band. They were put through a number of manoeuvres, then lined up to wait the arrival of the distinguished officer mentioned. The interval proved longer than was expected, but it did not pass without some diversion. As usual stragglers were coming in continually, and as they walked past the lines to don their accoutrements at the tents they displayed themselves always exasperated. Col. Ridgeway Wilson, His staid voice rang across the field quite frequently to this effect: "Double-up, double-up, you fellows. Can't you see you have little time to lose?" But these exhortations, to tell the truth, did not always have good results. Once the men spoken to saluted in dignified style, but coolly continued upon their way at a moderate pace. Then the laugh was on the adjutant, who, by the way, didn't appear to see the joke.

BRUTAL FATHER WOUNDED BY SON

THREATENED TO KILL BOY WITH AN AXE

Fatality on Grand Trunk Railway—Presbyterian Assembly Will Meet in Montreal Next Year

Montreal, June 11.—Because his father threatened his elder brother with an axe, Alfred Tariff, aged 16, shot his father in their home on Beaudry street to-day, and as a result the man had to have his leg amputated at the knee. According to the story told by the boy who did the shooting and his 15-year-old brother, who is held as a witness, the father demanded money to buy gin, and when refused grabbed an axe and threatened the older boy. Fearing that the father would carry out his threat to kill, the younger boy picked up a shotgun and fired at the old man, the charge entering his leg. The mother of the boys, who was present attending a funeral, upheld the boy for his act, saying the father, because of his habits, was a burden and ill-treated the sons.

Charged With Murder.—Montreal, June 11.—The trial of Thomas James Hackett, charged with the murder of little Edith May Ahern, was commenced this morning in the court of King's bench. The entire morning was occupied in choosing a jury. In the afternoon examination of witnesses was begun. The father of the little girl was first called and broke down when called upon to identify the clothing of his little one. Father Brissette, of the parish of Cote St. Paul, gave unimportant evidence, and his brother failed to identify Hackett as the man who threw the clothes of the little girl into the open window of the basement of the house. His impression was that the prisoner was not the man.

Car Jumped Track.—Montreal, June 11.—A crowded car of the Notre Dame street line, running to Dominion park, jumped the track yesterday afternoon at Profontaine street. It ran along the street for about ten yards and smashed off a telephone pole on the sidewalk. The passengers, men, women and children, were almost panic-stricken and jumped or tumbled from the car. All escaped injury except Henri St. Denis, a bookkeeper, who was knocked unconscious by being thrown against a telephone pole.

Drowned.—St. John, N. B., June 11.—Thomas Levesque, of New Brunswick, was today found drowned on the beach at Rousesay. Lee was a bachelor, 72 years of age, and went for a swim on Monday. He suffered from heart trouble, and the cold water is believed to have overcome him. He was for many years one of the best known educationalists in St. John's but latterly residing in special agent of the New York Life.

SIR HECTOR LANGEVIN PASSED AWAY AT QUEBEC

Was Minister of Public Works in Sir John A. Macdonald's Cabinet.

Quebec, June 11.—Sir Hector Langevin, former minister of public works in Sir John A. Macdonald's cabinet, died at 9.10 to-night.

Sir Hector Langevin suffered a severe attack of broncho-pneumonia last Thursday. The sickness took a change for the worst Saturday evening, and on the advice of his physician, Rev. Mr. Laflamme, was sent for and administered the last rites.

Hon. Sir Hector Louis Langevin, Q. C., K. C. M., G. C. B., J. L. D., born in Quebec, August 25th, 1826, was educated at the seminary in his native city, studied law at Montreal, and was called to the bar in 1850. He was elected Q. C. March 20th, 1864. Mr. Langevin was elected mayor of Quebec in December, 1871, was re-elected in 1878 and 1879, has filled the chair of the Institut Canadien and has been president of the St. Jean Baptiste Society of Quebec. He was elected January 2nd, 1888, member of the provincial parliament, by the county of Dorchester, and has since supported the Conservative party. In March, 1884, Mr. Langevin became solicitor-general for Lower Canada, with a seat in the cabinet in Sir E. P. Tache's administration, and exchanged the former post for the postmaster-generalship in November, 1896. He was one of the delegates to the conference on the question of the confederation of the British North American provinces in the summer of 1866, and repaired to London with other commissioners towards the end of that year, in order to complete the arrangements. On the organization of the Dominion cabinet in 1867, Mr. Langevin became a privy councillor, secretary of state of Canada, superintendent general of Indian affairs, and registrar general, and in November, 1869, exchanged that office for that of minister of public works, which he retained until the fall of the Macdonald government in 1873. At the general elections of 1878 he was returned for Three Rivers, and was sworn in as postmaster-general in the Conservative government of that year. This portfolio he resigned in May, 1879, for that of the ministry of public works, which he continued to fill until he resigned the office in August, 1881. He was made a C. B. after the arrangements for the organization of the Dominion government, and in 1881 had the order of K. C. M. conferred upon him. He is also a Knight Commander of the Roman Order of St. Gregory the Great, and LL.D. of Laval university. In 1851 he married Justine, daughter of Col. Feu.

THE LATE PREMIER SEDDON.

His Message to Premier Reid Previous to Sailing for New Zealand.

Melbourne, June 11.—"I am, leaving to-night for God's own country; I hope Australia will become a similar paradise," was the late Premier Seddon's farewell message to Premier Reid of Victoria, just a few hours before the former's sudden death yesterday on the steamer on which he was returning from Sydney, N. S. W., for New Zealand. The federal parliament adjourned to-day out of respect for the dead statesman.

Taking Home Body.

Sydney, N. S. W., June 11.—The steamer Ovestry Grange, which put back to port on Sunday with the body of R. J. Seddon, premier of New Zealand, who died on board soon after the steamer had left Sydney for Wellington, resumed her voyage to-day, carrying the body, which had been embalmed, to New Zealand. The co-government with government applied to the naval authorities here for a warship to convey the body to New Zealand, and this request was granted, but the Ovestry Grange left meanwhile.

ALLEGED FORGERY.

Charges Against Former Vice-President of Mutual Life.

New York, June 11.—Dr. Walter R. Gillette and Robert A. Granitis, formerly vice-presidents of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, were indicted on charges of forgery to-day by the special grand jury which has been investigating insurance matters under the direction of District Attorney W. T. Jerome. Dr. Gillette was also indicted on a charge of perjury. Mr. Granitis was accused of making false statements to the state insurance department, which is a misdemeanor. There are five indictments of forgery against Dr. Gillette. Both Dr. Gillette and Mr. Granitis surrendered themselves, were arraigned before Justice Scott and were held in jail for a hearing on the first Monday in September. Both pleaded not guilty. Dr. Gillette's bail is $10,000, that of Mr. Granitis $5,000.

