Western Grain Route Enthusiastically Endorsed

Edmonton, Jan. 13 .- One of the most enthusiastic mass meet ings in the history of Edmonton was held Friday night when gathered to endorse the Pacific Coast route for prairie grain principal speaker was Hon. John Oliver, premier of British Columbia, but a business engagement in Calgary made it imposs for Premier Greenfield to attend.

A resolution was passed, urging the Provincial and Federal Governments to lend every assistance to reproject and embodied in it was a request that a Federal elevator be built in Edmonton, to permit of proper grading and storage.

Much to Offer.

Much to Offer.

Premier Oliver maintained that the interests of Alberta and British Columbia were identical and trade would go where it could get the cheapest and best facilities. He went on to show that British Columbia could offer 200 miles of waterfront where ocean going steamers could get within a few feet of the shore without the millions of dollars worth of dredging as was necessary in many of the eastern ports. of dredging as was necessary in many of the eastern ports.

There would be little trouble in of the eastern ports.

There would be little trouble in establishing the western grain route as proposed if they could get the Dominion Government and the Dominion Parliament to say to the railways that they must exercise a spirit of equity and justice as between east and west. If such were romised the terminal facilities would be quickly provided.

Dealing with grades, Hon. Mr. Oliver showed that there was just as great a maximum grade from here to Fort William as there is to Vancouver.

Chen Resists.

* Hongkong, Jan. 13.—General Chen Chiung Ming, who shattered the Government of the Southern Republic of China, when his army entered Canton last Summer, is reported remaining in Canton collecting large forces with which he hopes to defend the city against the new invasion of troops loyal to Sun Yat Sen, the deposed Southern Fresident.

General Chen has been telling the citizens not to be alarmed and urging them to raise funds for the considerable military expenditure involved in the effort to prevent the wresting of Canton from the hands of the Peking Nationalists.

The legacy of Sun Yat Sen's bank note issue, which was not backed by a specie reserve, is exercising a baleful influence in the province. This is the most serious problem confronting General Chen, since he has been unable to rehabilitate the paper currency and his troops are proportionately dissatisfied.

brief moratorium on its merits.
The French requested postponement of the payment in order that they might finish preparation of their new moratorium plan.
Steps were taken to notify the German Government of the delay.
The Commission decided also to inform the German War Burdens Commission that a reply would be made within a few days to the letters of the German Commission dated November 14 and November 17, in which on behalf of the German Government it demanded a moratorjum for 1923.

Government it demanded a moratorium for 1923.

Information Lacking.

Sir John Bradbury, the British representative, said there had been no official indication to the Commission of what had been done by the French, Belgians and Italians in the Ruhr district or what they intended to do.
Without such information he thought the Commission would be seriously handicapped in the discussion of such matters as a moratorium. The question now had arisen, he declared, as to who was responsible for the coal deliveries—the Reparations Commission or the Franco-Belgian control agencies.

The Commission decided, with Sir John abstaining from voting, that its officials at Essen should co-operate with the occupying authorities:

ALLIES ON COMMON GROUND

It is common ground amongst all the Allies that Germany cannot, under present conditions, pay her installments. It is common ground that she must be pressed to put her finances in order and by balancing her budget restore the efficiency of her currency so as to meet her obligations. But Poincare insisted that as a condition of granting the moratorium, pledges inside Ger-man territory should be seized by the Allies.

These pledges consisted of customs already established, and of new customs to be set up on

ALDERMEN QUASH SCHEME TO CUT

"Cut Your Own If You Want To, But Leave Us Alone," They Tell Mayor

When Mayor Reginald Hayward uggested to aldermen of the Vic-eria City Council at their meeting ish their salaries of $33 a month, while he cut his own salary from $3,000 to $1,500 a year he quickly found that the scheme had a slender will be no reductions in the salaries of Council members if Council mem-bers have anything to say about it.

The aldermen pounced on the salner of a pack of hungry wolves, and tore it to pieces. If the Mayor wantto reduce his own salary or abolish it altogether that was his business, and had nothing to do with the monthly gldermanic pittaince, leading aldermen declared. Some members offered to vote for a resolution abolishing aldermanic salaries if the Mayor would agree to abolish his salary simultaneously. This idea, however, did not get far.

Aldermen Balk.

Members of the Council have made it known that the Mayor's proposal was very unsatisfactory to them. They object to the Mayor linking up their salaries with the proposed reduction of his own remuneration. By making the reduction of his salary dependent upon reductions in aldermanic salaries the Mayor invited defeat of the whole scheme, aidermen asserted.

The result of yesterday's lengthy discussion is that City Council economy will not affect the salaries of the Mayor linking up their salaries are made and the council have made feat of the whole scheme, aidermen asserted.

troops appear, to which the military authorities invariably reply that they are in no position to deal with the protests and can only make note of them.

Conversations with industrialists and laborers show there is a strong current of bitterness against the occupation under the surface, but the belief is generally held that as long as the workers can continue their labors, draw their wages and live normally, there will be no serious resistance.

prefaced by F. C. Wade. Agent-General for British Columbia. Mr. Wade says:

"The attitude of British Columbia toward the Japaneae is not a hostile one. On the contrary, every one appreciates their ceaseless industry, courage, enterprise and efficiency. but these very qualities, plus a low standard of living, render the menace not only serious, but deadly. So far the difficulty has been to arouse all Canada to the periol threatening only one of its provinces at the moment, and that the fathest one West, on the other side of the mountain barrier. The country is so vast that Canada finds it difficult to envisage the seriousness of a problem so remote from the seat of government, and as yet local in its effects.

"A fear of imperilling the foreign relations of Great Britain stands in the way to some extent, as well as the ever-present pleadings of the ignorant sentimentalist. The issue nevertheless, stands, out in all its nakedness and can not longer be observed."

WATER PROBLEM

Most careful investigation is being made as to plans for lay-ing out the British Columbia University lands at Point Grey, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, announced to-day.

The work is being done unde the immediate supervision of E. A. Cleveland, Water Comptroller, who is giving careful consideration to the water and sewerage problems of the university area, Mr. Pattullo said.

Patulio said.

The Minister also explained that Mr. Cleveland made an exhaustive examination of the water problems of Greater Vancouver last year and prepared a memorandum involving important recommendations.

"We have had carefully in mind the problem of water supply for Greater Vancouver for a considerable time and the municipalities affected will, I think, do well to give careful study to the report of Mr. Cleveland," Mr. Patulio said.

"There seems to be no doubt that 'In my opinion a single body should be able to handle both the water and sewerage problems for this important area.

"The water supply of the university lands is very much bound up in this question, and it is our intention to give the whole problem most serious consideration."

LOUISIANA KU KLUX INQUIRY PRESSED

Gibraltar, Jan. 12.—A report that David Lloyd George had attended a bullfight as a feature of his sojourn at Algeciras has caused the former British Premier much annoyance, a member of his party said to-day. What was heralded as a bullfight was in reality, it was explained, only a garden party held at an Andalusian estate where bulls are raised for the ring. There was, however, no fight.

Annual Statement Best Ever Issued, Says City's Auditor

Vernon, B. C., Jan. 13.—"The best statement issued by the city," was the way in which Major Crehan, the civic auditor, characterized the 1922 financial report of the city, just issued. Major Crehan has been auditing the corporation books for thirteen years.

Seven years ago the sinking fund was short $160,000, but to-day that account is in first class shape, added Major Crehan.

WHY BACKS ACHE

The Kidneys Seldom to Blam The Trouble Due to Blood Impurities.

Impurities.

There is more nonsense talked about backache than any other trouble. Some people have been frightened into the belief that every backache means deadly kidney trouble. As a matter of medical fact not one backache in twenty has anything to do with the kidneys. Most beackaches come from sheer weakness and kidney drugs can't help that. You need something to improve your blood and build you up, and that is exactly what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do. Some backaches are really muscular rheumatism; some are the symptoms of such aliments as influenza, indigestion/sonstipation and liver troubles. In women most backaches come from any weakness or irregularity of the blood supply. To get rid of the trouble take a tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to enrich the blood and bring strength to aching backs and weak nerves. Mr. W. Prince, Lovering, Ont, tells what these pills did for him. He says: "Periodically I suffered for about five years with backache. If I caught cold it seemed to settle in my back, which these pills did for him. He says, "Periodically I suffered for about five years with backache. If I caught cold it seemed to setfle in my back, which pained me so badly that I could thardly turn over in bed. These attacks would last for a week or ten days. I tried many remedies, but they did not drive away the trouble, About two years ago, while suffering from one of these attacks a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I followed his advice with the best of results, as I have had no attack of the trouble since, and I feel sure that I am permanently relieved." You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postvaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Brandon, Jan. 13. — (Canadian Press)—Manitoba is prepared to cooperate with Alberta and Saskatchewan, and the Dominion Government in the organization for 1923 of a compulsory wheat board, if the recommendation of its Premier is accepted by his legislative group. In the meantime, steps would have to be taken toward the organization of a permanent co-operative selling agency. This was Premier John Bracken's heat board policy as announced asterday afternoon to the United Farmers of Manitoba.

Mr. Bracken said his Government realized the proposed wheat board had some advantages and some objectionable features. They realized fully that Mani. oba had less to gain and more to lose through such a board than either of the other provinces, having an earlier harvest and being closer to the market.

Go-operative Plan.

"We are convinced," said the Premier. "of two things—that a wheat board is not the best permanent solution of our marketing problem and that a co-operative plan to be developed, operated and controlled by the farmers' organizations, is the only permanent and satisfactory solution.

"In view of your almost unanimous vote in favor of a wheat board, in view also of the serious economic condition now obtaining in Western Canada and in view of the fact that the Dominion Government and the Governments of Alberta and Saskatchewan aiready have passed legislation providing for a wheat board, and that refusal to co-operate would embarrass the board and reduce its prospects of success, I am prepared to recommend to our group that legislation similar to that "legislation similar to that "legis was the necessary organization already passed.

"That the Governments of all three prairie provinces and the farmers' organizations of all of them state their intention to lay plans immediately in an endeavor to develop a purely co-operative, non-profit, non-compulsory organization to replace a temporary board.

"I am not prepared at the present time to take the responsibility for sacrificing Manitoba's present advantages for any compulsory scheme for more than one year."

Long Term Payment.

Funding of the indebtedness of Western farmers for payment over long terms, was suggested in the adoption of a resolution which asks the association's executive to confer with other similar organizations endorsing the federal policy, urged the Dominion Government "to devote its best energies to the betterment of agricultural conditions as a first view to the successful carrying out of this policy."

Completion of the Hudson Bay Railway was urged by unanimous resolution.

London, Jan. 13.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A committee of the London County Council deputed to inquire whether scholarships could not be given so as to turn some of the 800-000 London school children "back to the land" has reported against the proposal.

The report against the form of the Hudson Bay Railway was urged by unanimous resolution.

"Batt the force the farmers for all three provides and in view of the prevailing conditions in agriculture the Council more than the form of the proposal.

"Be it resolved," it was stated, "that the greatest pressure be brought to bear on the present Government to complete the project.

"We would urge the Provincial Governments of the three western provinces to co-operate and jointly press the Dominion Government to complete the road."

