2. The referenced memorandum authorizes the release of 138,365 barracks bags and 36,750 mattress covers to Japanese manufacturers of work clothing.

3. This material will be fabricated into work clothing which will be distributed as incentive goods to various groups under programs approved by Price and Distribution Division, Economic and Scientific Section, General Headquarters, Supreme Commander for the Allied Powers.

4. The allocations to factories made by the Economic Stabilization Board are as shown in inclosure 2. An estimate of the number of work clothes that can be manufactured from the material allocated is also shown.

5. Barracks bags will be sold to the manufacturers at ¥ 23.50 each. Mattress covers will be sold at ¥ 111.24 each. These prices were set by the Price Board and are in line with prices of similar Japanese material adjusted to allow for the extra waste and labor operations involved in using this material.

6. The factories are required to deliver and sell at official prices to registered wholesalers or other agencies designated by the Japanese Government all the work clothing made from this material for distribution under approved incentive programs.

7. Military government units should exercise careful surveillance to insure the receipt of the allocated yardage by the specified factories. The factories should also be kept under careful surveillance to insure maximum output per yard of goods and to make certain that the material is not diverted to illegal channels.

PRICE MEMO: Cocoa Cramel Prices at All Levels

PREPARED BY: Ray Hashitani

RECOMMENDATION:

1, To establish the following maximum ceiling prices for cocoa caramels per 70 gram package:

Producer price (delivered to nearest shipping station)	¥ 12.50
Wholesale price	13.18
Retail selling price	15.00

REASONS FOR ACTION:

1. Cocoa caramel is a new product in Japan and inasmuch as it has been produced primarily from imported food for distribution to coal miners as an incentive good as well as to children 2-7 years of age, it is considered important that it be brought under price control.

2. Eleven producers have manufactured 1,560 MT cocoa caramels to date in 192 plants scattered throughout Japan. In view of present hot moist weather conditions it is important that distribution be made at the earliest possible time inasmuch as heavy losses are likely to occur if early distribution is not made.

PRICE HISTORY:

This is a new product in Japan so no previous or current price is available. Milk caramels, the item most comparable to cocoa caramels sold for ¥ 0.10 per 70 gram package during the base period (1934-46) and now sells for ¥ 50.00 per package on the blackmarket.

METHOD OF CALCULATION:

Inasmuch as this item is a new product it is necessary to establish the producers' price by a cost-of-production approach as follows:

1. Cost of producing 100 kg caramel 1/

Raw material costs	¥ 9,279.61
Direct manufacturing costs	699.35
Wrapping and packing	4,278.56
Indirect manufacturing expense	2,119.82
Total manufacturing costs	16,377.34
Gen'l Administration, Sales & interest expense	1,432.11
Total cost for production of 100 kg caramel	¥ 17,809.45

Production cost per 70 gram package		¥ 12.467
Hauling cost, factory to shipping point		.048
Producer price per 70 gr pkg. FOB shipping point		¥ 12.515
Round off to		¥ 12.52

1/ The MTG Branch of ESS/IND concurs with unit requirement figures submitted as a basis for these costs. Raw material prices are uniform throughout Japan. This is made possible by a pooling technique.

2. Wholesale and retail price calculations:

FOB shipping point price			¥ 12.520
Est. av. frt., FOB shipping point to destination 2/			.036
FOB destination			¥ 12.556
Hauling, station to wholesaler's warehouse		¥ .056
Storage		.156
Insurance		.021
Interest		.094
Shrinkage and spoilage (est 0.3% of producer price)		.038
Commission (2% of producer price)		.251
			¥ .616
	Proposed wholesale margin		13.172
	Approved wholesale price		1.840
	Add 14% retail margin		¥ 15.012
	Retail price per 70 gram package		¥ 15.00
	Round off to

2/ Caramel manufacturing plants are scattered quite uniformly throughout Japan so there is very little difference between the shortest and longest haul. Accordingly, this flat freight rate allowance is considered a fair one.