SENATOR-SMOOT.

Majority Report Says He is Not Entitled to Seat.

Washington, June 11.—The majority and minority reports of the committee on privileges and elections in the case of Senator Reed Smoot, Utah, were today presented to the senate. The former by Senator Burrows, declaring that Mr. Smoot was not entitled to his seat, and the latter, under Senator Foraker, take the opposite view. Senator Bailey, who is a member of the committee, stated that while he concurred in the view of the majority, he was of the opinion that Mr. Smoot could not be deprived of his seat under the constitution, except by a resolution of expulsion. Senator Smoot was present when the reports were presented. Under the plans suggested by Mr. Bailey, a vote of two-thirds would be necessary to vacate the seat of the Utah senator.

MUTINOUS SOLDIERS.

Poltava, South Russia, June 11.—An open mutiny has broken out in the Elets regiment of infantry over the failure of the military authorities to redeem their pledges regarding the amelioration of service conditions made as a result of last fall's revolt. The mutiny threatens to spread to the rest of the garrison. The police and the small force of loyal Cossacks are unable to cope with the mutineers, who are armed with rifles and have a supply of ball cartridges. They left their barracks in a body yesterday afternoon and held a meeting in a public square, in which delegates from the Elets regiment of infantry and the artillery brigade promised that these forces would join in the mutiny to-day.

St. Petersburg, June 11.—The report of the retirement of the Goremynkin cabinet was definitely denied to-day, when the Premier returned from Petrohof this evening, and authorized the statement that he had not tendered his resignation and had no immediate intention of retiring from office. The avoidance thus far of an open rupture, and the prospective maintenance of the status quo for a month to come, while the Lower House of parliament is indulging in oratory instead of action on the agrarian problem, apparently inspired the Emperor's determination to retain M. Goremynkin in office and continue the policy of "drift."

AUDITING OF ACCOUNTS SHELVED FOR A WEEK. Interesting Session of Council Dealing With Above Matters - Music at Beacon Hill.

Punctually at 8 o'clock last night the Mayor took his chair in the council chamber; where he remained in lovely splendor for fully five minutes.

Under the head of communications the first was from Thos. C. St. John, secretary of the Property Owners' Association, requesting the appointment of three qualified persons to act in conjunction with the park committee in preserving the beauties of the city.

When the city clerk commenced reading a letter from the city solicitor regarding the building of a garage on Calcedonia avenue, Haggerty & Company, it appears that he had been excavating gravel and there was danger of a land slide so the city solicitor had written the offenders telling them to quit or legal proceedings would be taken.

Finally the city solicitor was given authority to do what is necessary. A report on the Bridge Walk extension was next presented showing that although there was only $1812 in the treasury the Cameron arbitration and other vouchers amounted to $4,750.05 leaving a deficit of $2,938.03.

Another unsavory building was the subject of a joint communication from the sanitary and building inspector, J. A. Lewis, for similarly treating the tenable barracks.

After a little discussion it was decided to refer the matter to the finance committee and assessor to ascertain what the property was worth on the basis proposed by Ald. Yates.

Charles P. Moore pleaded impotency as a reason for not paying taxes or water rates, and pointed out the good intentions of the assessor who left the property to the council in granting his request.

Re Boulevard: their construction and maintenance - I have the honor to report on the question submitted to me in the broad sense in which I understand it to be put, viz: What provision the city is empowered by by-law to make for the construction, maintenance and upkeep of boulevards, and for collecting payment of the cost of construction, maintenance and upkeep.

Under sub-section 21a of section 20, if one-half the assessable owners sign a requisition in that behalf, the council could assess for watering and sweeping, but not for grass-cutting.

The council could undertake, by agreement, which may be set out in the Local Improvement By-Law, to do all necessary work of keeping in condition in lieu of making any contribution towards the cost.

Through the city solicitor the arbitrators in the case of Miss Jessie Cameron, whose homestead has been appropriated to widen Birdcage Walk, presented their award that the sum of $2,940.25 should be paid by the council.

The old wharf at James Bay was the next subject taken up, and a letter notifying the council that the Dominion government had been requested to remove the structure read. Received and filed.

Ald. Yates thought that all opinions or notes should be read. The present practice appeared to be to read such documents when they were in favor of the city, and shelve them when they went against it.

Ald. Fullerton supported the last speaker, and thought three qualified citizens would greatly assist the committee, who did not pretend to be landscape gardeners or horticulturalists.

Miss Agnes Deans Cameron wrote asking for leave to purchase a new coat for her family associations. She was willing to pay a price as fixed by the city assessor.

Ald. Yates moved that she be notified that if it would be sold to her at the same proportionate rate as that imposed on the council by the recent arbitration.

After a little discussion it was decided to refer the matter to the finance committee and assessor to ascertain what the property was worth on the basis proposed by Ald. Yates.

Re Recreation Grounds for North Ward: Your committee, in company with the city assessor have inspected the following pieces of property which have been offered for sale to the city as suitable sites for recreation grounds for the North Ward:

From Miss Parshall an offer to sell for the sum of $15,000, to the city for a block of 10 acres, the city for the sum of $15,000.

Your committee is of opinion that both blocks 30 and 36 are not suitable for the purpose required, and that Miss Parshall's property is too narrow.

With reference to blocks 30 and 36, your committee beg to state that these were first offered to your committee by Mr. A. W. Jones, real estate agent, for $500 per acre, but were withdrawn by him before your committee had had an opportunity to inspect them, as he had sold them since submitting them for sale.

The following is a list of the property which your committee are of opinion might with advantage be disposed of by the city:

Lot 1, Niagara street, value $1,000. Lot 2, Spring Ridge, value $500. Lot 3, James Bay, value $1,000. Four acres of new Home for Aged and Infirm site, $70 per acre, and all that is left of the old road, making a total of $1,800.

This last piece of property, lying to the gravel pit that has been excavated there, has been practically severed from the portion on which the Home stands, and is therefore useless for Home purposes. As it is, however, right at the terminus of the Willow's cars line, and could, in the opinion of your committee, be sold to good advantage.

If the above properties which are today non-productive were sold, the proceeds therefrom, should be used in erecting a playground for the North Ward without adding one dollar to the burden of taxation.

Your committee are therefore of opinion and would recommend that a by-law should be submitted to the ratepayers for their sanction to sell the above properties as may require the authority of a by-law to enable the council to dispose of them, and that it should be provided in such by-law that the proceeds of the above properties should be used and when the same were sold, be applied in and towards the reduction of the purchase price of the said two blocks, and second, if the council is of opinion that the choice of the location of a recreation ground should be left with the citizens, then an opportunity to make such choice as in the case of the Carnegie library site should be offered them at as early a date as possible.

