THE BILLBOARD

Volume XIII., No. 25.

CINCINNATI, SATURDAY, JUNE 22, 1901.

Price, 10 Cents.
Per Year, $4.00.

JOHN WESLEY VOGEL,
One of America's Leading Minstrel Managers.

Levyn's Letter.

To the Editor of "The Billboard":

Dear Sir—I have received several letters from bill posters in regard to my letter in your valuable paper of June, and as one and all wants more of the "stuff," here goes! Giving time names and dates:

On June 11 I closed contract with the Helvetica Milk Condensing Company, of Highland, Ill., for 1,500 8-sheet posters, and possibly 50,000 half-sheet slips, to bill certain sections of Illinois, Missouri and Iowa.

Mr. John Wild, business manager, was frank enough to confess his ignorance on bill posting methods, and placed himself in my hands, saying: "For this once you can get my money, and unless I get results, I will be forever lost as a patron of the bill wagon."

Please consider my position, just for one moment. Look carefully into the question. I was placed wholly on my honor. I could take this firm's money once. But afterwards? The "afterwards" was the funeral!

We picked out towns for Illinois, and the first dash out of the box, he placed his finger on Newton, and said: "Put five in that town." Not on your life! If the town has a bill poster, he is a dead one, for he does not belong to the association, and as I guaranteed you a thirty-days' display, my guarantee must rest upon responsible men! Well, then, give it to Peoria."

No, wrong again. Peoria is one of the most modern cities in the State, and has a plant where five 8-sheets will do but little good.

"Well, I see where I don't know anything about this, so will place it entirely in your hands. Give me my money's worth and do the best you can."

Do you see my position now? Of course you do, and you will say, "I had a clinch in placing this paper."

And this paper? Well, you can bet your life it went to the members only, and to the best of them, too.

Now, then, suppose this firm had ordered its posters from some printer, and in their ignorance of bill posting did its own distributing? They were not capable of judging the amounts needed in each town, but just made a guess, and sent a bundle marked "Squedunk, City Bill Poster," and the results would have been that they still had a "guess" coming. Then, according to this, the Helvetica Milk Condensing Company would not have got returns for the amount of money invested, and would have said "bill posting as an advertising method is no good." And why? Because they deal in something in which they were ignorant of. Just so with the so-called bill posters who don't understand their business enough to join the association, and get results from the organization. They are dealing in something they are ignorant of!

Now, then, let us look to the question of where and how the non-members get work. It has been shown where they get work—from new firms—and how? And how they greatly contributed to kill him for all future work.

Some advertisers have been in the posting field so long that they know the "best" of the bad one and so the "best" get a little work now and then, as the advertiser wants to advertise his goods in that town, and must "use" him or do without him in a great many cases he does without). In such a town like Newton, for instance, which has a population of 2,000, the present bill poster may possibly get two 8-sheets and twenty-five 1-sheets, which will give him $1.55. ("They must get it." Don't come often, because we know the man!)

Mr. Editor, I wish to say I don't know the bill poster at Newton. I don't even know if there is one there or not. I only bring in Newton as I would have any other town in which we have no member. But about Newton?

Some bright fellow will go in and erect boards and join the association. His name will be placed on the list in every office in the country who do business with bill posters. We hardly remember that he is a new one. He is simply shuffled in with the rest, for has he not fulfilled all the requirements as a member, and is thereby responsible?

This town will now be listed three 24-sheets, six 8-sheets, fifty 1-sheets, which bring him in $8. Now, isn't that simple? But listen to the end. The fifty 1-sheets pays, and more than pays, his initiation fees, and that town, with ten good locations, should bring him in $750 a year, besides his other work.

Now, then, about the requirements. He must have given amount of boards, regular-built boards. He must be responsible and must give a bond, a small one that any honest man can get from his fellow-townsmen for the asking.

I would suggest, Mr. Editor, that all solicitors should come together and devise some method whereby the small town could be brought into the fold. The large town is able to take care of itself. As a rule, the advertiser sends his paper to the large towns with perfect confidence. But the small one—oh! Lord!

Some firms don't sell their goods in large cities; or they don't try to the same extent as they do in the small ones. The Prickly Ash Bitters people of this city have been at the small towns for years, trying to get a showing, and I can get $5,000 of their money to distribute in the small towns, if they can get returns. No, I don't mean returns. I mean if they can get their paper put up they are sure of returns then.

If any bill poster who can and want join the association would give me one hour of his time, I would convince him, positively convince him, that he is wrong and losing money by remaining out. One of the most personal friends I have is "Uncle Billy" Moore, of Des Moines, and I dare him to say he is not to-day sorry that he didn't take my advice years ago and get in the band wagon.

Come, uncle, speak out; ain't you kicking that your train is going so slow that you can look out the window and count the shots in the fence as you travel in opposition to the regular member?

Yours truly,
M. L. LEVYN.

Williamsport, Pa., News.

To the Editor of "The Billboard":

Dear Sir—Business still continues to be to the good—in fact, it is the best season so far I have had in years. The N. W. Ayers Company has just made the second shipment of their Root Beer paper. The second shipment was only made to towns where the first posting was a benefit, and this city was one of them. Gold Rose posters will make their first appearance on the boards this week. A. Bauer Company will try the boards in this city for the first time with eight and two-sheets setting forth the merits of Dam-Lana. On account of the demand for space here, the past week erected two more fine large boards, one at the fair grounds along the trolley line to Newberry, and the other at the entrance to Vallemont Park. Mr. J. G. Reese and daughter, of Scranton, passed through the city last Saturday on their way to Lock Haven, to spend Sunday. Mr. S. M. Pagan, of the American Tobacco Company, was a pleasant caller the past week, and went over the city and inspected the display of the Blue Ribbon posters. It was his first visit to this city. Mr. George H. Sharpe, who looks after the N. K. Fairbanks interests in this section, spent several days here and was shown the town and at the same time the Gold Dust posters were checked up. Mr. C. L. Titus, of the Fraser Tablet Company, of Brooklyn, dropped in on us the other day and contracted to have samples delivered to the doctors of this city. At the last sitting of the grand jury here, they recommended that no more bill boards of any kind be allowed to be placed about the court house or the lawn. Vallemont Park opened the season last Thursday. The opening bill was "In Mizzouri." A number of last season's favorites appear in the cast again this season. The business for the first three days was big. The celebrated Fischer Orchestra of fifteen pieces is a big attraction in itself for the park. It is by far the finest orchestra ever heard in this city. Montoursville Starr Island Park was formally opened last Thursday, and it is said that fully 5,000 people visited the park during the afternoon and evening. The regular summer season at Sylvan Dell will commence Wednesday. The boat will make regular trips Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights. The opera house management was to run the Spooner Dramatic Company as a stock company for the summer, but after a hard trial of two weeks closed up Saturday evening for the summer season. Yours for success,

GEORGE H. BURB.

The Castner Case.

(Special Correspondence.)

Albany, N. Y., June 11.—The New York State Bill Posters' Association held a special meeting here yesterday at the Ten Eyck. It was a called meeting to consider charges of unfraternal conduct against Geo. Castner, of Syracuse, N. Y.

It was charged that Mr. Castner was either in partnership with or in the employ of Ries & Kerr, and that this latter firm was operating plants in opposition to members of the National Association and the Pennsylvania Association at Erie and Scranton.

Mr. Edward A. Stahlbrodt, on behalf of the Erie Bill Posting Company, pushed the prosecution vigorously and carried all before him.

Mr. Castner denied all the charges vehemently. He claimed he was not a partner of Ries & Kerr. He denied all connection, direct or indirect, with them. He produced documents and affidavits in support of his denials.

But the members present seemed to be very strongly of the impression that there was some intimate relationship existing, in spite of Mr. Castner's protests to the contrary.

After a fair trial, in which every aspect of the case was carefully considered and thoroughly discussed, Mr. Castner was expelled from membership in the association at all his towns in New York except Syracuse and Binghamton, and he was also suspended even in these two for the time being.

Advertisers contemplating a poster campaign for a thirty-day, listed, protected, renewed and guaranteed display in the State of Indiana, will find the following of interest. Space occupied, 100,000 square feet. Compiled by Mr. Clarence E. Rumey. COST, $80,000.

Extract from The Rocky Mountain Forum, Denver, Colo., Saturday morning, May 18, 1901.

THOSE BILL BOARDS.

The daily papers are severely attacking the bill boards, and denouncing them as a nuisance.

If the statement of a merchant, that he sells goods at a certain price, painted on a hinge board is a nuisance, then it is not out of order to ask that if the same statement is printed on an entire page of a newspaper, is it not also a nuisance?

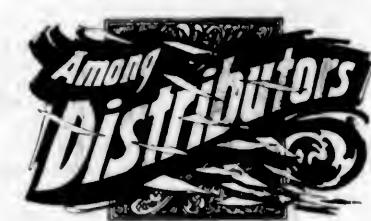

The controversy over the bill boards appears to have arisen because of the fact that the merchants are ascertaining that the bill boards bring more results than the newspapers, and this is not advantageous to the money drawers of the newspapers.

Now, there is one way for the newspapers to meet the painted bill boards, and only one. It is not by abuse, but rather a clearing of their columns of stuff that is not fit for publication, and thereby gaining free admission to homes where buyers of goods can be found. The fact that newspaper advertising is not as beneficial as in former years is due to the papers themselves. Regret that as we may, it is nevertheless the fact that there is not a single issue of a daily paper in Denver but what in some portion of it can be found reading unfit for pure eyes, and this explains why the daily papers have a delivery at the business houses and not at the homes, where advertising comes for something.

Sensational journalism is a fad. Respectable journalism is a necessity; and the more respectable the paper the more value its advertising columns become, because the paper itself reaches the homes—the very spot where the merchants desire to attract attention.

I may be painful to admit that a painted bill board is superior to a newspaper that boasts of intelligence, but what a compliment is this to the newspaper!

There is a great moral lesson around here, and he who is equal to the occasion may profit by it.

International Distributors' Association of U. S. and Canada.

The third annual meeting of the International Distributors' Association has been called for July 11 to 13, at Buffalo. The official notice from President Edward A. Stahlbrodt will appear in the next issue. This association is controlled by the leading bill posters throughout the United States and Canada, who believe that the distributing business belongs to them, and they are making every effort to give first class service. As they guarantee advertisers against loss or damage for poor work, they require every member to furnish a bond indemnifying the association against any possible losses. This is why they have very few obligations to make, and is in a very flourishing condition, having 589 members in good standing, and over $400 in the treasury. President Stahlbrodt and Secretary Rumey have done hard work the past year to bring about the rapid growth of this prosperous association.

Distributors' Notes.

No distributor can ever attain permanent success unless he "delivers the goods" honestly and faithfully.

Stephen A. Hyde, of St. Louis, has withdrawn from the I. A. of U., and gone out of the distributing business.

A letter written on neat stationery will impress your possible patron favorably, while the ill-written scrawl on cheap paper will have just the opposite effect.

Occasionally we still hear of the "lawn-littering" style of distributing. Nothing could hurt the business more than this or afford a just cause for complaint.

It is a notable fact that the dull seasons for the distributor are becoming shorter each year. There are few distributors who have more than two or three weeks of enforced idleness.

The very best means of extending your advertising is good, honest service. In inspectors who visit your territory, when they find your work satisfactory, will not be slow to say so.

Distributors throughout the country report business unusually good for this season of the year. Many of them have contracts which will keep them busy until the middle of summer.

Mr. A. H. McPherson, traveling inspector and salesman for the W. T. Hanlon Company, of "Pink Hills" fame, is in Cincinnati looking after the interests and advertising matter for his firm.

The wise distributor will not work on rainy days when the walks are wet and muddy. People become irritated when their walks and steps are soiled and the value of the advertising is destroyed.

The need for the travelling distributor is fast disappearing. Like Othello, he will awake some morning to find his occupation gone. As soon as the general advertiser is convinced that the service of the local distributor is honest and thoroughly reliable, this will be true.

Mr. G. F. O'Brien, representing Peruna in Minnesota, Illinois and Wisconsin, stopped over in Cincinnati one day last week while en route to new territory as signed him in the South. Mr. O'Brien will look after the interests of Peruna in Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and North and South Carolina.

It would be well for distributors to keep constantly in mind the fact that general advertisers have their work constantly under eye. They have inspectors all over the Union who watch the work closely. These inspectors report us to how advertising matter is distributed, no matter whether it belongs to the firm they represent or not.

The Mansion House, selected for distributors' headquarters during the convention at Buffalo, is centrally located, and every car line in the city, besides Niagara Falls trolley, passes its doors. Cars to the exposition grounds every minute. Mr. Flinck is to be congratulated on having been able to secure such desirable quarters for the "knights of the bag."

Mr. L. H. Ramsey, the well-known poster and distributor of Louisville, Lexington and several other cities in Kentucky, visited Clarendon last week. Mr. Ramsey was making a flying trip to Chicago. In a conversation, he incidentally mentioned the wonderful success achieved by the I. A. of U., of which Mr. Ramsey is not only an officer, but a staunch supporter.