Continued approval of the Manitoba Temperance Act as promoting sobriety, thrift and industry, was unanimous.

The convention urged greater emphasis on all elementary schools to teaching of "the harmful effects of alcohol and tobacco."

The Government has been collecting information relating to the transportation of grain which will probably be used as a basis for legislation during the coming session of Parliament, it was learned here on excetient authority.

It was stated that Government officials were giving considerable attention to the grain trade generally. Whether the Government contemplated granting the demand of the United Farmers of Manitoba for a royal commission to investigate the $5 to $15, while in the West cattle and sheep associations offer additional rewards. This has been an incentive in wiping out, to a great degree, the wolves in the Eastern United States.

"The Federal Government has been assisting in recent years, through the activity of the Department of Agriculture in furnishing professional wolf killers to communities menaced by the beasts. But faced by the hordes now ravaging certain districts in Canada, the menace of an invasion is imminent."

is imminent."

Prey on Animals
Game animals are being rapidly exterminated by the wolves, his report showed. In Alaska, entire hordes of cariboo have been annihilated, and Wright Enrich, game warden, has appealed to the Department of Agriculture to send trained killers to check the activities of the animals. Director Hornaday declared there had been many instances where hunters and trappers were attacked and in occasional instances killed by roving wolf packs.

In Alaska

Director Hornaday said that of all species of timber wolf, the largest and most feroclous was to be found in Alaska and in certain sections of Canada. Scarcity of game, he said, due to their ravages, would drive them south and eventually across the border of the United States.

"Unless Government agencies combine efforts with cattle and sheep associations and game wardens in various states to check the incoming hordes of wolves, serious trouble will occur," he concluded. "Lives are being endangered as well, as, having heen undisturbed for several years, the packs have become more numerous and more ferocious." It is time for action."

NO INDUSTRIES WITHOUT SACRIFICE

If the people of Victoria really want indus If the people of victoria really want indus-tries they can help to create them by buying the local product upon every possible occasion. Estab-lishment of industries is not a matter for the Gov-ernment or exclusively the province of the manu-facturer or the investor. Too many people in this and other communities are content to sit back in the belief that they form no part in the scheme of progress which they are waiting to see unfolded. They are the most important parts; but they cannot expect industries to come through wishing and talking. Anybody can get up and make a speech and recite long rows of figures garnished with all the inspiration that a non-existent but oped-for payroll will furnish. Some of this talk very naturally sticks and helps to keep the issue before the people. None the less we may as well admit that the greater part of the arguments which are used in an industry-getting campaign to not sufficiently emphasize the personal element the personal responsibility.

community can get industries without makhe some sacrifice itself. The industrialist who rows up his smokestacks in or near Victoria will do so when he has been shown that it is to his advantage to do so. The last consideration he will have will be sentiment. In other words the on why industries should come to Victoria has ot to be proven to the very men whose money vill be involved. That reason will not require ery much advertising when local producing staustics indicate that the demand for greater pro-duction actually exists because the people themelves have taken their part. This desirable condition will not be created without some sacrifice.

The extra cents will very probably have to be paid in the process of making the local article as fashionable as the imported product. But that extra cost is merely an investment which will pay Those are the cents that ndirectly provide the capital for which everybody wishing and everybody is talking about-but This is the case for a recognition on the part of the people of this community of the wealth which lies at their very doors. At resent it is latent wealth. Is there anybody unwilling to pay the small cost of putting that wealth to work? This is exactly what is involved in the development of one of the most resourceful parts of the American continent—and it is the nickest way to an industrial Victoria.

CONGRATULATIONS TO MR. HEWLETT.

Mr. Hewlett's personal popularity and orough grasp of the business of the municipality undoubtedly furnished all the recommenda-tion required by the electors of Oak Bay to forego the entertainment of an election to choose reeve for the current year. The new chief nagistrate is entitled to the many congratula-ions which he has already received and we find pecial pleasure in joining in the felicitations. The duties which confront him very naturally demand the exercise of sound judgment and we persuaded that his equipment is lacking in neither this nor any of the other qualifications which make public service successful. And the fact that Mr. Hewlett will assume his important role under such favorable circumstances is in itself tribute to the manner in which ex-Reeve Drake as presided over the affairs of the municipality during three successive terms.

ARRANGING PAYMENT.

Britain's debt to the United States is abou four billion dollars and Mr. Stanley Baldwin's mission to this side of the Atlantic is concerned not likely to be paying their bills and therefore John Bull finds that it is not convenient for him to arrange the liquidation of his obligation to Uncle San in the time specified. But he is also aware that the United States treasury will not be inconvenienced by such deferred payments as many here of the protest in every legitimate way against in John Bull finds that it is not convenient for him belighted to the contended of the obligation of the contended the

It is unfortunate for the taxpayers in both France and Italy, however, that their respective governments have not seen fit to ratify the agreement if only for the reason that if they had done so a forceful argument would have existed in the United States in support of the House Committee's recommendation to President Harding to call another conference to deal with cruisers, submarines and aircraft. Under the circumstances, therefore, the President could hardly be expected to wax enthusiastic over the question, since an invitation to either France or Italy to send delegates to Washington on such a mission would have been politely refused. Meanwhile the present situation recalls many previous references to the fact that the conference of twelve months ago merely touched the fringe of an enormous issue. In fact it encourages The New York World to regret that no country has received the financial relief from the gathering that was expected, and to say:

that was expected, and to say:

The main reason is that the issue is so much greater than the conference. The Harding Administration was not so much concerned with the limitation of armament as it was in trying to prove that it had found a substitute for the League of Nations and for Mr. Wilson's foreign policy, without involvements or commitments, as Mr. Harding calls them. It felt the necessity of doing something that would satisfy an insistent public demand and which would at the same time be consistent with the Old Guard record in the Senate which the Administration inherited. The thing was not so simple as it seemed to the best minds, and time has unravelled none of the tangle. The ostensible object of the Washington Conference, which was to make an end of competitive armament, has not yet been reached, and Mr. Harding will have to travel considerably further on the road before he reaches the goal that Mr. Hughes so eloquently described.

Conditions in Europe do not help Mr. Hard

Conditions in Europe do not help Mr. Hardwhat takes place on the other side of the Atantie; but there will be few who will not harbor some misgivings about the possibilities of a further French occupation of Germany. The average individual across the border will probably believe that a League of Nations is impossible as long as there is an European army of nearly five millions ready to pull a trigger at a moment's notice. But sooner or later he will find it advisable to take his part in the discharge of an obligation which this very condition has imposed upon Anglo-Saxondom. For it will be the English-speaking people who will eventually have to bring peace and sanity to the world.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S BUILDING.

British Columbia has nothing to be ashamed of in her building activities for the year which has just closed. Although Ontario very naturleads the rest, this Province accounted for more than Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba put together. The figures for the West are as follows: British Columbia, $27,466,300; Manitoba, $9,365,800; Alberta, $8,902,500; Saskatchewan, $5,034,000. This is an excellent showing for our own Province and it will let the rest of the country know that we are very much alive on this side of the Rockies. Wise men of the

THE POLL TAX.

To the Editor:—It was with surprise I read the report of the Council meeting Monday night re the $5 poil tax. Alderman Leeming is quoted as saying this tax, of course, only applies to non-property owners, who applies the non-property owners, who applies the non-property owners, who are renting houses at $13 to $42 in 1922 were about $2.15 a month. I know of people in the same locality, who are renting houses at $13 to $42 in 232 were about $2.15 a month. I know of people in the same locality, who are renting houses at $13 to $42 in 232 were about $2.15 a month. I know of people in the same locality with or property owners, if the council is to tax to one the city would draw on their girls at the movies and at Terry's, etc." Surely Alderman Andros is quoted as saying, "This tax will be no hardship on them for they think nothing of spending five dollars on their girls at the movies and at Terry's, etc." Surely Alderman Andros is quoted as saying, "This tax will be no hardship on them for they think nothing of spending five dollars on their girls at the movies and at Terry's, etc." Surely Alderman Andros is quoted as saying, "This tax will be no hardship on them for they think nothing of spending five dollars on their girls at the movies and at Terry's, etc." Surely Alderman Andros set out-of your own locality and get in a workingman's district, and you will find that instead of spending five dollars on movies and Terry's, it keeps him guessing to buy his old girl a five-dollar pair of boots to go shopping in. By this tax, we are toid, the city will collect between $16,000 and $15,000, and $15,000, and $16,000 and $15,000 and $100,000 and $100, ury. That means this year's Council is to tax the worker between $20,000 and $30,000. I think, had the Council given a little more time to think over the five-dollar tax they would have given a little more consideration to the over-burdened rentpayer. There is no doubt many a man would build a home if material were a little deaper, and the Council gave them a little more encouragement by lowering his improvement tax, instead of making it higher. As soon as a man spends a few dollars in improvements up goes his taxes, while he who holds lands for speculation in and makes no improvements gets lower taxes.

THE WEST COAST TRAGEDY

To the Editor,—The leading article in this morning's Colonist is entirely misleading if it means to gloss over the sins of omission and heartless neglect of the late Conservative Government at Ottawa. After the Valencia wreck, the Liberal government then in power, inspired by the late Hon. William Templeman and Mr. Sloan, then M.P. for Comox-Atlin, started the West Coast road and spent the big sum of $255,000 on the project. When the Conservative Government came into power in 1911, work on the West Coast road was immediately stopped and has never since been resumed.

Conservative Government contributed to the gallant major taking an independent stand in the political arena.

PAQUIN SAYS WOMEN DRESS FOR BEAUTY

Famous French Couturiere Condemns Feminist Movement

Paris, Dec. 25.—Woman's dress will never approach the uniform type of man's dress, declared Madame. Jeanne Paquin, founder and chief owner of one of the didest of the Paris houses, who has fust rounded out her thirty-third year as fashion leader and maker of dresses for those who would appear beautiful.

"The styles of to-day range back to those worn by the Egyptians, such as I once saw on the mummles of the now sunken Island of Philae," said Madame Paquin.

milliners, and when I was married at nineteen, my husband and I decided to take up that line. He knew little about it, but he had a good business head. Without that I should never have succeeded. Women are too careful, They need somebody to push them to execution. Boldness is larkely responsible for success.

The great tragedy of a woman's life, she continued, often is that she is not good looking. I have known of many of these tragedies. Behind the smilling exterior of the rich or the highly placed woman, the fear of growing old, of not looking well, has hundreds of times brought them to me in tears. No, so long as a woman is a woman, she will wish to be beautiful, and just so long will there be changes in styles."

Local Resident Advises Victorians to Escape Impending Smash There

"A man with $125 a month in Victoria is as well off as one with $250 a month in Pasadena." This is the message brought by a former Victorian who is tired of California, and sounds a warning to British Columbians to keep away from California, unless they are members of the international unions associated with the building trades.

J. L. Madden, who is at the Dominion Hotel pending re-locating here, was glad to leave fashionable Pasadena for this city, after six months in the South,

After The Times man had talked with Mr. Madden yesterday about the Land of Promise, he left with the impression that those discontented citizens who were determined to jeopardize their savings in a personal attempt to learn the truth would be wiser to stay at home, and go to work here. Mr. Madden says the residents of Southern California are "out to make" every dollar out of the new comer, by selling him what he does not want at the best price. Associate with the real estate man, and the bogus industrial promoter are persons of little business morality who are making money while times are good in boogsting. Behind the army of those on the border line of ethics, are the cruminal class who appear to flourish in California like the bay tree. Automobile thieving in Los Angeles stands high in statistics of robbery, and offences against the person make the life of the peaceful citizen anything but a round of quiet pleasure.