After a discussion on the water question fully dealt with elsewhere, the next matter taken up was Ald. Peil's motion for the appointment of an independent audit. There was quite a debate on the matter, opinion being extremely divided.

Ald. Fullerton thought the audit for six months as proposed would be a useless expense to the city, and was not what the people wanted. An auditor appointed by the council would not be independent, he should be appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor.

Ald. Hall referred to the question of expense, and thought the matter could well wait until next election. The money it would cost could be better spent in getting details on the water question.

In speaking to his motion Ald. Peil pointed out it went as far as the act allowed. It was outside the power of the council to get an independent auditor from the Lieutenant-Governor.

The question of music at Beacon Hill park was the last subject taken up. Ald. Douglas reported the Fifth Regiment band would be engaged at the Gorge park every Sunday during the summer so concerts at Beacon Hill would have to be given during the week. He asked for an expression of opinion.

Ald. Goodacre thought it would be well to go slow until arrangements were made to get the $500 required for a water expert so the park committee will consider the matter for another week.

The council then adjourned.

LACTATED FOOD Will Save the Sick Baby. The ablest authorities on infant dieting emphatically declare that LACTATED FOOD is a necessity for all infants, more especially for those who cannot be wholly nourished on healthy breast milk.

LACTATED FOOD has an important influence in overcoming any irritable condition of the stomach and bowels. It is a food which nourishes every part of the infant system. If you wish to have your baby strong, bright and happy, use LACTATED FOOD. Sold by all druggists.

SCHOOL EXHIBITS. Prizes offered for Dominion Fair at Halifax this Fall. The Dominion exhibition which will be held at Halifax this year from September 22nd to October 5th will include among the prizes a long list under the head of public school work.

This special department has been placed under the charge of A. McKay and P. Eaton, superintendent of city schools, has received a communication relative to it.

The letter calls attention to the departments of education, art and natural history. Exhibits from any schools in any of these departments are invited. Exhibits may be sent to the address of A. McKay, superintendent of education department, Dominion exhibition school building office, Halifax, after the close of the schools for summer holidays and as late as the 15th of September in order to allow more complete collections of natural history specimens and the finishing of maps, etc., after summer holidays.

It is advised that each separate collection should be labelled so that the whole collection may be returned. As the prize list does not make provision for all kinds of school work the judges will be instructed to make special awards for anything of great merit outside the list. It is suggested that maps and drawings be not on too large a scale as space is limited. For maps the sizes are recommended as follows: Maritime Provinces, 13 inches by 10 inches; Dominion of Canada, 10 inches by 12 inches; Europe, 15 inches by 13 inches; North America, 13 inches by 15 inches; England and Wales, 13 inches by 15 inches, and British Isles, 14 inches by 17 inches. Further information may be obtained by applying to A. McKay. The prize lists offer medals for school exhibit and money prizes for the individual exhibits.

Shovel in less fuel - get out more heat. Feed door's extra-big in the right furnace - made that way so as to take all kinds of fuel; big chunks of coal, rough blocks of wood, anything burnable burns right in the Oxford Furnace. Burns any fuel. Warm air. This furnace alone gets all the heat out of fuel that's possible, yet wastes none in smoke, - could be a good furnace if it smoked much. The furnace has the Oxford triangle grate-bars (easiest to repair - take one out and disturb none other) that make the fire burn a lot of air, - perfect combustion means that. GETTING INTO LINE.

Comrade Hawthorthwaite is about to proceed on a political campaign throughout the province against the possibility of a general election. Hon. R. F. Green avers that there 'ain't a'nt no' to be no general election, not that he knows on't. But the Chief Commissioner might have been influenced in his statement by the marked hostility of that Salt Spring Island audience, which, as Capt. Wolley said, came out to have a row. Parenthetically it might be pointed out that the gallant poet of Pier Island, whose muse is of a martial spirit, delights in rows when he temporarily casts aside the mantle of poesy he usually wears in his own private insular retreat. He says he told the ministers what was in store for them when they were brought before the constituents he has marked for his own. But the captain was bound that the Chief Commissioner and the sturdy Islanders should, "have it out," and he dragged the hon. gentlemen and his friends "up to the scratch." This Salt Spring incident suggests some interesting political possibilities. It appears that our friend Captain Wolley is not satisfied with the many "klicks" he has received in the political ring. He is in training again to go up against that intensely practical, unpoetic, matter-of-fact, business-like individual, Mr. T. W. Paterson, M. P. Having a friendly feeling for the poet, we warn him that when he strips for this final desperate "go" in his political career, neither "fiddling" nor fancy ring manoeuvres will save him. Furthermore, we are grieved to think that the captain should purpose allying himself with the Socialist-Conservative party whose political principles are so fundamentally antagonistic to all he holds dear as a Tory of the old, uncompromising school.

And this brings us round again to the disputed point of the imminence of a general election. We cannot believe that the Premier would attempt to deceive the ally to whom he owes so much, Comrade Hawthorthwaite. The latter gentleman, we are convinced, understands thoroughly the intentions of the government, and the information he has received is such as to warrant him in taking the stump. Nor can we believe, despite the methods Comrade Hawthorthwaite has adopted for raising a campaign fund to maintain himself while on his tour of the province, that his party has not received its fair share of the proceeds of the various deals the government has put through the House—and which could not have been put through without its assistance—at the expense of the people of the province and of the half of male and female adventurers and great corporations.

Taking one consideration with another, with those two notable extremists Comrade Hawthorthwaite and Poet Wolley working together in the sacred cause, it is not evident that unless some untoward circumstances intervene, it is the intention of the McHride government to take an appeal to what appears to be the most opportune season?

DOING VERY WELL.

"Sifton's Pets," as the Doukhobors and Galicians were called in derision by the very particular people who had no confidence in the efforts of the late Minister of the Interior to settle the Northwest, appear to be doing very well indeed now that they have settled down and have gained a clear perception of our free Canadian institutions and understand what it is to live and work in a free land. Centuries of oppression and of vain labor for the benefit of the superior parasitic classes had temporarily unfitted the fathers of the foreign colonies for the responsibilities which they took upon themselves when they settled down on the prairies; but gradually they adjusted themselves to the new conditions. Now they are all clothed (even the erstwhile peripatetic "Dooks") aright in body and in mind, and according to reliable chroniclers, are not the least desirable of the citizens of the Northwest. Not to put too fine a point upon the matter, "Sifton's Pets" have become the pets of all who are in quest of reliable help and are generally recognized as one of the most industrious and reliable elements in the population. To illustrate this point, we quote from the remarks of a correspondent of the Toronto Globe:

The Galician girls do their share in marrying the Anglo-Saxon bachelors. They "Canadianize" with alacrity, and there is at least one amusing instance in which the tables have been turned on the Anglo-Saxon with a vengeance. A bright Galician girl, not long out, and whose face was familiar to the Commissioner of Immigration because of her occasional appearance at his office, was said to be about to marry an English plasterer. Some time subsequently the commissioner observed the Galician young lady again coming into the hall, but he noticed that she came in now by the British entrance, and not by the entrance reserved for the "contingents."

