

S. L. L.

Salem June 1st 1861.

Mrs Cook:

Your packages for the Dancers boys were promptly delivered by Mr Shackley - Our space being limited we were obliged to open some of the bundles to repack them with our own here - We have written to our son (Capt A. F. Deering) so, when the articles are distributed the Dancers members of the S. L. L. will have their own goods - Every member has been provided with two pairs of excellent

English hose marked with his own initials by some of our young ladies. We were obliged to withhold the woolen sock which you sent - and which I should ^{have} sent you had they not been begged from me for the "Guards" who are in a most destitute condition in Washburn being very ragged and dirty - some of them not having had a change of under clothing since they left Salem - Some ladies had interested themselves to get up some articles and hearing we had some matters left from our boys - came to me entreaty ~~ing~~ to relieve the distress of the Co - I gave them some shirts & drawers wh. we had left - and these woolen socks - The boxes were sent on Thursday afternoon in care of Mr Foulie who goes out to join the Louises.

We hear no particular news from the boys excepting their general good health and spirits -

We feel much gratified with the interest shown by your ladies in enabling us to carry out our plans so expeditiously -

Let us trust "our boys" Louises to that Providence which never fails to protect and establish the ^{right} and under His guardianship let us hope to welcome them all home again at the expiration of their three months,

If there should be any difficulty about the disposition which I have made of these socks I must beg you to let me know and we will replace them -

With respect &c.

Mrs H. Cook

South Danvers

Washington City Sep. 24, 1862.

My Dear Mrs. Cook,

I take pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of "five dollars and fifty cents, contributed by the Baptist Sabbath School" in South Nanners, for the sick and wounded soldiers. In behalf of the soldiers I thank the dear children, and will appropriate the amount so that the hearts of many of the ~~men~~^{soldiers} may be made glad not only for the refreshment furnished, but with the thought that they are remembered by even the children at home. I meet with Mass. boys daily, in the hospitals and by the way side exhausted, to them and all of every state. I do what I can for their comfort.

The paroled prisoners, are arriving here by thousands, in a destitute and almost starved condition, and then there are about 18,000 in the hospitals in this city and vicinity, so that all that will work for their benefit can find much to do. I am doing more than ever and need more than ever to do with. The government furnishes me with an ambulance two horses and a driver and all the army rations that I can use, which enables me to go to the distant hospitals, and to aid the stragglers on the out skirts of the city, so that every day I can feed or furnish some comfort to many hundreds speaking to each one personally.

Last week I received 14 barrels and large boxes of goods, and could have put to good use double that amount if I had them.

Last week Col. Sandford, Supervisor of Gov. Fel. Despatches, furnished me with $50 - worth of excellent grapes, these I distributed to 3100 sick and wounded men in the hospitals, and yesterday Adams Express Co. furnished $100 - worth of grapes, and I shall commence the distribution to day, a lady going with me to assist.

I want more clothing of every kind, but principally shirts and drawers. When a soldier is wounded in battle, and his clothing becomes very bloody it has to be thrown away if there is no opportunity to wash it, as it becomes very offensive. I have supplied hundreds of men with shirts that had none for weeks and months. Two paroled prisoners came to my door last night both barefooted and sick they had no shoes for months. one was Sargeant Richardson of the 2nd Reg. Mass. the other was of the 5th Conn. They had just arrived from Richmond where they had been nearly starved. Two men from Maine were with them. I made them a good supper lodged them in a tent I have in my front door yard and gave them a breakfast this morning, got some shoes and socks for the barefooted but in doing this I had to take a pair of my own stockings and my slippers for the sick sargeant, who I had put in the Trinity Ch. Hospital which is across the street. I give you these facts, that you may see what work there is to do here, and as soon as I finish this I must get fifty loaves of bread from the bakery at the Capitol, and with cheese, ham, fruits &c go among the hungry and sick, and to several hospitals to distribute grapes. Please remember me kindly to all my friends in your town, and tell them to send me every thing.

Yours truly Mrs J. T. Fales.

My dear Mrs Cook

We received yesterday from Danvers a box containing a large & very satisfactory donation, which we most gratefully acknowledge. There being no invoice with the box, & no letter having been received concerning it, I write to you as our usual correspondent in South Danvers. Will you be kind enough to let us know to whom we are indebted, if you can find out for us. The dressing-gown & socks contained in the box I would mention as being among the articles we are most glad to receive - We are also most anxious for an immediate supply of buttons, for which we have lately had a large requisition from the army of the Potomac - ledgements to whom we are indebted for this contribution

Dear Madam.