Generally speaking, local merchants are becoming more and more convinced that house-to-house distributing is not only one of the cheapest, but also one of the best, methods of publicity. Many of them are daily being converted to this belief. There are several reasons for this change of heart: First, the service has been wonderfully improved. Second, there is no paid circulation. Third, any chess desired can be reached. Fourth, there is plenty of room in a circular or booklet for detailed descriptions. Last, but not least, the cost is less, considering the results, than any other method offered.

SCIENCE OF ADVERTISING

Sam Hoke's Gold Dust Compound Man Scares a Denverite.

One day last week the directors of one of Colorado's big mining companies, in a convivial meet in a well-known dining-room at Denver, became a little hilarious, and, according to the Denver Times, one of them experienced a narrow escape. A recent issue tells the story as follows:

"He boarded a Colfax car, and was with difficulty aroused in time to get off at his corner. A kindly conductor, who knew him of old, fortunately remembered his street. It was a chilly evening, and as he buttoned his overcoat tighter about his manly chest, he felt of a goddy-sized wad in his breast pocket, which he should have deposited in the bank that day. The fact of the money naturally led him to think of the numerous holdups which had occurred in that vicinity, and of one in particular which had occurred on that very corner, and there his troubles began. Happening to turn around, he saw only a few feet away the most villainous-looking holdup possible to imagine. A revolver as big as a cannon was pointed straight at the mining man's head. The frightened, along with the chilly evening, sobered him up, and his hands went above his head like skyrockets as he pleaded with the robber to spare his life and take his wad. The robber said not a word, but kept his victim covered with the big gun. The holdup's silence gave the man renewed courage, and he began crawling along a short distance on his hands and knees, but the fearful gun and the more fearful man continued to keep him covered. The man most likely would have been still crawling on his hands and knees if he had not seen a private watchman coming down the street. He made frantic appeals to this guardian of the peace, who immediately came up, and, much to the surprise of the mining man, the holdup did not budge an inch. It was only then that the blubulously-inclined Denverite noted the fact that the bold, bad-looking highwayman who had held him up was nothing more or less than a large 'Gold Dust' poster displayed on the bill boards throughout the city, which represents a fierce-looking man pointing a revolver at whoever passes.

Advertising Tips.

Carter Harrison Cigars are being posted throughout Ohio. Clarence E. Runey, of Cincinnati, has the contract.

The third annual meeting of the International Distributors' Association will be held at Buffalo July 13, 14 and 15.

The National Advertising Company of Baltimore has been incorporated with a capital stock of $5,000, shares valued at $10.

The Vanilla Crystal Company is using a select list of mediums in place of advertising through the Presby Agency of New York.

The Listman Mill Company's "Marvel Flours" advertising has been placed in the hands of the Banning Agency of New York and Chicago.

remember.
It takes just a hundred cents to make a dollar. Looking at it from a common "cents" standpoint, a small amount of common "sense" well applied in advertising may make hundreds of dollars.

A man does not want to get sentimental or to gush in an advertisement. The advertising columns of any newspaper is a poor place for a man to be poetical or seek to impress with flowery speech. Business is business, and a short, straight story given bluntly is what people will read and remember.

Pawnee Bill, has an advertising scheme that for novelty has seldom been surpassed. In private life "Bill" is the president of the Arkansas Valley National Bank, of Pawnee, Okla. When that institution issues bills, as it is entitled to do under the law, the president signs them "Pawnee Bill." And it goes. The bills are perfectly good legal-tender, and Mr. W. E. Ferguson, the general agent, seized on this fact to do a clever piece of work. He procured several sheets of these new bills and in places where it would attract the most attention he pulled out his sheet, takes a pair of scissors and clips off a bill or two and offers them in payment for the entertainment of the crowd. Almost invariably the new bills are looked on with suspicion, and the man who presented them as either a counterfeiter or a confidence man. The fact that the bills were signed by "Pawnee Bill" seemed to be clear enough evidence to most people that they were fraudulent. A reference to any bank showed that the bills are genuine and the show and Pawnee Bill gets a good ad, out of it.

Notes from the Bostock-Ferari Midway Carnival Company.

The Bostock-Ferari Midway Carnival Company is meeting with unusual success, the season up to the present time being the best the company has ever experienced. They opened April 22 at Shreveport, La., and played to big business. Texarkana, Ark., the following week also showed up in the big figures. Their next stand was the big street fair and carnival at New Orleans under the auspices of the "Progressive Union." The two weeks' business here was very large. Memphis, Tenn., during the Confederate Reunion, was a record-breaker, business being phenomenal. At no time during the week were the various shows able to accommodate the people, all the tents being crowded, from early morning until late at night. Last week the stand was at the Alexandria (La.) big free street fair, the business being again up to the high mark.

The Bostock-Ferari Company this year are carrying the finest line of shows ever carried by a carnival company in this country, the standard of excellence being far above the average. Heading the aggregation is the famous Frauds Ferari Traited Wild Animal Exhibition, acknowledged to be the greatest show of its character in this country, and having no equal on either side of the Atlantic. The feature of this great show the present season is the fifty-foot steel arena, where the performances are given, Princess Delaware being the star attraction, with her magnificent group of nine forest-bred African lions; this act is the most remarkable that has ever been given with an animal show in this country. In addition to this, the only Boxing Kangaroo, Big Frank, in a scientific exhibition with Prof. Briggs; Pauline De Vere and her group of South American pumas and panthers, the only performing animals of their kind in the world; Capt. Lawrence in his lion hunt, giving a most realistic idea of the hunt and subjugation of the beasts of the forest; Fatima II., the only coochee-coochee bear; Capt. Ricardo and the untamable Hou, Paul Kruger; altogether comprising the most remarkable show now before the American public.

The Crystal Maze, or Palace of Mirrors, is another star attraction of this aggregation, being the only one on the road, and at all the fairs becomes one of the most sought-for attractions. Woodford's Dog and Monkey Circus constitutes an education feature that always pleases the people. It being one of the best of this class of shows, The Streets of All Nations is the special Oriental feature of the company. The street show is one of the best ever given, the principal attraction being the Funkino Trompe of Japanese; this troupe is acknowledged to be among the cleverest now showing. Five camels and six sacred donkeys make this a true picture of life in the Orient; connected with the Streets of All Nations is the Turkish Theater, headed by La Belle Ameena. In this theater only true Oriental dances are given, it being the policy of the Bostock-Ferari Company to allow nothing in any of their shows that can not be seen by the most fastidious people. The Electric Theater is another feature which always causes a great deal of comment on account of its beautiful exhibitions. The German Village, with its quaint songs and performances, is one of the best attractions with the company. Edison's Moving Pictures, which are always kept up to date, at the present time showing Queen Victoria's Funeral, Carrie Nation and the Galveston disaster, other attractions carried are The Trip to the Moon; Oscar, the snake-eater; Eletra, the flying lady, and a Condor Ferris Wheel, constituting an aggregation of first-class attractions seldom seen outside of the big exposition.

The great feature of the Bostock-Ferari Company is that all the fronts of the shows are cash and every one costly, permanent hand-curved, gold-embellished and mirror-inlaid structures, requiring the services of thirteen sixty-foot cars, traveling by special train to transport this modern, up-to-date aggregation.

The company is booked up until August 1 with the very best fairs, and looks forward to the most prosperous season it has ever experienced. A few good fairs can be handled during the month of August.

Z. A. C.

The Newark (N. J.) Sunday Call, talking about advertising, says: "It is a fact little appreciated that Newark is advertised extensively by the local bill posting company. In its efforts to obtain customers it mails information concerning this city all over the United States, from Maine to California, and from Michigan to Florida. Business men in all sections are told about Newark's population, its industries, the railroads which intersect it, and other points."

Chicago Notes.

Alfred "the Great" has closed his tent show, owing salaries, and returned to Chicago to find his office effects in the hands of mortgagors.

P. Follette Gayline, a performer appearing in burlesque at the Orpheum, is the daughter of Congressman Crisp, of Missouri. The present appearance is her debut in stage life.

The Brady "Uncle Tom" Company disbanded with its close here, and will go to Buffalo as was originally intended. It is stated that Brady made $10,000 on the local engagement of three weeks.

Rose Violette, a performer who last appeared on the stage in this city with the Badly Dutchess Company, was murdered at the Great Northern Hotel, by Louis Hartmann, of New York, who afterwards committed suicide. No cause has been discovered for the deed. Relatives of Hartmann took his body to New York, and furnished the expense of burying the actress. Hartmann had left a wife in New York, and came to Chicago with Miss Violette, who was to have appeared the present week with the Orpheum Stock.

The Studebaker will become a combination house after this season, and will play productions that are outside the trust.

Belle Davis, who appeared at the Masonic Temple last week, fainted on the stage during her act, and was taken home in a carriage. She appeared at the next performance, however.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," in Yiddish, is the latest twist to be given to that drama. It is being produced at the Jewish Theater in this city.

Hard to Keep Good Men Down.

At Point Pleasant, W. Va., on June 13, the Harrison Brothers met with an accident well calculated to dampen the energy of less energetic showmen than these "dromos" are known to possess. The Harrison Bros.' Minstrels under canvas have a reputation second to no enterprise of its kind in the country, and thousands of their friends will regret to hear of their misfortune. A chandelier man, after their fatal ears had been loaded and the performers retired, attempted to empty a five gallon tank while holding a lighted beacon in one hand. An explosion was the result, and had it not been for the prompt action of Hugh Harrison, the entire outfit would have been destroyed, the flames from the exploded can having free access to the baggage car. Under the directions of Hugh, the troopers pushed the passenger couch out of danger, but as it was, most of the performers lost their wardrobes and personal property, while the Harrison boys are out exceeding $10,000. The scenery, poles, seats, stage equipments and everything except the canvas was a total loss. Jim was in the advance, and went back to the show on receipt of a telegram, with blood in his eye and a club for the chandelier man, who taking in that disreverence was the better part of valour, had decamped. The boss to the proprietors will not interfere with the shows route list, only necessitating the towns billed in the advance being made later in the season. The Harrison Brothers, immediately after the conflagration, made a rush order for a new car from the independent Car Works Company, Huntington, W. Va., a contract which guarantees the delivery to them in one week of a larger and much better comparison car than their last. In just six days from the date of the accident, the two "dromos" will be on the road.

A Mix-Up.

D. M. Garrison's 20th Century Stock Company opened at Marshall, Mo., under canvas, to a big house June 12.

Lester Lindsey, of the United R. R. Shows, has bought a sixty-foot Pullman car from the Hennegan Bros., Cincinnati.

Pen Cook, recently with the advance of the Robinson & Stickney Show, resigned to take a position as general agent of Lindsey's United R. R. Shows.

Lester L. Lindsey, recently with the Robinson & Stickney Shows as trainer of stock, was a "Bull" caller Monday. Mr. Lindsey opens his own two-car show at Marshall, Mo., July 1, with a brand new outfit from top to coat tent.

L. F. Smilie and Marie Smilie were special features for the Elks circus at Fort Wayne, Ind., June 13 and 14, making a phenomenal hit with their trained bull, Menagerie horse and racing whipped hounds. The daily papers speak of them in the highest terms. They made many new friends, and not many old ones.

Phil Gross will open early in July the Commodore Vanderbilt Theater and Music Hall in Cincinnati, at the site of the old Fountain Theater. The stage outfit and equipments will be of the most modern design, and a force of men are now employed renovating and improving the interior of the house. Mr. Gross will book high-class attractions, and declares he will cater to the best class of music hall patronage.

Saturday, June 22, 1901.

Our mail is burdened with inquiries as to whether "amalgamation" will "go through" at Buffalo. We unhesitatingly give it as our opinion that it will. Our reasons for holding this opinion are as follows, viz.: the Protective Company wishes it, the Publishing Company wishes it, and the I. D. A. wishes it.

Furthermore, as nearly as we can ascertain, the influential members of the association itself, being all more or less identified with the three bodies aforementioned, will work for it. Such opposition to the measure as exists, and there is considerable, is mostly on the part of country bill posters of little influence. These latter are not organized, and have no leader, therefore they are not in position to combat the movement.

Unless the leaders become divided against themselves, and some one of them takes up the cause of the country bill posters and stampedes the convention, amalgamation will prevail.

The New York State Bill Posters' Association, at their special meeting, held at Rochester, May 7, established a dangerous precedent. In reviewing the committee's report on the Castner case (which was adopted), the following preamble and resolutions were adopted, viz.:

Whereas, The foregoing report is conclusive as to the seriousness of the charges above stated; coming as it does from a representative committee, whose only concern in this matter is for the general welfare of the members of this association; and

Whereas, It is our opinion that George Castner has been and is abetting opposition indirectly and directly against members of this association, either as members of this New York State Association or holding membership in the Associated Bill Posters of the United States and Canada, in behalf of himself or in the interest of outside parties; and

Whereas, It is the sense of the members of this association that only strict enforcement of the objects as set forth in the by-laws and rules of this association and by mutual protection to each other, can the interest of this association and the individual members thereof be properly protected; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the charges as set forth in the report of the committee to President Bryan should be properly investigated and a hearing and trial given the respective parties, as set forth above, on the 10th day of June, 1901, at the Hotel Teneyck, Albany, as 12 o'clock at noon; and it is further

Resolved, That notice of these charges be mailed George Castner, of Syracuse, N. Y., by the secretary of this association, with the request that he appear before the association at Albany, N. Y., June 10, 1901, at 12 o'clock at noon, and show cause why the several franchises of membership in this New York State Association held by him shall not be declared forfeited; and it is further

Resolved, That the cities of Syracuse, Hornellsville, Jamestown, Elmira, Binghamton, Fulton and Baldwinsville, N. Y., are suspended from membership in this association pending trial of the charges as above set forth.

