D., pastor of the First Methodist church of Glendale, has consented to deliver the principal address at the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, to be held in the auditorium of the organization on the night of Tuesday, February 6, according to an announcement made last night at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Rasmus is well known as one of the most convincing and eloquent orators in this section of the state, and the directors expressed their gratification at having been able to secure his services for the occasion of the annual dinner and business meeting.

During the evening Mrs. O. E. Grist, one of Glendale's most talented musicians, will render a specially selected program at the piano.

Reports of Officers In addition to the address of Dr. Rasmus and the musical program of Mrs. Grist, the regular business meeting will be held, when the reports of the various officers will be submitted, covering the work of the past year, and the annual report will be furnished to the members present.

At the same time the program for the coming year will be outlined and presented to the members for their approval, and it is the desire of President Jesse E. Smith and his associates on the board of directors that as many members of the Chamber of Commerce as can attend should make their arrangements to do so, in order that the plans for the coming year may be given the fullest publicity and that an opportunity be afforded for the widest discussion.

Harry Rimmer Chosen Kiwanis Club Speaker The Glendale Kiwanis Club will meet tomorrow noon in the dining room of the Citizens' building and will have as special speakers, Harry Rimmer, formerly an athletic instructor in the Pacific fleet, and Louis D. Germany's Defense Centers Upon Rail And Coal Workers

By S. D. WEYER For International News Service DUSSELDORF, Feb. 1.—The whole German defense against French invasion in the Ruhr today centered in an attempt to make the occupational military forces impotent. Hair a million German coal miners and 200,000 German railway workers are relied upon by the coal and industrial barons, the Berlin government and the German people to carry this program and policy into effect.

Absolute orders were issued by the French military authorities against coal and coke shipments from the Ruhr into unoccupied parts of Germany. All the fuel moved must go to France, Belgium or Italy, the French authorities declared.

Sabotage, rather than strikes appear the chief weapons of the Germans.

Berlin not only discourages strikes, but actively opposes them on the ground that they do the German population more harm than the French.

RUSSIA REJECTS TERMS OF ALLIES

Soviet Wished to Bar Foreign Warships From Turkish Straits

LAUSANNE, Feb. 1.—George Tchitcherin, people's commissar for foreign affairs in the soviet government, formally announced today that Russia rejects the allied peace terms for the future status of the Turkish straits. Russia wished to bar foreign warships from passage through the straits, but the allies would not consent.

Imet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation, has been instructed by Ankara to sign the near east peace treaty, but will hold off until the very last minute in hope of gaining concessions from the allies. It was learned today from an authoritative source.

Lord Curzon, head of the British delegation, told the near east peace conference he believed the Russians had been allowed to talk long enough.

French Issue Warning AMSTERDAM, Feb. 1.—Martial law proclamations were issued by the French throughout the occupied areas of the Rhineland and Ruhr, warning the people that property destruction would be summarily punished, said a despatch today from Essen.

German civilians were warned that it is illegal for them to possess weapons and that repeated infractions of the French military regulations would result in reprisals.

Mining and steel operations in the occupied zones are still paralyzed by strikes. It is estimated that there are now more than a quarter of a million German workers idle.

The Ruhr coal fields are completely isolated. The French have forbidden freight traffic between the Ruhr and the rest of Germany.

Separate Railroads PARIS, Feb. 1.—The allies (France and Belgium) are preparing to separate the railroads in the Rhineland and Ruhr from the rest of Germany, making them into an independent, autonomous organization, L'Oeuvre announced today. This is being (Continued on page 10)

Uncle John Says: Mary knows a woman that goes out of town to buy everything and yet she is always boasting about Glendale, how fast it is growing, and what a fine place it is to live in, what nice stores it's got, and so on. Mary says there's no one that's got more pride in Glendale than she has herself, but if she didn't feel that she was helping to make Glendale bigger and better she wouldn't have any reason to be proud. She says kind words about, of course, but actions speak louder than words.

Government Change Will Not Prevent Payments by British

By DAVID M. CHURCH For International News Service LONDON, Feb. 1.—Changes of government will not affect the British decision to pay the United States the British war debt upon terms imposed by the American government, it was formally announced today. Even if the Tory administration should give way to a labor government—based upon economy and taxation decreases—the payments will be made on scheduled time.

"We owe the money to the United States irrespective of our opinion of the American terms and it is better to pay quickly as possible instead of quibbling," said Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the labor party, and chief of the opposition in the house of commons. "We must pay quickly and must pay with good grace."

"I cannot understand why the press and public have been carrying on about the debt we owe to the United States," said George Bernard Shaw, famous writer. "We borrowed the money and we must pay it. There seems to have been a number of irresponsible people who thought we might beg off or negotiate for a ridiculously low rate of interest. That is a foolish idea and no one with respect for his country would entertain it for a minute."

ASKS PROTEST ON LACK OF ACTION C. of C. Urges City Council To Call on P. E. Railway To Construct Tunnel

Protest against the action of the state railway commission in granting an increase in fares on the Pacific Electric system to all Glendale points, and failure of the company to start on its Hill street tunnel, is to be voiced tonight at the meeting of the city council, when the following letter from the Glendale Chamber of Commerce will be submitted to the council, with the request that some action be taken at once to secure relief from the conditions that form the subject matter of the complaint.

"Hon. Mayor and City Council, Glendale, Calif. Attention Mr. W. H. Reeves, City Manager. Gentlemen: Some time ago the state railway commission increased the fares on the Pacific Electric to all points on the Glendale line.

"They gave as one of their principal reasons that they were compelling the Pacific Electric railway to bore a tunnel through the hill north of the Hill street station.

No Move Is Made "As I recall, that has been more than a year ago. The Pacific Electric has been collecting the excess fares and there is no sign or move ever having been made towards granting the relief, and the railway commission stated that we would get better service for the excess fare.

"This Chamber of Commerce, composed of more than 1000 members, desires to enter a protest to your honorable body, and we trust that you will take it up with the state railway commission, and either demand that the fares be reduced or the increased service be granted.

"We call this a very gross injustice, and demand that something be done to give us relief. Trusting you will use your good offices in compelling action one way or the other, we have the honor to remain, Sincerely, "GLENDALE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

"JESSE E. SMITH, President. "JAMES M. RHOADES, Secretary."

They were quick to seize upon the announcement of the British debt settlement as the basis for a new bonus appeal to the senate, house and administration.

Time Saving Scales In Use at Postoffice

The latest model scale was received by the Glendale postoffice yesterday and is now in use in the parcel post department, where it tends to simplify and to expedite the work of the staff.

Figures on the face of the scale show the different zones into which the country is divided, and the indicator points immediately to the amount of postage to be charged for any weight parcel in any zone, so that all chance of errors on the part of the postal clerks is eliminated and the time that would otherwise be used in computing the postage is saved.

CAMPAIGN PROMISE OF REAL ECONOMY BY RICHARDSON CARRIED OUT

Legislature Gets Message From Chief Executive; Budget Reductions

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 1.—Governor Friend W. Richardson's economy budget, covering his recommendations for the state's expenditures and savings, was presented to the legislature today.

With it the governor sent in a special message explaining the policies he and the board of control had followed in making their reductions and outlining the principal economies which he hopes to achieve.

To bring the budget down to the $78,974,628.55, which is the total of the governor's recommended appropriations, the abolition of a number of state boards and commissions and two educational institutions is proposed and drastic reductions are made in the state's educational allowances as a whole.

The governor recommends elimination of the following: State board of charities and corrections, Immigration and housing commission, State mining bureau, California polytechnic school at San Luis Obispo.

Humboldt state teachers' college at Arcata. As against the appropriation total the governor's message gives the estimated state revenues at $85,237,000, but points out that $5,200,000 of this is held up by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe suits to avoid payment of taxes under the King tax bill.

Saves About $12,000,000 This leaves a little over $1,000,000 for all special appropriations that the legislature may desire to make. Already there are several million dollars in appropriation bills introduced for highways alone.

The governor claims a reduction of $12,000,000 in his budget as compared with the Stephens' budget of 1921.

The governor's message points out that the budgetary program schools and educational purposes is included. An increase of $8,618,627, or 23 per cent, in the past two years.

Message In Full To the members of the senate and assembly: In accordance with the requirements of Section 34 of Article IV of the constitution as amended, the general election, I submit herewith to you a budget containing complete plan and itemized statement of all proposed expenditures of the state provided by existing laws or recommended by me, and of all institutions, departments, boards, bureaus, commissions, officers, employees, and other agencies, for each of the ensuing biennial period, being from July 1, 1923, to June 30, 1925; together with a comparison as to each item of revenue and expenditure for the first fiscal year of the present biennial period, being the period from July 1, 1921, to June 30, 1922; and the actual and estimated revenues and expenditures for the second fiscal year of the present biennial period, being the period from July 1, 1922, to June 30, 1923.

No Additional Tax The budget here submitted does not exceed the estimated revenues for the ensuing biennial period and hence it is unnecessary for me to recommend the sources from which additional revenue shall be provided.

The budget presented herewith totals $78,974,628.55, and the estimated revenues are $85,237,000, of which $5,200,000 is not available on account of litigation.

In preparing this budget I have been aided by the members of the board of control who have worked strenuously. The members of this board are entitled to great credit for their efficient service to the state. The new members of the board took office on the tenth inst., and have had barely three weeks to complete a task which should have consumed three months. The convening of a new legislature, the induction of a new administration into office and the going into effect of the new budget amendment; all at the same time, have made it impossible to present a budget sooner. It has not been possible to make as full (Continued on Page 2)

REVIVAL TO LAST THREE WEEKS IS CHURCH PLAN

Stover Evangelistic Party To Open Campaign in Eagle Rock Sunday

A three weeks' evangelistic campaign will be launched at the Methodist church in Eagle Rock next Sunday, February 4, under direction of the Stover evangelistic party. The party consists of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Stover and Emmet Wallace. In commenting on the personnel of the party, Rev. E. J. Bradner, pastor of the church, had the following to say: "Mr. Stover spent a number of seasons with John Brown, the well known evangelist, before starting out on his own responsibility. For a number of years he was a band leader in New York City, and is a very fine cornetist. He is a unique, forceful and interesting preacher, and also plays his cornet at every service which the party conducts."

Members Talented "Emmet Wallace is a fine tenor singer and chorus director, and plays the trombone. He is a young man of winning personality. While cashier in an eastern bank, he received what he believed to be a call into evangelistic work, and gave up his position to give his talents to this work. He has met with splendid success. He is always popular with the young people wherever the party goes.

"Mrs. Stover is a woman of unusual gifts. She is closing a tour in Knoxville, Tenn., with Billy Sunday, and will arrive here a few days after the meetings open next Sunday. She is a cornetist, vocalist, reader and entertainer of such grade that she has been on the Chautauqua program for several seasons. She is always asked to visit the public schools and give pianologues and readings when in a city any length of time. Her work with working girls and young women has been of special value.

Starts on Sunday "The first meeting will occur Sunday morning next, in the Methodist church, when Mr. Stover will preach. He will speak again at 7:30 p. m."

Rev. E. J. Bradner, the pastor, who is most responsible for the coming of the Stover party, says that the only problem in connection with the meetings is what to do with the crowds that invariably follow where these people appear. It is likely that overflow meetings will have to be held before the end of the first week.

The program contemplates a series of services running through the month, with services at 7:30 each night, except Saturday. Afternoon meetings for Bible study with adults, and also afternoon meetings for children, will be announced later. When Mrs. Stover arrives she will give special addresses in the afternoons and early evening hours to young women and girls.

All Are Welcome The meetings, while held under the auspices of the Methodist church, are not to be denominational in their scope. The pastors of the other churches of the city and their people are cordially invited to attend, assist in the meetings and to reap as much of the benefit of the meetings as they can. The services are for one church alone, and not for one church alone.