Landlords, Mr. Madden says, welcome the rent payer at $65 for a five or six room house, with an additional $10 to $15 a month for turn and the commissioner P. W. Dempster and H. H. the peaceful citizen anything but a round of quiet pleasure.

Landlords, Mr. Madden says, welcome the rent payer at $65 for a five or six room house, with an additional $10 to $15 a month for furniture therein. Food is dearer, at least 50 per cent higher than in Victoria, though clothing is somewnat cheaper. Incidental expenses absorb a larger margin than in this city, and taking all in all for the average family of five persons, living, he asserts in any city in Los Angeres county is twice as expensive as in this city.

He said that during the recent festive season there was just as much

He said that during the recent festive season there was just as much demand for the work of relief societies in Los Angeles as in any other city of its size in the English-speaking world, and poverty, though it may be hidden behind curtained windows, can just as readily be found in Southern California as in this part of the world.

Mr. Madden's advice is to stayaway, and be missing when the boom bursts, as he declares the sanest and best minds in that state know that the present artificial situation cannot be sustained much longer, with the inevitable suffering and ruin which will follow in its wake.

Atkinson Motor Company Have New Commodious

An official opening will be given by the Atkinson Motor Company when they move into their new modernly equipped and commodious building on Yates Street just above Blanchard Avenue. Regardless of expense the Atkinson Company have established an automobile garage in this city which has all modern facilities required in the repairing or storing of a car. While the show-rooms of the building are beautifully designed, they will display some six cars at one time.

The Atkinson Company, agents for the Durant six and four cylinder and Star four cylinder cars, will give an exhibition to the public Monday, which will officially open the new garage. This exhibition will be made on the Star car. One of the cars have been stripped so that all those who are interested in this new car will be able to avail themselves of an opportunity to see the car revealed in all its simplicity.

The Building.

The Building.

The new garage is of the most comprehensive character having accommodation for some thirty cars in the main portion of the building and six cars in the show-room. The building is also equipped with fine offices, and the general appearance given to a person on entering is one of efficiency. The company is retaining its old site on the corner of Collison and Vancouver Streets and will also give automobile service at this station, keeping a staff of efficient men to do the repair work on the cars.

The company itself is well organized having three managers at its head, each one governing the branch of business he is best suited for. L. W. Cockburn is the managing director, D. W. Atkinson the service manager, and Charles Lovell the sales manager.

Programme.

The programme for the Durant Motor Company for the year of 1923 is also given. They are planning to put out in the United States and Canada 322,500 Durant care for which they hold contracts and 521,000 Starcare. It was only two years ago that the Durant Motor Company was established, and now there are some 70,000 shareholders in it comprising both American and Canadian citizens.

CURIOUS COINCIDENCE HERE

When Mr. and Mrs. S. Mullett, of Orillia, Ont., after crossing the continent, walked out of the Dominion Hotel this week an hour ahead of the arrival of their nephew, O. L. Mullett, of Vancouver, with his wife, it was a pure coincidence, as neither had any expectation of being in Victoria at the same time. Mr. Mullett had, scarcely recovered from his regret at missing a chance of meeting with his eastern relatives when who should turn up to register than H. Mullett, of Saskatoon his brother. The last named had arrived on the Coast quite unexpectedly. This accidental registration at the same hotel came as a surprise to all.

Voting Also on Horse Racing and Golf Links Assessment

Oak Bay electors to-day are electing a Municipal Council for 1923 and voting upon the horse racing issue and the assessment of the ilinks of the Victoria Golf Club.

There are seven candidates in the field for the six Municipal Council seats. They are: A. D. Crease, T. J. Gooddake, E. C. Hayward, A. E. Haynes, W. J. Kiddeil, H. W. R. Moore and David Reid. Councillor H. J. Davis, who had planned to seek re-election, has withdrawn from the contest.

The Reeve, School Trustees and Police Commissioners were elected by acclamation.

Commissioners were elected by acclama-tion.

The vote of Oak Bay electors to-day will decide whether horse racing shall be held at the Willows track this year. City electors already have voted in favor ties.

In the golf assessment referendum the Cak Bay voters will decide whether the assessment of the Cak Bay golf link should remain at the present figure c $2,000 an acre or be increased $500 a acre as required under the existing agreement between the municipality an agreemen the club.

Miss C. M. Cridiand, a well-known resident here, states, "I have been troubled with my kidneys for some time. Your Dodd's Kidney Pills did me more good than any other medicine I have ever taken. I think they are a wonderful medicine."

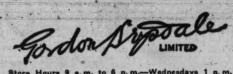

Dodd's Kidney Pills are purely a kidney remedy. They tone up and strengthen weak kidneys and put them in condition to do their full work of straining the impurities out of the blood. Strong healthy kidneys are absolutely necessary if the blood is to be pure and the body healthy. Pure blood coursing through the body carries to the different organs, the nourishment they need, keeps them—sound and enables them to throw off disease of different kinds.

SAANICH BONDS

Reeve G. F. Watson Relieves Packed Audiences at Cloverdale and Tillicum

"Saanch sinking funds are absolutely intact. Every bond and security which should be in the vaunt at Royal Oak was found by the auditors when they made a search at my instruction," declared Reeve Watson last night at Cloverdale and Tillicum Schools, to the evident relief of densely packed audiences which totalled over two hundred and fifty sympathetic man and women.

Reeve Watson abandoned his usual pre-election address, dealing with the embezzlement charge against the Municipal Clerk in the following words at each meeting:

"On Thursday morning I visited the offices of the auditors, Ismay, Boiston & Co., in response to a telephone appointment.
"I sat down in a chair, and Mr.

"'What is it?' I asked.
"There is a shortage of $5,000 in the funds,' he replied.
"Naturally I was taken aback, and for some minutes I could not speak. We had at the head of the municipality's administration a man wno had served under four reeves, not one of whom had ever had reason to doubt his integrity. While I was sitting there, Clerk Cowper himself came in.

came in.
"Mr. Ismay said to him, 'I have just been telling the Reeve that there is a shortage of $5.000."
"Unfortunately, said Mr. Cowper, that is not all. There is an additional $8.000 short.

"I did the only thing I could go. I wrote out an order suspending Mr. Cowper, and instructed the auditors to proceed to the Municipal Hall and inspect the securities in the vault there. Every one is intact, and up to the present the only shortase known is the one. I have spoken of."

"During the last nine years," declared the Reeve. "I have appeared on various platforms in this municipality, and discussed municipal affairs. I have always had an attentive hearing. To-night I am not going to deal with municipal affairs, nor am I going to make a sympathetic speech. I am not going to condone the actions which I am going to discuss. The reason why I am not going to discuss. The reason why I am not going to discuss. The reason why I am not going to discuss municipal affairs is that a certain incident within the last forty-eight hours precludes it.

Report Not Ready.

"On Monday, homination day, when it is usual for the annual report to be received by the Council at a special meeting, the report was not ready and a meeting was not head. We were told that it would be ready on Tuesday, but it was not. On Wednesday, the report not being ready, I began to have some suspicions. On the evening of that day I had a telephone message from the auditors, asking me to meet them at their office."

Reeve then told of the oc-

The Times yesterday. Following this he continued:

"I am not here to condone any offence, but you can understand that to the head of a municipality which has had an official in whom the greatest confidence has been placed, this occurrence came as a great shock. I'm not an auditor. The other reeves that held office during the time that Clerk Cowper was in the employ of Saanich were not, either.

When I learned of what had oc-curred I decided that I would ten the people the whole story. Had I desired I could have hushed the whole thing up until after the elec-tions, but it would eventually lear out that I had done so, and so I de-cided to make the truth known. Unfortunate Position.

to them to judge what they would do with me to-morrow. Ladies and gentlemen, I leave the matter in your hands."

Reeve Watson was applauded at both meetings on his appearance and at the conclusion of his addressos. At Cloverdale an interrupter interjected "Rubbish" when the Reeve was dealing with the eventual prodid not like what he was being id.

At Cloverdale the Reeve added a comment on the audit to his remarks in chief. He said: "The auditor, yearly rendered to the then Reeve and Council a statement which was false and misleading. The audit was a continuous examination of the books throughout the year. This is a dreadful statement to have to make to you," Mr. Watson added the reference being to the association of the late J. S. Floyd with the municipality as auditor.

Clo-oose Isolated and in Need of Provisions, Vancouver Report Says

Rough Weather Has Prevented Vessels Making Call There

Vancouver, Jan. 13.—The community of Clo-cose has been isolated from the outside world. Clo-cose is a fishing, farming and lumbering settlement on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, below Cape Beale, and not far from Pachena Point, where the steamer Alaskan was wrecked a few days ago. It is on the open Pacific.

few days ago. It is on the open Pacific.

The storms of the past month have caused steamers to pass by and the white settlers and Indians are now on short rations, according to word just received from there.

The stock in the store was all sold out before Christmas. Neither mail or supplies have been received since December 11.

The settlers have requested the C.P. R. coast service to instruct the steamer Princess Maquinna to transfer Clo-oose supplies to the Banfield lifeboat, to be taken by the latter to the settlement. In good weather the Princess Maquinna makes the call, but it is not expected she will be able to this weather. However, it is believed she will be able to make the transfer to the lifeboat on Barkley Sound and the latter can get around the cape. There are, no practicable land trails out of the Cloose settlement. The Maquinna sailed Thursday from Victoria.

STORAGE ON LAKES

Regina, Jan. 13.—Additions are to be made the Saskatchewan Coperative Elevator Company's terminal plant at the head of the lakes at Port Arthur, increasing the capacity by another 2,500,000 bushels, it was announced to-day from the company's headquarters.

The proposed extensions, when completed, will give the company a total grain handling capacity at the head of the lakes of 7,650,000 bushels. Contracts are to be let as early in the Spring as possible with the object of having the additional facilities ready for manuling the 1925 grain crop.

The existing capacity of the company's public terminal elevator at Port Arthur is 4,500,000 bushels. It is proposed to make an addition of new storage tanks to this unit to raise the capacity to 6,500,000 bushels. THROUGH MIDWAY Successful Year.

The guild reported a very successful year. There is a membership of over 200 masters and mates in good standing. It was reported that since the guild was organized in 1917, a total of thirty-six members had died. Eleven of these perished at sea. The first was Captain Livingstone, whose death came as a result of exposure to save a young lad who had fallen in the water.

It is announced that Captain George Robertson, the first guild vice-president on the British Columbia lakes, was honored at the last annual meeting by being made a life member. This is the first time this honor has been extended to any member.

PACIFIC MAIL

Ships Outward From San Francisco Booked Up to September

San Francisco, Jan. 13.—Thomas James, manager of the operations for the Pacific Mail, announced today that the five liners of the company running out of this port to the Orient are booked full until next September on the outward sailings. The idea of the number of passengers may be gauged from the fact that two liners of the company are dispatched from here each month, and the vessels have accommodations for approximately 160 cabin passengers alone.