The danger lurks in the last resolution. A member of the association should be entitled to all the rights, privileges and benefits of membership until he is proved guilty. To suspend him pending investigation savors of snap judgment. The association would be stronger and enjoy greater confidence from its members if each individual member enjoyed the inalienable right to his franchise until it was proved beyond the slightest doubt that he was unworthy of it.

The fact that Mr. Castner was afterwards found guilty in a fair trial, does not alter the case. On the contrary, his preliminary suspension rather conduced to discredit the trial. Many bill posters throughout the country have formed the impression that the whole affair was cut and dried in advance, and the trial was a mere ratification of the scheme. Of course this impression is entirely erroneous, but no amount of persuasion is going to convince some members of the association of the fact. And all because those who were righteously pushing the prosecution went about it wrong at the beginning.

Despite the untoward ending of the Protective League of American Showmen, it would seem worth while for the circus managers of America to make another attempt to get together. Something will have to be done to combat the increasing greed and rapacity of municipalities in the matter of licenses. In England they have an organization of showmen. It includes circuses, menageries, fair ground shows, street fair companies and merry-go-round managers. The membership is so large that the dues are very small. This organization is doing much good. They will right straight along. Quite recently they prevented the city of Mansfield from acquiring certain restrictive powers at the hands of parliament. We quote from The Era, the English counterpart of "The Billboard," viz.:

The Mansfield Corporation sought to provide, by the hundred and twenty-second clause of its bill, that the corporation might make by-laws for the purpose of prescribing the hours within which, during any fair or at any other time, any show, booth, caravan, circus or exhibition might be kept open. The only ostensible reason given for this proposed clause, which would confer powers greatly in excess of the general law, was that it would enable the local scavenging department to begin its cleansing work in the Market square a little earlier; but the real intention was to get legal sanction for the arbitrary exercise of a power used by the police of Mansfield to close a fair nightly at a certain hour. Mr. John Whiting, a roundabout proprietor with between eight and nine thousand pounds invested in the business, gave evidence as to the increased difficulty of carrying it on, owing to the vexations and wholly unnecessary restrictions imposed by corporations and other governing authorities. Mr. T. Hurst—who estimated the amount of capital sunk in the steam round-about business alone at about £1,500,000, exclusive of circuses, menagerie shows and novelties in booths—said that the real object of the seekers after powers in excess of the common law was to so hamper and cripple the show business as to make it practically impossible to carry it on. He regarded these local enactments as a serious menace to his means of livelihood, and an unnecessary interference of the people's rights to their fairs and open-air amusements. The committee of the House of Commons rejected the clause, a complete victory being thus gained for the showmen, and a bold warning being given to corporations seeking "additional powers," to hamper the traveling showmen in their calling. We hope that the ratepayers of Mansfield, out of whose pockets will come the costs of the futile attempt, will speak their minds freely to the mayor and corporation who are responsible for it.

The honor of the triumph over encroachment is due, in the first instance, to the Showmen and Van-Dwellers' Protection Association. Without such an excellent association to look after and protect their interests, the traveling showmen would be entirely at the mercy of their scheming and insidious enemies. The splendid work done by the association shows the priceless value of combination. The association, however, can not exist without support. We are glad to note that the travelers, as a body, have not neglected the claims of the association, and we hope that in future the number of subscribers will steadily increase. Let all showmen remember that unless they support the association, not only by approbation, but by contribution, they will, undefended, divided and helpless, fall an easy prey to the "clerk" who flings away the people's rights "with the cold spurt of their pens."

With the example of our English cousins before us, we ought to at least try to get together again. Perhaps, if no "division of country schemes" creep in, an organization could be effected. Once it proved helpful and protective, it would speedily become strong and stable.

It is said on reliable authority that R. F. Keith, the monarch of American vaudeville, since he has calmed the troubled waters in Philadelphia and Boston, is looking Westward for the extension of his circuit, and that when he has completed his million-dollar theater in Philadelphia he will erect a similar palatial structure in Chicago.

John Wesley Vogel.

On the first page of this issue is shown an excellent picture of one of America's leading minstrel managers, a man whose genial manner, strict integrity and splendid business ability has won for him success in field where scores have found a Waterloo. Mr. Vogel is comparatively a young man, having been born on May 16, 1863, at Chillicothe, O., his father being a German Methodist minister and practicing physician. When quite a young man, he studied pharmacy at the Ohio College of Pharmacy, and afterwards engaged in this pursuit for four years at Hamilton, O. Growing tired of its entailed confinement, in 1881 he entered the show business, taking charge of the mailing department with the Sells Bros.' advance. In the winter of 1882, he became the agent of the Thatcher, Primrose & West Minstrels, and continued with them for nine years, serving for the major part of the time as manager of the enterprise. From 1880 to 1887 he was the manager of the Field Show, resigning his position in that year to put on the road Vogel's "Darkest America." The following year this show was merged into the Afro-American Minstrels, and the season of 1889 saw the enterprising John W. the senior in the firm of Vogel & Deming. Three seasons of unvaried successes and an extended and enviable reputation has attended the firm. The next season will find John Vogel's Big Minstrels touring the country and adding to the wealth and fame of one of the truest hearted, biggest souled men in the business. Mr. Vogel was happily married Aug. 25, 1883, to Miss Florence Corodis, who in the domestic realm reigns a queen of hospitality, as popular in her sphere as her husband is in the managerial field.

Inklings.

Hennegan & Co. are having a great run on Fourth of July posters.

Wm. M. Donaldson visited the Barnum & Bailey Shows in Hungary.

The Riverside Show Print, of Milwaukee, has an office in the Schiller Building, Room 702, Chicago.

"Any new hits in your 'Uncle Tom's Cabin'?" "I think so; Eliza runs across the river in a golf suit, while Topsy does a skirt dance and sings, 'Mister Hop Smith Don't Cut No Ice.'—Exchange.

The change of paper on the boards of the American Posting Service of Chicago amounted to more than 75,000 sheets last week. The enormous showing surpasses any similar experience in the firm's history.

A picture of one of Havana's bill boards, which appeared in the last issue of the official organ, might lead to the belief that the long-lost Charlie Hood has been publicly exonerated and forgiven.

The Road Drivers' Association of Lancaster, Pa., has issued a very handsome souvenir programme of their meeting, Wednesday, June 12. It is beautifully illustrated, and reflects credit upon the committee which had charge of the work.

In the disastrous midnight fire which destroyed the Mineral Springs Hotel at West Baden, Ind., last Friday, R. J. Gunning, who had been recuperating there for a week, is said to have lost all his personal effects. He escaped in a silk nightshirt and ably assisted in the rescue of a number of his fellow-guests.

Additional Daubs.

Chas. L. Olmstead, the bill poster at Maquoketa, Ia., also deals in manuscript plays.

Louis E. Cooke, general agent of the Buffalo Bill Show, visited Chicago recently, and was the guest of Rob Campbell.

Dan Quinlan arrived at Columbus, O., June 15. He is actively engaged superintending the painting and construction of the scenery.

During the week which O. J. Gude spent at Mudavia, Ind., in April past, he divided most of his time between the mud-baths and riding through the country on horseback. One day he visited the interesting village of Judyville and made a great impression on all the inhabitants, including the country editor, who gave the gavel O. J. a flattering puff in the next issue of his paper, and among other nice things, referred to him as "the biggest outdoor advertising man east of the Alleghany." Has Barney Link lost some of his avowals?

Mr. Edwin A. Haskell, bill poster at Grand Junction, Col., writes as follows: "My business during the past month has been good. We have had Lion Coffee, packing and distributing; Seal Cut Plug Tobacco, Strauss Overalls, Lydia Pinkham Medical Co., Gibson Clothing, Colorado Midland Railway, Owl Cigar, Great Eastern Circus, Diamond 'C' Soap, Woolson Spice Co., Fontella Cigar, Hires Root Beer, Sells & Gray's Circus, Pernna, Turnfest, etc."

Here's another illustration of the past-slinger's growing commercial importance. A Massachusetts bill poster refused to post a circus, and the circus was compelled to skip the town. In the days of bluff old Adam Forepaugh, whenever a bill poster declined to deliver up his plant temporarily for a certain sum, old Adam would start a plant of his own in the town, only to sell it again when his circus pulled stakes. Of course he never sold any of these "spite" plants to the local bill poster. Many of the most formidable bill posting oppositions had their origin in the refusal on the part of the bill posters to submit to the dictation of the show magnates. Nowadays it seems that the tables can be easily turned.

That aggressiveness is essential in every line of business to-day is forcibly illustrated by the American Posting Service of Chicago, with Rob Campbell at the helm. This mammoth concern is unquestionably the largest bill posting plant in the world, and controls every foot of bill board space within a radius of 45 miles of Chicago, excepting the plants at Lockport, Ill., and Hammond, Ind. George B. Norton has the franchise at Lockport, and P. J. Murray at Hammond. It is expected that both of these plants will soon be purchased by the American. A noteworthy feature of the American's wonderful and rapid growth is the fact that all its deals towards expansion have been conducted in a straightforward business-like manner, eminently satisfactory to all parties concerned.

Some men of affairs, whose methods of doing business are generally considered close, matter-of-fact and exacting, also possess qualities of heart which are tender, emotional and religious, and little suspected by their friends, because they prefer to hide them from the public gaze. One of these men is Col. Barr Robbins, of Chicago. On June 2, the colonel left Chicago quietly, and the next day he was accorded a royal welcome by old friends as he stepped off the train at the little town of Parma, O., which was the home of his boyhood. This little agricultural community is only a few miles south of Cleveland. Thirty years had elapsed since the colonel's last visit, but during that time he kept in continual touch with many of his boyhood friends by correspondence. When the proposition to build a Congregational Church at Parma was under consideration about two years ago, one of the colonel's old Sunday school classmates wrote to him for advice in the matter. His reply was characteristic. He advised the erection of the church, and further informed his old friend that when those in charge of the project had collected all the money they could at home, they could depend on him for the balance of the funds. Last Sunday morning the colonel was present at the dedication of the church, towards which he has already contributed more than $2,000. In heartfelt gratitude and home-like fashion he was surrounded by his old friends with their families, their children and their children's children, and he was fairly lionized. What a pretty and inspiring picture for those to imagine who have met the colonel only in the exciting hurlyburly of business!

Letter Box

Our readers and subscribers in all lines are invited to avail themselves of "The Billboard's" new mail scheme. We have an experienced clerk in charge of this department. He keeps track of people and forwards their mail wherever possible, the moment it is received, thus avoiding delay. Letters are only advertised when we do not know the whereabouts of the persons to whom they are addressed. Letters advertised for four weeks and uncalled for will be returned to the post-office. Circulars, postal cards and newspapers excluded. Letters are forwarded without expense.

The Circus Habit.

"You may talk about your city circus-goers," said the old circus man, "but the Indian, the wild, untutored red man of the plains, has got them all beaten to death. There's no circus-goer in the world like the North American aborigine. He will travel further, endure more privations and skimp himself harder to get the price of admission than any other human being in the world. What's more, I believe he really enjoys the circus better than the negro, though he doesn't make any fuss over it."

"The negro, as every circus man knows, will sell the family cook stove to get money to see the elephant, but the Indian will barter off his purpose, his squaw or even his most cherished possession, his horse, to get a ticket. After the negro comes the Chinaman. The Mexican, too, are not slow in responding to the toot of the calliope. The laziest gresner on the Texas border, who never paid a debt in his life, bobs up promptly on circus day with his 50 cents, thought nobody knows where he got it, but the Indian is the greatest circus fiend of all."

"In the West our circus is known among the Indians as 'the heap big brothers show.' It is the only circus that attracts the red man, and he waits for its yearly appearance as confidently as he awaits the return of spring. In Missoula, Mont., one of our regular stands, fully one-half of the audience is made of Indians. They come from as far as 200 miles on horseback and even on foot, starting on their long journey days before the circus date, and arriving probably on the morning of the day of exhibition."

"Probably the strangest mixture of people that ever attended a circus was found beneath the tent of our show one day at Tucson, A. T., when Indians, Mexicans, Grecians, Japs, negroes, Chinamen and a few American cowboys fairly packed the big canvas arena and sat proulsomously mixed over the blue seats. Though the Chinamen and Indians are undemonstrative, the cow punchers, Mexicans and negroes made as much noise that day as was ever made at a frontier massacre. The cowboys yelled like a pack of coyotes when Mine. Nibley rode the bucking horse, the Mexicans yelled at every act, and the negroes laughed at the clowns till the earth shook. That night the cowboys and greasers turned the town into a shooting gallery, emptying their revolvers at the stars and manifesting their sorrow at the departure of the circus by hollering up all the refreshments in the town."

A Rhoda Royal Letter.

We publish the following letter received from Rhoda Royal with pleasure. The news items concerning the trouble of the show were received from what was considered good authority. If our correspondents were in error, the letter from Mr. Royal will be the strongest correction.