The Stover party closed a very successful union campaign in Corning, Calif., last Sunday night and are resting at Long Beach this week.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 1.—Appearing in person before the state federal relations committee, Assemblyman Frank C. Weller of Glendale today won unanimous support for the Raker federal highway proposal. Mr. Weller was aided in securing favorable consideration and acceptance of the measure by the reports, published several days ago in The Glendale Evening News, that strong opposition had developed to the Raker proposals. The measure now goes to the senate, where it is expected that it will pass.

The same committee also reported favorably on the Colorado river pact, following an exchange of personalities between several of the members.

DRASTIC REDUCTIONS RESULT RICHARDSON'S ECONOMY PLAN

Abolition of Boards and Commissions Would Help Save, Chief Executive Points Out

(Continued from Page 1) A survey of the various state departments is despatched to the constitution provides that the governor may at any time amend or supplement the budget, and during your recess the board proposes to make further investigations and recommendations to me. That there should be further cuts will probably be shown on closer examination. Many of the departments are in charge of hostilities which have handicapped us in every way.

Budget in Detail The budget presented is complete in detail, giving as many as 100 items in a department, and is in striking contrast with former unofficial budgets which frequently contained only two items. It also covers all of the so-called self-supporting boards and commissions, not included in previous budgets. While it has been a laborious task to prepare all of this detail, it will provide invaluable information to you when you come to analyze and consider it. You will undoubtedly find that many other economies can be effected.

Economy and Efficiency In preparing this budget I have used every endeavor to live up to the demand of the people as expressed at the primary election last August and at the general election in November. The people expressed themselves strongly in favor of economy and efficiency in state government, of eliminating unnecessary expense, of cutting out useless boards and commissions, of taking off the payroll political parasites, and of the wrecking of the political machine which, in the past few years, has squandered millions of dollars of the people's money.

The railroad commission has ruled that taxes are part of the operating expense of corporations and must be added in fixing rates. After the increase of rates on public utility corporations at the last session of the legislature, the railroad commission increased the rates on fares, light, water, gas, telephone, and the people found they did pay the tax. The much heralded and renamed Kinkaid bill not only increased the burden upon the people, but it failed to materially increase the revenue of the state because the railroad corporations appealed to the courts, which permitted them to settle with the state at the old rate of 5 1/2 per cent instead of the new rate of 7 per cent, while the bill pending. To attempt to still further increase the rates on public utility companies in view of present litigation would be futile.

Expenses Within Income So while I am faced with the duty of obeying the mandate of the people as expressed in the recent election, I am also faced with the necessity of keeping state expenses below the state income. You are faced with the same mandate and the same necessity. The state should live within its income and limit its needs. Every citizen of California finds himself confronted with the necessity of curbing his financial desires and cutting down his needs. As soon as the boy becomes a man he finds he must spend less than he earns or bankruptcy faces him. The state must practice the same philosophy.

Because a given appropriation here is not a sufficient reason for its passage. If it were the guide the budget would exceed all bounds of reason. The total expenses and the total revenue of the state must always be borne in mind. The state must hold itself in check and keep within the bounds of sane economy. Every dollar which has been cut from the demands of the various state departments and reductions made over the former budget will result in benefit to the people. The adoption of this budget will not only save the people many millions of dollars but will afford a wholesome lesson to cities and counties and may save the people many millions more.

Extravagance Stopped The rapid increase of the budget during recent years has resulted in an era of extravagance. In 1915 the budget in round numbers was thirty-five million dollars; in 1917 it reached forty-seven million dollars; in 1919 it rose to fifty-million dollars, but in 1921 amounted to ninety-one million dollars. If this rate of increase had been kept up the budget in 1923 would have been one hundred fifty million dollars, so the present budget not only represents a reduction of twelve million dollars over the total appropriations of 1921, but the stopping of seventy-one million dollars which might have been piled on the people had the orgy of political extravagance continued. The budget presented to you takes care of every state need and is liberal in comparison with actual needs and the budgets previous to 1921. The sum for Education While the net budget total is $78,974,528.55, it contains $700,000 for emergencies, and $1,200,000 for flood control. With these items eliminated the budget would be $77,074,528.55. The great sum of $49,758,415.10 is provided for education. In short more than 60 per cent of the budget is for education. A total of $10,329,670 in the budget is to pay interest and principal on the state highway bonds. The fixed charges provided by law totals $59,824,226.75, as compared with $48,576,199.15 two years ago. The budget has been reduced from 1921 despite the fact that the fixed charges have increased $11,048,027.60.

Continuing Appropriations This budget contains flood control items aggregating $1,200,000 of which $600,000 is for reclamation work in the Sacramento valley and $600,000 for flood control in Los Angeles county. The legislatures of 1919 and 1921 appropriated $6,000,000 for these two projects and spread the payments out over ten years. Continuing appropriations of this kind are unfair to future administrations and are of doubtful propriety. Both of the projects are sectional in character and such a policy pursued all over the state would cost many millions. As the credit of the state has been included in the amount is included in the budget.

If the state taxes were used solely for state purposes the budget could be greatly decreased. The greater part of this budget is for money for county and district purposes. The state will pay to the counties $37,261,860 for elementary and secondary schools for the coming biennial period; $673,914.60 for salaries of superior judges, $576,982.33 for school books; $2,600,000 for aid of county orphans, and this budget shows $10,329,570 to pay interest and principal on bond money used in the coming biennial period. The policy of unloading county functions upon the state has helped increase the budget.

Thrift in the Schools The recommendations made for the schools are undoubtedly greater than they should be, but it has been my purpose to be liberal in the matter of education. Extravagance in educational matters has run riot during the past few years. This budget shows an increase of $8,618,827.80, or 23 per cent in the past two years. Politicians in the guise of educators have squandered the people's money with a lavish hand and have denounced advocates of thrift as enemies of education. A great political organization has been built up which has cost the people an immense sum but has added little to the value of education given school children. The laws have been cunningly amended so that supervisors, school boards and boards of education have little jurisdiction over expenditure of money and hence cannot check extravagance. The people are told in their protest as indicated by hundreds of complaints received by me, but they are unorganized and unable to cope with the schemes of certain political educators.

The expenditure of school money in this state must be put on a business basis and the schools must not only teach but should be left in control of educational matters, but sound business men should be in control of expenditures.

Industrial Farm for Women The director of institutions has reported that a large percentage of the women committed to the Industrial Farm for Women are alcoholics and addicts and are the same class as have for years been taken care of in the six state hospitals of the state; that the history of moral delinquency in the inmates of the farm is not more marked than it is in the state hospital inmates; that the state is not justified in maintaining two different departments attempting to meet the same problem; that in the hospitals this class can be cared for at an expense of $21.00 per month per patient, whereas the cost at the farm for the past six months was $80.46 a month per patient.

The Board of Control joins with the present director of institutions, and the former director of institutions, in the belief that this institution should be closed and the property turned over to the Sonoma state home for the care for epileptics. The Sonoma home is only a few minutes away from this farm. The problem of delinquent women is an age-old one and attempts to solve it have been made throughout the centuries without success. The school should not dispirit us in the attempt to do something for this unfortunate class of women, and I have therefore included an appropriation in the budget for this institution so that it can be conducted for at least two years longer. This institution should be given not only a fair but sympathetic trial. I make this recommendation in spite of the fact that a majority of the people seem to be opposed to its purposes, and that the bill in the first place is reported to have become a law by mistake.

California Polytechnic This institution is located at San Luis Obispo and was created in 1901 as an industrial school before the time when but a very few high schools and elementary schools carried on industrial work.

EAGLE ROCK WILL VOTE ON BONDS FOR SCHOOLS

Election Called March 3rd Will Decide Issue to Enlarge Buildings

The board of education of the Eagle Rock school district met Wednesday afternoon and decided to call a bond election for the purpose of making needed improvements in the Central, East and West end schools. The crowded conditions of the schools has made this imperative.

Election will be called on March 3 to vote bonds for $92,000. They will run for 25 years, $4000 to be retired each year for the first 18 years and $3000 for the remainder of the term.

Approximately $40,000 will be applied to each of the West and East end schools and the remainder to the Central school. Superintendent Harwood is authority for the statement that the bond issue will not be an increased burden on the taxpayers owing to the fact that the valuation of Eagle Rock property was practically doubled when the last re-valuation was made. Mr. Harwood also hopes to see a junior high school established at Central after the bonds are voted.

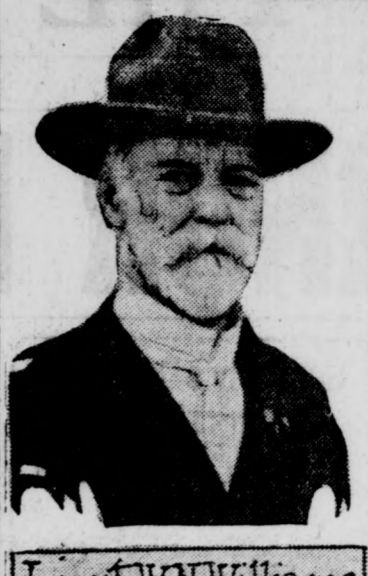

Last year there were 183 students enrolled in this school, 92 of whom lived in San Luis Obispo, most of whom were young boys of high school age. The state at the present time is paying to the school districts of the state money with which to educate this very class of students. As the majority of the students are of high school age, it would seem that the many high schools giving manual instructions would answer the requirements. It is proposed by the department of education to build this school up as an agricultural college, to be available for the southern part of the state for students over high school age.

This school seems to be entirely out of joint with the whole educational system of the state, and if the state is to go into the business of educating students of high school age, it would have to establish scores of similar institutions throughout California.

A small appropriation has been included in the budget for the continuance of this school until such time as it can be changed over to some other line or used for some other state institution.

Board of Charities The principal activities of the state board of charities and corrections and all the activities of the child agents of the board of control are concerned with the su-

Association Changes Date of Picture Show

The picture show under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association at the Central school has been changed this week to Saturday night, instead of Friday night, on account of the eighth grade graduation exercises to be held in the auditorium Friday evening.

The big attraction this week is "Omar the Tentmaker." There will be a special matinee Saturday afternoon at 2:45; two evening shows—8:45 and 8:45.

Provision of orphanages and other homes caring for dependent children, which are required to submit financial and statistical reports, identical in character, to both agencies. Agents and inspectors from both agencies visit the same institutions. Before any aid of orphanage, the county must first make an investigation of the particular case and make a recommendation. The institutions located in the counties of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda are under the inspection of county boards of public welfare, boards of health and in some instances two or more state agencies. So when these same institutions are also inspected by the child agents of board of control, and by the board of charities and corrections, there is a duplication of efforts.

AFFIDAVITS DENY SANITARIUM IS DETRIMENTAL

Keplinger Submits Testimony From Many Eagle Rock Residents

City Attorney McNitt is in receipt of numerous affidavits made by residents of Eagle Rock, many of them business men, and others living in the vicinity of Sycamore Lodge, the sanitarium conducted by H. Keplinger, supporting the claim of the defendant that the lodge is not a detriment to the city nor its inmates dangerous to the welfare of those living in the vicinity of the sanitarium.

The affidavits are counter to that of City Health Officer Carle H. Phinney, who is a witness for the prosecution. Two of the affidavits were made by the defendant and are given in support of his contention that the lodge was not a detriment to anyone. One of them contained photographs of the building and grounds.

Another is from Dr. Chas. A. Bennett, who states that he has been a practicing physician in Los Angeles for the past twelve years; that he has visited the institution as many as four or five times a month and that the inmates are not dangerous nor is the institution conducted in such a way that it is a detriment to the general welfare.