"Why is she coming in that way?" asked the commissioner of an attendant. "She is Mrs. Henry Jones now," said the attendant. "She has come in to engage a servant, and nothing will satisfy her but she must have an English servant."

THE LONDON FRESH AIR FUND.

On Friday last we published an appeal from Sir Arthur Pearson, of the London Standard, on behalf of the London Fresh Air Fund. Fresh air schemes, as our readers are doubtless aware, are charities to which some of the newspapers of the great centres in Great Britain and America have devoted special attention in recent years. They are conducted with the object of providing means whereby delicate and sick children in the slums of such places as Chicago, New York and other great cities of the United States, may be transported from the oven-like quarters which are their ordinary dwelling-places, and in which during the tropical heat of summer thousands of infants die yearly because of the high temperature, to the shores of the lake and sea, where they inhale from the fresh and invigorating breezes new life and strength. These fresh air schemes are now recognized as the most worthy of all the philanthropic enterprises of the day and receive most generous support from the public.

But the London Fresh Air Fund, a project organized, perfected and carried on by Sir Arthur Pearson, is the enterprise which should appeal with special force to the people of British Columbia. There are thousands upon thousands of children brought up in that great metropolis who know nothing of the beauties of Nature as they present themselves to us every day of our lives. If our readers had the opportunity of perusing London journals containing accounts of some of the expeditions organized by the Standard's proprietor, or noting the exclamations of wonder and delight evoked from the little ones who are privileged to observe for the first time in their lives things of which they previously had no conception—green fields, clear running brooks, trees and flowers free from grime and fœch from the mysterious workshop of nature, birds singing and the young of animals skipping in all the buoyancy of strong animal life—they would fully appreciate the nature of the work in which Sir Arthur is engaged and be strengthened in their resolve to give such assistance as lies within their power.

An examination of Sir Arthur Pearson's letter to the people of British Columbia will indicate how business-like and economical are the methods employed in the administration of the London Fresh Air Fund. Eighteen cents provides a day's outing for a single child. For a sum approximating forty dollars two hundred can be carried into the country, looked after and returned to their homes after one day's sojourn in wondrousland. Last year some of our citizens who know by their own youthful experience what it is to get away from the rush and roar of "dear, dirty London," interested themselves in this enterprise and collected funds for the Fresh Air scheme. We again commend Sir Arthur Pearson's communication to their attention.

The Prince of Wales, whose reputation as an effective public speaker has been growing ever since his accession to his present position, delivered a notable address at a Guildhall banquet in the city of London the other day, in which he summarized the impressions made upon him by his recent tour in India. Among other things he said: "If I were asked to name any general impressions which I have formed during this exceptional, but all too short, experience, they would be that I have learned to appreciate the fact that India cannot be regarded as one country. We talk casually of going to India. But the majority of us perhaps do not realize that it is a continent with an area equal to the whole of Europe, without Russia, containing a population of 300 millions of diverse races, languages and creeds, and of many different grades of civilization. I cannot help thinking, from all I have heard and seen, that the task of governing India will be the highest and the most difficult which has ever been entrusted to any man on our part of the globe."

amounts to the proposition that if the duties of a ruler are to be granted to the men who are entrusted with wide and sometimes despotic powers, the system he adopted is excellent. "But apart from analysis, the effect of his speech on the temper of the House was electrical. It transformed the Liberals from a dispirited to an enthusiastic party, and almost placed them on the offensive. Such is the strength of personality and the value of an ability which, as in Mr. Sifton's case, makes a superb debater of a man with a bad voice and an awkward style. "Apart from his effort to dissipate the cloud of suspicion which has enveloped him, Mr. Sifton fell savagely upon Mr. Foster, and revenged himself for the speech on the North Atlantic Trading Company by a series of personal attacks which, for acrid wit, barbed neatness of phrasing and combination of light handedness and lack of restraint, has not been equalled for many a day."

What Other People Think

A CORRECTION.

To the Editor:—In a published interview your reporter has made me say "The international boundary line begins at mouth of Bear river, at the head of Portland Canal." I have been misunderstood in this particular. The boundary line begins at the mouth of Salmon river, one mile from the head of the canal. This leaves the Bear river valley entirely in Canada and the British Columbia portion of the promising prospects have been located. C. H. DICKIE, Dunsmuir, B. C., June 10th, 1906.

A COWICHAN FARMER'S OPINION.

To the Editor:—In "A. T.'s" comment on Hayward's ruminations in Saturday's daily he is under the impression that Victoria is a splendid market for farm produce. From my experience of over twenty years I have found it the very opposite. Twelve dollars a ton was the highest offered for potatoes this winter, which means nine after paying freight, while in Victoria at $1.50 per sack, who makes the profit in this case? They are now prepared to pay the magnificent sum of $4. that is less than 5¢ we receive. As for oats, I was offered $2 per ton if they were of the first quality, which means $2 net. My neighbor wrote at the same time for the price of feed oats, and was told $27.50 a ton in Victoria, which means for us $1. I sold my potatoes up the E. & N. for $18 per ton net, and my oats at $25 in the bin, so that Victoria cannot be the best market. Farmers have to beg merchants in Victoria to buy. You never find the merchant buying the farmer to sell. I am told on good authority that Californians who know good potatoes will not eat those raised in that state, but use Oregon and Washington potatoes. We know where the California potatoes are often when we visit Victoria. I never see a good potato there yet. The boys get the good Island potatoes.

A SATISFACTORY PRACTICE.

What took place yesterday evening in preparation for the concert at the Victoria theatre next Tuesday, marking the close of the club's fourteenth year and of the musical season insofar as Victoria is concerned, is intended that the club shall sing among other numbers the "Sibelius" and "Sibelius' Chorus" (from "Parshausser"), the "Riedelberg Quartette" will supply a string accompaniment. Miss Dahl also joins with the quartette in Schubert's "Death and the Maiden," which will at this great combination concert be heard for the first time locally. The quartette numbers proper will probably include the first movement of the quartette in G minor (Grieg), Dvorak's arrangement of Southern melodies, Schubert's "Trauermusik" and the "Bridal Procession" from Wagner's "Lohengrin." It is expected that Herr Riedelberg will for his violin solos give "Rosenstein's Romance," and possibly