Washington, D. C., June 11, 1901.
To the Editor of "The Billboard":
Dear Sir—I see in your issue of June 8 The Rhoda Royal Shows was in a great deal of trouble; that C. H. Gilbertson had taken his part away; that the Erie Printing Company had taken the sleeper, which is both false, as Mr. Gilbertson did not bring anything to the show nor did he take anything away, that is, in the way of show property. He came to my show with a lot of new ideas. We used them a while, but found they would not work, so we abandoned the ideas and him with them. The Erie took no sleeper. My show is still on the road and doing well. Now, I don't know where I ever done you a wrong, I hope you will kindly correct that article, and if you can't do me any good, I don't see why you want to try to do me any harm.

Roster of Campbell Brothers' Big Show:
J. E. Hetz, conductor, cornet; E. K. Smith, solo cornet; G. W. Wilson, first cornet; P. W. Graham, flat clarinet; W. S. Slater, flat clarinet; W. C. Rice, solo alto; G. L. Kinder, first alto; Harry Agard, solo trombone; Geo. W. Rice, first trombone; L. Bowline, first trombone; C. F. Fletcher, baritone; J. G. Gasper, baritone; Albert Marx, bass; Frank Hulseman, snare drum, and P. B. Buckley, bass drum.

Notes from Campbell Brothers' Show: We showed at Missoula, Mont., in a snow storm, but done a big business.

We came very near having a serious accident running from Hamilton to Palisus, Mont. The canvas wagon caught fire from the sparks from the engine, and burned part of the menagerie top, but quick work the next morning put it in condition to put up.

Dell Fuego is making a big hit with his clown band.

George Martin, the starved Cuban, gave a lecture in the side show top, Sunday, June 9. Admission, 5 cents. No one admitted but show people. He gave it pretty hard to back Campbell, Lee Greer and J. C. Ubine.

The Collard Quartette, including Henry McDade, Little Earthquake, Lee Benjamin and Charley Jones, sang some of the late songs.

This is the first show that has been in Davenport, Wash., in four years, and we look for big business to-morrow. L. N.

An Old Circus Agent.

E. D. Wenban, writing from San Francisco, says that he has been on the road since 1857 as a circus agent and patent medicine advertising man, and at present he has engaged with Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Company, and that they are doing extensive advertising in eleven States and Territories. Mr. Wenban is a regular reader of "The Billboard," and in his letter says, "I think that 'The Billboard' is the best paper for an advertising agent in the country. It certainly contains more useful information for men in my business than any other paper I know of."

The Kansas Governor Sees the Show.

At Topeka, Kan., on June 13, the home of William Sells, the great Sells-Gray Shows were given a very ovation. The governor and staff attended one of the performances, occupying seats of honor. It was necessary to give three performances during the day to accommodate the immense crowds that surged about the canvas. The show gave the most perfect satisfaction, and in spite of the three performances, there were hundreds who were unable to find even standing room. It was a "turn 'em away" day in the strongest sense of the term.

Trone Bros.' Shows closed after being out two weeks, on account of the backer withdrawing.

Joe Shoudel, of the Big Robinson Show, has closed his engagement, and will rest until winter.

Geo. Sipe, of dog and pony show fame, was in Chicago last week. He says business is great.

The Mardo Brothers, a new three-brother act, is the feature of Ishmael's Colossal R. R. Shows.

Mr. T. K. Edwiss, of Elwood, Ind., has bought a sixth interest in the W. D. Ament Big City Show.

Al. G. Field writes: "I saw Billy Sells' Show in Kansas City. Performance good and business big."

Jackskin Bill got good business in Cambridge and Marquette, O., but the show did not give satisfaction.

Whenever you can not get "The Billboard" at a news stand, tell the dealer that the paper is returnable.

Prof. Charles Little has placed Alvyn the balloon man, at Buffalo, N. Y., for five days, commencing June 24.

R. P. Jeannette, one of the popular circus agents of the country, has joined the forces of the Wallace Show.

Mr. Clay Lambert, contracting agent with the Ringling Show, paid "The Billboard" office a pleasant call June 14.

John Purcell, the boss canvasman, has closed with the Sipe Show, Mr. Miller, the steward, having taken his place.

At Streator, Ill., last week, the Ament Show played to 5,000 paid admissions in three days, states a correspondent.

E. L. Brannon, formerly of Cooper & Co.'s Shows, is now ahead of the Boston-Ferari Carnival and Midway Company, as special agent.

Frank H. Colgne will produce his three-act drama, "The Poisoners," next season. It is said to be an exceptionally strong piece.

Gentry and Norris & Rowe showed Everett, Wash., June 3. It rained all day, and the little business was about equally divided.

George Goodhart and Tom Daily, of Lancaster, O., are superintendents of advertising cars with the Ringling Bros. Circus.

The Ringling Brothers clash with Buffalo Bill and Forepaugh-Sells in Ohio, and the air is full of rumors of war even at this early date.

C. C. Wilson writes that business with the Nickel Plate Shows is good, but the weather so far has been the worst he ever experienced.

Mr. Ab. Johnson, the clown mule rider with the John Robinson Ten Big Shows, has made a big hit with his female burlesque principal act.

The Sells-Gray Circus, through Colorado, tilted the country routes heavier than ever before in the history of the show, and did a phenomenal business.

The Ringling Brothers, it is understood, have purchased Floral Trout Park, at Courtland, N. Y., to use as the site for the winter quarters of the show.

Robsy, of Robsy & Powell, with the John Robinson's Shows, is making good with his tramp bicycle act. The team closes the show with a black face specialty.

Ogden's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company is touring Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois. The show travels by wagon and carries fifty people and thirty-five head of stock.

The great Alvyn opened at Parkersburg, W. Va., June 18, for a three days' engagement, doing his mid-air cannon act, using one of the largest balloons in America.

Ringling Brothers have done away with the old-time extra seats. Their blues are twenty-two tiers high, and the interior is much improved in appearance by the novelty.

Charlie Cookston, recently contracting agent of the Cooper & Co.'s Circus, has accepted a position with the Ogden's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, as business manager.

There is destined to be just a little opposition in Ohio, since the dates of the Buffalo Bill, Ringling Bros. and Forepaugh-Sells are not satisfactory to all concerned. Dito Indiana.

Madam Cordella was one of the victims of Trove Bros.' venture. She reached Clu-chu-nah June 12. She says the backer, Mr. Calluet, withdrew because he thought he was getting the books.

Mike Coyle, the railroad contractor, is out of the hospital, having recovered sufficiently from his collision with a Chicago street car to be able to be on the street. He still carries one arm in a sling.

The Cooper & Co. Shows have closed on account of private trouble between Mr. Oatman and his wife. It is said they have separated. The show will paint up and repair and open in about four or six weeks.

The Benty Dog and Pony Show No. 1 played to big business in Denver, Colo., week of June 3. They played a week's stands over the circuit as follows: Glenwood Springs, Aspen, Leadville, Victor and Pueblo.

The visit of the Gollmar Bros. Show to Chicago Heights, Ill., was the indirect cause of a fatal accident last week. A man taking a load of lumber to the show ground, drove over the old ring, upsetting the wagon and killing himself.

Ad. Carlisle and A. E. Young have purchased Darling's ponies at Atlantic City. They will run at Atlantic City all summer and tackle the halls in the winter. W. E. Shackelford will represent the show and look out for Mr. Young's interests.

Mr. Harry E. Knowlton, press agent with the Walter L. Main's Show, writes that business has been remarkably good ever since the opening; that the New Fashion Plate, with its perfect equipment, is drawing forth flattering press notices at every stand.

Harper Bros. Shows had pretty tough sledding at the beginning of the season. What with all kinds of opposition and the villainous weather encountered, the new organization had a rough road to travel. It is all right now, though, and doing a nice business.

On the night of June 7, a cyclone struck near where the Ronben Brothers' Show was exhibiting at Hennont, Kan. Hall stones as large as hen's eggs fell for twenty minutes. The cook wagon was blown over, but a prompt lowering of the big top averted damage from that property.

Doe Colvin sold another fine, large cream-colored horse to the Wallace Show, and the animal, which is a fine piece of horse flesh, was received by the show at Chicago Heights. Doe certainly is successful whenever he sets out to procure anything in the animal line, be it a wild beast or a domestic animal.

B. E. Wallace is steadily improving at his home in Peru, Ind. He complains of being lonesome, and it is rumored that a petition is about to be circulated by members of his large advance department, requesting him to travel ahead a few weeks, as they think the trouble of the advance would dispose of any lonesome feeling.

Geo. Leonard, of Grand Rapids, Mich., is certainly entitled to honorable mention in this season's route book of the Wallace Show. When the show exhibited in that city recently, Mr. Leonard discovered that he had more tickets than he needed, and he very properly returned the ten surplus tickets unused. His example is worthy of emulation.

Edward Musliner, with his troupe of educated pigs and sheep, who was contracted with the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' Circus, was obliged to cancel his engagement, owing to the misfortune of losing three head of pigs while rehearsing at Ambrose Park, Brooklyn, N. Y. Since returning to winter headquarters, he has trained new stock, and is now ready to take the road again.

A. H. Reed, manager of Reed's Shows, writes from Kingston, Ky.: "We are working along the edge of the mountains, and are having rain every day, but the business is the best I have ever had. It looks every day as if there was one of the big ones in town. If this continues it will be a great season. I shall run up soon and see your new offices."

A correspondent with the Pawnee Bill Shows, writing under date of June 10, says: "The show is doing the largest business we have ever had, packing them daily at 50 cents admission. The Wallace Show is opposing us hard, putting up five sheets of paper to our one, but if they are doing us any harm, it is not perceptible. The weather so far is cold and rainy, and we are all wearing our winter clothing."

Chas. Lockwood, of Peru, Ind., has taken the position of press agent with the Great Wallace Show, taking the place made vacant by the sudden departure of Harry Hardy. Charlie is a graduate of De Pauw University, of Greencastle, Ind., is now one of the proprietors of the Peru (Ind.) Republican. He is a gentleman of rare attainments, and fully capable of discharging the arduous duties incumbent upon a successful press agent.

Wm. J. Ishman's Colossal R. R. Shows opened at Columbus, D., May 27. It is a three-car show, carrying an eighty-foot top, with two thirty-foot middle pieces. While there will be no riding or menagerie, the performance will be very strong in acrobatic features, trained animals and comedy. The flash on the lot will be augmented by a side show, and it will make quite an imposing spread of canvas. The entire management of the enterprise is vested in Mr. David B. Gilliam.

Ed. Franklin, who recently joined the Wallace Show to assist Mr. Cory in its management during Mr. Wallace's absence, was stricken suddenly ill at Chicago Heights. His children were visiting the show, and the son remained with his father. W. E. Franklin went out from Chicago and took his brother home Saturday and saw that everything possible was done to aid in a speedy recovery of the patient. Mr. Franklin is deservedly popular with hosts of professional people, all of whom regret his untimely illness, which is all the more unfortunate because of the sickness of his wife.

Fred. Beckman, the tireless opposition captain of the Buffalo Bill forces, expects to continue in his educational work the coming winter. After he has done his utmost to augment the historic and patriotic portions of the education of the residents of Waterloo and Cedar Rapids, Ia., and a few other "easy" stands, he expects to take up an offer made him by Richard K. Fox. It is said that the various volumes of the Police Gazette are to be compiled and issued in a neat, attractive book form, prepared especially for the best libraries. Knowing Fred's success in educational lines, Mr. Fox has made him an offer, and Fred expects to be busy the coming winter placing bound volumes of Police Gazettes on the shelves of Carnegie libraries and theological and college libraries.

Additional Minstrels.

The following letter, written from New Castle, Pa., under date of June 10, will explain itself:

To the Editor of "The Billboard":

Dear Sir—In your last week's issue of June 8, under the head of "Minstrel Notes," that Lee Long has had several offers for the Diamond Bros. Minstrels. In justice to ourselves (Matt, Lew and Lawrence Diamond), and the unsuspecting public, we alone have the exclusive right to the use of that title, "Diamond Bros. Minstrels," and any negotiations for the same must be made through us. Hoping you will kindly correct the item referred to, we remain yours,

MATT, LEW AND LAWRENCE.

In spite of inclement weather, the Gus Sun's American Minstrel have been doing almost phenomenal business since their opening. The show is giving splendid satisfaction, and the management is jubilant over the prospects of the season.

Each & Bowers are doing a good business with their show under canvas. They give a good show and please the people.

ADDITIONAL BILL POSTER.

A New Form on the Boards.

The Lovell & Huntington Tobacco Company has just issued ten thousand twelve-sheets and twenty-five thousand two-sheets to push the sale of their Bull Dog Twist brand of chewing tobacco. This concern has 35 traveling men on the road, and has engaged five additional. The posters are to go up ten to fifteen days in advance of the salesmen's visit.

Clarence E. Runey has closed contracts with the L. L. Walker Tobacco Company for printing and posting twenty, twelve, eight and two-sheet posters, advertising their well-known brand, Jack the Giant Killer. The poster is a striking one, showing Jack with his big club. The posting is to be done in selected Eastern cities. He also has the Judge Taft Cigars on the boards in a hundred cities in Illinois. War Eagle Cheroots are being billed in sixteen States with twenty-twelve and two-sheets.