Favor Sanitarium Ralph G. Hood, an attendant, has a supporting affidavit along the same lines. John A. Tracy, Mrs. Ada Tracy, Norma Tracy, Mrs. Lena Brown and other residents near make affidavit as to knowledge of conditions in and about the institution, all favoring the defendant.

Another joint affidavit containing over thirty names of private citizens and business people set forth about the same facts.

Both Attorneys McNitt for the City and Gould for Mr. Keplinger expect a hard legal battle before the case is finally decided, they say.

The case is one wherein the City of Eagle Rock is seeking to prevent Mr. Keplinger from operating or conducting the institution known as Sycamore Lodge at its present location. It has been hard fought through the lower courts for some months past.

ENGINEER KILLED IN TRAIN CRASH

Five Injured When Seaboard Air Line's Special Runs Past Signals

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 1.—Engineer J. M. Fields, of Raleigh, N. C., was instantly killed and five other persons, two of whom were passengers, were slightly injured today when Seaboard Air Line Florida-Cuba special No. 1, New York to Havana, plowed into the rear end of the Mid-South special, Washington to Jacksonville, at Hagood, Va., 53 miles south of Richmond.

The private car of S. Davies Warfield, president of the road, moving "deadhead" on the rear of train No. 301, occupied by two negro porters, was demolished. The porters were slightly injured.

The Seaboard operates the "absolute block" system. Failure of a block operator to hold one of the trains until the block was clear caused the accident, it was said. Seaboard trains are being derailed. Wreck cars are on the scene.

TELLS PLANS FOR STUDY OF ENGLISH

Miss Jennie Y. Freeman, Head of Department, Outlines Methods in Use

Use of the English language and the appreciation of good literature are two things which should be stressed, according to Miss Jennie Y. Freeman, head of the English Department at Glendale Union High school. As English is a definite requirement for graduation, practically all pupils have classes in this department during their high school career. At the present time about 1300 boys and girls are enrolled in English classes. This number will be increased Monday when freshmen classes will be organized. Fourteen members of the faculty teach in this department.

The two objectives of the English department, in the opinion of Miss Freeman, is to teach pupils to read, write and speak the English language and to appreciate the best in literature.

"Building" Speeches
How to speak English is emphasized particularly in the sophomore and junior classes in public speaking. Students are taught how to "build" speeches so as to work their audiences into a fever of excitement at the climax and how to deliver orations forensic. They are taught the principles of Parliamentary Law and how to debate.

"Some young people have something bottled up in them that they want to express," stated Miss Freeman, speaking about the classes in dramatics. "The principal purpose of that course is self-expression. This is so guided that it will be along artistic lines. Students get a chance to really do something and, of course, that always appeals to them."

"This course is open to seniors who have had previous courses, special training or exceptional ability. It is not designed to make actors or actresses, but rather to afford adequate self-expression of the dramatic instinct."

Journalism Classes
"For the first month the class work consists of a study of stage directions, stage department, impersonations, characterization, pantomime, costume, make-up and action. After the first month, four days a week will be given over to rehearsal of plays for quarterly recitals."

How to write the English language is being taught in the classes in Journalism and English composition.

"Journalism provides good training in written composition," asserted Miss Freeman. "During the second semester students get practical work on 'The Explosion.'"

A section of the work of each semester is devoted to assignments in written composition. In the 9th grade each pupil is required to write five letters and five themes in which neatness, spelling and capitalization are emphasized. Construction of sentences with coherence and balance is the purpose of the 9th class composition.

Study Shakespeare
Shakespeare, of course, has an important role in the English Department. Sophomores are obliged to read his "Merchant of Venice" while they are given the privilege of reading "The Tempest," "Henry the Fifth," "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Romeo and Juliet" and "King

LIQUOR CAUSING 'SYNTHETIC FACE'

Effects of Illegal Whiskey Are Apparent In Faces of Many Women

By HORACE M. COATS
For International News Service
CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—An epidemic of synthetic faces threatens to mar the national complexion. It's not as noticeable in the city, where party faces predominate, but it's tough on the country girl. The newest terrible toll of prohibition liquor is keeping beauty specialists at work nearly night and day and wearing out their cash registers.

All this came to light in an interview with Madame Louise, noted Chicago face specialist who is doing what she can to make Mrs. Lady look like something. "Since prohibition dawned," she said, "women given to drinking the near-poison have been showing the effects in their countenances, particularly the younger set."

Face Just Sags
"The 'synthetic face' is one that sags. It's all dried out. It's caused by the continual, unnatural flush that over-indulgence in prohibition rum brings. This flush keeps the facial pores out nearly all the time. The skin loses its delicate tendency. It becomes loose, like a stretched drum-head, and just sags."

"The cure? The only cure is to quit drinking. But they don't quit."

Things have got so bad that Dr. J. Paul Fernel, plastic surgeon, took his pen in hand and dashed off a letter to Chief Deputy Coroner David Jones, urging him to continue his campaign against the poisonous liquor because the bad booze was destroying faces, both from the standpoint of beauty and health.

Lear. In the B12 class each pupil is required to read "Hamlet." The life and times of the Shakespeare family are discussed at this time instead of the Fast-Growing-City-in-America and the Elizabethan theatre is the subject of criticism instead of the movie.

Charles Dickens appears on the program of this department in two places: First, in the 9th class where is studied "David Copperfield" and second in the B11th class where is studied a "Tale of Two Cities"—which does not refer to Los Angeles and Glendale.

Among Best Sellers
Although George Eliot was a woman, her books are still best sellers. There's a reason! One of the reasons is that every pupil is obliged to read "Silas Marner," "The Ancient Mariner" by Coleridge also is on the prescribed list.

AIR SERVICE TO IMPERIAL VALLEY

Regular Service Scheduled From Glendale Terminal to Start Shortly

Opening of a regular air service between Glendale and Imperial Valley points as soon as the local field can be put in shape for the landing of the ships is assured by the announcement, made this morning, that Lester E. Hardy, president of the Airline Transportation company, has contracted for the construction of an $18,000 hangar here in which to house the 8-passenger planes that will be used in this service.

The first of the Hardy ships is now stored at the government field at Santa Monica, and as soon as the weather will permit work on the hangar he will start the service running on a regular schedule.

Mr. Hardy already has three landing fields in the Imperial Valley ready to care for the traffic that his line will handle. These fields are situated at El Centro, Brawley and Calexico, and the venture is backed by some of the leading business men in the Imperial Valley, so that its success is regarded as assured.

Mr. Hardy had intended to visit Glendale yesterday to arrange the final details with regard to the leveling of the field and the construction of the proposed hangar, but on account of the storm he postponed his visit until a more propitious time.

Other activities in connection with the Glendale flying field are to be announced within a few days, among which will be the building of a commercial hangar suitable for storing a number of private planes, and for which reservations have already been asked.

Records of the city building superintendent's office show that a permit was issued to Dr. T. C. Young of Glendale on Tuesday for the erection of a hangar here, to cost $1000. Dr. Young's airplane has not yet been delivered, but it is expected here shortly and will be used constantly from the date of its arrival.

URGES PASADENA FOR G. A. R. MEET

Civil War Veterans Asked to Aid Celebration of Crown City Jubilee

By GIL A. COWAN
Special to The Evening News
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 1.—Invitation is extended the Grand Army of the Republic to hold their national encampment in 1924 at Pasadena, the Golden anniversary year of the Crown City. In a joint resolution introduced in the assembly by Miss Eleanor Miller, assemblywoman from that place.

Accompanying the resolution is a bill appropriating $25,000 to the John F. Godfrey post to aid in defraying the expenses of this gathering of veterans. Speaking of the project, Miss Miller said: "This probably will be the last opportunity California may have in entertaining the venerable civil war veterans who are fast passing from this life. In later years but few will be able to travel, and it is fitting that one of their last encampments should be held in the Golden State."

Final Tribute
"There seems every reason to believe that the legislature will give the bill and concurrent resolution their support, for it is almost a final tribute to the boys in blue who fought for their country and their flag and the Union in the days of '63."

Miss Miller also introduced a bill which calls for the transfer of the Whittier State School for Boys from the department of institutions to the department of education. While this move does not involve a great deal of law-making, it will have a tremendous effect on the lives of those youngsters who are sent to Whittier, according to the proponent of the legislation.

"In the last ten years the Whittier school has had 1376 boys consigned to its care," states Miss Miller. "Of this number 1,105 have been fifty years old or under. And 714 have been thirteen and under."

"The average age since July 1, 1922, is thirteen years, and of this number 95 per cent come from the public schools because of their truancy or misbehavior."

Education Halted
"The question then arises," continued the assemblywoman, "shall the right of education be further denied them because the state assumes their care?"

"We have a compulsory education law for all children up to sixteen years of age, but this ceases when they go to Whittier. Of course, they have educational work there, but we want the boys to go to school at least half a day and do manual training the other half, rather than elect to do manual training work all of the time."

"Therefore, we ask that the school be placed under the department of education so that the graduates may face the world without the stigma which presently attaches itself to a correctional institution."

Strong Support
The measure is backed by the Rotary and Lions' clubs and Chamber of Commerce of Whittier, also the chambers of commerce of that section, as well as officials of the school itself, according to Miss Miller.

Senator A. Burlingame Johnson of Pasadena has introduced a bill in the senate which would plainly label all state automobiles as such to curb jayriding on the part of officials. He also is interested in legislation suggested by Assemblyman Charles Clear of Lindsay, seeking to make impossible the conditions which led to the Jackson mine disaster. The senator is chairman of the upper house's committee on mining.

Legislature Adjourns For Recess Tomorrow

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 1.—After considerable jockeying to force a direct statement from administration leaders that the executive budget would be presented today, the assembly adopted a resolution to adjourn on Friday noon for the constitutional recess of thirty days.

The debate on the resolution a number of members demanded to know if Governor Richardson was holding up the budget until the last minute to prevent due consideration of it by the legislature before the recess. Speaker Merriam denied that such tactics were being pursued.

Although the hour of adjournment is fixed at noon Friday, the legislature may remain in session after that hour, if necessary, by the simple expedient of stopping the official clock.

The adjournment resolution now goes to the senate for concurrence.

Chicago Teachers to Launch Fight on Dope

PLUMBERS ADOPT SPECIAL EMBLEM

League's High Ideals Shown In Slogan Chosen at Monthly Meeting

Adoption of an emblem typifying the high ideals and business principles of the plumbing industry marked the monthly meeting of the Sanitary Development League of Southern California just held in Los Angeles.

The slogan acclaims reputation as the greatest asset of members of the organization and the emblem, a metal disc to be displayed by the more than 200 leading plumbing concerns enrolled in the league, expresses the spirit of the present educational campaign to induce the use of more modern methods of sanitation and better plumbing materials.

It is announced that a cash prize has been awarded to Roy H. Roemer, chairman of the publicity committee, for submitting the best slogan and design for an emblem.

The emblems are being made and will be sent to members within a few days. This will identify members of the league with the movement for better plumbing that is being conducted by the organization.

Fifty New Members
Henry Boynton, secretary, stated that more than fifty leading plumbing firms in Southern California cities have joined the league since the campaign was launched last month. These new members were accepted only after an investigating committee had assured itself that they are in harmony with the aims of the league and will adhere to the lofty principles upon which it is founded.

"There is a general movement for more substantial building, for the use of better materials of every kind in homes, office buildings, industrial and manufacturing plants," said Boynton. "The influence of the campaign of the plumbing industry to safeguard health and to protect this and future generations is proving very satisfactory. This is largely due to the fact that the public press is co-operating with us."