Will go on Lecturing Tour Through Province. J. H. Hawthorthwaite, M. P. P., Nanaimo, is to make a lecture tour of the province in the interests of the Socialist party, beginning about June 22nd. D. G. McKenzie, of Vancouver, provincial secretary of the party, has sent out a letter, in which it is stated: "Comrade Hawthorthwaite will go by way of Revelstoke and Nelson to the Crow's Nest Pass. All points along his route not having already applied for a date, should immediately notify the provincial secretary if they wish a visit from Comrade Hawthorthwaite. The provincial organizing fund not being large enough to bear the entire expense of the tour the following course has been decided upon: "Where Comrade Hawthorthwaite speaks under the auspices of a local of the E. P. of Canada, half the collection will be turned over to him on behalf of the provincial organizing fund, the other half of the collection to go to the local to defray the speaker's expenses and furnish certain advertising. The other half of the collection to go to the local to defray the speaker's expenses. "It is left to the discretion of Comrade Hawthorthwaite and the provincial secretary to make other arrangements when deemed necessary. "For points outside British Columbia arrangements are to be made with the secretary of the Dominion executive committee. The executive committee intend to spare no effort to make the tour a success, and the active and energetic co-operation of comrades and friends throughout the province is earnestly solicited. Should the finances of the organizing fund warrant an attempt will be made to follow up Comrade Hawthorthwaite's present tour with another one later. Indications are not wanting of an election this fall, so get your loins and get busy." PATENTS GRANTED. Thos. Kiddie's Improved System For Treating Ores—A Surgical Arm Split Invented. Rowland Brittain, patent attorney, Vancouver, sends the following report on patents recently granted through his agency to British Columbia inventors. To Thomas Kiddie, of Victoria, late of the Tye smelter, Ladysmith, a Canadian patent on an improved process for roasting the fines or concentrates of sulphide ores preparatory to smelting. Under this patent the sulphide fines are mixed with clay or other suitable material, and after forming the compound into bricks of convenient size and drying them they are roasted in heaps, stalls or kilns, where being initially fired the process of roasting is maintained by the combustion of the sulphur in the bricks as in the ordinary process of roasting lump sulphide ore. The result of such treatment is that thorough desulphurization and oxidation of the ore is attained in a strong brick which not only holds the metallic oxide in a gangue favorable to the subsequent reduction in the smelter, but is well adapted to stand the rough handling in conveying to the smelter.

"I found no Poisons in Steedman's Soothing Powders"

(Evidence of Dr. Chas. J. Fagan, Secretary Provincial Board of Health.)

The jury returned the following verdict at the adjourned inquest on the infant May Duval, who died in Victoria, B. C., on Jan. 7th, a Steedman's Soothing Powder being the last medicine given:

"THAT THE CHILD, MAY DUVAL, DIED FROM NATURAL CAUSES, AND FROM THE EVIDENCE GIVEN THERE IS NOTHING TO INDICATE THAT THE CHILD'S DEATH WAS CAUSED BY THE USE OF STEEDMAN'S SOOTHING POWDERS."

In consequence of the wide publicity given to this case and the fact that the unduly prolonged of the inquest, has given opponents an opportunity to impugn the composition of the GENUINE STEEDMAN'S (two E.E.'s) SOOTHING POWDERS (Waltham, Surrey, England), the proprietors are desirous of placing the facts before the public.

The Public Analyst stated upon oath that he found NO POISON IN STEEDMAN'S SOOTHING POWDERS, and the verdict of the coroner's jury given above clearly exonerates Steedman's Soothing Powders.

Sworn testimony was submitted by the manufacturer's counsel, Mr. ROGERS, as to the great care exercised to ensure perfect division in the preparation of the powders which have been manufactured for eighty years.

FOUND PARTY Annual Event in Connection With the Orphanage Takes Place To-Morrow

The found party in aid of the Protestant Orphanage, which has now become an annual event and looked forward to not only by the inmates of the Home, but by the warm-hearted friends who so willingly and voluntarily support this well-deserving institution, will take place to-morrow from 3 to 4 p. m. at the Home, Hillside Avenue. The ladies' committee will consider it a privilege and a pleasure to escort visitors through the Home, which looks bright and cheerful in a new coat of kalsomine, and show them how the little ones committed to their care are housed and cared for. For the benefit of those attending business, free of charge, will meet the cars at Hillside Avenue to convey visitors to and from the Home, where a warm welcome and a refreshing cup of hot tea will be found. Mr. Longfield has kindly offered to brighten the entertainment with a choice programme of music, and parcels sent to Messrs. Robert Porter & Sons, Douglas Street, will, through their kindness, be conveyed to the Orphanage.

BIOSCOPE ENTERTAINMENT.

Attraction For Gorge Park to be Provided When Weather Conditions Improve.

When weather conditions may be accepted as settled, the big bioscope entertainment which is to be the summer evening attraction at the Gorge Park will be duly installed, with one of the best lines of pictures ever seen in western Canada. The entertainment will be of the same high standard as the London bioscope, which made a great success in three successive visits to the Victoria in the hands of Clifford Denham, who will direct the production at the Gorge. The pictures will be shown on a screen 40 by 50 feet in area, and will be as remarkable for their clearness as for the up-to-date character of the living views.

Illustration has reached such development in this portion of the new century that the moving picture-man is expected to be at the scene of any great event almost as soon as the omnipresent reporter; and one may in consequence look for the actual, animated reproduction of such events as San Francisco's destruction, the opening of the Russian parliament, the wedding of the Spanish king, etc., almost as soon as the magazine accounts are in general circulation.

In addition the entertainment at the Gorge will include high class illustrated songs, good music and a sufficiency of comic motion pictures to keep everyone in good humor. The tramway company is planning to put sixteen large cars in service on the Gorge line to handle the evening traffic, and to justify the inauguration of the big summer evening attraction, and will be in a position to handle fully 5,000 passengers each-way per hour. The bioscope, with weekly change of programme, is to be an absolutely free entertainment, the tramway company looking for sufficient returns to defray the expenses in stimulated traffic on the Gorge division.

On Friday evening J. St. Clair will speak for the subjects of Life Saving and Water Polo in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. All those interested are requested to be present on that evening.

The monthly meeting of the board of trade will be held on Thursday afternoon, commencing at 2 p. m. There is important business to be brought up for consideration, and a full attendance of all the members is requested.

Mrs. Spafford, of this city, provincial organizer of the W. C. T. U., recently visited Fern and had a branch started. The principal officers were elected, and arrangements were made for a meeting later to complete the organization.

A reception is to be tendered the new pastor, Rev. A. E. Roberts, of the Victoria West-Methodist church, to-morrow evening. The Ladies' Aid of the church, have the arrangements in hand, and are preparing for an enjoyable evening. A programme of music with short speeches by other clergymen of the city will be given. Refreshments will also be served during the evening.