Mihalovitch, Fletcher & Co., have just completed an edition of sixteen, eight and two-sheet posters advertising their brand of "Columbian Blackberry Cordial" in Western cities.

Saved the Child.

From the Denver Post of a recent issue, we clip an account of a heroic act performed by Bill Poster James Curran, Gladys Reed, a little four-year-old child, while crossing the street car track, tripped and fell between the rails, a few feet in front of a car. It seemed to every beholder that the child would be crushed to death. Curran, who happened to be on the sidewalk, saw the imminent peril, and sprang to her rescue. He seized the prostrate child, and with a spring barely cleared the heavy car, the fender scraping his legs and tearing his trousers. The mother, a very wealthy woman of Colorado Springs, who witnessed the rescue of her baby, asked for the name of her child's rescuer. He simply said, "Jim Curran," and disappeared in the crowd.

Illinois Bill Poster's Meet.

The Illinois State meeting of the executive committee of the Bill Posters' Association met in Danville, on June 13. W. J. Horn, of Springfield, president, and G. C. Campbell, of Chicago, secretary. The meeting was a very interesting one, and was well attended, there being only one absentee, Mr. B. Marylin, of Aurora, who was detained at home by illness in his family. One of the results of the meeting was the securing of harmony at Bloomington, where the City Bill Posting Company has purchased the plant of the Bloomington Company and made extensive additions. This action places the City Bill Posting Company in good standing with the association. The roll call shows 156 members in good standing, entitling the association to ten delegates to the Buffalo Convention. They were named as follows: R. C. Campbell, Frank P. Myers, C. F. Hamilton, W. J. Horn, A. D. Burr Robbins, B. Marylin, Sam Harrington, Clarence E. Runey, J. T. Given, G. W. Bowmen, with alternates W. M. Savage, L. E. Thoman, A. E. Walterman, C. O. Schlueter, Richard Wahler, L. R. Card, J. E. Williams, Charles Starks and Victor Janey. The committee endorsed the action of the Chicago meeting, removing the boycott from "The Bill board," with the suggestion that opposition advertisers in that paper be disengaged. It was also resolved that no news paper agencies be admitted to membership in the association, but that more exclusive poster solicitors from the ranks of members should be encouraged.

Mr. Geo. H. Steele, of the John Robinson Big Ten Combined Shows, who was called away from the show at Clyde, O., June 9, by the severe illness of his wife at De-ratur, Ill., passed through Champaign last Saturday enroute to Mendota, Ill., where he rejoined Mrs. Steele being convalescent.

Now that "What Happened to Jones" and "Why Smith Left Home" have had their run, it will be interesting to note the appearance of a new play, now in process of construction, entitled, "Where's Paddy?" Work on the manuscript is now progressing rapidly, and the production will be replete with amusing incidents throughout. Some of the characters to be portrayed are: The Bill Poster looking for his tickets; the railroad agent anxious to get the transportation "money" into the bank before three o'clock in the afternoon; the working man who "wants his time;" an actor who has package in the express office with "C. O. D. charges on it;" a miser who has just received a "touching letter from home;" a newspaper man looking for "press stuff" and "duets;" the "lot, feed and grocery men" with their little bills; the festive reunion who wants to know "where was you yesterday?" and last, but not least, a bunch of eager patrons clamoring for cards of admission to the big show.

The general theme of the piece will be work. The first scene is supposed to open at 7 o'clock in the morning, and the grand finale to occur about 12 o'clock at night.

The Sells and Gray shows packed their canvases at both performances in Kansas City, Wednesday, June 12. The show gave general satisfaction.

Daubs.

L. H. Ramsey was a "Billboard" caller June 12.

The Bengal Baking Powder Company is a new advertiser.

Bob Gunning spent last week at West Baden, enjoying a much-needed rest.

See that your employees make a good appearance. It counts in effectiveness in your work.

"The Billboard" is getting back its advertising patronage from bill posters, but it is slow work.

Mike Breslauer always has trouble on his hands whenever the Ringling Circus strikes the Twin Cities.

Fred C. Matthews, of St. Paul, Minn., is placing advertising for Cofateno, a substitute for coffee.

The Sapelo people, through Remington Bros., of New York, are sending out renewals of their advertising.

Florence Manufacturing Company are sending out contracts for advertising of their Proprietary Tooth Brush.

The Nineteen Hundred Washer Company, of Binghamton, N. Y., have placed their advertising with a New York firm.

The advertising of Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills is placed direct from the home office, 372 Pearl street, New York.

Danchy & Co. are placing the advertising for the Maltie Creamlet Company, Dingles and weeklies in the Middle and Eastern States are to be used.

Clarence E. Runey now occupies the office formerly occupied by "The Billboard," and has a force of five people busy placing work among the bill posters.

Tell your newsdealer that "The Billboard" is returnable. They have all been notified repeatedly, but some of them do not appear to know it yet.

George Fluster, at Weston, W. Va., has joined the ranks of the bill posters. He has a number of good stands, and is an applicant for membership in the association.

The bill poster at Hamilton, Ont., tried to work the old-time racket of all or none on Clay Lambert, and got none. Real bill posters passed that old trick up long ago.

Remember that when you are working for a firm, you are in a certain sense their agent and their representative. Your employer's interest should be your own, for remember, their success is your success.

Mihalovitch, Fletcher & Co., manufacturing Columbian Blackberry Cordial, are posting quite extensively in the larger cities with an eight and a two-sheet poster. Mr. Clarence E. Runey has the placing of the business.

We have received a very handsome little eight page booklet, advertising the plant of the Haskell Bill Posting Company, Grand Junction, Col. This firm belongs to the Rocky Mountain Bill Posters' Association, and Mr. Haskell is the president.

Will Barnes, of the Gunning System, has very wisely kept within the confines of Chicago ever since he made the famous "female goddess" trip to Milwaukee in March last. Will says he intends to keep away from Flitz for another year at least.

Mr. A. B. White, of the Taunton Bill Posting Company, of Taunton, Mass., writes that the work in his city is rapidly increasing, and that at present his men are working night and day. They have a splendid plant and an excellent wagon service.

The great council of the Improved Order of Red Men of the State of New York will kindle its council fire in Buffalo on Aug. 13. The council will continue for four days, excepting the 15th, when it will adjourn to participate in Red Men's Day at the Pan-American.

Frank Fitzgerald reports that business is booming in Milwaukee. Flitz is sending out a great deal of paper to be posted in the Eastern cities. Great preparations are being made in the Cream City for the Elks' annual convention, which will be held there the latter part of next month.

Colonel Ramsey, of Kentucky, must be happy these days, for the Reds and the Pilates are both showing championship form. The Colonel is a dyed-in-the-wool baseball fan, and the old Louisville Club has first place in his affections, of course, with the Queen City's aggregation a close second.

One very important position which the new amalgamation project will create is that of general manager of the New York headquarters. Some of those who are in a position to speak authoritatively say that the man for this job has already been selected, but they prefer to keep his name a secret for the present.

Louisville Notes.

The Zoo. The management of this place made a change last Saturday, J. L. Santross and Troy Metrockin retiring and being succeeded by Horace Metrockin and Gruber. Mr. Horace Metrockin will be the business manager, and with his experience in the theatrical business he ought to be able to make a great financial success of the park. He has been treasurer of the Buckingham Theater for a number of years.

New Albany Fairyal—The carnival company consented to remain another week, and the gates have been opened each night this week. The attendance has been very encouraging so that the promoters will be able to close the affair with a fair profit.

New Masonic Temple—On account of the concrete being held this year, the Masons have decided not to give the regular St. John's Day picnic. The day will be celebrated by imposing ceremonies in connection with the laying of the corner-stone of the new Temple to be erected on Chestnut street near Fourth street. It is now announced that the work of building will be pushed after this ceremony so that the lessees of the theater will be able to occupy it by the first of the new year.

Fourth of July Celebration—The National Government has presented two old cannons used in the Civil War to the city government. It is now proposed to set them in the Court House yard and hold an old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration in connection. The suggestion is now before the city council for action.

Marmaduke B. Bowden, director general of the Interstate Fair, is recovering very fast from his illness, mention of which was made last week.

Thomas L. Nelson, treasurer of the Avenue Theater, left last Monday for a trip to Salt Lake City, to remain until Aug. 1.

J. L. Shulerross, who has just retired from the management of the Zoo Park, will not keep out of the harness very long, but up to this time has not closed.

The Auditorium Summer Theater—The audiences this week are on a par with the old summer opera crowds. The program this week is excellent. Next week Manager Vaup will offer the following bill: Charles Wayne and Anna Childwell in "A Book Detective"; Maud and Miss Sohko, taney dancers, with their five pickaninnies; the Herne Brothers, who claim to be able to remove any pair of handcuffs made; the Brothers Bard, acrobats; Keely and Violette, vocalists; and Murphy and Nichols, in the well-known vaudeville sketch, "The Bifurcated Girl."

David O'Brien, the well known actor, has just closed a contract with Manager Metrockin of the Zoo Park, by which he takes full charge of the stage at this resort during the balance of the season. He will not only be the stage manager, but will do all of the booking. In addition to this, he and his wife, Miss Herold, will open a school in this city. Miss Herold to teach music and acting, and Mr. O'Brien to teach dancing and acting. They will also coach amateur productions. Mr. O'Brien is well known in this city, having been a member of the old Barney McAuley Stock Company, and ought to make a success of the venture.

THEATRICAL NOTES.
Miss Eugenie Thalia Lawton, who made her debut with the Liebler forces last season, has been engaged as leading woman for James O'Neill for next year. She is twenty years old, and a woman of remarkable beauty. It is predicted that her fame will in due time be as great as that of Mary Anderson. Miss Lawton's home is in Louisville, Ky., where her father is a prominent merchant.

Buffalo Inkings.

Court Street Theater, Mrs. Wegeforth, Manager—"The Devil's Daughter" is proving a huge success, and for the third week several novelties are offered in the way of new songs. Living pictures and Billy Van and Nellie O'Neill are proving great favorites, while Lillian Valvert tends a charm with her whining ways as the little Queen of Sheba's Garden Theater. M. Shen, Manager Blekey, with Clayton and Marle Stuart company, is the leading feature of the bill, June 14 to 15, to large houses. Little Gibson is as chirp as ever, with her songs. George Fox, with his violin, did good work. Flatow and Dunn were fair. Monroe and Wesley, in their little turn, were fairly good. The three Westons were excellent, as usual. Zeno, Carl and Zeno put on their old aerobatic act. Lew Hawkins entailed well with their swimming act. The Phonograph did its share, with new pictures. Mary Nonnau underlined next week. The Lafayette Theater, Chas. Baggs, manager, opens the doors, June 17, for the season, with the Weber & Fields company in "Fiddle-Dee-Dee," this place is neat and well fitted up, and will hold its own with any of the city theaters. Academey Theater, M. S. Robinson, Manager—Opens the regular season June 24 as a first class vaudeville house, offering the best in the line, and will be a White Hat house, as said vaudeville offers "The Burgomaster" to medium business. "A Royal Prisoner" at the Lyceum Theater the last week of the regular season, did fairly well. "Coutantopis" is proving a blazing splendor at the Teek Theater, to excellent business. Hale's Faunus Theater at the Pan-American is doing its share in the amusing line with last week's people. The Pan-American is drawing excellent crowds, in spite of poor weather, and is putting up a great show, equal, if not better, than the World's Fair. The Midway is putting out its best flicks, and pleases the people. A free Midway outside of the Pan offers Mousselle and Russell on the tight wire, Mille. Urloco and the spiral staircase, the three Watsons in aerial stunts, Heaven and Hell, the Streets of All Nations, Henry's Champagne Dream, H. Katon's Traduced Animal Show proved quite attractive. At May's Sing Sing Prison shows criminology as it is. Persian Theater, managed by James Harrigan, with the real thing in Persian dances. The Streets of India give an idea of life in India. The Streets of Calvo must not be passed without a word of comment, as its attractions are the best. A band of thirty-five enlivens the whole, and Manager A. John is much pleased with its success and the good send-off "The Billboard's" ad. gave in securing attractions. The liberality shown by the management of the Exposition engagings Sonsa's Band shows big returns in the crowds to hear the grand concerts. Booked at Shen's next week: Mary Norman, Truly Shattuck, Yorke and Adams, Prevost and Prevost, the Blondells, J. W. Clinton, the La Vines, Mark Sullivan and the Phonograph. Previews are giving Buffalo the go-by this season. The towns in close proximity have had their share. Wallace's, Walter Main's, Buffalo Bill's Wild West, Forepaugh & Sells Bros., have posted their bills near here, and Harris' Nickle Plate is at Batavia, June 15. Nellie Russell's Slide for Life at the Free Midway is of a thrilling nature. A red lantern marks her flight through the air, giving her a weird appearance, and the act is a headliner. Fred McFetland, manager of the Old Plantation, is remembered as manager of Shen's Theater on Washington street a few years back. Lyceum Theater closed week of June 17, opens for a Pan-American season with "Egyptia," an Oriental comic opera, June 24. J. S. R.

Theatrical Gossip.

Stewart Palmer has ordered a fine line of special paper for next season.