THE TALE OF JIMMY DURGIN

Jimmy Durgin lives in Our Town. He has always lived there except the four years when he went away to college and we read of his wonderful doings in football and on the track. There was just what we expected of Jimmy for he had been the star athlete in high and even in grammar school.

One reason why Jimmy was a star was that he had a magnificent build. But another reason was that he loved anything to do with athletics more than anything else on earth. Even after he came home and went into his father's business and married he still read the sporting page before the financial and got more excited about his big college game than a presidential election.

And then there came a time when his thoughts began to turn to the second generation. "Just wait," said Jimmy. "until I have a boy of my own. Won't we hike together and won't I teach him football as soon as he is big enough to hold one?"

But It Wasn't a Boy!

But, alas, it was a girl. And so were the next three. And then fate said: "That's all there is, there isn't any more."

Poor Jimmy! Not so poor as he would have been 10 or 15 years ago!

Of course he adores his four darling daughters, and, of course, he can get much more fun out of them than he could have before girls were allowed to share boyish good times, and can even dream of the Women's Olympic for the one who has inherited his own fine long-limbed physique.

Now Jimmy Has 20 Boys

But that's not the only reason. The other reason why Jimmy isn't as poor as he might have been and why the neighborhood is much richer is this: Jimmy Durgin has boys to be proud of, and to have proud of him, even if they are not his own. Jimmy can hand on his athletic love and his love of the outdoors to a bunch of fellows who will take his advice from him that they might not take from their own fathers. Yes, you have guessed it. Jimmy is a scout master.

Think what it means to Jimmy and think what it means to the boys and you have the measure of one of the finest forms of social service ever organized.

I was reading some of the scout literature the other day and I came across this sentence which seems to me the keynote of the whole splendid movement:

"The scout program of organized work and play directs the gang spirit among boys into channels of wholesome and useful activity."

Isn't that the whole thing in a nutshell? What makes bad boys (with the exception of degenerates?) Nothing in the world but their tremendous energy going into unsocial channels.

Why Bother with Mischiefs?

And what boy would get into mischief when he had, as his scout duty, such fascinating jobs as these which I have picked out from a list of scout duties:

Serving as fireman's aid to be called out in time of emergency, cleaning away debris and mud after floods like that at San Antonio, keeping back crowds during progress of fire, burning strips along railroad tracks to prevent fires from spreading if caught from engine, building and setting up bird-houses, directing fire drills in schools and making themselves responsible for condition of fire-escapes, installing wireless for hospitals, serving at polls on election day.

No, it's not poor Jimmy at all! But it's poor Mr. Satan who must find it hard to find idle hands for his mischief.

All honor, I say to the men who started the Boy Scout movement and to the young men who give themselves as scoutmasters and receive, I don't know, as much as they give, and to the boys who are so proud to be scouts. They all have good reason for pride.

ARRESTED ON HIS HONEYMOON BEAUTY CHATS

Faces Charges One Hour After He Is Wed

Joseph K. Gordon and Doris Eaton

One hour after Joseph K. Gordon, theatrical manager, impressed his loving kiss upon the lips of his bride, Doris Eaton, 18-year-old prima donna, in Los Angeles, he was arrested. Eugenie La Place alleged in her warrant she had intrusted $10,000 to Gordon in 1916 and that he had failed to return it.

BEAUTY AND MOTHERHOOD

It is hard to write about expectant motherhood from the point of view of a woman's good looks, without getting too deeply into the purely medical side of the problem. That, after all, is not my department, though I want always to emphasize the fact that the woman who takes perfect care of herself during this period, will retain her looks and youth, while the one who neglects the really simple rules of any good doctor, must suffer for it afterwards.

There is one thing I want every mother to do—whether this is to be the first baby or the tenth—send to the department of labor in Washington and ask for their pamphlet on Prenatal Care, which they will send free. I cannot praise too highly the work of our departments of labor and agriculture for their freely distributed pamphlets. They are doing a work no other country can touch. This information on Prenatal Care, is based on a larger book by one of the foremost authorities in the country. With it no woman can go wrong during these few months.

So much for that. The subject could not be better covered. But the problem of what to wear, to eat, what to do and not to do, is not entirely answered even then. I have tried to give some hints of things that will preserve the youth and grace of the figure, that will add comfort during this time, that will make the woman feel more normal. They all, I hope, know by this time the value of the loose artist's smock, and the long circular cape for out of doors. With these one can be well dressed almost to the last day. They all, I hope, know that teeth must be looked after once every two months, and the hair treated almost daily, to keep these two valuable adjuncts of good looks.

Miss H. C.—Lemon juice is an excellent bleach as well as an astringent. It is, however, too strong to use undiluted on the face, therefore one-third lemon juice and two-thirds rosewater is recommended. It can be used full strength on the hands when they are stained.

Blonde—You are much under weight. A girl 14 years, five feet, one inch, should weigh nearly 110 pounds. You can remove the hairs on the legs with depilatory powder, but they will grow in again. Try bleaching them with permanganate. Remove the blackheads by washing the face with cleansing cream, hot water and soap, and then applying a paste made of plain white laundry starch and cold water. Let this stay on half an hour.

Sally—Fattening foods need not injure the teeth. It is true that starchy foods tend to ferment and the fermentation causes gases injurious to the enamel of the teeth. But brushing the teeth twice a day or rinsing them out with an alkaline wash will stop this. Yeast cakes are not fattening. Exercise and dancing will strengthen your weak ankles.

Tomorrow—Well-Kept Toe-nails

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Each year after Christmas, I make a practice of going about to the homes of my friends and seeing all the fancywork Christmas gifts they have received. For I find that by doing this I often run across new fancywork ideas which I can describe to my Column Readers.

This year, on my "tour of inspection," (as my friends call it) I discovered an idea which was entirely new to me—although it may, of course, be known to you. This new bit of fancywork was a "tray set," consisting of an oblong doily and a square napkin decorated to match.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. A. D.—Your having to get down to 900 calories a day before reducing, shows either that you counted some of your food too low in calories, or that you are small and have very few physical activities. The average sized person can reduce from one and one-half to two pounds a week on 1200 calories a day. After a while even these average persons may have to go on a low calorie liquid diet day once a week because all of that fat that has been lost does not have to be fed. They have to go on low fat rations in order to coax the balance of their body fat to help furnish their rations.

Mrs. S.—Indeed you are right when you say that the undernourished five year old had should not be whipped for bed wetting, and you are right that physical violence may bring on disturbances worse than bed wetting.

We have just written an article on that subject which you can have to send this woman by sending for it. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Mrs. D.—You must not be discouraged because you still have what you call tired nerves. You have not been under treatment long enough for your tubercles to overcome the toxemia from that. You must realize that the sanitarium officials are doing their best to help you. You must be patient. It's terrible to have to be separated from your little boy, but it is better for him.

"Dear Doctor:
"A dear little (?) friend of mine 12 years old weighs 187 pounds. Her parents suspect that she has diabetes and she is much troubled with severe pains. Her flesh is puffed out as if in dropsy. She is such a lovable child, a real little gentleman, and I would give so much to see her enjoy the natural play of childhood in."

Which I have done. Mine is of biscuit-color serpentine (cotton) crepe with a tiny basket worked in cross-stitch in one corner of both napkins and tray-dolly. The edges I have finished by cross-stitching them in embroidery cotton after rolling them. These cross-stitch decorations are done in old-blue and old-rose.

And I like my inexpensive little tray set as well as the one I saw at my friend's home, which was made of linen and finished round the edge with hemstitching. For I consider mine "good enough" to use on a tray, and yet dainty enough and cheery enough to delight even the most discouraged invalid.

Tomorrow—Some Good Scandinavian Dishes.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. COUPLE MARRY AT NOONDAY SERVICE

Mrs. Anna Gansert Bride of Amos Sullivan; Receive Number of Gifts

Rev. C. A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church, officiated at the marriage at noon yesterday, Wednesday, January 31, 1923, of Mrs. Anna Gansert and Amos Sullivan, the ceremony of taking place at the bride's home at 216-A East Broadway.

The ceremony was performed a few minutes before 12 o'clock with Mrs. Gansert's daughter, Miss Helen Gansert, serving as bridesmaid, Edmund Moffatt as best man and Mrs. Gertrude Jennings as matron of honor. Mrs. Jennings' son, Junior, also took part in the ceremony by carrying an artistic bridal basket of white carnations.

Bride's Costume

For the ceremony Mrs. Gansert wore a dress of white silk crepe de chine. Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley, pink rosbuds and fern, arranged by Vernon Allen of the Glendale florists.

Miss Gansert wore a dress of soft tan silk with black velvet ribbon trimming. Mrs. Jennings' dress was white with an overdress of lavender crocheted.

Gordon Mapes, to whom Miss Gansert is to be married shortly, was also an attendant at the wedding.

An interesting event was that the bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Gansert and the old-time prediction that the recipient of the bride's bouquet will be married within a year will be true, for her wedding will take place within the month.

Receive Many Gifts

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan received many gifts, among them being a gift box from the employees at the C. and S. cafeteria, where Mrs. Sullivan has been employed. The box contained a collection of miscellaneous gifts.

The wedding cake was also a gift from the C. and S. cafeteria.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will reside for the present at 216-A East Broadway. They plan to move later to Hollywood.

Personal Appearance and Plumbing

YOU can single out the successful business man. Almost invariably he radiates good-health, clean-living, mental alertness. His personal appearance denotes thought and care.

Of the many attributes of success clean-living comes first, and bodily cleanliness is as important as lofty moral standards.

It is the invigorating morning bath, or the refreshing shower that puts spring into the step and quickens the mental processes. It is the cooling shave that brightens the face. It is the conveniences of modern sanitary plumbing facilities in the homes, club, office or industrial plant that contribute these elements of success.

Every man and woman directing the affairs of the home, every executive of a business institution, heads of commercial and manufacturing establishments—in fact all good citizens—should give intelligent thought to this very important health provision.

Install the best in plumbing to insure the best in health and success. You can get the best in plumbing by giving your work to the 200 members of the Sanitary Development League of Southern California who are pledged to maintain the highest ideals and business practices.

Move to Defeat Farm Credit Bill Is Foiled

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Only three senators supported Senator Couzens, Republican of Michigan, in his effort to defeat the administration's farm credit program by sending the Lenroot-Anderson bill back to the senate banking and currency committee.

Couzens' motion to recommit the bill was defeated by a vote of 51 to 4. Those who voted with Couzens were Senators La Follette, Republican, of Wisconsin; Norbeck, Republican, of South Dakota; and Walsh, Democrat, of Massachusetts.

The vote was not regarded as a test of strength, as Senator Norris of Nebraska, who has an agricultural relief plan of his own, said he was not ready to end discussion of the Lenroot-Anderson measure.

Wealthy Woman Freed From Titled Husband

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Kate I. D'Aleria, widow of the late Senator Nixon of Nevada, and wealthy, was granted a divorce by Judge Summerfield from "Count" Raymond D'Aleria on the ground of desertion.

But little of the brief and stormy life of the "count" and the elderly widow was brought out in testimony, which consisted mostly of the fact they were married January 26, 1920, and separated April 28, 1921.

In a former suit, startling charges were made, but a reconciliation was effected and the action dropped.

It developed from the testimony that Mrs. D'Aleria had sent an emissary to Chicago in an effort to effect another reconciliation with her husband. The emissary later reported back to Mrs. Nixon that he had found the young "count," but he said he had no intention of returning to her and that he was going to follow his career as a musician.

TWO BIG MONEY STATES BAR JESS

Jack Dempsey Now Seems To Have Real Difficulty In Finding Opponent

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The bars are up against Jess Willard in New York and New Jersey, the two big money boxing states; the same facility is true of Harry Wills, although official action is withheld for reasons political. Luis Firpo and Floyd Johnson are deemed to lack class, and Tom Gibbons is said to be too small.