The carnival at the Gorge park on Saturday afternoon and evening promises to be an unqualified success. The ladies in charge are working hard, and it is to be hoped that the public generally will lend a hand and show their interest by turning out in large numbers on the day mentioned. Dainty refreshments will be served both afternoon and evening, and different forms of amusements provided for both young and old. In the evening the park is to be illuminated, and an open air concert given by ladies in Spanish costume. As a prize has been offered for the best illuminated and decorated boat in competition, it is expected, and the addition of these boats should help to make the scene a brilliant one. The park is now at its prettiest, and weather permitting the affair should certainly be a most enjoyable one.

FAREWELL SERVICE.

Salmon Arm Congregation Says Good-Bye to Rev. J. A. and Mrs. Wood. For the past four years Rev. J. A. Wood has been pastor of the Methodist church at Salmon Arm and now leaves for Saanich, to which he was appointed at the recent meeting of conference. The Inland Sentinel says: "That Mr. and Mrs. Wood are held in high esteem by the congregation is shown by the large number of members by the large congregation which packed the church at the farewell service, where complimentary addresses were made expressive of the pleasant relations between pastor and people and the good work done during Mr. Wood's pastorate, during which the congregation has greatly increased both in numbers and power for Christian work. General regret was expressed that the church had set a time limit of four years, which had now expired, and pastor and people must part. A cordial invitation was extended and the hope expressed that Mrs. Wood's return to resume pastoral work in Salmon Arm in four years, the time limit required by the conference. As a further evidence of the substantial good wishes of the congregation, Mr. and Mrs. Wood were presented with a well filled purse and are followed by the prayers of the congregation for future success. Mrs. Wood's ready assistance in any good cause will be greatly missed in the community."

THE HAWAIIAN BAND.

Will Give Two Concerts at the Victoria Theatre To-Morrow. Few people would believe that a wreath of flowers or feathers of a bird is considered to be of more value than one of diamonds by the natives of Hawaii—but such is the case. It is a tradition with the Hawaiians that a "lei," or wreath of flowers, was given to the first of their race by the Goddess of the Islands, who controlled his destiny, and that is why the members of the Royal Hawaiian Band wear the royal yellow "lei" around their necks at all the concerts they give.

This superb organization, comprising sixty trained musicians and singers, will be seen here in vocal concerts at the Victoria theatre, Wednesday afternoon and evening, June 13th. The organization comprises a military band, a stringed orchestra, a choir, a glee club, a banjo, mandolin and guitar club, and solo singers in number. The programmes given by the band are of classical variety, including popular and classical numbers, glee club songs, Hawaiian ballads and the renowned "Hawaiian songs. The band is under the direction of Captain H. Berger, its founder.

After to-day only the ship Tamar will be left in the Royal Roads of the fleet of four merchantmen which assembled there last week. The Empress bank, which has been awaiting a crew, has completed her complement and will sail to-day for Antofagasta for which port she has a lumber cargo and the Segura, another of the quartette, has been chartered to land at Chemanais.

P. Schonwandt, representing the owners of the steamship Empress bank, is calling on tenders for the purchase of a cargo of wheat for the steamer Empress bank in Esquimalt in a damaged condition. Tenders will be received at the office of the German Consulate up till noon on 20th inst. It would appear from this announcement that the differences between the underwriters and the owners have been settled, as it is understood that if the Moricheen is not sold by tender she will be repaired by her owners. The survey to the steamer is still in progress having been delayed somewhat by the removal of cargo still in the hold and by a quantity of rubbish in the way of a close examination of the hull.

An Enemy of The King By Hagenbuch Wyman

To annoy and hamper M. de la Châtre in his work of carrying out the public designs of the King and the secret designs of the Duke would give me the keenest joy. For once, both my great enemies, usually so opposed to each other in interest, could be injured at the same time by the same deed; and such deeds would help my beloved captain, by whom I had been chosen to perform them. I could hardly contain my happiness when I returned to my company, and ordered immediate preparations for a night's march northward.

We set out, myself and Tripault mounted; the others afoot, with several horses bearing provisions and supplies. Marching at night and concealing ourselves in the forests by day, we at last reached the mountain that forms part of the southern boundary of Berry. They were thickly wooded, and though the month of August made them a series of masses of deep green, they presented a sombre aspect.

"It is somewhat up there," I said, pointing toward the still and frowning hills before us, "that we are to find a burrow, from which to issue forth; now and then, to the plains on the other side."

"The only man in the company who knows this country," replied my devoted squire, Blaise Tripault, "is Frojac, but he makes up for the ignorance of the others by knowing it very well. He can lead us to the most deserted spot among these mountains, where there is an abandoned chateau, which is said to be under a curse."

"If part of it is under a roof as well as much the better," I answered. "Bring Frojac to me."

Blaise rode back along the irregular line formed by my rude soldiers, picked out an intelligent-looking young avoué, and led him forward to me. I made this man Frojac our guide.

After toilsome marches, forcing our way up wooded ascents devoid of human habitation, and through almost impenetrable thickets of brushwood, we crossed the highest ridge of the mountain chain, and from a bare spot, a natural clearing, gazed down on the Creuse, which wound along the line formed by the northern base of the mountains. Beyond that lay the province of Berry, which was to be the scene of our operations. Some leagues to the northward, crowning a rocky eminence that rose from the left bank of the Creuse, stood a mass of grim-looking towers and high gray walls. From the southern side of this edifice, a small town ran down the declivity to the plain.

"What is that place yonder?" I asked. "It is the town and chateau of Clochonne," said Frojac.

"Who occupies the chateau?" it belongs to M. de la Châtre, the governor of the province, who, sometimes comes there. A part of it is occupied by a garrison. We resumed our progress through the forest, now descending the northern slope of the ridge. After some hours, when night was already beginning to fall in the woods, Frojac pointed ahead to a knoll covered with huge trees, between whose trunks the space was choked with lesser vegetation. "There it is," he said. "The Chateau de Maury."

"We made our way through the thicket, and came suddenly upon ruined walls, rising in the midst of trees. Wild growths of various kinds filled up what had been the courtyard, and invaded the very doors. The broken walls and crumbled towers themselves through spaces in the crumbling stone. Southward from the foot of the knoll rose the mountains, eastward and westward extended the descent of the mountain side. Northward the ground fell in a steep precipice to the left bank of the Creuse, along which ran a little road from Clochonne, which was not, as to Narjac, which was south-west.

"Is there a path down the slope by which we could reach that road should we wish to go north by way of Clochonne?" I asked. "I do not think so," replied Frojac. "But these used to be a road from here to Clochonne, though this has not been used since the Sieur de Maury left, twenty years ago, to hunt for gold in the new world. They said that, before going, he made a compact with the devil, here, by which Satan was to lead him to a land of gold across the sea. The devil, however, is not taking care of his estate until he returns. Perhaps this road has not been entirely wiped out by the forest."