Though I send to the Post Office every morning for letters I was surprised yesterday to find three for me advertized, Great blundering in that P.O. somehow! Among the three was yours of the 22nd ult.

This will account to you for my not acknowledging the receipt of the half barrel, with butter &c. I have been wondering where it came from, as I could find the name of no town upon it but Boston, though I suspected it was from South Danvers as I had been promised some butter when there.

You would have been delighted to see the boys receiving the butter as I went around amongst them, some in their cups, some with a little piece of paper and some in their bare hands. I had just received a barrel and box of homemade bread and rusk from Philadelphia, and the boys took to their bread and butter quite naturally though they had not seen the two together for a long time.

I am glad to learn that the Ladies have not become weary in well doing, and will be pleased to be their agent in doing good. I meet with hundreds of Mass. Soldiers daily, and almost every night several lodge in my tent, and I have a greater demand for goods than ever. I am reserving a piece of the butter for the son of Mr Fitch Poole as I shall go to the Fort where he is in a few days. Please remember me kindly to my friends and believe me yours truly Mrs. J. T. Mrs. Cook,

Dear Madam,

The barrel and box from the Ladies Aid Society of So. Danvers have arrived in safety.
Just at this time we are of course specially thankful for everything entrusted to our hands. He had a letter from Washington written before the terrible fighting on the Chappahannock, saying that in case of a great battle, all the scanty supply of clothing then on hand would melt away in a single day.

Under these circumstances it would of course be unnecessary for us to say how glad we are to receive your work. Will you express to

Mrs. Henry Cook,

Mass.

My Dear Friend,

I thank you for your expressions of sympathy in your letter of the 6th inst. They touched the hearts of myself and husband deeply. But I feel now that I must work harder and do more for the living than I have ever done, and to this end I go daily 6, 8, 10 or 12 miles to the distant camps, forts, and hospitals where a female is seldom seen, and furnish the sick and suffering boys with all such things as you good ladies are sending me from time to time. I wish I could do more.

The box from your place did not arrive until Monday and yesterday I commenced the distribution amongst the Mass. boys in Virginia. To some I gave a whole package with a request that they would write to the school acknowledging the receipt of it, and they must distribute among their comrades. In all this visits I carry a large amount of religious reading furnished me by the two great Tract Societies of New York and Boston, and I think a great good is accomplished as the soldiers crowd around me every where and beg for more.

I shall be please to receive your photograph in exchange for the enclosed. Glad to hear that your husband is convalescent, Mr. Fales joins in kind regards to both,

Mrs. Henry Cook,

Dear Madam,

In the absence of Mrs. Fales I received your letter of the 26th and went yesterday to look for E. S. Daniels. I found him on the grounds of the Hospital, sitting with others on a bench under a tree.

He appeared to be pretty well, and only complained of weakness. I asked him if he needed anything and if he did I would get it for him. He said he did not, and was well cared for there. His quarters were in a brick building formerly one of the residences of the Professors of Columbian College. The college building and hundreds of large tents are now filled with sick and wounded.

He told me he knew Mrs. Fales and had often seen her around among the sick. I think his mother need feel no anxiety nor his wife, for he will be well cared for.

When Mrs. F. returns she will go and see him also. On Sunday she started to New York on a Steamer with several hundred wounded men transferred from hospitals here to make room for worse cases coming from the battle field. She took with her a large supply of hospital stores that she might nourish them on the way. For three weeks she has been at the Steamboat landing doing what she could to relieve the sufferings of those taken from the boats and put upon ambulances to go to the hospitals, sometimes riding with them to bathe their wounds and to keep life in them till they reached there.

She has been at work daily, since you saw her, in this good cause and now, having served three years, she says she has reenlisted for the war, and is just as anxious as ever for the means to work with. Mass. has done well in sending her supplies Penn. also. whilst New York has fallen off the last two years very much. but she makes no distinction among the needy where ever she finds a soldier in want of anything she can supply him with she cheerfully gives it to him.

She is well acquainted with the Mass. 1st Artillery, as she has visited them in their forts, for nearly two years, going the rounds of the 60 forts, around the city once a month with hospital stores and religious reading, the latter furnished by the American Tract Society of Boston.