Following a four-day stay in this port, the British steamship Tahiti sailed yesterday for Sydney, Australia, and way ports. The cabin accommodations were filled, there being 115 passengers.

The local district of the Shipping Board has not yet made any allocation of the steamers West Nigor. Bakersfield, West Sequana and West Cactus, according to Frank W. Relyes, district manager of the Board. The vessels were recently pulled off the inactive list and will be held by the Board for immediate use on any trade routes upon which they may be needed. The four vessels are now on the drydock at the Moore yards, in Oakland.

ENTERTAINMENT AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The first of the entertainments projected for teurists visiting Victoria will be held in the new quarters of the Chamber of Commerce on Monday evening. The programme will be in charge of the Rotary Club, which is sparing no effort to make the evening pleasant. No charge will be made for admission, and all visitors are cordially welcome. A nominal charge will, however, be made to those who wish to partake of refreshments at the close of the programme.

A primary object of these entertainments is to enable visitors to make new acquaintances in Victoria, or to renew acquaintance with people they have already met on the prairie or elsewhere. For this purpose there will be opened a register on which they will be asked to enter their names and address.

No Provision in Law For Se-curing $30 Annually From Dull Students

amined laws governing High School fees.
While the School Board has power to charge fees for students who repeat High School years there is no provision in the law for collecting these charges, Trustees explained. There is no regulation under which the School Board could bar from the schools students who fail to pay the new $30 fee, Trustees stated.

In any case it would be difficult for the school authorities to bar a student from the High School if, for financial reasons, he or she could not afford to pay the new "repeaters" fees, it was pointed out.

SAANICH CASE

Trial of Hector S. Cowper Set For Wednesday Next

In a brief hearing in the Saanich Police Court this morning. Hector Spencer Cowper, suspended Municipal Clerk of Saanich, was charged with the theft of $6,000 from the monies of the corporation on or about December 21, 1921. The accused reserved his plea, and was remanded for hearing on Wednesday next at 2.30 p.m. J. B. Clearinue, M.P.P., appeared for the defence, and E. L. Tait for the municipality. Mr. Tait made formal application for the remand, which he said was in accord with the wishes of the defence counsel and himself. Magistrate Jay granted the application. No bail was requested, though it is understood that the prosecution would have had no objection if the application had been made. The proceedings lasted two minutes.

Cougars Prove Better Hockey Players Than Tigers, and Win

Victoria Hands Calgary Its Second Defeat of Coast Tour, Duplicating Score Made By Seattle; Tigers Fought Valiantly Although They Expected Defeat When Bill Binney, Their Goalie, Was Taken Sick and Speck, Who Had Never Played Before, Went Into the Cage.

Cougars may not be better fighters than Tigers but they cer ainly stack up better as hockey players. That's the reason why Calgary was handed the second reverse of its Coast tour last night and why Victoria got back to even terms with the other clubs in the P. C. H. A. The Tigers get all the credit in the world for being game fighters, but their rugged, aggressive type of play paled into insignificance when the Cougars turned on their speed and pulled their dazzling rushes. Herb Gardiner's boys were desperately anxious to start in winning but they were turned back by exactly the same score as Seattle greeted them with on Wednesday even-

Calgary started out under the greatest handicap any club-could be asked to face. They had to use a goalkeeper who had never before donned the pads. It all happened because Bill Binney, the regular cage minder, was sick in bed with both his clipped between the eyes by a stray stick. The wound was not properly cleansed and in Seattle on Wednesday Bill complained of pains. During the game Big Jim Riley further aggravated the injury by placing his stick against it while fighting for a goal in front of the Calgary net. When the Tigers arrived here yesterday Dr. Keys was called in and at once applied hot fomentations in an effort to relieve the swelling. Before the game the doctor, visited Binney and found the goalie in such a bad condition that he refused to let him go on the ice.

A Volunteer

This put Manager Gardiner in a fine jack-pot. He carried no spare goal-tender with him and so cast his eyes about his pack of true and trusty men with the hope that someone would volunteer. Most of the players, however, hung their heads, as they had no desire to stand up sind itake what the Cougar sharp-shooters would level at them. Finally Bill speck, one of the substitutes, stiffened his back and agreed to sacrifice a ris good looks. He had never before wrapped himself in a bundle of pads, and when Herb Gardiner sent a wire to Calgary last once. Reid started the season with landy had him laden with his full quipment he patted Speck on the back, wished h m luck and scretty said a prayer.

I magine any club g.ing into a big learned herite vitil an again on a stray of the playing into a big learned here in Seattle the shapes up well on the final his knees and taking a chance of a wicked slash across the face.

The Calgary Tigers are not despondent over their trip. The fighting spirit on the ice gives way to a fine, genial comradeship in the dressing room, the boys believe that somer or later old Lady Luck will shad to go the whole route without Binney. The calgary club got off to a bad, start the season through Dutton's illness. When they had their team at full specific provides and the provideship in the dressing room data to have the said a prayer.

Imagine any club going into a big league battle with an arknown and untried man taking the major role. It's enough to put a bey black cloud of doubt and unxiety cli around the stoutest of heatts. but these prairic clubs don't seem to worry very much as long as they have legs to skate and plenty of air to breathe. The Tigers went into the game, threw a fairly good defence around Speck and made the Cougars play hard to get their tailies.

Did His Work Well

The spectators did not know but that Bill Binney was doing duty in the cage. It was impossible to spread the news around that a sub was backstopping for the visitors, but even at that Binney's reputation suffered little, for the only goals that were scored by the Cougars came from close-in shots, the kind that Victoria even gets by Hughie Lehman and Happy Holmes. Speck tagged every shot that came from any distance and he cleared in a very creditable

without any doubt Speck was the service and evidence of the game, and had the fane here of the game and the fane here. The fact that calgary was using a fact that the calgary was using a fare of the Cougar. As soon as the new went around the local dressing room were around the local dressing room the cougar. Fowler a hard shot to handle and when Halderson was given a rough ride by Dutton, Wilf Loughlin, relleved him. Calgary came on fast in the dying moments of the period, Fowler saving beauties from Oliver, Anderson and Gardiner. Frederick son pulled a thrilling rush just be fore the gong.

In the last period the Cougars did not take their hockey seriously after notching: their fourth goal, which came from Frederickson's stick on a pass from Clem Loughlin. When the Cougars wanted they went down and played with the puek but most of the time they let the Tigers hammer away at Fowler and it's a wonder the visitors did not get one by. Hec was getting them from all quarters and from one melee he stoped five shots.

Wired for Charley Reid

For the game in Vancouver on Monday night Calgary will have Charley Reid in the nets. Manager Gardiner sent a wire to Calgary last right to have Reid dispatched at once. Reid started the season with the Marcons and knows their tricks, as of the Vancouver may find the going rather hard.

"Red" Dutton was under the eye of the local fans. He shapes up well on the defence, and had the Cougars developed Halderson he would have made a welcome addition to the local team. Dutton stands up to everything and on the attack is quite dangerous, using the left side of the local fans. He shapes up well on the defence, and sating wide of the defence, closing in quickly on the net.

Freelrickson, Meeking and Halderson gathered, the bouquets for the Cougars on the offensive. "Fresidie' conce again forged to the front in the scoring race, netting the pick once and grabbing two sassists. Mecking was credited with two goals, while Halderson gathered in the other.

Toronto, Jan. 13 .- A special from Hamilton to The Mail and Empire says:

"If the plans of Hamilton soccer men materialize the Ontario Dominion Football Association at the annual meeting of the at the annual meeting of the provincial body to be held in Toronto two weeks from to-day. This is not street corner talk but a decision reached at the joint meeting of the local football association and the district league when this and other matters came up for discussion. It was asserted that the D. F. A. is too unwieldy and the benefits derived by the eastern provinces through affiliation are practically nil. "Among other things that peeved eastern men was the appointment of two Winnipeg men as president and secretary, respectively of the Dominion body. Winnipeg men held these positions the year before and it was thought the honors would come East in 1923."

FEWER RACE TRACKS WILL OPERATE THIS YEAR OWING TO TAX

Toronto, Jan. 13.-Because of Toronto, Jan. 13.—Because of the tax inaujurusted last year on race-track wagers, there are likely to be fewer tracks in operation in Ontario this year. It was reported yesterday from the parliament buildings that George M. Hendrie, president of the Windsor Jockey Club, called on Hon. Peter Smith, provincial treasurer, and after showing a statement of losses for the oldest track on the border point, intimated that the club would not operate this year. Kenilworth, another Windsor track, may be idle also this year. Hamilton, which also lost money last year, has not asked for dates this year.

The Ontario Jockey Club will race this year at Woodbine as long as the club can make both ends meet.

Johnson was forcing the fight as the round ended.

Round 12—Continuing his ferocious attack. Johnson showered Brennan with rights and lefts to the head and kept the veteran on the defensive. Johnson had Brennan hanging on as he drove in stiff punches to the law and ribs. Brennan was apparently in distress as the round ended. Round 13—Johnson shook Brennan with a hard right to the body and drew a right swing to the head in reply. Johnson swung wildly several times before connecting with a right to the body.

Sarazen Describes How He Learned to Putt; How It Is Done

World's Champion Golfer In His Fifth Article of Series Ring critics were agreed that the form shown by the young lowan was the most impressive of any puglist who has appeared on the heavy-weight horizon in some time. Johnson, realizing that his championship aspirations were at stake, set a furious pace from the start. He directed a smashing attack to the head and body and had Brennan in distress in several rounds, notably the twelfth and fifteenth. His eagerness cost him several chances to put over what might have been a decisive blow.

Brennan weathered the storm of "From Caddie to Champion" Says That He Took Another Step Forward When He Mastered a Stance On the Green; Likes Duncan's Iron Work.

By GENE SARAZEN

ARTICLE V.

Brennan weathered the storm of his young opponent's attack largely because of his ring generalship and apparent good condition. He was totally unable, however, to carry on any kind of an offensive.

A galaxy of notables in present and past heavyweight history witnessed the bout, including three former champions, Jess Willard, Jack Johnson and James J. Corbett. Willard, who is seeking a return match with Dempsey, was given a tumultuous greeting.

Jack Renault, Canadian heavyweight knocked out Joe McCann. of Newark, N.J., in the fourth round of the twelve-round semi-final match. Renault weighed 192½ and McCann 205½.

Brennan's Rush Halted.

Round 1—Brennan rushed Johnson at the start, but the lowan countered with his left, landing several siff jabs to the jaw. Both mixed willingly, with Johnson landing the cleaner blows.

Round 2—Johnson took the aggressive and both landed hard body blows at close quarters. Johnson shot over a hard right to the ribs and Bernnan countered with a left hook to the chin. They were mixing furiously as the bell rang.

Round 3—Brennan pupished Johnnook to the chin. They were mixing furiously as the bell rang.

Round 3 Brennan punished Johnson about the body during a session at infighting, but was shaken with two hooks to the jaw. Both missed wild swings and Brennan connected with a right swing to the head. A right upper cut momentarily staggered Johnson.

Johnson Punches Hard.