A part of the chateau was yet under roof. This portion included the hall and three or four chambers above it. The day after our arrival, we found the road through the forest still sufficiently open to serve us for expeditionary purposes. This abandoned way did not itself go to Clochonne, but it ran into a road that went from that town southward across the mountain. At the point of junction was the abode of an old woodman, and his wife, who the couple maintained a kind of inn for the entertainment of people crossing the mountain. This man, Godeau, was rheumatic, bent, thin, shriveled, and under the domination of his large, stout, strong-jointed spouse, Marianne. By means of a little flattery, a solid piece, promise of patronage, and hints of dire vengeance upon any who might betray me, I secured this woman's complete devotion. These two were the only human dwellers within two leagues of our chosen hiding place.

LACROSSE. SATURDAY'S MATCH.

Preparations for the best inter-city match, which will be played next Saturday between the Victoria and Vancouver teams on the Terminal City grounds, are proceeding apace. A full practice of the local twelve will be held at the Oak Bay grounds this evening, and it is important that all should be in attendance. The team must be in the best possible shape for the contest as the Vancouver players are being hard rallied, that the Capital City representatives are out of victory if it is within their power to achieve it. In order that the local team may not be handicapped by the loss of some of their best men, Rev. W. W. Dixon and others have been working hard to obtain leave of absence for all. This has been exceptionally hard owing to the fact that many belong to the Fifth Regiment and should attend evening drill regularly. But even that difficulty has been overcome by the indefatigable Mr. Bolton. As captain of the militia he interviewed Lieutenant Hall, the C. O., impressing upon him the importance of allowing the men off in the interests of sport. The latter saw the point readily, and agreed that the men should be given leave providing an authentic list of their names be submitted. Therefore there is every reason to believe that the team which will depart for the Terminal City on Friday night will be as strong as can be selected from the material available. Under such conditions they may be depended upon to give the Vancouver team at least a hard run for the victory, despite the handicap of starting ground and an unfavorable crowd of spectators.

YACHTING. TRANS-PACIFIC RACE.

A dispatch from San Pedro, Cal., dated June 10, reports that the Trans-Pacific race in the history of the Pacific was started today from this port, when three boats, Anemone, La Palma and Lurline, started with a signal shot at the stroke of noon for Honolulu. The Lurline is the flagship of the South Coast Yacht Club. Anemone, Captain Emery's, is from the New York Yacht Club, and Lurline, under the colors of the South Coast Club. La Palma, Commodore McFarlane, the cup defender, is the representative from the Hawaiian Yacht Club. The time allowed was as follows: Anemone given six days, Lurline five days, Lurline given six days, Lurline given six days, Lurline given six days.

BASEBALL. THE PRIMROSE CLUB.

A number of enthusiastic juniors have gathered together to form themselves into an organization which they term the Primrose Baseball Club. They have been practicing faithfully for the past few weeks and are now in shape to meet any similar local line. Among the players who have been secured are the following: J. Bowler, A. Barnwell, J. Switzer, S. Smith, H. Allen, J. Roberts, W. Renfrew, and D. Zarell have accepted the honor of acting as mascots. Those interested express the hope that the desire for games thus expressed will elicit some response from teams equally desirous of testing their strength.

THE RIFLE. THE ROSS RECOGNIZED.

Now that the Ross rifle is officially recognized by the Dominion government as the small arm adopted for the Canadian militia its use is permitted in all Dominion Rifle Association matches. This will insure a test of all its points of excellence, as to accurate shooting, together with the general efficiency of the rifle, and be properly appreciated by the sharpshooters and militia of the Dominion. The Ross rifle will be used at the Bisley meet this year, and the members of the team who have received their rifles are, without exception, well pleased with the wonderful accuracy and convenience of the sighting arrangements.

THE KENNEL. MONTEZ STOCK AGAIN.

Word has been received from Montreal to the effect that an English setter bred from C. W. Minor's Montez stock has captured the prize for the best English setter in the recent Royal Montez trials. This is the successful bitch. Besides the victory mentioned, she took first in both open and winners' classes. Tommy Atkins, the setter which won in open and winners' dogs, is by Sutton Boy from Sue Montez. These wins must convince local fanciers of the fact that the Montez stock still retains its good qualities and is destined to bring additional fame to the name of the local breeder, C. W. Minor.

LIVER Disorders

Are you subject to liver disorders? Do you have frequent feelings of sickness, dull headache, or sudden fits of dizziness? Do you feel that you have no energy; are just miserable and dejected? Have you a bad taste in your mouth, is your skin tinged with yellow, or have you constipation?

If you have any of the above symptoms depend upon it your liver is not working properly. The liver is the largest and most important gland in the body and once it becomes deranged it deranges the digestion, destroys the appetite, causes headache; and, in short, deranges the whole system. Bileans operate on the liver and stomach direct, and thus cure all the ailments arising out of liver disorder.

The action of Bileans is mild yet effective; and even in cases of liver disorder of long standing they do not fail. The following case illustrates this:

Bileans cured when all else failed.

MR. FRANK O'NEILL, of 722 Dufferin Street, Toronto, says:—"I wish to express my appreciation of what Bileans for Bilioousness have done for me. I had been troubled since June, 1905, with bilioousness, wind, feelings of fullness, and a dull miserable feeling. I had headache and constipation, and was altogether run down and out of order. All the remedies I tried failed to do me any good. I tried your Bileans and I am pleased to say they succeeded where other things had failed. They have made me well again. In gratitude for my cure I give you my full permission to use this information as you may think proper. If anybody is desirous of really knowing how wonderfully these Bileans do act, let them write to me. I will be pleased to give them the benefit of my experience."

Bileans for Bilioousness Cure

NOTICES.

NOTICE-Mrs. M. Beauchamp, 105 Blanchard street, per. of Figuard.

There is no apology necessary for any of the ads. in the want columns of the Times. Each one of them represents a genuine want, and under no circumstances is any fake advertising permitted in the Times. This guarantees the accuracy of the ads, and inspires the confidence of the reader. There are no fake ads. printed just to fill up space. Each one is genuine and paid for by the advertiser.

THE MAN of a hundred years ago had to work ten times as hard as the man of to-day for his dollars. The man of to-day is advertising his wants in THE TIMES and the dollars come to him. That's the difference. Try it.

You need not become disconsolate. There is plenty of work for everyone. But don't sit on a fence, like Micawber, waiting for something to turn up. You will have to turn it up yourself, and the best way to do it is with the aid of THE TIMES want columns. Merit is always rewarded, and if you really want employment the Times is always willing and able to assist you in securing it.