This is the heavyweight situation today at the expiration of the $1000 option that Tex Rickard held on the services of Jack Dempsey. A week ago, he, Dempsey, had more possible opponents than the buttons on a trick vest. Today they stand eliminated, or virtually so, without a blow being struck.

Plans Conferences
Jack Kearns has successive conferences scheduled for this afternoon with Rickard and Tom O'Rourke to see what can be done about it. Rickard can have little to say, unless he alters his plans. He had Dempsey and Willard ribbed up for New Jersey on June 30, but Louis Mesano, chairman of the New Jersey boxing commission, vetoed the proposition in a statement issued yesterday.

LEGION TEAM IS ONCE MORE FIRST

Local Basketball Team Is Setting Great Record by Repeated Victories

Glendale's fast American Legion basketball team took Pasadena down the line for a neat trimming last night to the tune of 29 to 23, in a snappy game at the Glendale Union High school gymnasium.

It was any one's game until the last quarter, when Manager A. G. Wheelon led his team to the top of the pile and took the heart out of the visitors, by ringing three neat ones in a row.

The game was hard fought from the first whistle. Both sides were a bit erratic at the beginning, but soon stiffened. Pasadena probably had the better balanced and smoother passing aggregation and should, according to all the dope and their appearance on the floor, have topped the winner's half.

They stacked up like this:
Glendale: Hayward, Wheelon, Bunker, Austin, Keller, Watt, Dick, Baskets—Glendale: Bunker, 4; Wheelon, 3; Hayward, 2; Austin, 1. Free throws: Wheelon 19 out of 15 chances. Points, 39.
Pasadena: Phelps, Steele, 1. Free throws: Phelps, 9 out of 13 chances. Points, 23.

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE.
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Aside from the great work the public bath and beach resorts have done to promote swimming in California, and many give them the greater credit for developing the state's swimmers, both men and women, a step now has been taken to encourage and increase the interest in water polo.

To this end a league has been formed, and James Reslars, former half-back and leading spirit of the national championship team of 1920 of the Olympic club of San Francisco, has volunteered his service as coach of the teams to be organized in that neck of the world.

Coronado Tent City and San Diego interests have already started a similar campaign which has met with instant success, the southerners having gotten the start on their northern brethren in this direction. Here also a high-grade swimming instructor has been engaged and systematic and careful training and instruction given.

The ultimate idea is to produce teams that will in every way be competent to take part in national and sectional championships. It is claimed that while the Olympic club has developed its own swimmers and teams, it has done little to encourage and develop the sport outside of its own portals.

It is hardly expected that the results will be immediate, but, if the plans work out according to expectations, the eastern teams are likely to have considerable western competition in the course of the next few years.

A far-western handball team will be seen in action this year in the national championships. The Olympic club of San Francisco already is hard at work weeding out the best players it has available through the medium of an elimination tournament. Play is being held every night in the club's courts. There are a half a dozen excellent players of championship caliber, the organization having promoted the interest in this game for many years through the medium of several annual tournaments for which many valuable prizes have been offered.

Battling Nelson and Ad Wogast, both now sojourning on the Pacific coast, were former light-weight champions rated as being among the real fighters of that class in all that this word implies. Both are men who made tens of thousands of dollars during their ring days, and yet, both today are penniless and dependent on the generosity of the friends that remain to them from the by-gone days of glory and financial success. Neither boy had any money idea of finances and the money they made went through their hands in devious ways which neither of them could explain or account for.

"Bush Ball Players" of local prominence in the California Winter league are due to spread out all over the country within the next six or eight weeks and invade the various training camps of major and minor leagues. The "future greats" of the diamond have great ambitions and hopes and confidence in their ability to make good in the different training camps, and time alone will tell whether they "make the grade."

Unquestionably the greatest prospect among the players from the California bush is a youth named Artio Bush who will report to Bill Leard's Winston-Salem club in the Piedmont league. Black is a catcher and recognized by the best judges of untried talent on the Pacific coast as the greatest catcher in semi-pro ball in California. He is in a class by himself in unorganized ball. His greatest asset is his hitting, and he has shown plenty of ability in the semi-pro team games. He has a strong throwing arm, and, above all, he keeps his head up when a runner is coming in from third and the ball is coming in from either the infield or the outfield.

Another lad who may make the great in minor league company is a pitcher named Mark Koenig. The boy is not a stranger to minor league ball. Last spring he tried out with St. Paul and goes back to that team this spring for a second trial. He tried out as an infielder last year, but since then he has developed into a pitcher, and is one of the few untried boys who are going to a major league training camp is Louie Rosenberg, a shortstop who goes to the Chicago White Sox. The boy is ambitious and might surprise everyone, but the consensus of opinion is that "Rose" is not ready for the majors just yet, as he is but a beginner and will have to show plenty to stay with "Kid" Gleason's club. He has shown plenty of hitting ability in the Winter league and has an average of better than .400. So far the fielding averages are not tabulated, but there is no doubt that Rosenberg will figure up near the top of the shortstops.

Ron Kelly, who tried out with the New York Giants a couple of years ago, is to be given a tryout with the Seattle Coast league team, under the management of Harry Wolverton. Kelly was farmed out by New York to St. Paul for more seasoning. From St. Paul he went back to the Giants, and McGraw has now

JOIE RAY LOWERS HIS OWN RECORD

Distance Runner Sets New Mark for Mile and Half At Annual Games

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Joie Ray, the greatest little distance runner of the Illinois A. C., was about today, receiving congratulations upon his feat in establishing a new world's record for the mile and a half at the annual games of the Millrose A. A. last night. Ray not only lowered his own record from 6:42 3-5 to 6:41 4-5, but won the Rodman Wanamaker cup for the sixth consecutive time, giving him permanent possession of two trophies.

Three other world records fell to Jimmy Connolly of Georgetown university; Loren Murchison of Dartmouth and Dick Landon, formerly of Yale. Connolly won his section of the three quarter mile run in 2:43 3-5, lowering the former mark by 2 4-5 seconds; Murchison clipped a fifth of a second from the world's record by winning the sixty yard dash in 6 1-5 seconds and Landon and Brown established a new indoor mark in the high jump by clearing 6 feet 5 1-4 inches.

DENY SIGNALMEN RAISE IN WAGES

8-Hour Day With Overtime Is Granted 15,000 Men By Labor Board

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Railway signalmen of America, 15,000 in number, are denied a wage increase in a decision made public by the United States railroad labor board, but they are granted the eight-hour day.

There was speculation today as to whether restoration of the eight-hour day to the signalmen will be regarded as a precedent from which the maintenance of way men and clerks and freight handlers will benefit.

Restoration of the eight-hour day, with time and a half for overtime, came to the signalmen as a reward for not joining the shopmen's strike last summer, it was stated.

The signalmen had been receiving time and a half for overtime only after the tenth hour. In a dissenting opinion, A. O. Wharton, labor member of the board, contended that an increase in wages should have been granted in view of the increased cost of living.

Society Woman Leaps To Death From Window

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Marjorie M. Lewis, 49, well-known society woman of San Francisco and Washington, committed suicide here today, according to the police, by leaping from the fifth floor of an apartment building, killing herself instantly.

Mrs. Lewis had sent her husband, Lieutenant Frank Lewis, U. S. N., out with her poodle dog. When he returned his wife was gone. Peering out of the open window, he saw her lifeless form in the arway below.

HONOLULU, Feb. 1.—Department headquarters today were unable to assign any motive for the believed suicide of First Lieutenant Karl H. Myers of the air service. Myers was found in an unoccupied office at Luke Field by two privates after their attention had been attracted by a shot. A pistol was found alongside his body. Fellow officers believe he was temporarily insane. His home was at Netawka, Kan., and his stepmother lives at Rosedale, Kan. He was stationed at Marfa, Texas, on the border patrol during the war. The Short Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The father of Robert T. Jones, bearing a relative claim to distinction with Mr. Nation, husband of Carrie, is said to have become so distressed over the failure of Robert T., otherwise Bobbie to win a national championship in golf he suggests that Bobbie change his name for purposes of future tournament play. It is thus hoped that Robert will avoid unwelcome attention, of which, ordinarily, he is the local point.

It seems that all the boys have become so impressed with Bobbie and his ability that they do not hesitate to play their best golf against him, with the result that the young man is still without formal nodding acquaintance with a national title, some inconsiderate person, shooting par or better, has always interrupted Robert just as he was about to get acquainted.

Low scores have eliminated Bobbie from national championships, never high ones, during recent years, and Mr. Jones, pere, of the opinion that the great name he bears is to blame. The Joneses are so scattered and so few in number, it would appear, that any person of this name is as one set apart—a marked man.

He would, therefore, have Bobbie appear under an assumed name, and the rest of the field, being thoroughly taken in and off its guard, would not deem it necessary to resort to the occult in dealing with the young man.

Suppose, for example, Bobbie comes out on the course for a first round match with some leading amateur. His name is really Jones, but no one knows it. He is entered as X, the unknown quantity.

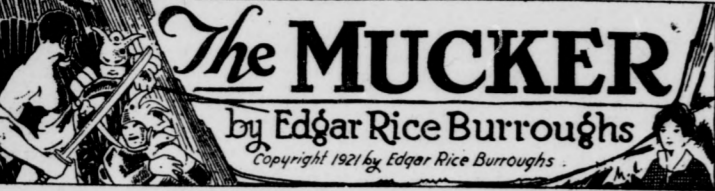

Joe Lynch Is Given Long End Over Buff

OAKLAND, Feb. 1.—California Joe Lynch smacked and jabbed out a four-round decision last night over Johnny Buff, former bantamweight and flyweight champion. The decision was a popular one with Lynch's supporters, but some of the writers present were inclined to give Buff a draw.

In a couple of minutes he came back leading one, which he tied to the corral bars.

"But I can't ride that horse," exclaimed the girl. "He bucks."

"Sure," said Eddie. "I'm agoin' to ride him."

"Oh, are you going somewhere?" she asked.

"I'm goin' with you, miss," announced Eddie, sheepishly.

"But I didn't ask you, Eddie, and I don't want you—today," she urged.

"Sorry, miss," he threw back over his shoulder as he walked back to rope a second pony; "but them's orders. You're not allowed to ride no place without a escort. 'Twouldn't be safe neither, miss, he'dn't pleased, 'an' I won't hinder you none. I'll ride behind far enough to be there if 'n needed."

Directly he came back with another pony, a sad-eyed, gentle-looking little beast, and commenced saddling and bridling the two.

"Will you promise," she asked, after watching him in silence for a time, "that you will tell me no one where I go or whom I see?"

"Cross my heart hope to die," he assured her.

"All right, Eddie, then I'll let you come with me, and you can ride beside me, instead of behind."

Across the flat they rode, following the windings of the river road, one mile, two, five, ten. Eddie had long since been wondering what the purpose of so steady a pace could be. This was no pleasure ride which took the boss's daughter—his sister, Eddie would have called her—ten miles up the river at a hard trot. Eddie was worried, too. They had passed the danger line, and were well within the stamping ground of Pesita and his retainers. Here each little adobe dwelling, and they were scattered at intervals of a mile or more along the river, contained no one. Pesita had seen to this latter condition personally.

At last the young lady drew rein before a squalid and dilapidated hut. Eddie gasped. It was Jose's, and Jose was a notorious scoundrel whom old age alone kept from the active pursuit of the only calling he had ever known—brigandage. Why should the boss's daughter come to Jose? Jose was hand in glove with every cutthroat in Chihuahua, or at least within a radius of 200 miles of his abode.

Barbara swung herself from the saddle, and handed her bridle reins to Eddie.