Round 4—Johnson shot over two jolting rights to Brennan's body without drawing a reply. Brennan jabede with his left to the jaw, but was forced to clinch by a smashing right to the head. Johnson forced the Chicagoan about the ring with battering rights and lefts to the head.

Round 5—Brennan accidentally slipped to the floor as they were mixing, but quickly regained his footing. Brennan absorbed a hard right to the jaw, but drove in his left in retaliation. Brennan blocked Johnson's frequent lunges and forced. You could never tell by their retaliation. Brennan blocked Johnson's frequent lunges and forced.

Women may not be able to cope with men in the boxing ring, but they can put up a whale of a fight in a love match, as is vividly demonstrated in "Outcast," Elsie Ferguson's latest Paramount picture, which is on view at the Capitol Theater to-day. Miss Ferguson, as Miriam, goes into the ring sadly knocked down times without number. The man for whom she is fighting has no encouragement to offer her, but, nevertheless, she "gets her man."

The man is played by David Powers.

motion picture industry, and now the verdict of the playgoers is awaited to confirm the judgment of the profession.

The story was written by Carey himself and was adapted to the screen by Lucien Hubbard, scenario editor at Universal City. It was directed by Röbert Thornby, Naturally it is a splendid picture, but it has even greater claim to distinction. It will give playgoers a colorful view of the heroic old Eleventh United States Cavalry actually in action. It will reveal enchanting vistas of the awelinspiring Majove desert heretofore uncaptured by the camera, and it will afford another opportunity for her admirers to see Betty Ross Clark in a role to which she is particularly adapted. The fascinating young emotional actress appears opposite the dashing Western star as his leading woman, heading a supporting cast which, in addition, to the famous Hale, George Nichols, Gertrude Claire, Alan Hale, George Cooper, Breezy Eason, Jr. Chas. Lemoyne, C. E. Anderson and Harley Chambers.

CAPITOL

The substantial success that greeted the Russian planist Moisei, witsch at his first series of American concerts two seasons ago made it utile apparent that Victorians would have this distinguished musical visitor again, and the signs did not fail. After a Summer of unusual recitals in Australia, he came back to the United States, and one of his many concert appearances will be a performance in Victoria under the local management of Mrs. Ricardo. The Moiseiwitsch concert is announced to be given on January 15 at the Empress Hotel.

It is generally conceded that there has been no newcomer among planists in the last ten or fifteen years who so completely measures up to the finest musical ideals as does this mazing young masser. Technically he dazsles; musically he charms with the very ease and clarity of his interpretations. He adds a new touch to everything, seeing even the coldest and sternest of classics in a fresh light and from anexpected and always delightful angles. As he himself ease, and these from a natural human necessity are constantly varying. Just as no individual ever feeits exactly the same on different days, so ought his playing never to be exactly the same on different occasion. If he attempts to make it so, he is neither true to himself nor to the public. This fidelity to mood is unquestionably a striking feature in Moiselwitsch's playing. His individuality is always present; he never poses nor invents effects for the sake of causing an impression.

Undoubtedly you are one of the millions who have read "Ouidas" famous masterpiece, "Under Two Flags," and there is more than a passing chance that you also saw it enacted as a stage-play. If so, it is hardly necessary to tell you of its thrills, its free and powerful action. When it was decided to screen this masterpiece Universal had no difficulty in selecting the player to portray the role of Cigarette. There is just one star in year in the Westholme Hotel.

What gives promise of being one of the most entertaining shows seen in Victoria for a very long time is now in preparation at The Playhouse, where Mr. Hincks' company are busily engaged rehearsing "The Bing Boys in Baghdad," an up-to-the-minute revue portraying further adventures of the celebrated Brothers Bing front Bingville. Some months ago the Playhouse Company introduced the Bing Boys to Victoria audiences, and the enthusiastic reception they received convinced Mr. Hincks that a return visit at an early date would be appreciated. In the forthcoming production entirely new music (comprising thirty numbers in all) and dialogue ig used, whilst the costumes and scenery have of necessity been suffrey changed in order to comply with the Oriental settings.

Of the people in a common political and social idea:

It was only with the development of the great propagandist religions of the Roman world, of which Christianity was the chief and the survivor, that the possibility of such a systematic instruction of great masses of the people became apparent in the world. That very great political genius, the Emperor Constantine the Great, six centuries later, was the first to apprehend and to attempt to use this possibility for the preservation and the mental and moral knitting together of the world community over which he ruled.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare and really there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a 16-oz, bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 gunces. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, this mixture saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent, for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant—children like it.
You can feel this take hold instant-ly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It

I may deplore it. But I have no right to condemn it. It is a common way of adjusting differences between gentlemen."

Andre-Louis interrupted him. "It is no more a duel than if it had been fought with pistols of which only M. le Marquis's was loaded. He invited Philippe to discuss the matter further, with the deliberate intent of forcing a quarrel upon him and killing ing him. I am stelling what M. le Marquis himself admitted to me."

"And what the devil do you propose to do, if you please?"

"I shall go to Rennes, and lay the facts before the King's Lieutenant."

"He'll be too busy to see you."

There is trouble enough in Rennes already on the score of these crazy states General."

When the landlord and his people came, they found Andre-Louis, his arms about the body of his dead friend, murmuring passionately into the deaf ear that rested almost against his lips:

"Phillipe—Speak to me, Phillippe!"

Phillippe . . . Don't you hear me?
O God of Heaven! Philippe!"

At a glance they saw that here

He was gone, purple in the face, puzzing out that last cryptic utterance. It was on a horse hired from the Breton Arme that Andre-Louis sets out next morning; and an hour's brisk ride brought him to the city of Rennes.

"He rode into the upper and principal part of that important city of some thirty thousand souls and came at last to the Place Royale, where he found the growd to be most dense. From the pinth of the equestrian statue of Louis XV a white-faced young man was excitedly addressing the multitude. Mis youth and dress proclaimed the student, and a group of honor to him kept the immediate prepints of the statue.

Over the heads of the crowd Andre-Louis caught a few of the phrases flung forth by that eager voice.

"It was the promise of the King it is the King's authority they flout. They arrogate to them the whole sovereign ty in Brittan. These insolent nobles defying their sovereign and the people."

Had he not known aiready of the events which had brought the Third those few phrases would fully have informed him. This popular display of temper was most opportune to his reed, he thought. He put up his hired horse at the Corne de Cerf, and set out to the Palais de Justice.

Minister ascends the tribune to make a statement on reparations. Regarding the payment of reparations solely from the point of view of finance, the issues can be stated simply and, I think, solved readily, it is always assumed by those who have never read the Treaty of Verton, of Langford.

The meeting went on record as showing its appreciation of Mrs. Dunsmuir's gift of the new vestry, which has proved, such a great benefit and improvement to the church. The vicar also expressed his thanks to the following: The organist, Miss James, of Colwood, the W. A., and the Women's Institute of Langford, Colwood W. A., Colwood Hall Committee; Mr. Goucher, of Langford for the use of his hall for the fortinghtly services and Miss G. Wilson, who accompanied the singing. The vicar also expressed his satisfaction and pleasure to note the number of non-Anglican children attending the Sunday school and morning services. It was decided on motion that steps should be taken to prepare a plan for the proposed new vicarage. Mr. Goodall, Senior, offering to assist in the matter, and Mr. Robinson proposed that a delegation be appointed to interview the Bishop of the Diocese with reference to the matter.

The meeting went on record as The meeting went of Mrs.

An itinerant dog artist in Hydelark saw a poedle with a beautiful long coat sitting at the feet of a fashionably dressed woman. He suggested that the dog would look better if clipped in the traditional poodle manner. She agreed with him, so he took out his clippers, and after half-an-hour's work had transformed the dog.

He then asked for payment. The woman refused and he expostulated. The woman shrugged her shoulders. "Why should I pay?" she asked. "It isn't my dog!"

U. S. SHOULD COME IN.

How are you to arrive at an exact figure of the annuities Germany can reasonably be expected to pay without creating these intolerable conditions for her people? That is the question. The answer was given in the treaty as signed by setting up a commission to enquire and determine. That commission has been weakened and its character aimost destroyed by defection of the United States of America. Is it possible to find a substitute? I am afraid a reference of that question to a new committee of experts would not advance matters, for each country would demand a representative on that commission over again under another name. The only hope of a fair and final decision is to secure the presence of a representative of the United States of America on the adjudicating body, whatever it may be. Is that possible? These hardly say I am not venturing to express any opinion as to the American refusal to ratify the treaty as a whole. I am only stating quite frankly my view that unless America takes a hand in reparations a real settlement will be postponed until the hour of irreparable mischief strikes. If for reasons of which I am not competent to judge America cannot occupy her vacant chair on the tribunal which may decide fateful issues for humanity. I despair of any real progress being indae.

The Allied ministers can accept from a body representing leading rowers who won the war, decisions they dare not take on their own reaponsibility. That is the essence of the matter. It is no use biaming politicians. If they, of their own initiative, attempt to ride down public sentiment, which alone confers authority upon them, they will inevitably fail. In every country there are "Notwithstanding this?" asked Andre-Louis.

M. de Kercadiou was frankly impatient.

"Why, what has this to do with it? I may deplore it. But I have no right to condemn it. It is a common way of adjusting differences between gentlemen."

An artisan who stood shoulder to shoulder with him in the press englightened Andre-Louis of the increased excitement. "They've shot him dead. His body islying there where it fell at the foot of the statue. And there was another student killed not an hour ago by the cathedral works. Pardi! If they can't prevail in another."

Andre-Louis left him still talking, and clove a way through that human press.

Helps to Unify.

Dr. A. Herbert Gray, of Glasgow, said that one of the sources of strength of the movement in the mother land was that the movement helped to bring together in a spirit of unity students of different theological views, the movement having no recognition of church denominations. Another strong point was that it was international and arose above false patriotism, the latter being a stumbling block in the way of world unity of, nations. The movement, he declared, was also very potent in obliterating caste distinctions in England, as all classes were represented in it.

That the great need of the world

Faith Is Essential.

"The affirmation of faith," Dr. Roberts went on, "is not the affirmation of rothodoxy. We must distinguish between belief and orthodoxy. Faith is in a sense the practice of looking into the darkness. However, we may talk about the qualities of truth, goodness, mercylnese are only personal relationships; first of all must be this affirmation of faith, the affirmation of God."

Dealing with the affirmation of God. "Dealing with the affirmation of love, Dr. Roberts declared that the New Testament meaning of this runch-abused word included everything that made for human unity. It did not include the doctrine of "lighting it out." "This was responsible for most of the revolutions of the past. We all want a revolution. The revolutions of history have been mainly nothing but a resultion. Just a reshuffing of the cards with the same old dirty puck will not do. What we need is a new deck. It is only the practical fool who says the only thing is to do is to fight it out. May we realize that the ultimate reality on which our life must be based lies on a policy founded on a sporting goodwill." Leisure Hours 380,000, greater by 245,000 than during any twelve months in recent years. Complete data will not be ready before the end of February, and all records are not kept on the calendar years, but enough already is known to fix the figures of increase approximately. These increases have been well distributed, except that the small bodies are standing still, some even falling behind, while the large and well-known, ones, destined it would appear, to live in American affairs, grow with remarkable steadiness.

cnes, destined it would appear, to live in American affairs, grow with remarkable steadiness.

