Desmond Tutu

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Desmond Mpilo Tutu (born 7 October 1931) is a South African Anglican cleric and theologian known for his work as an anti-apartheid and human rights activist. He was the Bishop of Johannesburg from 1985 to 1986 and then the Archbishop of Cape Town from 1986 to 1996, in both cases being the first black man to hold the position. Theologically, he sought to fuse ideas from black theology with African theology; politically, he identifies as a socialist.

Born of mixed Xhosa and Motswana heritage to a poor family in Klerksdorp, South Africa, Tutu moved around as a child. Entering adulthood, he trained as a teacher and married Nomalizo Leah Tutu, with whom he had several children. In 1960, he was ordained as an Anglican priest and in 1962 moved to the United Kingdom to study theology at King's College London. In 1966 he returned to southern Africa, teaching at the Federal Theological Seminary and then the University of Botswana, Lesotho and Swaziland. In 1972, he became the Theological Education Fund's director for Africa, a position based in London but necessitating regular tours of the African continent. Back in southern Africa in 1975, he served first as dean of St Mary's Cathedral in Johannesburg and then as Bishop of Lesotho, taking an active role in opposition to South Africa's apartheid system of racial segregation and white-minority rule. From 1978 to 1985 he was general-secretary of the South African Council of Churches, emerging as one of South Africa's most prominent anti-apartheid activists. Although warning the National Party government that apartheid would lead to racial violence, as an activist he stressed non-violent protest and foreign economic pressure to bring about change.

In 1985 he became Bishop of Johannesburg and in 1986 the Archbishop of Cape Town, the most senior position in southern Africa's Anglican hierarchy. In

Motivation

(Add your motivation for this property here.) Gamaliel (talk) 13:54, 16 May 2018 (UTC)

At the EuropeanaTech Wikidata training workshop this week, a participant from this organisation specifically wanted to know how to connect their vocab to wikidata. We want to make this Identifier property so we can then add it to Mix'n'Match and connect their work to Wikidata. Wittylama (talk) 14:01, 16 May 2018 (UTC)

Discussion

- Support looks like a good comprehensive thesaurus for Africa. ArthurPSmith (talk) 20:06, 16 May 2018 (UTC)
- Side comment: I think it should be renamed to make it more clear whose thesaurus this is - The African Studies Centre Leiden. Calling it "African Studies Thesaurus"