J. Harvey McEvoy will manage the tour of Harvey LeBell in repertoire next season.

Robert Sherman has ordered some new paper for "My Friend From India." It goes out on the night stands.

Chris E. McElroy will produce "Othello," at Columbus, O., June 27. He is booking in the night stands for next season.

The first car of the Forepaugh-Sells Show made its appearance in New Philadelphia, O., June 11. They come July 18. J. L. S.

When you are booking your rents, you ought never to be without "The Billboard." Look at our lists. Think what a world of valuable information you have at hand in them.

Marie Dressler is the latest actress to go into bankruptcy. Her petition was filed in the United States Court, and in it she avers her liabilities to be nearly $12,000 and her assets $12.

Frank Minnis, late of Fred Raymond's "Old Arkansas," who has been spending a vacation with his mother in New Philadelphia, O., has gone to Springfield, Ill., to find a summer engagement in stock.

New Philadelphia, O., June 12 (Special Correspondence). Please correct statement of last letter. I wrote the Forepaugh-Sells Show comes to Grand Haven, O., July 17. It should have been New Philadelphia, O., July 18, 1901.

A month longer will be consumed by the unexpected run of "The Brixton Burglary" at the Herald Square. The farce is light and jolly and peculiarly adapted for hot weather. It has the advantage of a first rate company.

At the Madison Square Theater, New York, William Fodder's comedy, "The Onion," is still as tenacious as ever. Its third performance has been passed. The closing performance at the theater has been put off indefinitely.

The New Philadelphia (O.) Fire Department has made all arrangements for a big time July 3 and 4. Over $2,000 has been raised, and ten bands and seven free acts have been hired, besides contracts signed with about fifteen shows. They are billing heavy and making vast preparations. Y. R. Lehman has charge of the attractions.

One of the most interesting of the many foreign stars who are announced to visit America at an early date is Mme. Charlotte Wiehe Berthel, or, as she is better known on the stage, Mlle. Charlotte Wiehe. She is a Danish actress, and has achieved a very high reputation in Europe as a mimic and pantomimist.

At the Cherry Blossom Grove, which crowns the New York Theater, there is also good summer entertainment to be found. The bill includes, in addition to two graceful and picturesque ballets, Les Thereses, the Molatzoffs, in Tartary dances; Leo Lummonds, the Prosper Troupe; Waldon, William Gould and others.

The trenchant Metcalfe in life says: "Artistically speaking, the season just closed has shown little of the real value. So far as the American stage is concerned, the season will possibly be known to posterity as 'The Year of the Brautkunst Novel.' Handwriting as it may be to confess it, the best plays have been the imported ones."

The success of Oscar H. Hammerstein's Paradise Garden, New York, on top of the Victoria and Republic Theaters, is now beyond a doubt. The unique arrangement of the resort and the thoroughly entertaining bill, which is presented on its stage, have attracted great crowds to the place. In addition to last week's bill, the three Roschetta Brothers, the Merrills and Arras and Allee are seen this week.

William Harris, of Rich and Harris, managers of Louis Mau and Clara Lipman, has received from Paul Potter, who is in London, the manuscript of a new play in which these artists will be seen next season. They will sail for London June 20 to consult with Mr. Potter in reference to scenery, costumes and the details of staging the new piece, which is a comedy said to contain an interesting story.

Terrace Garden, New York, is filling an important place in the list of summer amusements. The Parry Opera Company, an admirable organization, is its drawing card. This week "The Isle of Champagne," Thomas Q. Seabrook's once popular comic opera, is being revived. Frank Peshon has the role of the tippler king, and Mamie Gilroy is seen in the role of Diana. At the Terrace Garden concert this week the leading musical feature is "The Gypsy Love Song" by John Dunnison, of the Bostonians.

The naivete and unexpectedness which make the chief charm of children's prattle was amusingly illustrated at the other evening in the drawing-room of Mrs. Beerbohm Tree, wife of the noted English actor. Her little daughter was helping to entertain some visitors, and the talk was running generally on theatrical matters. A good-natured friend, wishing to bring the little lady into it, said: "And you, my dear, I suppose you intend to be a great actress when you grow up?" "Oh, no; not at all," replied the child; "maumma intends me to marry"—M. A. P.

New Orleans is a peculiarly distinctive city in the way of her amusements and patronage. With a population of less than 300,000, and eliminating the negro race, 200,000, she spends as much money as any city in the country of its size, with a possible exception of San Francisco. There are five theaters, and all did well last season. The French opera, of course, as supported in New Orleans, is a social institution, and is maintained by subscription, but the patronage of the other houses is drawn from the legitimate theater-going public.

Musical.

The Boston Lyric Opera Company gave a fair performance to good business at St. Ann's, Va., June 4. Col. Thompson, of Cincinnati, is the manager.

It is reported that Mme. Christine Nilsson (Contesse de Miranda), the Swedish prima donna, is seriously ill at Gothenburg, in Southern Scandinavia.

John C. Weber's Military Band, of Cincinnati, Ohio, will lead a hundred bands at the Knights Templar Official Convocation in Louisville, Ky., on Aug. 28.

It is expected that upwards of 20,000 Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will be at the Pan-American Exposition on Aug. 31, which has been set aside as Mystic Shrine Day at the big fair.

Wagner's Meyerbeerian "Rienzi," after considerable neglect in leading European opera houses, was this spring brilliantly revived in Munich, over four hundred people being on the stage in the second act.

Since the days of Paul Bauer nobody has cared to risk light opera at Coney Island. Kirland Fathorn is, however, trying it this week with a production of "Fra Diavolo" with a cast of eighty, including Nellie Black and Beatrice McKenzie.

Mr. John Philip Sousa has written a march especially for the Pan-American Exposition. It is entitled "The Invincible Eagle." The popularity of this newest of the "March King's" compositions is already assured. It is a feature of the concerts of Sousa's Band at the Pan-American.

"Parsital," for which the publishers refused to pay more than $15,000 (Wagner's demand of $20,000) was made partly because they had obtained the four "Nebelung" scores for the small sum of $10,000, had greatly increased in value within twenty years. Fran Wagner has refused an offer of $25,000 for the mere performing rights for five years.

The best organists in the United States are engaged to give recitals in the Temple of Music of the Pan-American Exposition. This daily feature of the Exposition is very popular with visitors. E. Russell Sanborn of Boston will give recitals from June 17 to 19. Others to follow are Gustave Frese of Louisville, June 20 to 22; Charles E. Clemens of Cleveland, June 23 to 25, and Henry Hensley of Denver, June 26 and 27.

Mr. Edward German, who had adequately completed Sullivan's opera, "The Emperor of the Sun," in which he has thought himself into Sullivan's style so skillfully as to be called a worthy successor, has hitherto been noted for his illustrative and incidental music for the stage. His work in connection with Mansfield's production of "Richard III," at the Globe in 1889, led to his being engaged by Sir Henry Irving to do like service for his "Henry VIII."

A dispatch from Vienna, stating that Mozart's skull, bequeathed to the Mozart Museum at Salzburg, had disappeared, with little hope of its recovery, has received much attention in the daily papers and penetrated into music journals, which show that we are but human and prone to err. It will be remembered that Mozart's burial took place on a stormy day in December. His widow did not attend, his few friends went only to the cemetery gate, and the body was laid in a common tomb with many other coffins. Months after, the wife, visiting the cemetery, was told by the sexton that he had forgotten the location of the grave. When the public finally realized that Mozart was somewhat above the average mortal, years had passed, the tomb had probably been emptied to receive new occupants. The whereabouts of Mozart's dust is unknown even unto to-day. The skull had never been separated from the body. Haydn's had; hence, perhaps, the mistake.

One of the most successful "benefits" known to history occurred in Paris last Thursday. Marie Laurent, once a popular actress, the Florence Nightingale of France during the Franco-Prussian war, the matron of elaborate charities for poor artists, etc., became a bankrupt. Learning of her condition, Mme. Patti inaugurated a concert by which $15,000 were made. The next day five newspapers subscribed $1,000 each. In addition to this, Calve, Patti, Rejane, Bernhardt, Melba and Emma paid off a mortgage of $6,700 on the actress' house. A spicy bit of gossip has lightly attached itself to the affair. Hearing of Jean de Reszke's victories on the race course—his horse won the Polish Derby—Patti telegraphed him that she expected a big contribution. He sent her $200 wherein, mightily indignant, she returned the money with no word of explanation. This lesson principally teaches the beauty of being a musical genius—one need not bother to be polite.

Burlesque.

J. H. Barnes is now the sole owner of the Deputy Paree Burlesquers, his partner, Harry Martell having sold out to him.

W. Campbell Shepp, manager of Rose Sisters' London Belles, can be addressed care of the LouLou Theater, New York.

Robert Fulgora has leased the Blue Street Opera House, Cincinnati, and will open it Saturday 1 as a burlesque house. It was once famous all over the West in this capacity, and it has an ideal location. No one has been able to make it pay in other lines, but it is generally thought that Fulgora has the right idea.

Minstrels.

Harrison Bros. turned them away at Maysville, Ky., June 7.

Barlow Bros. Minstrels got big business last week at Bay City.

Murphy & Gibson's Minstrels open at the Steel Pier, Atlantic City, N. J., June 22.

Lewis and Austin Minstrels can use a few more musicians who double band and orchestra.

Hall and Long will put out a big two-car minstrel show at the close of the canvas season.

Ed. Giroux, formerly with Rusco & Holland, is doing the press work ahead of the Boston-Ferar Midway and Carnival Company.

The Barlow Bros. opened their season in the parks at Grand Rapids, Mich., and the show made good from the jump. The weather was bad, but business was good.

Vaudeville.

Harry La Reane is at Electric Park, Asheville, N. C., this week.

The Laytons (Polaris Bros.) are the feature attraction at the Decorah, Ia., fair.

Fay Templeton has sailed for Paris, where she will remain until the Webster-Felds are ready to do their new burlesque.

Mabel Fenton, the wife of Charles Ross, who was taken seriously ill with nervous prostration a fortnight ago in Cincinnati, has fully recovered.

Nance O'Neill, who has been in Australia for two seasons, under the management of J. T. Williamson, will return to this country next season to star under this manager's direction.

B. F. Keith, the vaudeville king, is said to have secured an option on the property on the southwest corner of State and Madison streets, Chicago, the "busiest corner in the world, on which he will build a $1,000,000 theater.

Fair Department.

Fair Notes.

Tell your news dealer that "The Billboard" is returnable.

Geo. Seeger, Jr., Lafayette, Ind., wants an Indian Village July 4 to 6.

There will be mostly racing at Los Angeles, Cal., this year and very little fair.

The Evansville (Wis.) Fair claims to be the only fair that gives a continuous fair.

C. P. Auslet, of Thibodaux, La., writes that he has established plants in six surrounding towns.

The Georgia State Fair will be held in Savannah this year. Jas. C. Shaw has been appointed secretary.

The Denver Street Fair, under the auspices of the Denver Lodge of Eagles, opens in Denver the week of June 24.

The colored fair association at Louisville, Ky., styles itself the original Louisville (Jefferson Co.) Agricultural and Mechanical Association.

C. B. Fanikuer, of the Sturgis Carnival Company, is advertising from Cadillac, Mich., for a snake eater. He offers a good salary and a long season.

At Fonda, N. Y., the Executive Board of the fair association has cut out all racing and stage performances this year, there being a large element opposed to it.

There will be no fair at San Andreas, Cal. (Calaveras Co.), this year. A movement, inaugurated by Edward Casey, is on foot, however, to hold one in September, 1902.

An agricultural fair will probably be held at Waycross, Ga., some time this fall. They have a good track there, and in the event of the fair being held, there will be good purses.

The Georgia State Fair will be given at Savannah, Ga., probably about November 4, and continue for two weeks. This date is not definite, as there is a vacancy in the office of secretary, and the date may be changed later.

From the secretary of the Red Wing (Minn.) Street Fair committee comes the following, in a letter of recent date: "Stop our ad. We have already heard from pretty much every showman in the country, thanks to your valuable medium."

H. H. Hensel, of Lancaster, O., and Walter Schlichter, sporting editor of the Philadelphia Item, will give a big athletic show at McBrown's Park on July 4. Last year Mr. Hensel and other parties played Boston's show that week, and all parties lost heavily, owing to the fearful storm, which continued for almost an entire week.

Clearfield, May 31—(Special).—Clearfield will have a county fair September 17, 18 and 19, in charge of local men. R. N. Shaw is president, R. H. Shaw, secretary, and some of the officials about the courthouse are interested. Good men are at the head, and everything will be done to make that week a gala week for Clearfield.

At Nazareth, Pa., the North Hampton Agricultural Association will give in cash premiums this year at their fair $5,000. The speed ring purses will amount to $4,000. Among other special attractions, they will have "Cute," the guideless wonder, with a record of $2,05. Peter Edelman is the president of the association.

At Red Cloud, Neb., the Interstate Fair Association, getting ready for their exhibition in September, have repaired their grounds and painted the buildings all up in good condition, and will have many new and interesting attractions. Cash premiums will be about $5,000. Expect to hang up a good round sum in the speed ring, but have not decided definitely yet.