"Hold him, please," she said. "I'll be gone but a moment."

"You're not goin' in there to see old Jose alone?" gasped Eddie.

"Why not?" she asked. "If you're afraid you can leave my horse and ride along home."

Eddie colored to the roots of his sandy hair, and kept silent. The girl approached the doorway of the mean hovel and peered within. At one end sat a bent old man, smoking. He looked up as Barbara's figure darkened the doorway.

"Jose!" said the girl.

The old man rose to his feet and came toward her.

"Eh? Senorita, eh?" he said.

"SI, senorita," replied the old Indian. "What can poor, old Jose do to serve the beautiful senorita?"

"You can carry a message to one of Pesita's officers," replied the girl. "I have heard much about you since I came to Mexico. I know that there is not another

Non est qualis erat!
O equa glauca non est qualis erat.
Multis ante annis!

A policeman on the street, hearing the sound, paused, consulted his rule book and, with a sigh, returned to his beat. There are some of them you can't arrest.

Yet Philadelphia bids fair to become the "radical" center for artists as the result of a $6,000,000 fund established by Dr. Albert C. Barnes for the erection of a museum on his estate at Merion, a suburb, to house his $3,000,000 collection of the work of modernist painters.

Although the interior of the museum may be a kaleidoscope of hues the exterior at least will conform to established standards, for Paul P. Cret, distinguished architect, has been ordered to draw the plans.

In announcing the fund, Dr. Barnes said, "Primarily the hope is that every person of every station in life will be allowed to get his own reaction to whatever the foundation has to offer. That means that academism conformity to worn-out traditions, counterfeits in art, living and thinking—can have no place in the intended scope of the museum."

The powers that control the destinies of Philadelphia's Zoo recently showed their opinion of the success of prohibition by opening a snake house double the size of the old one.

"Jose," said Pesita, "has a word for you."

Billy Byrne turned questioning toward the Indian.

"I have been sent, Senor Capitlan," explained Jose, "by the beautiful senorita of El Orobro ranch, Senor Bridge, to tell you that your captured by General Villa, and is being held at Cuivaca, where he will doubtless be shot—if he help does not reach him before tomorrow morning."

Pesita was looking questioning toward Billy. Since the gringo had returned from Cuivaca with the loot of the bank and turned the outlaw had looked upon his new captives as something just short of superhuman. To have robbed the bank thus easily while Villa's soldiers paced back and forth before the doorway seemed little short of an indication of miraculous powers, while to have turned the loot over intact to his chief, not asking for so much as a peso of it, was absolutely incredible.

Pesita could not understand this man; but he admired him greatly and feared him, too. Such a man was worth a hundred of the ordinary run of humanity that enlisted beneath Pesita's banners. Byrne had but to ask a favor to have it granted, and now, when he called upon Pesita to furnish him with a suitable force for the rescue of a bridge the brigand enthusiastically acceded to his demands.

"I will come," he exclaimed, "and all my men shall ride with me. We will take Cuivaca by storm. We may even capture Villa himself. We—"

"Wait a minute, bo," interrupted Billy Byrne. "Don't get excited. I'm looking to get my pal outen' Cuivaca. After that I don't care who you capture; but I'm goin' to get Bridgie out first. If it ain't too late. Then, if you want to, you can shoot up the town. Lemme have the twenty-five, an' you hang around with the edges with the rest of 'em 'til I'm done. Whaddaya say?"

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE TOYS

"Hush! Don't make any noise!" "No! Don't wake him up!" "See how his pink nose twinkles!"

The animal boys and girls were whispering these things as they saw Uncle Wiggily asleep in his easy chair. All about him were toys, for this was the Christmas season, and the animal children had come to the bunny gentleman's hollow stump bungalow to show him their gifts.

Uncle Wiggily had beaten the drums, he had blown the fifes, he had cuddled the dolls and he had shot the pop guns of the boys and girls, trying each new toy as it was shown to him. Now the bunny gentleman had fallen asleep.

"We'll go outside and play in the snow," whispered Baby Bunt.

"And let Uncle Wiggily sleep," added Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel.

"Our toys will be safe with him until we get back," said Jackie Bow Wow, the puppy dog.

"I'm not afraid to leave my pop gun with Uncle Wiggily."

"And I'm not afraid to leave my sword," added Sammie Little-tail, the rabbit, for Sammie had been given a toy sword for Christmas.

So all the animal boys and girls went softly from the hollow stump bungalow, leaving Uncle Wiggily soundly asleep among their Christmas toys. Out into the snow trooped the boys and girls. They laughed and shouted when they were outside. They throw snowballs and made a snow man.

It was just about this time that Scallery Alligator started down the road through the forest to reach Uncle Wiggily's bungalow. The Alligator wore a fur coat to keep himself warm, for Alligators don't like cold weather.

"I feel sure we shall catch that rabbit today," growled the Bob Cat.

"Yes, I hope we may," bellowed the Gator. "I just saw a lot of the animal children coming from Uncle Wiggily's place, and he's very likely in the bungalow all alone now."

"Yes, he is, for I saw Nurse Jane go out," said the Bob Cat. "We can sneak in and nibble his ears now. He can't get away."

In through the back door of the hollow stump bungalow sneaked the Bob Cat and the Skillery Scallery Alligator with the double-tongued tail. They walked very softly, but Uncle Wiggily had very sharp ears, and all of a sudden the bunny gentleman awakened. He looked all about

AMATEURS SPOIL RADIO CONCERTS
Writer Complains of Private Messages Interfering With Musicians

Editor The Evening News: For a considerable length of time I have had the pleasure of reading your publication daily and it has often occurred to me that you are endeavoring to be of the greatest good to the greatest number in our city.

A great many residents of Glendale have installed very fine radio receiving sets for the purpose of listening to concerts given in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Denver, Fort Worth and a great many other points in the United States.

Amateurs Interfere

Recently those of us who like to listen to good music have been very much annoyed by the thoughtlessness of some boys and amateurs in the city of Glendale who persist in sending code right at the time some very interesting concerts are on the air.

Several of us are absolutely convinced that it is only thoughtlessness on the part of those possessing small sending sets and that a few articles in your paper will correct this trouble. What can you do for us?

We shall watch the columns of your paper with a great deal of interest and hope that it has the desired effect. I am,

Very truly yours,
JOHN H. SOUTHARD,

RELATION OF SPARK GAPS TO RESONANCE

This rapid or sudden quenching of the primary, as pointed out in preceding article, avoids double waves, even with close coupling. In fact, the coupling should be close for the most satisfactory operation of a transmitter employing a quenched gap. Great care must be taken with the adjustment of the coupling, but the results obtained are well worth the care, as it gives a high pitched, good note when properly adjusted that is a pleasure to hear, to say nothing of the satisfaction of having a perfectly adjusted set. As previously pointed out a wavemeter will readily determine when a sharp wave is obtained, and the sound in the telephone receiver, if worn while making adjustments, will indicate how the tone of the note is.

It is well to point here that the principles of operation of the quenched and the plain gaps are exactly opposite. The former aims to stop the primary oscillations quickly after the secondary has been brought to full activity. The latter aims to keep the primary oscillations going as long as possible, all the time giving energy to the secondary as it is radiated away. The coupling is loose and the primary decrement is kept low.

The rapid decrease of the oscillations in a quenched gap circuit are assisted by having a large ratio of capacitance to inductance. This has the incidental advantage that the voltages across the condenser and coil are kept low.

APPARATUS AND DEVICES
By RALPH BROWN, RADIO ENGINEER

LABORATORY GROUND SWITCH UNIT

This unit can be used to good advantage in any station where efficiency is the keynote, as tests have often proved that much loss of energy is caused through the use of ground switches mounted on wood, slate or marble. These units are mounted on 40,000 volt molded insulators. Each insulator is mounted on an individual iron base drilled for four screws, making for convenient mounting.

The switches are standard 600 volt 100 ampere size.

They Say That

Does a girl of 14 need $24,000 a year for her expenses, besides that which her mother gives her—a girl living with her mother, and thus provided with the comforts of home without expense to herself. This contention was set up by a wealthy widow in New York in seeking to have this sum set aside for one year's budget for her daughter. The court pondered the case and cut the allowance to $20,000 annually. This girl's income is accumulating at the rate of $50,000 annually. There is already an accumulation of $350,000.

Do parents do the best thing for their children in endowing them with great riches? It depends, of course, upon the moral fiber of the child in each specific case. Generally speaking, however, it may be said that it is baneful, not to say tragic, to weigh down young lives with the burden of great riches. This oftentimes breeds selfishness, snobbishness, intolerance, intemperate habits and in many instances leads directly into paths of folly and vice.

Boys and girls have a right to be free of the cumberments and temptations and enervating luxuries of great riches, in their formative years. If there is wealth

Panama Claims Fiscal Rights In Canal Zone

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The state department has received a note from the government of Panama in which Panama asserts that she still retains "fiscal jurisdiction of the Panama canal zone from the international point of view, that is to say, insofar as imports and exports are concerned."

Panama further claims that "if the canal should be abandoned by the United States, the United States would have no legal basis for the occupation of the zone, which has not been acquired in fee simple, either by purchase, cession or conquest."

Deputy Searches for Torture Instruments

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—A search for "instruments of torture" was made in detective headquarters by a deputy sheriff, armed with a search warrant on instructions from Criminal Courts Judge McKinley. A specific hunt was made for a rubber "billy" with which Edmund Fitch, a prisoner, said he was beaten to make him "confess" an automobile theft.

 Allen Daniels, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Daniels of 207 West Lomita avenue is recovering from an attack of pneumonia. While still confined to his bed he is considered to be out of danger.
 Robert Taylor of 236 West Park avenue spent Sunday in Compton, where he visited at the home of old friends and neighbors. He was a dinner guest at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Kelly of that city.
 Robert L. Quigley of Fort Worth, Texas, who is spending several weeks with friends and relatives in Los Angeles, was a visitor Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Christianson of South Mariposa street.
 Miss Edna Duffey, Miss Margaret Sharpe and Mrs. Anderson all of the faculty of the Wilson Avenue school have entered the night classes of the University of California Extension Division in Los Angeles for study during the spring months.
 Mrs. E. C. Hurlbert of 348 West Park avenue has been confined to her home with an intense cold for the past few days. Mr. and Mrs. Hurlbert, accompanied last week from an automobile trip to San Diego.
 Miss Edith M. Unwin, connected with Dutton, the Home Fynder, corner of Colorado and Glendale, and Miss Gertrude F. Whitecar, 337 West Elk avenue, are leaving next week for Philadelphia, Pa., to be gone about six weeks. They plan to go via the southern route.

Wonderful what tenacity of purpose is to be found in our people. The Earl Fitzgerald, a "lifer," escaped from Folsom the other afternoon.
 On the same day five years before he did the same thing. Perhaps he believed the first five years in prison was equal to the average life outside, for he was sentenced in 1912.
 And perhaps he believed the ten years he pounded rocks was equal to a lifetime's labor. Or did he only blindly wait for the opportunity to make his getaway, which averages once every five years.
 Somehow, this prison business gets on the nerves of a thinking person. Usually the convict is serving time for a single crime. Yet he does not really constitute a menace to society if freed.
 Beyond reasonable doubt, our laws, which were enacted in the spirit of justice, fall short of giving the convict that which is deserved. The parole system seems to be a failure, but is this not due to the failure of means of correction?
 There seems to be only one source of information on this subject which speaks with any authority and that is the Salvation Army. Wonder if their prison work could not suggest something better than our present method of dealing with prisoners?