Mrs F. will return in two or three days and will be much pleased to look after any of the sons or husbands of your friends.

She will highly prize your photograph.

Very respectfully yours

Jos. T. Fales.

Mrs. W. Cook,

My Dear Madam,

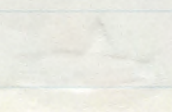

The box of Hospital stores from the Ladies Aid of South Danvers, arrived yesterday and just in time, as Mrs Fales, started again this morning on the Steamship Ashland for New York with another cargo of wounded soldiers.

On her first trip, she was the only female on board and she had her heart and hands full all the way. She found many Mass. men on the ship and done all she could for them.

She has a more important work on hand now than ever and needs greater supplies. Instead of supplies for an Ambulance she wants them for an ocean steamer, and will thankfully receive and judiciously distribute all that you and your friends will entrust her with.

She wishes to be kindly remembered to yourself Mr Cook and your friends, in which I heartily join

Mrs. Henry Cook,

Dear Madam,

Your letter of the 13th reached me a moment since; the box of goods arrived yesterday all in fine order, ^{for} which Mrs. F. and myself, send to you and the Ladies Aid Society our hearty thanks. Mrs. F. returned on Thursday from near Petersburg, having dispensed her hospital stores to the best advantage among the brave boys in the entrenchments and the wounded in the field hospitals.

She is now expecting to start in a few hours for Portland Me, on the Steamer Ashland with an other load of wounded. On her last trip there, she returned by the R.R. and came through Salem, and would have stopped to see her friends in that vicinity if she had known in time that her route was through that place, but she did not until the cars stopped, and then she had a young lady in charge to deliver to her friends here so she had to come right on.

If she comes that way again she will call on her friends in Salem and So. Danvers for a few moments.

Mrs. F. Cook,

Dear Madam,

You will please thank the Ladies Aid Society and all others that have contributed to the contents of the box received yesterday. I leave to morrow on a Steamer loaded with wounded soldiers, but where we shall go with them is not known yet. I have made several trips of the kind since I last wrote you, and I am in need of just such articles for the poor wounded boys all the time. I wish I could get such a box from your town weekly. Bandages and lint are much needed for these severely wounded cases. The Penn Relief Assn. of Philadelphia have furnished me with thousands of dollars worth of nourishing food and clothing and hospital stores for my work but still I have good use for much more.

I want to go over the river to day to the camp of the 6th Mass. and carry the sick there many things if I can get a conveyance. As I am at sea so much lately I have no ambulance and have to get some private conveyance.

Kind regards to Mr Smith yourself and

Last week we had 1637 inmates, 23 of whom have paid the debt of nature, during the week, 1120 remaining this week, the remainder forwarded to their regiments or other hospitals, You will perceive we have yet a great many to attend to, whose wants are faithfully supplied by our ladies, who do not grow weary in well doing, Now you see, you would see 50 ladies, carrying various delicacies, the workmanship of their own hands, and administering to those unfortunate brave men, who have bared their breasts in defence of our once happy country, They bind their wounds after being well washed, Comb their heads, administer nourishment sit by their bed side, comforting them, wipe the death sweat from off their brow; place the Coguet on their coffins, follow their remains to our Cemetery, their final resting place on earth, when loved ones at home, are little thinking of the change taking place in the earthly prospects, of those near and dear to them, Such has been the

My dear Mrs. Cook,

I did not write in reply to your welcome letter of July 13th, because I thought the Bulletin spoke better than I could; & so I mailed you a copy at once, wh^{ch} I trust you promptly received. — But the letter has been lying in my drawer ever since; giving me a feeling that I have not done my duty in regard to you, until I had answered it, & thanked you for your friendliness in writing, & in sending me the "Mercury." I had not seen the article, until you sent it, & am very glad to have seen, what I must believe to be one of the most shame faces, & unchristian articles ever printed. I Cannot believe that a person claiming the name of Christian, even if he lacked the spirit, could so twist & falsify plain simple, earnest words, as they are twisted in that article. It made me at first indignant, then sorry. When afterwards, I heard that its slander were so bad that they reacted on the heads of the writer & publishers, & created an increase of interest for the Sanitary Fair, I saw that I had been "of little faith". For if God promises anything, it is that such wickedness shall fail. But His Providence, in a manner we do not understand, is often slow; this time it was very swift. I do not wish the Sanitary Committee to gain from abuse of evil men; that is a sad experience always.