From Canton, Ill., comes the announcement that the business men contemplate holding a Fourth of July celebration, which will be the highest in the country for years. Fifteen hundred dollars has been subscribed by the merchants and business men generally, as our correspondent says, "To pay the freight." With that fund properly expended, the celebration should be a success.

At Lincoln, Neb., August 30 to September 6, will hold the great Nebraska State Fair—the thirty-third annual exhibition in the history of the association. Thousands of dollars will be expended in cash premiums, while the speed ring purses will be sufficiently valuable to attract racing men from every section of the country. The grounds are beautifully located, and will be extensively improved for the meet.

Mr. James C. Shaw has been appointed secretary of the Savannah (Ga.) Fair Association. Mr. Shaw has had wide experience in the management of shows, and will proceed at once to properly advertise the attraction throughout the State. Three principal exhibition buildings will be erected; also, new grandstand and stables. All work on the grounds will be completed by October 1.

The Valley Fair Association is a new one at Puyallup, Wash. They will hold their first annual, Oct. 4 to 6. The officers are as follows: L. A. Chamberlain, president; W. H. Panilamus, vice president; J. P. Nevins, secretary; Geo. D. Spurr, treasurer. Directors: C. A. Stokes, E. E. Murray, Henry Huff, B. F. Fryer, J. C. Taylor, Henry Bentlien, A. Spooner, J. Athow, C. C. McMullan, J. B. Rowley, James Cross, James McNeeley.

The Free Street Carnival at Cairo, Ill., for the week of July 1 to 6, will unquestionably be a great success. It will possess all the features of a free street fair, minus the booths along the streets. Over $2,000 has been raised to pay for bands, fireworks and other expenses. All the railroads and steamboats have granted a one-fare round trip rate, and as Cairo has a reputation second to none for having big crowds, it is a positive fact that its success is already assured.

A flower parade and trades display will be one of the features of the mid-summer carnival at Cairo, Ill., July 1 to 6. A Queen will be chosen from Cairo, Mound City and other nearby towns, and each will vie with the other for the honors of the occasion. The Merchants' League has the entire affair in charge, assisted by Promoter Frank M. White. The shows will all be placed on the principal thoroughfare, and everything will be done by the management to get them the money.

Street Fair and Carnival Notes.

The Board of Trade of Norfolk, Va., will hold a street fair early in the fall.

Eau Claire, Wis., will give a street fair this fall. John Horrigan is secretary.

Miss Little Hentshell is assistant secretary of the Richmond (Va.) Carnival Association.

The Lafayette (Ind.) Carnival will probably be given under the auspices of the Elks this year.

Port Jervis, N. Y., will hold a street fair in August. E. G. Gelsenheimer is at the head of the movement.

Lester L. Tieden, secretary of the Atlantic (Ia.) street fair, says that they propose to make it the best ever held in a town of 5,000.

E. W. Shanklin, secretary of the Lexington (Ky.) Elks Fair Company, spent last week in Buffalo, looking up attractions for the big Elks' Fair in August.

The Covington Board of Trade at Covington, Tenn., will give a street fair some time this summer or early in the fall. Mr. I. H. Lowenhaupt is the secretary.

At Atlantic, Ia., a big Elks' Men's Tournament will be given July 4. Atlantic is one of the best towns in Iowa, and the tournament will doubtless draw a big crowd.

E. L. Brennan, formerly with the Cooper & Company's Circus, closed on the 6th with that show, and has accepted a position as special agent with the Boston-Ferrari Carnival Company.

The Boston-Ferrari Midway and Carnival Company got a tremendous business at Alexandria last week and the show gave immense satisfaction. This week they are in Quincy, Ill.

Mr. Thomas G. Flitch, of Wichita, Kan., writes that Wichita intends to outdo itself this year in the excellence of the entertainment to be presented its guests at the Commercial Club Carnival, in that city.

A big street fair and carnival will be given at Atlantic, Ia., commencing October 6, and running for one week. Mr. Lester L. Tilden, secretary, writes that the fair will be larger and better than last year, and that the intention is to book a splendid line of special feature attractions.

Chas. J. Carter, manager of the National Theatrical Exchange, of Chicago, was in Dunkirk, Ind., last week, and closed a $500 contract with W. H. M. Smith, who is managing a free street fair in that city. The free attractions will be: Dunitell, the aerialist; Artlure Rose, the stair ride and bicyclist trick rider; Prince Schuman, slack wire artist, and Prof. Lotto, who will make a high dive 90 feet in a net.

The pretty, picturesque city of Algoma, situated on the west shore of Lake Michigan, is to be the scene of one of the largest street fairs in Northern Wisconsin this year. The city is beautifully located, has paved streets, and its electric lights are noted to the sailors of the lakes as the most brilliant from Chicago to Mackinac. Algoma's business men are of the progressive, energetic kind who put their shoulders to the wheel in all matters of public interest, and insure a successful ending of all undertakings. This spirit is especially marked in the case of the coming street fair. The several neighboring towns and cities have given assurances that they will turn out en masse, and as the fair association is advertising very extensively, large crowds are assured. The date of the fair, Aug. 21 to 23, is an assurance of good weather, as August weather in Algoma is ideal. Spend a few days of your summer vacation there, and don't fail to see the Midway. The officers of the fair association are: M. W. Perry, president; M. T. Parker, treasurer; E. Decker, Jr., secretary.

From Clinton, Ill.

Canton, Ill., June 13.—(Special Correspondence).—No other town in Central Illinois will have even a $1,500 celebration, much less a $2,000 one.

There was an informal meeting of the carnival committee of the Elks, Tuesday evening. Three were added to the committee announced last Saturday. They are U. G. Orendorf, C. E. Chipperfield and William Hanlon. This brings the membership of the committee up to fifteen. The committee will meet next Friday evening. The local lodge of Elks has 83 members, including some of the most energetic business men of the city—such men as comprise the working force when anything of a public nature is to be undertaken. The Elks want the fall carnival to take place, and will leave nothing undone in their power to make it successful, and anyone who knows the Elks knows it certainly will be successful.

A. R. Waterman will at once commence the work of putting up bill boards at the north and south ends of the tennis grounds of the Young Men's Christian Association. Two birds will thus be killed with one stone. The boards will answer the purpose of backstops for the tennis players and be very desirable for bills.

The Elks met in regular session Friday evening, and discussed the carnival project. The expression was unanimous that it is a good thing and can be carried through to a successful issue. Out of 112 business men who had been seen by the committee, only three disapproved of it. Three approved of it conditionally. The others heartily favored it. The plan is for a five-day carnival in September. The Elks to take entire charge. Under their management it is sure to be a gorgeous affair. A committee was appointed to map out a program. It consists of R. A. Savill, chairmen; George Hoyt, J. M. Fox, Lewis Thompson, George Blackader, H. V. Seman, Van H. Everly, Ed. F. Swearer, George A. Black, W. T. Mathews, S. A. Drake and M. W. Rafferty, treasurer. This committee will at once proceed to business and formulate plans for the carnival, attractive, etc. JIM.

PARKS.

F. Langford & Company, with Lunett, the Flying Lady, and the Mystic Moving Picture Show, opened their season at Duinkerk, Ind. They are doing a good business, and the show is giving universal satisfaction.

Roving Frank's famous gypsy village, located at Atlantic City, N. J., comprises a roster of 60 people. The attraction is a great success. Mr. Hublin has four road camps out, and will next season be interested in several other road shows.

Robert Kane is to manage a stock opera company at the Mountaine Casino, Holyoke, Mass. The Casino opened May 27. Improvements to the amount of $10,000 have been made; twelve dressing-rooms, under a 40x50 stage, and a seating capacity of 2,500.

At Pueblo, the "Grand Stand," one of the prettiest resorts in Colorado, is located in the center of the city. Raud concerts and vaudeville shows are the attractions. The amphitheater has a seating capacity of 2,100, and has been doing very satisfactory business since the opening of the season.

Julian A. Shelby, personally known as Capt. H. Wallace, high diver and gymnast, has joined hands with the Van Lears, Millie and little Verna, aerialists, and they will hereafter be known as the Shelby Trio. Bonheur Bros. are doing a great business in Kansas.

There are four parks near Salt Lake, Utah, besides the Canyon resorts, and they are all doing a big business this season. Our correspondent states that there was a mistake about the Salt Lake Theater having in a short while ago. There was only a lean to one the back of the main building, which had been used as a scene room, which fell.

The Floyd County Live Stock and Irving Association at New Albany, Ind., are making extensive repairs on their grounds. A cash premium list of $5,000 will be given at their fall meeting, and there will be four trotting races, four pacing contests and also running races. There will be special feature attractions, and the exhibition will be one of the best in the history.

Tanner's Hippodrome Wild West opened the season May 30, at Kinneywood's Park, Pittsburgh, Pa., where the show is engaged for fifteen weeks. The roster comprises Charles Tanner, owner; O. A. Tanner, manager; Harry Jacobs' Sixth Nation Indian Band, of fourteen musicians; Buckskin Harry, Charles O'Brien, Charles Gordon, Diamond Darrell, Mexican Star, Bowser Brothers, Bert Kell, Millie and Verna Van Lear, Capt. H. Wallace, performers. Joe West is the announcer with the show; Charles Gordon in charge of the stock, with eight assistants; Joe Ryan and his den of reptiles, tondo and alligators, making a big hit in the kid show with the same trick.

Teets Horseshoe Shows are reported doing big business through the Southern States. The last week in May was the banner week of the sixty-five since their opening. The roster main the same, with the addition of Jim Francis, the juggler, who joined June 1. While the show has experienced a good deal of bad weather, it has not had a blow-down, and the performance gives universal satisfaction. Joe Rosella and Floyd Troyer seem to be the expert sideshow man with the trick, and from the clear waters of Virginia's rippling brooks are supplying the table with the funny tribe.

Baldwin Park, Quincy, Ill., is being put in fine shape for the season by Mrs. T. S. Baldwin, wife of the proprietor, who is now at the Pan American in Buffalo, exhibiting his mammoth captive balloons. The race track has been put in good condition, and there are fifty head of horses in stable there now. Matinee are given every two weeks until the big meeting, which comes off July 23 to 26. Mrs. Baldwin writes that the prospect is bright for the biggest meeting ever held in that section, and that it will be the only race meeting ever given in America, managed by a woman. The theater opened for the summer season Sunday, June 23, with a big vaudeville show.

Young's Ocean Pier, at Atlantic City, N. J., owned and managed by Mr. John L. Young, is one of the most popular of all the Eastern pleasure resorts. The pier extends out into the Atlantic Ocean a little over a mile, and is lined with attractions of every nature. Among the features are Prof. Ad. Carlisle's Trained Dog and Pony Circus, Dickson & Smith's big vaudeville pier, George H. Adam's Lady Basket Ball Play ers, Brown's colored cake walkers; Irwin, with his funny family, including the Irwin Sisters, in their own cozy little theater, and then the Royal Marine Band of sixty pieces, with their daily concerts. The average attendance is said to be 25,000 a day through the season.

Atlantic City Notes.

The two principal events here the past week were the grand openings of Governor's and Doyle's, Pavilion Theaters. The work of the mechanic can be readily seen at both of these houses, especially of Doyle's, as this house has been enlarged to twice its former size. The stage is plenty large enough to accommodate any of the big spectacular productions. The managers of both Doyle's and Governor's should feel very much elated over their successful openings. Following are the attractions for the week:

Doyle's Pavilion—Frank Goldie, manager. Murphy and Downey, Geo. H. Fielding, Frank and Ida Williams, Violin Thorndike, Siddons and Nelsons, Three Martinelli Brothers, Crawford and Washburn, Meyers Sisters, Brown, Harrison and Brown, Three Nudes.

Governor's Theater—John B. Willis, manager; The Broadway Trio, Johnsons, Estella Willis, Three Renos, Vesta Trotters, Seekers, Wilks and Seekers, Olin Hood, Three Carter Sisters, Pelet, Frank Williamson and Ada Gilbert, the Bartlets, Stark and Martells, La Fiesta, Thomas Carrick, the Gregsons, Louis Olwell, Kitty Helston, Six Jersey Lilles, and John B. Willis.

Young's Ocean Pier—John B. Young, manager.

The Steel Pier—Royal Italian Band; Giulio Cesare Creatore, director. Murphy and Gibson's American Minstrels and Old Homestead Quartette are pleasing great crowds three times a day.

The Palm Garden—After a short life of two weeks, this resort closed its doors last night (Saturday). The performance was one of the best that has been seen in Atlantic City for a long time, but the houses opening on the boardwalk the past week proved too much for them. Jack Henderson, the treasurer of the house, made many friends while here.

"The Billboard" will be found on file at the Hotel Johnson, 1928 Atlantic avenue.

Additional Theater Gossip.

Manager Griffith, of Rocky Springs Park, Lancaster, O., on the Sonestoga, will put on the Melier Family, of water wonders, during the week of June 24.

At Conestoga Park Theater, Lancaster, O., the Columbia Opera Company opened for fourteen weeks on Monday night, and the business has been very large.

Chamberlin, Kindt & Company, of Dayton, Ia., have broken ground for a new theater at Rock Island, and expect to have it completed by the middle of October.

Tyrone Power will be a member of Mrs. Fiske's Company at the Manhattan Theater, New York, next season. Mr. Fiske having just concluded negotiations with Mr. Power by cable to that end.