At the end of 1922 there were enrolled on the parish records of American religious bodies 43,120,000 names. Roman Catholic membership and growth are difficult as set down in exact figures. In this body count is made of baptized persons, in all others of actual communicants. Catholic figures often are of population only, and in not a few dioceses as in other bodies, none too accurate records are kept. Methodist and Raptist bodies run very evenly—very nearly 8,000,000 each. Within the year Baptists of the south have made marked increase; far larger than Eaptists of the north. Presbyterians and Lutherans also are quite mear together in memberships; Lutherans being ahead with 2,525,000. Presbyterians having 2,205,000. Two bodies, the Disciples and Episcopal, go beyond 1,000,000, the former with 1,500,000 and the latter increasing in 1922 by 10,000.

It is thought by local stallholders at the market that a repetition of last year's market will be made by eggs. Production was at its height this time last year and once again the market indicates the same occurrence. This will cause a shortage in new laid eggs in the Fall, it is thought. Poultry is due to advance.

FOR MERE SONG

Like Speculators Dream With Rude Awakening

Listed As Ex-enemy Property; No Dividends

Special to The Times London, Jan. 13.—Canadian secur London, Jan. 13.—Canadian securities of apparently gilt edge quality may be picked up in Europe for a mere song. It is possible to buy Canadian Pacific shares for less finan they realized when the railway was only an infant enterprise, while Dominion Steel, Mexican and Barcelona Traction stock can also be purchased for a fraction of their market value. It al. sounds like a speculator's dream, and it is—with the usual rude awakening. It is nossible to buy the securities but no dividends can be collected upon them. They are listed as ex-enemy projectly and consequently are sequestered by the Canadian Government. At the outbreak of the war about 125,000 shares of Canadian Pacific and a number of other Canadian recurities had been sold largely to German buyers by two continental banks, one Swiss and the other German.

man. Confiscated

These shares, which had been transferred in blank by the banks to investors were confiscated by Canada as enemy property. The German owners, during and after the war, made herole efforts to sell them, sometimes only nominally to neutral buyers. Most of them went to Holland, but Switzerland took many and so did Alsace-Lorraine. These Alsace and are being allowed to retain their satians are now French citizens and are being allowed to retain their shares. Applications for the release of these stecks, bought in good faith by neutrals but originally German owned, are being considered by the Canadian representatives in the London clearing house for war claims.

One applicant ciaimed to have bought 200 shares of Canadian Pacific in Abysinnia, paying for these in good. It is necessary for the applicants to prove that their shares were acquired from German holders before they were confiscated, or if afterwards, that the purchase was made in good faith, and the price paid for them is of course an indication by which to judge the latter class of transactions. Thousands of German-leid shares have passed from hand to hand in Holland, at ever-decreasing prices. The last purchaser is the uitimate victim, for after a certain period the Canadian Government will ro doubt declare the certificates void and will itself take over all shares not released on application.

The Commission Interrogated Chief Fry, it is understood, on reasons for the proposals he is said to have made, and on the character of the various members of the force. Finally the Commission tabled the recommendations of the Chief, it is understood, for further consideration at the next general meeting.

Chief Fry, it is believed, charged that certain members of the force had been running with tales to one of the commissioners. Dr. Ernest Hall denied this emphatically. Commissioner Staneland also entered his denial to the charge.

Ladies' Guild.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Guild of Holy Trinity Church was held at the Church Hall, Deep Cove, the Rev. T. M. Hughes in the chair. The financial statement of the year was read. A very hearty vote of thanks was given Mrs. Layard as president of the Guild last year for her most successful work.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Pownall; vice-president, Mrs. C. Layard; secretary-treasurer, Miss. E. Gwynne.

Final arrangements were made Layard; secretary-treasurer, Miss E. Gwynne.

Final arrangements were made about the cabaret, which is to be held in the Deep Cove Social Club Hall on February 13 from 8 to 12.30. In Hospital.

Captain Smiley, of the "Gleaner," one of the Sidney-Anacortes ferries, had a very bad accident. While on the "Gleaner" in Seattle he fell and split one of his knee caps, and also liroke an arm. He is at present in hospital in Port Townsend.

Farmers Met.

The usual monthly meeting of the North Saanich Local of the United Farmers of B. C. Took place in the old school house, School Road Mr. Ewstern was in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and and adopted. There was a good attendance.

As soon as all business had been discussed a debate was begun. It was moved by Professor Straight of the Experimental Farm that capital punishment should be abolished. He

HAVE YOU ANY MONEY IN THE BANK?

THERE is an old-fashioned theory which some people still cling to—that a bank wants no dealings with them unless they have "lots of money." Such is not the case with this bank; you will be welcomed whether you have $1 or $1,000 to deposit. Open an account with what you feel you can spare now and add to it regularly as "pay day" cornes around. It is a comforting feeling to know that you have several hundred dollars put away safely in the bank.

BUDDY AND HIS FRIENDS

A BROWNIE FROLIC ON VALDEZ ISLAND

WHO has not heard of the "Brownies?" You, little reader, will recognize them at once as the junior members of the Girl Guide movement. With what a will they work, and with what joy they play may be gleaned best from their own annals. In the following you will find an accou of a field day held by the Brownies on Valdez Island recently.

Under capable guidance the Girl Guide move ment has found a seat in this city and spread all wer the Island. Of course there are many Guiders and Brownies in Canada, but it is those units earer home that are of the greatest interest, for their ranks are drawn from residents of Vanouver Island and the Gulf Islands nearby, and their genial influence is to be found in our homes

Once in a very long time we are privileged to see the Brownies on parade; but because they re not in sight that does not mean they are inactive. On the contrary, the Brownies are the busiest little people in the world, for have they not a good turn to perform every day? Cheerfulness at work and play is a motto of the Brownies and how this is carried out is best to be earned from the chronicles of the Brownies themselves. Through the courtesy of the organization the following description of the gathering on Valdez Island recently is herewith published and forms an able introduction to the great novement and its manner of operation.

A Brownie Frolic.

Dinner for husband and bairns was ready "Dinner for husband and bairns was ready at 11.30 and was hurried. The Brownies had far to come and November days were short. Lunch was served at noon, a farmhouse lunch home-grown lamb and salads, jellies and cream and cake with glasses of milk. First to arrive was Betty a real Brownie, in that she came to lend a hand, "So sorry I didn't get here in time to do more but our graphs and the story and the st time to do more but our gasboat engine stopped on the way over, but I stopped at the wharf and brought your mail and that will save you a and brought your main and that will save you a trip anyway." Two Pixies came by boat, rowing themselves for three miles and welking the last mile. They brought excuses from two other Pixies who were sick. Two little maids belonging to the Heriot Bay Elves had walked five miles from Hyacinth Hay.

When all were fed and rested the real work of the afternoon began by the investiture first of the Quathiaski Cove Kewpies, three in number, and then of two more Heriot Bay Elves. There are not many planos on our island. One school district has not a single plano or organ. At last we thought of a popular hymn tune very similar to the tune in the hymn tune very similar to the tune in the book. This the Kewpies who have a Sunday school well know. What First Aid you know must be known thoroughly, as an ambulance man who is not quite sure of what he is doing, will very likely do more harm than good. An Englishman, Irishman and Scotsman, firm friends for many years fell on hard times. They lived together in the one room, and at last were so reduced in funds that only one loaf of bread stood between them and starvation. The loaf was a small one, and its distribution bothered the trio of friends considerably. If it were cut, they decided there would not be a meal in it for anyone. At last the Englishman, hit upon the idea of deciding by chance the one who was to have the loaf. "Let us go to bed, and the one that has the most wonderful dream in the 'night will get the loaf in the morning,' said he, and so it was decided. In the morning,' andrew recited a wonderful dream, how he had been walking in Edinburgh when a man stopped him on the street and filled his hands with gold. The Englishman had an even better dream to relate; for his rich uncle had passed away painlessly, he dreamed, and left An Englishman, Irishman and Scotsman, hands with gold. The Englishman had an even better dream to relate; for his rich uncle had passed away painlessly, he dreamed, and left him all his wealth. When it came to Patrick that man hung his head. "Ye canna beat mine," said Andrew. "My dream is the best," said the Englishman. "Well, ye say"—explained Pat, "it's folke this. I wint to sleep and dreamt I won the loaf, so I got up in the night and ate it!"

A Minister's Horse

THE ordinary span of horse life is twenty years, but there is a horse in Catawissa, Pa., the property of the Rev. Dr. Uriah Myers, which is fifty-one years old and rated the oldest horse in the world, says an article in "Our Dumb Animals." As a matter of fact, there is no record of any other horse having lived anywhere near as long as this.

A short time ago it looked as if the horse, named Clover, might have to be killed, because his owner could not afford to keep him. But the story of his extreme age and admirable character having gone abroad, gifts of money and offers of maintenance came from many sources, so that now Clover will be retired from active service on a pension. Moreover, an eminent veterinarian even promises Clover many more years in which to enjoy his good an eminent veterinarian even promises Clover many more years in which to enjoy his good fortune and his fame.

When Clover was a young horse, he was famed as a racer in Kentucky, and has a record of having trotted a mile in 2.22, and paced a mile in 2.17, many years ago, of course. His owner believes he could do fifteen miles a day at the present time without any physical strain. He comes of Hambletonian stock, his head, particularly, resembling that of Rysdyk's Hambletonian. At fifteen years of age he came into the possession of Dr. Myers, and for thirty-five years loyally served his ministerial master.

Clover has a certain sporting look even yet.

Clover has a certain sporting look even yet. He stands a bit shaggy, and crocky to-day. Oddly enough, Clover isn't lame, because the hoof of the shorter leg is longer and equalizes its length to that of the longer foreleg.

He stands sixteen hands and weighs about 1,200 pounds, and his condition shows the excellent care his master has given him. His ration, twice daily, consists of one scoop of bran, one of middlings, and two of a mixture of oats, clover and molasses topped off with three ears of corn. It takes him a long time to eat this, as he masticates slowly.

According to the veterinarian who examined Clover recently, the horse is sound in wind.

It is hard to tell the exact age of a horse by his teeth after his fifteenth year. However, the contour of the mouth changes with age. In a young horse the teeth meet at an obtuse angle, but as the animal grows older the angle be-comes more and more acute. Judging by this, Clover has the oldest mouth that veterinarians have ever seen.

Togother they fell for a few feet down the scaffolding, when Patrick caught a cross beam with his hammer and held on by its claw. As he was falling past, Michael caught hold of the legs of his companion and swung there. Thus the two hung for some minutes, while the following conversation took place: "Let go, will ye, Michael," ordered Pat. "I'll not be after letting go, sure'n I'd fall," was the reply. "Well, thin, if ye don't let go, I'll hit ye with me hammer," was the short-sighted resfonse. At this moment the fire brigade came along and rescued both, but Patrick hasn't spoken to Michael since' was nearly "bed-time" and Elaine's blue eyes struggled with drowsiness. Four years the little girl had spent a happy evening. Christmas had brought a wealth of new friends from Toyland where Santa Claus has spent, evidently, much of his time searching for a just reward for the good little girl and her brother Charlie. Charlie was six-years old, and the gallant protector of his little sister.