Rather do I see in this work of soldier relief, a cause in which every sincere Christian may work, in unity with every other. Thanking you again.

My dear Mrs Cook,

Please present to the Ladies of "The Soldiers Aid Society," our sincere thanks, for the box of bandages, received yesterday. Nothing could have been more acceptable; they are faultless, being well rolled, pinned, and marked.

Although bandages are our chief need, we hesitate to urge them, where we are not sure of their correct manufacture; the number received is, therefore, limited, while the demand is very great.

The rapid decrease of our funds, reminds us, of our reliance upon our Friends in the Country, to whom we must look for our supplies, for and

Ladies of Soldiers Aid Society of South Danvers:-

Your note, conveying to me the vote of your Society on the 21st of April came duly to hand.

Permit to express to you my thanks for the expression of your kind wishes, and also to assure you that they are duly appreciated.

I am happy to be assured that I was instrumental in forwarding the good work in which you are engaged, and only regret that circumstances forbade me doing more.

Hoping that the time is not far distant when your labors, as a society, will be relieved by Peace,

I remain

Respectfully yours

My Dear Mr Cook,

I thank you for your kind remembrance of me in yours of the 2nd received yesterday.

You are correct we have passed through thrilling scenes, and though overwhelmed we have not been cast down, our strength was in the God of the Universe who doeth all things right. And we have confidence that he will bring our nation safely through its fiery trial though we poor mortals suffer.

I have been at work among the soldiers every day since I saw you, and now, I have more work than ever before. The 20,000 soldiers, returned warriors around our city, have shared my labors tho' small in comparison for a few weeks. I have been amongst them in their camps and they come to our house by scores and are thankful for any little attention. Many are sick and the hospitals are already filled with those from the previous battles.

You and your society can aid me much in sending supplies of any thing that you can spare.

There is not a day that I do not do something for the soldiers of Mass. Thousands of them have had no pay for many months. so that they are destitute of every thing except what the Government supplies To some I give 25 cts to some 50 cts so that I do and can use judiciously much money and make the boys hearts glad.

I will thank you kindly for hospital supplies for towels, handkerchiefs shirts, drawers &c and money, much of which I use in purchasing oranges & lemons for the sick.

I should be pleased to have you spend two or three days with me when you could have a better opinion of the many things needed.

In my work for the soldiers I find much to do for the destitute families of the freedmen. Friends in Philadelphia furnish me with clothing for the women and children, which I take pleasure in distributing. and could do great good if I had more to do with.

Mrs Fales joins in kind regards to yourself and family

Yours truly

My dear Mrs. Cook,
Your box reached us safely, and its contents were most welcome - Although the end of the year has come, we cannot put down our work yet, and any contributions sent to us during the present month will be most acceptable - We received a telegraph last week, saying "send all you could look into the office of ^{the} San. Com. there and see how busy they are from morning till night.

It is very hard to realize so far from Washington as we are the large number of Soldiers in the

My dear Mrs. Cook,
South Danvers,
Mass.

I thank you and the Soldiers Aid Society for the $100. received yesterday. It was just what I was in want of to buy currants raspberries, blackberries oranges, lemons, ^{vegetables} and tobacco for the suffering and dying braves. Tobacco most of them prize above every thing else it cheers them and stimulates them when nothing else will.

There are some of the worst cases here that I have ever known among the wounded and the gangrene is very bad among them.

I thank Massachusetts for her noble work. Within this month I have received about $100- from her, the little town of Heath sending me $90- which has enabled me to purchase things most need by the boys that are not furnished by the government. I am much engaged in getting the wounded transferred to hospitals near their homes getting the dead embalmed and sent home. getting wounded men employed in the departments as clerks door keepers &c. the latter can only be accomplished in few instances but it takes much labor.

Indeed I have as much work as ever and I suppose I shall for a long time. But I will do all I can for the freedmen, I have two old ladies aged 84 each, that are perfect queens in their manners but their skins are colored, have been slaves all their lives, and much abused. I want to get dresses for them from some of my good friends. The Penn Relief Society of Philadel phia and the Ladies Aid of the same city have sent me many goods for the Freedmen and they are coming to me constantly for more.

Very truly yours

Mrs J. T. Fales