THE SAILORS' CASE Three of Crew of Orion May Be Admitted to Bail. In Chambers this morning before Mr. Justice Irving application was made by Frank Higgins on behalf of Olson, Hanson and GARDNER, the three members of the crew of the steam whaler Orion, who were committed to jail for refusing duty. The crown was represented by H. Dallas-Helmcken, K. C., and an order was made allowing the men to be allowed out on bail on satisfactory sureties being given. The bail was fixed at two sureties of $500 each for each one of the men. The further argument in the case was then adjourned until Thursday. As previously referred to the ground on which Mr. Higgins bases his claim is that the members of the Orion's crew upon the vessel being admitted to a Canadian register should have been signed on the articles of the ship before a Canadian shipping master in order to make the Canadian shipping laws apply in such a case.

G. G. S. LINDSEY IS HERE Managing Director of Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company Visiting Victoria. G. G. S. Lindsey, K. C., managing director of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company, and Mr. Lindsey, arrived in the city and are at the Oak Bay hotel. Mr. Lindsey is not in a position to say whether he will be able to leave this evening or be detained for a few days in Victoria.

He is now residing in Fernie, where he is taking immediate control of the operations of the company. The mines he has in charge are producing 4,000 tons of coal a day, which makes a total of within the last few months of 1,000 tons a day. This is due in large measure to the increased consumption of the railways and the various industries. No better indication of prosperity is to be afforded, Mr. Lindsey thinks, than that which is shown by the increased consumption of coal by the railways. It manifests increased trade in the country in all departments. The quality of the Crow's Nest coal is such as to ensure a market wherever it may be reached. Mr. Lindsey was asked by a Times reporter what the conditions were with respect to the supplying of water to the city of Fernie by the company which he represents. He says that the company put in a telephone system at the urgent request of residents of the city. He did not wish to do it, but the citizens desired it, and the company put in the system. Holders of another franchise became bitterly opposed to the company, and when the water question came up opposed the company's proposal to supply it, and supported the proposal of a scheme of municipal ownership. At the polls the vast majority of the citizens supported the company's scheme and turned down the municipal ownership proposal.

In changing from a flat rate to a new system of charging according to the service, there were inequalities at first. These have been adjusted now and the question has all been settled amicably.

Hearty votes of thanks were accorded the mayor, citizens of Revelstoke and lodge 432, F. O. F., for their hospitality to the delegates. The next meeting of the grand lodge will be held at Fernie on June 1st of next year. In the evening a concert and smoker was given by Revelstoke aerle in honor of the delegates, and a large number of birds and their friends participated. The hall was tastefully decorated and the tables were loaded with all the delicacies of the season. A good programme was furnished, which all present enjoyed immensely. Bros. H. F. W. Johnson, Victoria, and H. A. Brown, Revelstoke, addressed the assembly on the fraternal and beneficial features of the order. After four hours of a good social time the meeting adjourned with rousing cheers for the provincial delegates and Revelstoke aerle.

THE FULL COURT. Appeals Which Have Come Up To-Day For Argument. In the full court this morning the appeal in re C. A. Carew Gibson came up with J. Martin, K. C., and R. Cassidy, K. C., for the plaintiff, and E. V. Bodwell, K. C., for the defendant. This is an appeal from a judgment of Judge Morrison. One of the questions involved is that of jurisdiction. Argument was postponed until the arrival of F. W. Howay, one of the counsel. The appeal in "Con. vs. Lewis" is now being argued. This is an appeal from a judgment given the plaintiff, respondent, for about $1,500 damages for injury to stock from an adjoining premises.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY. Annual Meeting of Ladies of Episcopal Church Is Being Held To-Day. The annual convention of the Women's Auxiliary of the Anglican church is being held to-day in Christ Church cathedral school room. Holy communion was celebrated in the cathedral at 8 this morning, followed by matins and a sermon by Rev. R. Connell at 10. At 11 o'clock the convention met for business. Mrs. Perrin (the president) occupying the chair. After roll call and other routine business, Miss Halson, general secretary of the diocese of Toronto, delivered an address. This was followed by a general session, the president's address, report of the diocesan officers and election of officers for the coming year. Duties and responsibilities of members of the auxiliary were discussed by Miss Toller, of Christ Church, and Miss Ard read a paper on the needs of the church in Saskatchewan. JAMES REDFORD BADLY WOUNDED (Special to the Times.) Nansimo, June 12.—James Redford was probably fatally wounded at Alberni last night by Mr. Rollins, a hotel man of that place. Giving chase he caught sight of what he supposed was the bear, and fired, terribly wounding Redford, a well known rancher, whom he had mistaken for the animal.

NOBLES SUPPORT GOVERNMENT. Congress Now in Session at St. Petersburg Practically Endorses Agrarian Programme. (Associated Press.) St. Petersburg, June 12.—The nobles congress now in session here has practically endorsed the government's agrarian programme, having declared itself against the forced expropriation of land and proposing only two methods for the relief of the peasants, namely, purchase of land through the peasants banks and transmigration to Siberia, especially commending the latter and recommending the granting of free land in Siberia and exemption from taxes for a period of years. The congress also endorsed the government's proposition for a dissolution of the community from where it is desired. An influential but small minority headed by Count Uvaroff of Saratoff, protested against the selfish attitude of the nobility, urging unavailingly that the large landlords if they wished to escape from utter ruin must cede something to the peasantry and at least consent to expropriation of surplus estates. A strong effort is being made by the moderate liberals to induce the Emperor and court to attempt to compromise the situation, by supplanting the Gorenkin ministry with a mixed cabinet chosen from the October party, the party of democratic reforms, and the Constitutional Democrats, but there is no evidence that His Majesty is ready to try the experiment. On the contrary the straws point in other directions. Some of the provincial governors are still openly continuing the campaign to discredit parliament, and this morning the declaration of all the officers of the Zentovskiy regiment, who made themselves hated after the Moscow rising, was announced. Although the crop reports from the entire western provinces are excellent, the latest reports from the Volga region indicate that Russia will not escape a famine. The harvest in that region is estimated to be 25 per cent. below normal, and the situation threatens owing to the lack of rain to be a complete failure. This is the region where the peasant agitation is most acute.

FOSTER'S COMPLAINT. Remonstrates With Premier For Not Preventing Members Cheering Cinq Mars. (Special to the Times.) Ottawa, June 12.—Hon. G. E. Foster, in the House to-day, complained of the way in which his motion to bring Cinq Mars to the bar of the House was received. He said that while in the House he had been in the presence of the members of parliament, Cinq Mars was received with applause when he appeared at the bar. "Fancy," Mr. Foster said, "of the foreman and jury applauding a criminal when he appeared at the bar for trial." He blamed Sir Wilfrid Laurier for not preventing the members from cheering. Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that he assisted Mr. Foster to get what he asked for, although he thought Mr. Foster too sensitive in the matter. Yet when Mr. Foster asked him to prevent members cheering, that was an interference with liberty, which he would not be able to enforce. Cinq Mars appears again on Wednesday.