There were times when Charlie was out of place, and this evening was one occasion, for Elaine was playing hostess to her dollies at a miniature tea party, while Charlie amused himself in manlike fashion with recent additions to his tool chest. Elaine, though really she should have been called the Fairy Queen, made a charming hostess. She was solicitious for the welfare of her guests, and as each dollie grew tired sitting at the tea table the guests were piled in the middle of softy downy supports and far more comfortable than the little hostess herself.

The tea party had been a great success, but now the hostess, fatigued by her labors, was growing very drowsy. Billie Blinkie, the friend of all good girls, was approaching with the bag of sand. This sleepy sand Billie Blinkie carries around the whole world with him every night and places

Part I.

MR. COON had many scores to settle with Reddy Fox but as he was not as clever or sly as Reddy it was seldom he had a chance to play any tricks without getting the worst of it. But one day as he was floking down from a tree where he was flattened along one of its branches he saw an old log and when he saw Mr. Rabbit run into one end and come out of the other he knew very well it was hollow without any one telling him.

Then Mr. Coon began to think and the more he thought the broader was his smile until at last he laughed right out loud. "If I could get him in there I would give him one good beating." he said, and then Mr. Coon came down from the tree and went to the log.

"Yes, I do believe it can be done," he said, and off he ran for home, and when he returned he brought some hen feathers that came from the tail of one of Mr. Man's fat hens.

Mr. Coon tied a piece of twine to these feathers and laid them on the ground at one

Mr. Coon tied a piece of twine to these feathers and laid them on the ground at one end of the hollow log and with the other end in one paw he ran through the log and along the leaf covered ground to a tree not far away, still carrying the twine in his paw.

Up the tree he climbed and fastened the twine to a branch; then down he came and went to the log again and tucking the hear

Mr. Coon was careful to see that the twine running from the log to the tree was hidden, under bushes that grew close to the ground, that would keep it from being seen and yet did not hold it fast, so that he could pull it by the end he had fastened in the tree.

Then off he ran toward Mr. Fox's house, and when he saw him coming along the path Mr.

"What is the matter with you?" asked Mr. x when he came to where Mr. Coon was ting. "You look as if you had lost your last

"No, I have not lost a friend," replied Mr. Coon, "but I lost a nice fat hen."
"How did you lose it?" inquired Reddy Fox, which was just what Mr. Coon wanted him to which was the sask.

"I was chasing it through the woods and it ran into that old log near the big oak tree and didn't come out."

"Didn't come out," repeated Reddy Fox, his eyes big with surprise. "Why didn't you go in and drive her out or catch her and pull her and drive her out or catch her and pull her out?"

Right here Reddy changed his tone of voice. "But it might not be safe, it might not be safe, Mr. Coon," he said. "You were quite right and wise not to follow her. You might have been a terrible plight. Yes, Mr. Coon, a sad plight indeed if no one came along and there you were in the log head first and stuck.

"You are wiser than anyone I know. I'm not sure I'd have been so wise as you under the same conditions," sat Reddy, all the time walking backwards away from Mr. Coon as he talked, "but we should never let our greed for food run away with our heads, so to speak. I mean by that our good sense should always govern us, Mr. Coon."

By this time he had reached the end of the path and all the time Mr. Coon was watching Reddy, though he held his fate in both paws as if he was all discouraged.

It does not often happen, but this night Elaine's mother and daddy forgot to gather up her toys and collect the dollies for the night So it was that at the witching hour of midnight an onlooker, had there been one, would have found four dollies sitting around the same tea table where their hostess had left them some hours before. Now, perhaps you do not remember, but it is said that at midnight when the moon is in a certain quarter of the Heavens dollies come to life and romp until daylight sends them back into the land of sleep again. That is one reason why dolls seem so tired and lifeless in daylight, for they have been up all night and wish to sleep.

Seated around a table that, though small to our eyes, was a monster to the dollies, sat Jean, a blue eyed dolly of a sweet disposition: Clssy. a little daughter of fashion, whose hair had been half bobbed, but that is another story; a tiny tot whose red hair was falling out, and Charlie, the only man in the party.

Suddenly Jean stirred slightly, yawned and finally sat bolt upright.

"Gracious," she lisped in soft accents, "the tea must be cold. Charlie run and see if there is any fresh tea in the kitchen." As he was told Charlie quelled a yawn and ran off teapot in hand, Cissy and Colleen sat up and rubbed their eyes. Poor Cissy was the sleepy member of the party, but at night she awoke to renewed life.

"I should have changed my dress," said Colleep, apropos of nothing in particular. "I hope these bobbed hair styles will go right out of fashion," commented Clasy, who, if it is ever fair to tell tales out of school, persuaded Elaine to bob part of those curly locks and then did not like the thought of it and so the work remained unfinished.

"Cissy," said Jean, from behind the teapot stand, "I see that they are talking of wearing silk wigs now to cover the bobs."

"You don't need a wig, Cissy," lisped little Colleen, "I like you as you are, though perhaps you should cut off the rest of the curls," and the brown eyes twinkled roguishly.

"Oh, it is all very well for you dollies to laugh, but I don't feel right with these things," replied Cissy, not at all put out but obviously distressed at her half-bobbed condition.

At this moment Charlie returned with the teapot. "Here you are Jean," he said, "though I had a fearful time trying to find the tea." Conversation became general, while Jean stirred the tea in the pot and began to pour.

"Just look how that time flies!" said Charlie, from behind a toasted bun almost as large as his own small face. "One o'clock! Gracioua, and we ordered the carriage at half past one, asserted Cissy. "Oh, and where are you going to might I ask?" inquired Jean, who was somewhat cross at not being asked. "You are all coming," replied Cissy with warmth, "for we are going down to the circus."

Presently the noise of wheels could be heard on the carriage drive and before the door could be opened a footman in a silver livery sprang up the steps and rang the bell. "Idiot," hissed Jean, "he will wake the family." "I should have changed my dress," said heard on the carriage drive and before the door could be opened a footman in a silver livery sprang up the steps and rang the bell. "Idiot," hissed Jean, "he will wake the family."

In silence the dollies filed out and took their places in the silver carriage which, without more ado, rumbled off under the moonlit sky and so out of sight down the street. Now what they saw at the circus, or where it was is a mystery, but perhaps another evening we might be able to win that secret out of the man who knows all these things, Elfin Joe.

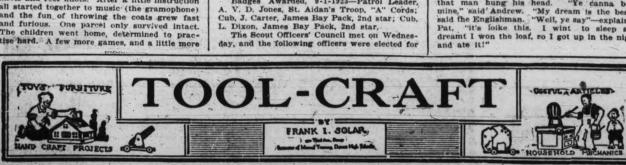

As the clock in the sitting-room was getting ready to strike four, the door of the house flew open, and in bolted four excited dollies. They rushed without a word to their seats at the table and took up the positions in which they had been left by Elaine the night before. "Gee, it was great," burst out Charfie. As he spoke the clock struck four and the first streak of daylight crept in at the window, The words froze on his lips, and his mouth caught in the act stayed partly open. Daylight grew. As the sun climbed to the top of the hills and looked in at the window, each doily, as in its place and each was as motionless and seemingly lifeless as it had been from day to day; for they were tired and slept.

HOW SHE DECIDED

Mary Miles Minter, the film star, is an exingly witty dittle lady, who says the funniest things imaginable while keeping a perfectly straight face.

Recently she remarked, apparently in all sness, that quite early in her career she had discovered that moving-picture acting was the way to "get rich quick."

"How did you first come to make that discovery, Mary?" ventured a listener.
"Well," replied Miss Minter, meditatively, "almost the very first film I played in was a Wild West one. They mounted me on a bucking brouche, and I came to the conclusion at once that I was much better off."

Helped by a Little English Missionary, Douglas Durkin Went to College and Became an Author

DOUGLAS DURKIN, the Canadian author of outdoor stories, who has been in the public eve a good deal lately through his literary successes in New York, tells an unusual story in connection with his first literary success, and the events leading up to it.

As a boy of eleven he came to the Swar river valley, making the 125-mile trip to the homestead in a When still a lad, he walked the 125 miles back again out of the valley. One of the "jobs" he undertook was that of "water boy" to a gang working on the t r a n s continental railway. Here he promoted to timekeeper, cookie, and,

as his stature increased, to axeman, felling trees for "ties." It took three years to complete the road, but before and during that time Durkin had had the inspiration of an un-time Durkin had had the inspiration of an unusual friendship. He had become the protege of a little English missionary, and through his help and under his guidance, he finally went to Winnipeg as a student at Wesley Colege.

"Years ago," says Durkin, "when I first thought of writing a novel, I made up my mind I'd buy that little sky-pilot a brand new set of preacher clothes out of my first royalty cheek."
And that was the way Durkin's first remuneration for his books was spent—in buying a tion for his books was spent—in buying a "whole new set of preacher clothes" for a little English missionary who had befriended him in Home accepted the correction humbly. But he was biding his time. After a while the Eng-lishman called him Mr. Home, and he said: "I'll ask you to call me Home-Sweet-Home, if you don't mind."

Signor D'Annunzio has written a scathing indictment of the British Empire. This confirms the rumor that he is getting stale.—

They told Oscar Cesare, the American artist, that it was out of the question to draw Lenine. It was like asking for the moon. But he finally did it. And this realistic sketch in the New York Times is the result. Lenine even autographed one of the pictures. Cesare also drew Trotzky, Brusiloff and Budoeny. "I have heard of you," was the way the distinguished artist was greeted to the picture of the picture.

"Hen" Thornton Joined the British Empire, And Very Quickly Shot Up to Be a Superman

WOULD rather make my deeds speak than my words," said Sir Henry Thornton, when he took over the presidency of the Canadian National Railways. In spite of the astonishing number of speeches and interviews which he has given recently the words remain typical of the man. No one could be more frank and trenchant when need arises, but he has committed himself not at all. The American papers have described him as "typically American." Perhaps we differ with them as to what constitutes a "typical American," but certainly none of the less pleasant associations of the phrase apply to Sir Henry. Even his shrewd, kindly face is of the north-of-England type; and if commonsense, insight and absolute determination are characteristic of the "bull-dog breed," he is assuredly British. Incidentally he is a naturalized subject of King George and glad of it.

"You can't use a visiting card to a club all join or clear out." Some forty years ago "Hen" Thornton lived in the town of Logansport, Indiana serious boy, rather large for his age, who wanted to be a bishop. That boy has instead become the most famous railwayman of his time, but if his

"Let it be distinctly understood," said he in

"Let it be distinctly understood," said he in a speech to the Montreal Board of Trade, "that there is to be no political interference with the working of the Canadian National Railways."

In 1914 he was invited to take over the post of general manager of the Great Eastern Railways; Lord Claud Hamilton, chairman-of that system, had discerned his ability and urged this unprecedented appointment. There is in this nothing derogatory to the efficiency of British railway executives."

"England loses a superman," said one great English journal when he left for Canada,

And now, what will he do with the Canadian National Railways? His English record has sufficiently answered the only conceivable ob-jection to him—that he is an alien. Since his jection to him—that he is an alien. Since his arrival he has been overwhelmed with the usual, flood of questions. He has been genial, approachable and safe. General problems he has discussed at length. On controversial questions, even when they come within his jurisdiction, he is, he says, "too early in harness to give an opinion." On two points his policy appears to be settled. He will countenance no political interference, and he stands for a combination of economy and expansion. Where Canada needs more mileage she shall have it; where there is too much it must be cut down, "big interests" to the contrary notwithstanding. To labor he promises a sane policy of living wage, firmness and fair play. Let us hope so!