Miss Elsie Leslie has signed a contract with Lighter & Co. to play the part of Glory Quayle in the special company in which Edward J. Morgan is to be starred next season in "The Christian."

S. H. Grubbs and F. J. Inks, of Findlay, O., purchased the title, costumes, scenery, etc., of the W. S. Cleveland Minstrels June 12. They have taken everything to Findlay, where the show will be booked and organized.

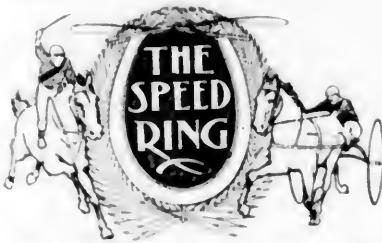

E. H. Sothern, in "Hamlet," appeared in Dubuque, Ia., last week to about a third of a house, which proves that no matter how strong and glorious an attraction may be, people will not patronize an opera house on a hot night.

Frank McKee has secured the dramatic rights to George Barr McCutcheon's romantic novel, "Graustark," which will be adapted to the stage by Jeannette L. Gildner. Mr. McKee will present Mary Manning in the play constructed from this book.

Edna Wallace Hopper and James N. Galatin are not to be wedded after all. They mutually agreed to break the engagement because the mother of the young millionaire believed her son was too young to get married, and for the reason also that Mrs. Hopper's mother believed it would mean the retirement of her daughter from the stage.

The Association of American Vaudeville Managers has elected the following officers: President, P. D. Chase, Washington; vice president, L. H. Moore, Detroit; treasurer, Percy G. Williams, Brooklyn, Mass. The Eastern managers are: G. F. Albee, New York; N. Shea, Buffalo; G. E. Lothrop, Boston; Richard Hyde, Brooklyn; Julio Hurtig, New York. The managers elected for the West were: Max C. Anderson, Cincinnati; Charles Kohl, Chicago; M. Meyerfeld, San Francisco; John D. Hopkins, Chicago, and J. D. Murdock, Chicago.

Oscar Hammerstein concluded arrangements by cable to-day whereby the Gidus borough Octet, which he devised himself and is at present appearing as one of the numbers in the Paradise Garden program, is to go intact to Berlin after its engagement here, and be presented at the Winter Gardens in that city.

The racing meet at Los Angeles, Cal., will be thirteen days this year, Sept. 28 to Oct. 12.

Mayor Fleischmann, of Cincinnati, has sold Halma, the celebrated stallion, to G. N. Jeanderesse for $25,000.

The season of the Queen City track at Newport, Ky., has been extended to July 6, and may continue all summer.

Bob Baker, the Fayette County trotting horseman, sold two yearlings during his recent visit to New York, for $22,000.

Miss Young, by Wilkes Boy, out of Aegean Miss Odum of Bingen, 24614t, has a foal at foot at Lookout Farm by May King.

The world's half-mile track record was made by Prince Albert, 2:03, on the track of the Pennsylvania State Fair at Bethlehem, Pa., Oct. 26, 1890.

Tom W. Jones, the widely known California turfman, is on his wedding trip to Europe. He will return to America about the middle of September.

R. Ward P. Fox, Sr., of Richmond, Ky., well-known horseman of other days, died at age of 70 after long's disease at the ripe old age of 82 years.

The Wilmington (Del.) Horse Show Association opened its exhibition in that city June 13. One of the features of the meeting was three days trotting races.

George W. Leadbeater, of Boston, has bought the 10-year-old pacer colt, "Baybrook," by Revere, 24314, from Joe Grimes. Baybrook is a "good pacer," and stands well to walk some rich stakes.

The Ivy League Bar, 2 174, owned by Mr. Young of New York, is cutting quite a figure on the New York speed way, competing it off before such performers as David Ross with a record of 2:004.

Postall Keene has sent $13,250 to the Prince of Wales Hospital Fund, in London, the amount being one-half of the Oaks purse, which he won with his Ivy Cap and Belis II.

New York June 13.—Special Correspondence.—The fifteen Brooklyn forty was run this afternoon at the Gravesend course. F. J. Carroll's chestnut colt Bonnibert was the first to pass the wire, winner by a length.

M. H. Lechner, the wealthy stockyard operator as after Abe Frank, the track owner of old, Mr. Lechner owns thirty, the best half-track horse in the West, having paid $5,000 for him just a few weeks ago.

Joe Pugh, Covington (Ky.), chief of police and the political boss of the Sixth District of Kentucky, has purchased the unbeaten horse, Baronet. The price paid was $2,000, and his former owners, T. P. Rodgers & Co., were not anxious to sell even at that price.

George H. Ketcham has addressed a letter to Mayor Jones, of Toledo, in which he offers to donate free of charge the services of reserves at the Toledo Fair Grounds next fall on behalf of charity. The proceeds of the racing event he pledges to donate to charity.

Miss Colta Sidney, daughter of Hon. Joseph C. Sidney, the well-known horseman of Franklin, Pa., was married on Wednesday, June 5, to William McCullough Wilson, of Washington, D. C. Many guests and friends from Washington, Chicago, Pittsburgh and other cities were present at the marriage.

The meeting at Moberly, Mo., July 23 to 26, will give $200 purses for trotters and pacers, while the runners for the light harness horses and an equal number for the longhairs, who will race for $100 purses. The program as arranged is a good one, and the horsemen who patronize Moberly will be amply repaid. Read it and send your favors to R. W. Roberts, secretary.

George A. Fuller, of Springfield, Ill., has sold to Robert Jones, of Chatten, Ill., for $1,025, the chestnut stallion Lord Linton, 2 174. Lord Linton is six years old, was sired by the great little trotter Baron Billon, 2 12, and his dam was Jason's curlytail record 2 2812t by Lamelet, second dam Nida Odum of Daniel T., 2 14, by Monom. He has shown a mile in 2 23, last half in 1:043, last quarter in 3 seconds, last eighth in 16 seconds.

Lessee Joseph T. Kenward will give a three days' meeting at Belmont track, Philadelph., on July 3, 4 and 5. Purases of $250 each will be hung up for the following classes: July 3, 3:00, 2 27 trotting, 2 23 pacing; July 4, 2:10, 2 18 trotting, 2 15 pacing; July 5, 2:20 trotting, 2 19 pacing and free-for-all, mixed, trotting and pacing. National Association rules will govern the races, except that the section barring rules will not be enforced.

The nine weeks of racing offered by the Eastern Indiana Fair Circuit affords the horsemen a great opportunity for good racing and the winning of money. The purses for the trotters and pacers are $200 and $100, while the runners are liberally provided for. The circuit opens at Middle town, July 30, and entries close July 29, with Secretary E. A. Wisecarver; Greenfield the following week, and entries close August 3, with Secretary Charles Towning; Elizabethtown, August 6, entries close July 31, L. S. Bowman, secretary; New Castle, August 13, with entries to close July 31, with Secretary W. L. Risk; Elwood, August 20, entries closing August 10, with Secretary Frank E. Derritory; Minnie, August 28, entries close August 23, with Secretary M. S. Claypool. The programs of these meetings are given elsewhere in this paper, and other programs will be an enclosure later. All these places have good tracks, and the races will be of a high class. Read the conditions, and send your entries to the respective secretaries.

Tod Sloane, the little American jockey, went over to England and gave those English horsemen some pointers about riding. Previous to his visit, it was thought that the English could give pointers to all the world in the matter of horse racing, but after his visit they saw things differently. He sat much further forward than their riders, and it was seen by actual test that a rider so perched was easier on his horse's wind and would enable the animal to make from four to seven inches longer stride. As a natural consequence, our John Bull cousins are training their younger jockeys to ride American fashion, but still there remains a very strong rivalry between the two nations, which has recently led to a match between a crack little English horse ridden and trained by one of their own, and an equally well known American racer trained and ridden by one of our boys. J. L. Neumann's English horse, "Fager," ridden by M. Cannon, was matched against the American horse "Royal Flush," ridden by L. Roff and owned by J. A. Drake. It was run over the Hurst Turf Club's course, and was for a stake of $2,500, to which had been added a historic Aesop cup valued at $5,000. Well, the English won in a canter, by three lengths. Each horse carried 126 pounds, i. e., 9 stones.

Additional Minstrels.

Organization is at headquarters, Columbus, Ohio, looking out for the scenery that will represent the new first part, entitled "A Night and a Day at the Pan American Exposition."

Joseph E. Bramhall, an English tenor vocalist of note, will be one of the leading features of the singing party with the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels the coming season. Mr. Field will make an effort to have the most vocal corps even with any musical company. There will be ten solo singers and a chorus. E. Fred. Allen is the vocal director and stage manager.

Al. G. Field made the pilgrimage to Kansas City, O., of the Nudes of the Mystic Shrine in his private cars, carrying the shrines and ladies of Aladdin Temple as his guests. The pride of Aladdin Temple, P. G. Daniels, earned first honors in the drill. Mr. Field was elected the representative of Aladdin Temple, and will go to San Francisco on the next pilgrimage. The Knights Lodge of Elks have secured Mr. Field's private cars to go to the Grand Lodge meeting in Milwaukee, Wis.

Two elaborate bands of music, one at either end of the parade, will be in line when the Al. G. Field Minstrels show upon the streets. A feature of the parade will be concert, when both bands will be combined, making a band of thirty pieces. Tom McElroy will be the bandmaster, as he has for several years. Walter Booth, the concert soloist, will be one of the features of the bandconcert. The Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels, the two shows combined, is the way the streamer will roll next season.

A ROUND OF PLEASURE! • CYCLES OF JOY! • UP IN THE AIR!

ON A CONDERMAN PLEASURE WHEEL

(FERRIS WHEEL)

Operating ten (10) wheels on the road during the season of 1901. You have all heard about them; read about them; engage one and get off the earth. A few early "open dates" left. No other road; my wheels are protected by United States patents, and all infringers this season will be prosecuted. Wheels can be set on any pavement without injury to same. Write or wire me your dates.

The wheels operated at all the large carnivals last season—Richmond, Chattanooga, Jackson, and Nashville, Tenn.; Augusta, Atlanta and Columbus, Ga.; Birmingham, Ala.; Omaha, Neb.; Cedar Rapids, Muscatine and Ottumwa, Iowa; Danville and Springfield, Ill.; Terre Haute Ind., and many other cities.

I hereby caution all against engaging wheels infringing on my patents.

J. G. CONDERMAN,

General Manager.

A RESOLUTION

Passed at the regular meeting the
ILLINOIS STATE BILL POSTERS' ASSOCIATION,
Held at Danville, Ill., June 13, 1901.

RESOLVED—

In view of the fact that one of our members, MR. CLARENCE E. RUNEY, has opened a National Soliciting Office, in Cincinnati, for the purpose of soliciting and placing posters throughout the United States and Canada. And believing that more exclusive poster solicitors from among the members should be encouraged to do likewise, we highly recommend Mr. Runey, with his eighteen years of experience, to the trade in general and at large.

WARNING TO CIRCUS AGENTS :

OSHKOSH, Wis., May 30, 1901.
After five years of business and social acquaintance with J. E. Williams, Bill-poster of Oshkosh, I wish to endorse him as a gentleman in the fullest and best sense of that term. His word is as good as an affidavit and his verbal promise as good as a note. His methods are worthy of emulation, as such men make business pleasant and profitable.

B. M. HARVEY, Agent Great Wallace Shows.

At Our First Show at the Fair Grounds, Terre Haute, Ind., the largest crowd of people ever seen on the Fair Grounds.

Twenty thousand people stampeded when the horses dive. For the center field fences swept away as if by a cyclone. A flowing tide of human faces that were like smoke before the wind. Thunderous applause greet Powder Face and Cupid, each dive a signal for the wild applause of appreciation. The five guideless wonders race between solid walls of cheering human beings, wild with mad delight to pay tribute to beautiful and well-trained horses that stand alone, a monument of greatness, unequalled and unapproachable. The bulldog drove a mile in 2:18, and the yell of delight as the pair of flyers swept through the shouting, laughing crowd of visitors—hats and umbrellas filled the air, and was the closing triumph of a historical day in the amusement world. Ten thousand ladies surround the diving horses and begged for one hair of their tails for souvenirs. Cupid's tail is ruined, but ten thousand ladies treasure the one hair from the handsomest horses in the world.

THE ONLY COMBINATION OF THE KIND ON EARTH.

The only diving horses. The only Guideless Horses that race it in a bunch. The only pair of race horses driven by a bulldog. The greatest of money makers on earth—never a failure, and never a disappointment.

The great success of my attraction has induced fakers to come out with horses that jump from a low platform—horses that can't dive, but jump any old way. Look at this picture, this is a diving horse, no steps to stand on, a head-first dive, as it should be. Compare this with a fake and the fraud is soon detected. My horses worked seven years before fakers tried to imitate them. The act is copyrighted and patented, still fakers will try to deceive honest people. I will contract and guarantee dives from 30 to 100 feet high.

WATCH FOR MY NEXT AD.

That will tell the names and histories of the fakers, and their way of doing business. A counterfeit is easily detected, and the counterfeiter is shunned and despised by honest men. Respectable and honest managers will shun them as snakes.