Good business conditions are noted by the district governor of the federal reserve board on the coast. Why shouldn't they be good?
 California today has more great projects in the offing than any three states combined, the writer believes.
 Millions will be invested in power, more millions in manufacturing, more millions in agriculture never better. Alaska is re-awakening. South America has been making hay while the sun was shining and every day in every way things are getting better and better, without giving M. C. Cue any credit for the situation which faces America's "back door."

Well, Glendale reached that million dollar mark in building — and then some. To take out permits for more than a million dollars' worth of building the first month of 1923 is indicative of plenty of prosperity. "There are a number of big projects under way and it is reasonable to expect that Glendale will better its 1922 record of more than $6,000,000. There's knocking in Glendale—the carpenters' hammers are being heard."

Program Tonight
 Unprecedented success is predicted for the musical program to be given tonight at the home of Mrs. E. D. Cleophas at 337 North Central avenue, under the auspices of the Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club to raise funds to provide the dishes for the new clubhouse.
 Artists of wide recognition who will take part on the program are Madame Teodora Wiesniewska, dramatic soprano, accompanied by Madame Romanowska; Miss Gertrude Cleophas; Ella Faggioli, dramatic tenor, accompanied by Mrs. Faggioli; and Phyllis Fergus, who will give story poems with original musical settings. All of them are giving their services gratis.

Take Motor Trip
 All kinds of weather were encountered Sunday and Monday, by Mrs. George W. Sanford, when she was one of a party making a motor trip to and from Lindsay, over the "Ridge Route."
 The exact weather met with was on the east slope of the ridge, on the return, when heavy snow, sleet and hail alternated to make driving a most hazardous feat, with a road that was frozen into a sheet of ice, curving dangerously up and down steep grades. On the west slope of the ridge, blinding rain was encountered.
 Those in the party were Mrs. Sanford, her nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer and daughter, Misses Rosa and Lucille Palmer, and her niece and son, Mrs. Charles Cress and Harry Cress. While in Lindsay the party visited Mrs. Sanford's sister, Mrs. Bert Palmer, who is James Palmer's mother.

Street Marking System is Asked
 Chamber of Commerce to Ask City Council to Install Poles at Corners
 Plans for the erection of signs at the intersections of the Glendale streets were presented to the Chamber of Commerce directors at their meeting last night, and a full description of the proposed signs was furnished the members of the board by Secretary James M. Rhoades, who has been in communication with the city officials of New York in order to obtain the latest ideas on this matter.
 The designs submitted to the Chamber of Commerce last night call for the erection of poles bearing the names of the different streets and showing which side of the various north and south, or east and west, dividing lines such streets are on.
 It is the intention of the directors to submit the data that they have gathered to the city council tonight and to ask that a system of the various streets be adopted that will clearly show the names of the streets and avenues in town.
 The report of the advertising committee, that has been investigating the standing of Harry L. Hoover, the promoter who proposes to put on a Merchants Industrial Exposition here in May, was presented to the directors and was found to be satisfactory in every particular, and the plan suggested by Mr. Leavitt was also pronounced feasible by the committee. The directors decided to go ahead with the plans for holding the exposition, as already outlined, and any money that is turned over to the Chamber of Commerce will be used as the nucleus of a fund to be used in advertising the advantages of Glendale all over the country.
 It is also planned to enlist the co-operation of the Glendale Credit Association in the conduct of the proposed exposition and also in raising a permanent fund to be used in advertising Glendale.

Wants Roads Improved
 The directors adopted a resolution praying the State Highway Commission to improve the transcontinental highways running through the state, especially that part of the National Old Trail lying between Los Angeles and Needles, the Lincoln Highway that enters California via Reno, Nevada, and the Midland Trail between Mojave and Goldfield. This movement, it is declared, is supported by all of the Chambers of Commerce in those parts of the state traversed by the roads that it is planned to improve and also by many others that are off the routes named but that realize the advantages to the state in having these highways maintained in proper shape for the traffic that is constantly flowing over them.

Beautiful Movie Star in Shrine Club Show
 In "Smile Again" the three act musical comedy to be given at the T. D. & L. theatre on Thursday, Feb. 8th by the Shrine Club will appear as the "Little Hawaiian Princess," and those who have seen this charming young actress as Carmencita in "Silver Heels" with Lester Cuneo, or playing in leads with Jack and the silver screen, will appreciate the treat in store for them when she appears in person in Glendale.
 "Smile Again" is a real show and the Shrine Club are to be congratulated in arranging for such a high class array of talent. Two performances will be given only, and it is expected that standing room only will be the rule.

Circle Has Meet
 Another delightful meeting was enjoyed yesterday by members of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle at the public library. As is customary the meeting began in the morning with Mrs. A. A. Barton, president, presiding.
 Mrs. C. L. Peckham gave a review of the first of a series of articles by Henry Emerson Ford on "Twelve Tests of Character." "First Things First" was the article reviewed by Mrs. Peckham and it had to do with the choice of the important things of life.
 One of the pleasures of the day was the presence of Mrs. N. C. Kelly of Corona, one of the charter members of the circle. She is spending a few days as the guest of Mrs. Charles H. Toll. The circle members were happy to greet Mrs. Kelly and hear her speak briefly of the development of the organization.
 In response to roll call the members gave quotations.
 Mesdames Lewis and Ellis are members of the tea committee, and they served during the luncheon hour.
 The next meeting will be held on Monday Mrs. H. V. Henry gave a discussion of the pamphlet by George Herbert Best on "The Roots of Disposition and Character."
 At the next meeting study will be begun on the new book "Every Day Problems in Child Training" by M. V. O'Shea. Mr. O'Shea is editor of a mothers' magazine and author of well known books on childhood and the circle members are looking forward with pleasure to the study of his new book.

 Dealing With Prisoners
 Glendale Goes Over Top
 —By Gil A. Cowan—
"E DUCATED to a point of super-saturation." That was the term used in criticizing certain of our past public officials at a gathering of several members of the Fourth Estate in a cafe recently.
 In that there seemed to be the spirit of antagonism toward the person who is supercilious in the matter of knowledge. For lots of people would rather die than admit their theories are wrong insofar as the masses are concerned.
 Yet, defining the situation is not education but a mere refinement, a cloak, as it were, and not the real article. In other words, when dealing with the people an official must get their viewpoint, not that of the scholars, who too closely dissect things for public satisfaction.
 There are a great many things which are not right about our laws and regulations, but they are made to fit the rather awkward personification of public opinion. It takes a mighty clever tailor to clothe some men and he cannot incorporate the style in his work, either.
 The same is true with judicial findings, legislation for the public good and editorials for the people. It takes anything about sermons, medical advice and kindred other services.
 Bloodshed in the Ruhr valley increases until today or tomorrow or next day will find the German people of that invaded domain in a state of revolution.
 France cannot expect to hold that rich Rhine basin without a fight and it is good to note that American troops have left. Indeed, it would seem as though only a miracle will avert another war.
 And it will be a greater miracle if America can keep clear of it.
 Wonderful what tenacity of purpose is to be found in our people. The Earl Fitzgerald, a "lifer," escaped from Folsom the other afternoon.
 On the same day five years before he did the same thing. Perhaps he believed the first five years in prison was equal to the average life outside, for he was sentenced in 1912.

SCOUT OFFICIALS TO ATTEND BANQUET
 Chief Executive Will Be Guest of Honor Tonight In Los Angeles
 James E. West, chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America, who is visiting California for the second time in thirteen years, will be the guest of honor tonight at a banquet at the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., which will be attended by a number of Glendaleans.
 Mayor Spencer Robinson and Harry Girard have been extended an especial invitation to attend the function as the guests of the Los Angeles Boy Scout Council. Places will be laid for more than 600 persons.
 The Pasadena Boy Scout Orchestra will play several selections during the progress of the meal and the Los Angeles Boy Scout band will be on hand.
Attend in Body
 The speaker of the evening will be James E. West, who is reported to have "raised himself by his own bootstraps." He is expected to bring a stirring and enthusiastic message for every scout leader in southern California.
 Verdugo Hills scout leaders and council members will meet at the local headquarters, 103 1/2 South Brand boulevard, tonight at 6 o'clock and will go together to the banquet.
 "It is very important," stated Scout Executive Harold Bener this morning, "that every scout leader or councilman, who plans to hear Mr. West, should meet at the scout office not later than 6 p. m., which barely gives us a half hour to reach Los Angeles in time for the opening of the banquet."

BISHOP DU BOSE WILL SPEAK HERE
 Bishop H. M. Du Bose, loved and respected by Methodists throughout the country, will deliver an address next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Broadway Methodist church, corner of Broadway and Cedar streets, this city. As Bishop Du Bose's time in Southern California will be extremely limited, indications are that residents from all parts of Los Angeles county will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing him at the local church.
 Bishop Du Bose, who is recognized as one of the most scholarly men connected with the First Methodist church, south, is at present in charge of the entire western conference, including the states of California, Arizona, New Mexico, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.
 Rev. D. M. Barr, pastor of the local church, has been a personal friend of Bishop Du Bose for a number of years, having known him several years ago as book editor of the church as a whole. The bishop, who was pastor of the Trinity Methodist church of Los Angeles during the early years of his ministry, is now president of the national organization of the Epworth League.
 Following his address in this city, Bishop Du Bose will leave immediately for San Francisco, where he will officiate at several gatherings prior to visiting numerous other cities in the conference.

With Mrs. Blyth
 Mrs. G. E. Blyth of 126 East Garfield avenue is to be hostess tomorrow afternoon at the meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Central Avenue Methodist church.
 The meeting is announced for 2 o'clock.

WORK TO FOLLOW FALL IN CABINET
 New and Lasker Mentioned As Possible Successors In Post Office

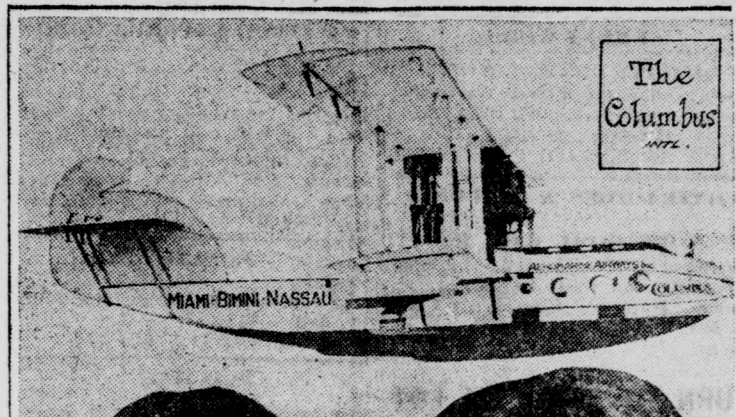

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
 For International News Service
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Dr. Hubert Work of Colorado, who came inconspicuously into government service two years ago, as an assistant postmaster general, later succeeding Will Hays in the cabinet, will be the successor to Albert B. Fall, as secretary of the interior, it was learned authoritatively here today.

President Harding has informed friends that he intends to transfer Dr. Work to the interior department and the news is expected to stop the headlong rush that a dozen candidates have been making for the post, mostly Republican "lame ducks" defeated in the November elections.

Announcement of the change, however, is being held up until Mr. Harding is ready at the same time to announce a new postmaster general.

No final decision has yet been made on the postmaster generalship, it was said today, but in high Republican circles, the expectation prevails that the job will go to Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, a warm personal friend and old colleague of the President in the senate. Senator New will retire from the senate at the expiration of the present session.

The car float flagler saved Mrs. Atkins, Otto Abraham, a New York broker; Miss Julia Haverty, W. E. Miller, the pilot, and Harold Thompson, the mechanic.

APPROVE PLANS TO CERTIFY LAND
 Banker Endorses Program As Drawn Up by Realtors Of California

In a letter to President Frazier O. Reed of the California Real Estate association, approval of the proposed land certification program of the California land owners and realtors is given by H. C. Carr, prominent California banker. The program is formally answered in the California approved Land Settlement association recently formed.