"You have the biggest problem which has

"You have the biggest problem which has ever been tackled by a single man in this coun-try," said a prominent Canadian.

"That is the problem's most alluring fea-ture," answered Sir Henry. Canada, with a sad experience of such allurements, wishes him well, reserves its judgment, and—waits, Rev. Canon H. J. Cody, of St. Paul's Church, Toronto, great preacher, representative Canadian and Imperialist.

Some call him Low Church; others Evangelical. One called him Father, and the laughter has not died down yet.

CODY CAUGHT BY THE COP

It all happened during his visit recently to New York. The scene was Fifty Avenue. "As hard as you can," pleaded Dr. Cody, as he jumped into one of those battered yellow taxis, thinking only of the appointment for which he was late. There was a roar, wind whistling by as from an aeropiane propeller; eeric tilting at perilous angles, then a confused hubbub, shrill whistle, and a loud Irish voice—"Hi, there, you're pinched for speeding."

there, you're pinched for speeding."
Out of the window appeared Canon Cody's clean shaven face, suffused with one of his blandest smiles.
The thunderatorm cleared from the bigfrish face of the traffic cop. Graciousness appeared as if by miracle.
"I beg pardon, father. Go ahead," he whispered, "but be careful; there's a Protestant cop at the next corner."

Chatham Girl Rules Proud Olga's Palace

Little Canadian Stenographer and American Chum, Escaping Smyrna Massacre, Have Charge of Athens Relief

W HEN the Dowager Empress Olga of Greece walked out of her Athens palace in a huff, little Louise Mc-Lachlan and "that smiling Nolan girl from Minneapolis" calmly walked in. That is one of the principal scenes in perhaps the most fantastic drama a Canadian girl ever took part.

The story of this twenty-year-old Chatham girl-the beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. McLachlan-unfolds like a fairy tale. No later than last May she sat in a Maple City office, a very efficient secretary, bending over the "clackety-clack" of her typewriter, saying "Yes, sir," or "No, sir," or "This way, sir," as varying circumstances demanded of her, and bored, if it be known, with her outlook on life. For romance does not breed in dingy, dusty offices behind equally dingy and dusty filing

But romance was just about to beckon. From an envelope bearing a foreign postmark, her hand crept out. And some time later, the little secretary set foot in faraway Smyrna, there to visit Dr. McLachlan, an uncle, founder and director of an American college of long and successful standing.

"clackety-clack." But this time it was the "clackety-clack" of machine guns in the hands of lawless Turkish soldiers who dragged Dr. McLachlan from his bed, robbed and beat him, and stood him against a stone wall as an intended mark for their rifles. The doctor's killing was averted, however, through the arrival on the scene of a friendly Turkish officer of high rank, who "about-turned" the firing squad and sent them down into the heart of the city where the butchery was better. Next transformation: Athens, where Miss McLachlan had arrived, with only the clothes on her back. She wanted to locate a coust, who had been a British intelligence officer during the great war, but no coust turned up to meet her.

meet her.

Just as despair was slowly creeping in upon her imaginings, came "that smiling Nolan girl from Minneapolis," whose acquaintance Miss McLachlan had made in Smyrna before the McLachlan had made in Smyrna before the disaster.

The American friend was an enthusiastic talker, with the result that certain recommendations were made, later, approved, and descripatched to the headquarters of the American Relief. To a six months' contract with that mission, the Chatham siri put hef signature.

There were avalanches of opposition from all sides to prevent the firm of McLachlan and Noian from taking possession of the dowager empress's palace. But the Canadian and the American girl had their way. There, three times daily, ragged refugees by the thousand overfun the startling splendor of the peacock room or the whatyoutacallit room of this imperial residence in which the statusque Olgaused to primp and powder—all because two angels of mercy—one a Canadian and the other an American—are there, permitting no obstacle to come between them and their chosen path of duty, slaving for even twenty hours a day in order that their duty may be executed to the letter.

First Hated Childers, Then Almost Loved Him

Traitor and Rebel, But Erskine Childers Always Risked Everything in Anything He Did

THE mystery of Erskine Childers is touched upon in The Sunday upon in The Sunday Express by a friend who knew him intimately. "I hope I shall not be regarded as a dangerous or rebellious spirit for confessing that I felt a pang of heartfelt regret when I heard of the execution by the Free State Government of Ireland of Erskine Childers, he writes.

"I took refuge in the clock room, seized my coat and hat, and got out of the club.

"The last time I met Erskine Childers was when he came to see me during the darkest days of the war. I think of that time when he was acting with our Air Force in France.

"He said he brought with him great news, and I asked him if Hindenburg had been captured. He said 'No,' but informed me that a flower-girl in the Strand, whose husband he had met in a hospital in France, had just given bitth to twins.

"He had the woman's address, and insisted "He had the woman's address, and insisted on me accompanying him to Islington to see her. When we got there, he overloaded the mother with gifts, and gave me a great pantomime display in front of the newly born infants, who, I think, evinced their first curiosity about the marvels of this life when they saw Erskine Childers in the role of a comic actor. Frankly, I feel distressed at his death. He was a traitor and a rebel, but he never did anything in this life in which he did not risk everything. Most of us, you know, go through life risking nothing."

KEEN ON TELEGRAPHY

The Duke of York is very keen on every-thing telegraphic. Not long since he visited St. Martifi's-le-Grand, where an operator dispatched to a provincial colleague a message intimating that the Duke of York stood at his side, and requesting acknowledgment by a few words of loyal greeting. Back flashed, this reply, transcribed before the duke's eyes: "Go on; who are you getting at?" Intensely amused, His Royal Highness retained those "loyal greetings" as a souvenir.

DEMPSEY IN HIS SUIT

Los Angeles, Jan. 13.—Jack Demp-in his answer to the $25,000. Los Angeles, Jan. 13.—Jack Dempsoy, in his answer to the $25,000 damage suit of Owen Bartlett, house painter, which went on trial in the superior court here yesterday, declared he was not the "champion prize-fighter of the world," but the "champion boxer of the world." Bartlett asserted that last February while he was painting the new Dempsey residence here, the champion's brother, Joseph H. Dempsey, and Teddy Hayes, his former trainer, first quarreled with him over the work and later leaped on him, struck and kicked him and tore his clothes and kicked him and tore his cioules to shreck.

He contended that as Joseph Dempsey and Hayes were employed by the champion, the latter was responsible financially for their alleged actions.

FRANK J. STACPOOLE.

Registrar of the Victoria Land Registration District.

The Junior Hockey League got away to a flying start last night when the Colonists and the Arenas clashed, after the professional match. The Newsies had little trouble in defeating the "Rink Rats" 7 goars to nil. Mowat started the scoring by getting the first tally immediately after the face-off. Pinchback then duplicated the trick, and this ended the scoring for the first period. In the second fram R. Pinchback sagged—the net for two more tallies while in the third spasm he grabbed another couple, while Mowat scured his second count and brought the total up to seven.

The teams were as follows:
Colonists—Campbell, Relley, Allen, R. Pinchback, Simpson, Mowat, McDonald, Alexander and Green.
Arenas—Hatcher, Pomeroy, McDonald, Spouse, Simkins, Clarke, Nelson, Sandiford and Griffin.

"With regard to the question of offences under the Narcotic and Drug Act, the Dominion, Provincial and City police are working together in an effort to suppress this evit. Many difficulties, however, are met with in locating the dealer, in drugs. From my own personal knowledge, I can honestly say that in some quarters there is much more taking than doing in this connection. In my opinion, if the press would not give the question so much publicity, a good mapy would never think of using drugs. By advertising it in this way it arouses the people's curiosity and by this means there is a tendency to extend the evil rather than suppressing it.

"The Government Liquor Act is still glying the department plenty of trouble. It must be borne in mind that there must be evidence of a direct sale before the offender can be prosecuted for the sale of liquor.

Commissioner Staneland said. I am rather disappointed there was no reference to the criminal investigation department, which has done most excelent work. The value of stolen property this year was $28,000, of which $14,000 was recovered. This left only a net loss of $11,000 or $12,000. Now in 1921 I believe the value of property reported stolen was $30,000, of which only about half was recovered. I think the department is worthy of a paragraph, as it has done most excellent work.

It think mention might also have been made to the traffic control work. Two control points have been stablished, and in this connection left me say Constable Ferguson has done oxcellent work. We also controlled the Dardanelles, and now that section of Fort Street is one of the safety of the statement was commissioner Staneland.

Druge

est places to drive in the city, concluded Commissioner Staneland.

Drugs

Referring to the statement made by the chief in his report that the publication of narcotic drug cases led to curiosity on the part of the public and increased the evil, Dr. Hall denied that this was so.

'I do not think the publication of these matters by the press has been any detriment whatever,* he stated. 'If you want to clean out a dirty place you turn on the light. I would rather move a vote of thanks to the press for the attitude it has taken on the matter. I do not believe that the publication of these cases has aroused curiosity and an increase as you suggest, Chief, with all due deference to your views."

"In regard to liquor control matters," continued Dr. Hall, "If the Attiorney-General's Department wants a clean-up it will have to be paid for, suppose. Now how many bootlegging places do you know of in this city, Chief?"

"I don't know of any; I only have supridens," returned the chief.

"I don't know of any: I only have suspicions," returned the chief.
"Are you satisfied that every effort is being made by your force to deal with the question?"
Chief Fry replied that he was so satisfied, but that his men were known and when a new constable took office he was watched by the bootleggers until they were familiar with his appearance, too. Plain clothes men from Vancouver or the outside generally would cost $8 a day, stated the chief, who said that the police could do more if more money was given to them to accomplish it. "In regard to pensions," commented

CASES UNFINISHED IN COURT OF APPEAL

Only Formal Matters Dealt Co With at Open Session

Commencing behind locked doors and closing in camera, the first seasion of the 1923 Board of Police Commissioners was held last night with but a brief interiude of the more formal matters of routine business to which the press and public were invited. The session was of the more interest in that it was the inaugural meeting of the body from which an expression of policy on police administration was fully expected.

No announcement of the policy of the Commission as a whole was made in the brief open portion of the meeting, except what could be gleaned from the voting of the members on questions of indirect relation to matters discussed behind closed doors. Chief of Police Fry asked outright for an expression of thespolicy that the Board would pursue this year; but was told that the views of the body would be communicated to him when the Commission sat in camera at the end of the meeting.

In giving out statistics and statements to the representatives of the papers the commission was careful to delite from the report of Chief Fry such portions as were discussed in camera.

"Even $2,500 would be eight times greater than last year," urged Mayor Hayward.

"We propose to do sixteen times the work," returned Dr. Hall, warmly supported by Commissioner Staneland and between them carrying the vote at $2,500. Contingent salaries were sliced from $2,000 asked to $1,500 passed; aundries from $3,000 asked to $2,500 passed; and certain other minor cuts were made before the budget passed at a total of $109,295.