Mr. Carr, who is vice-president of the California Bankers' association for the Porterville district, where he has been prominently identified with agricultural development, writes to President Reed in the following statement, just given out by the State Realtors' news department:

"I have watched with growing interest the activities of your association; more especially the bringing into life of the Land Owners' organization and the proposed legislative program placing the subdividers of farm lands under the State Real Estate department.

Beneficial Plan
 "To my way of thinking this would be one of the most constructive and beneficent pieces of legislation that could possibly be enacted in this session of the legislature and nothing in the interests of the welfare of agriculturists in California could be more far-reaching and permanent.

"The state has been cursed for years with men without conscience who have put on subdivisions of city and country property that promised grief from the start, and every dissatisfied purchaser of land in California has a double action kick against further immigration and investment.

"The greatest piece of literature ever put out in the interests of investors in California properties is written by the purchaser in a personal letter to some friends back east, telling him how happy and satisfied he is with his investment in his new home and how well he has been treated by the people who negotiated with him.

Good Will Is Lost
 "California never disappoints anyone, but Californians in the person of the above-mentioned class of unprincipled subdividers most certainly have wrought havoc to the stock of 'good will' we are trying so hard to accumulate with our non-resident friends and prospects.

"Banks have done their best to resist this propaganda and activity of subdividers, and it is unfortunate that some real estate men have felt that it was an unfriendly attitude toward the real estate business as they failed to discriminate between general interpretation and net results.

"More power to your activities and the invocation of my special blessing on this land organization and this proposed legislation."

BLACKHAND NOTE MAILED TO SOLON
 Author of State's Dry Law Told of Increase in Wet Conditions

Special to The Evening News
 SACRAMENTO, Feb. 1.—One petition received by Assemblyman T. M. Wright of San Jose failed of publication in the Assembly Daily Journal today.

It was a blackhand note, a great big flat black hand being the cause for its omission from the Journal.

Inscribed on the sheet, for the edification of the dry law author, was the inscription, "Day by day we are getting wetter and wetter."

"Evidently this comes from some of Assemblyman John B. Badaracco's constituents," commented Mr. Wright as Speaker Frank M. Merriam held the communication up to the view of the members of the lower house.

Many Road Projects
 Improvement of desert roads and the building of bridges seems to be the principal highway legislation offered in the legislature this session.

Efforts are being made to improve the highways leading out of Mojave to Bakersfield, also to Independence. Appropriations are asked for the completion of the Blythe-Mesera route in Riverside county and the Yuma-Holtville route in Imperial county. A bridge across the Klamath river at Requa also is asked, and several stretches of highway in various parts of the state are asked to be paved.

The highway commission recently canceled three contracts and it is presumed the representatives from the districts affected will try to get the legislature to order the work done.

Bills Flowing In
 A flood of bills hit both houses this last week of the first half of the session, but it is believed a new low record will be made as many of them are routine matters and amendments of little consequence.

However, there is some complaint that the lawyers offer too much legislation for the solons to digest in thirty days.

REPORTS OF HAYS' FALL ARE DENIED
 Movie Official Says Dictator Has 3-Year Contract With Producers

By HARRY S. DELINGER
 For International News Service
 NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Steadily increasing reports that the Will H. Hays' movie dynasty is tottering and the power of the czar has been greatly curtailed by the allied producers and distributors were called "absurd" today by Cortland Smith, secretary of the board of directors of the American Producers' and Distributors' Association.

Rumors current in the screen world for months that a crisis loomed in the reign of the film emperor gained new impetus with the "rebellion" of Douglas Fairbanks several days ago and were seemingly further verified when it was reported the Famous Players-Lasker corporation, former producers of "Fatty" Arbuckle pictures, had refused to lift their ban against the comedian. This, despite the "czar" announcing his intention of giving Arbuckle "a chance to make good."

Smith said rumors that Hays might be asked to resign or that he was being used as a catspaw by the great motion picture corporations were false. He scoffed at statements that Fairbanks and his combination of stars had caused trouble.

Three-Year Contract
 "Mr. Hays signed a contract with the producers on January 17, 1922, the contract to start on March 5, 1922, and continue until March 5, 1925," he explained.

"Any talk of Mr. Hays' leaving his position until that time is untrue. During the last two years our organization has practically doubled in membership. I know of no time that there ever was any questioning of a decision made by Mr. Hays.

"The Famous Players-Lasker corporation wrote the Arbuckle pictures off their books in November, fully a month before Mr. Hays issued the statement saying he had decided to permit the comedian to seek a livelihood in his profession.

"Mr. Hays simply took a stand that he is in no sense a dictator. He did not wish to bar Arbuckle arbitrarily. No more did he wish to give orders to Famous Players-Lasker.

"Mr. Hays seeks only to improve and safeguard the standards of the films and to aid the industry."

Lasker To Retire
 Another candidate understood to be under consideration is Albert D. Lasker, present chairman of the United States shipping board.

Lasker has informed President Harding he will retire from the shipping board March 9, irrespective of what happens to the ship subsidy bill now facing an uncertain fate in the dying congress.

It is likely that March 4, which marks the death of the sixty-seventh congress and the halfway post of President Harding's first term, will also see a number of other changes in the high personnel of the government, although it is denied that cabinet shifts other than those involved in the interior department and the postoffice are in order.

These changes, it is understood, will be announced by the white house just prior to President Harding's departure for Florida on March 5.

Lasker's retirement from the shipping board will create a vacancy there which probably will be filled by Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, it was reported today. Senator Frelinghuysen was among those Republicans defeated in November.

E. Mont Reilly Quits
 March 4 will see the retirement of E. Mont Reilly of Kansas City as governor of Porto Rico, and of Colonel Charles R. Forbes as director of the United States veterans' bureau.

General Clarence Edwards, stern center of a number of army rows, will be sent to Porto Rico to replace Reilly, and Colonel Forbes as head of the government's veteran activities, it was learned today.

General Edwards, who has had considerable experience as a colonial administrator, is understood to be acceptable to the Porto Ricans, who have conducted an unceasing drive to oust Governor Reilly.

Colonel Miller's transfer to the veterans' bureau is expected to quiet the criticism that has been steadily directed against the bureau by the American Legion and other veterans' organizations. Colonel Miller was one of the founders of the legion and has always played an important part in its councils.

Post for Mondell
 Representative Frank Mondell, Republican floor leader in the house, who retires from congress on March 4, after twenty-five years of service, may succeed Miller as alien property custodian, it was reported today.

Friends of Mondell have conducted a steady drive on the white house for an important assignment for him after March 4.

The drive on the white house for positions of defeated members of congress has been unceasing since November and it is expected that March 4 will see several of them taken care of.

HUMAN SPECK IS TOPIC OF LECTURE
 Harry Rimmer Speaks at Central Christian Church To Young People

The insignificance and yet importance of man in the general scheme of things was presented last night by Harry Rimmer in addressing the young people's gathering at the Central Christian church on "The Human Speck."

Taking the vast solar system as a background, Mr. Rimmer brought his subject from the size of the earth to the size of the continent, to the size of the United States, to the size of California, to the size of the corner of Colorado and Louise streets, to the size and importance of the gathering in the Central Christian church standing at that corner and to the size and importance of the individuals making up that gathering.

Perfect Harmony
 Mr. Rimmer then pictured the perfect harmony in the great system of creation and of the ruler of it all.

To emphasize the importance of each of the units of the system the speaker likened it to a brick structure in which every brick plays an important part. He told of the building of the largest brick building in the United States in Chicago. How the building grew brick by brick. "It is by this plan the Master Builder has built the universe," said Mr. Rimmer, "each person and unit of the universe is a brick with an important part to play."

Another illustration was that of how the human mechanism has been used as a plan for mechanical inventions. For instances he cited the invention of the wrench on the plan of the plan of the human hand and the invention of the gas engine on the plan of the human heart.

Music By Quartet
 Music at the meeting was furnished by the male quartet from the First Methodist church, composed of Paul and Frank Butterfield, Dr. P. O. Lucas and Dr. C. R. Lusby, and violin selections by Herbert Bruck, violinist.

Tonight Mr. Rimmer will talk on "The Path to Success and there will be music by Miss Arnold, vocalist, and Herbert Bruck, violinist.

Mr. Rimmer was the speaker today at the Rotary club lunch.

The Pasadena Hi-Y boys will attend the Friday night meeting.

INCREASE SHOWN IN TAX RECEIPTS
 Month's Income Collections $89,830.98 Higher Than Those of Jan. 1922

Income tax receipts in the Southern California district for January indicate an increase of 26 per cent, as compared with the collections for January, 1922, Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodell announced yesterday.

Total collections for the month were $1,178,832.67, of which $430,926.06 was income tax and $747,906.61 miscellaneous taxes. The income tax receipts for January, 1922, were $341,095.08.

More than 225,000 Southern Californians must file returns and pay tax before March 15. The January collections indicate that taxpayers are taking no chances and are filing early the receipts showing that January, 1923, is 26 per cent ahead of 1922 as regards both number of returns filed and taxes paid.

Collector Goodell pointed out that it was probable that the Los Angeles district was the only internal revenue district in the United States that showed an increase in income tax receipts for January, for the country, taken as a whole, has steadily developed.

 LONG BEACH, Cal., Feb. 1.—Taking precaution to leave his victim helpless so he could not sound an alarm, a young bandit robbed H. C. Taylor of diamonds valued at $3,500, in Taylor's jewelry store in West First street, and then escaped.

Taylor, after being freed by a friend, told the police that a young man entered his store this morning and asked to be shown some diamonds. Taylor put a tray of diamonds on the counter and when he leaned over to show one of the stones to the prospective customer he was hit on the head with a revolver, after a handful of hair had been jerked from his head.  LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—Harold Lloyd, film comedian, and Mildred Davis, who for three years has been co-starred with Lloyd, will be married within a week, it was learned from an authoritative source today. Though neither Miss Davis nor Lloyd could be found to give their official stamp of approval to the fact that they were engaged, it was learned nevertheless to be the truth.

From the same source it was ascertained they were engaged, it was also learned the wedding will be a very quiet affair with only the parents of the couple present, and will take place in a quiet, out of the way place.

The romance of Lloyd and Miss Davis dates back three years when the pretty young star, who has just reached her twentieth birthday, went to work at the Hal Roach studio in Hollywood.

HERE'S CHANCE TO AID POOR FAMILY
 Need Materials to Assist Grandmother in Caring For Four Children

There's a little family in Glendale in which every Glendalian should take an interest, for every one is privileged to have a small share in contributing to their happiness. They are a grandmother and four little granddaughters, ranging in ages from 10 to 2 years.

Their story is sad and happy at the same time, for it tells of the death of the mother of the four little girls, of their desertion by their father, of the love and devotion that brought their grandmother from the east to care for them and of the sad plight they are in now with no income and no furniture for their little home which the Glendale Welfare Council has secured for them.

Need Materials
 Since the Welfare Council became acquainted with them they have secured a home and the grandmother is preparing to take boarders. However, furniture, dishes and bedding are needed in the little home and the council have made a plea to Glendale people for any contributions in these lines. Anyone having things to give should communicate with Mrs. E. D. Yard, Glendale 1142-R, or Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, 232-J, and anything offered will be called for.

Some time ago The Glendale Evening News brought to the attention of its readers the case of a widow and her family in need of a mattress, and the result was that the Welfare Council received offers for three mattresses.

"We are more than grateful to The Glendale Evening News," said Mrs. Yard, "for, by assisting us, it is doing a great philanthropic work by opening its columns to needy cases."
